Perfect Circle And Union Near Peace

CHICAGO (AP) — Agreement was reached at ending the bitter, violent month-long strike of CIO United Auto Workers at the New Castle, Pa. plant of Perfect Circle Corp. reached Monday after a month of mediation.

The settlement proposal will be submitted to 229 UAW employees in New Castle this morning. Ratification by the members of UAW Local 370 would bring the dispute to a close.

A company statement said the proposal called for a two-year contract ending July 1, 1957, embodying a 10-cents-an-hour wage increase which the company put into effect last July, and an additional increase of seven cents an hour next year.

The compromise was reached, the company said, on the tough issue of what will be done about 35 employees discharged by the company for alleged illegal acts during the strike.

The company agreed to reimburse the employees for the cost of their travel to and from the plant during the strike.

The strike began July 24 after the company had rejected a UAW demand that it bargain for employees in all four of the company's plants. After a short period of inactivity, all four plants resumed operations, with jobs filled by non-strikers.

Violence erupted Oct. 14 in a gun battle at the New Castle plant in which eight persons were wounded.

Crackdown On Off-Campus Cars Clarified

The recently announced policy of cracking down on unregistered student cars off campus received some clarification from Roger Augustine, chief justice of the Student Traffic Appeal Court, Monday.

Augustine stressed that the first at violators turned in by an East Lansing resident had been turned over to the Campus Police for enforcement to give the students a better chance to defend themselves.

"I suggested that in order to give a student an opportunity to formally refute the accusation," Augustine said, "he be given a ticket for no valid driving permit. Then, if the student wished, he could appeal the ticket and the court could determine whether or not he violated the regulations."

He explained that if a ticket was not issued then the enforcement would be left in the hands of the Dean of Students, who would be the sole judge of the student's offense.

Also, the motor vehicle regulations state that the University Police have the responsibility of enforcing the rules governing student ownership and operation of vehicles.

1,000 Sign Up For Trip West

More than 1,000 Spartans have signed up for the Rose Bowl Special. Lines of students continued to flow past the reservation desk at a steady pace all day Monday.

The reservation desk on the second floor Union will be open today and Wednesday from 2-9 p.m. In registering, a deposit of $15 is required, and all checks should be made payable to Spartan Special.

There is every indication that the number of students taking advantage of the 1956 trip will exceed those of any of the previous Big 10 Rose Bowl trips, according to Don Gillette, general chairman.

Gillette also announced the appointment of the following Rose Bowl committee members: Activities Chairman, Jean Gregory; Dick Wood and Tom O'Donnell; Public Relations Chairman, Chuck Pardon, Rog Bennett, and Rob O'Hara.

The committee planned for the production and sales of a metal Spartan badge, the proceeds of which will go to the Campus Chest Activities on the train, plans for a New Year's Eve dance and mixers in Los Angeles were also discussed.

Gillette said he is handling the trip, which will include three trains, the Green, White, and Rose. There will be alternating stops at Las Vegas and La Junta, Colorado.

Game ticket applications, while not included in the trip, may be obtained at Jensen ticket office. Persons desiring seats together at the game need not pick up applications together, as the seating arrangements will be decided in Los Angeles when they are exchanged for tickets.

Rose Bowl To Change Registration

Registration for winter term has been moved ahead two days to allow plenty of time for students to return from the Rose Bowl game.

New dates are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 4, 5 and 6.

Registration and enrollment will be at exactly the same times as previously scheduled except the dates have been moved two days ahead.

In other words, if you ordinarily would have registered on Tuesday, Jan. 3, you will now register on Thursday, Jan. 5.

Likewise, if you would ordinarily have registered Wednesday, Jan. 4, the new date for you will be Friday, Jan. 6. And similarly, if you were scheduled to register Thursday, Jan. 5, now you'll register on Saturday, Jan. 7.

Clear enough?

Rush Deadline Set

Bold Bid for Support

Williams to Continue 'Moderation' Attacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Williams has scheduled two speeches this week to continue his attack on the policy of "moderation" which Adlai E. Stevenson advocated for the Democratic Party.

The speeches were seen as a bold bid by Williams to win support of the so-called left wing of the Democratic Party and to launch the New Deal Fair Deal political philosophy.

The Governor will address the Democratic Women's Federation in Washington, D.C. today and the National Convention of Young Democrats at Oklahoma City Friday.

Williams said his speech at Denver Saturday night was "exclusively a matter of program and policy, not to be taken as a personal attack on Stevenson."

