AFROTC Receives New Plane

MSU to Start Flight Instruction

Michigan State University has been selected by the United States Air Force as one of 14 schools to start a flight instruction course this fall as part of the Air ROTC program. It was announced Sept. 14 by the State Board of Agriculture.

A four-place Ryan Navion will be added to the AFROTC program. Michigan State will be one of 68 colleges and universities to receive the streamlined Navion, which will be used mainly to give 1,400 freshmen and sophomores in the program a "feel of the blue," according to Major John Barron, assistant professor of air science.

The flight instruction course will start with 14 institutions this fall, and will be expanded to 38 in the current year.

According to Col. Glendon V. Davis, professor of air science at Michigan State, this is a permanent program which, after this first year, will involve students during the sophomore and junior years. However, during this first year, the program will be restricted to between 60 and 70 seniors who have applied for pilot training.

Col. Davis said that the instructional program will be in the hands of a local flying school which meets all the CAA requirements for flight instruction. The students will have about 35 hours of flying time, and will qualify for a private pilot's license. This flying time will be in addition to the 35 hours of ground instruction required of each student. Thirty hours of this ground instruction program is already being taught in the AFROTC program.

"Completed details of the flight instruction program have not been completed," stated Col. Davis, "but the students will use a single engine, light airplane for instruction. This plane cannot have less than 85 horsepower, and there will not be more than 15 students in one instructor."

The new four-place Ryan Navion, known in the official Air Force lexicon as an A-17, will be given to the University sometime in December, and may be the first of two to be used for Michigan State cadets.

The Navion, which will be based at Capital City Airport, will be flown by officers of the Air Force Detachment on the campus. The Ryan aircraft is an all metal, low-winged monoplane with a fully retractable tricycle landing gear.

Student Executives Plan Coffee Break

A coffee hour for all students in the executive branch of student government will be held today from 3:30 p.m. in Old College Hall.

Heard on Grill Jukebox

Kappaliers Put Music on Wax

If you like your music sung by familiar faces, try pushing 02, H2, J2, or K2 on the grill jukebox.

Recorded on the Shadow label are Clarence Peaks and the Kappaliers singing "Down in Mexico" and Noel Stookey and his Chalkers singing "Good Bye Baby" and "Ivy Covered Castle."

Both records have been distributed to local radio stations and permission is being sought for sale of a limited edition of the records. Pete Ryan, record promoter, said.

The Kappaliers organized last year and made their first appearance at Spartacus, a singing third place. They later appeared at Modern Motivations, Greek Feast and the Student-Faculty auction.

Looking for a new sound, they intend to improve their quality and expand this year. Auditions are being held at 8 o'clock tonight in the multi-purpose room of Brody Hall.

Tentative plans for the Kappaliers include appearances at the Hotel Association dinner in November, pep rallies, and local entertainment establishments. They are also planning to expand "Modern Motivations" to include national artists and may give the Calypso-style music a try although it is now supplanted by quartets.

Members of the quartet are football stars Clarence Peaks and Jim Hinesly and trackmen Mel Harris and Sam Harris. Birmingham sophomore Noel

This four-place Ryan Navion is the type plane Michigan State University's AFROTC unit will receive later this year. The plane will be used in giving flight training to freshmen and sophomores enrolled in the Air Force ROTC.

Higher Standards Planned For Holders of Scholarships

Academic qualifications for scholarships at MSU will be higher when the new scholarship board approves proposed revisions in the scholarship requirements, according to J. Robert Stewart, director of scholarships.

The proposals, made by the old scholarship board under the offices of the Dean of Students, call for an accelerated grade point basis for students holding entrance scholarships and a higher minimum average for sophomores and juniors applying for undergraduate awards.

The new requirements are expected to be approved by the new board, Stewart said, and would effect applicants for the 1957-58 academic year.

Under the new system, entrance scholarships must have a 3.0 average and rank in the upper one-fourth of their graduating class in quality. Renewal of the entrance scholarship will be based on the following requirements: a 3.0 at the end of the freshman year, a 3.2 at the end of the sophomore year and a 3.0 at the end of the junior year.

