AWSS Discusses Hours

Explain Delay in Ratification

Mrs. Lurline Lee, Asst. to Dean of Students, Women's division, discussed the administration recommendation to extend coed dorm closing hours to 10:30 p.m., with the AWSS Activities board today night.

In an editorial appearing in the State News Monday, Mrs. Lee said that the administration members had made the recommendation to extend the closing hours to 10:30 p.m. The proposal was discussed with dorm management officials and arrangements were made for carrying out such a plan.

The official stated that the administration had made the recommendation known to the winter term when the library hours were established.

Mrs. Lee said that dorm management officials had recommended the administration that the proposal not become effective until the summer term. She said that the proposal was not approved until the summer term.

The recommendation could be considered as a joint action of the two boards. This action is being held when hand-out sessions are considered.

The two boards decided that the recommendation should be considered as a joint action of the two boards. This action is being held when hand-out sessions are considered.

Graduate Reception

At a graduate reception held last night, President and Mrs. John Hannah and Dick Wood, senior class president, met one of the graduates attending. Students from the College of Communication Arts, Education and Veterinary Medicine were received at the reception.

Shaw Play Chosen For Spring Work

'Caesar and Cleopatra' To Run Three Nights

The MSU Players will present George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" May 24, 25 and 26 as their spring term production.

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of Shaw in Dublin, Ireland. "Caesar and Cleopatra" was written in 1898, and a recent film version starred Claude Rains and Vivien Leigh.

The large cast of 38 players is under the direction of Virgil Goffrey, speech instructor, who also directed Shaw's "Arms and the Man" in arena style in the summer of 1954.

Herbert Camburn, Morenci graduate student, will star in the role of Caesar. Camburn has designed many of the MSU Players productions and has been seen on Fairchild stage in "She Stoops to Conquer" and "School for Scandal."

Jennie Pohl, Detroit senior, will play the role of Cleopatra. She has appeared in "School for Scandal" and "Bell, Book and Candle." Featured in other leading roles will be Pauline Schmuckler, East Lansing graduate, as Flutista; Cleopatra's nurse, and Lee Wright, Detroit junior, as the brutal Roman soldier, Rufus.

Other Roman officers will be played by Roger Birtwell, Detroit senior, Donald Polzin, Grand Rapids graduate student, and Henry Wawrzyniak, Hamtramck sophomore.

The cast includes Frederick Brown, Detroit freshman, as palace attendant, Carol Larsen, Detroit sophomore, as Flutista; Thelma Manikas, Ypsilanti freshman, as Iris; Ellen Harrington, Detroit senior, lady-in-waiting; Donald Murray, Kenosha, Wisc., graduate student, Rufus.

The Roman soldiers will be William Bird, Pontiac senior, Donald Fennick, Marshall sophomore, James Hourigan, St. Clair Shores freshman, Paul Moore, East Lansing graduate student, Howard Rubin, Birmingham freshman, and Donald St. John, Rockford, Ill., sophomore.

Other cast members will be Donald Bumgardner, Pontiac freshman, Theodorus Mayhelle.

'We'll Win'—Ag Faculty Pitcher

Softball Game May Soften Instructors

By JEAN MCMAHON

"Of course we'll win," said Dr. Richard M. Saxson, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, confidently.

Saxson was referring to the softball game between the College of Agriculture faculty and an all-star student team, to be played at the annual Ox Roast May 24.

The score last year was 7-0 in favor of the faculty. Saxson was the winning pitcher.

The Agriculture Council, who sponsor the Ox Roast, has challenged the faculty to a game again this year. Dean of Students Tom King and Dean of Agriculture Thomas K. Cowden will act as umpire. Saxson will again pitch for the faculty.

In its letter inviting the faculty to participate, the Council declared, "The purpose of the game is of course to entertain the spectators and to soften the instructors for finals."

Last year, because the faculty pitcher was an extremely hard marker, the students allowed them to win the game.

There can be no doubt about the effectiveness of the team to represent the students. One look at them should be enough

At Least 20 Killed In Ottawa Air Crash

Eight Die In Indiana Plane Crash

Dead Include Executives, Pilots

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Six executives of a Chicago business firm and two crew members were killed Tuesday when a twin-engine company plane crashed on an Indiana farm while attempting an emergency landing.

The plane literally burst into flames on a muddy field. State police said there was a remote possibility that a faulty landing gear was the cause of the crash.

