Committees Rap Military Evasions

Blast Misuses As 'Unpardonable'

WASHINGTON, 47—Two House committees have cracked down on the military for what they call the "unpardonable misuse" of congressional funds to "evade giving out accurate information" to the public.

The usual action came to a head Sunday in an exchange of memoranda between Rep. Wm. D. Cahn, chairman of the House Committee on Information, and Rep. Mahon (D-Ill.), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

In reply to questions, said Cahn, the establishment had attempted to use a committee report containing last year's appropriation bill "as a convenient means to hide behind" in handling information.

"It was clearly the intent of the Appropriations Committee to express disapproval of the use of information about military plans, but it was misinterpreted by the Defense Department to apply to all types of information," he said.

As a result, the Appropriations Committee in its latest report this week included a finding directed to military officials not to "use its resources as a cover for misstatements and weak administration."

The crackdown and its inception at the Appropriations report of last week, Cahn said, was "a direct result of the release of the report of the House Committee on Information, which was released last week, and which is of no value to the American public, but is of tremendous value to the enemy."

Alpha Phi Alpha's Junior 500 entry crosses the finish line in a record-breaking 3:04.1 time.

Alpha Phi Alpha Sets Record in Junior 500

Alpha Phi Alpha, setting a new track record of 3:04.1 minutes, carried off first place in the men's speed division of the Lambda Chi Alpha Junior 500 Races Saturday afternoon.

Second place winner was Alpha Tau Omega, followed by Alpha Kappa Psi in third place.

The previous track record of 3:04.4 minutes was set in 1954 by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Winner of the women's speed division was Mason Hall, with North Williams in second place.

First place in the humorous division was "The Siege of Berkeley Hall" presented by Elsworth House. Zeta Beta Tau's "Propaganda Lines" took second.

Carta racing in the final heat of the men's speed races were selected by time. Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Tau and Sigma Alpha Epsilon were included in the six finalists.

Following the races, trophies were presented to the first, second and third place winners of the men's speed division by Dean Ziegler, Lambda Chi Alpha alumnus and founder of the Junior 500 here at MSU.

First and second place trophies were awarded to the winners of the speed and humorous divisions by Donna Reuling, Lambda Chi Alpha Crescent Queen and Tom King, dean of students.

Judges for the humorous entries were Dean King, Mrs. Lurline Lee, assistant to the dean of students, women's division, and Robb Gardner, assistant to the dean of students, men's division.

Air H-Bomb Dropped Sunday

Blood Drive Ends With 1,645 Pints

Army Doubles Air Force Total

The All-University Spring Term Blood Drive concluded Friday, with a total of 1,645 pints of blood being donated during the five-day campaign.

The drive, sponsored by the MSU Army and Air Force cadet organizations in cooperation with other campus groups, is held annually in connection with Armed Forces Week.

The Army raised its total number of volunteers to 1,100, with 105 donors reporting Friday. The Air Force, with 67 volunteers on the final day, totaled 581 for the week.

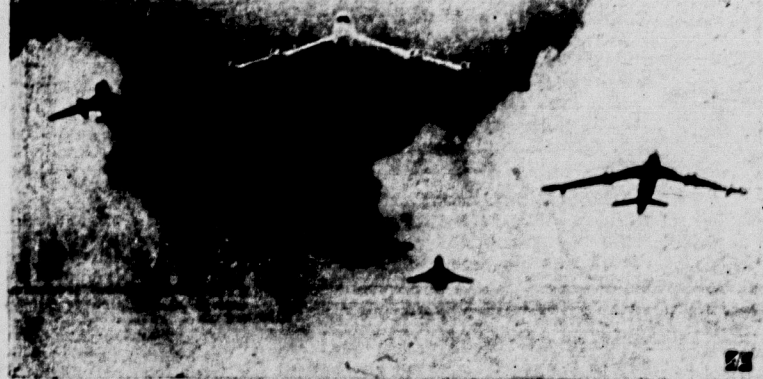

Rejects due to physical deficiencies plus the added donations of non-military donors accounted for the difference in the donor and pint totals.

The 120 pints of blood sent to the Flint tornado disaster area were all non-military donations. All Army and Air Force contributions are to be used for armed forces personnel.