In his Saturday night speech, Williams did not mention Stevenson by name, but referred to him indirectly, linking the party's 1952 standard bearer with the timid, temporizing compromisers.

Williams said the Democratic program in 1956 must be to the third quarter of our century what Woodrow Wilson was to the first quarter and what Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman was to the second.

They were not timid men, they were not timid men. They did not pause to agonize their hearts out in the face of great character or great opportunity; they did not counsel moderation.

Safe Driving Week Campaign Gets Poor Start on Campus

Safe Driving Week on campus got off to a bad start Monday with two personal injury accidents and two property damage accidents.

In charge of the campaign for safe driving on campus is Sgt. Victor Strecher, of the campus police. Strecher stated the reason for the increase in accidents on campus Monday was due to drivers not driving according to the conditions of the road.

Each time the campus police stop a driver violator they will hand the driver a leaflet explaining the objectives of Safe Driving Week culminating with Safe Driving Day Thursday, December 1.

This will be the second national observance of Safe Driving Day, sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. It is an attempt to prove that voluntary individual and community action can hold traffic injuries and accidents well below the normal toll.

Last year on campus Safe Driving Day was marked by not one accident.

5th NCAA Title For State Harriers

By HAI RATEMAN
State News Sports Editor

Showing their best team depth of the season but running in adverse weather conditions, the Michigan State cross country team won the 17th edition of the NCAA championships Monday morning.

Sophomore Henry Kennedy topped the first team position but lost the first individual place by only a foot.

Michigan State scored men in the first, fourth, fifth, sixth and 30th team places for their fifth NCAA title.

The Spartans had a low score of 16 points while Kansas, the pre-meet favorite and the Big Seven champion, was second with 68. New York University and Notre Dame tied for third with 95 points apiece.

Michigan State's point total was the third lowest ever scored. The lowest was 25 set by Drake in the 1944 meet.

Iowa sophomore Deacon Jones edged Kennedy for the individual honors with a 19:57.4 for the four mile Michigan State course. Kennedy, undefeated until Monday, was clocked in 19:57.5 while NYU's George King, the runner-up last year, placed third with 20:04.

The winning time was well off the course record of 19:28.3 set by Kennedy earlier in the season and the meet record of 19:36.7 established by Georgetown's Charlie Capozzoli in the 1952 meet. Considering the conditions, however, the time can be regarded as extremely fast.

The other team scores were St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, 115; Indiana, 142; Miami of Ohio, 151; Western Michigan, 197; and Oberlin, 216.

The race, held in a 12-degree temperature, had 44 starters with 81 finishing.

Michigan State Capt. Selwyn Jones jumped into an early lead as he passed the half-mile in 2:18. Jones retained the lead at the mile with a fast 4:45. Just past the mile-and-a-half NYU's King grabbed the lead. The Violet runner passed the two mile point in a good 9:50.

Kennedy and Deacon Jones started to move up and passed King just before the three mile marker. The two sophomore runners were timed in 15:03. Coming into Old College Field Kennedy held a tight lead as the two battled it out in the last half mile. Deacon urged past the mile-and-a-half point at the finish in the closest race ever recorded at an NCAA meet.

It was the first time that a sophomore won the race.

King nabbed third place while Lew Stiegitz of Connecticut needed not defending champion Al Frank of Kansas for fourth place. Stiegitz was timed in 20:14 with Frank only a tenth of a second behind.

Coed Injured In Car Collision

Emily Findlay, Washington, D.C. junior, received minor injuries when her car and a semi-truck collided about noon Monday on a slippery stretch of road at the corner of highway M-78 and Hackett Rd.

An ambulance called to the scene, broke down on the way out.

First reports said the coed, in trying to avoid a car which was sliding or skidding ahead of her, skidded into the path of the truck. After colliding with the car, the semi-truck jack-knifed and slid across M-78 out of control.

The driver of the truck, Joe Dakin, Middleburg, O., was unhurt, while the girl reportedly suffered head cuts.

It's their homework — S-D Day is coming up December 1st!

At White House Meet

Spotlight Turns
Onto Education

Two thousand American citizens, representing all sections of the nation and all walks of life, gathered in Washington, D. C. Monday for a four-day conference which may have a profound effect on the lives of all of us.

The meeting in Washington is the national White House conference on education. Before adjourning Thursday, conference delegates will attempt to answer the ever-present question: How can the nation's schools and colleges be made better and stronger?

President Eisenhower gave birth to the conference in his State-of-the-Union message of January, 1954. Deploring the shortage of teachers and adequate classroom space, he proposed a series of meetings on the local, regional, and state levels, to culminate finally in a national session.

