Near East Conflict Simmers

Jordan-Israeli Tension Rises

JERUSALEM (AP)—U. N. peace supervisor Maj. Gen. E. M. Burns, back from conferences in London and New York, plunged Sunday into a new welter of conflicting charges in the simmering strife between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

He said a hurried conference with peace organization officials and Arab representatives to discuss the United Nations' latest peace plan to stop border fighting before they set off a general Middle Eastern war before Sunday London Saturday he said he did not think a full-scale war would erupt.

Fresh complaints piled on his back Jordan spokesmen accused Israeli forces of five armistice violations in the last 24 hours. Israeli spokesmen charged Jordan with a dynamiting incident and accused Egyptian forces of an attack on an Israeli patrol and three invasion attempts. UN observers were sent to investigate the incidents.

The new peace plan proposed by UN Secretary General Hammarskjöld is understood to call for clear marking of the El Aja-Nazara demilitarized zone and troop withdrawal from it. Burns has said one of the problems in the border area is the lack of physical markers separating Israel and Arab territories.

While Western capitals expressed concern over the potentially explosive Palestine situation, the countries of the Middle East grouped their forces for the future.

In Baghdad, the Turkish ambassador conferred with Iraqi Minister Burhan Aldin Jibara for the third straight day and a diplomatic source said he assured Iraq his country is ready to repel aggression from any direction, including Israel.

The Ministerial Council of the four-power Baghdad Pact, which Moscow has denounced, is expected to hold its first meeting in Baghdad Nov. 20. Members of the pact are Iraq, Pakistan, Turkey and Iran.

U. S. Declares Peace Policy In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will "do everything we possibly can to aid any Middle East country which is threatened by Israel," the State Department said today. Asst. Secretary of State George V. Allen said today.

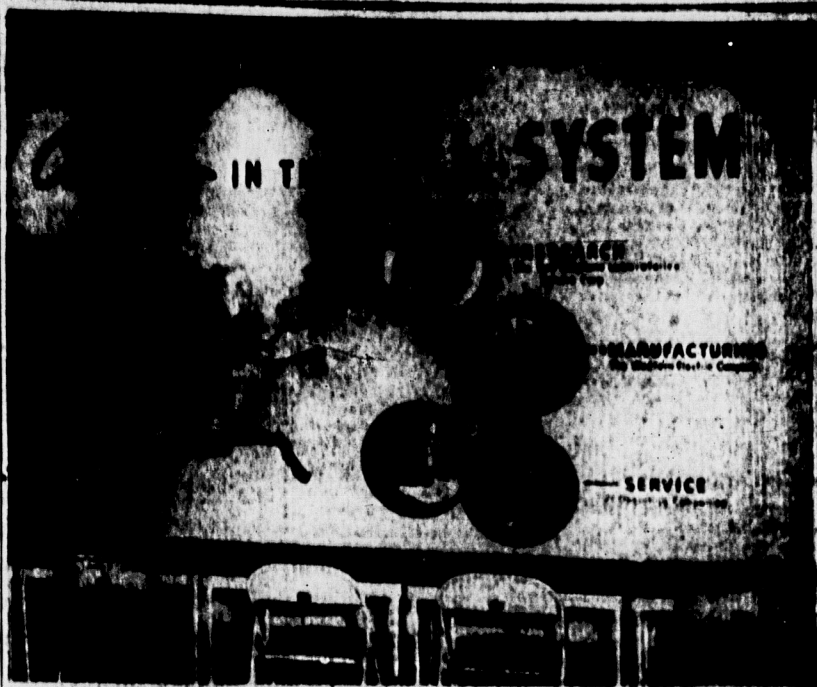

This government, Allen said, "is going to be very angry at any country which starts a preventive war or an aggressive war." He added, the United States is going to be very "pro-Israel" that demonstrates it "will keep the peace."

Allen the state department's Middle East specialist, said in a television interview—UN College Press Conference thought Israel and Egypt "will might" accept United Nations peace proposals to ease tension in the turbulent area.

For the first time those recommendations were put on the record. Allen described them as they had been unofficially reported, as providing: "The UN should be allowed to continue its work" of clearly defining with physical markers the demilitarized El Aja-Nazara zone where Egyptian and Israeli forces have battled furiously in recent days.