An official passenger list, however, gave the names of only eight people.

Eleven minutes out of Louisville Standford Field, the pilot made routine radio contact with the tower, giving no indication of trouble.

A private pilot, John Young, had telephoned police before the crash that a plane was in trouble and circling for an emergency landing.

Six of the victims were executives of the Crane Co. of Chicago, on their way to Louisville to attend a convention of the Heating, Piping and Air Conditioning National Assn. The other two were crewmen.

The company identified them as: J. A. McMurtry, director of branches; J. A. Draper, vice president; George L. Egan, vice president; C. Towler, assistant to the vice president in charge of heating; G. G. Landrum, a departmental manager.

Frederic J. Wilkey, special representative; Harry Miller, pilot; Robert Robinson, co-pilot.

The plane barely missed one farm house before it clipped the top of the trees and plunged nose-down into an open field, surrounded by several houses. The wreckage was almost directly under the tops of two sheared trees.

Witnesses said there was a "terrible explosion" when the plane hit. There was no fire.

Mrs. Sarah Cain said she heard the plane hit and that she and her husband ran out of their farm house, about 150 yards from the scene, "to see if we could pull anyone out."

But when they got there, she said, "There wasn't anyone to pull out."

New Chemistry Text Written by Professor

Dr. Kenneth G. Stok, Jr., associate professor of chemistry, is the author of an advanced chemistry text scheduled for publication June 1.

Entitled "Determination of Organic Compounds," the text will be used next winter in the organic quantitative analysis course.

Many new features are being planned for the text. Among them will be entertaining and interesting problems to be presented at the Carnival.

Decorations will also be used at the Carnival this year. The text will be five more meetings of student government this term, according to House Brokers, congress speaker.

Two students will be recommended by Student Traffic Appeal court nominations committee to serve on the court this summer. The names will be submitted for congressional approval by Roger Augustine, chief justice of the court.

Bill Mayhew, student government president, will explain the constitution and executive branch of ASU for the benefit of new members.

Other meetings are scheduled for May 21, 7:30 p.m., 11 Union; May 22, 7:30 p.m., 12 Union; May 23, 7:30 p.m., 13 Union; May 24, 7:30 p.m., 14 Union; May 25, 7:30 p.m., 15 Union; and the final meeting June 4, 7:30 p.m., 16 Union.

Mrs. Mary Feller, a Red Cross nurse, and Patsy Gallagher, Greenbush, N.Y. freshman, hold the pint of blood Miss Gallagher donated in the ROTC Spring Term Blood Drive.

Army Leading Donations For ROTC Blood Drive

Donations in the ROTC Spring Term Blood Drive totaled 743 Tuesday, the second day of the drive. The Army still leads in the number of pints donated with a total of 539 to the Air Force's 229.

Carnival Planning Underway

In the first joint meeting of Activities, Carnival executive board and activities representatives Tuesday night, Activities Carnival plans for 1956 began to formulate.

The most important change presented at the meeting was the Anniversary Carnival date. The Carnival will be held in Mackle Stadium on Sept. 27, instead of the previously planned Oct. 4. This change was made necessary due to football practice in the stadium.

"Now Is The Time" is the theme around which the Carnival will be centered this year. The Carnival is primarily directed toward freshmen, but upperclassmen will also be urged to learn more about campus activities.

All 195 campus organizations have received application forms for the Activities Carnival.

Many new features are being planned for the Carnival. Among them will be entertaining and interesting problems to be presented at the Carnival.

Decorations will also be used at the Carnival this year. The text will be five more meetings of student government this term, according to House Brokers, congress speaker.

RCAF Jet Plummets Into Convent

Flames Hamper Death Count

OTTAWA (AP)—An RCAF jet fighter plane crashed into a convent near Ottawa Tuesday night leaving a death toll estimated at from 20 to more than 50 people.

Flames from the burning building hampered accurate counting of the victims.

Sixty-nine nuns and two priests were known to be in the building at the time of the crash and at least 17 nuns were reported to have escaped.

The convent is located in the Ottawa, about seven miles east of Ottawa.

The pilot is believed to have died in the plane crash also. The plane was identified as a CF-100 fighter plane.

One priest's body was found beside the convent building and another died in an Ottawa hospital about three hours after the crash.

The convent, known as the Villa St. Louis, operated by the Grey Nuns of the Cross as a convalescent home.