Donor totals for other groups participating in the drive were: Men's Inter-Dorm Council, 622 pints; Women's Inter-Dorm Council, 145 pints.

Veterans' Assn., 52 pints; Sportsman Guard, 36 pints; Pan-Hel, 34 pints; Green Helmet, 18 pints; AWS, 18 pints; Student Government, 15 pints; Blue Key, 9 pints; Tower Guard, 6 pints; Mortar Board, 4 pints.

The totals through Thursday should have read 1381, not 2345 as was incorrectly reported in the State News.

These are the planes which took part in America's first hydrogen bomb air-drop. The B52 jet bomber (upper center) delivered the blow. The support planes include (left to right) a B37, F44, B46, R101 and B47.

Michigan Week Exchange

Cobo, Strother to Trade Posts

Mayor Max Strother of East Lansing will exchange executive positions today with Detroit Mayor Albert Cobo as a part of Michigan's annual Mayors Day exchange.

The exchange, in which 490 city executives switch for a day, is a feature of the state's Michigan Week.

Michigan Week opened Sunday and for seven days the residents of Michigan will be telling each other:

"I'm glad I live in Michigan." Civic and school celebrations have been planned all over the state and seven million residents will be telling each other and the nation on the virtues found in "Water Wonderland."

Michigan Week has been set aside as a time to reflect upon the industrial, cultural and natural resources found in Michigan. Citizens have been urged to become fully aware of the things that make their state a good place in which to live, work and play.

Gov. Williams will appear during Michigan Week on the Night Lights and Ed Sullivan television shows.

Four of Michigan's agricultural queens are touring the West for radio and TV appearances. They are Agnes Queen, Judy Tenhagen, Sam Clatter, Bea Queen Janet Trull, Elston, Daisy Princess, Louise Lagoy, Albion and Cherry Queen Sharon Delan, Central Lake.

A Michigan white pine tree will be planted at Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D.C., as a memorial to all Michigan soldiers buried on foreign soil.

A press conference is being held today in conjunction with Michigan Week on the Michigan

Rezoning Hearing Set for Tuesday

A public hearing on the rezoning of the proposed site of a Catholic chapel and student center will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Before the chapel could be built the property must be changed from C (residential) to C-2 (retailing-commercial).

The building to be known as St. John's Student Chapel and Student Center would occupy the lot at 377 M.A.V. Avenue. The estimated cost of $400,000.

Following the public hearing the zoning board will make recommendations to the city council which will hold its own public hearing before voting on the amendment to the zoning law.

Home Demonstration Meeting Opens Today

The annual Michigan Home Demonstration Staff Conference will be held at Kellogg Center today through Friday.

The home demonstration staff will consider the oversight problem and take up other areas such as home furnishings, textiles and cooking, crafts, posture and health.

Namu Island Target of Test Blast

Biggest Carried By U. S. Aircraft

By MARVIN MILLER
Los Angeles Times Correspondent

BIKINI ATOLL—Blinding brilliance burst the heavens wide open over Namu for an eternity at dawn Sunday as America's first air-dropped hydrogen bomb blasted along the tiny target island with the shattering savagery of perhaps fifteen million tons of TNT to heat the Pacific sky with a monstrous four-mile fireball.

The gargantuan explosion that ripped the air with heat and shock wave over thousands of square miles was one of the most cataclysmic convulsions of nature's power the world has ever known.

Time seemed to end in the ghastly glare of several hundred tons that blazed the sea around it and the vault of space above, erasing the darkness of dawn, vanishing shadows and substance alike in a terrifying no-man's-land of the hundred million degree fusion that sustained the apocalyptic scene for well over half a minute.

The incandescence flooded through high density glasses for several seconds while heat from the bomb's thermal radiation burned feverishly on our faces.

When at last it faded and our glasses were stripped off, the intensity of the remaining glow forced us to squint our eyes and pry away from the piercing rays.

Then the spectacular swirl of the white-blasting fireball blossomed several thousand feet above the far horizon to reveal its boiling malignancy across the awesome stage 39 miles from the observer ship, a ravaging sphere of one million degree gasous flame that fled upward in hideous gleam at its violent release from captivity of the bomb.

