Secretary of State and other leaders of the Western world assembled Sunday to button up the Geneva Conference. They arrived by special plane in mid-afternoon. First MSU Building

Plaque Marks Site Of Old College Hall

Homecoming celebrators paused briefly Saturday morning to witness the unveiling of a bronze marker.

Affixed to the west side of Beaumont Tower, the Spartan green plaque commemorates the first building in the United States erected to the teaching of scientific agriculture.

Following an invocation by the Rev. C. Brandt Tefft, pastor of People's Church, Dr. Lewis G. VanderVelde, president of the Michigan Historical Commission, made the presentation.

Citing the plaque as the first in a series of historical markers, Dr. VanderVelde said, "This famous site of Old College Hall began the outstanding record of leadership in education which has distinguished the century of MSU's history."

President John Hannah, accepting the marker on behalf of the university, stressed that "this dedication commemorates an event we have been celebrating all year."

The ceremony opened the first historic-marker program in Michigan. In answer to a committee appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams "to better utilize the state's historic resources," a proposal was submitted to the legislature.

According to the plan passed by the legislature last winter, the Michigan Historical Commission was designated to approve and dedicate the historic sites.

One Businessman's Meat Is Another's Poison

Homecoming Leaves Mixed Emotions

The huge crowd that hits the campus on Homecoming Day is a shot in the arm for many Lansing-area businesses. For others, it's a pain in the neck. Restauranters, hotel owners, bakers, and tailors say their business booms at this time. But owners of sporting-goods shops, furniture stores and gift shops look glumly at the heavy one-way traffic that speeds people past their empty stores. And while the big game is on, they might just as well play pinochle.

Most East Lansing businesses prosper with any activity of the university, said Henry J. Dietz, president of the East Lansing State Bank. The bank is the pole of business activity.

Fresh Leads Investigated in Triple Murder

CHICAGO (AP)—City and county authorities kept up an unrelenting search Sunday for a break in the week-old kidnap-strangling of three young boys.

While 200 traffic policemen gave up their day off to comb a forest preserve, where the three beaten and muddled nude bodies were found last Tuesday, a co-ordinating team of 35 crack detectives was being lined up to take over the investigation today.

And in precinct stations and at downtown headquarters, Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor said, "lead after lead, suspect after suspect" underwent intensive examination for clues to the brutal beating and strangling of 14-year-old Robert Peterson, his friend, John Schlusser, 13, and John's brother, 11-year-old Anton Jr.

Blood Drive Falls Far Below Goal

847 Pints Given
By End of Week

The final tally in the Alpha Phi Omega all-University blood drive was 847 pints when the doors closed Friday afternoon.

The drive fell below the 1,000 pint goal set by Jim Grau, drive chairman, by 353 pints.

Friday's total of 202 pints was the second highest of the five-day drive. A total of 211 pints were collected Wednesday to set the high mark of the drive.

Red Cross workers could not explain the lack of Spartan enthusiasm. "We expected it to be low, but not as low as it was," said Mrs. Harold Brown, head nurse.

Drive sponsors expected it to be far more successful than past blood drives because each living unit held registrations thereby eliminating the confusion and congestion in the Union concourse.

A table was set up in the concourse to register off-campus students. Only a few over 100 bothered to sign up.

The Red Cross mobile blood unit, which was set up in the ping pong room of the Union, was capable of handling 24 donors every 15 minutes. The 15 nurses were the most of the time during the drive because of a lack of blood donors.

The blood drive last fall term netted the Lansing Regional Blood Center 1,247 pints.

Latin Castanets to Click In Auditorium Tonight

A Spanish dance revue, containing a combination of Gypsy, Castilian and Spanish rhythms will be presented by the "Ballet Espanol" at 8:15 tonight in the Aud.

The program, which is being presented on series A of the Lecture-Concert series, will include ten numbers, all depicting typical Spanish characters and ranging from love ballads to folk songs and dances.

Featured in the Ballet is the husband and wife team, Teresa and Luisillo, who organized the revue and provide choreography and staging for the group.

Included in the troupe are Jose Romero and Anotoni Zori, two of Spain's foremost guitarists; and concert pianists Julian Hannell and Maria Andrea Ambrosio.

