Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen said his news conference was a "big celebration" in Moscow after Red planes shot down an American photo plane north of Japan.

Knowland of California, the leader in the fight for confirmation in March, told the Senate he was shocked.

Secretary of State said his news conference had incomplete information about the shooting, and even have that until a month before time to the celebration Sunday.

Called Bohlen's decision "understandable" in the Senate.

Secretary commented that he had to make up his mind for a full evaluation of guidance from Washington added in passing that he had been improper for to discuss the plane incident with Premier Malenkov instructions from Washington.

Also told a questioner, "The States were considering fighter escorts to aircraft which fly near Soviet territory."

Pentagon reporters were at the theater commanders, and had been used in cases where it was feasible and there was to expect possible

American was lost, but 10 of the attacked plane para-chuted safely. It was Sunday in Russia, but Saturday in the United States.

Harold R. Taylor, Jr., of Huron, was identified as one of the surviving members.

Dulles said Bohlen got sufficient information to decide against going to the party which came seven days after the shooting, and said:

My belief that the ambassador at least unofficially intended about this shooting being attended at the celebration."

and said Moscow Radio said an account of the incident at 6 p.m. that evening, and Bohlen left his residence. The senator commented that the broadcasts from the embassy.

Act Needed

Vets to Wait For Bonuses Until January

By The Associated Press
Michigan's Korean veterans will have to do some waiting before they get their state bonus, the adjutant general's office advised today.

Brig. Gen. George C. Moran said his office had been receiving hundreds of queries daily since the Korean bonus proposal was approved by the voters on Nov. 2.

Gen. Moran said his office can not start working out the distribution procedure until the legislature passes an enabling act, probably sometime late in January.

The legislature will have to spell out eligibility requirements and detail the application process.

Gen. Moran said wide publicity will be given to the procedure of applying for the bonus when all details are set up.

Senate Debate On McCarthy Censure Begins

WASHINGTON (AP)—A revised resolution of censure and condemnation—aimed at Sen. McCarthy—was filed in the Senate Tuesday.

McCarthy counterattacked immediately with a charge that the Senate committee which drafted it was an "unwilling handmaiden" of the Communist party.

The resolution was offered by an investigating committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah). What threatens to be a long and angry debate on the resolution is scheduled to open in the Senate today.

McCarthy Tuesday released the text of a speech he intends to make on the Senate floor. He suggested in it that the Communists would be the winners if he is censured.

There were reports that friends of the Wisconsin senator might try to talk the resolution to death in the ensuing weeks.

Campus Chest Nets $500 Over Quota

Final Donations Boost Drive Total to $4,519

By JERRY JENNINGS
Campus Chest donations during last week's drive exceeded the drive quota by more than $500, it was announced Tuesday.

The final round of donations was totaled by Chest workers at $4,519.98. Earlier estimates had set the total at approximately $4,100.

Of the final figure, $1,145.34 was raised by outdoor solicitations. The remainder was donated by campus living units, 37 of which reached or exceeded their pledged goals.

Funds collected during the drive will be deposited in a bank until next spring, after Spartacade and other Campus Chest money-raising activities. At that time, the year's total will be distributed among the 53 Campus Chest charities.

The fund allocation will be: World University Services, 35 per cent; National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, 20 per cent; and Spartan Nursery School, 15 per cent.

American Cancer Society, 10 per cent; Muscular Dystrophy, 5 per cent; Ingham County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 5 per cent; and Lansing Community Chest, 10 per cent. Money given to the Community Chest will be divided among many local and national charities.

Jack Subar, Campus Chest Director, said that a new plan for the fall drive and the Spartacade is being put into effect this year.

The public relations, personnel, and special events bureaus which functioned during the recent drive will also be used for Spartacade in the spring. In former years, the fall drive and Spartacade both had separate bureaus.

More than 100 entries were received by the theme committee, according to O'Donnell.

Pre-Game War Dims Grid Action

Football Fades As Paint Flows

By JACK KOLE
State News Editor-in-Chief
Football seemed to be losing out on the state's two largest campuses Tuesday.

