Parade Floats Readied

By DEBBY HALL
News Night Editor

Living units as living units who will take home trophies for the Centennial parade.

Trophies will be presented to the Homecoming dance and the coed living unit that constructed the most displays.

Winning floats will be judged at the Illinois-MSU parade.

Who will review the parade in Michigan Ave. in front of the Oldfield Hall, include Gordon Lansing designer of floats: Emil Lederer, Davidson Brothers Display, Detroit, Richard Damm, Saginaw Museum of Art, Bobbit from Albion art department, and Wal-McBride from the Grand Art Gallery.

On a point system, the float will be rated against a score of 1,000. Four factors of materials, design, ability to take in full, and approaches, and color determine the top floats.

Floats constructed by the beginning Wednesday, parade arrangements for participants will be expected Thursday night at 8:30, to float chairman.

Radio Series

by WKAR

Start Today

WKAR is presenting a series of radio broadcasts entitled "Lakes—Pathway to Progress" Monday afternoon at 12:30. The topic this afternoon is "Lifelines of the Lakes." Series of 13 programs is produced in cooperation with the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters under a grant from the Adult Education.

Programs during October "Nutrition for the Nation" and "Steel Builds a Economy" on Oct. 31.

and a half years in the program will be on 42 members stations.

AR-TV Plans

Workshop

Workshop of early and contemporary music will be presented by Michigan State University's station WKAR-TV in a series of four programs beginning Oct. 20.

Programs will be televised Monday evenings at 9:30 p.m. on dates: Oct. 20, Nov. 17, and Feb. 23. The program will be under the direction of William Nathan of MSU's Department of Literature and Arts.

Living units will be responsible for obtaining their own convertible to pull the floats. Due to the yearly body change at the Lansing Oldsmobile Corp. enough cars were not available to transport the displays.

The parade will begin at 9 a.m. at the corner of Kalamazoo and Capitol and march four-and-a-half miles to the university.

Special invitations have been mailed to such television stars as George Gobel, Art Linkletter, Arlene Francis, Steve Allen, Arthur Godfrey, Don McNeill, Dave Garroway and Ed Sullivan. NBC's "Monitor" has been asked to cover the parade. WKAR radio also plans to broadcast the parade.

Leading the parade will be a 1945 graduate of MSU, Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies. Milton M. Marble, eldest alumni of the university, will be the honorary parade marshal.

Luncheon Planned After 4-Mile Centennial Parade

A luncheon in 21 Union will await participants in the Centennial Parade, Oct. 22, at the end of their four-and-a-half mile march from Lansing to the university.

Beginning at 11:45 a.m., the luncheon will honor 120 guests who contributed to the parade. Invitations have been extended to representatives from the parade units, the faculty Centennial Committee, the student Centennial Commission, the parade committee and members from the administration.

A Centennial parade scrapbook will be presented to President and Mrs. John A. Hannah by the student Centennial Commission. Measuring 18 by 20 inches, the black Plexiglass cover will be inscribed in gold lettering, "Centennial, Parade, MSU, 1955." The inside pages will feature the story of the parade's organization.

Same Name Stymies Smiths

By BONNIE MCDUGAL

Student numbers may seem rather impersonal and bothersome, but they avoid much confusion and writer's cramp.

According to Kermit H. Smith, assistant registrar, students had a maze of perforated cards to fill out back in 1938 when 3,400 students formed lines from Beaumont Tower to the Union Ballroom for registration.

At one time 17 cards, similar to train tickets, had to be filled out with full class cards. Each card had to be checked, sorted and mailed out by the department before the first day's classes convened.

Registration was even more of a burden then, since each

Marble was 100 years old Sept. 1. A parade of beauty in convertibles will include Miss Big Ten, 1954, Jan Somers, Elmhurst, Ill.; senior; Miss Big Ten, 1955, Carol Goulet, University of Wisconsin; junior; Miss Michigan State University 1955, Judy Bradley, Pontiac junior; and Miss Michigan 1955, Margaret Devereaux, from Howell.

Providing synopses for marching will be MSU's marching band, and high school bands of Lansing, East Lansing, Eastern, Lansing Everett and East Lansing.