During the past year, the state and local conferences have been held in every part of the Union. From these meetings have come many suggestions which will undoubtedly be aired by the delegates in the current meeting. Some of them may result in a positive program for improving American education.

At least three major problems face the schools and colleges of America. They are:

1. Lack of adequate classroom space and other physical facilities. Soaring school enrollments have led experts to predict that as many as 600,000 new classrooms will be needed in the near future.

2. A shortage of qualified teachers. An estimated 1,626,000 new teachers will be needed in the next 10 years. At the present rate, colleges will graduate only 870,000 teachers during that time.

3. The quality of current education. In the past decade, the common teaching methods have drawn much criticism from those who claim that the schools are not doing the job they should. Is this criticism true, and if so, what can be done about it?

If the delegates meeting in Washington can make a start toward solving these problems, the conference will have been worth many times over the time, effort, and money which went into it.

MSU's 'Terrific 10'
Rate Spartan Applause

To the Editor:

It won't be long now before the official All-American team will be selected. We've seen some great team play and individual performances at Macklin this fall. At every home game, I couldn't help but notice, along with thousands of others, 10 "All-Americans."

They never hurled a TD pass like Earl, or threw a downfield block like "Buck." They never even played a minute of varsity ball. But they were the first on the field and the last to leave. They had a vital part in every victory, but I never found their names in the line-up.

Every Saturday they played 60 minutes of enthusiastic ball. They scored with a variety of cheers from a foot-stamping, hand-clapping act to an "A-Boom!" Their names won't appear on the sports pages, but every student will recognize them.

Five women and five men made up the team. Their great captain had the co-operation of every member. You know them as the cheerleaders, or better yet, "The Terrific 10."

Oh, yes, I almost forgot that 11th man. He was the most valuable player every Saturday. That's right, it was you—the student who backs the team, win or lose!

Shortage Described as Acute

AEC Searches for Scientists

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The U.S. Government, through the Atomic Energy Commission, has finally decided it must begin to do something direct about the production of scientists.

The AEC proposes to expand its aid to the study of nuclear physics not only by providing more reactors at educational institutions, but also by grants to students.

The commission says the shortage of men to develop its program has become acute.

The decision immediately gives rise to speculation that the government is going to have to expand the idea to include other special fields, especially engineering of all types, where shortages also are becoming acute.

Scientists and other observers have been warning for some time that Soviet Russia, driving hard for parity with American industry, has been doing a much better job of producing scientists, engineers and technicians of all sorts.

The National Science Foundation, a government-supported organization, has been stressing the need for America to keep pace, and already is awarding about 100 scholarships to graduate students.

The foundation was set up by Congress to make a continuous appraisal of the effects of research on industrial development and the general welfare. It begins to appear, however, that this work will have to be expanded, and regularized government department of research set up.

The problem involves not only industrial development, but medical development as

Lions Get Cassidy

Morrall, Masters Early Picks
In Pro Football Draft Selections

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 49ers drafted Morrall in the first round selection Monday.

The second round choices tackle Masters was selected by the Chicago Cardinals.

The Detroit Lions drafted "Hopalong" Cassidy.

Ohio State's great running star, after the 49ers picked Morrall, the Lions and 49ers made their choices following Pittsburgh's surprise bonus selection of Gary Glick, a comparatively unknown quarterback from Colorado A&M.

San Francisco and Detroit, tied in the league standings, tossed a coin to see which team made the first pick in the regular draft.

Morrall, who ranged among the first 10 in the nation this year

When Commissioner Bert Bell announced the selection of the 23-year-old Glick, the stir of surprise in the draft room was quite audible. It had been expected that Pittsburgh badly in need of a first line quarterback would grab Morrall, or possibly Cassidy.

open field runner, Lenny Moore, the Bears took Menan Schriever, Texas End, Los Angeles picked Charles Horton, Vanderbilt quarterback.

More selections include: Washington selected Ed Vereb, Maryland, halfback, and the Cleveland Browns took Preston Carpenter, Arkansas halfback.

A college player selected in the draft must still negotiate salary terms with the team that chose him, and if no agreement is reached he is not permitted to deal with any other team in the United States.

Glick, a native of La Porte, Colo., played four years of Navy football before selecting Colorado A&M as his alma mater. The 6-1, 185-pounder started out as a fullback.

This year, however, he was switched to quarterback when Coach Bob Davis found himself in need of a signal caller.

