Declared Disaster Area

President Eisenhower declared Thursday that the tornado-hit regions of Michigan are major disaster areas, qualifying them for federal aid. Eisenhower made no immediate allocation of money. He directed the federal civil defense administration to get in touch with Michigan officials to survey the needs of the stricken areas. Thousands of weary victims turned to the task of rebuilding shattered homes and removing the wreckage left by the tornado that killed 17 persons and injured 200 Tuesday. The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimated the tornado losses in the Midwest to result in insurance claims of about 25 million dollars. ### Old Building Stands Quiet, Dark

New Library Put Into Full Use

The old library, its concrete steps worn hollow by the tread of thousands of students, is quiet and dark after nearly a quarter-century of service.

The new library building went into full use this week with the opening of the spring term, and the old building was locked.

Spacious multiple study areas and the convenience of open stacks will be a wonderful experience to students familiar with the cramped conditions of an old library built 24 years ago for an enrollment of less than one-sixth the present size.

The last of the regularly-used university volumes was trucked across Circle Drive to the new building as students swarmed back on campus Monday morning to register for spring term classes.

It was the end of a book moving chore that saw some 350,000 volumes transferred between Jan. 13 and the spring term opening. University workmen moved about 7,000 books each day. The high light of the "big move" came when more than 100 students volunteered to form a book brigade.

Wayne to Give Show in Union

The music department will present as its first spring term concert, the Wayne University Men's Glee Club, tonight at 8 in the Union Ballroom. The program is free to the public.

The Wayne Glee Club is directed by Harry Langford of the Wayne University faculty. The concert will feature George Shirley, tenor, as guest artist.

The program will include a variety of musical styles from early English Glee to a modern variety show. Shirley will be heard in a solo group including an aria from "Don Giovanni" by Mozart and songs by Schubert and Samuel Barber.

"Tartar Variations" will add a lighter note to the program, which will also feature two French songs in "Song from Gounod's 'Fingal'" by Brahms.

The concert will conclude with the "Hallelujah, Amen" from Judas Maccabaeus by Handel.

Enrollment Opens For 'University Of Air' Classes

Central Michigan residents have the opportunity again this spring to earn college credits through WKAR-TV's "University of the Air," now being broadcast for the eighth term.

Enrollments are open for the scheduled one-credit course in speech and two non-credit courses in botany and music.

The speech course, "Fundamentals of Oral Interpretation," will meet on the air Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:15-7:30 p.m. Dr. Monroe Compere, director of oral interpretation and storytelling in the speech department, will conduct the three-credit course.

"Botany for Home and Garden" is the course taught by Dr. Herbert C. Beckow, associate professor of the department of botany and plant pathology. The course will be televised each Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Professor Gomer L. Jones, associate professor of music, will present the non-credit music course, "Piano Notes," for the third term on Fridays at 7 p.m.

The new library is considered the nation's fifth largest university library in terms of floor space under a single roof. It has a million-volume capacity and can be considerably expanded to meet future needs.

Latest developments in library techniques are incorporated in the building's design. Major subject areas are assigned to departmental study rooms where open stacks contain the most frequently-used books.

Students no longer have to wait out a line at the main circulation desk each time they need a book.

Indirect lighting, air conditioning, glare-reducing windows and private study tables are other conveniences.

The new library, a distinctive modern building, is equally impressive at night when light streaming from its hundreds of windows makes it appear a veritable "lamp of learning."

The old library is planned to become the home of the MSU museum collection.

estimates that "no book was out of circulation for more than one half hour" at any time during the move from old building to new.

"Had we tried to move the books faster," he points out, "there no doubt would have been more inconvenience."

"So far as I know, no large university library ever moved its major collection piecemeal during the regular academic year as we did. The usual practice is to wait until vacation periods and try to jam everything in."