Equestrian units and antique automobiles will add "something old" to MSU's "March of Memories." The Jackson Zouaves, a 50-man novelty unit, will also join the salute to MSU's Centennial.

David Krupka, Traverse City senior, will take photographs of the parade units for the November issue of the alumni magazine. Living units may also order float shots from Krupka.

DAR Protests Block S Takes 'Measures' to Enlarge Flag

Without the approval of Congress, or anybody else, Block S added six stars to the American flag in their flashcard show Saturday.

As a result, 15 or 20 telegrams came from the television audience to the press box, complaining about or remarking on the oversight.

One telegram was from the head of the committee on the proper use of the American flag for the Daughters of the American Revolution. "How come there are 54 stars?" she wanted to know.

Block S officials said they do not try to present an exact replica of the flag, but only try for a reasonable facsimile.

Ike Hears Report On Flood

Hagerty Sets Up Work Schedule

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, no longer bedridden, sat in a chair in the hospital Sunday and received reports on flood damage in the Northeast.

Eisenhower's assistant, Sherman Adams, filled the President in on the flood situation. The Denver White House decided that a declaration of emergency issued last August when hurricanes and floods struck the area probably still applies.

But the staff in Washington is checking that and will give a full report Monday.

Later on, through a telegram dispatched by Adams, Eisenhower assured the governor of Connecticut that the federal government will take any necessary action "fully to insure relief" for the flooded areas under the federal disaster relief law.

In addition, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty marked the start of an accelerated presidential work schedule at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, by announcing a schedule of official visitors for this week:

Monday, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Wednesday, Secretary of State Dulles, returning for his second call on Eisenhower, in advance of a Washington conference Thursday with congressional leaders of both parties and his departure Saturday for the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva.

Friday, Atty. Gen. Brownell, coming in to discuss Justice Department matters. Hagerty said that Dillon Anderson, the chief executive's special assistant on the National Security Council, will accompany Dulles to Denver and consult with Eisenhower at the latter's convenience.

And on Saturday, Dr. Paul Dudley White, the eminent Boston heart specialist, will return for his third examination of the 65-year-old President, now in his fourth week of recovery.

Dressed in yellow pajamas and a blue bow tie with red polka dots, the chief executive was lifted onto an easy chair in his room and sat up for 30 minutes—twice as long as Saturday when he got into a chair for the first time.

Medical bulletins Sunday repeated the refrain that the chief executive's condition "continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

Gerry Planutis wraps up the win with a 3rd period TD.

High of 56 More Showers Expected Today

Cloudy and cool weather with occasional light rain is predicted for today. High temperatures of 52-56 are expected to follow last night's low of 42-46.

Capacity Crowd Expected for Mantovani Tonight

A capacity crowd of Mantovani enthusiasts will listen to a varied program tonight when the British conductor and his orchestra appear on the Auditorium stage at 8:15.

The expected crowd of 5,500 which, within two hours after they went on sale Wednesday, will hear pieces as modern as "Sky-scraper Fantasy" by Phillips contrasted with such traditional numbers as the old English air "Greensleeves."

The program includes both popular favorites and classical selections. Richard Rodgers' "Some Enchanted Evening" and Offenbach's "Orpheus in the Underworld" will be transcribed in Mantovani's "New Music."

Serious compositions, such as Verdi's aria "Celeste Aida" and "Largo" by Handel, will be balanced by Stephen Foster's "Beautiful Dreamer" and other lighter music.

Both Fairchild Theater and the Auditorium will be used for the concert. Extra seats will be added to the Auditorium to help accommodate the overflow crowd.

Students must show their ID cards in addition to their tickets.

Directories Ready

Student directories will go on sale this morning in the Union Bookstore. The price is 60c.

'Help Carry the Ball For Campus Chest'

"Help Carry the Ball for Campus Chest" will push the university's charity organization into sight Nov. 7 through 11.

Working for a one hundred percent quota of $1 per student, Campus Chest will use a football theme for solicitations week this year.

Each contributor will receive a football-shaped tag, reading "I carried the ball for Campus Chest." Tag wearers will not be approached again for donations.