The rest of the first round went this way:

Pittsburgh grabbed Art Davis, Mississippi State halfback, the New York Giants named Joe Marconi, West Virginia back, who immediately was handed over to the Los Angeles Rams as part of a previous deal. The Chicago Cardinals took Joe Chilles, Auburn fullback, Green Bay selected Jack Lorch, Miami back, Baltimore drew the first Penn State

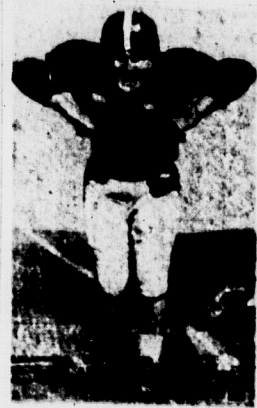

Monte Irvin
Returns to Big Time

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Monte Irvin, former New York Giant star who hit 352 touchdowns, returned to the big time with the Chicago Cubs Monday among 10 minor league players selected for $150,000 in the lightest major league draft since 1945.

The 10 selected—5 fewer than last year—were pitchers, batters, and one shortstop. The others were first basemen, Bob Ligon, Houston, who hit 100 home runs in the Texas League, was drafted by Baltimore. The St. Louis Cardinals drafted the Rochester of the International League.

They were the only double draft picks. In addition to the Cubs, Irvin, they took Vito Marcione, a righthanded pitcher, the Toronto list. Vito, who played with the Chicago White Sox, had a 9-15 record in the American League last season. His contract was $15,000.

Two of the 16 major league players drafted among the seven minor league players were the world champion Dodgers, who had last year and the Yanks, American League pennant winners.

NORM MASTERS

in total offense, accounting for 1,047 yards in 115 plays.

Morrall also was the nation's leading punter with a 42.9 average.

The Lions then drafted Cassidy, the Ohio State flash who on 161 carries gained 958 yards for the Big 10 champions. Cassidy, a typical Midwest power runner, also was high up on the nation's list for total offense.

He scored 222 points in his three-year varsity career, including 15 touchdowns this season.

The Philadelphia Eagle, then came up with Bob Pellegrini, University of Maryland center.

HOW TO BE A BWOC

A few weeks ago in this space I passed on some hints to college men who wished to become BWOCs. I would be remiss not to do the same for college women who wish to become BWOCs.

The first and most basic step on the road to being a BWOC is to attract attention. Get yourself noticed. But be very, very careful not to do it the wrong way. I mean, any old girl is bound to be noticed if she goes around with a placard that says, "HEY! LOOKIT ME!" Don't you make such a horrid gaffe. On your placard put: "ZIT! REGARDEZ-MOI!" This, as you can see, adds a whole new dimension of tone and dignity.

Once you have been noticed, it is no longer necessary to carry the placard. It will suffice if, from time to time, you make distinctive noises. If, for instance, every three or four minutes you say "Whip-poor-will!" you cannot but stay fresh in the minds of onlookers.

When it comes to clothes, a vital accessory to the BWOC—indeed, for any girl who wishes to remain out of jail. But to the BWOC clothes are more than just a decent cover, they are, it is not too much to say, a way of life.

This year the "little boy look" is all the rage on campus. Every girl in a mad effort to look like a little boy, is wearing short pants, knee socks, and boy-shirts. But the BWOC is doing more. She has gone the whole hog in achieving little boyhood. She has fringes in her pockets, scabs on her knees, down on her upper lip, and is followed everywhere by a dog named Spot.

At this, of course, is only by day. When evening falls and her date comes calling, the BWOC is the very picture of chic femininity. She dresses in severe, simple black, relieved only by a fourteen pound charm bracelet. Her hair is exquisitely coiffed, with a fresh rubber band around the pony tail. Her daytime scuffs have been replaced by fashionable high heeled pumps, and she does not remove them until she gets to the movies.

After the movies at the campus cafe, the BWOC undergoes her severest test. The true BWOC will never, never, order the entire menu. This is gluttony and can only cause one's date to blench. The true BWOC will pick six or seven good entrees and then have nothing more till dessert. This is class and is the hallmark of the true BWOC.

Finally, the BWOC, upon being asked by the cigarette vendor which is the brand of her choice, will always reply, "Philip Morris, of course!" For any girl knows that a Philip Morris is one's hand stamps one instantly as a person of taste and discernment, as the possessor of an educated palate, as a connoisseur of the finer, gentler, higher pleasures. This Philip Morris, this badge of savoir faire, now comes to you in a smart new pack of red, white and gold, in king-size or regular, at popular prices, wherever cigarettes are sold.

