Quick Solution Is Forseen In Chicago Lads' Murder

Police Fill In Gaps In Boys' Last Hours

Manhunt Spurred On
By Fresh Information

CHICAGO (AP) — The possibility of a quick solution to the ghastly slaying of three young boys was foreseen Wednesday night by Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman.

Lohman said he had assigned 37 investigators to specific lines of inquiry and added:

"Their efforts should either produce a quick solution to this case or narrow our path of investigation a great deal."

The sheriff withheld details of the leads his men were checking. Various bits of fresh information spurred the widespread search for the savage killer or killers earlier in the day.

Police made progress, both in point of time and distance, in filling in the gap in the young victims' last hours.

A bus driver told of taking them Sunday night to a point about four miles from where their naked bodies were found Tuesday in Robinson woods west of the city.

The boys—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 12, and his brother, Anton, 11—had been traced earlier to two bowling alleys they had visited Sunday evening. They left the second alley about 8 p.m.

Bruno Mencarini, a Chicago Transit Authority driver, reported today that the trio boarded his bus at 8:55 p.m. Sunday.

"They were quiet—that's unusual for kids," Mencarini recalled. "They were talking about going bowling. They had been to one alley but it was filled up and they were looking for another."

The youths got on about four miles east of the wooded area where their bodies were found in a ditch.

The time of their death has been estimated around midnight Sunday, so that leaves about three hours and four miles of mystery.

When the boys left the bus they seemed to be headed for the Jefferson Park bowling alleys on Chicago's Northwest side.

John Menderes, one of the owners, said he didn't see the boys Sunday night, although he could have overlooked them in the crowd of customers.

Backtracking detectives inspected one of the bowling alleys the lads had stopped at earlier, the Monte-Cristo. They reported they found, in a basement, a

Insurance Plan Gets Vote of Confidence

Congress Hears Details On Student Group Policy

By BOB HOFFMAN

State News Night Editor

A plan for Michigan State students to operate under a group insurance plan was proposed to Congress at its Wednesday night meeting and received a vote of confidence.

William Mansfield (no relation to the student government president) spoke on behalf of the Equitable Life Insurance Company in giving full details of the proposed plan.

Under group insurance, any student at Michigan State could be insured for $4,000, paying an annual premium of $10. After graduation, a student would have 31 days to convert his student group policy into a regular life insurance policy if he so desired. The group rate would no longer apply, however.

Mansfield stated that no other college or university in the country has this plan, and for Michigan State to do so would be a "real feather in its cap."

The State of Michigan requires that in order for a plan to go into effect, 75 per cent of the students must approve it.

Mansfield went to the administration with the idea last spring term. At the time, he was told to see what the students thought about it. The administration suggested bringing it up to Congress as a way of getting a cross-section of opinion.

In continuing his explanation of the group insurance plan, Mansfield pointed out two main advantages:

1. A premium of $10 for a $4,000 life policy is by far the cheapest rate possible. Individual life policies cost a minimum of double this amount.

2. No medical examination is required. Anyone, regardless of any physical or mental handicap could get the insurance merely by signing his or her name.

After answering many questions about the plan, Congress gave Mansfield a vote of confidence to bring the matter again to the administration, this time telling it that a representation of the student body had been in favor of looking further into the program.

Mansfield's idea to carry out the program is this:

A circular, describing the entire group insurance plan, would be sent home with the fall term grades. Students and parents could then decide over Christmas vacation whether to enter the program.

If students wished the insurance, the $10 would be payable at registration. Then, if the required 75 per cent did not enter the program, the money would be refunded to those who had.

Further news of the plan will come at a later time, probably

Government Plans Train To Purdue

Ticket Distribution
To Begin Tuesday

Michigan State's red-hot football team will have a cheering section of its own when it travels to Purdue on Nov. 5.

Arrangements have been completed for a 400-passenger student special train trip to the game. Tickets for the excursion are priced at $12.50. The price includes a round trip train ticket and a seat at the game.