Representatives in living units will be responsible for the Campus Chest canisters. Posters will begin advertising the campaign Nov. 2.

During the solicitations week an indicator in the Union will measure the total contributions each day. Converse to last year's arrangement, living unit quotas will not be revealed.

Disclaiming the strict competitive basis, Carol Rouse, Dearborn senior and solicitations chairman said, "Once the students learn the worthwhile purposes of the contributions, competition should be unnecessary."

Solicitations week will be the only time students will be approached individually to fill the one dollar per person quota.

A new program in married housing will be directed by Jim Lewis, East Lansing senior. Solicitators, representing Spartan Nursery mothers, will visit apartments in Spartan Village and University Village.

Apartment occupants who donate will receive the Campus Chest tag to be displayed in their windows. This is to prevent second solicitations to the same apartment.

Proceeds from the week-long campaign will be apportioned to World University Service, 28 per cent; Lansing Community Chest, 17 per cent; Spartan Nursery, 15 per cent; National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, 20 per cent; and the American Cancer Society, seven per cent.

Additional allocations will be distributed to the Ingham County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, five per cent; Muscular Dystrophy Assn., five per cent; and Olympic Fund, three per cent.

3 War Films Set For Wednesday

Three films will be shown Wednesday in the Music Auditorium at 3:30 p.m.

The films, "The Rise of Adolf Hitler," "D-Day," showing the preparation for the landings on the shores of northwestern France; and "The Liberation of Paris," will be presented by the Audio-Visual Center.

Scores TD, Rambles for 91 Yards

Win Snaps Irish 11-Game Streak

By JACK BERRY

State News Sports Editor

Gerry Planutis, the smallest man on Michigan State's starting eleven at 174 pounds, proved to be the biggest man on the field Saturday as he sparked the Spartans to their victory of the year, 21-7, over Notre Dame before a crowd of 62,007 in Macklin Field and a television audience numbering nearly 50 million.

The senior fullback scored one touchdown and kicked three extra points as well as rolling up 91 yards in 20 carries.

In State's second touchdown drive Planutis made three first downs and had runs of 20, 11 and 6 yards. He capped the drive with one-yard plunge for the score.

Planutis also had a big hand in State's last touchdown as he recovered Don Schaefer's fumble on the Notre Dame 16 after Emory Robinson jarred Schaefer from the ball.

On defense the West Hazelton, Pa., veteran was everywhere, always encouraging the squad and in on many of the tackles.

Planutis' performance Saturday should give impetus to national recognition for the most underrated player in the Big 10.

Walt Kowalczyk, Earl Morrill and Clarence Peaks gave the Spartans balance that could not be beaten. Morrill continued his fine passing, completing five of nine for 101 yards—all of them in the first half. He also scored his second collegiate touchdown, the first being against Stanford.

Peaks smashed over right tackle after the opening of the second quarter for State's first touchdown. The drive covered 52 yards in 10 plays.

Kowalczyk, playing in his fourth college game, turned in his best performance. The sophomore halfback tied Planutis for the most yards gained with 91 but he did it in only 10 rushes.

Twice Kowalczyk had runs called back because of penalties. The first time, in the second quarter, the hard-driving halfback smashed from State's 40 to the Irish 49 but an illegal use of the hands penalty brought the ball back.

Madame Koo To Give Talk

Madame Wellington Koo, wife of Nationalist China's Ambassador to the U.S., will speak on "National China's Future Role in International Affairs," at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Auditorium. Madame Koo is the official Chinese hostess in Washington. After eight years at the Chinese Embassy there, she says of the United States: "Perhaps the most amazing thing about your country is the method of mass production."

She also finds America's "wonderful nation" because "everyone has a chance to make something of himself."

Originally from Amoy, China, Madame Koo speaks fluent English, French and Dutch. Madame Koo's talk will be the first of six lectures on the Lecture-Concert series. Students will be admitted by their ID cards.

Team Depend on Sophomores

Hockey Team Faces Rebuilding

By JUNE TURNER

Michigan State hockey coach Arno Bosson starts a building job to combine experience with promising new talent when Spartan hockey players take the ice today for their first practice session.