Arabs Say 42 Killed, 103 Hurt

Dag Hammarskjold Leaves for Area

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Fighting flared along the Egyptian-held Gaza strip of Palestine Thursday on the eve of the new top-level UN effort for peace between Arabs and Israelis.

The Egyptian army reported late Thursday night that Israeli attacking forces killed 42 Arab civilians and wounded 103 in the day's battles.

Mal. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the UN truce chief, asked both sides urgently to cease fire.

A Jerusalem report late Thursday night said an Israeli Egyptian artillery duel on the Gaza coast lasted until dusk.

Burns hoped to have the truce quiet for the arrival of his chief, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who is making the big effort for peace at the behest of the UN Security Council. The Council acted Wednesday to ask Hammarskjold to leave New York for the Middle East today.

The latest outbursts between Israel and the Arabs began Wednesday in small clashes on both the Gaza Strip frontier and the Israeli border with Syria.

In the Thursday battles, an Egyptian military spokesman said seven Egyptian soldiers were wounded in addition to the civilian casualties. Among the dead he listed were 29 men, 11 women and 2 children. Twenty-five women and 11 children were among the wounded.

A statement issued through an Egyptian army spokesman said:

"Israel purposely tried to provoke Egyptian outposts with small automatic fire and the exchange between the two sides was aggravated Wednesday, when Israeli artillery took part in the attacks."

Burns' headquarters said the truce chief told the Israeli and Egyptian governments that it is of "the utmost importance that the situation along the demarcation line surrounding the Gaza Strip be brought under control immediately and all forms of firing across the demarcation line be stopped."

Administration Officials to Carry Title of Professor

Top administrative officials have received academic rank and will now carry the title of "professor," the State Board of Agriculture ruled March 17.

Among the titles assigned were Dean Tom King, professor of student affairs; Pres. John A. Hannah, professor of administration; James H. Dennison, professor of public relations; and Vice Pres. D. B. Varner, professor of administration.

Deans of colleges will carry the title of their college in their professional title.

It is customary in most universities for administrative officials to retain professional titles, Pres. John A. Hannah said.

STUN Offices to Close Business Doors Today

Today is the last day for buying and selling books through STUN. The offices in Quonset 52 will be open from 10-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m.

Student Texts, Used and New, is a service rendered by AWS and the Men's Union. It offers students an opportunity to sell their old books and to buy used texts. It is a non-profit organization.

Beginning last term five cents was charged for each book sold to cover operating expenses. Students set their own price on the books they leave for sale.

Beginning April 16 students may pick up the money for their books at the AWS office in the Union.

Full term STUN sold about 500,000 books. This amount decreased winter term as it is expected to go lower this year, according to Pat Hertzler, AWS chairman of STUN.

The greatest volume of business, Miss Hertzler said, was in books, economic, and the basic sciences. The service attracts newly married students and off-campus students during winter and spring terms.

The greatest problem for the organization is personnel. The work is done on a volunteer basis and in the past it has been difficult to find enough volunteers.

STUN will begin collecting books at the end of spring term and the following fall term. The date will be announced later.

Positions Open For Judiciary Vacancies

Petitions will be available April 15 in the Student Government office for students interested in becoming a member of the University Judiciary.

This step was the result of the annual amendment which increased the Judiciary to seven members and provided for a petition system and nominating committee to recommend students to the Judiciary vacancies.

The amendment also stipulated that of the seven, one be married, one single and two be coeds. The nominating committee will be composed of Bill Mansfield, AWS government president; Bill Palmer, chief justice and Don Brown, justice. This group will interview all petitioners.

Amendments to Mansfield, those amendments will be held for approximately a month until the University elections at which time new justices will be appointed.

Students petitioning must be at least a sophomore and possess an average two point.

There will be a meeting of all editorial staff members on the State News Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Any students not now on the staff but who would like to work in any capacity are asked to stop in at the office, 3rd floor Union, between 10 and 10:30 Saturday morning.

