Mansfield Gives Views on Changes

Hopes to Limit
Campaign Posters

The new student government President Bill Mansfield took time from his first day on the job Tuesday, and said there'll be changes made when he gets started.

Not going to be radical and change the whole student government, but he feels there can be some improvements made here.

For instance, there's the proposal of Secretary of State A. J. McBrine, who graduated Sunday was the last one, resigned Feb. 10.

Former student government President Bill Hurst didn't appoint a new one. He said he thought the job was superfluous, and the duties of the Secretary could be integrated into the departments of government.

Mansfield has other ideas, however. He said Thursday he will appoint a Secretary of State.

He said it is a very important position, especially needed to pull the departments of government together, he said.

Mansfield has some proposals to do with campus-clubs, campaign posters, too. He said they should be limited in both number and size, he said. "Quality rather than quantity should be stressed."

The new president also has some driving problems, especially on the fines levied on student violators.

He said fines are too high, and he will work to have them lowered. Mansfield is one of two student representatives on the committee.

His driving goal for the immediate future is to see what can be done about having the parking lot east of Shaw, west of the East Pavilion and north of the new surfaced.

Mansfield thinks student government ought to be "a coordinating organization exhibiting leadership, not rulership, governing bodies on campus that have to do with students."

The president said he had "a mind" to assist him in his positions, but was not ready to name the appointees. Mansfield is a 20-year-old native of Madison, Wis., and is a national major in physical science, secondary education.

Reds Invite Adenauer To Moscow

Soviets Seek Normal Relations

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government, climaxing its campaign against West German rearmament, Tuesday night invited Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to visit Moscow with the aim of "normalization of relations."

"The Soviet government believes that the interest of peace and European security, as well as the national interest of the Soviet and German peoples, demand the normalization of relations between the Soviet Union and the German Federal Republic," a note to Adenauer said. It warned that a new war could turn the territory of Germany into a field of battle and destruction.

The note was delivered by Soviet officials to the West German Embassy in Paris. The text was released here by the Soviet Foreign Ministry. Press Chief Leonid Ilychev urged correspondents to run to telephones, which they promptly did.

"The maintenance and strengthening of peace in Europe depends upon the normal and good relations between the Soviet and German people," the note said.

The note said the Soviet government "proceeds from a basis that the establishment and development of normal relations between the Soviet Union and the German Federal Republic will facilitate the solution of unsolved questions regarding all of Germany and should thus help in deciding the main general national problem of the German people—the establishment of the unification of a German democratic state."

It emphasized that periods of bad relations and wars between Germany and Russia caused the two countless losses "numbered in millions of people and surpassed the losses suffered by other countries several times over."

In Bonn, Adenauer declined comment. Adenauer plans to leave Bonn Tuesday.

Senate OK's Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee by voice vote Tuesday recommended that the national minimum wage be set at $1.00 an hour. It is now 75 cents.

Approval of the $1.00 figure came after a 11-2 vote rejected President Eisenhower's proposal for a 90-cent minimum and an 8-5 vote turned down the $1.25 recommendation of the CIO and AFL.

Chairman Hill (D-Ala.) of the Senate Labor Committee said plans are to bring the bill before the senate Wednesday with the expectation of almost certain passage. The House Labor committee has also taken up the question of raising the minimum, but it is not definite when it might report a bill.

Public Power Wins Victory In Congress

6½ Million Dollars
Allotted TVA Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of the controversial Dixon-Yates private power project won a tentative double victory in Congress Tuesday.

A House Appropriations subcommittee eliminated 6½ million dollars earmarked for a power line to link the prospective Dixon-Yates plant at West Memphis, Ark., and the Tennessee Valley Authority system. The purpose was to try to block the project.

Then the subcommittee allotted the same money to a proposed new TVA steam plant at Fulton, Tenn.

Both actions are subject to review by the full 50-man Appropriations Committee Friday.