Neither side should maintain troops in the zone. UN observers should have "entire freedom to determine if anyone crosses the boundaries."

Allen Saturday told the Israeli and Egyptian ambassadors to this country that the United States strongly supports the UN plan.

"Your Lives Career Wise" is the slogan for this year's Carnival, sponsored by the Placement Bureau.

The purpose of the annual event is to give seniors a chance to talk informally with representatives of state and national companies and to learn about company operations. Undergraduates will have an opportunity to shop for a career with special attention given to the college training required.

Representatives will answer questions and distribute pamphlets. The fields of manufacturing, sales, finance, education, social services, research and government service will be represented.

The MSU Carnival is the only one in the country of its type and will be more complete this year than ever before, said Jack Breslin, director of the Placement Bureau and faculty advisor of the Carnival.

Attendance topped 12,000 last year and larger crowds are expected.

MSU Branch Plans Denied By Ag Board

Plans to establish a branch of MSU at Grand Rapids were denied Thursday by State Board of Agriculture members Clark L. Brady, of Lansing, and Frederick H. Mueller, of Grand Rapids.

The denial came after Arthur J. Hannah, brother of President John A. Hannah, referred Wednesday night to a $200,000 4-H and extension center, which may be constructed on the Graham Experiment station in Kent county, as the possible start of a branch of MSU.

Brady said that he knows of no plan to establish a branch of MSU anywhere.

Mueller said he is sure the talk does not reflect the thinking of President John A. Hannah.

"The board has no plans to establish a branch university anywhere and I know of no reason to alter our present plans," Mueller stated.

Like to Decide If He Should Go to Capitol

May Leave Hospital By Next Friday

DENVER (AP)—A full team of specialists checked President Eisenhower's healing heart Sunday and left it to the chief executive himself to decide Monday whether to fly back to Washington Friday.

The top consultant on Eisenhower's case, Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, arrived from Chicago by plane Friday. He was driven immediately to Fitzsimons Army Hospital for extensive consultations with physicians there and examinations of the President.

White told newsmen at the airport he would reserve any comments until Monday.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen he hasn't changed his idea that the "best guess" for Eisenhower's checking out of the hospital is next Friday, Nov. 11.

Originally Hagerty had said he would be able to announce Sunday afternoon whether plans for ending the hospitalization period next Friday would go through on schedule.

But that was changed Sunday morning. The press secretary said that Dr. White and the physicians here would hold lengthy consultations, examine the 65-year-old President Sunday afternoon and Monday morning, and then give the chief executive a "full medical program" for the immediate future.

"The President," Hagerty said, "will then make the decision."

The doctors at the hospital reported in medical bulletins Sunday that "The President's condition continues to be satisfactory." That has been the word right along for several weeks and the chief executive would be able to fly to Washington.

There hasn't been a single major setback or complication since Eisenhower's Sept. 24 heart attack.

Just Plain Selfish

By DONN SHELTON
State News Managing Editor

Campus Chest solicitations start this week, and they'd better take in some loot then, because the income from Spartacade this year is liable to be nil.

By the time our charitable "unselfish" organizations on and off campus get through hocking and quibbling Spartacade time will have come and gone.

Charity, the guiding force behind Spartacade, has been hunted aside in favor of petty selfishness.

Instead of phrases like "How much can we donate to Campus Chest?" and "We hope we can push the total over the goal," we get:

"I think Spartacade is nice, but after all, I don't want to have to shove a bush with a CREEK unit."

"Let's back Spartacade, but let's don't back anyone in particular because we won't get any credit then," and

"Sure it's a good cause, but we don't want to have to do any more work than necessary."

Good, charitable, unselfish attitudes.

It's pulled out as a unit and thus eliminated single fraternities from participation, but didn't bar male Greeks from working on the carnival as a member of some other organization.

Panel decided to back Spartacade, a commendable and worthy decision.

But while the societies can simply shelve the matter, parties, they can't hammer and saw and cut the material to Jensen.

For this, they need some good, strong masculine backs.

So far, they haven't found them. They thought for awhile that the big strong heads made suddenly evaporated, and there is a distinct possibility that by late the week Panel will be standing alone.

Some several organizations have and will back the idea of Spartacade. But none of them are willing to support it to the point that they will "lower" themselves to some uncredited labor or a little extra work.