$209,242 Accepted by Ag Board

Five Projects Receive Grants

The State Board of Agriculture accepted $209,242 in gifts and grants to be used for research, instruction, and public service programs at its March 17 meeting.

The National Project in Agricultural Communication received $150,000 from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek to continue the project at the present level for two years.

The program was set up in 1953 on a five-year basis to improve the methods of communicating the research discoveries of land grant universities to the workers in agriculture industries.

The national project was originated and is controlled on the MSU campus.

An agreement with the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission of Lemont, Ill., covering a grant of $23,790 was renewed by the Board. The funds will be used to study the absorption and utilization of radioactive materials when applied to the leaves of plants.

A grant of $10,000 for the maintenance and development of the Hidden Lake Gardens, 227 acres of land in southeast Michigan which was given to the university in 1946, was accepted by the Board from Miss Jessie T. Fee of Adrian.

Research and teaching equipment for the packaging laboratory will be purchased through a grant of $5,000 from the Inland Foundation, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind. The Board also accepted a $5,000 grant to the animal pathology department to purchase slaughter of animals for food purposes.

Introducing...

By ALBERTA BANKY
State News Society Editor

Letters of introduction are not the easiest to write—and neither is the deadline. However, I am columns. The simplest way to get a letter of introduction is to ask the editor, because you'll be coming to the editor's office and planning to the wrong person. You know, I've learned in the last six months that being an editor is not a snap job—even if it's just a student newspaper. I've learned that old saying, "You can't tell a man everything unless you can't tell him how involved a job he's doing." They are those people until you are actually in charge. ## Compromise 'Forces Not Strong' In Western Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional compromisers worked Thursday on final details of a catch-all election year farm bill that still faced three big hurdles: approval of the House, Senate and President Eisenhower.

"We have just about buttoned up everything," Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate House conference committee said after two more closed-door sessions.

"I think the entire bill will be approved tomorrow—Friday—and be ready for the House first thing Monday," he added.

Eisenhower's statement at his news conference Wednesday that he will not insist on perfection raised hopes of compromise-seekers that he will sign the omnibus bill.

There had been repeated warnings from Secretary of Agriculture Benson and other administration supporters that any return to higher rigid farm price supports would mean a veto.

The bill now contains the broad $1,200,000,000 soil bank payment proposal asked on Jan. 9 by the President plus many higher price support provisions he and Benson have opposed.

Before it reaches his desk, the compromise bill must win approval of first the House and then the Senate. House Republican Leader Martin Mass and others have said efforts would be made to reshape the measure again on the House and Senate floors.

'Forces Not Strong' In Western Europe

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said Thursday that Western Europe's forces still were not strong enough to stop short an all-out ground attack but that massive airpower would defeat an aggressor.

The supreme commander of the Allied powers in Europe added, however, that forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would still "fight hard and valiantly for any NATO territory threatened by an aggressor."

Gruenther spelled out his position in the wake of an interview published in Germany which quoted him as saying NATO would have to give up all West Germany in the event of a Soviet attack.

The remark drew criticism in West Germany and Holland. Gruenther's headquarters said he had been misquoted.

Thursday he gave a statement to a group of broadcasters who visited that headquarters SHAPE near Paris. An article appeared under his signature in the weekly newspaper Rheinischer Merkur in Cologne, Germany.

The two statements clearly showed Gruenther did not feel his forces could defend all of Europe on the ground. Yet he drew no actual line that he felt could be successfully held against a Soviet attack.

Speaking at his headquarters, Gruenther said:

"I think that in all frankness we must admit that in spite of our great progress during the past five years we are still not that strong."

"However, we will have that strength when the German contribution is effective and we estimate that this will be in about three to four years from now."

The many exciting and varied operations of Marshall Field & Company, one of the nation's outstanding retail organizations, demands a wide variety of college majors. Whether your field is accounting or art, home economics or English, psychology or history, you're likely to find plenty of opportunities at Field's.