Israeli Raiders Attack Syrians

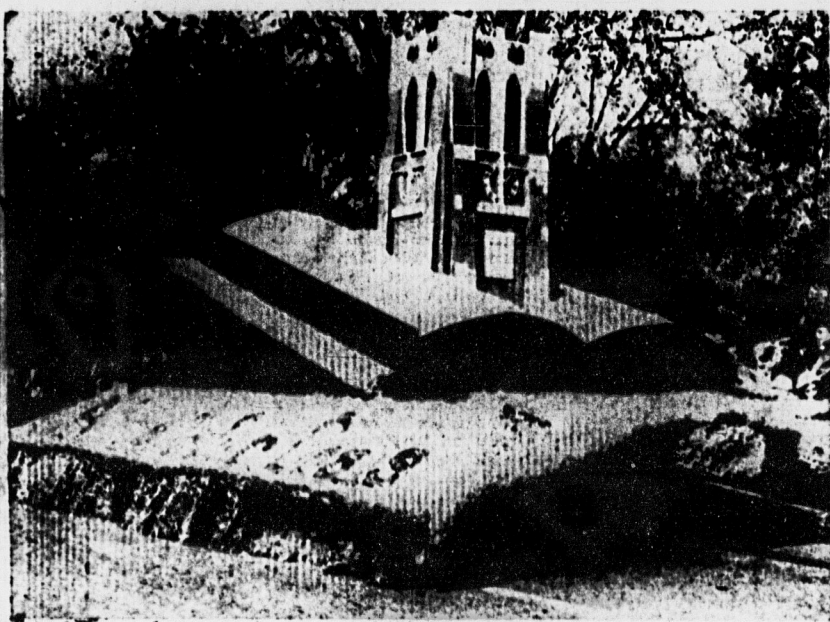

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Striking in retaliation for alleged border incidents, Israeli soldiers raided across the Syrian frontier Saturday night. Five Syrian defenders were captured, three killed and six wounded.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian chief of the U.N. supervisory organization, said investigation showed "at least two groups, 20 to 30 strong" of Israeli troops took part in what he called the "well planned operation across the Syrian border."

Robinson, of a chair rental service, said her company rented out nearly 1,000 chairs and 60 tables for fraternity and sorority house parties last year.

For the crowds of Homecoming visitors who flock to MSU, the railroads have to add extra cars and the bus companies extra busses.

Judges Favor Beaumont Tower

SAE's, Chi O's Build Top Float

A miniature reproduction of Beaumont Tower constructed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Chi Omega, captured first place at the Centennial float parade Saturday morning.

Other winners were: Second place, "It Is for Us the Living to Be Dedicated to the Unfinished Work" by Sigma Nu and Alpha Phi.

Third place, "Addition to Mechanical Engineering" by Butterfield and East and West London.

Fourth place, "College Goes to World War II" by Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Chi Omega.

An estimated 100,000 spectators lined Michigan Ave. from Lansing to East Lansing to watch 32 student-constructed floats illustrate MSU's first hundred years.

Projecting from an open book, Beaumont Tower was depicted in detail, even to the numerals on the clock.

The second place float designed an abstract background with a representation of an atom. A color scheme of black, white and gold were accented by three kneeling students, made up with gold paint.

Butterfield and East and West London symbolized engineering with two golden gears that continually interchanged. A coed dressed in 1880 style stood between engineering models of an anvil and a lathe.

A giant Michigan State newspaper heralded World War II on the float built by the Betas and the Alpha Chis. On the front of the display Sparty was represented giving his helmet to a coed and accepting a rifle from another coed.

Five professional judges selected the top four floats on a point system. The judging was based on the general art work, the ingenuity of design, and the ability to depict the theme.

Eight trophies were presented to representatives from the winning living units at the Homecoming Dance.

A special Homecoming queen's float was also built by the senior class and Kappa Alpha Mu, photography honorary.

MSU's band, high school bands, equestrian units and novelty groups were interspersed between the floats.

Following the parade a luncheon was presented for the parade participants. The guest notables included the "Jackson Zouaves," novelty drill team in the parade, Milton Marble, MSU's oldest alumni, and Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies pitcher and 1945 MSU graduate.