Students now in school must have a 2.8 average at the end of their freshman year, a 3.0 at the end of the sophomore year and a 3.0 at the end of the junior year before they will be eligible to compete for scholarships.

Present requirements call for a 2.6 all college average for the whole four years to maintain a scholarship or compete for one.

Financial need will still be a strong factor in consideration of scholarships, Stewart said. In some scholarships, such as the Human Scholarship, academic achievement will count slightly higher, he added.

Applicants for entrance scholarships will be required to take a scholarship qualification exam every three years.

If the new system goes into effect it will not affect those students presently holding entrance scholarships or those awards granted this year.

The scholarship board is now operating under the offices of Academic Affairs. Comprising the new committee are Thomas Hamilton, vice president of Academic Affairs, Tom King, head of students, Dr. Walter Adams, associate professor of economics, Dr. Walter Johnson, professor of administrative and educational services and Stewart.

Offices for the committee are now located on the third floor in "A" Wells Hall. They were formerly located in the administration building.

All scholarships awarded during the summer will be effective for the entire year. Superior student scholarships were previously awarded on a term to term basis. No further applications will be taken until spring term which will be for scholarships for the 1957-58 academic year.

University Will Handle Distribution

Program Is One Of First in Nation

Salk polio vaccinations will be offered to Michigan State students on a voluntary, nominal cost basis beginning Oct. 1.

This vaccination program, open to all students carrying at least ten credit hours, is reportedly one of the first utilizing the Salk vaccine to be offered by a major American university to its students.

The shots will probably be offered in some locations of the Union building because of repair work at the hospital, according to Dean Tom King. In accordance with established procedure, the second polio shot will be available about two weeks after the first, and the third shot about six months later.

Definite schedules for the first shot will be announced in the State News later this week.

Dr. Clifford G. Menzies, director of the Health Center, said the mandatory three shots will be offered to the students at $1 each. The university will assume part of the cost of the project, he stated, thus resulting in only a nominal fee to the students.

Dr. Menzies also said that nurses from the Health Center will aid in administering the vaccine to the students who join the program.

In announcing the service, Dr. Hannah said the polio shots are being offered in the belief that many of the university's students have not yet been vaccinated with the safe and effective vaccine, and because the vaccine is now available to persons of college age.

He also added that Michigan State's project has been endorsed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and locally by the Ingham County Medical Society.

The main planning for this program was done by Dr. Hannah, Tom King, head of students, and Dr. Menzies. Administration of the program will be handled by student government.

Drama Night Set Tonight

Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic fraternity, welcomes all students interested in theater productions of the MSU Players tonight at 7 for drama night at Fairchild Theater.

Everyone is invited to meet the staff and try out for the fall term plays. On Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. additional tryouts will be held.

Two major productions will be given by the MSU Players during fall term. William Inge's "The Farmer's Boy" and "The Farmer's Boy" will be directed by Dr. John A. Walker, assistant professor of speech. Included in the cast are three towns and five men. Mrs. Mary Jane Watkins, speech instructor, is the director of "Peter Peter Pumpkin Eater," a children's theater hour production. Two men and six boys will appear in the play.

Sirianni to Show Slides on France

Dr. Arthur Sirianni, recently returned from two years in Italy and France, will present a talk for the French club Wednesday, at 1:30 in the International Center.

Dr. Sirianni will show slides entitled "A Panorama of France" and his wife will narrate.

Nasser Weeks Help from UN

British, French Threaten Peace

LONDON (AP)—Egyptian President Nasser made a dramatic countermove 44 hours after the council meets in New York to hear the request from Britain and France made by the UN action on Suez.

Nasser's move to avoid the UN meeting apparently surprised the British. The French Office said there would be no comment Monday.

French-British request for Security Council meeting to consider seizure of the Suez Canal by Egypt in 1956. That action would threaten freedom of passage through the canal for ships.

Egyptian note to the Security Council asked it to condemn action against Egypt by Britain and France, particularly the United Kingdom, which constitute a danger to international peace and security and are serious violations of the Charter of the United Nations.

French actions were not spelled out. Egypt has turned down the French military buildup in the Suez Canal, particularly the British, which constitute a danger to international peace and security and are serious violations of the Charter of the United Nations.

