Asks for 'Something More Than Military Instrument'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Monday the time has come to develop the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into something more than a purely military instrument.

Agency Approves Expansion Plans E. L. Post Office

Final plans for an addition to the East Lansing Post Office were approved Friday by the General Services Administration of the U. S. Government.

An applicant from the central post office in Chicago with post office officials to go over last week's details.

According to the GSA, plans for the approximately 3,000 square foot addition to the post office will be added to the list of projects to be completed by the end of the fiscal year.

A new post office of cream and blue tile, fluorescent lighting system, and a bank-like interior will also be adopted, according to the GSA.

Construction on the addition is scheduled for mid-July with completion expected some time in the fall.

One other change will be the removal of the flagpole from the post office. A new steel flagpole will be erected on the front lawn, according to the GSA.

Industry to Hire Undergraduates For Summer Help

Engineering majors looking for jobs this summer have never had it so good. Because of the continuing shortage of engineers, industry is hiring an increasing number of undergraduates for summer work.

Large companies are employing 30,000 white-collar graduates at many as $600 a month.

Prof. Harold J. Skinner of Mechanical Engineering compared summer employment to trial marriages. They give both employer and employee a chance to find out about each other without making any permanent demands on either.

If the student and employer like each other, the company will hire him after graduation.

To attract students, many businesses print clever and colorful pamphlets. Others will hold seminars, lectures and discussions on the job. Some west coast firms will even pay 7 or 8 cents a mile for transportation there.

Former Head Of Physiology Dies Friday

Benjamin B. Roseboom, 71-year-old former head of the department of physiology and pharmacology, died Friday at his home in Columbia, Mo., following a heart illness. Burial will be in Auburn, N.Y., this week.

He came to State in 1909 and taught the first course in physiology. For the next 16 years he was the sole teacher of physiology, teaching in one lone lab on the fourth floor of Ag Hall.

He became head of the department of physiology and pharmacology in 1923 and remained so until his retirement in 1949.

Since then he has been teaching in the Veterinary School at the University of Missouri.

Both Parties Push Voting In Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Both major parties made a last-minute drive Monday to encourage a heavy "popularity contest" vote for President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson in Pennsylvania's primary election tomorrow.

Republican and Democratic state organizations urged voters to push the preference pollings for their respective presidential favorites.

Stevenson, in effect, was urged to support the GOP ticket. The case of Sen. William F. Knowland of California appeared only because he was expected to win before the vote.

Stevenson's will be the only presidential candidate name on the Democratic ballot with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee avoiding any outward attempt to gain a write-in vote in the state.

Bagwell

The grand-stands program was started because state party leadership is out of touch with the thinking of rank and file party members and with the large independent vote of the state.

The new interest shown in Cobb as a candidate, however, throws a different light on this action, said Bagwell.

The move to draft Cobb was launched Saturday by a group of 14 top GOP leaders shortly before a meeting of the Republican state central committee.

Petitions to nominate Cobb were in the process of being printed Monday and will be ready for statewide circulation Tuesday.

No person should declare himself a candidate unless there has been demonstrated all-state support and widespread interest, Bagwell said.

It will not have with Governor William E. Weaver, there is evidence to believe that a statewide interest exists.

If Bagwell assumes a candidate he offers he will request a vote of approval up until the primary and then if nominated will continue the drive through petitions.

It seemed he would then submit his resignation.

It is not known if state party leaders will back up the move to nominate Cobb, but Bagwell said the move is being made.

Bagwell's move is being made in the face of the fact that the state party leaders are not in favor of the move.

Violence Spreads in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A wave of violence between Greek and Turkish Cypriots washed over Nicosia Monday.

It left two Turks dead, at least eight men and women wounded, and a large Greek-owned building in flames.

A dusk fall, hard-poured British troops and police clamped a house curfew on the walled inner part of this city of 88,000. The streets were cleared. Only the flames of the burning building and the wailing of Turkish women remained as evidence of the outbreak.

Police said two suspected killers were seized by a 17-year-old girl as he fled the scene—were held.

It was the deadliest day of communal strife in Cyprus, whose population includes about 400,000 Greek-speaking people and 100,000 Turkish-speaking.

Earlier, a British soldier died of wounds suffered Monday night in the ambush of a military patrol east of the port of Limassol. Two other troops were wounded.

The three deaths raised to 74 the toll attributed to a year's campaign of violence by Greek-Cypriot seeking union of the island with Greece.

Finishes Second—Wins

Head Man Leaves For Kentucky Derby

NEW YORK (AP)—Head Man departed Monday night for Kentucky shortly after it was announced that High King also would tackle the $125,000-added Derby at Churchill Downs in Louisville May 5.