A Field's representative will be on campus

APRIL 11 and 12

Contact the Placement Office for an appointment and discover the many retailing opportunities at Marshall Field & Company, Chicago.

let me PROVE what I can do for YOU!

Have you ever wondered why other college men have so much fun at dances, proms, parties—while you end up with Miss Fatluck of 1912? Do you blame your plight on skin blemishes, or unsightly dandruff?

Well, you're wrong! I had the very same problem. Then, I bought an After Six tux. Look at me now! I've got money, fame, big muscles, and girls aplenty.

Here's all you do to become appealing. Try on a light weight After Six Dinner Jacket. Buy it. Then, in the privacy of your own home, spend 15 minutes a day in the casual elegance of your After Six. Right away, you're handsomer, healthier, inches taller. Women stand in line to ogle you.

But act now, while there's still hope!

ATTENTION ENGINEERS

We will be on campus to interview June graduating engineers April 10th. Very interested in talking with all M.E., E.E., Ch.E.'s who are interested in employment with a progressive company located in an attractive small town which is located in an area abundant in opportunities for outdoor recreation. We offer all the usual fringe benefits. We manufacture refrigerators, ranges, home freezers, air conditioners, artillery shells, and jet engine parts.

HE'S BURNING THE MIDNIGHT OIL TOO

Exam coming up? Then if you haven't iced that "A" already, maybe you'll be gulping black coffee and burning the midnight oil. But consider the modern roadbuilder! He works on around the clock, completing as much in one night shift as he did working two 8-hour days in 1940. What's his secret?

Machines are the roadbuilder's special magic. Machines that never tire. Machines that do twice the work of 15 years ago.

And Timken® tapered roller bearings have made these machines practical. Despite heavy loads and rugged going, Timken bearings avoid breakdowns, keep wheels and shafts turning smoothly. Without them, a bulldozer is robbed of its muscle, a power shovel's teeth lose their bite, a scraper grinds to a halt.

Timken bearings keep America on the GO... and you keep going — up when you go with the TIMKEN company.

Helping machines move mountains is just one example of how the Timken Company works hand-in-hand with all industry to keep America on the go—by pioneering improvements in machines and machinery, increasing speed and precision, decreasing wear and maintenance. The pioneering spirit has helped make us the world's largest manufacturer of tapered roller bearings and removable rock bits, and a leading producer of fine alloy steel.

Because the best place to keep going—and keep going up—is with a company that's on the go, you may be interested in what lies ahead at the Timken Company for promising college graduates. For details, write for our booklet "This Is Timken". The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton 6, Ohio.

Maidlow, Sinadinos Cop Titles

Two Michigan State grapplers won national titles during spring vacation as the season ended with a flurry of tournaments. Jim Sinadinos, Spartan 137-pound captain, captured the NCAA crown in that division, and 191-pounder Ken Maidlow won a national AAU Greco-Roman championship. Sinadinos defeated Ron Day in the finals of the NCAA tournament to lead the Spartans to an eighth place tie with Illinois, Iowa, which won fifth place, was the only Big 10 school to place higher. Oklahoma A&M won the championship.

It was the second national title for Sinadinos, who won the NAAU title as a freshman here. The 13 points earned by the Lansing senior tied him with teammate Don Stroud for the Walter Jacob Award, annual trophy given to the Spartan high point man. Both scored 51 points during the season.

Maidlow, who earned just one point in the NCAA, and Dick Gunner, who didn't figure in the scoring, had better results in the NAAU. Gunner placed second and Maidlow 4th.

The Greco-Roman division was created by the AAU for the Olympic games to be held in Melbourne, Australia, this fall. The U.S. is entering teams in both free-style and Greco-Roman divisions. Maidlow won his first national crown in this tourney.