For it was paint, not the game, that was getting all the attention.

Alumni were watching every move of the pre-game battle with intense eagerness, remembering the days when they thought the same thoughts and did the same things.

Even Francis O'Brien, the judge who fined five Spartans and ordered five others to appear Saturday, was inclined to remember that "boys will be boys."

Despite strong statements, a Michigan official seemed to realize this too when he posted $700 bond for the five Spartans who must return to court Saturday.

But to the workers of both universities who had to spend hours and hours in the tedious job of removing the paint, it meant more than college spirit. For them, it was simply dirty, hard work.

The Ann Arbor residents who were confronted with a white lawn and a green-spattered porch Tuesday morning didn't give a hoot about "youthful exuberance" either.

It seemed more natural to him to think in terms of law suits and the "retaliation" that has been mentioned so often.

To some, the rash of painting brought hearty laughs.

They thought of the dark hours last fall when several Michigan students found themselves at MSC—removing paint instead of putting it on.

Some recalled the incident a few years ago when a group of Spartans rehearsed for days before going to Ann Arbor to block the engineering arch, a Michigan landmark, with stone.

They chuckled when they remembered the outcome. That policeman who just happened to be walking by wasn't impressed by all the practice and the fact that the students had pared the time for blocking the arch to less than seven minutes.

But to many more, the newest painting escapades brought stern frowns and memories of fraternity hazing and party raids.

"Childish college students," they were inclined to mutter. Trouble was, they weren't running into many arguments.

Senior Coffee Hour Slated For Today

A senior coffee hour will be held today from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Old College Hall. All seniors are asked to come and carve their names in the traditional senior table.

Spartan Home on Wheels

By DEXTER GAUNTLETT
There's nothing unique about living in a trailer, but it is a little unusual to live in a car.

Tom Tellefson, Mackinaw Island junior, finds his car makes a perfect home. It's a maroon Buick station wagon bedecked with tan curtains, a canoe, and a 15-gallon water tank on top.

Temporarily out of gas, Tellefson was forced to move into an apartment, but he soon hopes to resume housekeeping in his mobile home.

Tom is an old hand at living in-or-on-cars. In 1951, while working for a California aircraft manufacturer, he slept on the roof of his '39 Cadillac.

When the rains came, however, he couldn't get comfortable in the wooden rack he had built on top of his car, even though it was a Cadillac.

Learning from his California experiences, Tom decided to rebuild his second-hand station wagon when he re-entered MSC.

The 1951 Buick is equipped with a folding bed complete with foam rubber mattress which Tom calls "70 worth of pure luxury." The car also contains a folding table, chair, Coleman gas stove, lantern, cooking utensils, fire extinguishers, and a safety belt.

The canoe is carried on top of the car in connection with Tom's favorite sport, white water rapids shooting. The 15-gallon tank contains drinking water.

"The Male Animal" in Rehearsal. Nugent Sends 'Best Wishes'

Students Rehearse For Fall Term Play

With eight days until opening night, 13 cast members of "The Male Animal" are applying their "know-how" to interpret lines in the fast-moving comedy by James Thurber and Elliot Nugent.

Nugent has sent his "best wishes for success with The Male Animal at MSC" to the cast.

The play centers around an English professor whose belief in free education stirs up a political controversy. Ronald Neubert, Detroit sophomore, is cast as Tommy Turner, the professor.

Nugent, who has worked for M.G.M. in Hollywood as an actor, author, and director, and Thurber, author of "Secret Life of Walter Mitty" and "Is Sex Necessary?", met while attending Ohio State University. They wrote "The Male Animal" in 1940.

The play, to be presented November 18, 19, and 20, is under the direction of Dr. John A. Walker, a new instructor at MSC. Walker previously taught at the University of Virginia.

During the Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations the group will perform in several high schools throughout the state, under the sponsorship of the Cap and Gown Series.