Babe Zaharias
Begins Health
Test Series

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Zaharias was isolated from all except intimate friends Monday as a week-long series of tests was started to determine how the famous golfer is doing in her fight with cancer.

She was permitted to telephone calls. Doctors at Johns Hopkins Hospital said there was nothing set to report on her progress.

It was the third time for the woman athlete to be hospitalized with the dread disease. The other times she underwent operation at the hospital and was released after doctors said her condition was improved.

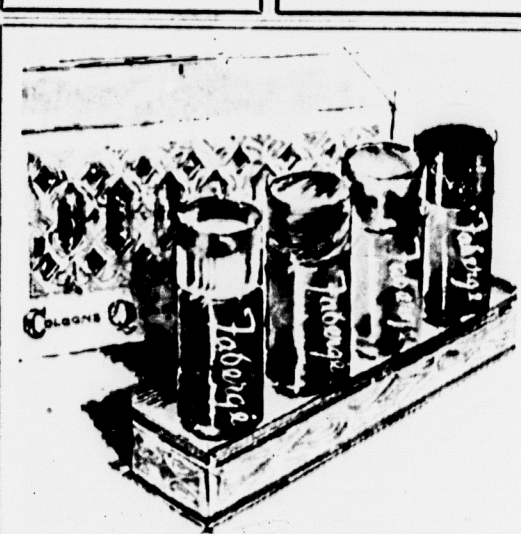

Mrs. Zaharias, 42, returned to the hospital from Tampa on the advice of her physicians, who said she may have been overdoing it recently in her golf practice.

Warriors Waste No Time

Wilt Already A Draft Choice

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. have been granted draft rights to schoolboy basketball sensation Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, four years in advance, it was disclosed Monday.

An apparently unprecedented vote by NBA officials on right to Chamberlain was disclosed Monday by Joe Lapchick, coach of the New York Knickerbockers, and confirmed by Dan Bissone, president of the Syracuse Nationals.

Lapchick called the seven-foot Chamberlain "the greatest ball player in the game today." He added, "Everybody but my boss Ned Irish let him go to Gottlieb."

Ed Gottlieb is president of the Warriors.

The league created a monster when it let Chamberlain go to Philadelphia. It was a grave error.

Lapchick said he feared that letting Chamberlain go to the Warriors would give the Philadelphia squad a huge advantage over other NBA teams and result in a loss of fan interest in the league.

Lapchick made the disclosure at a luncheon sponsored by the Syracuse Nationals for newspaper and radio men.

Chamberlain scored 2,222 points in three years of basketball for Overbrook High School in Philadelphia. He now is a freshman at the University of Kansas, a Big Seven basketball power.

John Kennedy asks:

How much travel is there in technical sales work?

JOHN T. KENNEDY is working toward his B.S. degree in chemical engineering from Notre Dame University in June 1957. He is a member of the student branch of A.I.Ch.E. and is active in the Young Christian Students and in the Chicago Club. Because John feels one should make employment plans early, he is starting his investigations during his junior year.

A. Hicks Lawrence answers:

Well, John, as the Old Man of the Sea told Sinbad the Sailor, "The quantity of travel varies with the specific situation encountered." Of course, you'll never be shipwrecked or encounter the other travel problems that Sinbad did, but a man shouldn't seriously consider a career in sales work unless he really enjoys travel. Most of our sales personnel do just that, because the work itself provides so many rewards and satisfactions. It's not unusual for a representative to be away from home base 50 to 60 per cent of the time.

You see, John, for a good salesman, every trip means meeting new people, new situations, and new challenges. Every one of these offers a chance to display individual initiative. Perhaps the customer will need technical advice on applying our product to a specific item he's developing. The Du Pont salesman may choose to use his own experience and "trouble-shoot" on the spot. On the other hand, he may refer the problem to "home base," where he knows he'll be backed up by a strong technical organization. This knowledge naturally stimulates a salesman and heightens his interest in his work. He knows that he never travels alone.

A. HICKS LAWRENCE, JR., earned his B.E. degree from Yale in June 1949 and joined Du Pont in the following month as an analytical chemist. He progressed steadily at various plants, from line foreman to shift supervisor to senior supervisor. In 1949 he applied his technical training to sales work. Today Mr. Lawrence is a sales manager in the "Kinetic" Division of Du Pont's Organic Chemicals Department.

WANT TO KNOW MORE about technical sales at Du Pont? Send for "The Du Pont Company and the College Graduate." This booklet contains a section on sales work and also gives many interesting details about the technical staff and laboratory facilities which stand behind a salesman. Write to E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., 2521 Nemours Building, Wilmington 98, Delaware.