The plane had been seen in two hours before the crash occurred at 10:15 p.m. The crash occurred as a convalescent hospital for the aged and about 20 of its inmates were sleeping in the building.

Mrs. Marie Flora, who lives nearby, said the plane swooped over her home in flames and crashed into the three-story convent building between the second and top floors. There was a big explosion.

Another report said the plane first hit the chapel adjoining the convent building, then plunged down into the main building.

Firemen were rushed to the scene from the RCAF station at Rockville, from Ottawa and Kanata, but the brick building was reported demolished.

Three neighbors who were among the first outsiders to reach the scene pulled away the body of the dead priest. He had jumped from the second floor, his clothing in flames.

One of the neighbors, Fern A. Hart, said he was in a wheelchair and helped pull out two of the surviving nuns.

I ran toward the burning building two hours later. Army and private ambulances were organized into a traffic service between the convent and Ottawa.

New AFOTC Officer Due On Campus

Maj. John Burton, public information officer at Peppercorn Air Force Base, N.Y., will join the faculty at MSU in June. He was announced Tuesday in a dispatch from Peppercorn.

Maj. Burton and his family are expected to reach the campus July 1. He will report to Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., July 19 to attend an Air Force ROTC instructor course before returning to East Lansing early in September.

The Michigan State Detachment to which Maj. Burton will be assigned, formerly was commanded by Col. W. S. Bond, who is now stationed at Peppercorn.

Maj. Burton is a veteran of 15 years' service and was awarded the Army Commendation Medal in 1951. Prior to his current assignment, he was a reporter and radio news editor in New York and Philadelphia.

Congressmen To Attend Opening Meet

Newly elected student congressmen will have their first chance to conduct business tonight at the opening session of the sixth All-University Student Government.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 in 12 Union.

The 31 congressmen will be sworn in by Associate Justice Roger Bennett, Oak Park, Ill., justice.

Two students will be recommended by Student Traffic Appeal court nominations committee to serve on the court this summer. The names will be submitted for congressional approval by Roger Augustine, chief justice of the court.

Bill Mayhew, student government president, will explain the constitution and executive branch of ASU for the benefit of new members.

APATHY

State News editors didn't have to write any editorials today. Two of our readers did the job for us. They put their point across pretty well. The State News agrees with them completely.

To the Editor:

May I bring to your attention a very embarrassing occurrence on Monday night. Your paper had printed two articles, one in form of a news bulletin, one in form of an editorial, entitled "A Worthwhile Talk" on the forthcoming visit of the French Ambassador to the United Nations to our campus.

M. Herve Alphonse is one of France's most brilliant diplomats, one of America's staunch friends, a truly international leader and statesman of our turbulent times. You printed all that in the State News Monday morning.

Sir Richard Livingstone was scheduled to lecture that same night. These two lectures were the only significant extra-curricular happenings on an otherwise usually much more crowded schedule of events.

Arriving at Fairchild for the Alphonse lecture, I was shocked to find a total of 53 (fifty-three) people there. A check revealed that 19 of these 53 were students (eight of these foreign students), the rest of the audience was composed of Madame Alphonse and the French Consul from Detroit, various faculty members and their wives.

Vice-President Hamilton introduced the distinguished speaker whom Student Government had sponsored this visit as a highlight of International Week. It was rather incomprehensible that Student Government was, to my knowledge, not represented by more than two persons. The Political Science department, which should be happy to welcome international figures to this campus was hardly represented at all.

I believe it is only fair that we apologize to the Ambassador, Michigan State University students and faculty have once again shown that apparently they have little or no interest or felt need to become first-hand witnesses of the great drama played on the world stage.

After the lecture and very interesting discussion, this writer found himself a witness to another significant demonstration of student interest.

A large number of "students" expressed their sentiments and their socio-political curiosity in an extended cat-calling session from one dormitory to another. Obviously they did not know what to do with themselves and with their boredom and abundant spare-time.

These happenings may provide interesting insights to the editors of their readers' habits. I suggest they discontinue their truly fine service to the student body on keeping them posted on all significant events and rather publish periodically lists of cat-calls for the perusal of the inhabitants of this campus. Homer's Iliad might be an excellent source for these. You know, the Greeks have an answer for every emergency.