A subcommittee member said the group voted 9-6 to eliminate money for the transmission line and 8-5 to shifting the funds to the Fulton project, which the administration had ignored altogether.

He said one Republican voted with those favoring elimination of the transmission line and only one Democrat voted against it.

Ground already has been broken for the 167-million-dollar West Memphis plant, to be financed by Middle South Utilities, headed by Edgar H. Dixon, and the Southern Co., headed by Eugene A. Yates.

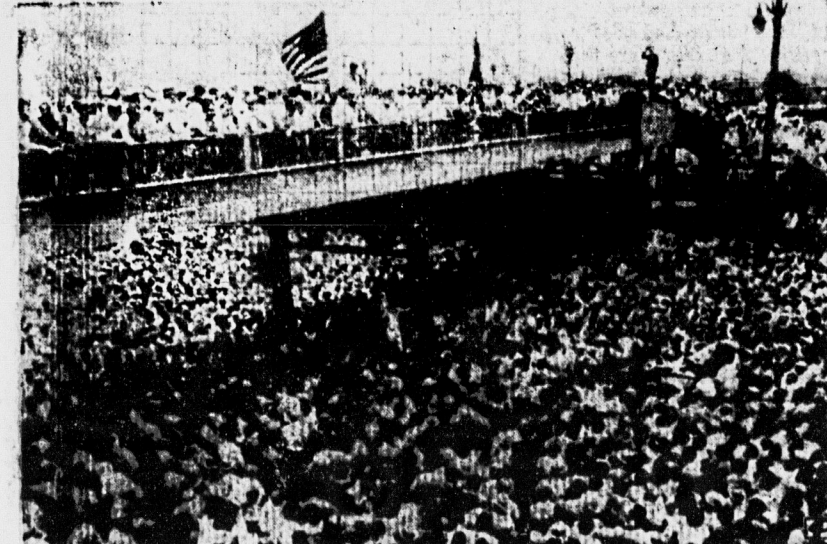

The utility group has signed a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission to replace some of the TVA power used in atomic plants. This arrangement was concluded in place of asking Congress for funds to build the long-proposed TVA plant at Fulton.

Under the contract, the Dixon-Yates group agrees to pipe the power to the middle of the Mississippi River. The TVA-financed transmission line would be necessary to bring the energy into the TVA system.

Study Manufacturing

Government Scientists Promise Safe Vaccine

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — A safe Salk polio vaccine is being made now, two government scientists declared Tuesday in explaining exactly what went wrong earlier.

They said it was learned that manufacturers were having some problems only when government scientists visited their plants and studied—for the first time—the history records not only of good batches of vaccine, but bad ones as well.

These records of bad batches had not been sent to the government, said Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele and Dr. James A. Shannon, associate director of the National Institutes of Health.

Only records of good batches were sent to the NIH, they said. The bad batches were thrown out by the manufacturers.

Both men ducked a reporter's question whether the NIH had asked for records of bad batches or should have asked for them, or

Vaccine Shipped To 8 States for 2nd Free Shots

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Eli Lilly Co. made a first shipment of Salk polio vaccine to five northern states Tuesday and shipped vaccine for second free shots to first and second graders in eight southern and southwestern cities.

The 1,039,860 cubic centimeters of serum were released Monday by the National Institutes of Health and shipping orders were given Tuesday by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

whether the government specifications called for reporting the bad ones.

Dr. Scheele said merely, "That will come out later."

In a 33-page report to the American Medical Assn., Dr. Scheele and Shannon spelled out what was learned on vaccine manufacture and testing since April 27. On that date, vaccine from Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif., was withdrawn following some cases of polio in Cutter-vaccinated youngsters.

They made these main points: Some evidence "points rather conclusively to probable presence of live virus" in some batches of Cutter vaccine. A Utah scientist reports finding live virus in one vial. But tests of this vaccine are continuing for the full story.

