Face Marquette Saturday

13 Seniors in Final Tilt

By JACK BERRY
State News Night Editor

The splendid Spartans close an unusually successful season Saturday against Marquette University, one of State's oldest foes, with the Warriors rated anywhere from four to five touchdowns underdogs.

Even if Michigan beats Ohio State and the Wolverines chances are good, State partisans have little cause to complain.

At the season's start most national prognosticators saw another year of gloom for the Spartans. They saw possibly a 4-5 or a 5-4 record at best.

Head Coach Duffy Daugherty and his staff built a powerful offense machine around his return after winners. The sophomores came through better than expected with four of them in the starting lineup.

The team reached its peak of perfection against Notre Dame.

Cassady Suffers Minor Injuries In Auto Accident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Howard "Hopalong" Cassady, Ohio State's All-American football halfback, suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident Thursday while driving home from his home classes.

He complained of a sore neck after another car hit his auto from behind when he was making a turn in the north side of Columbus.

Frank Biggs, OSU football trainer and doctors said the injury was not serious and should not keep him out of Saturday's Big 10 classic at Michigan.

Team physicians said X-rays showed no bone injury and Cassady took part in full-scale drills a few hours after the accident.

There was that one defeat, one that will be remembered a long time but the score cannot be charged. State had scoring opportunities but couldn't put the ball over.

Michigan capitalized on two mistakes and that was the game. It takes a good team to do that.

Since that time the Spartans have capitalized on Stanford Wisconsin and Purdue mistakes. That is one of the reasons why they have won seven times this season.

MSU Group Takes Play To Schools

'Marco Polo' Set Goes to 16 Cities

By JACKIE OLDHAM

A bit of the fabulous Cathay of the Kubla Khan is going on before the eyes of children throughout Michigan this month.

MSU's Children's Theater started their fall term touring Nov. 8 with Geraldine Silks version of the life and travels of "Marco Polo."

A total of sixteen performances will be given by the students. The traveling theater will cover Hillsdale, Jackson, Pleasant Grove, Lansing, Grand Rapids and Marshall among other Michigan cities. A final performance in East Lansing will end the tour Sunday.

This term there will be more performances than the group has presented in any other term so far. Performances are scheduled on the request of groups who wish to sponsor them in their towns.

Sexton Asks Education Of Workers

Stewart Elected Assn. President

By GENE RITZINGER

The Assn. of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities ended its 1955 meeting Thursday after hearing a labor educator plead for land-grant services to industrial classes.

Quoting from the Morrill Act which established the land-grant system, Brendan Sexton, executive director of the United Farm Workers (UFW), said land-grant institutions are obligated to "teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanical arts in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life."

It has been a very long time between the original direction to the land-grant colleges and any interest by them in the industrial classes, Sexton said.

Insisting the land-grant colleges must obey the terms of their charters, Sexton demanded educational opportunities for the worker equal to those of the farmer.

"The workers," he said, "are not only the backbone of the nation but also the backbone of the economy. They are the ones who produce the goods and services that we all need. They are the ones who pay the taxes that support our government. They are the ones who are the backbone of the nation."

He compared the lack of education being given to the workers to the lack of education being given to the workers. He said that the workers are the backbone of the nation and that they should be given the same educational opportunities as the farmers.

To aid industrial classes, Sexton proposed the land-grant institutions expand adult education programs, give courses in the social history of America so students will have a more complete understanding of the labor movement in America, and conduct studies of the social impact of leisure time upon industrial workers which he said will result when the age of automation arrives.

The association and heard from Howard Brinkley, executive vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who said that the manufacturers are interested in the workers and that they should be given the same educational opportunities as the farmers.

Brinkley said that the manufacturers are interested in the workers and that they should be given the same educational opportunities as the farmers.

New Schedule

Library Stays Open Until 11 Every Evening

Students may now use library facilities until 11 p.m. seven days a week under the new time schedule set up this year.

From Monday to Friday the library is open at 10 a.m. and closes at 11 p.m. On Saturdays the hours are from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. and on Sundays from 12 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Last summer the books on assigned readings, the current periodicals, the home economics collection and the U.S. moved from the old library annex to the ground floor of the new library.

The periodicals, textbooks and microfilm collections were moved to the north wing of the ground floor of the new building.

It is made way for a new telephone exchange which will be in operation in the basement of the old main library.

Microfilm and microfiche can be found in the basement area of the new library. With the exception of the collections mentioned above the remainder of the books are still in the old main library.

