Like Gives Mueller New Job

Appointed to Commerce Post

Frederick H. Mueller, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, MSU's governing body, was appointed an assistant secretary of commerce Tuesday by President Eisenhower.

He replaced Lothair Teetor, who resigned.

Mueller, 62, was named on a recess appointment which will require Senate confirmation in January.

The President signed an executive order allowing Mueller to continue serving on the Ag Board, providing the holding of such office does not conflict with his present duties as an officer of the Federal Government.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty indicated the White House did not think there would be any conflict of interest. He pointed out the sole purpose of the Ag Board is to serve as governing body of MSU.

FREDERICK H. MUELLER
... new position ...

Mueller is a furniture manufacturer from Grand Rapids. He graduated from MSU in 1914 and has been an Ag Board member since 1945. His term expires Dec. 31, 1957.

The outgoing assistant secretary is the former head of the Detroit Circle Corp., piston ring manufacturer. The firm's New Castle, Ind., foundry has been in a long strike marked by violence.

Teetor has been under fire for the CIO for a year.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks announced last month Teetor would stay in government service until Nov. 30. There was no explanation why he left early.

Michigan for Adlai' Report Gets Denial

LANSING (AP)—Neil Staebler, Democratic State chairman, today denied published reports that the Michigan delegation would be "delivered" to Adlai E. Stevenson on the second ballot at the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

Staebler, who has been represented as a Stevenson supporter, told the State Central Committee he had telegraphed a denial to a national magazine (Life) of a report that he and August Wood, State CIO president, would hand the Michigan votes to Stevenson after a token first ballot vote for Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Staebler said the delegation would not be delivered by any one official and recalled that the last Democratic State Convention pledged its support to Williams for whatever office he may seek in 1956.

"That is the Michigan party's position until changed by convention vote," Staebler said.

The Central Committee by resolution condemned the Republican-controlled state senate for what it said was an "interference" with the Michigan delegation's right to vote with Republican "young Turks" in the House regarding injury to mentally retarded children.

The resolution said that the senate is an example of the vicious result of an unjust appointment which Democrats claim prevents the Senate from properly representing the popular will.

Union Yule

Signs of Christmas To Greet Spartans

By ANNE TODOR

Traditional signs of Christmas can be seen throughout the Union due to the works of Jerry Chenoweth, East Lansing senior, chairman of the Union Board decorations committee.

Every year, following the Thanksgiving vacation, the board members return to the campus early Sunday morning to decorate the Union. The decorations are taken down during Christmas vacation.

In the concourse posters by Tom Cummings, last year's chairman and spring graduate, adorn the pillars. The famous poem by Clement Moore, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," is the theme of the posters. This is the second year the posters have been used.

The Christmas tree in the lounge was obtained from the Kellogg estate in Battle Creek. The university cuts a tree from this estate every year. The board announced that there are approximately sixteen strings of lights on the tree along with about 200 ornaments accumulated over fifteen years.

Plastic snowflake mobiles can be seen in the concourse along with pastel colored stars and figures.

The grill is lavishly decorated with Santa and his helpers. Gordon Sinclair, first junior, did most of the work on the eight foot replica of Santa Claus which stands in the grill across from the nukebox.

The board of the five foot wide structure was done by an unknown art student who has graduated. The board has been used for a number of years; the committee said.

The doors leading to the grill will be painted by Rita Walther, Chicago, Illinois, junior. She plans to have the doors finished by today. One of the doors will feature a Rose Bowl motif and a Happy New Year wish to all.

The second floor of the Union will be decorated with garlands. Students, including the Spartans Bill Hingens will help in the decorating. The quarter from the Men's Glee Club will also be decorated. Dennis Pond, Detroit senior, will give some readings.

Monday evening there will be group singing for the student body in the lounge.

At White House Conference

Educators Convene Amid Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—The long-heralded White House conference on education, climaxing what President Eisenhower calls "the most thorough widespread and concerted study ever made" of American educational problems, opens Monday night with battle raging.

