44 KILLED IN COLORADO PLANE CRASH DISASTER

Impact, Explosion Scatter Wreckage

United DC 6 Demolished Near Site of Earlier Tragedy

LONGMONT, Colo. (AP)—A United Air Lines plane smashed to bits near here Tuesday night, killing all 44 persons aboard.

It was the second United Air Lines crash in the area within a month.

The DC6 plane was demolished and witnesses said the largest piece was no larger than an automobile body.

"There was nothing left to be done except cover up the bodies," said one of the first persons on the scene.

On Oct. 6 a United Air Lines crash killed 66 persons in the worst commercial air lines disaster in U. S. history. The plane smashed into Medicine Bow Peak near Laramie, Wyo.

Tuesday night's crash was of Flight 629, en route from Denver to Seattle. The plane left Denver at 6:32 p.m. and crashed about 13 minutes later 40 miles north of Denver.

There had been snow flurries during the day but the air had cleared at nightfall.

A United spokesman said the plane was flying on the normal course north to Cheyenne before heading west for a stop at Portland.

Jim Matlack, copublisher of the Longmont Times-Call and one of the first on the scene, said "there was not a sign of life."

"It was terrible wreckage—bodies were just scattered all over. It took me just a few minutes to count nine bodies."

Matlack said that farmer, Jake Heil, on whose land the plane crashed, said there was "a sort of explosion."

Heil told Matlack: "We ran outside and it looked to us like a skyrocket. Minutes after the plane hit there was another explosion."

Other witnesses also confirmed the report of the explosion.

The noise and rocket-like glare brought a tremendous crowd to the scene immediately and a company of National Guard was called out to control the crowds.

Preparations were made to take the bodies to Greeley mortuaries, about 17 miles east of the crash.

The flight had originated in New York at noon and had made a stop in Chicago before landing in Denver.

It left Denver 22 minutes late headed for Portland and Seattle.

Bob Robbins, a Loveland florist, said he was driving south toward Denver shortly before 7 p.m. (MST) when he saw a flare, then a blinding flash and a loud crash.

Bernie Fowler of the Longmont Times-Call, who talked with Robbins, said the crash occurred on the farm of Jake Heil. He said the crash area was about a mile from U. S. 87.

The plane continued to burn two hours after the crash, Fowler said.

Eyewitness Describes Tragedy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Jim Matlack, one of the first newsmen to reach the scene of the crash, telephoned the following eye-witness report to the Denver AP Bureau.

By JIM MATLACK
LONGMONT, Colo. (AP)—I was one of the first to reach the crash scene and it was a terrible wreck—bodies were scattered all over. It took me just a few minutes to count nine bodies.

There was nothing we could do but cover up the bodies. There wasn't a sign of life.

The plane: Well, it was just one big mass of wreckage. The biggest piece I spotted was a section of the fuselage—about the size of a small automobile.

I didn't notice that any of the bodies were burned.

Jake Heil, whose land on which the plane crashed, told me: "We heard sort of an explosion and looked at each other; then we ran outside and it looked to us like a skyrocket."

"It sounded like the motor was still running after the first explosion. Minutes after the plane hit there was another explosion."

We could hear it coming closer, closer and I thought it was going to hit the house."

John McNeill, night marshal at Platteville, about six miles from the crash scene, told me he saw two flares up in the air, then "sort of an explosion"—then a big bright light."

New Members To Receive Congress Oath

Fourteen new members of the All-University Student Congress will be sworn in at the regular Congress meeting tonight.

Chief Justice Jack Strasser of the judiciary will administer the oath to the new members who will then take their seats in the assembly.

Business on the agenda includes the L-C Ticket Distribution ordinance, final vote on the charter of the Circle K Club and routine reports from the standing committees.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ike to Leave Hospital Nov. 11

DENVER (AP)—The Denver White House said Tuesday it is a good guess at this point that President Eisenhower will leave the hospital Nov. 11 for Washington, two days after a visit from President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala.

Faure Asks Vote of Confidence

PARIS (AP)—Staking his government's future on the outcome, Premier Edgar Faure Tuesday night asked the National Assembly to give him a vote of confidence on his project for early parliamentary elections.

East Wants Unity Talks

GENEVA (AP)—An East German delegation proposed to the four foreign ministers Tuesday that talks between East and West Germany be held soon to prepare for free elections to unify a reunited Germany.

45 Soundproof Rooms

Music Building Addition To Give TV Opportunity

Melodies direct from a new addition to the music auditorium will be featured on television this June.