Books are now more easily accessible to the students in the field of "Education of Agricultural Workers."

Final business of the association, which held its 65th annual meeting here to commemorate MSU's 100th anniversary, was election of new officers.

Dr. Irvin Stewart, president of the University of West Virginia, succeeded Dr. Lewis W. Jones of New Jersey's Rutgers University.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Vaccine Production Increases

Don't Let Manners Sag Win or Lose, We'll Act Like Champs

In spite of the wintry gales raging outside, the scent of roses is becoming stronger by the hour.

About 4 p.m. Saturday, the whistle will blow ending the Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor. At that time, the Spartans will know once and for all whether their team will play in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

If Ohio State wins, Green and White rooters can begin preparations for the trip to Pasadena. Such a result will undoubtedly bring joy to Spartans both here on campus and wherever they may be congregating.

It will be a big day for MSU, and it can be expected that students will want to give vent to their enthusiasm.

That's fine, and certainly no one can object to a reasonable amount of celebration. Even at a happy time like this, however, some degree of restraint is needed.

This restraint has not always been observed on similar occasions at other universities. During this past season, our brothers at Ann Arbor were carried away over a pep rally, leaving a number of red Wolverine faces.

So far this year, Spartans have conducted themselves in a way for which the university can be proud. Administration officials have often commented on the fine student behavior at football games, pep rallies, and other occasions.

Spartans can live up to their reputation by showing dignity and humility in victory, or good sportsmanship in case of defeat. If they do this much, nothing more can be asked.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

Male Dress Is All Right

MSU Needn't Fear 'Cow College' Title

To the Editor:

Referring to the letter in Monday's State News, I have a question. Just what is the stigma attached to Michigan State's reputation as a "Cow College"? We should be proud of the nickname.

Haven't we just concluded our Centennial celebration commemorating our beginning as the first land-grant college?

At one time this summer, there were over 20 million dollars worth of farm machinery on our campus, the largest exhibit of its kind in history.

Anyone who sneers a so-called "dumb farmer" just doesn't belong here at State.

There is an old saying, "Clothes do not make the man." Personally, I have never seen a dirty pair of khakis or jeans on campus, nor have I seen them worn on a date. I agree that the men should dress for dinner. However, it is a proven fact that you can study better if you are comfortable.

What's wrong with jeans and sports shirts as long as they are clean and pressed?

Let's face it, no matter how we dress or how many Rose Bowl teams and Henry Kennedys we have, we are still a "cow college." Let's be proud of it.

David L. Cook

Who Cares?

To the Editor:

This letter is written in reply to the letter published in the State News criticizing the male dress on our campus.

First of all, we would like to point out to the gentlemen who wrote the letter that we don't personally care whether or not our dress is the same as that of the "Ivy Leaguers."

If a majority of the male or female population of MSU did care, undoubtedly the change from our present "cow college" dress to the "in-the-style dress" of the Ivy Leaguers would come about.

As for MSU not being able to lose its cow college reputation due to our dress, what makes you think we want to lose it at all? In case you have forgotten, the cow is still an important part of the American way of life.

When the Ivy Leaguers come up with a substitute for the cow, let us know and we'll be more than willing to forget our past.

The description given of the male dress is good for one thing—a few laughs at the expense of the authors. First of all, there are very few levis worn to class. Secondly, the favorite style of khakis worn at the present time is called the "Ivy League style." We don't know if that means anything or not, but since it is Ivy League style it must be good.

Also, in reference to the line which in part reads, "dress in T-shirts and or sneakers," we have often seen them worn together but never as substitutes for each other.

We don't want those of you who wear slacks and dress shirts to class to stop, but we do wish that you would let the rest of us alone if we wish to continue wearing Ivy League khakis.

Sympathy Accepted

U of M Still Has Pride In 'Scholastic Standing'

To Mr. Fox, Mr. Chapman,

and 32 Others:

We the men and women of the University of Michigan, accept your deep sympathy. The Michigan campus, however, contrary to your apparent belief, is not bedecked in black this week after losing one game. We readily admit our losses, and don't try to make excuses for them as the students at the agricultural university in East Lansing do. Examples: the Michigan State-Michigan games of the past two years. After all, the University of Michigan's fame is not founded on its football wins. We are proud of our fine scholastic standing, far superior to that of Michigan State UNIVERSITY. Our pride in our school stems not from our trips to the Rose Bowl, but from the knowledge we have gained while students at this great university.