Charges of "stacking" suspicion that the conference was called as a platform for the Eisenhower administration's educational ideas, and a lot of just plain hurt feelings were already simmering Sunday as 1,400 state delegates and nearly 6,000 representatives converged on Washington.

Pervading all will be the issue of federal aid for education. Advance plans call for this question to take up only a comparatively small portion of the program. Reports from state conferences leading up to the national meeting indicate, however, that it may pop up at any time.

Accusations that the conference was being "rigged" for or against "professional educators as compared to the public, or for or against federal aid, have been flying since midsummer.

An Associated Press survey of 46 states showed 493 delegates—school administrators, teachers or school board members—are identified with edu-

Question—What Did Nikita Say?

Reds Disagree On H-Bomb Power

OOTACAMUND, India (AP)—Did Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev say million or millions when he described the TNT tonnage equivalent of Russia's newest and biggest hydrogen bomb?

The Russians couldn't seem to agree on it Sunday.

Khrushchev told an Indian audience in Bangalore Saturday the Soviet Union recently exploded a nuclear weapon of "maximum" strength. His Russian interpreter, translating his words phrase by phrase, quoted him as saying it "exceeded the force of a million tons of TNT."

All but one of the Russian newsmen on the scene, however, reported Khrushchev said "millions of tons." The hold-out said he heard it as one million tons. No official text of the speech was released by Russian or Indian officials.

A Soviet government announcement from Moscow simply stated it was "the most powerful of all explosions carried out until now" by the Russians.

A U.S. Atomic Energy Commission statement last Wednesday, the first announcement of the explosion, indicated it equaled millions of tons of TNT.

The United States exploded a hydrogen bomb in the Pacific last year that was reckoned at 15 to 17 millions tons of TNT.

Thus, the comparative nuclear might of the United States and the Soviet Union hinged on the turn-of-translation of a phrase, not to mention a few million tons of TNT.

But the whole question appears to dim and remote here Sunday as Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, continuing their tour of India, turned agricultural and peacefully instructed some of India's most exotic coffee, tea, coconut and banana plantations.

Small coastal communities are now believed definitely to be part of the military equipment consigned to the Egyptians. Half a dozen of these obscure infernal craft are included as part of the deal.

Michigan State placed eighth in the collegiate livestock judging contest at the International Livestock Show in Chicago with a team score of 4,311 points out of a possible 5,000.

Ten Herring, East Lansing junior, was third in the individual scoring with 917 points of a possible 1,000.

The State Board of Agriculture recently accepted $109,638 in gifts and grants for instruction, scholarship and research purposes.

Sixteen of the grants, amounting to $6,758 will be used for scholarships and for the student loan fund.

A $3,050 grant from the Kellogg Foundation will be used in a program to improve the competence of food service supervisors in the hospitals of this region.

Pro and antifederal aid spokesmen agreed on a TV-radio panel—NBC—"American Forum"—Sunday that the conference was not stacked either for or against federal aid.

N. Bradford Trenham, executive vice president of the California Taxpayers Assn., said people making such charges "are either misinformed or they have an ax to grind."

William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Assn., pointed out that the method of selection of state

45 Cross-Country Teams To Battle for NCAA Title

Already Big 10 Champions, this Michigan State cross country team will chase the NCAA crown today at 11:30 on Old College Field. 450 Ducats Remain

Fairchild Opened For 'Scots Guard'

The world renowned Scots Guards Band will be the second number on this year's Lecture-concert program to perform before more than 5,000 people.

Fairchild Theater has been opened for tonight's performance starting promptly at 8:15.

Tickets Ready Wednesday for Choral Group

Tickets for the final Lecture-concert program of fall term, the Santa Cecilia Choir of Rome, will be given out Wednesday at 9 a.m. in the second floor Union checkroom.

The entire Auditorium was sold out early in the afternoon of the first day of distribution last Tuesday.