A choral room in the addition will give the music department its first chance to televise and broadcast singing groups, Roy Underwood, head of the department, said.

Two classrooms also have provisions for telecasting and all rooms are set up for reception of visual aids.

Built-in lockers in the basement of the new building will hold any size instrument from a seven-foot string base to a six-inch piccolo. Present locker facilities are scattered in different buildings and will not hold all the instruments.

Forty-five soundproof practice rooms, four organ practice rooms and a freight elevator to carry heavy instruments will also be some of the advantages in the new building.

The original music dwelling, built in 1939, will be remodeled. Glass partitions will divide the library upstairs for records on one side and listening facilities on the other.

The basement of the old building will be converted into a lounge—something new in the department. Offices will occupy the first floor.

An original plan from the merchants calling for a hike in fees and a half-hour limit on meters bordering the alley between Grand River Ave. and Albert St. and setting a two-hour limit at the present rate on the remainder of the meters was rejected.

Fear was expressed by several merchants that increased parking rates would be unfavorable to business. See Page 4

Film Showing Scheduled Today

The Audio-Visual Center will show three films today from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Music Aud. "India-Out of the Darkness" shows the results of a government program of education. An example of cooperation between a community and a university is reported in "Community Education Program."

"Liquid Air" will illustrate a chemical problem and "Mountain of Fire" will be the story of Mt. Etna.

PanHel Talk To Focus Spartacade

Meeting to Decide Sorority Support

Spartacade once more takes the floor.

PanHel will turn their meeting tonight at 7 in 35 Union to the "big question"—will sororities support Spartacade without IFC backing?

Oct. 25 Inter-Fraternity Council decided that no fraternity represented in IFC will participate in Spartacade this year. President George Snyder said his group felt there was a more efficient way of contributing to the Chest.

Sharon Beyer, president of PanHel, made no comment on the stand sororities may take regarding the issue. She is leaving the matter entirely in the hands of each sorority which PanHel makes a decision.

However, Beyer expects the meeting tonight to reach some conclusion.

The annual carnival formerly has been sponsored by Campus Chest, the university's charity organization. Usually held in Jensen Fieldhouse, a tentative date of Apr. 14 had been set for this year's Spartacade.

A plan to correlate Spartacade with Water Carnival every other year has been suggested by Women's Inter-Residence Hall Council and Men's Inter-Dormitory Council. The groups proposed an alternation of the two activities each year to eliminate past student complaints.

Since both projects are held spring term, the dorms complain that sufficient time can not be devoted to both activities.

Miller Adams, president of the men's dorm council, and Charlene Schardt, president of the coed's dorm council, said they would like to see a representative meeting of all living unit heads to discuss the problem.

A similar meeting Oct. 12 decided to combine the "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest with Spartacade.

Bob O'Hara, president of Campus Chest, said he will call a meeting which he hopes will be the last of its kind. He did state that he wants to see Spartacade continue every year since more than $7,000 would be eliminated annually from Campus Chest funds if the carnival discontinued.

Tuesday night Snyder announced that John Tanton, Sebewaing senior, had been appointed to head an investigation committee. The five-member committee will look into an alternative fund raising event to support Campus Chest.

IFC members will listen to the committee's findings at the regular meeting next Tuesday night.

Snow in Sight

Campus Keeps Partly Cloudy Forecast

Spartans may soon be digging into moth balls for the seasonal red flannels.

The weather bureau predicts colder than normal weather during November in the Great Lakes Region in addition to more snow than usual.

November cold may begin this afternoon with possible rain or snow. It will be partly cloudy with westerly winds 10-15 mph. A high of 45 is expected.

Purdue Ticket Sales to End

Students and faculty will get their last chance today to buy tickets for Saturday's train trip to Purdue.

Sixteen tickets were sold Tuesday, raising the total to 261. There are 119 tickets left.

The train-game tickets, priced at $12.50, will be sold from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Union ticket office.

Train-only tickets will be sold for $9.

The train will leave from the Macklin Field siding at 6:30 Saturday morning. Coeds will need to show the excursion tickets only to leave the dorms that early, according to the dean of students office.

Theta Sigma Phi Publicity Clinic To Meet Tonight

The Theta Sigma Phi publicity clinic for registered representatives of campus organizations and living units will be held to night at 7 in 31 Union.

Publicity booklets will be distributed at the door from an alphabetical list of organizations.

Speaking at the meetings will be representatives of the Lansing State Journal, WKAR radio and television, WJIM radio, the department of information services, and the State News.

No registrations will be accepted at the door.