"We hope to better last year's record as we have every year," Bosson said. "We have lots of sophomores but nothing can take the place of experience."

Due to the loss of seven key first stringers, Bosson is looking to sophomores to bolster both offense and defense.

The squad will be especially short-handed offensively. Gone are such scoring aces as Weldie Olson, three-time scoring champ who hit the nets 31 times to tie his own record, and Jim Ward who set a new record at wing last season with 43 tallies.

Other Spartan forwards who are lost include John Gipp, Gordie King, Jack Mayes and Steve Rax.

Returning lettermen Bert Fosselman, Gene Granis, Earl Jackson, and Stan Dubois, will be joined by a hustling group of sophomores for attacking lines with Ross Parks and Dutch Miller likely to carry much of the weight.

Returning to master the back-line, are co-captains Eddie (the Mouse) Schiller and John (Bud) Polomsky. Other experienced players who will see action are Ned Werner and Ron Sveden. Although the defensive outlook is bright, the team will feel the loss of defensive stalwarts Eno Campanini and Derio Nicoli.

Promising sophomores who should bolster defense are Art Barker, Gordie Lassila, and reserve goalie Aldo Altobelli.

Rounding out the Spartan roster are John Zimmerman, Tom Balal, and Ken James.

George Makris, former Michigan State boxing coach, developed six individual NCAA champs who claimed 10 titles, and two national championship teams in his eight-season tenure.

Michigan State cheerleaders drive onto field before the game bearing the new "Spartan."

Morrill passed to Gary Lowe and the Spartans made up the penalty as Lowe got to the mid-field marker before being pulled down. Once again Kowalczyk got the ball and he blazed to the ND 36. One of the Spartan players was coming up to help block but he was tripped up and fell onto Kowalczyk's back.

The victory over the previously unbeaten, untied and unscored on Irish is sure to give State a big boost in the national rankings.

Notre Dame must be held in respect. The Irish never once let up, even when they were two touchdowns down and time running out.

State leading 14-7, quarterback Paul Hornung did what most people would call sure suicide but in the tradition of Notre Dame signal-callers he took the chance.

The ball was on the Irish nine with third down and 12 to go. Hornung took the long gamble on getting the Irish back in the game and threw a pass to end Gene Kapish. However, Embry Robinson intercepted the aerial on the 18 and returned it to the Irish 14.

In the way of statistics the game was closer than the score indicated. Notre Dame had 22 first downs to 17 for MSU. State led in ground gaining with 266 yards and the Irish had 249.

In the air Notre Dame had 125 yards to Morrill's 101 with Hornung completing 11 of 21.

Penalties were almost even, State being assessed 50 yards, all in the first half and Notre Dame 45 yards.

Perhaps the most important statistic is found deep on the list—fumbles. State lost the ball two out of four times. Notre Dame fumbled three times. The Irish lost the ball all three times.

In their first three games the South Benders recovered seven of nine opposition fumbles. They intercepted six of 63 passes.

Prior to the game the Spartans were confident of victory although they were anywhere from one-point to two touchdown underdogs.

In 1951 State proved they had come of powerful gridiron stature when they trounced Notre Dame 35-0 before a national TV audience. There was a lapse last year and many doubts this year.

Michigan State proved Saturday they still have that stature. The difference this time was that it was in color.

Coin Toss Beginning Of ND End

By GENE RITZINGER

An omen of impending events Saturday was the coin flipped to decide who'll take the opening kickoff. Notre Dame's Capt. Ray Lemek guessed wrong for the first time this year. Spartan Capt. Buck Nystrom kept his average at 1,000—four for four.

The opposing dressing rooms were a study in contrasts after the game. The Spartans, to make one of the understatement of the year, were noisy, lively and just plain happy.

Coach Duffy Daugherty, sweating in the steam which pervaded the place, was kept busy shaking hands and accepting congratulations of well-wishers.

Fifty feet away, Coach Terry Brennan set the tenor of the Irish dressing room. Hands in pockets, one foot on a bench, he was quiet and subdued, like his team. He talked in a low tone, but nobody had any difficulty hearing him.