'Satisfactory' Work, Attendance Will Boost Pay

Wages to Start at 90c an Hour

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles explaining the present student wage. Today's article details a wage plan that will go into effect this summer.

By ANN TUCKY

When the new graduated wage system takes effect on June 30 and July 2 for university student employees, the minimum starting rate will be 90c per hour.

This will be a five cent raise for all employees. The change will take place June 30 for Dormitory and Food Services and July 2 for all other departments.

Policy on the graduated wage plan states that "after the completion of one school term of employment, if the student's work has been deemed satisfactory and the student has worked a minimum of 100 hours during that term, he should be granted an increase to 95 cents per hour upon re-hiring for the second consecutive term in the same department."

The policy goes on to state that if the employee completes the second school term of work in the same manner as the first term, he should be granted an increase to one dollar per hour upon re-hiring for the third consecutive term.

All subsequent terms would be at the rate of one dollar per hour, if previous terms are completed satisfactorily.

It should be pointed out that to qualify for the increase from 95 cents per hour and again to one dollar, the student must work a minimum of 100 hours during the term, and must work for consecutive terms in the same department, as well as working satisfactorily.

However, the consecutive applies only when the student is in school. For example, a student would qualify for the rate increase if he worked spring and fall terms, but would not qualify if he worked fall and spring terms as consecutive, if he were in school winter term.

"Satisfactory performance should include some of the following factors," as stated in the policy:

1. Willing worker, ability to learn job, displays interest and enthusiasm toward job, takes pride in doing good job.
2. Courteous, congenial and cooperative toward fellow employees, supervisors and public, whether student or other.

3. Not more than one unexcused absence in any one term.

4. Punctuality—employee is on the job ready for work at required times and does not leave until the job is finished.

5. Willingness to work during periods which the job demands, including registration, mid-term examination and final examination periods.

Additional comment is included in the policy on excess pay rates as follows:

In some instances it may be necessary to start students in excess of 90 cents due to added responsibility, special skills, nature of the work and so on. This new policy in no way changes the existing policy in this respect and a student may be paid more for special skills and the assumption of added responsibilities at the discretion of the department head.

High school students will continue to work under the minimum rate of 60 cents per hour.

This new plan has worked in several other universities including the University of Michigan, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin.

Letters to the Editor

Football Wins Prof's Praise

To the Editor:

Your editorials on intercollegiate football in the State News for May 7 and 8 were honest, forthright and courageous, and I should like to commend you for them. I agree on the whole with your analysis of the situation, but I am not sure that I could accept your proposed solution. It seems to me as extreme as to abandon football entirely. Both actions would seem to me to overlook the fact that football has potential educational values just as other sports do. Of course, these values are largely overlooked and lost under conditions of "big-time" football. I believe they could be salvaged if it were put back into a sensible perspective on a par with other sports.

Your proposed solution rests on an assumption stated as follows in your editorial of May 7: "Without these football receipts, there would be no minor sports—not even baseball and track—and no intramural program, a field in which MSU tops the nation."

Disregarding the last part of the statement which may or may not be true, I disagree with the main part of the statement. I do not think it is borne out by facts. Many colleges and universities have teams in sports other than football and strong intramural programs without depending upon football for support. And even if they do not receive support from football gate receipts they should not have to depend on this. The point is, that if these programs have educational value, which I believe they do, and they are not blown up out of all proportion to such values, most institutions can and will support them.

A university does not expect laboratories or classrooms to be self-supporting and has no hesitancy in seeking funds to provide and maintain them. No body questions their educational value or importance. Nor will the supporters of a college or university fail to provide funds for any other part of an institutional program if they have faith in its educational value. I believe a strong program of intramurals and a reasonable sports program can easily meet this test but I doubt very much that "big-time" football can do so.

Ideally, every sport, I think, should be closely related to the program of physical education and should justify itself on the basis of what it contributes to the educational values of that program. If and when it fails to satisfy this criterion in the opinion of the faculty of an educational institution, it should cease to be a part of its program.

John Kiernan, for many years one of our keenest and best informed sports analysts and formerly sports editor of the New York Times, once said that American colleges and universities could do away with most of the evils of intercollegiate competition by one very simple expedient. All that would be needed, he said, would be to stop charging admission to games. The implications of this are devastating to the sports industry, and especially football, but the net effect and the most important one would be to put sports back where they belong—an educational activity for the benefit of all students.