A Fine Reputation

Campus Jazz Society Needs Room to Expand

To the Editor:

Michigan State University has been criticized for its lack of culture. Yet on campus, we have a jazz society equal to that of any college east of the Michigan border.

The guys and gals who contribute to the Jazz Society of West Circle Drive are proud of its past achievements. We have a fine reputation on many other campuses. But we have, as of the present, no place to work, improve, and grow.

The university is anxious to provide for many cultural activities. Yet jazz, which is so much a part of our musical existence, has no place on campus to develop. Any type of esthetic expression needs room in which to "find" itself. And jazz is as definitely an esthetic expression as modern art or dancing.

Since the beginning of the term, we of the Jazz Society have been cramped into an available room every Tuesday night and warned not to make too much noise. We need some place especially set aside for the development of modern music.

We need the support of everyone who is interested in helping a comparatively young and steadily growing group of students interested in expressing new and different musical ideas. It is as much helping us as it is helping Michigan State to a greater reputation as a promoter of culture and artistic expression.

'Not Us'

Howland Innocent

To the Editor:

We men of Howland House would like it plainly understood that the article on morals of Spartan Coeds wasn't written by anyone from our house, nor does it contain any of our opinions. After the appearance of the article, we were bombarded with about twenty phone calls from the coeds on campus. The article was written by one House, who incidentally is not listed in the student directory.

The men at our house would be at peace with the world at the present time. We like the average MSU coed and think we should have more of them. As far as the sex and alcohol issue goes, good or bad, it is here to stay.

We realize that there are many social adjustments to be made at college and that these adjustments are found difficult by some. Probably the person who used the phony name of "Howland House" has found the social adjustment difficult.

The Men of Howland House

RE: Letter on Morals

The State News Thursday printed a letter from a "Howland House" about "morals" of MSU's coeds.

We failed to check on the identity before printing the letter and we are deeply embarrassed to find that there is no Howland House at MSU.

By Thursday night we had received over 30 letters containing MSU womanhood and blaming the letterwriter for his "out dating ability and immaturity."

The letterwriters were even divided between male and female and all firmly denouncing "Howland."

Because of the number of letters and their length, the complete rout of "Howland" more letters will be printed unless the original letterwriter wishes to identify himself and personally defend his claims.

Crowded Weekend Schedule To Climax Term Activities

IFC, PanHel To Sponsor Greek Ball

'Grecian Dream' Set for Saturday

By ALBERTA BANKY

A busy weekend looms into view with the Greeks' semi-formal dance, frosh-soph activities on the last football game of the season setting the tempo.

Greeks will begin their weekend activities with their tenth annual semi-formal dance entitled "Grecian Dream."

The dance is to be held Saturday night at the Dell's Terrace from 9-12 and is sponsored by the Pan Hellenic and Interfraternity Councils. Bob Eberhart will provide the music along with entertainment during intermissions.

The ruins of Greece, portrayed by columns spaced at uneven intervals around the ballroom, will set an appropriate atmosphere. Also, every sorority and fraternity will be represented by their Green flag.

The annual dance usually climaxes Greek Week. This year Greek Week has been postponed until spring term in order to combine the week's festivities with the Greek Festival and the Fraternity and Sorority Sing.

Robinson Co-op has a term party scheduled for Friday night and the Agriculture and Economics club will have a hayride.

Campus 4-H club and the MSU 4-H service club are planning a party for the County 4-H service members, Saturday following the game at 5. The party will take place at 31 Union.

Major Goal Attained by Coed Judge

By SUE ANDERSON

Travel and excitement are the result of hours of practice and study for Carolyn Carter, Clair sophomore and member of the MSU senior cattle judging team.

Carolyn has traveled throughout Michigan, to an Inter-Collegiate contest at Purdue and the American Royal Contest at Kansas City, Mo. During Thanksgiving vacation she will attend the International Livestock Exhibition in Chicago. This contest is the final goal of senior team members and their last contest on the Collegiate level.

As a 4-H member for eight years, Carolyn spent much of her time judging. In the Purdue contest she took 1st place in judging beef cattle and placed 5th in judging beef cattle at Kansas City.

At present the judging team spends nine hours per week in class and visits nearby ranches and colleges on weekends for more practice. Carolyn's experience and knowledge are also put to use by her parents who are commercial Hereford cattle dealers.