Table Top Ready

Coffee Hour to Open Carving Season

Students may bring their knives along, get a free cup of coffee and start carving their initial on the 1956 table in the Union Old College Hall at today's senior coffee hour.

Art work on the five foot round table will be shellacked and the table will be hung on the wall next June. Seniors may carve the table any time the grill is open. Tom Aquino's combo will provide music during the coffee hour, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Table carving became an annual senior class project in 1951, but there is one similar souvenir from the class of 1859. An actual desk top from a classroom of 36 years ago, the two-foot square top now hangs in Old College Hall along with the five modern table tops.

Students who began to doodle on the desk top apparently thought it too good to throw away and the top was saved. Relatives of one of the 1859 class members brought the top to the university alumni office three years ago.

When the class of 1951 initiated the idea of carving a table, an old fashioned jug sat in the middle of the table to catch senior class members' money, which helped to defray the cost of the table. Later, the expenses were included among senior activities.

The senior class pays for their own table and the graduating class of the following year pays for lacquering and installing a bronze plaque in the center naming the class officers. The tables are constructed by the university carpenter shop.

SWL Entertains Faculty Tonight

Spartan Women's League will entertain 50 new faculty members and their wives or husbands at its Faculty-Student Carousol tonight in Parlor B of the Union.

The purpose of the Carousol or merry-go-round of conversation, is to acquaint faculty newcomers with life on the campus and with the work of Spartan Women's League.

New buds on a cucumber vine, like quarterbacks, must make up their minds in a hurry. Before becoming large enough to be visible, they must decide whether to send out a male or female flower, and environmental conditions causing the decision are now under observation by the MSU horticulture department.

Unless bothered, the buds will produce about three male flowers for every female flower. Excessive light is thought to bring forth a large number of male flowers.

In having separate male and female flowers on individual plants, the cucumber differs from the onion, tomato and bean, which have both sex organs in the same flower.

Pollen must be taken from the stamen to the pistil by an insect, usually a bee. The cucumber is an ovary with fertilized seed or ovules.

The pollen from a single male flower can fertilize several female flowers. Thus, a large proportion of female flowers means greater production.

Experiments by the horticulture department have shown that it is possible to sterilize male organs and increase the relative number of pistillate flowers by chemical treatment. To date, this has not been done commercially.

It is hoped that chemical treatment to discourage the growth of cucumbers near the base of the plant may aid in the operation of a new mechanical picker. However, both picker and treatment are in the experimental stage.

Both the cucumber grower and pickle-producer will profit with the advent of this mechanical picker, which is now being tested by its manufacturer.

The good taste of pickles has long been recognized. Thomas Jefferson, George Washington and John Adams were pickle enthusiasts.

The old idea that pickles had little food value has been exploded by recent research, including a three-year study at Michigan State.

Vitamin A, a great body builder, is present along with vitamin B, various minerals, and vitamin C, necessary to prevent scurvy.

Today, the pickle is the top processed vegetable in the country. New production processes have come up with a pickle for almost every taste.

Michigan leads the nation in cucumber production with an annual crop valued at $5,000,000. In the central part of the state, many salting stations can be found. These are depots where the growers can dump their cucumbers into a vat of brine.

From these stations the cucumber starts its way to your hamburger sandwich.

Raps Move Leave Big 10

STON, Ill. (AP)—A newspaper's suggestion that Northwestern should leave the Big 10 because of its poor football record drew a sharp attack from school officials at the conference.

Samuel, a senior from Chicago, Ill., editor of the Northwestern, in an editorial advocated withdrawal of the Big 10 because the athletic record was so poor.

Varsity Cagers Begin Workouts

By JOE HOFFMAN
Men donned practice equipment Tuesday and Wednesday to begin their season under Head Coach Fordy Anderson for the start of the basketball season. The 18, only Julius McCoy and Duane Peterson were of last year's starting five. One other starter, is on the football team and won't report for basketball until Thanksgiving.

By JACK BERRY
Dan Currie, another of Michigan State's fine crop of sophomores, has moved into a starting position. Currie has replaced senior Embury Robinson at left guard for the Spartans.

Robinson sustained a torn ligament in his right knee in the first half of the Wisconsin game and was scheduled to be operated on this morning. According to team physician Dr. James S. Peurig, Robinson is through for the season.

Currie played most of the second half against the Badgers and Arch Matsos, another sophomore, also saw action.

Currie, 6-3, 190 pounds, was originally a center but was converted into a guard during fall practice. He was All-City, All-State, and All-American while playing center for Detroit's St. Anthony high school.

A letter winner last season Robinson was a surprise starter for the Spartans in the Rose Bowl game against UCLA.