Safety requirements in making and testing Salk vaccine have been improved. Vaccine being made now "is as safe as present tests for virus detection can make it, and the risk of such vaccine transmitting polio is negligible."

"It is erroneous to assume that 100 per cent safety can be assured."

There were variations in the way different manufacturers handled or tested the process of killing virus for the vaccine, or perhaps some deficiency in theory of Dr. Jonas F. Salk concerning the killing process.

On this point, Dr. Salk says he always got consistently safe vaccine made in his own laboratory.

"There can be no doubt that use of the vaccine this season will prevent a high percentage of paralytic polio cases," the scientists said.

The current shortage of vaccine undoubtedly will continue for some months.

"There is no question, however, that increasing amounts will be prepared."

Local health officers and physicians should decide whether children in their communities should get shots this summer.

Ford Plant Shutdown Threatened

Workers Vote
To Stay off Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — A strike against General Motors was postponed Tuesday until at least Sunday night but rebellion flared among dissatisfied Ford workers who threatened to close down a third of the company's production by today.

The CIO United Auto Workers extended its contract with GM through Sunday. It had been scheduled to run out Tuesday night. The CIO electrical workers followed suit.

But at Ford, where agreement was reached Monday, the situation continued unsettled.

The tool and die workers at the huge Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn Tuesday night voted to stay off their jobs until they get a 30-cent-an-hour raise. And if they stick to their words, the plant, largest single unit in the automobile industry, probably will be closed completely.

The Rouge plant represents almost one-third of Ford's total production capacity.

Ford officials said the plant was 75 per cent shut down by the end of the day shift with only 5,000 of a scheduled 15,000 working Tuesday night.

Union officials appeared to be having almost no success in urging the workers to return.

Meanwhile, the General Motors picture appeared considerably brighter. UAW Vice President John W. Livingston said no further extensions will be granted in the contract. But he said:

"There is every indication at this point in negotiations that, given sufficient time for further bargaining, a peaceful settlement of the contract with General Motors that is just and honorable can be achieved."

This was by far the most optimistic statement to come from a union official in reference to its talks with General Motors.

It was widely interpreted as meaning that within the past few hours GM apparently had given the UAW at least verbal assurance that it would match or better the Ford settlement Monday.

Ford and the UAW agreed on a modified guaranteed wage plan.

High union leaders said several hours after the Ford settlement was reached that they had received up to then "absolutely no guaranteed wage offer from GM or no assurance that it will go along with the principle of a guaranteed wage."

Livingston, the union's General Motors director, said Tuesday he was bound by a company-Union secrecy agreement not to say whether GM had offered a guaranteed wage plan.

"But I don't think there is any question," he added, "that GM will be making us some new proposals in the very near future."

Depends on Hayworth's Bill

Korean Family Hopeful for American Citizenship

By GENE RITZINGER

Kyu Yawp Lee and his family have never met Representative Don Hayworth (D-Mich.), former Michigan State speech professor.

But if Hayworth ever visits Lee's apartment, he'll get more than an ordinary warm welcome. Hayworth has introduced a bill into Congress which, if passed, will enable the Lees to look to the future hopefully—something they can't do now.

Lee and his wife are Koreans. More than anything else they want to become American citizens.

But the government, it seems, doesn't want them. The Immigration and Naturalization Service have denied all their requests for permanent residency, a necessary step toward eventual citizenship.

Now their case—and with it all their hopes for a secure future for themselves and their two children—lies in the hands of Congress.

Lee escaped from Communist North Korea and in 1947 came to the U.S. under a student's visa to study economics at Michigan State.

At the outbreak of the Korean War, the Army requested his services, and he served as translator and interpreter with an intelligence group in Tokyo.

After a two-year tour of duty, he returned to State and obtained a bachelor's degree. At present he is working most of the day and taking courses at night.

Kyu Yawp Lee sits with his wife and two children

ent he is working most of the day and taking courses at night.