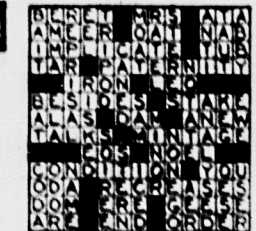

They want their names in big bright lights on the front of the booth and someone shouting their praises for a fine job.

At present, there will be a Spartacade. Unless some people get their heads out of the sand and get behind it how-ever, in actuality as well as in name, it will be a rather small, unprofitable venture at best.

But then, it's only charity. Why break our necks on charity when we can wait for something with some monetary value and public recognition in it?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

By DON SHELTON

"YOU HAVE USED THE FIRST 10 MINUTES - 40 TO GO."

Crazy Auto Writer's Cramp

By MIKE CARR
State News Night Editor

Gee whiz—can I really write a column? This is what I've been aiming for ever since I first came up here to this quaint little office on the third floor of the Union.

Of course, I used to write one when I was the ruling body of the one-man summer sports staff in '54. But there I was limited to sports. Now I can write about anything.

Now what shall I write about? The choice is so unlimited that I can hardly choose.

I could write a literary column except I'm a natural-born coward. That also stops me from writing about any campus organizations.

I could write about the state of affairs in the country today, if I knew anything about them.

I could write about myself or the State News, like every body else except nobody will remember it unless it's different. Then again it might not be so bad if it nobody remembers it.

Golly, chief, how 'bout giving me a definite assignment? Sorry, Son, gently reminds the campus editor. It's time you learned to make decisions for yourself. Sometimes you're going to have to make that all-important choice between graduation and intentionally thinking and I'm trying to prepare you for that time.

"Now get up off your knees. You're slobbering all over my new shoe shine."

Gee, this typewriter looks awfully feagony. And I never realized it took so many lines to fill up a page.

I think, maybe I can write better if I go home, and get some sleep first. I'm sure my kind, lovable, generous, trustworthy, loyal, clever, reverent, etc., chief won't mind.

Hey, Chief, how's about unlocking the chains so I can go home? What? But Chief, I've got an eight o'clock midterm. Chief, don't leave me. I'm scared to be alone. At least you could turn on the radio, so I could hear a friendly voice.

He's gone. My, that wire machine makes an awful noise. I wonder if it's still showing outside. I can't think of a thing to say.

At last an idea. Dear Mom, I know things aren't going too well at home, what with 6-year old Molly selling papers so you can send me all your money, but the boys got me into a little card game last night and before I realized, they were playing for money.

Fair Sex Answers Andrews

To Frank Andrews:

If your article in the newspaper of Nov. 3 was a slam on the intelligence of all women, please don't be so narrow minded as to think this.

If you attended the meeting which President Hannah held for your benefit, it should have cleared things up for you and your fellow sufferers.

I realize the administration didn't make you aware of this drastic situation before, but even if they had, would you have gone to another school because of one week of inconvenience? Maybe you shouldn't be here at all.

If you would like to discuss this matter further, I believe you already know where you may contact me.

Roxanne Goodnes

To Frank Andrews:

I am not a student at MSU. I do not work for the school, either, so I know nothing about the "Butterfield move" except what I have read in the State News. This is an outsider's viewpoint on the problem.

I think the "strong, healthy, athletic makes" at Butterfield are showing how little-boyish they are. After all, you only have to double up for a week. How many of the "men" spend all their time in their rooms? I think that if some of your proffs could tell your grades now, they probably wouldn't show you spend all your time in your so-called rooms.

Mr. Andrews, if this is the only inconvenience you or the "men of Butterfield" have in your years at Michigan State, then you will be quite lucky.

I think you should know the males can be so childish when you answered Miss Goodnes's letter. I agree with her when she states the men of Butterfield should grow up and take some discomfort with the good things of life. Be thankful you have a place to live at all during this terrible week.

Hollywood stars Cleo Moore and John Agar sign pictures for their many fans Friday in the Union Lounge.

Signed Many Autographs

100 Students Welcome Hollywood Stars Friday

By LAURETTA PATERNOSTER
State News Feature Editor

Approximately 400 students showed up in the Union Concourse Friday to welcome Cleo Moore and John Agar, stars of "Hold Back Tomorrow."