As an Agriculture Journalism major Carolyn is a member of the minority sex in the College of Agriculture and so far the only girl judging at all of the contests she has attended.

According to Carolyn, "It's an opportunity to learn and a chance to meet a lot of people, but a disadvantage to be the only girl working with 60 or more fellows."

Christian Student Foundation is having an ice skating party this evening at 7:30. The event will be held at the MSU skating rink and will be followed by refreshments at College House.

Sunday evening CSF will hold communion services at Campus Vespers at 7:30. Open houses will be held at College House and Wesley House following the service.

Sunday the Methodist Breakfast at 9:45 a.m. at Wesley House will present a panel of international students who will discuss "Re-thinking the World Mission of the Church."

Two new initiates of Alpha Epsilon Phi are Beattie Shapiro, Long Beach, New York, sophomore, and Marlene Wellington, Lansing sophomore.

Alpha Delta Pi has two types of philanthropy. The first is the 1951 Fellowship Fund in remembrance of the society's founders. The $165,000 fund provides one graduate scholarship a year to an outstanding foreign woman.

The gift allows study at any school but carries with it the stipulation that the woman will return to her own country to apply her knowledge.

Also covered by the fund are 12 to 15 smaller grants for qualified foreign women already in the U. S. who wish to take graduate training. They are also asked to return to their homelands.

We're Lucky

By JOANNE BECKER
State News Society Editor

This is a Thanksgiving message.

Some people will call it corny, but we believe it, and because we have a certain amount of faith in human beings, we figure that most of our readers will agree with us.

They used to tell us a story in grade school about Pilgrims and Indians and the first Thanksgiving. We believed the story, and we'd go home thinking how lucky we were.

We were, and we still are, lucky!

Most of us have nothing more to worry about than whether MSU will make the Rosebowl and in the case of coeds, which pair of knee socks to wear if it turns cold.

Sure, our studies bother us, and we missed a meeting last week, and dad had better send the check or we'll be eating snow under the front bushes. But what real worries do we have? none!

These second rate non-conformists who run around with the troubles of the world on their shoulders make us weary. Non-conformism seems to be at a high ebb in today's college world. So be it! But, let misery suffer alone.

So what if the world's in a sad state! Somebody once told me of a way to cure mental troubles... if you can remedy it, do it and forget it... if you can't do anything, why worry?

Good stuff, we'd say... and good advice too.

So, for those who need it, we recommend taking this advice, and please, leave we thankful people alone.

Alpha Delta Pi to Colonize on Campus

By JEAN GREGORY

Alpha Delta Pi sorority recently announced its intention to colonize on the MSU campus, bringing the total number of sororities to 20.

Maxine Blake, grand national president of the sorority, who visited the campus last week, said that 20 to 25 juniors and seniors who have rushed before will be pledged this term and these coeds will rush more members during the regular winter rushing session.

Mrs. Rex Van Alkan, Alpha Delta Pi field counselor from Wellesley, Mass., will interview rushers who have been recommended to the national council. Local Alpha Delta Pi alumnae will also assist with rush and some will hold parties in their homes.

Miss Blake, who is from Seattle, Wash., said that the U. of M. chapter of Alpha Delta Pi will help this fall's pledge with winter rush. No definite plans have been made for a place to hold the parties next term.

Sally Cramer, Alpha Delta Pi senior transfer from the University of Washington in Seattle, will also be interviewing rushmen this fall and will serve as charter chapter president when the group is formed.

Alice Starr, a junior from the University of Washington, and Lynn Wassberg, a sophomore from the U. of M., will transfer to join Miss Cramer winter term. They were all chosen by the sorority's Grand Council to carry on the colonization.

Founded on May 15, 1851, at Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga., Alpha Delta Pi claims the distinction of being the oldest women's secret society, and the first step toward the sorority system. Wesleyan College was the first in the U. S. to grant academic degrees to women.

The sorority has 84 collegiate chapters and 250 alumnae groups. Total membership is in excess of 40,000 which places the sorority among the top five in National Pan Hellenic Council with regard to size.

Alpha Delta Pi is also one of three national Greek women's organizations to own its headquarters, which are located in Atlanta, Ga.

Alpha Delta Pi has two types of philanthropy. The first is the 1951 Fellowship Fund in remembrance of the society's founders. The $165,000 fund provides one graduate scholarship a year to an outstanding foreign woman.