Besides Sinadinos' 13 points and Maidlow's one in the NCAA, Stroud and Jerry Hoke also added points and the final MEU team score was 20. Stroud finished in 4th place and earned 4 points, 2 for finishing high, and 2 for progression. Hoke lost to Bobby Lyons of Oklahoma A&M but earned 2 points for progression.

The Olympic trials start April 29 and run through May 5. Maidlow, Norm Gill, and freshman Jim Ferguson will enter. Sinadinos, injured his knee and will not enter, and Gunner was drafted after the AAU tourney. This may not exclude him from competing, according to Coach Fendley Collins, who wrote to Washington to explain his case.

Gill was injured near the end of the regular season, but showed great promise up to that time. He will compete at 136 pounds.

Marine Corps Relays to Open Outdoor Season for Thinclads

Practicing in the warm Virginia climate since Monday, the Michigan State track team swings into its first action of the outdoor season in the Marine Corps Relays at Quantico today and Saturday.

Head Track Coach Karl Schladehman will enter 17 men in the relay team, which is expected to draw nearly 100 schools and over 1,000 athletes.

The top prospects for the Spartans are Capt. Joe Savoldi, Henry Kennedy and Dave Lean.

Savoldi, the biggest hurdler in the nation, will be tough to beat in the 120-yard high hurdles while Kennedy should be impressive in the 300-meter sprint chase and Lean, the British Empire champion in the event, will be tough in the 440-yard hurdles.

Schladehman plans to enter quads in eight relay events, the 400, 800, two mile, four mile, eight mile, and 16 mile.

The two-sprint relays will consist of Savoldi, Ed Erabham, Ken Dufre, Lean and Tom Flynn. The mile relay will have the squad of Dufre, Erabham, Lean and Dave Hoke.

The distance events are expected to be State's strongest with particularly outstanding teams in the sprint, distance, and four mile relays.

The State quartet in the distance medley is capable of breaking 10 minutes while the four mile team could possibly set an American collegiate record in that event.

Ray Eggleston, Tom Flynn and Ken Dufre.

Erabham is slated for action in a 400-yard dash but will some top competition for the 100-yard dash but will runmer Watson Florida's 100-yard runner-up in the race.

Lean hasn't run the hurdles in 18 months and Josh Kennedy, formerly of Missouri State and the National AAU champion, looks like the favorite. Hoke is also listed for the event.

Kennedy is preparing for the Olympics with his entry in the 400-meter dash and will be looking for a good showing in the 400-meter dash. State has another runner in the 400-meter dash, the 100-meter dash, and the 200-meter dash.

George Hunt and Tom Flynn are also in the 400-meter dash while Savoldi and Ken Dufre are in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 440-yard hurdles.

The Spartans' next action is at the Ohio relay meet at the Ohio State track.

The largest crowd when a basketball game was played in the arena was Jan. 10, 1954, when the Spartans defeated the Ohio State team.

Venturi Tops Masters In 1st Round of Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Amateur Ken Venturi sliced strokes off par Thursday with a sparkling 66 and stepped out to a one-stroke lead over defending champion Cary Middlecott in the first round of the 20th Masters Golf Tournament.

Although more than 200 players were still on the course, none had much chance of overhauling the 24-year-old San Francisco swinger.

Middlecott missed a birdie putt of about 11 feet on the 18th hole, preventing a tie with Venturi.

Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Shelley Minter of Kentucky, 21, were tied at 68. Venturi's 66th putt, a 69, was a 69.

Venturi, an automobile man, is playing in his 10th Masters.

Top Coaches to Appear at Grid Clinic

Three of the outstanding coaches in collegiate football will appear at Michigan State's Eighth Annual Football Coaches Clinic on May 4-5.

The trio will consist of Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty, the 1955 football "Coach of the Year"; North Carolina's Jim Tatum and Texas A&M's Paul "Bear" Bryant.

They will be assisted by members of the Spartans coaching staff and two prominent Michigan high school coaches—Bill Doolittle of Flint Central and Dan Boisture of Detroit Redford St. Mary.

