Neither motion passed. The impeachment move went unrecognized by speaker of the house Bill Conrad for lack of a second, and the censure motion was defeated

Both moves, plus over two ours of discussion and controversy, centered around a proposed variety show which was to have been presented in the Auditorium May 21.

Congress two, weeks ago approved plans for the show, speci-fying it was to have at least two "name" acts, and giving Hurst power to cancel it if there was financial risk to student government or if the acts could not be obtained.

Hurst cancelled the show Wed-Hurst cancelled the snow wed-nesday afternoon, and in his ex-ecutive report Wednesday night, told Congress he did so because he "was not getting the desired results from the booking agency and did not want to risk student's tax money."

The meeting then proceeded routinely. Hurst left the meet-ing, and Congress discussed and voted on several bills.

When the bills had been voted on, Lansing representative George Thomas requested that Congress let Joseph Hoffman, chairman of the variety show and head of for organizing a branch of the the academic benefits bureau, give his views on the show "even though Hurst has threatened to fire him if he speaks against the executive."

Granted permission, Hoffman

said he "felt it was unfair after spending three months and lots of money and making plenty of phone calls to have Hurst say, 'Joe, you say one word against me, and you're fired."

Hoffman said Hurst had told him Wednesday afternoon he was cancelling the show and when he asked for the reason. Hurst had told him the "whole

The public lecture is sponsored and I think something should be done about my not being able to without getting fired by Hurst."

Then the fireworks started. Representative Bob Nelson made a motion that Hurst be impeached "for restricting Hoffman from speaking," but his motion was not seconded.

Other congressmen felt a special session should meet tonight and the views of both Hurst and Hoff-man be considered, but this motion went unbeeded.

Secretary of student govern-ment Roger Augustine said "student government is in a serious position right now. This is an internal family problem, the most serious in four years."

The next three weeks will see a series of dinners spon-nered by IFC and PanHel devoted to integrating foreign students on campus with their classmates at State.

Part of the International Week program, the dinners are an attempt to create a feeling of friendship under the "Good Neighbor" banner.

It is too bad a special part of a special program has to be devoted to the integration of our foreign friends on America is a melting pot. In our cities the speech of 50 or more nations blends with the common language of the people. In our villages and towns the kloppen dancers, the pizzarias and the chop-suey restaurants are vivid evidence of our heritage.

One of the concepts that has grown in this melting pot is the idea of tolerance. Tolerance is not enough.

If we are to effectively use our melting pot principles to govern our actions in world affairs and to utilize the visiting foreigners among us, our intergration program must be a 52-week-a-year project.

IFC and Pankel are to be commended for the steps they have taken toward a greater understanding in the world. The race isn't won at the starting block, however.

Understanding all over the world is breaking down. In England arrangements for the annual exchange of students with the Soviet Union have suddenly been cancelled on the flimsy excuse that the Russians are too busy. The International Union of Students meeting in Denmark on world economic problems, at which the world famed Swedish Economist Gunnar Myrdal was to have presented the keynote paper, has been called off "because it was feared objective discussion would be hindered by the contrary political views of the attending countries.'

More than 1,000 Indonesian students now studying in the Netherlands are being sent home or removed to other countries to complete their studies.

Somewhere in the world a fresh start must be made toward mutual understanding.

Michigan State would be a good place, but it is a 52week-a-year job.

Atom Future Snowballing

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst

The growing number of international agreements for de-velopment of peaceful uses for the atom suggests a snowballing

The United States has just signed an agreement to lease uranium to Turkey and provide the technical assistance needed for building and operating a reactor there.

This agreement is merely the first of quite a number expected to go through soon, a number which probably will be greatly increased after this summer's conference of experts on the best ways of exploiting the Eisenhower-United Nations

Two smaller nations-Holland and Norway—already are co-operating in the operation of a reactor in Holland.

They and 10 other European nations also are cooperating, under the auspices of the United Nations, in construction of a reactor in Switzerland as a cen-ter for nuclear research. This plant is well under way

Norway announced March 24 that she was working on an atomic-powered merchant ship which would demonstrate the possibilities in the ports of the world, and a month later Presi-dent Eisenhower announced a similar project for the United

United States is also trying to develop portable plants which could be leased or loan-to power-hungry spots, plants which might even supply the power for building other perm-anent plants, or for other indeveloped areas.

Great Britain has progressefarther than anyone in the development and planning of at-omic power plants to fit a particular economic situation, since she finds the exploitation of her coal veins increasingly uneconomical.

like a "crash" program to tie the free world's healthands economy to the atom years before it has been anticipated.

Ten years ago nuclear fission meant, to everyone except to a few researchers, merely a terrific explosion. Now the use of isotopes in all sorts of industrial and medical research is becoming commonplace.

Uranium's general use for production of electric power, while at the same time continu-ing to produce plutonium for other purposes, appears to depend only on decreasing its cost and increasing its availability as demand decreases the availability of other sources.

GIFTS OF DISTINCTION

By CYNTHIA SCHOOL Songs from Broadway musi-cals are high on this week's list of most-wanted records. The soon-to-open "Damn Yankees," a baseball tale with music by Richard Adler and Jerry Ross, has produced two-"Wh Lola Wants" as sung by Sarah Vaughan and "Heart" by both Eddie Fisher and the Four Aces.

Also right up there is "All of You" by Sammy Davis, Jr., a tune from the musical "Silk

The versatile Mr. Davis is also ricing high with a Decca LP, "Starring Sammy Davis, Jr." The album includes standards such as "September Song" also some less-heard numbers like Rodgers and Hart's "Glad to be Unhappy"

Some of his single record successes—"Hey There" and "Birth of the Blues"—are also along for the ride.

Getting back to the top po of the week, Bill Haley and the Comets are still rocking around the turntables with "Rock Around the Clock."

Nat Cole has two sellers with "A Blossom Fell" and "Darling, Je Vous Aime Beaucoup." Just beginning to roll is the Jackie Gleason Orchestra's waxing of "I'll Never be the Same" and "Rain." Both sides are in demand and both feature syrupy banjo section.

Probably the most timely record on sale is one which came out last summer—June Chris-ty's "Something Cool." Miss Christy is backed by the Pete Rugulo Orchestra and sings the title tune, "Midnight Sun," "A Stranger Called the Blues," "I Should Care," and others.

The Bill Barnes' "Something Cool" has a lyric that could have been written just for East Acres this week:

'It's so warm here in town, and the heat gets me down . . . Yes, I'd like something cool, . ."

THE GIFT HORSE

Many of our friends will soon be graduating. What kin ifts should we give them?

Here is no simple question. It is never simple to find gifu people who have everything, and college students, as every knows, are the most richly endowed of mortals. They've beauty and truth. They've got rhythm. They've got stout he willing hands, and a clear vision that dispels the miasmas of future as the morning sun sears away the last wisps of a night's fog. They've got heaps and heaps of money, as who not who has been receiving such a huge allowance over years of schooling?

What can we give them that they don't already have