Where to Go If Tornado Alert Is Sounded

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following information about what married housing and dormitories residents should do in case of a tornado was supplied to the State News by the Department of Public Safety. A limited number of copies of the April 30 edition of the State News, which contained additional information on tornadoes, are available in the State News office.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts the possibility of tornadoes in a general area by issuing a "tornado alert" if a tornado is sighted and reported to the Weather Bureau, a tornado warning is issued to residents via local radio and television stations.

Upon receipt of a local "tornado warning" residents of the married housing area are advised to immediately go to one of the following buildings and to seek shelter in a lower basement area. Follow the directions of police officers at the scene.

Auditorium
Berkey Hall
Natural Science Building

Jenison Gymnasium (Not the Fieldhouse)
Giltner Hall

Dormitory residents are advised to take shelter in the closed central corridors of the dormitories on the lower floor levels. All room doors to the corridors should be closed. Stay away from windows.

Do not telephone the police departments, radio or television stations or the Weather Bureau.

Keep calm! It will not help to get excited.

Batters Anxious to Face Robin But Can't Do Anything With Him

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MILWAUKEE.—The batters just can't wait to get up and swing against the guy. But when they get up there, nine times out of 10 they don't do a thing with him.

That is big Joe Adcock's brief appraisal of Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia Phillies' ace right-hander. Says the Milwaukee Braves' manager: "I've battled against that guy for the last six years, so have a lot of other guys. But I don't know anybody who has him figured out. The way he throws, there's just no way to figure it."

"You know just about what he's going to do every game. He has a little bit of this and a little bit of that, but he knows just after those where that little bit is going."

"You sit there in the dugout and watch the guy pitch. You think to yourself: just let me get up there and I'll kick the guy out of the park." It looks like the easiest thing in the world to get up there and do just that. But I don't do it—and no one else does it, either. Not very often anyway."

Adcock says the Phillies star always puts the ball "just a little bit out of reach—just an inch or two away from where you can get a good part of the bat on it."

"He knows my weakness—everyone in the league does. They all pitch me low—I think it's the first thing they tell a young pitcher when he comes up. 'Pitch Adcock low.'"

Pig Joe wouldn't name them, but he said the better hitters fatten their averages on a "handful of pitchers" in the National League. "You just wait and wait," says Adcock. "Sometime or later you know they're going to come in there with it. You just gotta be patient."

'Mural Highlights

AFTER the first week of competition, Lee McDonald and Jerry Houston are tied for first place in the baseball throw with 23 points. Six men follow in a tie for third place with 21 points. A total of 92 entrants have participated. The contest will continue until Friday. Participants sign up as they throw.

MANAGERS of volleyball teams can pick up schedules for the remainder of the season by stopping at the IM office.

Brooklyn Purchases Maglie from Indians

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Dodgers Tuesday purchased Sal (The Barber) Maglie, veteran righthanded pitcher and their old Giant nemesis, from the Cleveland Indians and sold righthander Jim Hughes to the Chicago Cubs.

Soccer Captain Hopes For Stronger Support

By LARRY GUSTIN

Soccer, a sport struggling for existence on the Michigan State campus, needs more support from faculty and students if it is to proceed "beyond a certain point," said Ray Burdett, captain of the Spartan booters.

Rookie League Organized in Nebraska

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Baseball's first all-rounder league, an eight-team Nebraska circuit in which eight major league clubs will split all profits or losses equally, was organized here Tuesday.

The class D circuit will be open only to those graduates of high schools or colleges with no previous professional experience. A total of 92 entrants have participated. The contest will continue until Friday. Participants sign up as they throw.

In agreeing to pool all receipts and divide them at the season's end, or to split all deficits on the same plan, the major league teams also showed cooperation by "drawing" the name of their farm clubs from a hat.

George M. Traubman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, said the teams making up the league were within a 130-mile radius.

Teams will be limited to 21 players. Traubman said the league will fill a long-sought need in organized ball in that it will give the high-ranking teams a chance to test high school and college talent as a lower level.

The squad is currently wearing maroon jerseys borrowed from the Windsor Corinthians, whom they played two weeks ago. The Canadian team won that contest, 3-2, but the Spartans rebounded with a comeback behind 4-3 win over Michigan Saturday, and hope to repeat that victory this weekend at Ann Arbor.

"We couldn't practice all last week because of the weather," Burdett added. "I hope we won't have as much trouble this week." Ray is a business major and hopes to go into public accounting when he graduates.