This year's trip is sponsored by the Spartan Spirit commission of student government.

Tickets for the trip will go on sale Tuesday at the Union ticket desk with 240 allotted for distribution that day and 240 more for Wednesday.

Distribution will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

The train is scheduled to leave the Mackinac Island siding at 8:30 Saturday morning, arriving in Lafayette at 11:30 a.m. (Lafayette time).

This will leave about two hours to get to the stadium, with game time slated for 1:30 p.m.

The train will depart immediately after the game and return to Lansing's Washington Street station at 11:30 p.m.

Refreshments will be served by Campus Chest with all profits going to the Chest funds. The menu will include sandwiches, coffee, pop, milk and doughnuts.

Entertainment will be provided by a band and an accordionist who will roam through the cars to aid group singing.

There will be four adult chaperones on the train as well as student hosts on each car. University rules will apply to the train and its occupants.

The tickets distributed Tuesday and Wednesday will have a pair of train coupons and a game ticket coupon.

The actual football tickets will be handed out on the train. Group seating can be arranged by collecting the game coupons and handing them in all at once on the train.

Last year 450 Spartans rode a similar excursion to see the Notre Dame-Michigan State game.

The most popular entertainment on that trip was a continuous bunny-hop.

Student Solicitors Sought for Drive

Spartans "can help carry the ball for Campus Chest" by signing a solicitor petition at the Union concourse desk.

Fifty hundred more solicitors are needed to hold canisters for the on-campus drive Nov. 8 and 9 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Solicitations week will be Nov. 7 through 11.

Students should place their petitions for soliciting in the Campus Chest at the Union Desk. They will be notified by postcard where they will hold the canisters.

Right of Way Underway

Workmen continue construction of new sidewalks to aid pedestrian traffic at the west entrance of the Union building. Repairs and additions are being made to the street islands on Abbott as well as the entrance sections.

Talented Tom Unique Cat Sought for Term Play

"Here, kitty, kitty"

That's the cry of the MSU drama department, as calls are going out to all points in search of a cat.

Not an ordinary cat, mind you. This cat has to be black, must be large and must be a male.

Why all the fuss about a cat? Very simple. The term play coming up in two weeks has for its leading and most important member, a cat. The cat's name is Pyewacket.

Pyewacket is on stage through most of the production of Bell, Book and Candle. Pyewacket will get no billing, but, according to Dr. Roger Busfield, director of the play, "without Pyewacket, the plot would be meaningless."

Therefore, students of Michigan State are asked to scour the land for an ideal Pyewacket or at least a reasonable facsimile.

Anyone spotting a cat fitting Pyewacket's description should bring it over to Busfield in 40 Aud for an audition.

Cats will be tested on the basis of good looks, dramatic ability, a sense of delicacy and vocal capacity.

This latter qualification is most important, since Pyewacket must new several times throughout the evening.

Busfield will give two tickets to the person bringing in the winning cat. He also promises a mouse or two during the breaks in rehearsal.

So keep your eyes and ears open and let's see if someone can come up with a cat who can act to purr-fection.

Publicity Clinic Deadline Nears

Registrations for the campus publicity clinic, to be held Nov. 2, must be mailed to Theta Sigma Phi, journalism department, by Friday. No registrations will be accepted the night of the clinic.

The meeting, open to student clubs and living units, will feature speakers from the Lansing area publicity media. A detailed booklet of publicity material will be distributed at the meeting.

A few registration blanks are still available in the State News office. The application must include $1 registration fee, the name of the organization, and its publicity representative.

MacArthur Favored Red War Entry

Documents Report
1945 Viewpoint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon made public Wednesday long-secret documents reporting that Gen. Douglas MacArthur favored Russia's entry into the war with Japan as late as June, 1945 — less than three months before the war ended.