Established in 1642 under King Charles I, the Scots Guards Band will present a varied program of marching, band music and highland dancing.

Included among the numbers of the Regimental Band will be the Grand March, "Baker's" and sections from "Highland" and "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2."

The pipe band will perform "The Highland Wedding," "The Fiddler's Joy" and a number of well known marches.

The papers and banners will combine to performances of "The Highland Fling," "Scottish Dance," "Foursome Reel," and "Argyle Brindswort."

When not on tour giving concerts, practice duties of the Bandmen include providing dinner music for Queen Elizabeth at state dinners and general guarding of Buckingham Palace.

During World War II, the Guardsmen won a reputation for courage in fighting with U.S. Army units at Salerno, Anzio and other campaigns.

Deer Hunters' Gun Toll Stands At 10 Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Michigan deer hunting season entered its final three days today with the human gunfire toll standing at 10.

Ralph Everett, 57, of Bay City, was shot fatally Saturday while hunting in Iosco county.

State police said Everett was shot by E. H. Bates, of Van Dyke, who fired at a deer and missed, but killed Everett who was hidden from him by brush on the opposite side of the deer.

Coroner E. D. Jacques ruled the shooting accidental.

Brrr! More Wind. Snow Due Today

Snow flurries and colder temperatures are predicted for today by the weatherman. Increasing winds, ranging from 25-35 mph, are expected to accompany the mercury drop.

The low last night was 12—the high today between 15 and 20.

Students Delayed by Blizzard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blizzard, with high, snow-filled winds and tumbling temperatures, blew into Michigan Sunday night.

Traffic was tied up in all directions. At least one two-death automobile collision was blamed to slippery highways.

Many college students camped out at home, some delayed. So were deer hunters on route home from Woodlands, particularly in the Upper Peninsula.

Highway-shaking snow was reported from such widely separated points as New Buffalo, Brighton Lake, Cadillac and St Ignace. Detroit had a mixture of snow and freezing rain.

A rush of campus-bound college students and home-bound hunters created lines two miles long at the state ferry docks at St Ignace Sunday and around 300 cars still were awaiting passage to the Lower Peninsula at 6:30 p.m.

A snow storm, which dropped around three inches of snow on other side of the Straits had abated at 10:30 at St Ignace, but winds were still high and snow drifting reported on some main highways.

A number of Michigan State students were reportedly stranded at the Straits or by snow-clogged highways between Chicago and East Lansing.

State Police of the New Buffalo post said traffic between there and Chicago had been slowed to a virtual crawl. Motorists reported it was taking four-and-a-half to five hours to make the 65 miles from Chicago, normally negotiated in an hour and a half.

Police said the snow belt extended as far east as Galesburg and described conditions throughout the area as "very slippery."

With some cars unable to make it up hills in the New Buffalo area, the shooting accidental.

Kennedy Individual Favorite

Old College Field Site of 17th Running

By HAL BATEMAN, State News Sports Editor

In one of the finest fields even entered, nearly 200 athletes representing 45 schools will start in the 17th running of the NCAA cross country championships at 11:30 this morning.

The start and finish of the four mile race will be on Old College Field. Stands have been erected for spectators.

Kansas and Michigan State are rated as the team favorites while Henry Kennedy will be the favorite for individual honors.

Michigan State has won the team title four times but has never had an individual champion. If Kennedy should win today he will become the first athlete that has ever won three major cross country titles in one year. The Scots-Canadian has already topped the ICAA and Big 10 titles.

Of the 45 schools entered, 22 will have teams vying for the team title. Kansas, the Big Seven champion, is a slight favorite because of superior team depth.

The teams entered come from all sections of the nation. Eastern schools are New York University, Cornell, Villanova and Syracuse. Southern schools are North Carolina and North Carolina State. The Southwest will be represented by Texas and Arkansas, while a host of teams are entered from the Midwest.