For almost thirty seconds, during which the fireball reached a diameter of about four miles, the incredible, writhing mass of hellish heat seemed to fill the sky, shocking the U.S. military with its size and casting a spectral, blinding screen across the was surprised at the professional, skillful way everything was managed," said Chosei Kabira, president of the MSU International Club.

There was no confusion, he said, even in serving dinner to the 1,000 students who attended.

However, he said, most of the students would have liked a longer period for dancing in the evening.

Kabira also remarked that there was a problem in registering those who came only for the afternoon program. Registration was held only in the morning.

Some who came in the afternoon didn't quite know where to go, he said.

Kabira expressed special appreciation for the work of the hostesses. These MSU coeds worked at registration. During the evening program they mingled among the guests helping them get acquainted.

Rhusan Dobben, in charge of hostesses, described the International Day program as "one of the best things that ever happened here."

Miss Dobben said the hostesses' conduct showed a high degree of maturity.

Both Kabira and Miss Dobben said they hope International Day will be continued in the years to come.

Every race, color, and major language group in the world was represented at the meeting.

During the morning and afternoon they visited the state health laboratories, the Auto Owners company, MSU campus, the State Journal and the Lansing public schools.

In the afternoon the group heard the workings of state government explained by House Speaker Wade Van Valkenburg and Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart.

Following this, Gov. Williams and his wife held a reception for the students in the governor's office.

In the evening the governor called a square dance for the group at the Civic center.

Chippewa Indians gave a demonstration of native dances and songs.

H-Bomb Dropped

miles of ocean between the communications ship and ground zero.

As it formed and fought upward like a demonical balloon it created a giant white smoke ring that spread and merged with low level cloud formations to either side, a devil's halo that climbed balefully with the fireball.

Pacing these phenomena upward in the garish pageantry of thermonuclear reaction was the slim, fiery stem of the cloud shining red obelisk of island coral and sea water sucked skyward by the gigantic blast.

Perhaps three hundred yards in width, the delicate spire seemed to balance the mad paroxysm of the white-hot fireball until the churning gases of the man-made sun turned crimson against a background of Pacific cloud and were snuffed out as the hydrogen cloud thrust its way skyward through the smoke ring.

Simultaneously rain pelted down like a far black curtain across the lower edge of the scene—a shower perhaps triggered by the blast, and the stars in the distant darkness just to one side took on a thrice brilliant lustre through the partial vacuum wrought by the detonation.

Meanwhile the cloud vanished for a moment behind a mounting sweep of lower-level cumulus, only to rear its frothy column above the intervening barrier and smash in white fury against the tropopause—about fifty-five thousand feet in these latitudes—spreading its rabid mushroom laterally for twenty miles above the horizon.

An unbelievable satanic serpent rearing out of its sea lair, it crashed through the invisible boundary edging the lower level of the stratosphere and scared up to one hundred twenty-five thousand feet or more under the force of its own ferocious birth.

Then, goaded by the whip of the winds, it sheared north and northeast to carry its hot radioactive particles high over the far-flung danger area.

The mighty shock wave of the blast took two minutes, forty-three seconds to reach the Mt. McKinley at the speed of sound.

When it came, it rumbled long against the ears like a roll of thunder accompanied by a rise in pressure that could be felt distinctly for a moment then a partial vacuum followed, flaying the ear drums.

Laden with the immensity of distant power, it seemed to fill the universe with the ominous bellow of hydrogen fusion.

Cherokee was born at 5:51 a.m. Sunday in startling violence some ten thousand feet above Namu. A half hour later she had spread her brooding might high into the stratosphere and across fifty miles of sky.

Dropped from Zig-Zag, an eight jet B-52 Stratofortress bomber at an estimated altitude of fifty thousand feet, Cherokee was the mightiest explosive ever carried aloft by a U. S. aircraft, a force in "one, streamlined shell that burst with manifold the power of all the bombs dropped by all nations during World War II.

Admittedly a new weapon, possibly a triple fission-fusion-fission bomb, the detonation was that of a new thermonuclear design, exploited on the basis of former hydrogen tests here at the Pacific proving ground and was under study primarily to determine its power yield and the nature of its fall-out pattern as an airburst.