Mrs. Lee came here in 1949 and remains under a visitor's visa. She holds a master's degree in music and attended the American Conservatory of Music and Illinois Wesleyan College.

Lee said the Army wants him again, this time as a civilian Korean language instructor at a school in California.

His appointment, however, is contingent on a change in immigration status.

The Lees have two children, Irene, 18 months old, and Nelson, one month old. Both were born in Lansing.

Lee fears Communist reprisals against himself and his family if he should be forced to return to South Korea. The U.S. government, however, claims South Korea is able to protect its citizens against such reprisals.

"We're both hopeful Mr. Hayworth's bill will be passed," Lee said Tuesday. "It's discouraging to live the sort of gypsy life we do now, not knowing what the future holds."

He added that he has not seen his parents for 10 years. They are in North Korea, and he has heard from friends that they are being subjected to heavy pressure from Communists because he worked for the U.S. government.

Mrs. Lee summed up their feelings about the future in one sentence. "Our children are Americans," she said, "and we want them to grow up as Americans with American educations."

'More Durable Than Enemies'

"Commencement is only a commencement."

Admiral Arthur W. Radford told 1,859 degree candidates at Sunday's Centennial Commencement exercises at Michigan State that "you can keep faith in your country and the freedom for which it stands, and be ready to defend it against all those who would overthrow it."

The Detroit Free Press Tuesday editorialized that Radford should be applauded for debunking the "doomsters" who would bet their futures on the world being destroyed. It said that it is about time someone like Radford took a poke at tongue-lashers who alibi the mistakes and misfits of the generations on the supposition that they were the graduated products of "uncertain" times, and therefore are not responsible.

Radford said "you must be stronger and more durable than the forces which would destroy us."

These words by Radford may have been taken too lightly by the graduates and the public in the heat of the sun. They have been said often and in innumerable variations.

But what Radford said hits home. No matter how melodramatic these words are when strung together, they add up. The Russians say them. They practice them, too. Americans say them...

Radford said that if Americans doubt their mission in the world, "We probably will cease to progress. If America ever loses confidence in herself, we will retain the confidence of no one. We could even lose our chance to remain free."

"Without preaching or crusading, the graduates of 1955 have their work cut out for them, just as the graduates of pre-World War II had theirs cut out."

"Serve your country well," Radford advised. "This may not be easy, but it will be a rewarding experience."

"For the greatest place of honor is really the place of service."

Letter to the Editor

Traffic Court 'Undemocratic'

To the Editor:

Did any of you ever appear before the student traffic appeals court? Well if you're like me, you'll probably never waste your time again appealing a ticket.

I was one of those poor students who received a ticket for no sticker.

The reason was that I traded in the car that was registered and was caught on campus with the other car without a sticker. I was parked in lot F and didn't have 24 hours to obtain another sticker.

Theoretically a car owned by a student whether parked on campus or in E Lansing is guilty of violating the parking regulation of this university.

Because of inability to pay and a supposed flaw in the regulation I appealed my case to the student traffic court and about two months later received notice that the ticket was sustained.

I was peeved at the decision so was intrigued enough to ask for a reappeal in person.

After talking with the court of two people and a secretary I was to be judged on the validity of the fine. During this undemocratic session, an argument ensued with one of the members so that in my opinion prejudice was created and my case not viewed in proper light.

This member made a statement to the effect that they (the court) wouldn't be functioning if they were not fair. She claimed that the students would kick them out of office.

About three minutes later this so-called court justice said that they had heard enough, and said that they were in sympathy with me and I would learn their decision by mail in about a week.

A couple of days later, I received the same decision, "traffic ticket sustained for violation of paragraph 1 (a) in the student driving regulation."

After reading this letter one might feel that I'm against a student traffic court. The contrary, however, is true.

I think that such a court is good only when it administers justice and gives the student a chance to present his views. Otherwise it does more harm than good.