MacArthur has said he was "most emphatically" against bringing the Soviet Union into the conflict at the time of the Yalta conference.

Final instructions for Saturday's Centennial Parade will be given at a meeting for all living unit chairmen tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Room 33 of the Union.

The newly released documents, part of a Defense Department study of Russia's 11th hour entry into the war, contain nothing either to confirm or refute the former Far Eastern commander's statement last March that his views were not solicited for the Yalta conference.

The Pentagon account says MacArthur was told of the Yalta decisions by a War Department representative. And it quotes MacArthur as telling two official visitors shortly after Yalta:

1. The United States must make every effort to get Russia into the war before launching an attack on the Japanese mainland.

2. He felt it was inevitable that Russia would take over all of Manchuria, Korea and possibly part of North China, but believed Russia should "pay her way" by invading Japanese-held Manchuria as soon as possible after the defeat of Germany.

Temperature 60-65

Weatherman Says Fair and Warmer

The weather today is to be mostly fair and a little warmer, following last night's freezing temperatures and scattered frosts. The temperature is expected to reach a high of 60 to 65 degrees, with moderate winds from the southwest.

Drive Moves Better 11 Pints Donated Wednesday

By BOB STEPHENSON

A total of 11 pints of blood donated by Red Cross workers at the APO, all-day blood drive.

The three-day drive brought in 40 pints. At the end of the last year's drive, 124 pints had been donated.

Donated blood in the ping-pong room of the Union at the 10 p.m. per hour Wednesday compared to 15 the day and 17 Tuesday.

Donor drive chairman, said the drive was still slow but if it could be picked up at the end it would be "successful."

It is no longer a matter of day fall term records. It has become a matter of the blood needed by the hospital, he said. Last fall the drive total was 1,247 pints.

Harold Brown, head of the Red Cross, said the good donors continued to outnumber the males. She estimated that the ratio was 3 to 1. "A lot of the nurses are single and they are well aware of the absence of men," she said.

The drive is slated to continue today and Friday. Hours for donations are 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. No appointments are needed and prospective donors can go right up to the fourth floor of the Union, Grau said.

Nurse Janet Collins said the 15 or 16 nurses on duty throughout the day are capable of receiving blood from 24 donors every 15 minutes. The way the drive has been going the nurses have not had enough to keep them busy, she added.

Many of the donors Wednesday were first timers. Laurie Brown, Youngstown, O., junior, looked as healthy after her first time on the donation table as she did before.

"I feel no ill effects at all," she said. "The reason I decided to donate was because my father needed blood one time and other people gave it to him. I wanted to give mine for someone."

Les Cherow, Detroit freshman, a veteran of one previous donation, said he has set a goal for his blood giving. "I want to eventually be able to say I've given a gallon."

Student Congress Names Members To Big 10 Board

The Big 10 Student Government Association Administrative Board met for the first time last week and outlined the fall program.

Roger Augustine, Batavia, N. Y., junior and executive director of the association, announced the members of the board as Mary Cherrin, Detroit senior, associate director; Tom Gregory, Detroit junior, research service director; and Suzanne Leitchman, Toledo, Ohio, sophomore, publications director.

Other board members are Rex Dawson, Toledo, Ohio, junior, treasurer, and Shirley Reeder, Washington, D. C., junior, executive secretary.

Students have always had problems of some sort. Now they can share the more serious ones at the first full-time psychiatric clinic ever established at MSU.

In 1948, MSU inaugurated a program of psychiatric consultation at the Olin Health Center to help students in their adjustment to college life.

The program at that time was on a once-a-week basis with plans for a full-time psychiatrist in the future. That time arrived in July, and with Dr. Byron L. Casey in charge, this department of the Health Center is now prepared to handle any and all cases of students with emotional problems.

Mrs. Margaret Sneed, a Red Cross nurse, said the most dreaded stage in the donation procedure for most students was the finger pricking for a blood sample.