The luncheon's highlight was the presentation of a black plexiglass scrapbook to President John Hannah. When the book is completed it will include photographs of every parade unit.

Illini Backs Dig In To Halt Runaway

By JACK BERRY

Michigan State's splendid surprising Spartans overwhelmed Illinois Saturday, 21-7, with three lightning drives engineered by senior quarterback Earl Morrall.

Morrall, who has shown almost a 100 per cent improvement over last season, threw touchdown passes to sophomores Dave Kaiser and Bob Jewett. A 30-yard pass from Morrall to John "Big Thunder" Lewis set up the Spartans' first touchdown, also scored by a sophomore, Walt Kowalczyk.

Although noticeably hurt by the absence of leading ground-gainer Clarence Franks, MSU was in top form when they needed it.

State lost the toss of the coin for the first time this season and had to kick off to the Illini. Taking the opening kick on their 22, Illinois moved to the 39 but a five-yard offside penalty on a third down put them in a hole.

With nine yards to go Pat Burke nailed Abe Woodson after the speedy Illini halfback made only one yard and Illinois was forced to punt.

Kowalczyk returned Woodson's kick 10 yards from the State 35 to the 45 and the Spartans were on their way.

Gerry Planutis gained five yards and then Morrall, on a double hand-off, passed to Lewis who caught the ball on the 24 and went to the 20 before he was pulled down.

Kowalczyk, on State's third play from scrimmage, angled toward the left and with crisp blocks from Planutis, Lewis and Burke went into score his first collegiate touchdown.

100 Years Ends on Perfect Note

The finishing touches of Michigan State's 100th birthday were as satisfying as any final piece of birthday cake.

The end of the Centennial, a big parade and Homecoming were the ingredients of the Spartan cake and the 21-7 win over Illinois was the icing for the masterpiece.

The huge weekend program started Friday night with alumni meetings for the Homecoming crowd and a pep rally for the students.

The young and the old gathered for the homecoming. Baseball star Robin Roberts headlined the more recent graduates while 100-year-old Milton Marble headed the older delegation.

Roberts appeared at the Spartan Spirit pep rally, along with Miss Big 10—Carol Goulet of Minnesota.

Saturday morning nearly 100,000 people lined Michigan Ave. to see SAE and Chi Omega cop top honors in the Centennial Homecoming Parade—"March of Memories."

Next came the dedication of a State of Michigan Historical Marker at Beaumont Tower on the site of the "first building in the U. S. erected for the teaching of scientific agriculture."

Earl Morrill put the icing on the cake with a brilliant performance as the Spartans scalped the Illini, 21-7.

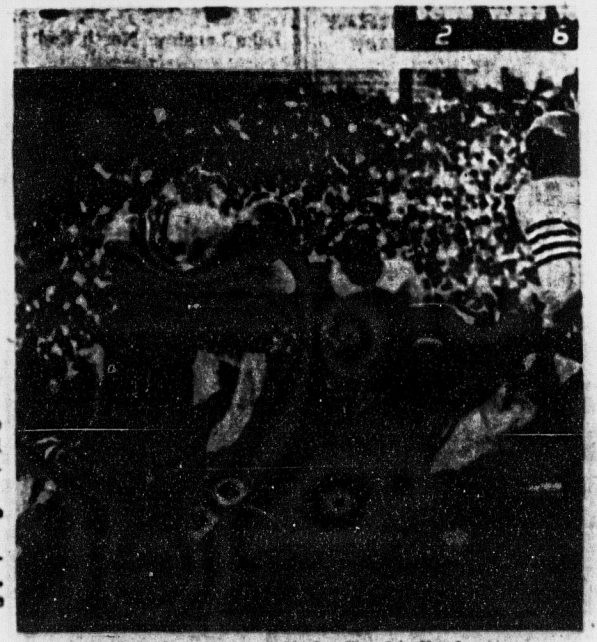

The Muskegon senior passed for 140 yards, including a pair of touchdown tosses, and ran for 30 yards.

Prior to the game the Varsity Club Room was dedicated at Macklin Stadium to provide a meeting place for past, present and future Varsity Club members.