1 Lives Lost in Plane Crash

COLO. (AP) — A two-engine plane crashed into a mountain on a steep, wooded slope, killing one person and injuring another, officials said today.

The undersheriff said Deputy Sheriff Frank Mansheim and Coroner Joseph Stewart intended to remain overnight at the scene and that no attempt would be made to remove the bodies until Air Force officials arrive.

Seniors Can Still Get Wolverine Pictures Taken

Seniors graduating Fall or Winter Term are still eligible to make appointments for yearbook pictures. Appointments will be taken every afternoon this week from one to five at the Wolverine Booth in the Union Concourse.

There is no charge for pictures that will appear in the yearbook. Proofs will be mailed within three weeks from the date of appointment, and must be returned to the Wolverine Booth beginning October 2.

Seniors are asked not to forget to make their appointment. Any information desired concerning yearbook pictures can be obtained at the Wolverine Office on the third floor of the Union.

Somoza Takes Turn For Worse

PANAMA (AP) — Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza, 60, took an unexpected turn for the worse Monday. Surgeons opened a hole in his windpipe to facilitate breathing for the victim of an assassin's bullets last Friday.

Doctors at American-operated Gorgas Hospital in suburban Ancon said Somoza had developed paralysis of the entire left side of his body. An emergency tracheotomy—opening the windpipe—was performed Monday morning.

Sunday, doctors operated to remove a bullet which had lodged against his spine, and for wounds on the arm and thigh.

Col. Charles Bruce, health director for the Panama Canal Zone, said removal of the bullet at the spine relieved paralysis to the right leg. A medical bulletin called the new paralysis "an unexpected postoperative complication which has not yet been fully evaluated."

Col. Bruce declined to amplify the bulletin other than to say Somoza's condition was satisfactory until 2:30 a.m. Monday and since then "not as satisfactory as before."

Somoza was flown to Panama Sunday from Magau, the Nicaraguan capital.

Adlai, Ike Battle Farm Issues in Talks ... Eisenhower ... Stevenson ...

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will fly to Peoria, Ill., today for a campaign speech which the White House said "will present the facts on the farm situation."

That description came yesterday from Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who also said one section of the speech would deal with the problem of the small farmer.

Hagerty was asked whether Eisenhower would use the occasion to reply to the contention of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, that the nation is undergoing a farm depression.

The secretary replied that Eisenhower would present the facts, and a reporter then asked whether the facts needed straightening out. Hagerty answered:

"I don't think the facts need straightening out. I think the presentation of the facts needs straightening sometimes."

Stevenson said at Newton, Iowa, last Saturday that under the Republicans, the family farm has fallen into trouble. Stevenson called it "an American tragedy."

Tonight's speech by Eisenhower at Peoria will be delivered from 7:30 to 8 p.m. CST and the scene will be the fieldhouse at Bradley University. The CBS radio and television networks will carry it. It will be Eisenhower's second address of the campaign to be carried on radio and TV nationally.

Hagerty refused to say whether the President would announce any change in administration farm policy. He was asked about a report that Eisenhower would announce a change in price supports for farm products. He said he hadn't seen the report.

Nine wood load pencils are sold in the United States for every one of all other types of writing instrument.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Adlai Stevenson challenged President Eisenhower yesterday to prove in his speech today that the Republicans have carried out the promises they made to the farmers in 1952.

The Democratic nominee hurled his challenge unexpectedly in a roadside address at Chandler, Okla., before appearing in front of cheering thousands at the end of a Children's Day at the Oklahoma State Fair here.

Stevenson repeated the challenge in the Oklahoma City address, which was billed as one of his major campaign speeches.

Noting Eisenhower has promised to detail his farm plan in tonight's address from Peoria, Ill., Stevenson told a crowd in front of the Chandler court-house, where he paused on a swift motor sweep through the farming and oil region, "I wonder what he is going to say."

Then the Democratic candidate said he thinks Eisenhower

"means it to all Americans to say, in good faith, what the Republicans have done 'to fulfill their commitments' they made four years ago."

Stevenson said he was particularly interested in what Eisenhower would have to say about price supports. The Democrats have been feuding with the President for at least three years over the meaning of a price support statement Eisenhower made at Kasson, Minn., in 1952.