The gift allows study at any school but carries with it the stipulation that the woman will return to her own country to apply her knowledge.

Also covered by the fund are 12 to 15 smaller grants for qualified foreign women already in the U. S. who wish to take graduate training. They are also asked to return to their homelands.

Today's Campus

... Last Resort

During registration there is much confusion. One student in particular is having difficulty in arranging his schedule. While looking for his enrollment officer he bumped into a gentleman looking man (unknown to the student, dean of the department) and said, "Hey Mac, could you tell me when this office is open?" The dean replied, "Maybe I can help you."

The student quite disgruntled retorted, "I doubt if the dean himself could help me," and snubbed off.

Chandnois, Wells, Kowalezyk

14 Proves Lucky Number

By JUNE TURNER
Fourteen was a lucky number for Lynn Chandnois and Billy Wells when they rose to gridiron fame at Michigan State.

A fitting successor in the right halfback spot looks like Walt Kowalezyk, 198-pound sophomore from Westfield, Mass., who also wears number 14.

This season Kowalezyk has shown that he has what it takes to be an outstanding player. He can block and tackle, is more than capable defensively, and is the fastest man on the team.

During high school, Kowalezyk ran the 100-yard dash in 16 flat but lately has been concentrating his speed on the football field.

Against Wisconsin, Kowalezyk dashed 72 yards for a touchdown the first time State got the ball and early in the fourth quarter ran 24 yards to clinch State's fifth victory in six starts.

Following the game, Ivy Williamson, head Badger coach, stated that Kowalezyk was the best back he has ever seen.

In the Notre Dame game Kowalezyk gained 91 yards tying Jerry Plamatis for rushing honors. He also had two runs totaling 43 yards called back by penalties.

Although he is making a name in football, Kowalezyk lettered in four varsity sports in high school—football, baseball, basketball, and track.

Rated high on his list of honors is the Harry Agganis Award given to the outstanding high school athlete in New England.

Agganis was the former Boston University All-American and Red Sox first baseman who died this year.

Kowalezyk switched from fullback to halfback during his freshman year at State.

"Although it really doesn't make much difference," he commented, "I like playing halfback better."

Much of his present football ability Kowalezyk credits to his high school coach Bill Jenkins.

"I'd picked up a little football on my own before I started high school but didn't really know much until Bill Jenkins coached me."

According to Kowalezyk, playing Big 10 football for Michigan State is the biggest thrill he's ever had.

As possible future plans he names pro ball and a coaching career.

Turkey Bowl Makes Debut

The Turkey Bowl, a new touch football "classic" between A and B wings of Rafter Hall, will have its initiation Saturday at the Old College Field. Kickoff time is 10 a.m.

An added highlight will be the selection of a queen from the gallery of coeds present.

Players representing the teams were picked by a Rafter Hall vote.

Burt Smith, Michigan State's defensive line coach, formerly played pro baseball and hockey.

Green reserves include Duane Franskovic, Joe Reading, Leon Fox and Jim Raymond. Whites are Chuck Benzie, Dave Kasper and Ralph Anderson.

Saturday's scrimmage will be the first workout for the Spartans on the Fieldhouse court. Previously, due to the necessity of keeping the area clear for football practice in case of rain, the cagers have practiced in the gymnasium.

Cagers to Scrimmage Before Coaches' Clinic

By JOE HOFFMAN
State News Night Editor

Basketball fans will get their first look at the 1955-56 Michigan State basketball squad Saturday morning when the first full scrimmage takes place as part of the third annual Basketball Coaches' Clinic.

Coach Fordy Anderson has divided the squad into two evenly matched teams with tipoff time scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Starting for the Green squad will be George Ferguson and Bill Hillmeyer at the forwards, Duane Peterson at center, and Al Rosenberg and Harry Lux at the guards.

Larry Hedden and Julius McCoy will start at the forward slots for the White team, with Max Gorenbaum at center and Jack Quiggle and Walt Godfrey at the guard positions. Of the 10 starters, four are sophomores, with only McCoy and Peterson back from last year's starting five.

Saturday's scrimmage will be the first workout for the Spartans on the Fieldhouse court. Previously, due to the necessity of keeping the area clear for football practice in case of rain, the cagers have practiced in the gymnasium.

The Coaches' Clinic gets underway this morning at 9 with registration and then a welcoming address by Athletic Director Biggie Munn.

Featured along with Anderson and his assistants, John Benington and Bob Stevens, will be Jack Nagle, head basketball coach at Marquette University.