Most persons think the sample is used to classify the blood into various types and they volunteer their blood types orally in order to avoid the test, she said.

"They sound like broken records. Actually the test is to find out if the person has enough iron in his blood to enable them to donate."

Craig Uncertain On Lifting of Martial Law

NEW CASTLE (AP) — Gov. George N. Craig came home to Indianapolis from Chicago Wednesday night and said he could not say when martial law will be lifted finally in the Perfect Circle Corp. strike zones.

Craig has promised to end martial law if National Guard officials agree. He scheduled a conference for Thursday morning and said, "We want to canvass the whole situation, we'll not act precipitously."

Fresh Guard units from Frankfort and Attica are scheduled to take over here and at Hagestown Thursday to relieve units from Anderson, Alexandria and Indianapolis, which have been on duty a week.

The shift will reduce the number of Guardsmen on duty from 600 to about 300. Craig's decision on whether to lift martial law will be based on a report from Guard officers.

Phi Mu Alpha to Hold Open Smoker Tonight

Phi Mu Alpha, national men's professional music fraternity, will hold an open smoker tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. in 35 Union.

The honorary is open to students of sophomore standing or above, who have a 2.5 all-university average. A major in music is not necessary.

His staff now consists of three members, and another is expected to be added.

"There is a real need for psychiatric treatment in every community," said Casey.

"Lansing has its adult clinic and its children's clinic. Students are human, and also need someone to discuss their problems with when the burden gets too heavy to carry alone."

The University of Michigan has had a mental hygiene program for more than 50 years, and Casey reported that about 10 per cent of the entire student body at that school seeks and receives psychiatric aid each year.

IRISH PERFORMANCE NETS PLANUTIS AP HONOR

Along the Sports Trail This Guy Got Faked Out

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—We didn't believe the Spartans could do it. Not meaning we didn't believe they could beat Notre Dame, as in this day and age any good team is liable to beat any other good team on a given day. The results of pro games illustrate that. We just didn't believe that under the limited substitution rule it would be possible for Michigan State to use the amazing multiple-offense style they used so effectively under the two-platoon system and Biggie Munn without the players tying themselves into knots and cracking their heads together on mixed-up assignments.

Such a complex offense requires prolonged practice, and quarterbacks with the memory of an elephant, and when coaching staffs have to split their time between teaching offense and defense it would seem that an A-B-C offense would be about all the boys could handle.

Yet here were the Spartans using everything but a rock formation against the Irish, and there was a little of that on defense.

And using them with a smoothness and adroitness that might be expected if an offensive unit had been concentrating on them hour after hour, with no thought of defense.

Unless our TV set was fibbing we saw segments of the straight T, the split T, the winged T, the single wing, the double wing, the short punt, the long punt, and possibly a few impromptu formations.

They played a "who's got the ball" game to perfection, and if we were of a suspicious nature we'd swear they were using two balls out there.

A guy would take one into the line, as we could see the handoff, and then another guy would be galloping around end with the other one.

What really impressed us was the timing, and the dash with which the entire team would operate on every play. It was bing, bing, with speed seeming to substitute for brawn.

They worked so much as a unit that it just seemed to be a lot of guys named Gus out there, although there was one man who caught our eye, fellow named Clarence Peaks, a halfback who starts like he was being shot out of a cannon and just keeps going as far as he can at top speed, scrapping for every inch of ground.

WALT KOWALCZYK ... makes coach look good ...

Duffy Elated By Big Walt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coach Duffy Daugherty has the solid satisfaction this week of a man who can say "I told you so."

Daugherty is elated because of the fine performance turned in against Notre Dame by halfback Walt Kowalczyk.

Kowalczyk proved himself against the Irish, tying Jerry Planutis for rushing honors with 91 yards.

Daugherty pointed out that he also had two runs totalling 43 yards called back by penalties.