Some of the championship squads entered are Kansas, the Big Seven champ; Michigan State, the Big 10 titlist; Notre Dame, Central Collegiate champion; Cornell, the Heptagonal title holder; and NYU, winner of the Metropolitan Intercollegiate.

But, the ICAA champion, has decided not to enter the meet. This is the second straight year the ICAA titlist has not run in the NCAA.

Among the smaller schools listed are Philander Smith of Arkansas, Kalamazoo of Michigan and Kansas Emporia State Teachers.

Oklahoma AAM walked away with last year's crown but the Aggies have only one entry in today's race. Kansas was the winner in 1953 while MSU swept the honors in 1952.

The race for individual honors is expected to overshadow the team battle. Of the 200 entries listed for the individual crown, in addition those of last year's top scorers are back and will be challenged by one of the finest groups of sophomore runners in years.

Kennedy, by virtue of his wins in the ICAA and the Big 10, has to be installed as the favorite.

Youth Tells Of Regret After Act

Accused of Killing Cop

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — An 18-year-old Arkansas youth, accused of killing a Henderson patrolman last Monday, expressed sorrow for the act Sunday and blamed his troubles on "the wrong bunch of kids."

Patrolman Jack Ranier, 24, was shot down as he questioned Ben Sitton, Fayetteville, Ark., in a parked truck in a used car lot.

In an interview recorded by Wene Paule of Radio Station WPS, Evansville, Sitton readily admitted shooting at the officer in a dash for freedom.

Sitton said in the interview he was sitting in the truck and the officer had just asked him to get out and get into a patrol car. The officer still clutched Sitton's driver's license in his hand after the shooting.

"I had one hand on the steering wheel and the other on my right leg," Sitton told Paule in the interview broadcast Sunday. "I just got a wild notion to take just go. So I just started to pull my right hand hit the trigger so I grabbed it up and just I was pulling out I started shooting."

"I didn't intend to kill the officer, but I was just going to scare him back or something like that. I never looked back to see if he fell or if I hit him or anything. I got down to Jones, Ark. even before I knew I had the officer."

"When the officers caught me down there—well, I knew that I had shot him then because they called me a cop killer."

"Well, I don't know much about it but I was sorry, and I am sorry that I shot him. . . I didn't intend to."

In answer to a question, Sitton said his troubles on "getting along with the wrong bunch of kids." "I thought it was smart to do things like that—I mean not like that, but the small things. They call you chicken so you get a bunch of guys to call you chicken so you start doing things like that."

Group to Plan Yule Parties

Christmas parties sponsored by living units for underprivileged, handicapped and orphaned children will be coordinated this year under a joint clearing committee.

The committee has been set up to see that children are provided for those groups desiring to give parties, to act as a clearing committee for parties already planned, and to help groups start party projects.

The committee is composed of representatives from Intrafraternity Council, PanHellenic Council, Men's Interform Council, and Women's Interform Council.

Bosworth Elected To Head Conference

Claud A. Bosworth, head of the MSU community services program, was recently elected chairman for the 1956 College-University Community Improvement Conference.

The conference considers methods of working with communities, techniques for research work and other related activities.

Molehill to Mountain Gives Silver

WEST HANNINGFIELD, Eng. (AP)—Local farmers laughed when James Small, 28, bought a farm.

"I'll grow nothing," they told him, "and furthermore it's inhabited by moles."

It was while he was moaning his luck and angrily glaring at the mole hills that Small suddenly realized he was looking at pure silver sand.

"It's extremely valuable," said the young farmer, "worth at least $2,000 an acre. I've got the moles to thank."

Silver sand is used by lithographers, and supplies are limited in Britain.

Faure to Tell UN of Plan

PARIS (AP) — Premier Edgar Faure said Sunday his plan for world disarmament coupled with aid to backward areas would be carried to the United Nations Tuesday—if his government is still in power.

Faure first outlined his plan at the time of the July summit conference in Geneva. It calls for a percentage cut in arms outlay by the big powers, with the money saved to go to underdeveloped areas of the world.