Famed for his 1-3-1 offense, Nagle will demonstrate the double pivot offense and will also show some special plays and drills in the afternoon.

Nagle had an extremely successful year at Marquette last year, finishing with a 24-3 record and ranking among the top 10 teams in the nation. One of Marquette's losses was the 91-72 shellacking dealt the Warriors by Michigan State in the season opener for the two schools.

Following Saturday's session and luncheon in Kellogg Center, the more than 200 high school coaches will be the guests of Michigan State at the Marquette football game.

In discussing practice to date Anderson said that the team looked pretty good and that a scrimmage with the freshmen Thursday was "quite satisfactory."

Saturday's game will be played under actual game conditions, with both the clock and scoreboard being used.

Students are invited to attend the game free of charge.

Uclans-USC Fear Weather This Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The weatherman predicted Thursday that playing conditions may be anything but good for the UCLA-Southern California football game Saturday, which might be construed as giving the Uclans an even better chance of winning.

The weather prophet predicted the threat of rain Friday night.

The two Pacific Coast conference rivals square off in Memorial Coliseum before a sellout 100,000-plus crowd.

UCLA, already a slight favorite, would move up a bit in the mud of slippery going.

Southern California, dependent on the shifty timing of halfback Jon Arnett, has been anything but happy in bad weather.

They lost to a supposedly inferior Washington team in the mud, to Minnesota in the snow and to a fighting Stanford team in the smog.

UCLA, of course, was the ball of fire in the squashy going against Maryland when the Bruins suffered their sole loss of the season, 7-0.

If the field is slow or soggy, the heralded duel between Arnett and UCLA's left halfback, Sam Brown, might give way to a duel between the starting fullbacks.

3 Booters Try For Olympics

The NCAA Olympic Sports Committee has invited three players from the Michigan State Soccer Club to compete for positions on the 1956 Olympic Soccer team. Ray Burdette, Art Souther and Doug Malcolm received the honor and they play in the Midwestern trial games at Chicago on Saturday. Those who qualify at Chicago will advance to competition at St. Louis, Missouri. Finals will be held in New York City.

Forty men from 23 schools have been invited to compete in trials at Chicago, and the total will advance to St. Louis. The Spartan club finished the 1955 season with a 7-1 record.

Mountaineer Head Coach Threatened

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Art (Pappy) Lewis, West Virginia University's football coach, got this letter in the mail Thursday:

"This is to warn you that unless you want something terrible to happen to you and your team, don't beat Syracuse next Saturday. This is not a crank letter and we are well enough organized to make you very sorry if you fail to heed our warning. DON'T TRY TO CROSS US. PAPPY AS WE WILL HAVE SOMEONE THERE WATCHING EVERYTHING."

Lewis commented: "They sure picked a fine day. Everybody in the stands will be holding rifles with it being Mountaineer Day."

SELWYN JONES HENRY KENNEDY
... vie for top honors ...

In Cross Country

State Favored In Big 10 Meet

Running their second championship meet in five days, the Michigan State cross country team will meet the Big 10 champions in the 40th annual Big 10 championship at Chicago, Ill., Saturday.

After being nosed out for the 1954 title Monday, the Spartans enter this meet as the favorite to win both the team and individual titles.

Head coach Karl Schladehan will enter the same team that ran in New York on Monday. They are Capt. Selwyn Jones, Henry Kennedy, Gay Denslow, Terry Block, Bill Miller, Ed Townsend and Leon Mesler.

The Spartans in five years have won three championships and were runners-up the other two years. Their last victory was in 1953.

Last year Michigan State finished second behind a dark horse Michigan team. The Wolverines did not defend their title today.

Michigan State has been impressive against Big 10 teams in dual meets this year. The Spartans won easily over Ohio State and Wisconsin.

Kennedy and Jones will be the Spartans' main threats for the individual honors. Kennedy, who was winner in the IC4A meet, is the heavy favorite to win the team title.

The 23-year-old Scots-Catholics has run four miles in 19:28.3, the fastest ever run by a collegian. The course and meet record for the four-mile Washington Park is 19:05 set by Iowa's Rich Felt in the 1952 Big 10 meet.

Jones, the Spartans' 28-year-old captain, has run four miles in 20 minutes flat, the second fastest clocking in the Big 10. The Canadian junior placed in the IC4A meet after the Kennedy-Jones ran one-two in five straight meets.