Five of the top Michigan State grads, Ted Smits, Clyde Everts Weed, Arno Hallock Johnson, Joseph R. Gwinn and Ronald K. Evans, were honored at the Alumni Banquet Saturday evening.

The whole weekend was capped Saturday night by the Homecoming Dance at the Aud.

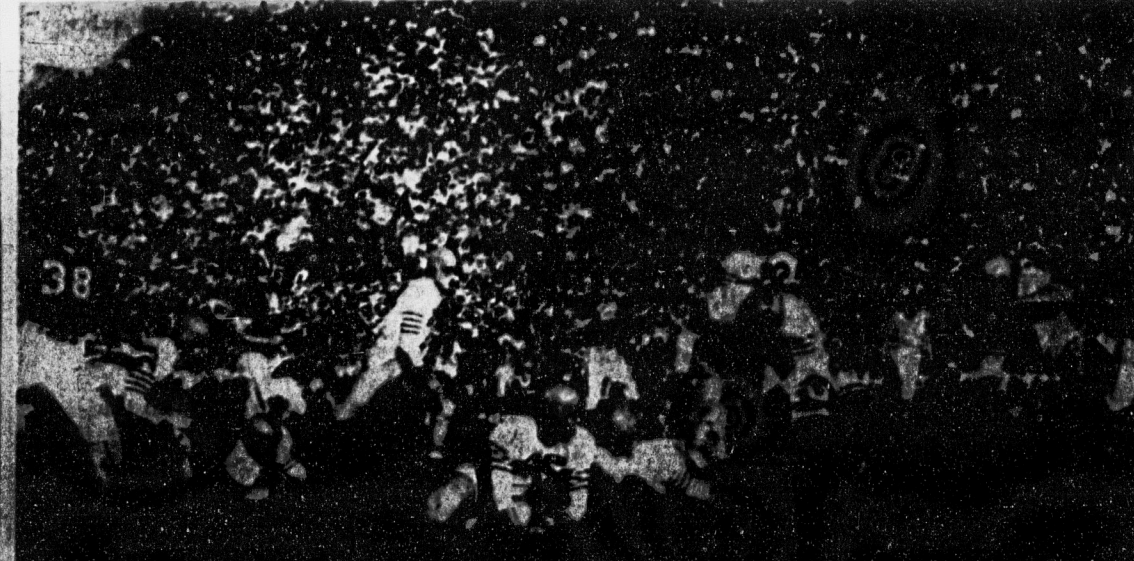

Included in the festivities were the presentation of trophies to Homecoming Queen Judy Johnston and her court, the awarding of trophies to the parade winners and the tapping of five new members of Excalibur.

Detroit Drops 5th in Row, 24-13

Late Ram Rally Beats Lions

LOS ANGELES (P)—The Los Angeles Rams' spectacular aerial game struck down the Detroit Lions Sunday, 24-13, sending the Rams to the top of the Western conference in the National Football League and sinking Detroit deeper into the cellar.

The Rams came from behind a 3-point deficit early in the fourth quarter on a game winning touchdown pass from quarterback Van Brocklin to halfback Elroy Hirsch that went for 47 yards and put Los Angeles ahead 17-13.

The victory, fourth in five games for Los Angeles, was viewed by a noisy crowd of 65,000 gathered under the sun in Memorial Coliseum.

Van Brocklin started the Rams' aerial triumph off with an arching pass to end Bob Boyd that went for 65 yards and a touchdown that wiped out a field goal margin of 3 points kicked by Don Walker in the first quarter.

Giant Rally Wins

NEW YORK (P)—The Pittsburgh Steelers, overcoming their own inept kicking and a brilliant passing attack by the Giants, scored a third period touchdown to come from behind and defeat New York 19-17 in a National Football League game Sunday.

A Polo Grounds crowd of 27,365 saw the Steelers gain their second straight victory over the Giants and their fourth in five games to remain on top in the eastern division of the NFL.

Redskins Nip Colts

BALTIMORE (P)—The foot instead of the forward pass was the main feature for a game Sunday in a National Football League game, won 14-13 by the Washington Redskins over the Baltimore Colts before a record local crowd of 51,387.

The extra points booted by Vic Janowicz after the two Washington touchdowns separated the rivals.