Brennan and Frank Leahy, his predecessor and mentor, both offered congratulations after the game.

Last year, after Notre Dame's victory over MSU, Daugherty presented Brennan with an Irish shillelagh as a symbol of victory. This year, with the shoe on the other foot, Brennan gave it back.

Daugherty said Notre Dame "was just as gracious in defeat as in victory," and added "our relations with them have always been good." He got supporting evidence for this claim as he left the dressing room to go home. Notre Dame seniors, wearing green hats, lined the passageway and gave him three cheers. One found some small consolation in yelling, "Well, at least you're Irish, Duffy."

Samplings of what sports writers now think of the Spartans: "Michigan State's dazzling Spartans are once again roaring to the top of the nation's football ranks." (Detroit Times)

"A gridiron giant was reborn here Saturday." (Detroit Free Press)

"Michigan State could turn out to be the strongest team in the Big 10 before the season ends..." (Associated Press)

"In topping the Fighting Irish and their 11-game winning streak, State established itself among the good teams of the best in recent gridiron history." (Lansing State Journal)

Daugherty said after the game that the Irish "play to win and never give up." He was right. Doubters should see Clarence Peaks, John Matsko, or Jim Wulff.

Peaks had 11 stitches taken in a mouth cut, suffered a twisted ankle and a bruised thigh.

Matsko and Wulff had leg injuries.

According to team physician, Dr. James Feurig, Peaks and Matsko should be able to play against Illinois Saturday. Wulff is a doubtful starter.

And just for those who believe in signs and omens, here's another. MSU's flag, a white "S" on a green background, flew upside down beneath the U.S. flag throughout the game. Signifying upset?

Brennan couldn't single out any Spartan as being particularly hurtful to his club. "It was pretty much a team victory," he said. "They played well as a unit."

San Francisco Whips Detroit

Desperation Play Sends Lions to 4th Straight Loss

DETROIT (AP)—A spectacular fourth-down pitch by quarterback Y. A. Tittle, who first fumbled the ball, then tossed it to fullback Joe Perry, climaxed a 27-24 victory over the Detroit Lions Sunday.

Perry, who earlier had fumbled three times, took Tittle's underhanded toss and scored from five yards out with only one minute and 50 seconds remaining.

It dealt the Lions a crushing fourth straight loss and virtually eliminated them from the western division race of the National Football League.

It was a magnificent comeback victory for the 49ers, who had frittered away numerous chances earlier in the game and entered the final quarter on the short end of a 24-6 score.

Dickey Moegle, a brilliant rookie halfback from Rice, sent the 49ers winging in the fourth quarter with a 10-yard end sweep to score after only 14 seconds of play.

Then Rex Berry, a veteran defensive halfback, fired the 49ers to fever pitch by intercepting a Harry Gilmer pass and racing 44 yards to score. That made it 24-20 with 13 minutes left.

Tittle engineered a 60-yard drive for the winning touchdown after the 49ers had once driven to the 24, only to be stopped.

Giants Blank Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Agajanian booted a first-period field goal and Frank Gifford scored a third-period touchdown as the New York Giants splashed to a 10-0 victory over the Chicago Cardinals before 7,000 water-soaked spectators who braved a steady downpour to watch the Giants celebrate their homecoming.

It was the first victory of the National Football League season for the Giants, who had dropped three successive games on the road. The announced paid attendance actually was 17,246 but less than half defied the almost impossible elements.

The soggy, slushy polo grounds was unfit for punting, much less people, as the mud-spattered athletes of both teams slogged, slid, slipped and slithered all over the lake-filled park with little success. As a result, 10 fumbles were committed as the Cardinals gained the dubious distinction of suffering the first shutout in professional football this year.

Field Goal Beats LA

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Fred Cone's 26-yard field goal with 24 seconds to go Sunday propelled Green Bay to a dramatic 30-28 victory over the Los Angeles Rams and catapulted the Packers into a three-way tie for first place in the National Football League's western division.