Denslow ran his best race of the year in the IC4A and finished eighth, only a second behind Jones. Last year Denslow finished third in the meet with a 20:26, his fastest four mile.

The chief threats to the Spartans will be the Iowa Hawkeyes and the Illinois Indians. The Hawkeyes have two candidates for the individual honors in Deacon Jones and Ted Wheeler.

Deacon Jones was undefeated until last Saturday when the Chicago Track Club's Phil Coleman beat the Iowa sophomore over a five mile course.

Illinois will enter a team that has good balance. The top runners are Karl Johnson, Tom Luker and Vern Scheuring. Illinois finished third last year but was only six points behind Michigan State.

The Spartans will arrive home tonight and then will begin preparations for the N-CAA championship on campus Nov. 28.

Sport Shorts

Jack Robinson, of the Dodge, has played four positions in five World Series. First base in 1947, second base in 1949 and 1952, left field in 1953 and third base in 1955.

When Rocky Harris managed the Senators last season they won 13 of 21 games from the Tigers. This year Harris, as manager of the Tigers, had let his team to six out of eight from the Senators.

Finale

The last week of the season, but what a week. They're still still trying to settle a question that was in everyone's mind at the beginning of the season. Who's going to the Rose Bowl?

The answer to that question will be decided in Michigan's gigantic stadium Saturday. A loss or a tie by the Wolverines and Michigan State is in. If they win, well, there is always the old Brooklyn saying "Wait 'till next year."

The Lushwell poll average is up with a record of 88 wins and 52 losses, good for a .620 percentage.

Selections in Capitals

ILLINOIS at Northwestern — The Wildcats have lost much of their fight.

Purdue at INDIANA — A battle between Lennie Dawson and Gene Chichowski.

Ohio State at MICHIGAN — The Wolves just have too much Iowa at NOTRE DAME — It's been a disappointing season for the Hawkeyes.

WISCONSIN at Minnesota — After the Gophers played MSU, what else?

OKLAHOMA at Nebraska — The Sooners sew up the number one spot in the nation.

LSU at ARKANSAS — The Razorbacks are having a late season surge.

AUBURN at Clemson — When Tigers and Wildcats get together, watch out.

SMU at Baylor — Both will be trying to break losing streaks.

Florida at VANDERBILT — The Commodores will have to outfight the Gators.

Wake Forest at DUKE — The Blue Devils outwit the Deacons.

Harvard at YALE — Morey's will be celebrating Saturday night.

PITT at Penn State — Pitt looks better every week.

PRINCETON at Dartmouth — Royce Flippin shifts into high gear.

Syracuse at WEST VIRGINIA — The Mountaineers must rebound to be considered for a bowl.

TENNESSEE at Kentucky — The Volunteers trap the Wildcats.

Rice at TCU — The Horned Frogs rolling toward the South West conference title.

Virginia at NORTH CAROLINA — It's been a dull season for both squads.

Southern Cal at UCLA — The Bruins roll even without Ronnie Knox.

California at STANFORD — Chuck Taylor and his Indians are one of the best on the coast.

State-Marquette Ends Grid Rivalry

By JACK BERRY
State News Night Editor

While all eyes in the Big 10 will turn toward Ann Arbor Saturday the end of an era will take place in Marquette, Mich. as the Warriors of Marquette University meet Michigan State in one of the year's biggest over-matches.

In 1909 the Aggies from MAC first met Marquette. Since that time Michigan State has won 17, lost six and tied one. The last Marquette victory was in 1942 by a 28-7 score, the largest total they have been able to turn up against State.

Since that time the Warriors have been skidding down the ladder of success rapidly. In 1953, however, when Marquette gave the Spartans a harrowing experience before losing, 25-15, they boasted of a 6-3-1 record and were supposed to have one of the best grid teams in the Midwest in 1954.

They didn't fare as well as expected, however, gaining only a 3-5-1 record. This year they have won two, lost five and tied one.

Like the University of Detroit, also a Catholic institution, Marquette made the decision to go all out to win in the big time of college athletics. This is not something that can be accomplished overnight, however, and the Warriors are faced with more lean autumns.

Meanwhile the gridiron competition between the Spartans and the Warriors is about to end. It has been a good association, and we look forward to the day football relations with Marquette will be renewed.

Why do more college men and women smoke than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance — cellulose — found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. You, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers on mass report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it ever had a filter tip ... and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters.

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette ... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!