In "The Male Animal", Turner's wife Ellen, played by Suzanne Rouse, Lansing senior, can't decide between a former sweetheart and football player, Joe Ferguson, and her "devoted but sometimes irritating" husband, Frank Braman, Bay City senior, plays the part of Ferguson.

Air Force Elects Sophomore Coed Honorary Colonel

Jeannie Warrington, Bethesda, Md., sophomore, was elected Honorary Cadet Colonel by Air Force ROTC cadet officers at a dinner Tuesday evening in Lansing.

She was chosen from eight other Corps Sponsors who will reign in the court at the Coronation Ball.

The Michigan State painters wrote "Go State" on many of Ann Arbor's walls.

5 Spartans Fined in Ann Arbor

18 Spend Night In County Jail

Ann Arbor and MSC's campus police were both on the alert Tuesday night to prevent further "paint pranks" in the annual spurge of pre-game vandalism.

Meanwhile, officials of both universities warned that those apprehended for any damage to either campus would receive severe punishment.

Eighteen MSC students spent Monday night in Washtenaw County Jail after they were picked up by Ann Arbor police.

Of the 18, eight were released Tuesday morning, five pleaded guilty and were fined and five Boistered by increased patrols and walkie-talkies, campus police reported "all quiet" at 3 a.m. this morning in their efforts to prevent any more painting antics.

They said, however, that they discovered another blue block "M" in front of the Music Building at 8:10 Tuesday night.

At the same time, the Michigan Daily, U of M student newspaper, reported that there had been no more trouble in Ann Arbor.

others stood mute and will be tried Saturday morning.

Eight students were released by Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien for lack of evidence.

Two others were picked up Monday night but released immediately after they told police they had just gone along to watch the operations.

Reports that another onslaught of Spartan students were planning to invade Michigan's campus prompted Ann Arbor police to double their patrols Tuesday.

MSC's campus police have also established special watches, especially around "Spartan," which received a blue and yellow paint job Sunday night.

Some Spartans who wielded paint brushes at Michigan Monday night were spotted by U of M students.

"We ran for our lives," said one student. "Thank heavens the police caught us instead of the students."

Those pleading guilty Tuesday morning were fined $5 plus $8.85 in costs. They are:

Richard Collins, Midland freshman; Charles Bishop, Rosemont freshman; Richard Gillen, East Lansing freshman; Richard Duddy, Hartford junior, and Douglas Kellogg, III, Jackson junior.

Judge O'Brien entered not guilty pleas for the five who stood mute, delaying their trial until Saturday morning. They are:

They were released and ordered to appear Saturday.

Judge O'Brien said he had been assured by Tom King, dean of students, that restitution would be made for the damage caused by MSC students.

A similar incident on the Michigan campus last year cost merchants, fraternities and the university some $2,000 to remove the paint, officials said.

Michigan students caught on MSC's campus last fall were forced to remove all paint they applied.

No students from MSC were apprehended for painting at Michigan before the 1953 gridiron classic.

University of Michigan workers spent most of the day Tuesday trying to remove Block S's from the Rackham-Graduate Building and the university museum.

The Michigan State painters wrote "Go State" on many of Ann Arbor's walls.

This Is Living

By JEAN GREGORY

If you believe this Living Units page has gone too Greek without enough publicity for the independents, dorms and co-ops, we agree with you.

But the problem is that our staff is too small to contact every living unit every week. Consequently, we are dependent on material that publicity chairmen bring us.

The trouble is that the only organizations who seem interested in letting the campus know what they're doing are the Greeks. Naturally, there are some exceptions but we wish there were a lot more of them.

The State News went out on a limb to inaugurate this page last winter. This is the only campus daily newspaper we know of that has a page devoted solely to news from campus residences.

We were proud of it and for a while the response was great. Everyone was sending us bits of humor for Today's Campus and details on exchange dinners and new housemothers. People were even dropping by to give us ideas for features on interesting people in their residences.