Head Man, who was declared the Wood Memorial winner Saturday although he finished second to Golf Ace, arrives in Derbytown by train Tuesday.

Arguments still were a dime a dozen on the Wood outcome, in which Golf Ace, not eligible for the derby, hit the finish 2 1/2 lengths ahead of Head Man.

The consensus seemed that Golf Ace would have beaten Head Man regardless of the fouling incident.

Golf Ace, ridden by Tony DeSpirito, swerved sharply as he was leading in the stretch, and Eddie Arcazo lodged a quick objection which was upheld by the stewards.

Movies of the race showed Head Man was right on Golf Ace's heels about an eighth of a mile from home, and Arcazo who was outside of Golf Ace, took Head Man to the inside of the track for his losing effort.

Late Monday afternoon after studying films of the race, Jamaica stewards cleared DeSpirito. They said he "made every effort to prevent the interference."

Apparently Head Man and High King will be the lone representatives from the Wood field in the mile and one-quarter derby.

Trainer T. J. Barry said he believed High King "ran a very good race considering that this was only his second start of the year."

Meanwhile, from San Francisco, came word that No Regrets, winner of the Kentucky Derby, was "back."

Late Monday afternoon after studying films of the race, Jamaica stewards cleared DeSpirito. They said he "made every effort to prevent the interference."

Apparently Head Man and High King will be the lone representatives from the Wood field in the mile and one-quarter derby.

Trainer T. J. Barry said he believed High King "ran a very good race considering that this was only his second start of the year."

Bragan's Debut a Jittery One

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Bragan didn't look like a fellow who had butterflies in his stomach, but they were there, he said. He was standing in front of the Pittsburgh Pirate dugout at the Polo Grounds before the game marking his debut as a major league manager. Across the field another new manager, Bill Rigney, was holding court.

Bragan was talking of this and that, outwardly as calm as a millpond, but he insisted he was jittery.

Fresno Thompson said, "a bystander commented, 'that there were 50 games a season a manger couldn't possibly win, and 50 he couldn't lose. That leaves 54 that a manager has to manage." "That's the same idea," Bragan agreed. "Most of the managing isn't done on the field, anyway. It's giving the players the confidence that their jobs are safe as long as they produce. When they are insecure, and the situation is cloudy, they can't do so well."

"We're a young team, you know. Do you know that some of these fellows never heard of Fred Merkle?"

"That's nothing," a fellow said. "There's a statue of Honus Wagner in Pittsburgh, and some young fellows were looking at it trying to figure out who it represented. They finally decided it must be Ralph Kiner."

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young chemical engineer works on new ways to make silicones

Silicones are a new class of man-made chemicals with very unusual properties. Made from sand, they assume the form of rubber, grease, oil and resin. Under extremes of heat and cold, the rubber stays rubbery, the oil oily. Silicones added to fabrics make them exceptionally water-repellent. Silicone makes waxes spread easier... paints almost impervious to weather.

One of the men responsible for finding new ways to produce silicone products is 26-year-old Frank V. Summers.

Summers' Work Interesting, Important

As process engineer of the Silicone Products Department, Frank Summers first compares the results of small-scale, pilot-plant experiments with the production methods in actual use. Then, using his own knowledge of chemical-engineering principles, he designs faster, more efficient and more economical methods of producing silicone products. Frank Summers' excellent training, diversified experience and outstanding personal qualifications make him a valuable contributor to this engineering team.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Frank Summers came to General Electric in 1949, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

Musicians Miss Their Native Land

Heath Trombonist Anxious To Return to His Family

In nine days Ted Heath's Orchestra is scheduled to sail home to England following a four-week tour in America with the "Record Star Parade of 1956."

One member of the orchestra, Don Lusher, is particularly anxious to return to his native land.

Lusher plays the trombone in the orchestra and, according to Heath, is the top trombonist in the group.

The reason for Lusher's anxiety in reaching home is his desire to see his family again. He has two boys, ages two and five, and I miss them very much," he said.

"Being away from England for the first time is tough on some of the men," Lusher commented. "We've even lost a few due to sickness and homesickness."

Interviewed prior to Monday night's show, Lusher told of his taking in the trombone since his father played it and would make a wonderful teacher.

Lusher was born in Peterborough, England, and has lived there all his life. He joined Heath's Orchestra three years ago after playing with some smaller British orchestras. He still does free lance work when not in rehearsal or performing with Heath.

In commenting on the current American tour, Lusher made many interesting comments. He said he was most impressed with the vastness of America and the "speedy way of living."

He also regretted that he doesn't have much of a chance to practice since the group travels most of the day for its four-night stands.

Lusher said he was particularly impressed with the fine clothes in America and said he bought many garments for his two youngsters.