Up until then, two field goals by Burt Rechichar and his conversion following Baltimore's third quarter touchdown — a plunge by Alan Ameche — had kept the Colts in front.

Eagles, Cards Tie

CHICAGO (P)—The Chicago Cardinals Sunday scored in the final four minutes of the game, on what must be ranked as the strangest fluke play of the National Football League season, to tie the Philadelphia Eagles 24-24.

For the records, the play goes as a 13-yard touchdown pass from rookie Dave Mann to veteran end Don Stonesifer, but what actually happened left the 24,820 Comiskey Park fans agog.

Ogden Compton, a freshman quarterback from Hardin-Simmons, set it up with a 51-yard pass play to Gern Nagler.

With the ball on the Eagle 13 and first down, the Cards' halfback, Ollie Matson, found himself trapped and ran backwards 24 yards trying to shake off would be tacklers.

In desperation, he shoved the ball into Mann's hands. Mann started for the sidelines and finally spotted Stonesifer alone on the 3-yard line. Mann hurled the ball on the run and Stonesifer collected it to score. Pat Summerville booted his third successive extra point for the tie. Earlier he also added a 16-yard field goal.

Browns Win in Rout

CLEVELAND (P)—Cleveland's Browns passed and powered their way to a 41-10 National League victory over the Green Bay Packers Sunday to hold their spot at the top of the Eastern conference.

The defending champions came from behind twice and then made a runaway race of it in the late going as Otto Graham and George Ratterman put on one of the season's finest aerial assaults before 51,482 fans, largest crowd of the season.

Graham completed seven of 12 attempts for 187 yards and Ratterman, injected into the game in the last three minutes, completed three tosses in three attempts, two for touchdowns within a little less than a minute and a half.

his eye was the red flag marking the goal line.

The Spartans put their final touchdown across late in the third quarter with eight plays covering 56 yards.

After a poor punt by Ray Nitschke which was fumbled by Kowalczyk on State's 40 and recovered for a four-yard gain by John Matsko, Planutis ran for four yards. Morrall went back to pass and ran when his receivers were covered.

The Muskegon senior gained 16 yards on the maneuver. A two-yard gain by Kowalczyk and a nine-yard pass to Jewett took State to the 23.

A try at the line and two passes were unsuccessful and on fourth down Morrall passed to Jewett in the end zone for the six points.

Going into the game the Illini were second in the nation in total offense averaging 399 yards per game. Saturday they made 280 to State's 270.

Besides his passing and play-calling Morrall punted four times, one of them a drive that went 67 yards rolling dead on the Illini five. His kicks average 48 yards.

Morrall also intercepted a pass in the third quarter on the Illini 43 and ran it back to the 30.

The versatile quarterback shared the kick-off duties with Dave Kaiser booting the ball to the seven and 10-yard lines on his two kicks.

Planutis was State's leading ground gainer with 42 yards on eight attempts. Morrall was second for the Spartans picking up 26 yards on the ground to go with his 136 through the air.

Lewis Awarded Game Ball

It's Morrall, More and More

By GENE RITZINGER

State News Night Editor

Everybody had praise for quarterback Earl Morrall after Saturday's game. They raved about his passing, were amazed at his shrewd play-calling, liked his punting and running.

But probably the most memorable estimate of his play came from Coach Duffy Daugherty. Asked what he thought of Morrall, he said with purposeful naivete: "You might say, if he doesn't get hurt, he'll make the travelling squad to Wisconsin next week."

Daugherty said the turning point of the game occurred when Morrall hit end Dave Kaiser with a touchdown pass on the first play from scrimmage in the third period.

From the Illinois point of view, this pass didn't hurt as much as did an offside penalty on the kickoff that started the period.

Fullback Gerry Planutis received the kickoff and was trapped on the 8-yard line. But an Illini player was offside, and on the second kickoff halfback Jerry Musetti carried the ball to the Spartan 40, setting the stage for Morrall's pass.

Illinois Coach Ray Eliot claimed if his team hadn't gotten the offside penalty, things might have been different.

The game ball was given to end John "Big Thunder" Lewis, who sparked on defense. Lewis gave it to defensive line coach Lou Agase, a former Illini great who came to State last spring.