Now the silence is deafening. Again, here's the deal. We've printed this before but we'll try again:

1. We want stories on Founder's Days, parties, guests and exchange dinners—before they happen if at all possible. A preview is always more interesting to a reader than a review.
2. Names of pledges, actives, pinnings, engagements and officers must be accompanied by their class and hometown. We won't use them otherwise.
3. Material doesn't have to be in news story form. An outline of the facts will be plenty.
4. Turn in ideas for features and Today's Campuses. We can always use them.
5. Deadline for this page, which comes out Wednesday morning, is Tuesday noon.

Kindly tack this on your publicity chairman's door if you believe he might have use for such information.

British Coed Receives Home Ec Scholarship

By LOUISE MANNS

Though a long way from her home, Barbara Purvis from Newcastle upon Tyne, on the northeast coast of England, seems to be enjoying her stay at MSC. The 27-year-old English woman is taking a special program in nutrition: a subject in which there is not much opportunity for study in her own country.

The scholarship which helps to pay for Barbara's year-long visit here is provided jointly by the American Home Economics Association and a special fund of the Home Economics Club at MSC.

This program of selecting capable foreign students to be sent to colleges and universities is an important activity of the AHEA.

The MSC Home Economics Club operating as do other college clubs in co-operation with the AHEA, periodically sets aside a portion of its service fund until the amount increases to the sum required for payment of half the scholarship.

When each club acquires the necessary funds it contacts the AHEA which selects a student who will be best suited to the educational facilities offered by that college.

This program provides an opportunity for foreign home economics students to further their education in specialized fields such as nutrition which are not offered as widely in other countries.

Under this plan MSC has been host to girls from China, Netherlands, India, Sweden, and this year, England.

Not only is Barbara very happy to have the opportunity to study here, but she welcomes the chance to visit another country, which she says, "is always fascinating." Though in her opinion there is really no basic difference between her country and ours, she was impressed most upon first glance by the size of everything.

"Everything is so large here. The college, the number of students, the cars, they're all so big," says Barbara.

One of our most popular institutions has made a favorable impression, for when asked if she had become acquainted with the Grill Barbara replied with a smile, "Oh yes, I like American coffee, I quite enjoy drinking it in the Grill."

Her main complaint is one which is universal. As Barbara

At present the group is discussing the initial draft of the constitution which was drawn up by a Lansing lawyer.

Purpose of the Council will be to establish a better and closer relationship between the college administration and religious living units, according to Dick Verhuel, Three Rivers senior, and president of Asher House.

Faculty adviser for the group is Elwood Voller, assistant to the dean of students, men's division.

Presidents of the living units and representatives of the associating adult groups will be members of the council.

The next scheduled meeting of the Council will be Nov. 19 at a luncheon in the Union Cafeteria.

BOLDEN'S RETURN CHEERS SPARTANS

Matsock Now Listed as Doubtful

Injuries Move Up Robinson, Musetti

With Co-Capt. LeRoy Bolden finally back in top form, each Duffy Daugherty and Spartans are now concerned as to the condition of other top running back, Matsock.

The versatile jack-of-all-trades Bolden's replacement, working out in practice, was no pads and left the field early. According to team officials, he is still on the doubtful list as the Michigan game approaches.

However, there is little doubt Bolden's efficiency after the game with the Cougars. He carried the ball only eight times, but for 109 yards and one touchdown. He also returned a punt 32 yards.

Now leads the team in rushing with 236 yards; in scoring with 4 touchdowns, and in kick returns for 149 yards and a average.

With Randy Schreengost out of the season, his junior brother, Embury Robinson, stepped into the starting role at tackle.

It is not a new role for the young junior, however, with the most in and out of the line all year due to injuries. Robinson also started in the Rose Bowl game and kick-off for the Spartans.

Embury Musetti was running in second string left half spot in today's scrimmage, and he will likely get second call behind Bolden on Saturday, depending upon whether Matsock will be available.

According to Dr. Feurig, all injured Spartans are tending to treatment and will be ready for the Wolverines game.

Linebacker center Joe Badowski and tackle Ron Latron, both with leg injuries, and end Nam Masters, who received a concussion, are expected to be out on his forehead which sustained seven stitches.