The two took part in an impromptu and lively question-and-answer session before autographing pictures in the Union lounge.

Curious Cleo, who began her movie career in the lead of a 13-chapter serial called "Congo Bill," answered each question shouted to her by the audience, even the "tough ones."

Agar stuck to "less suggestive" topics and voiced his hope that Michigan State would again become the top football team in the country. "As for Michigan," he commented, "don't worry — you'll get 'em next year."

Married to Loretta Barnett, a professional dancer, Agar is under contract to Universal-International Studio and lives in a Beverly Hills apartment. He has an excellent bassline singing voice, and would like to make a musical comedy, but has no immediate plans.

Among his well-known pictures are "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" and "Sands of Iwo Jima." Miss Moore has played in three movies, all of them concerning prisons. A native of Louisiana, she studied voice with two Hollywood teachers to overcome a Southern accent.

The stars were very co-operative, staying an extra 15 minutes to sign pictures.

Radio Survey To Determine Student Tastes

What types of programs do you listen to on Saturday afternoons? Do you have a radio that you can listen to when you want to?

These are some of the questions asked 250 students in a radio listening survey being conducted by Ernest W. Richter, a graduate assistant in the Radio and TV section of the speech department. The students were selected as a representative sample of campus opinion, and student interviewers from the speech department are gathering the information.

Under the direction of Dr. Robert P. Crawford of the speech department, Mr. Richter is trying to determine student listening patterns at different times of the day and according to the different classes.

Cold and Windy Flurries to Fill Cloudy Sky Today

Light snow flurries will fill the air all day today as cold winter settles down for his annual visit to the MSU campus. The high will be 34-38 after a low last night of 24-30.

Ballet Russe Scheduled Tonight in Aud

"The Mikado" adapted for ballet from the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, will open the performance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at 8:15 tonight in the Aud.

Sir Arthur Sullivan's music was orchestrated and adapted by Vittorio Dietsch.

Featured members of the cast are Victor Moreno, Joseph Navlon, Irina Borowska, Meredith Baylis, Christine Hennessey, Alan Howard and Eugene Slavin.

Guest prima ballerina Alicia Alonso and Igor Youskevitch will star in the "Pas De Deux Classique" or "Black Swan." This is the third act of Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake" ballet.

"Harold in Italy," inspired by Byron's poem, "Childe Harold," will be the third presentation. Choreographer Leonide Massine has set the ballet in four acts to the Berlioz symphony "Harold in Italy."

Featured dancers will be Miss Borowska, Howard, Nina Novak, Deni Lamont, Victor Moreno and Gertrude Tyven.

Offenbach's "Gaiete Parisienne," again with choreography by Massine, will end the evening. The music was arranged especially for the Ballet Russe by Manuel Rosenthal.

Miss Novak, Frederic Franklin, Miss Tyven, Moreno, Salvador Juarez and Miss Hennessey will be the featured dancers.

Any students not using their tickets are asked to turn them back in to the ticket office in the Union Concourse.

Satchmo said playing Dixieland music for the Russians was more than a late autumn dream—that the Russians have expressed an interest in it.

We got the idea on the fire, he confided, "and before we finish up here on the continent we may have this Russian sleighride fixed up."

Told that the Big Four foreign ministers were discussing broadening cultural contacts between East and West, the 55-year-old horn player par excellence said:

"Well, I don't know just how tight we fit in under culture, but I figure our little 'two-beat music might make them Russian cats thaw out a little."

Asked if he thought the Russians knew what jazz is, Armstrong replied:

"Why, man, I ain't sure myself."

An American society woman once asked Armstrong for a definition of jazz.

"Lady," he replied, "if you got to ask you'll never know."

Satchmo hit Geneva Saturday night with a six-piece band which is touring Europe. He drew more people to the city's staid Victoria Hall than the foreign ministers have attracted in 10 days of deliberation.

Strong on such subjects as jazz, reducing diets and happiness, Armstrong admitted he's weak on international affairs. When someone told him the four foreign ministers were in session in Geneva, he said:

"Well, I ain't heard a four-piece band in a long time. I'd like to dig 'em."

U of M to Keep Foresters' 'Ox' Trophy

Annual Banquet Scene of Contest

The University of Michigan Foresters' Club will keep the coveted "Babe the Blue Ox" trophy for the second year.