I have noted the following discrepancies in court procedure: (1) No definite court procedure followed. (2) Sometimes argue with person presenting case. (3) Not enough members to properly conduct a hearing and evaluate the decision.

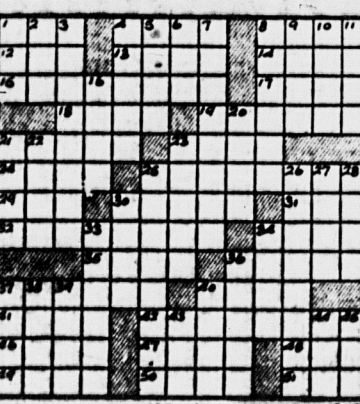

(4) And finally, there should be an unbiased faculty member to review the court's decision on borderline cases when extenuating circumstances warrant it.

Reid 'Fast Dodging' In Front Line Club

To the Editor:

The apparent confusion between the State News and the president of the '55 Club is felt equally by members of the '55 Club.

To anyone who was present at the Club meeting on Saturday morning, it was readily apparent that the purpose of the Front Line Club was not limited solely to the investigation of the athletic, scholastic and moral qualities of potential Spartans, but included the promotion of means of getting the athletes to East Lansing so that the athletic department could "look them over."

In fact, most of the meeting was devoted to this problem and the reasons why the university was not allowed to pay transportation costs of potential athletes to the school.

This is definitely an alumni activity and no one denies its usefulness. However, Bill Reid's letter misrepresented the fact when he denied the true nature of the Front Line Club.

In addition, at no time, at no meeting of the '55 Club, was anything mentioned of aiding "in communal activities in various areas" as Mr. Reid states in his letter.

This point 6. of encouraging students of high scholarship and character, was evidently added at some time after the Saturday morning meeting and therefore could not be known to State News staff members or to members of the '55 Club, the group which should know.

It seems that Mr. Reid is adding jobs for the '55 Club as he sees fit and blaming others for not keeping up with the fast dodging which he is doing.

Martinez Gets Syracuse Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Boxing Club announced Tuesday that welterweights Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., and Chico Varona of Havana had been signed for a 10-round bout at Syracuse on June 24.

This will be the first bout for Martinez since last December. His former manager, Bill Daly, recently was suspended in this state after a hearing in which it was charged that Martinez had been the victim of a boycott by the managers' guild.

Equal Many College Records

Prepsters Set Speedy Pace

By HAL BATEMAN

During the past two years practically every national high school track record has either been broken or tied. In many instances high school athletes have turned in performances that better many collegiate standards.

Most of the state meets are finished and, as a result, marks have been posted that rank among the best in the nation.

Down in Texas there is a boy who is becoming a track legend. His name is, ironically, Eddie Southern.

In one day at the Longhorn state meet the 17-year-old Dallas youth set a national prep record of 47.2 in the 440-yard run, tied Jessie Owens 220-yard record of 20.7 and, to finish his day, ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.2.

The Baytown mile relay team, also from Texas, ran a fantastic 3:17.9, another new national schoolboy record.

As usual California leads the rest of the nation for individual performances.

At the recent Fresno Relays, Charlie Dumas, a prepster from Los Angeles' Centennial High, cleared 6' 10" in the high jump. To make the feat even more unbelievable Dumas cleared the height on his first attempt.

At the state finals last week Tod White of Newport Harbor ran the mile in 4:20, another record. The fifth place man in the race ran 4:25.

However the record didn't even get into the books. Last weekend Tom Skutka, of Morris Hills, N. J., ran a 4:19.5 in the New Jersey state meet.

In a dual meet several months ago between two Los Angeles high schools an athlete broad jumped 23' 6" and didn't place. The outdoor Big 10 was won with 23' 5".