The Packers, Rams and Baltimore Colts, who dropped a 38-10 decision to the Chicago Bears, share the division's top perch with identical 3-1 records.

Cone's boot, his third field goal of the game, turned what looked like a sure Ram triumph into a Packer win.

Three minutes before, Jim Cason—a great ball hawk for the Rams all day—intercepted a Tobin Rote pass in the flat and raced 25 yards for a touchdown that put the Rams ahead 28-27.

That interception — Cason's third of a game played in a chill, damp rain—brought moans from a crowd of 26,960 at County Stadium, but the Packers pounded right back on the next kickoff.

Charlie Stickels asks:

Does Du Pont hire graduates who are draft eligible?

JOHN OLIVER, also a University of Michigan man, received his B.S. in Mech. Eng. in 1938. Right after graduation, he began working for Du Pont in the Engineering Section of its Belle, W. Va., plant. Following this came an assignment as Departmental Engineer in the Wilmington office, and today John Oliver is again at Belle—this time as Assistant Plant Manager.

SEEKING TALENT FOR BETTER LIVING... THROUGH CHEMISTRY

John Oliver answers:

The answer to that is definitely "Yes!" Charlie. We've employed quite a number of college graduates with definite military commitments, sometimes knowing that they could work only a few weeks before reporting for active duty.

The reason is that Du Pont is primarily interested in men on a "long range" basis. The fact that they're temporarily unavailable—for a good reason like military service—isn't any bar to being considered for employment. After working only one day, an employee is guaranteed full re-employment rights—that's the law. But if a man works for Du Pont at least a full year before joining the service, he gets a bonus of two months' salary. If he's entitled to a vacation but doesn't have time to take it before leaving, Du Pont gives him equivalent pay instead.

Even if present employment is impossible, Charlie, we definitely recommend your talking with Du Pont's representatives—and those of other companies, too. The very least you'll gain will be valuable background and some contacts which may be of real benefit to you when you leave military service.

Water Follies Opens Wednesday In Civic Center

"The Water Follies of 1855," the world's only traveling aquacade, will move into the Lansing Civic Center Wednesday for a four-day stand.

Performances will be given Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings beginning at 8:30, with matinee performance set for Friday and Saturday at 2:30.

The show starts with a line of dancing girls on the stage, then jumps to a diving tank for comedy diving, switches to a pool for a water ballet and then returns to the stage.

The "stage" show includes Martha Ann Bentley, foremost stage ballerina and Gloria French, singing star of many Broadway musicals, in addition to many others. Tickets for the show are priced at $2.75, $2 and $1.10 and may be purchased at the Paramount News Shop or at the Civic Center.

Solo Highlights Performance

Irish Glee Club Given Praise

By JOE HOFFMAN
State News Night Editor

Saturday night's performance of the Notre Dame Glee Club in the Kellogg Ballroom gave a clear indication of why the Irish are recognized as one of the outstanding singing groups in the country.

Under the masterful directorship of Dr. Daniel Pettko, the Glee Club presented an interesting and varied program of classical, religious and popular songs.

After opening with Rach-Gounod's "Ave Maria," the group gave a beautiful interpretation of the "Creation," retelling the story of God's creation of the earth.

The highlight of the two-hour concert was a solo by baritone Rudolph Pruden. His rendition of Youmans' "Through the Years" was magnificent.

The Glee Club showed its versatility by singing the "Czechoslovakian Folk Dance." The mighty "Soldier's Chorus" from "Damnation of Faust" closed ed out the first part of the program.

A piano solo of "Scherzo" by Edward Noylon and "Danny Boy," sung beautifully by tenor Rober Ogburn, opened the second half of the performance.

"A Jerome Kern medley, featuring 'Old Man River,'

"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "All the Things You Are" spotlighted the second part of the program.

The Glee Club paid tribute to Michigan State by singing "MSU Shadows" and closed with the traditional "Notre Dame Victory March."

Petitioning Closes At 5 P.M. Today

Petitioning for student government and Frosh-Soph Council vacancies will close at 5 p.m.

A lack of applicants for positions forced the elections committee to move the deadline from last Friday.

Petitions can be picked up and returned to the Student Government office.