Phillies End Losing Streak

Foytack, Gromek Whip Bosox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paul Foytack gained his second major league pitching victory Tuesday as the Detroit Tigers backed him with a 13-hit attack to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 6-3.

The 25-year-old right-hander needed a tight relief performance from veteran Steve Gromek, who pitched the eighth and ninth innings, striking out four of the six men he faced.

The Tigers routed Boston, starting Willard Nixon in the fourth inning when they scored their fourth and fifth runs. Bill Tuttle had homered for Detroit in the third with one on.

The game was played in a cold, steady drizzle and only 2,800 fans paid to get in.

Al Kaline returned to the Tiger lineup after missing two games with a bum shoulder. He batted out two singles in four hits. The Tiger shortstop has gotten 20 hits in his last 25 games at bat and has hit safely in his last eight games.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies ended a 10-game losing streak by downing the Boston Red Sox, 4-1, as Stu Miller, recently acquired from St. Louis, spun a six-hitter.

Losing pitcher Lew Burdette had allowed only two Philadelphia safeties through the first six innings, but then Philadelphia rallied for two runs in the seventh and one more in the eighth to win the game.

Rhee Wins Presidency Third Time

SEOUL (AP) — Syngman Rhee Tuesday won his third term as president of South Korea on the basis of incomplete but conclusive returns from Tuesday's presidential election.

But the 81-year-old president was trailing a dead candidate in a surprisingly heavy protest vote in the capital city of Seoul itself.

With 3,090,700 ballots counted over the nation—almost half of the vote cast—Rhee had a commanding margin over ex-Communist Cho Bong Am, his only live opponent.

National police said unofficial returns counted by 7:30 a. m. gave Rhee 2,277,399 and Cho 809,247, with 193,197 invalid.

Election officials said the bulk of the invalid ballots were for P. H. Shimicky, the Democratic party candidate and Rhee's long-time political foe. Shimicky died of a cerebral hemorrhage while campaigning May 5.

In Seoul balloting, Rhee got only 173,869 votes compared with 23,442 invalid ballots. Cho had 102,301 in Seoul.

The bulk of the vote still uncounted is from rural areas, where lies Rhee's greatest political strength.

Korean election laws made no provision for removing Shimicky's name from the ballot after his death. His Democratic party leaders urged followers to vote for him as a protest against Rhee's two administrations and Rhee's lateral party.

Bikini H-Bomb Blast Set for Dawn Today

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch is written by one of 15 news media representatives who will witness a hydrogen bomb detonation in the Pacific this week, weather permitting. It is sent to the State News by special arrangement.

By MARVIN MILLS
Los Angeles Times Correspondent
BIKINI LAGOON, May 16 (AP)—The hope of every man in the task force, all 13,500 of them, are focused on dawn this morning for today, officially D minus one for Cheyenne Shot.

Newsmen and civil defense observers aboard the USS Mt. McKinley were informed after Monday night's weather briefing that conditions were "continuing to improve."

The Task Force has been on D minus Two status for virtually a week, with all preparations for the forthcoming mid-air hydrogen bomb blast completed except for final scientific and technical tasks that can be finished in about six hours.

Only skeleton atomic energy commission crews and the boatmen who will evacuate them to ships in the lagoon remain on the northern islands of Bikini Atoll. All heavy equipment such as cranes, tractors and bulldozers have been removed together with all other material considered vulnerable to blast.

A chart of the forecast winds shown the observer group showed improving conditions at all levels, although there still is, of course, a possibility of a change during the night.

Another factor that must be considered is cloud cover. If the bombardier aboard the drop plane cannot see the lighted target circle visually in two plane runs, the shot will be aborted.

Commander Charles A. Palmer Jr. described the expected cloud conditions and said "the odds are slightly in our favor."

The Mt. McKinley will be stationed about 31 nautical miles from ground zero in an inner ring of eight ships. An outer ring of six other ships will be five nautical miles distant.

Dr. Felt today briefed the news party on operations at the control point in the last few minutes before the drop. In case of an emergency of any kind, including the malfunctioning of vital technical equipment, the drop can be called off by radio up to five or ten seconds of bomb release, depending on the reaction time of the bombardier aboard the B-52 Stratofort.

Envy Island, off our starboard beam, is packed with AEC people, military men and construction crews ready for final evacuation today.