Originally scheduled for May 8, Cherokee was the second test detonation in Operation Robbing here, a series that will comprise some seventeen blasts, many of them probably tests of midget hydrogen devices believed to be the latest achievement of atomic energy commission scientists.

Jordan Government Resigns

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Premier Samir el Rifai and his entire government resigned Sunday.

Informal sources reported that King Hussein instructed former Premier Said Mufli to form a new government.

Rifai said ill health was the reason he gave in a letter of resignation submitted to King Hussein, but informed sources said the resignation was due to political differences between the Premier and the palace.

There were no indications of what these differences concerned.

Rifai became premier on Jan. 8 following widespread rioting in Jordan set off by demonstrators protesting attempts to bring Jordan into the pro-Western Baghdad Pact.

Rifai has said he is in favor of maintaining friendly relations with Britain, a member of the pact.

Pacific Coast Conference Puts UCLA on Probation

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA was handed a three-year probation and "fined" approximately $95,000 Saturday by Pacific Coast Conference. It was the second such disciplinary action taken by conference officials this month. Two weeks ago the University of Washington was placed on a two-year probation.

The probation is effective immediately and applies to all sports. It means that no UCLA athletic team may participate in any event sponsored by the NCAA—which pertains to post-season athletic events and nationally televised football games. A direct fine of $15,000 was given UCLA for refusing to give the conference commissioner "the opportunity to conduct an investigation of financial aid given to athletes."

The rest of the assessment is the estimated $80,000 or more the university will lose in Rose Bowl receipts. In last year's Rose Bowl game, the Bruins of Coach Henry (Red) Sanders were defeated by Michigan State, 17-14. Sanders will have to wait at least four years to get another crack at the Big 10 in the Jan. 1 contest.

Michigan State's tennis team was downed 7-2 defeat by Northwestern Friday in a Big 10 match at Evanston and then was edged Saturday in an exhibition match by Great Lakes, 5-4.

3,000 Join in Feast To End Greek Week

Music, Dancers Provide Entertainment for Guests

By JOANNE BECKER
State News Night Editor

Approximately 3,000 people attended the annual Greek Feast Saturday night, according to Jean Gregory, co-chairman of the event.

Despite the cold weather, dinner was served on the lawn of the Sigma Nu house, and the entertainment took place as scheduled.

Guests ate both inside and outside the fraternity house. The entertainment, which consisted of five individual acts and a grand finale, was presented on a spacious cement patio in the rear of the Sigma Nu house.

The Kappaleros, Noel Stookes, Birmingham sophomore, comedian-guitarist, a sextet song and dance routine, songs by Maxine Koss, Ionia sophomore, and the Pi Beta Phi Spartaade number made up the five acts.

The finale, produced and directed by Bob Fallon, Ionia senior, was a production number depicting the selection of a goddess by the Greek god Zeus.

The entire number was set to the music of Rayel's "Holero" and featured Fallon and Claire Waters, East Lansing junior, as solo dancers.

The chorus consisted of Orcheis members, dressed in colored Greek togas, and Sigma Nu members.

The finale ended with the appearance of approximately 16 men, dressed in tunic skirts and shoulder bands, beating drums atop the roof of the Sigma Nu house.

Ag Council Sets Ox Roast For Thursday

The annual Ox Roast, sponsored by the Agriculture Council, will be held Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the field east of the livestock pavilion. Tickets are being sold by members of the agriculture clubs and at the Union ticket office.

Prime beef barbecue, potato salad, baked beans, ice cream, coffee and milk are on the menu.

The student all-star team has challenged the faculty to a softball game to be played after the meal. The score last year was 7-0 in favor of the faculty.

A square dance has been planned from 6:30-8. There will be wagon rides and games for the children.

Special parking places for families with small children have been arranged near the pavilion. Free rides to the Ox Roast from married housing will be provided by tractors with wagons. In case of rain the activities will be held in the pavilion.

These sheets may be picked up in the Student Government office and must be filled out and returned to the Government office by May 30.

Organizations who fail to fill out these sheets will not receive the annual honorary 1955-56 roster certificate.