An outstanding high school junior is Jim Brewer from North Phoenix, Ariz. As a 15-year-old sophomore he pole vaulted 13' 9" barefooted. This year Brewer put on shoes and now is up to 14'2", a new record.

Michigan State has never had a pole vaulter that has cleared 14 feet.

A lad who lives next door to Brewer, Ernie Bullard is also a pole vaulter for North Phoenix. Bullard has cleared 13' 9" and is the second best prep vaulter in the nation. Ironically, Bullard taught Brewer how to pole vault.

A mile relay team from Jersey City, N. J., will have people talking for a long time. It seems that three of the four members are brothers, the Smith brothers. Indoors the quartet ran 3:24.2 but haven't been as successful outdoors.

Amoros Picks Flock To Win Flag

Dodgers' Cuban Sees Giants in 3rd

BROOKLYN (AP)—With a borrowed piece of Roy Campanella's chewing tobacco in his jaw and using Joe Black as his "mouthpiece," smiling Sandy Amoros Monday picked his Brooklyn Dodgers for first, the Giants for third and wished how he could play in the majors 50 years.

"It takes me 50 years to learn English," spoofed the Cuban outfielder who is currently very hot property.

"Me gusta jugar a la pelota," said Sandy rapidly in his mother tongue, admitting of course:

"To play the ball is pleasing to me."

On the National League pennant picture Sandy was just as rapid and just as certain in his thinking.

"Dodgers win, I zink so. Giants third, mebbe fourth."

Sandy thus qualified as the first baseball man in 1955 to recognize the Giants for dead and he did it in both English and Spanish, for emphasis.

It was Amoros' prerogative, for he has played a major role in putting the Dodgers atop the heap and 12 games up on the heavily-favored Giants, Sandy's early-season figures, which are multi-linual, speak for themselves.

Batting—.330. 27 runs batted in with six homers, 12 doubles and 3 triples. He's among the top 10 hitters and his 60 hits is also among the league's best. His doubles output is second highest.

In the past five seasons Brooklyn had 15 different men play the left field position. Not since Andy Pafko in 1952 have the Dodgers had one man regularly in the club who feels secure in left.

Sandy, a keen-eyed wrist-hitting lefthander complements a lineup of power hitters.

Sandy was born in Mantanzas, Cuba. He is one of six children but he said, "the only ball player in the family." Sandy helps with the support of the family for his father is dead.

Sandy is not surprised at his early showing. He said he intends to keep it up.

"Like all ball players," he said, "I zink I'm real good."

To Horse!

NEW YORK (AP)—The preliminary trials to select the United States three-day equestrian team for the 1956 Olympic Games will be held at Oxford, Mich.

The Tigers' Al Kaline, leading the league with a .377 batting average, holds his "lucky" shoes with the toes out.

Kaline 'Streaks' to Bat Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers, who seems to thrive on hitting streaks, is in first place again in the American League batting race.

The 20-year-old outfielder, boasting a 15-game hitting skein, had a double and two singles against New York Tuesday to bring his average to .377.

Kaline has been hitting in streaks since the season began. The former bonus player hit safely in the Tigers' first 14 games and after being stopped, he picked right up again to compile an 11-game streak. Then came a six-game skunk and on May 24 he embarked on his current streak.

Kaline passed teammate Harvey Kuenn, who saw limited service during the past week because of a pulled thigh muscle. Kuenn's average is .361 on 60 hits in 166 times at bat. Kaline has been to the plate 30 more times and has 14 more hits.

Kansas City's Vic Power remained third at .335 as of Monday, but suffered a 19-point decline on 8-for-31 Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators lifted his average 14 points to .314 and advanced to fourth. The New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle lost 23 points and fell from fourth to fifth with a .266 mark.