Fencers Place 13th In NCAA Tourney

The Spartan swordsmen finished their regular season competition with a disappointing 3-6 mark but looked more impressive as they placed 13th in a field of 35 schools in the NCAA fencing tourney March 23 and 24 at Annapolis, Md.

Most colleges had one fencer in each weapon which ran up a total of well over 100 with more than 30 fencers competing in each foil, and sabre.

Capt. George Thomas, second place sabre champ in the Big 10 finals, received honorable mention as he was tied for sixth place in that weapon.

Foil fencer Jerry Green did not place but ran up an impressive 21-14 record to give State a substantial number of points.

Bill Kester represented State in epee and recorded a 14-20 mark. Illinois finished the tourney with a late flourish to stand off Columbia in the final round and won its first National Fencing Championship.

The Illini started the final day of the 12th annual NCAA affair lodge in fifth place, moved into a tie with defending champion Columbia in the next to last round and then won by two points in the windup.

Illinois wound up with a final team score of 90 victories to 14 defeats. Columbia had an 88-16 mark and third place Navy 87-17.

The point drop was sharp after the first three places. Princeton was fourth with 81 victories, trailed by Yale (73), Wisconsin (71), Ohio State (69), NYU (68), Cornell (66) and Temple (64).

State finished 13th with 61 victories.

State finished 13th with 61 victories.

In 1951, 1953 and 1955. In his nine years at the Maryland post Tatum's teams won 73, lost only 15 and tied four. The Terps were beaten by Oklahoma, 20-6, in the 1956 Orange Bowl.

Bryant in his first year at Texas A&M guided the Aggies to a surprise second place in the Southwest Conference after his team was picked to finish in the cellar. Bryant was formerly the coach at the University of Kentucky.

The climax of the clinic is the annual Green and White game in Macklin Field on May 5 which closes practice for the Spartan gridlers.

Hotel Ad Major To be Selected Olympic Steward

The steward will act as a liaison with the Australian hosts in obtaining food for team members which will be in accordance with training diets.

Donald Greenaway, head of the school, said the request for the steward came from Charles L. Ornstein, chairman of the Olympic team's food and housing committee.

Olympic Cage Squad Selected

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The newly selected U. S. Olympic basketball squad should be equal to teams that represented this country in past years and "perhaps a bit stronger in the scoring department."

That is the opinion of Gerald Tucker who will coach the squad, which was selected Thursday by the Olympic Basketball Committee.

The Olympic committee made the selections following completion of a three-day round robin tournament here. Two AAU teams—the Bartlesville, Okla., Oilers and the Seattle Bakers—an Armed Forces team and a college all-star squad participated.

The Oilers, coached by Tucker, won the tournament on a point basis, thus qualifying five men for the Olympics. Twelve players in all were selected, plus two alternates.

Of the 12, Bill Hougland, former University of Kansas star now playing with the Oilers, is the only one repeating from the 1952 Olympics.

In addition to Hougland other Bartlesville Oilers on the team are the Chuck Darling, former Iowa great; Jim Walsh, one-time Stanford star; Burdette Halderson and Bob Jeagerard.

Others selected were Bill Russell, K. C. Jones and Carl Cain of the College All-Stars; Billy Evans, Fib Ford and Ron Tomsie of the Armed Forces, and Dick Boushka of the Seattle Bakers.

Russell and Jones played at Kentucky during his college career, Ford at Texas, Tomsie at Stanford and Boushka at St. Louis.

Alternates are Joe Dean of Bartlesville, Hal Lear, Temple, Willie Naulis of UCLA, Ray Warren of TCU, Charles Koon of the University of Washington and Terry Rand of Marquette.

CROP Helps Needy Overseas

An organization designed to help people throughout Europe and Asia is the Christian Rural Overseas Program. With offices in 18 of the midwest states, the Christian Rural Overseas Program, better known as CROP, sends food and funds to the needy overseas.