In Tuesday's practice session Alvin Lee, a senior, worked in the second string left guard position with Matsos playing with the third line.

The Spartans, fourth-ranked in the nation by the Associated Press, worked on stopping the passing attack of Purdue's aerial ace, Len Dawson.

Saturday's meeting will be the ninth with the Boilermakers. State has won three, lost five and tied one in the series that started in 1918. However, Purdue has won the last two contests.

MSU has not lost three games in a row—other than to Michigan—since the University of Detroit beat the Spartans in 1927, 1928, and 1929.

The State's career record against Michigan is held by former Michigan Lyna Chaudoin, who had 21 TD's in four seasons.

McCoy and Peterson, the Spartans will have two of the players in the Big 10.

McCoy finished sixth in the scoring race last year with 19 points per game. He was one of the leading scorers in the Big 10, snaring 12 touchdowns and averaging 12 points per game.

McCoy is hopeful of having a balanced squad with the spread out among his five. He is also hopeful of some much needed strength.

Spartans Climb to 4th In AP Football Poll

By The Associated Press
Michigan State moved up another peg to the No. 4 spot in the Associated Press national college football ratings this week. Maryland, Oklahoma and Michigan hung on to their last week's positions but only by slight margins.

The Spartans took over the fourth position by virtue of their 27-0 win over Wisconsin last Saturday. Navy vacated the No. 4 spot and dropped to ninth after their 21-7 loss to Notre Dame. The Irish advanced to sixth place.

UCLA gained support by rolling over California, 47-0 and jumped up one position to the No. 5 spot.

Although the 1-2-3 clubs all are favored to win handily Saturday, a dangerous comparison on the basis of comparative scores can be made after Oklahoma finishes its game with Missouri.

Maryland, looking ahead to UCLA, barely squeaked past Missouri, 13-12, in its opener and Michigan downed Missouri, 42-7.

In other games this week Michigan State travels to Purdue where Earl Morrall and the Boilermakers' Len Dawson hook up in what should be a top serial battle. Maryland plays Louisiana State, Michigan battles rugged Illinois, and Notre Dame clashes with winless Penn.

The top teams with won-lost records and first place votes in parenthesis:

1. Maryland	(7-0)	74	1986
2. Oklahoma	(6-0)	54	1882
3. Michigan	(6-0)	62	1770
4. MICH. STATE	(3-1)	7	1382
5. UCLA	(6-1)	3	1213
6. Notre Dame	(5-1)	1	1202
7. West Virginia	(6-0)	16	890
8. Georgia Tech	(6-1)	15	397
9. Navy	(2-1)	2	285
10. Texas Christian	(6-1)	2	232

Michigan State's senior fullback, Gerry Planutis, won U.S. Army all-star football honors while playing for the Trieste service championship team.

150 Combine Efforts For Fall Term Play

While only five people and one animal make up the cast of the fall term play, "Bell, Book and Candle," it is taking the efforts of nearly 150 students to make the play a success. In just four weeks, these students have combined their talents to construct and paint the unusual setting for the play.

Some of the students are from classes in scenery construction and scenery design, while others are volunteers from other departments on campus.

The setting for "Bell, Book and Candle" takes place in the elegant New York apartment of Gillian, a modern day sorceress. The sunken living room has been decorated in the French Empire and Directoire style.

The students are working under the guidance of Linden Courter and Herbert Cambourn in the construction of the scenery. This is the first time that all the furniture for a term play has been built right on campus.

A rather unusual angle to some of the furniture used in "Bell, Book and Candle" is the "magic" touch that is being applied.

Since the play is about witches, and witches are supposed to perform magic, some of the furniture and props must be "magically" constructed.

Jed Davis and his staff have been hard at work perfecting the lighting effects for the production, an important feature in any play.

These are the people behind the scenes of "Bell, Book and Candle," and although their names aren't mentioned in the program, they play a very vital role for Dr. Roger Busfield, director of the play.

cause East Lansing must compete with free parking at Frandor shopping center and five cent rates in public parking in Lansing.

Long-term parkers, many of the East Lansing merchants felt, are the major problem because potential customers are unable to find parking facilities.

City Manager John Patriarche said he could not understand why parking on Valley Court, at a rate of 25 cents for all day, and spaces on M.A.C. were not used more.

The number of students using the city lots for all-day parking are few compared to store employees, one representative pointed out.

In a survey conducted recently by the city 187 parkers said they would approve an increase out of 332 queried. Of that number 47 students favored an increase and 42 opposed it.