KC Rallies To Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Washington Senators rallied for three runs in the ninth inning Wednesday night to break up Alex Kellner's shutout and defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 3-2, in the opening game of a two-night doubleheader.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella displaced Don Mueller of the New York Giants as runnerup in the batting derby with .342 average. Campanella, third a week ago, went 13-for-31 in the batting points. Mueller, who had 35 for-35, he slumped to 13-for-35. Big Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Reds led the league with six points, from sixth to fourth. Virion of the St. Louis Cardinals lost eight points, fourth to fifth.

Podres, in recording his sixth victory against three defeats, also joined in the Dodger attack on four Cincinnati pitchers. He hit a double and single and added a sacrifice.

The loser was Bud Podbielan, a former Brooklyn hired hand, who was removed in the seventh during a two-run Dodger uprising.

He was followed to the mound by Joe Nuxhall, Rudy Minarcin and Herschel Freeman, in that order. However, the Dodgers were prevented from hitting a home run for the first time in 13 games.

Podres and Kellert figured in both Brooklyn rallies which netted two runs in the second and two more in the seventh.

With one out in the second, Sandy Amoros and Gil Hodges hit doubles back-to-back. After Jackie Robinson had fouled out, Kellert singled, scoring Amoros, and then Podres dropped a

Small Schools Pack Punch In NCAA Ball

OMAHA (AP)—The lower bracket of the NCAA College World Series opening here Friday appears to pack the most power.

In this bracket are Oklahoma A and M, loser of only one game during the season; Arizona, a team that showed fine pitching in last year's series; Western Michigan, which disposed of the Big 10 champion in a playoff and has a long winning baseball history; and Springfield, Mass., another good baseball school.

The upper bracket has Southern California, Wake Forest, Colgate and Colorado State. State, Southern California has always been tough when it made its way to the series. Wake Forest has a baseball tradition.

Cleveland came back with three runs in the Tribe's half of the first, but the Sox went ahead in the third and put the game away with four tallies in the fourth.

Goodman stole home, Piersall doubled, Ted Lepcio, Klaus and Jensen singled Hank Foiles made a catching error while the Sox were getting their four-run cluster. Three of the runs were unearned.

Klaus hit his third home run of the season in the ninth. He also singled in the third and scored on a walk, an infield out and a sacrifice fly.

Braves Blast Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—Milwaukee's suddenly comes-to-life Braves barged into third place in the National League Tuesday night, scoring six runs in the second inning and five in the ninth to wallop the New York Giants 13-4. It was the fifth victory in the last six games for Milwaukee.

Cincinnati is the only National League team without a bonus player under the present bonus rule.

Williams, absent when Score beat the Sox in two previous games, doubled home the first two Boston runs after Score walked Billy Goodman and Bill Klaus. He crossed the plate himself when Sam White hit into a double play after Jackie Jensen had walked.

87th Belmont Finds Nashua But Few Others

NEW YORK (AP)—The lineup for the $100,000 87th running of the Belmont Stakes Saturday will contain Nashua. That is a fact, but what other 3-year-old colts will dare tackle the powerful Belmont stud colt in the third jewel of the triple crown has the management puzzled.

It seems as if some of the owners and trainers are trying to outfox each other, with the idea not so much of furnishing opposition to Nashua, as with an eye on the lucrative second, third and fourth money.

Latest reports indicate that Lundy Lawrence's Jabneh, Hilton A. Dabson's Nance's Lad, Howard Weinstein's Mr. Al L., and perhaps the Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury may be among those present in the mile and one-half classic.

In five colts start, the pot will total $116,800, the winner hauling down $80,700. Second place is worth $20,000, with $10,000 to third and $5,000 to fourth—not a bad piece of change just for getting a tail end view of Nashua.

Nats Get Groth, Courtney in Chisox Trade

Busby Returns To White Sox

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators Tuesday traded outfielder Jim Busby to the Chicago White Sox for outfielder Johnny Groth, catcher Clint Courtney and pitcher Bob Chakales.

Busby, one of the best fielders in baseball, has been having a poor season at the plate, hitting only .230 so far this year in 191 times at bat.