A session from the U of M defeated State's contender in telling the latest Paul Bunyan tale.

The contest was held in connection with the annual Foresters' Banquet of Michigan State and University of Michigan students Friday.

The winning story was entitled "Save Your Confederate Money, Cause the South Will Rise Again," and was delivered in Southern drawl.

MSU's representative was Carl Frieberg, Detroit sophomore, and spoke on Paul Bunyan's Pajama Machine.

The only four women present judged the event: 2 conservation majors from Ann Arbor, the secretary in the forestry department main office, and the only girl enrolled in forestry at MSU.

Approximately 10 students from the U of M attended the event, sponsored by the Forestry Club, Larry Hoffman, Ironwood Junior, was chairman.

Joseph LaPalombara, assistant professor of political science, was the guest speaker, talking on "Meeting the Challenge of Communism in Western Europe."

The first Foresters' Banquet was held in Howell, Michigan, a point midway between the two schools.

Another alert play set up the second touchdown late in the same period.

Arch Matus, sophomore guard who helped fill in for the injured Emory Robinson, picked off a Larry Dawson pass on the Purdue 33.

State took five plays to score from that point, with halfback Clarence Peaks carrying the final 19 yards.

While the large, hard-charging Purdue line outplayed State for most of the first half, the second was a different story.

Murawski again gave State the opportunity to score when he fumbled and Capt. Buck Nystrom fell on it on the 41.

The drive then started to the 20, sparked by Matus's passing and expert play-calling. From there Kowalsky ripped around left end and pulled away from all.

Then the Spartans added in suit to injury Center John Matus was chosen for the ensuing kickoff and sent a long end-over end kick into the end zone.

From there Ed Neve, the Ball emaker's fleet Hawaiian left half, ran it out to the 20 before he was stopped by Jim Hinesky with a spring tackle which sent the ball flying in the air.

Matus, racing down the field after kicking, gathered in the fumble before it hit the ground and kept right on racing—this time into the end zone behind a convoy of blockers.

Purdue's kick made the score 27-0 and that was all for the scoring column. Purdue's chaffers and State's regulars.

Coach Duffy Dangerly cleared the bench, using a total of 36 players of the 38 that made the trip.

Purdue finally missed its fading strength in the last quarter and marched the ball down to State's three with Dawson's passes leading the way.

But that was the end of the line as a fumble ended their best and last drive.

They came close just before the end of the first half when Dawson, again tossing desperation passes, State held them for three downs in Spartan territory before Dawson, connected with his favorite target end Lamar Lundy, on the three.

But there time ran out as Dawson waved frantically for a time out. The referee later explained that Purdue already had had their allotted five time-outs.

Once again it was Kowalsky, the fast rising sophomore half-back with the rare combination of line-smashing power and tremendous speed, who led the Spartans in ground gaining.

Jack McGrath Dies In Last AAA Race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jack McGrath, who had driven a race car around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway faster than any other man, died Sunday in the last auto race sponsored by the American Automobile Assn.

The veteran Los Angeles driver, who held the Indianapolis 500 mile race qualifying record although he never was able to win the Memorial Day race, lost his life on the 84th lap of the 100-mile Bobby Ball Memorial championship race.

The race, stopped in the 97th lap following another accident, was won by Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix for the second successive year.

McGrath, 35, slipped when he hit a heavy shoulder about three-quarters of the way through the 84th lap.

The Los Angeles driver finished third in the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic in 1951 and was third in American Automobile Assn. point standings in 1954.

Ironically, the race was the last one to be sponsored by the AAA which is withdrawing from sponsorship of auto racing because it says it is not in accordance with its program of safe driving.

McGrath held the qualifying records for both one lap, 2 1/2 miles and 10 miles at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where he was an early leader in four of the last 500-mile Memorial Day races.

The lean veteran fought a roaring duel with Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., for the early lead in the Indianapolis classic last May. McGrath's car went out with ignition trouble at 135 miles and two laps later Vukovich was killed in a four-car pile-up.

McGrath was his own head mechanic and was rated one of the best in the business. He had qualified as one of the three fastest in the Indianapolis field in six of the last seven years. He hit his peak in the trials last May with an unchallenged best lap at 143.793 miles an hour.