Bolden came out of the game in good shape, and should be at 100 percent efficiency against Michigan. Matsock is able to play.

It means that State will have complete backfield in every respect for the first time this season.

total offense, including passing, punt and kick-off returns and pass interception returns, the Spartans have accounted 3,086 yards. Of this total, Bolden has contributed 740 yards.

He has 226 yards rushing, 113 on pass receiving, 14 interception returns, 118 on punt returns and 250 on kick-off returns. In addition, he has scored four touchdowns.

W. Shaw 5 combined a stunning aerial attack with blazing speed to wrest the West Shaw title from W. Shaw 10 in a rough and tumble 14-6 game that saw one player ejected from the game and a fistful of penalties last night at Old College Field.

The combination of passer Ray Schincarol and Jerry Boos accounted for the first W. Shaw 5 score midway in the second period on a short toss to the right flat with Boos scampering into the end zone for the marker.

With the half time score standing 7-0, Schincarol and Boos teamed in the opening minutes of the third stanza to boost the lead to 14-0.

The fighting W. Shaw 10 team came back in the closing stanza on a flip from Jack Page to Max Robinette to make the tally read 14-6 but the comeback came too late as the clock ran out before they could get another drive underway.

Kappa Sigma 26, Pi Kappa Phi 6 Kappa Sigma scored in the first quarter, on a pass from Andy Teltek to Larry Joffille but the Pi Kap's tied it up with a Mike Bosco to John Juracek to Fred Darling pass.

Another Teltek pass, to Larry Brown, and a three way pass from Teltek to Brown to Joffille put the Kappa Sig's way ahead. E. Shaw 9, 0; E. Shaw 4, 0.

Great defensive play by both teams kept the game a scoreless deadlock until the final period.

Then Dick Schiesel tossed a 20-yard pass to Gordon Morrison for the game's only score.

SAE 20, Triangle 0

SAE scored their first TD in the opening period, on a pass from Jack Everts to Chuck Lousel. Triangle's defense stiffened until the fourth quarter, when Everts tossed a five yard scoring pass to Jim Peterson.

Doesn't Prove Anything

Why Use Second-Rate Teams?

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—It's too bad the Pacific Coast Conference and the Big 10 have a rule barring repeaters from the Rose Bowl games, as it knocks out what could be a history-making meeting.

Never, since the first Associated Press poll in 1936, have the No. 1 and No. 2 teams met in a post-season contest, and now it appears that such a game might be possible were it not for what are considered a silly provision in the contract.

Right now UCLA, unbeaten and untied, is No. 1 in the national ranking, and Ohio State, also with an unblemished record, is No. 2.

Barring accident, such as a defeat, there is little reason to doubt that they will finish that way, although we realize UCLA must get by a dangerous Southern California team and Ohio State has yet to take on Purdue and Michigan.

Ohio State is eligible for the Rose Bowl assignment and seems a cinch to get it. UCLA, however, took part in the Pasadena game last New Year's Day, and automatically is sidetracked in favor of the second best coast team.

That would seem akin to the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants being barred from taking part in the 1955 World Series because they played in it this year, even if they again won the pennants in their respective leagues.

They'd have to take the second place teams for the series, and you can imagine the feverish interest such a series would engender.

The Big Seven, signed up by the Orange Bowl, has a similar agreement by which it will not send the same team two consecutive years. This is particularly tough on the Oklahomans, unbeaten and untied and No. 3 in the current poll and heavily favored to finish with a clean

Krause Raps NCAA Video Restrictions

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, Monday stepped up his campaign for unrestricted football television by leveling charges of "artificial" and "reactionary" against the NCAA's TV policy of control.

Krause long has been the leader for uncontrolled national television and rekindled his attack against the present NCAA policy as a main speaker at the Chicago American Quarterback Club.

"The present NCAA plan is an artificial and reactionary system that is no good," he said. "regional television is a step in the right direction."

Krause's reference to regional television undoubtedly was aimed at the Big 10, which for several years has been leading a drive for it.

"We would like all football games at Notre Dame to be televised, but never have we planned in our mind to do so," Krause continued.