Halfback Clarence Peaks must be trying to set a new record for deception.

Against the U of M, he back-pedaled and quick-kicked, catching the Wolverines off guard.

Against Stanford, he faked a quick-kick, and handed off to halfback Jim Wulff on a reverse good for 10 yards.

Against Notre Dame, he back-pedaled, faked a handoff, and faked a reverse while Planutis churned up the middle with the ball.

Against Illinois, in the only action he saw, he faked a quick-kick, and faked a reverse while Planutis faked a line buck. Then he threw a pass to Morrall.

If he keeps going like this, what'll happen next week?

Kowalczyk and Kaiser both scored the first touchdowns of their collegiate careers. Kowalczyk was obviously happy about getting his. The big halfback tossed the ball into the air after entering the end zone, then ran over and jumped all over Planutis.

Capt. Buck Nystrom lost the game ball.

Michigan looked like anything but a team determined to win the title. The Wolverines had to dig deep after Minnesota jumped to a 13-0 first quarter lead. However, Michigan slipped across a pair of touchdowns and extra points to retain the Little Brown Jug.

The Wolves go against Iowa Saturday and then Illinois and Indiana before bumping into Ohio State. A defeat for Ohio State along the way could be fatal since the Buckeyes play conference games to win Michigan.

Michigan State, another with a six-game schedule, its slim hopes alive by a pair of third quarter touchdowns to defeat Illinois. It was Michigan State's second triumph in three games.

Earl Morrall's punting ed out to be the deciding factor after Illinois halfback Spartans to a 7-7 halft.

Indiana pushed actual quarter touchdown to 14-13 Northwestern lead out of the cellar. Fullback Bartkiewicz led the scored the winning touchdown.

Notre Dame averaged loss to Purdue and bounced from last week's loss to State by using an unbalanced and showing little respect Boilermakers. The Irish a fumble and an interception into third period touchdown break a 7-7 deadlock.

Kennedy Breaks Mark As Harriers Rout Lions

Records Easy Win

Finishes 2nd
18-43 Victory

Kennedy established himself as the top cross country runner in the nation when he won his Michigan State title over the Penn State Nittany Lions Saturday morning. Kennedy, undefeated in but one of two years, reversed his record and broke the course record with a brilliant 19:28.3 over Michigan State four-mile course. The time was the fastest ever run by a collegian. Kennedy broke the record of 20:01 set in the 1952 National Collegiate by Georgetown's Charley Hoya. Kennedy's time will stand as the new standard. Kennedy must run in the AA meet to get the record.

The time also surpasses a record set by Michigan's McEwen in the 1950 Big Ten meet. This time is believed to have been the previous best of four miles.

Michigan State scored men in first, second, third, fifth and sixth places while Penn State scored fourth, sixth, tenth, twelfth and thirteenth. The 21-year-old Scots-Canadian, normally a front runner, let Penn State's Selwyn Jones take the lead at the half mile.

The Canadian junior was in 2:19 while Kennedy finished in 2:26. Kennedy's teammate Gay Denslow was in second place with 2:26.

Kennedy maintained the lead at the mile with 4:50.6 and Kennedy was in second at 4:50.9. After the mile Kennedy assumed the lead and passed the two miles in 9:54. Jones was the runner-up with 9:54.

Scotsman continued to open with a 14:35 three miles. Jones ran 14:57. Increasing lead and his speed, as the progress of the phenomenal runner passed the three-and-a-half mile marker in 17:05.

Kennedy then started to lead the last half mile. He won the finish line about 20 feet in front of Jones, who finished in 29 minutes flat. Kennedy was a personal best.

and was exceptionally fast for the course.

Denslow finished third, easily defeating rival Doug Moorhead of Penn State, with a 20:38, his season's best.

Moorhead, the Nittany Lions captain, was in the fourth position in 21:05 while Spartan Terry Block finished fifth in 21:24.3.

Don Woodrow of Penn State and Townsend battled for the sixth position with the Lion winning in 21:45. Townsend, the Spartan fifth man, was only a foot behind. The time was Townsend's best of the season.

Teammate Bill Miller had a personal best with an eighth place 21:58 with Fred Kuester only four seconds in the rear.