His best finishes in the rich Memorial Day race were a third alone in 1954 and a third with Manuel Ayulo of Burbank, Calif., as relief driver in 1951. Ayulo was killed in a practice run accident on the Indianapolis track last May 16.

Flash Cards Big Success

Block S took a vacation over the weekend but its cards didn't.

The colored flash cards were loaned to Lansing Eastern High school for use at Friday night's game between Eastern and Lansing Sexton — the top Lansing public school battle of the year.

The prep card section performed almost perfectly during the game with precision timing and many an off color card in the displays.

The appearance of the card section, a first in Lansing prep circles, was a whopping success to say the least.

At halftime the combined Eastern-Sexton bands saluted Michigan State in a colorful show.

The bands first formed two musical cliffs and saluted the MSU music department and then played two more songs dedicated to State.

They wound up with the Spartan Fight Song with the special fan standing and singing lustily.

As Game Progressed

Purdue Spirit Went Downhill

By ART UNDERWOOD

State News Editor-In-Chief

"Are we going to beat Michigan State?" "Hell, yes," roared back about 20,000 spirited Purdue partisans as the game started.

By the time the fourth quarter rolled around and the scoreboard read 27-0 the hometown crowd, just as loud and just as convincingly came back with "Hell no."

The cheerleader on the PA system tried another tack. Are we going to beat Indiana? The answer was the same, "Hell no."

Saturday was Dads Day in West Lafayette and the Exponent, Purdue's student daily, went all out. In the same skyline banner position that greeted the Spartans two years ago with "Terminator - 1953" the same size type proclaimed, "Live it up Pops."

Inside the paper an editorial encouraged the Dads to have a good time but ended by warning them to keep their hands on their wallets.

The paper built up the game as a battle for third place to which one Spartan fan cracked in front of a group of Boilermakers, "I don't know about you guys but at State we never shoot for anything but the top."

Purdue's "All-American" band saluted the dads in its pregame entrance. At the half

There were, as there always are, a lot of other interesting statistics. Morrill's 80-yard jaunt tied a Big 10 record. Matsko's tally on his own kick-off put him in a very select circle since the records show he is the only collegiate player active today to accomplish this.

The game was Purdue's worst shutout loss since Iowa dumped them 36-0 in 1922 and staged third in their entire record.

The Purdue fans formed a large ring around their dressing room door after the game and continued to cheer, sing school songs and in general act the part of the winners. A passerby was heard to comment, "Hasn't anyone told them?"

At the same time in the Spartan dressing room the grinning players were munching mighty roses, looking apples and listening to Duffy say, "The breaks kind of

Kennedy Again Sets New Record

MSU Takes First Four Positions

The Spartan cross country team swept to their third dual meet win of the season when they easily downed Ohio State Saturday 19-36.

The win, Michigan State's third in a row, saw sophomore Henry Kennedy and junior Capt. Selwyn Jones finished one-two for the fifth straight time.

Michigan State closed the dual meet part of their schedule with a record of three wins and only one loss. The best dual meet record since the 1952 National championship squad.

The first four runners, all Michigan State men, broke the old Ohio State four mile course record of 21:58.8 set in 1954 by John Gutknecht of Ohio Wesleyan.

Kennedy and Jones jumped into the lead at the starting gun and stayed with each other after a 447 foot mile. After that Kennedy took the lead and passed three miles in 13:50. Jones held second place with a 1:59.

The Scots-Canadian finished the four mile grind in 20:05.5, easily breaking the old course record. Jones' second place time was 20:32, almost a minute below the old mark.

Gay Denslow and Terry Block waged a battle for the third position with Denslow pulling away in the late stages of the race to take the place in 21:18. Block's fourth place clocking was 21:26, two-tenths of a second over the old record.

Denslow and Block were together at the mile mark with a 4:55. Denslow took a slight lead at three miles with 15:55 compared with Block's 15:56. Then the Spartans opened the gap.