In reference to the 25-year-old ban on the exchange of British and American musicians, Lusher explained that the British unions were always afraid the "better" American musicians would come abroad and put many British musicians out of work. Lusher said he was happy the ban was lifted and that he had the opportunity to tour America.

In discussing Stan Kenton, who has just concluded an exchange tour of the British Isles, Lusher commented:

"Everyone back home was very much impressed with Kenton's fine music."

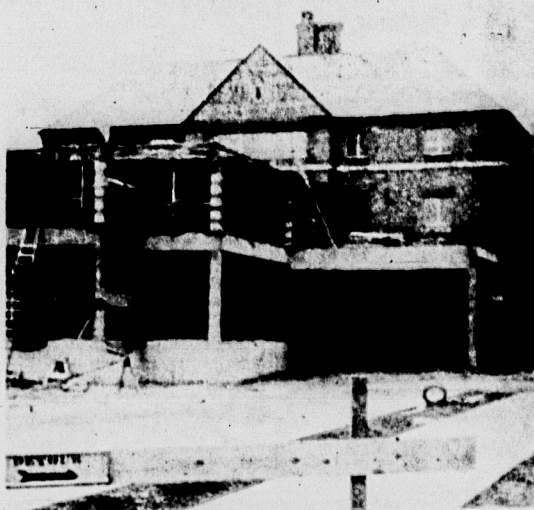

Lusher's most entertaining comment at the evening came when he was asked what he thought of the rock and roll craze in America.

"It is a necessary commercial evil," he said.

Brandstatter Visits Vietnam

Arthur F. Brandstatter, head of the department of public safety, left Monday afternoon for Saigon, Vietnam, via Washington, D.C.

The leading item on his schedule is the examination of the progress that has been made by the police mission in the more efficient administration of police work.

Brandstatter is one of the original team sent by the MSU group to give assistance to the Vietnamese government in rebuilding its nation.

The seven-week itinerary includes stops at Manila, Hong Kong, London and Shannon, Ireland. Brandstatter said he would like to visit the police groups at these cities in order to be better acquainted with the administration of other agencies.

13 Districts Need Petitions

Student congress petitioners are still needed to represent 13 districts, according to Sherla Jennings, elections chairman.

Men living in the following areas include: East Shaw, Rather, Butternut, Phillips, and Men's co-ops.

Good representatives are needed for North Campbell, South Campbell, South Williams, West Mass, East Landon, and East Yakeley.

Lansing and East Lansing students also have openings.

Thursday is the deadline for filing congress petitions. They may be picked up in the student government office, Union basement.

Counting begins April 29 and primaries will be held May 3. Final elections are scheduled for May 10.

Ike Abandoned Promises In Farm Veto—Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson said Monday night that President Eisenhower abandoned his 1952 campaign promises when he vetoed the farm bill. Johnson said the veto will cost American farmers two billion dollars this year.

The Texas senator's speech was prepared as the Democrats' answer to Eisenhower's radio-TV address a week ago in which the President said he turned thumbs down on the Democratic-sponsored farm bill because it was unworkable and self-defeating.

Johnson used a recording of one Eisenhower speech in the 1952 campaign and, for television audiences, had a movie shown depicting Eisenhower speaking out in favor of price supports at 90 percent of parity.

The Senate majority leader's speech was broadcast on major radio networks and kinescoped for showing an hour and a half later on NBC-TV.

Eisenhower has cited the 90 percent figure as the main reason for his vetoing the farm bill. He and Secretary of Agriculture Benson have favored a sliding scale of price supports instead.

Johnson asserted Eisenhower had only backed away from his 1952 pledges, but also "has completely abandoned his flexible supports."

He referred to the President's action when, in vetoing the farm bill, he increased support prices for cotton, rice, wheat and corn above levels previously announced or anticipated for this year.

SCF Slates State Retreat

Today is the last day of regular registration for Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship's state conference, Friday-Sunday. Anyone registering after today will be charged an extra fee.

Students interested in attending the conference to be held at Yankee Springs, should contact Howard King, 318 West Shaw, or Louis Sheldon, ED 2-1437. The conference is open to all students. Spartan Christian Fellowship, the local IV chapter, is in charge of this year's retreat. The theme is, "Does Jesus Christ Give Meaning to Life?" Guest speaker will be Rev. Arthur Murray of Dexter, formerly of Ireland. Topics to be discussed include "Who Is Christ?" "Who Did Jesus Christ Claim to Be?" and "Why Did Christ Die?"

French Club Meeting Changed to Thursday

The French Club will not meet Wednesday evening as usual.

The group will attend the French play, "La Comedie de Victorine" at the Music Box Thursday evening instead.