At the Michigan center in Lansing, Russell M. Hartzler is the state director. Dr. John Hanna, president of Michigan State, held this year's position in 1948-49 when Hartzler began his work with the Michigan branch of CROP.

CROP organized early in 1947 after three appeals had been made by religious organizations to form some plan whereby foodstuffs could be sent to the people of the world. At a meeting of the President's Council Board for Voluntary Foreign Aid, the plan for a comprehensive commodity campaign in rural areas for overseas relief was presented.

The Church World Service organization agreed to act as the sole sponsor of the program, and in August of the same year, headquarters were set up in Chicago.

When columnist Drew Pearson proposed the idea of a Friendship Food Train in the fall of 1947, CROP worked with him and helped ed send foodstuffs, canned goods, and other necessities overseas. A second train, the Special South-west Friendship Food Train, relied heavily on the CROP organization in the wheat belt.

Today, the Christian Rural Overseas Program operates with headquarters in Elkhart, Ind., as a program of the central department of Church World Service of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States. CROP, with its faithful character, has contributed commodities which reach the $12 million mark in value.

Locally, CROP gathers such products as wheat, beans, corn, rice, and dairy products. Funds for the products are donated mainly by private individuals. This year a resident of Dimondale contributed $1,000 for overseas relief, the largest single contribution ever made to CROP.

House to house canvasses which offerings in some towns, and contributions from service organizations also help finance the project.

Michigan State students have never had any direct contact with CROP, but, according to Hartzler, service organizations and clubs are always needed to help carry out the program effectively.

Last year, Olivet College helped raise funds through door to door canvassing in several townships. Those funds helped to send food and supplies to such countries as Greece, India, Korea, Italy, Pakistan, Jordan, Syria, Switzerland, and to the Near East.

Hartzler lectures throughout the state on the conditions in other parts of the world and the CROP program. Slides are also available to groups wishing to see his program.

Christian Rural Overseas Program is now starting its ninth year of "feeding the people overseas." As long as one out of every two people born in the world die of starvation, CROP will continue to service the world, said Hartzler. Its products are "good ammunition for Communism," he added.

Prints on Display In Union Gallery

The current display in the Union art gallery is a showing of selected works of Twenty American Printmakers. The display, which continues until April 17, was arranged by George Westler, art instructor.

WKAR-TV Features 2 New Series

Two new series of half-hour programs on WKAR-TV will be featured beginning spring term.

"New York Times Youth Forum" will enable teen-age panelists to air views on international questions and questions pertaining to their age group. The 10-part weekly series will begin Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.

"Point of View" is the title of the second series, which will be telecast on Monday and April 16. Tariffs will be the main topic Monday at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 60, when Roscoe Drummond, Washington columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, interviews expert Paul Hoffman, Sturtevant-Packard Corporation board chairman, will be among the speakers.

New Dorms to Open

The three new additions to the Prody dormitory group will be ready for use next fall term. It was announced Thursday by the dormitory management office.

Styled in accordance to the other dormitories in the Prody group, the 13.5 million dollar project will house an additional 2,700 students.

The new dorms have been named after men who have made significant contributions to MSU as well as the fields in which they specialize.

The Lloyd D. Emmons dormitory is named after the retired dean of the school of science and arts. He is still living.

Armstrong dormitory receives its name from Winfred G. Armstrong, a member of the State Board of Agriculture for sixteen years.

The third dormitory will bear the name of Liberty Hyde Bailey, a foremost botanist and world explorer, and the first professor of Horticulture at MSU.

The dormitory management office said that each dorm will house about 450 students, two students per room.

Fishin' Tale

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—John L. Sullivan of International Falls knows a 14-pound walleyed pike isn't easy to come by—especially when fishing through the ice. When his wife hooked one and her line broke, Sullivan plunged both arms through the hole in the ice and grabbed the fish.