The 28-year-old Busby batted .298 last season and .312 the year before.

Both Groth and Courtney have been having spectacular years. Groth, a veteran outfielder who also is 28, is a .349 hitter. Courtney, 28, is a .349 hitter. Courtney, 28, is a .349 hitter.

Chakales, a 27-year-old right-hander, has been used sparingly by the White Sox. Last year, appearing with Cleveland and Baltimore, he had a 5-7 mark and an earned run average of 3.42.

BU Star Signs for $40,000

BOSTON (AP)—The Daily Record said Monday Tommy Gastall, Boston University's great all-around athlete, has signed a bonus contract with Baltimore and will join the Orioles in Chicago Tuesday.

Gastall, a catcher sought by about every major league club, signed for a bonus of "about $40,000," the Record said.

Gastall captained both the baseball and basketball teams. He was a star forward on the hoop team.

Loud Noises Greet Nehru In Russia

Prime Minister Red Cabinet Hails

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow gave Prime Minister Nehru of India an uproarious and unprecedented welcome Tuesday—complete with cheering throngs, barrages of flowers and soaring peace doves.

The Soviet Union's whole Cabinet came to the flag-bedecked airport to meet him. Then the ministers rode back to the city in limousines behind the open car they shared with Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

That never has happened before to honor any distinguished guest abroad, foreigners of long residence in Moscow said.

Thousands of lusty-voiced Moscovites were at the airport and lined the streets. They tossed flowers and released white doves as Nehru drove by. Some pushed right up to the side of the car. Welcome banners were unfurled all along the way.

This was the beginning of a two-week official visit in the Soviet Union by Nehru, his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and a party of nine.

A lavish program of hospitality has been prepared for the four or five days they will be in the capital before setting out on a tour of principal Soviet cities.

Parking Lot Work Begins Next Week

Work will begin during the middle of next week on the parking lot east of Shaw Hall. This lot, plus the one on Kalamazoo and Harrison, will be graveled and lighted before next fall, according to Harold Lautner, head of the landscape architecture and urban planning department.

Lautner said the lots are only temporary and for that reason cannot be paved. However, he added that with the gravel surfacing and good drainage the lot would be very satisfactory.

The estimated cost for improving each lot is about $8,000.

Improvements will also be made on the parking lot west of the livestock pavilion, according to Burt Ferris of the grounds department.

Wrong Target

Missile Hits Ore Carrier In Practice

DETROIT (AP)—The ore carrier George R. Fink docked at Zug Island in the Detroit River today with a six-inch hole in a hatch cover—put there by an air force rocket missile.

The missile hit the vessel Monday as it was passing through an air force target area off Harbor Beach in Lake Huron.

An air force spokesman said the missile was a practice "dummy" without an explosive warhead. It burst itself harmlessly in the ship's iron ore cargo.

The spokesman said the target area is marked on all navigation charts. The ore carrier missed the attention of a training plane, crash boats and radar devices used to keep ships out of the area. The Fink is owned by the National Steel Co.

Ike Warns Against False Hopes

Speaks To 469 West Point Grads

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower counseled the free world Tuesday that the approaching Big Four meeting would be "only a beginning" of a peace effort that may take a generation.

He warned against "fatuous expectations" that a world sick with ignorance, fears and hates "can be miraculously cured by a single meeting."

Eisenhower called for wisdom and caution on the world scene in addressing commencement exercises at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point—where he himself was graduated 40 years ago.

The President personally presented diplomas to the 469 graduates.

Ten thousand persons—relatives and friends of the graduates and the entire corps of cadets—cramped into the academy field house for the ceremonies.

Eisenhower said "this prospective conference of the four powers is only a beginning in a renewed effort that may last a generation."

"It is a task that may result in a long series of conferences," he said.

In them, this government, meeting with others, will further extend its search for ways in which the peaceful aspirations of mankind may be advanced."