In early games, Kowalczyk hadn't quite hit his stride. But Daugherty predicted: "Wait until he gets a few long runs. Then he'll be a much better player and we'll look like a lot better coaches."

On the strength of his Notre Dame performance, Kowalczyk now is the third Spartan ground-gainer behind Planutis and Clarence Peaks.

Auburn End Seizes Top Line Award

Nystrom Praised But Phillips Wins

By The Associated Press
A sophomore seldom is named lineman of the week, but Jimmy Phillips of Auburn gained the honor Wednesday.

He topped the nominations in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Buck Nystrom, MSU guard, was praised for his part in helping the Spartans upset Notre Dame.

Phillips, an end, won the award for his stellar performance in helping Auburn upset Georgia Tech 14-12 last Saturday.

Behind 12-7, Auburn drove 80 yards for its winning touchdown in the last period with Phillips catching passes good for gains of 7, 12 and 20 yards despite the frantic efforts of Tech defenders.

The last catch put the pigskin on the Tech 5 and set up the winning TD.

Jerry Elliott, Auburn's other end, likewise turned in a fine job as did end Ronnie Beagle for Navy against Penn State. Beagle was George Welsh's best receiver as the middies crushed the Nittany Lions.

Center Jimmy Jones of North Carolina who scored his team's only touchdown against Maryland also won praise.

Other linemen nominated included: Marv Merritt, Cincinnati guard and Cal Jones, Iowa tackle.

MSU's Gerry Planutis, shown smashing through for the Spartans' second score against Notre Dame Saturday, is first State player to get "Back of the Week" honors in many a month.

MSU Allows Fewest Yards Badgers, Wolves Lead Big 10 In Offense, Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin and Michigan, undefeated in their two conference starts, are also the Big Ten football statistical leaders in the two main departments.

Official league figures Wednesday credited the well-balanced Badgers with the best offense and the opportunistic Wolverines with the top defense.

Actually, surprising Illinois has outgained Wisconsin on a total yardage basis with a 363 per game average against 357.5 for the Badgers. However, Wisconsin has outscored Illinois, 25 points per game to 16.5 and has a first-down margin of 20 to 19.

On defense, Michigan is pressed by Wisconsin State which has allowed fewer yards than the Wolverines, 170 to 194. But the Spartans have yielded 13.5 points in two games compared with Michigan's tight surrender of only 4.5.

Michigan has given only 2.91 yards per play, but Michigan State has the best defense against running, an average of 2.17 per rush.

Wisconsin's well-blended attack is emphasized by its 177.5 yard rushing average and 180-yard passing mark. The Badgers also lead in average gain per play, 5.76.

Illinois has set the pace in ball control, working the ball an average of 69.5 times per game while giving opponents only 51.5.

Purdue with Len Dawson the trigger-man is the Big Ten's most pass-minded team averaging 25.7 tosses per game in three contests and completing 14.3. However, Wisconsin has gained more aerial yardage and leads in completions with 722.

Wins Award As Week's Best Back

Middies' Welsh Places Second

Hard driving Gerry Planutis is Wednesday's selected Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance Saturday against Notre Dame.

Navy's George Welsh, who completed 15 of 20 passes for 285 yards, placed second to Planutis.

Planutis' selection was a weekly national honor. Spartan back in recent Team officials were unable to call the last such occurrence.

Planutis led Michigan to its 21-7 upset win previously unbeaten in a touchdown, three extra points, a fumble recovery and a limited well of drive.

He scored the winning drive on a one-yard center, after leading the down the field with his line bucking.

Last year he was the 20-19 loss to Notre when he missed two extra points—one with less than a minute to go in the game.

This year he made that game with a victory.

He picked up 91 yards—all of them right through the middle of the tough Notre defense.

When the Irish closed him, running mates Kowalczyk and Clarence Peaks around end.

His kicking was solid punched over all three points—splitting the difference with two of them.

On defense he named from his line backers spearing tackles, knocking down and recovering the fumble set up the final Spartan down.