He said Sunday that he had asked Pierre July, a minister with special powers delegated by the Premier, to take the disarmament plan to the U.N.

Own Rifle Saves Deer Hunter

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—His own rifle saved deer hunter Gelindo Solda, 33, from serious injury or death today.

A bullet from the gun of an unidentified person slammed into Solda's gun, cradled under his right arm, while he was hunting in a woods 10 miles southeast of Iron Mountain.

The bullet struck the breech of Solda's gun, which discharged.

Solda, of Norway, Mich., was admitted to Penn Hospital in Norway for removal of particles of the bullet and the gun from his right side.

Foreign Policy Programs Begin

WKAR-TV will present the first in a series of 13 weekly programs on "The Challenge of Foreign Policy" tonight at 8:30 p.m.

Answering many questions about current international affairs, the half-hour programs will present discussions, films, maps, and pictures concerned with Russia, China, Indochina, Germany, France, India and England.

Harrison E. Salisbury, New York Times correspondent recently returned from Moscow, will be featured on the first program. Salisbury will appear at Michigan State Jan. 25 as part of the L-C series.

'Unusual Optimism' in Big 10

Court Mentors Hiding Crying Towels

CHICAGO (AP) — Crying towels aren't needed this season for Big Ten basketball coaches, who are preparing for opening games this week with unusual optimism.

They agree that defending champion Iowa and Illinois, runner-up with Minnesota last season, are the class of the conference.

Aside from Iowa and Illinois, who are loaded with veterans as well as promising new prospects, sophomores figure to play prominent parts for most of the other teams.

Typifying the ring of enthusiasm is Coach Fordy Anderson, whose Michigan State Spartans are bolstered by some fine sophs and may be the Big Ten's surprise club.

"We will have more depth and height this year," he said. "And we think we will get more balanced scoring from our guards. We'll run as much as possible."

"I figure Illinois and Iowa at the top, and Michigan State in third."

Harry Combes thinks his Illinois will be "a good squad with height, speed and better depth than we've had in several years."

So far, there is little to choose from among our first 10 men.

Iowa's Buckey O'Connor feels that every Big Ten team will be improved.

"And they'll all be gunning for us," he added. "On any given night any team can knock off one of the leaders."

We still don't have a big center, but we have good reserve strength which was an important factor in last year's drive. We again will count on over-all speed and shooting ability of a well-balanced group."

Ohio State, tailender last campaign, may be the sleeper this time with fine rookie prospects and the return of sensational Robin Freeman.

"We have the necessary height at center and forward this time," said Coach Floyd Stahl. "We'll be improved, and our improvement will be because of sophomores. They are tall and good, but being sophomores they are likely to be erratic, which could hurt us."

Wisconsin's Bud Foster looks for his Badgers to be "deeper in bench strength and have more balance" mainly through promising sophomores.

The biggest note of gloom was struck by Indiana's Branch McCracken, whose Hoosiers slipped out of the first division last season for only the second time in 14 years.

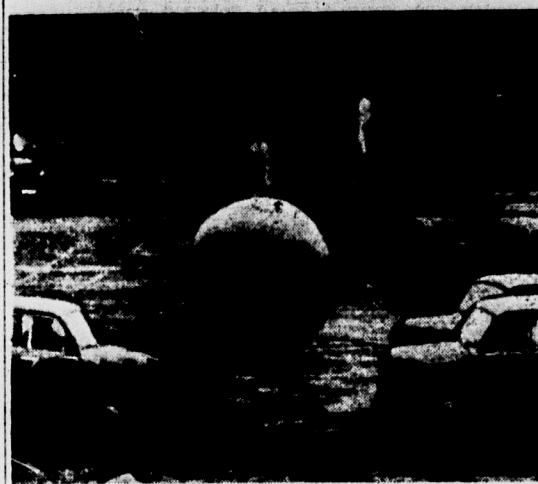

McCracken, who has lost All-America Don Schlundt among others, has a big rebuilding job but has an outstanding crop of sophomores to do it with.