Only Dr. Gerten Felt, deputy commander of the scientific task group and a few associates will remain on Envy 20 miles from ground zero on Namu Island. They will be stationed in a reinforced steel and concrete control bunker which is covered with coral earth.

There is a good chance the Cherokee will be born in moments of fury over Namu at dawn today.

Flood Danger Increases With Rains

The unexpected rain Tuesday brought slight threats of new flood danger but the East Lansing weather bureau reported that they were not looking for much more rainfall.

Not more than one-fourth or one-half inches could fall without bringing a new rise in the river.

The Red Cedar River had receded 6 inches by 5 p. m. Tuesday.

The basement of the Women's gym and the foundry were still flooded but there was no estimate of damage.

The House Trailers evacuated from Cooper's Trailer Camp on E. Michigan Ave. Monday morning, are still in the Mackin parking lot and are expected to remain there for about a week. The camp area is still submerged.

The river, which reached its crest of 102 feet Monday morning, was at its highest since 1948 when it reached 113 feet. In 1947 the river swelled to 127 feet.

Coach Anderson To Talk at Banquet

Frankly Anderson, head basketball coach, will be the guest speaker at the Inter-dorm All-Union Banquet on May 21 at Josty Hall.

The banquet will feature all the dormitory champions of the inter-dorm sports events for the year.

The dorm champions are: soft ball, Rather 3; football, East Shaw 1; and Bryan, turkey trot, East Shaw; free throws, West Shaw; Ping Pong, Phillips; bowling, East Shaw 3; swimming, West Shaw; basketball, Rather 7; and golf, West Shaw.

About 150 students and faculty members are expected to attend.

Silvert to Address Service Group

Dr. K. H. Silvert, a former member of the American University Field Staff, will speak to Delta Phi Epsilon, national foreign service professional fraternity, tonight at 7 in the Tower Room, Union.

Dr. Silvert will speak on "Political Problems in Latin America" with special emphasis on Guatemala. He has served on the faculty at Tulane University and has been a student and an observer of politics in Mexico, Chile and Guatemala.

Quick Death Denied Graham

DENVER (AP) — John Gilbert Graham, convicted of committing murder by blowing up an airliner, lost ground Tuesday in his stubborn demand that he be executed as soon as possible.

"I don't want any part of an appeal," declared the atoll Graham before the judge who sentenced him to die in Colorado's gas chamber during the week of Aug. 26 for dynamiting an airliner whose 44 passengers were killed.

But Judge Joseph M. McDonald, who had sentenced him, ordered the court-appointed attorneys to ask the Colorado Supreme Court what should be done.

This order, unprecedented in Colorado court history, "amounts to an appeal for all practical purposes," said a defense attorney.

Court attaches said the papers would be ready for filing in a few days. If the Supreme Court accedes jurisdiction, then it could order an appeal and issue a stay of execution. If not, then the execution would go ahead, as scheduled.

Graham had been convicted of murder for the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, one of those who died in the explosion and flaming crash of a United Air Lines plane near Longmont, Colo., last Nov. 1.

"I accept the verdict of the jury and desire that it be carried out with convenient speed," Graham said after his conviction 10 days ago. He stuck to that line all through Tuesday's court appearance for sentencing.

Without a change of expression, Graham told the court, "I don't see why I should have to make a political rally or something out of this. I don't see why it can't stop right here."

Graham had admitted he signed a statement to the Federal Bureau of Investigation saying he put a dynamite bomb in his mother's luggage, but at his trial he said the statement was untrue. The state charged he killed his mother to collect $27,500 in insurance.

Persistent questioning by Graham's attorneys on the appeal failed to shake his stand.

"I believe I had a fair trial as could be had under the circumstances," said the 24-year-old defendant, leaning back in the witness chair with his hand cupped under his chin.

Judge McDonald asked Graham if his request against an appeal was the result of "consciousness of guilt and feeling you should have to pay the penalty?"

"No," said Graham, keeping the same stolid expression, rarely changed during the 10-day trial.

Customarily, Colorado executions are carried out in the gas chamber in the penitentiary at Canon City about 100 miles from Denver. But on Friday of the week in which he was sentenced, Graham was probably that Graham would be placed in a row cell.

After Tuesday's hearing, Graham was taken to Canon City, 115 miles south of Denver, where he was to be placed in a row cell.