Late in the game he also the ball loose from an Irisher to give the Spartans on a fumble deep in MSU territory.

When he was hurt in the second half the fans gave him a hand. When he sprang into action the fans gave him a cheer—gave him ovation.

Following the game his mates were the first to give him a contribution to awarded him the game.

In contrast to Planutis' eating attack, Welsh was the Middle Western State, 34-14.

the man in the Hathaway shirt

For the man who buys fine suits and refuses to spoil the effect by wearing a shirt of lesser quality, our shirts by Hathaway will please the most discriminating.

Our Hathaways make you look younger and more distinguished, because of the way Hathaway cuts collars—low-sloping and with shorter points. A more generous cut makes the whole shirt more comfortable. Buttons of mother-of-pearl—big and masculine. In a wide selection of colors and fabrics. . . . From $5.95

Philippines, Yugoslavia Tie in UN

Security Council
Seat Still Vacant

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Philippines, firmly backed by the United States, fought to a draw Wednesday with Communist Yugoslavia in the second round of voting for a U. N. Security Council seat.

Faced with a deadlock for the second time, the U. N. Assembly wrangled heatedly for two hours and then approved, 29-8, an American proposal to vote for seats on the Economic and Social Council and the Trusteeship Council. The date for the next balloting on the Security Council was not set.

This represented a victory for Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate. Yugoslavia long has been a candidate for the Economic Social Council. The Yugoslavs, supported by the British Commonwealth and the Soviet Union, formally announced their candidacy for the council Wednesday.

Lodge, who has made this contest a matter of prestige for the United States, and the Philippine delegate, Carlos P. Romulo, were jubilant at the Assembly decision to pass on to other voting the Yugoslav delegation, which actually would like to hold places on both councils, was glad.

The Philippines received 31 votes and Yugoslavia 27 on the 9th ballot, which was the third Security Council vote to be taken Wednesday. Six ballots were taken last Friday without decisions in this race.

The winner needed two-thirds of the votes cast, or 39 votes.

The British Commonwealth stood beside Yugoslavia in this contest, splitting with the United States. Britain feels that the seat involved in the contest, held by Turkey, is an Eastern European seat and that Yugoslavia should have it for that reason. The British contend Manila is too far from Eastern Europe to qualify for that place.

The Theta Chi Glee Club will be featured at the Senior Coffee Hour today from 3-5 in Old College Hall. At the Coffee Hour the senior table top will be presented by Dick Wood, senior class president and carving will begin.

wooden slat, seven feet long and two inches wide, bearing a stain that might have been made by blood.

They also found a rubber mat in the basement. The officers said the design was similar to the imprint discerned on the backs of two of the boys.

These articles were sent to the police department's crime laboratory, along with one glove, pieces of rope, a pair of brown trousers and other things found in the Robinson woods area.

Daniel Conway, chief of the forest preserve rangers, announced what was termed "the hottest clue so far."

E. J. Malone, who lives near the woods told Conway he saw two old automobiles of the hotrod type parked near the ditch where the bodies were thrown. Malone said he saw the cars about 7:25 a.m. Tuesday. That was five hours before the bodies were found.

A search for the autos—a green convertible and a cream-colored sedan—was begun immediately.

The victims were strangled and beaten. Investigators figure they were killed by teen-agers, a powerful madman, or at least two adults.

Other student Congress business included one resignation and one appointment.

Joe Rhea, Lansing sophomore, resigned from his position as head of student information services. He gave as his reason "the desire to formulate constructive criticism on present student governing bodies and regulations."

something he would have been unable to do while in office. Mary Jo Allen, Augusta, was appointed head of the student high school council bureau, replacing Rudy Vassar senior, who resigned week.

Barry Grant, Detroit, head of the Student Right Welfare Committee, resigned his committee is still handling the problem of tuition for the Lecture series, and will have a full at next week's meeting.