"We're terribly inexperienced and if we can finish at .500 for the season we'll be lucky," he declared. "The boys will look good one day and terrible the next. With them blowing hot and cold, we may be juggling our lineup well into the season."

A crew of 1,725 workers is required at a Michigan State home football game.

These are madcap motorists in Stockholm playing a new kind of "soccer" with autos and a giant ball. No accidents or injuries reported yet, but car repairs are frequent.

Swedish Shenanigans

Parke, Grazia Top Scorers

Pucksters Win 2 Lose 1 On Swing Through East

MSU opened its hockey season over the Thanksgiving holiday with two wins and one loss.

Traveling east, the Spartans defeated St. Lawrence 2-0 in the opening game, lost to Clarkson 6-1, and came back to down Middlebury 6-2.

Ross Parke shared top scoring honors with Eugene Grazia. Each had three goals. Karl Jackson, Tom Balai and Butch Miller scored one apiece in the last game.

"Even though we won two games on this trip we still need a lot of work," Coach Amo Bessone said.

Injuries played an important part in the loss to Clarkson. Miller was out of action because of a bone bruise acquired when a puck hit his foot.

Gordie Lassila was also hampered with a foot injury. Goalie Eddie (The Mouse) Schiller did outstanding work in the nets, Bessone said.

Morrall, Masters Given All-American Honors

Earl Morrall and Stormin' Norm Masters were accorded more football honors with the release of three All-American teams last week.

In the first one released Morrall was chosen as the first team quarterback on Collier's eleven.

The NEA squad was chosen by Harry Grayson, sports editor of the NEA. The selections consist of three teams along with a list of honorable mentions.

Masters was State's only player on the first squad, but Morrall was named to the second team. Four Spartans received honorable mention. They were Capt. Buck Nystrom, Gerry Planula, Walt Kowalczyk and Clarence Peaks.

On the NEA's first team are

On the ends are Kramer, Beagle, Rommie Loudd of UCLA, and Hal Burnine of Missouri. At tackle are Masters, Cureton, Sam Huff of West Virginia and Herb Gray of Texas. The guards include Cal Jones of Iowa, Bolinger, OSU's Jim Parker and Tatum's Tony Sordisco. Pellegrini and TCU's Hugh Pitts are the two centers.

The squad will receive their awards on Jackie Gleason's Stage Show Sunday night.

Take Part in 3 Activities? See IM Office

Students who have participated in three or more individual activities during the 1955 fall term are eligible to earn points for their organization, according to Frank Beeman, intramural director.

The points will count toward the All-Sports Intramural Championship.

No points will be recorded for those names brought in by some other person.

The individual activities conducted this fall for which points will be awarded are: Archery, fencing, football, pass, football kick (place kick), gymnastics, handball doubles, table tennis and turkey trot.

Pros to Start Draft Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—National Football League general managers and coaches gather here today to apportion the nation's top 37 college football players eligible to play pro ball in 1956.

NET, commissioner Bert Bell will call the earliest player draft meeting in league history to order at 9 a.m. CST.

The American pros decided last month to hold the first three rounds of their annual 30 round draft early in order to meet the stiff competition of Canadian league bids for top American college grid talent.

Indications are that should Green Bay or Pittsburgh earn the bonus choice, they'll name Ohio State's great runner, Howard

"Hopalong" Cassidy. If the Chicago Cardinals draw the winning slip, their choice probably will be Earl Morrall, Michigan State's fine quarterback.

MY GAME! LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS?
For solution, see paragraph at right.

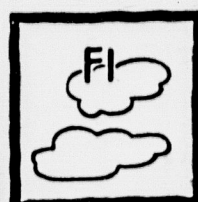

THERE'S NO GETTING AROUND IT—Luckies taste better. And there's no getting around that thing in the Droodle at left, either—the Droodle's titled: Lucky smoker with bum seat at football game. Poor guy is really up against it. But he's got a swell point of view on smoking—he smokes Luckies for better taste. Luckies taste better because they're made of fine tobacco that's TOASTED to taste better. Chances are our friend in Section 28 is thinking, "This is the best-tasting cigarette I ever smoked!"