Weekend of Interceptions Sets Hoosiers to Passing

ELCOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Coach Bernie Crummins, not apt to forget that Miami of Ohio intercepted three Hoosier passes last weekend, sent his Hoosier footballers through pass patterns Tuesday last Northwestern take the hint.

Florian Helinski, who threw the misaddressed aerials Saturday, had tossed only one intercepted pass previously this season.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's coach Stu Holcomb moved his reserves around like Buckeyes Tuesday, hoping to give the Boilermaker varsity some taste of what they'll encounter Saturday against undefeated, untied Ohio State.

For the varsity, Phil Ehman and Bill Murakowski alternated at fullback and Jim Whittier and Rex Brock shared the left half-back post, while both quarterback Len Dawson and right half Ed Zembal stayed on the job all afternoon.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Defense against rushing was stressed in Notre Dame drills Tuesday after the line yielded 224 yards to Penn last week.

On defense with the first team—as freshmen and second stringers combined to run plays of Notre Dame's Saturday opponent, North Carolina—was junior center Jim Mense.

He was working at the line-backing spot usually filled by Dick Szymanski.

Okinawan Sophomore
Records Disc Show

MSC is supplying its own brand of disc jockey to the people of Okinawa.

Kiyoshi Kabira, Okinawan sophomore, Tuesday completed his eleventh monthly tape-recorded disc jockey show for use over radio station KSAR at the University of Ryukyus on Okinawa.

The show is recorded on the facilities of MSC's radio station, WKAR.

Kabira starts out his show with the MSC "Fight Song," and then talks in Japanese about American campus life, national events, interviews foreign students and plays the top songs on American juke boxes.

"Letter from America" is the name of the half-hour program, known to thousands of Okinawans, Japanese and Americans in the Ryukyu Islands.

Tuesday's recording included five hit songs: "Hey, There," "If I Give My Heart to You," "I Need You Now," "Papa Loves Mambo," and "Skokiaan."

Kabira said his three months plugging of "O, Mein Papa" helped make it a popular hit in Okinawa. "Hey, There" is making its fourth appearance on his show.

On the informative side, Kabira's newest program includes an interview in Japanese with a fellow-U.S. Army scholarship student, Miss Chizuko Kameya. A senior in journalism at MSC, Miss Kameya will discuss the differences between MSC and the University in Tokyo, where she majored in English literature.

The program this month includes a discussion of fraternity and sorority rushing, and pledging antics. There is no Greek life at the University of Ryukyus.

Kabira also tells Okinawans about MSC's football games and its Centennial year plans.

KSAR is commercially operated by the University of Ryukyus.

The bronze lions which quietly guard the museum's steps were found sporting green noses and "S"s for and aft.

Patrol cars ran three Michigan State cars to the curb after they were tipped off by an anonymous telephone call and a report that "students with paint cans" were prowling the campus.

Dean King said he would wait until all of the students have been tried to take action.

He warned, however, that they will be given severe penalties, including possible suspension. An alternative would be disciplinary probation, he said.

King said that an Ann Arbor resident whose lawn and porch were painted might file suit against the students.

It was evident that the painting of the Michigan campus was in retaliation for the paint applied Sunday night on "Spartan," the Campbell dorm walks and Circle Drive.

But King pointed out that no proof has been obtained that U of M students were responsible for painting up MSC's campus.

Walter B. Rea, dean of men at Michigan, promised to take stringent action on any Michigan students caught damaging MSC's campus. He said:

"The university deplors such action but students are students whether at Michigan, Michigan State or any other college or university."

Dr. Einstein
Would Choose
To Be Plumber

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein says that if he had to do it all over again, "I would not try to become a scientist or scholar or teacher."

"I would rather choose to be a plumber or a peddler," he says, "in the hope to find that modest degree of independence still available under present circumstances."

The world-famed, 75-year-old physicist expressed this attitude in a letter published in this week's issue of Reporter magazine.

He had been asked for his comment on a recent Reporter article relating to the present situation of American scientists.