Paul Roberts was Penn State's third finisher with a 10th place 22:04. Teammate Ron Lewis was next in 22:32. Leon Mesler finished in 12th place for Michigan State with a 22:46 but the team place was awarded to the Nittany Lions under the seven man ruling.

If more than seven men finish ahead of the opponents fifth man the Michigan State places from the eighth man on back go to Penn State.

Bruce Austin of the Lions was awarded the 12th team position with 23:04, barely beating out Spartan Tom Goretzka who finished with 23:04.6. Norm Shoup of the Penn State team was the 15th place winner in 24:41.

Penn State had previously been defeated by Navy and Cornell. It was State's first win over the Nittany Lions in three years.

The Spartan harriers were shy three runners Saturday. Bob Block and Ted Tetzlaff are injured while Dave Hoke, last year's third man, has a cold.

Booters Lose to Windsor

A second half rally by the Spartan soccer club was not enough as the Windsor, Ont. Colts downed the booters 4-2, in a game played here Saturday afternoon.

The loss broke a seven-game Michigan State winning streak.

The Spartan booters, playing against a more experienced team, came close to scoring in the first half but trailed, 2-0, at half time.

At the start of the second half goals by Art Southan and Jim Cabal brought the Spartans up to a 2-2 deadlock.

However, a late surge by the Canadians gave them two more goals and the game.

33rd Meeting Ends

Governing Boards Raise Miamian to Presidency

Hollis Rinehart, of Miami, Florida, was elected president of the Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions as the national board concluded its annual meeting Saturday.

The convention, which held its 33rd annual meeting at Kellogg Center in honor of the MSU Centennial, was attended by 150 board members from 64 city and state supported colleges and universities.

Rinehart, former vice-president, succeeds Miss Sarah Van Housen Jones, a member of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture.

Vice-presidents for 1955-56 are F. G. Ketner, chairman of the Ohio State University Board of Trustees, and Roy Chamberlain, member of the University of Wyoming Board of Trustees.

Richard M. Plock of the Iowa State Board of Education was re-named secretary-treasurer.

The importance of a global extension program was stressed at the annual meeting. The overall scope of the extension program, including the MSU activities at Okinawa, Vietnam, Colombia and Brazil, was traced by Dean Milton E. Mueller, Dean of Science and Arts.

"The new and changed universe presents many problems for the United States, demanding many resources including the strength of American colleges and universities," Mueller said. "Michigan State is proud to be one of the leaders in developing extension programs world-wide in scope."

"The benefits of these extension programs abroad are not unilateral but are reciprocal," Mueller said. "Those participating in these programs learn much and derive increasing understanding of the aspirations, the needs, and the ac-

Diem Elected Head Of South Viet Nam

Voting Ends 23-Year Reign Of Former Chief Bao Dai

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam abruptly ended the spotty 23-year-long rule of former Emperor and Chief of State Bao Dai Sunday and named Premier Ngo Dinh Diem to lead the nation toward republican status.

Nearly five million Vietnamese decided in a countrywide referendum that Bao Dai, 42, round-faced absentee ex-monarch, had outlived his usefulness.

First returns showed an almost total repudiation of Bao Dai and an equally emphatic vote of confidence in Diem, one of Asia's most determined anti-Communist.

The only question in the minds of observers was whether Diem's victory would be more or less than 90 per cent.

Bao Dai's former friends and competitors in his old summer capital at Dalat turned thumbs down on him to the tune of 98.3 per cent.

Official results will be proclaimed Tuesday, but the vote count may be known Monday. Diem is an uncompromising foe of communism and a believer in the democratic forms of government. Bao Dai's whole career has been a series of compromises, first with the French, later with the Japanese, then with the Vietnamese Communists who now control the northern half of the country.

His detractors say he named Diem premier in June 1954, convinced that the partition of the country at Geneva and the chaos that followed would destroy the doughty Roman Catholic layman.

When it did not, Bao Dai began to give active support to Diem's enemies. His aim was to overthrow Diem and replace him with a man more favorable to coexistence with the North.

Diem, with dogged patience, unified the wavering army, defeated the rebellious Hoa Hao and