Republicans Scolded by Watkins

Wants Backing of Benson Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) scolded fellow Republicans Sunday for what he said was their failure to support Secretary of Agriculture Benson in defending the administration's farm program.

Watkins, who joined the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) in proposing Benson's appointment to the Cabinet, called on Republicans to back the farm program.

ARTHUR V. WATKINS
Support Benson!

Watkins said he "takes the offensive" in backing flexible farm price supports. Benson has advocated.

We can't leave to a few Cabinet members, and mostly Benson himself, the job of backing up this farm program," Watkins said in an interview. "Secretary Benson keeps saying he is in the game, but he is slugging alone."

He says he believes in it, so other Republicans have got to help.

Benson has been under fire from some Republicans, as well as a majority of Democrats, for his program of flexible farm price supports.

Kennedy to Vie for Crown

The Canadian sophomore holds the course of 19:28.3 and will definitely endanger the NCAA record of 19:36.7 set by Georgetown's Charlie Capozzoli in the 1952 meet.

Kennedy, undefeated in six races this season, will have to contend with some other runners who are also undefeated. Little Max Trues of Southern Cal is such a runner. The Warsaw, Ind., native not only won but set a record in every meet this season. His best four mile time is 20:03. This is the first time that Southern Cal has entered the meet.

Kansas' Al Flame won last year's race in 19:54 and is back to defend his title. The Jayhawk has been defeated only once this season and that was by Wes Santee, America's top miler.

George King, of New York University, was second last year but the Violet runner hasn't been in top form this season. Oklahoma A&M's Fred Fekhoff, last year's third finisher, has since graduated, but George Terry, Boston University's fourth place winner last year is back. The Terrier was in the hospital in the early part of the season but has been improving in every race. Last year's fifth man, Arnie Sowell of Pitt, is not entered.

Other runners that could take top honors are Deacon Jones and Ted Wheeler of Iowa, Billy Tidwell of Emporia State Teachers, Ron Delaney and Alex Breckenridge of Villanova, Jim Beatty of North Carolina or Wilfred Shea of North Carolina State.

Michigan State will enter the same team that finished second in the IC4A and won the Big 10 crown.

Kennedy and Capt. Selwyn Jones are the two leading entries followed by Gay Denslow, Terry Block, Ed Townsend, Bill Miller and Leon Mesler. Denslow, last year's captain, placed 16th while the team was 10th.

The Spartans showed their best depth of the season at the Big 10 meet. Kennedy was clocked in 19:06 for four miles. Jones, 19:35, Denslow, 20:01, Block, 20:04 and Townsend, 20:53.

The team winner of today's race will receive possession of the E. C. "Billy" Hayes Trophy, emblematic of national cross country supremacy.

The first and last half mile of the race may be viewed from the bleachers. The progress of the race will be broadcast to the finish line by walkie-talkie radios.

Following the race the results will be posted in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Students to Meet Basketball Squad Tuesday

MSU students will get a chance to meet the 1955-56 Spartan basketball team Tuesday night, as the Union Board, in conjunction with the athletic department, will present the first "Meet the Players" night.

The informal get-together will take place in the Union parlors from 7-9.

On hand will be head basketball coach Fordy Anderson and his assistants John Benington and Bob Stevens, along with the 15-man varsity squad.

Anderson will introduce the team, explain the principles of the game, the new rules and will show a highlight film of the past season.

Students will then have a chance to talk with the coaches and players and ask any questions about basketball in general or about the coming season.

Mike Dmochowski, Union manager, said he hopes that this kind of an affair will become a permanent institution here and that students will have more of an opportunity to meet the athletes who represent them on the playing fields.

Coffee will be served during the two-hour program.