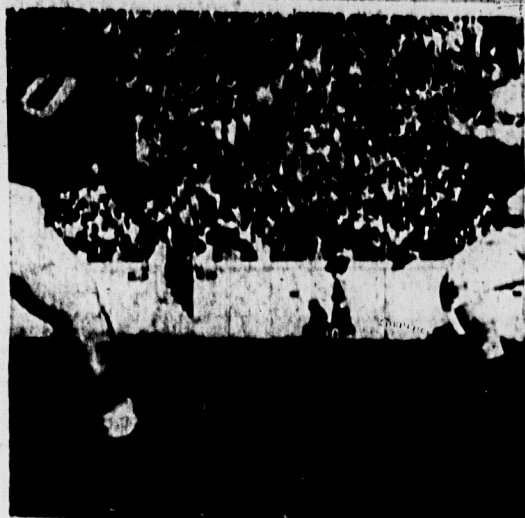

Ohio State showed good team balance by placing the next four men in the race. Dick Bartel captured the fifth place with a 22:07. Bill Blackburn was next with 22:12, and Guy Beretich edged out Bob Coldren for the seventh position with a 22:17. Coldren's time was 22:18.

Spartan Bill Miller led the last two Buckeyes most of the race but Miller's ninth place gave Michigan State the easy triumph. His time was 23:25.

Bill Latschaw of Ohio State was the Bucks fifth man with a 23:03. Spartan Ed Townsend placed 11th with a 23:23. Townsend's Leon Mesler was the last Michigan State runner to finish with a 23:25.

Buckeyes Jack McClain was 12th with 23:56 and Bob Lenka 13th with 24:30.

Michigan State's next meet will be the IC4A championships at New York City Nov. 14.

Pasadena Bound?

Rose Bowl Hopes Rise for Spartans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State's Spartans, suddenly injected into the Rose Bowl picture, put their aspirations on the line this week in a football game of "make or break" significance.

The once-beaten Spartans, their bowl hopes buoyed by Illinois' staggering 25-6 upset of Michigan, close their Big 10 schedule against Minnesota at East Lansing.

A victory for the Spartans and a defeat for Michigan in either of its remaining games with Indiana or Ohio State would shoot Michigan State to Pasadena.

Defending champion Ohio State, 4-0 in the conference compared with 4-1 for its Michigan rivals, is conceded a good chance of handing the Wolverines another loss in their climactic game Nov. 19. The Ohio Buckeyes can't make a repeat visit to the Rose Bowl.

Ohio State, led by All-American Howard Cassady, bumped Indiana 20-13, Saturday while Michigan State was beating Purdue 27-0.

In other Big 10 games, Iowa stampeded over Minnesota, 26-0, in a regionally televised contest, and Wisconsin rolled over hapless Northwestern, 41-14.

Outside the conference, Notre Dame battered Penn., 46-14, and Detroit whipped Marquette, 20-7. Illinois, spearheaded by an unknown substitute sophomore, pulled probably the biggest upset of the day. Bob Mitchell, a 20-year-old from Hot Springs, Ark., subbing for Harry Jefferson, ripped off a 64-yard touchdown run in the final quarter to put the Illini out of reach.

Coed Teams Beat Purdue In 2-Meets

Swimming, Fencing Score Easy Wins

The coed swimming and fencing teams duplicated the feat of the football team by trouncing Purdue teams Saturday. The coed swimming squad posted a 48-19 triumph while the fencers had an easy 8-1 win.

In swimming MSU coeds took first place in every event and scored second in four others.

The first place winners were Mary Spruell in the 40 and 100 yard back crawl, Mary Appelhof, 40 yard breast stroke and 60 yard individual medley, Jean King, 40 yard free style and Sally Sevearth, 200 yard freestyle.

In the free style relay first place went to a team composed of Miss Appelhof, King, Sevearth and Nancy Pavette. First place in the medley relay was taken by Misses Spruell, Appelhof and Pavette.

The seconds were taken by Resnelle Scott in the 40 and 100 yard back crawl, Miss King in the 60 yard individual medley and Miss Sevearth in the 40 yard freestyle. Peg Mitchell placed fourth in the 40 yard breast stroke.

In the fencers first intercollegiate meet the newly organized squad won eight of nine bouts with a total point score of 33-12.

Individual bout scores were: Nancy Beardsley, 4-0, 4-0, 4-1; Mary Beardsley, 4-0, 4-1; Sherie McNally, 4-0, 4-3 and Dot Tyndall, 4-0, 1-1.

Next Saturday the Spartans will meet the Detroit City Club at home while the fencers have a tournament in Detroit Sunday.