They say he promised 100 per cent of parity but later came out for a flexible system of price supports. Eisenhower, meantime, he only urged full parity "in the market place" with no specific commitment on long term price supports.

After the Chandler speech, one of two quick stops he made during the afternoon, Stevenson rushed on to Oklahoma City, where he accused the administration of indifference and neglect toward the needs of the farmer, the wage earner and the small businessman.

New Coach Won't Help Wildcats

Bucks Shooting for 2 Records

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of five articles about the Big 10 football teams and their prospects for the coming season. Today—OHIO STATE, NORTHWESTERN.)

Ohio State's football team will be attempting two feats never before accomplished in the Big 10—win three consecutive conference championships and 16 straight conference games.

The Buckeyes won undisputed championships in 1954 and 1955 and will be putting a 13-game conference winning streak on the line. The record is 15.

Despite the loss of All-American halfback Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy, Coach Woody Hayes' crew have an excellent chance of snapping the consecutive game record and a better-than-average chance of taking three consecutive titles.

The Bucks face Illinois, Wisconsin and Northwestern in their first three Big 10 games, and they should win all of them. In fact, Ohio State has by far the easiest Big 10 schedule, with only its last opponent, Michigan, given a fairly good chance of beating the Bucks.

Hayes' backfield will be headed by quarterback Frank Ellwood, probably the most improved signal caller in the conference. Don Sutherland will try to fill the shoes of Cassidy, although he'll have an extra large size to step into.

Hubert Bobo is back after a year's absence, and, if eligible, should be one of the loop's strongest fullbacks.

The line is headed by All-American Jim Parker, who along with Aurelius Thomas, give Ohio State two solid guards.

The end and tackle situation isn't as bright. Only Dick Guy has any appreciable experience at tackle. The Bucks have three veterans returning at end, but the best, Co-Capt. Bill Michael, will probably be switched to tackle.

If the Buckeyes get any breaks at all, their easy schedule should place them high in the Big 10 and could possibly give them the two records they are shooting for.

Northwestern's new head mentor, Ara Parseghian, might well wish he had stayed at his alma mater, Miami (Ohio) after the season is over.

For the Wildcats show little hope of climbing out of the Big 10 cellar, at least this season.

Northwestern lost six of its starters, including its three running backs. Only quarterback Dale Penta returns, and he needs much sharpening up if he is to favorably compare with most of the other conference field generals.

Parseghian (pronounced PAR-SEG-yan), the conference's youngest coach at 33, has little reserve strength to back up the first squad. The Wildcats are thin all over. In Parseghian's own words:

"Our manpower is so limited that the loss of any players through injuries would be critical."

Looks like another cellar year for the Wildcats.

Talent Poses Problem In Sportswriter's Polls

NEW YORK (AP)—It is open season on baseball polls right now, with this "Who's on first?" procedure presenting more than the usual number of problems for the voters.

Mathews of the Braves, Boyer of the Yankees, and Mays of the Dodgers are the only one game wonders in the season's series. 10-9.

As a result of Monday's action in the National League, Milwaukee leads Brooklyn by one-half game and the Cincinnati Reds by one and one-half games.

Chisox Blast Tigers

The Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers sprayed 36 hits, including seven home runs at Briggs Stadium Monday with the Sox winning 14-11.

Track Captain

Selwyn Jones, Michigan distance runner, was named captain of the track team.

Braves Hold Lead As Dodgers Split

The Milwaukee Braves maintained their slim one-half game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers Monday as the Dodgers split a pair of games with Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers temporarily moved into first place by one percentage point by defeating the Pirates 8-3 when they completed a game suspended earlier in the season.

But the Pirates bounced back in the second game behind Bob Friend's pitching. Friend went the distance, giving up 10 hits and winning 6-3. Thomas knocked in three runs with a home run and three singles. He batted in the winning run in the eighth inning when he singled teammate Bill Virdon home from second base.

The win in the second game put the Pirates only one game behind the Dodgers in their season's series. 10-9.

As a result of Monday's action in the National League, Milwaukee leads Brooklyn by one-half game and the Cincinnati Reds by one and one-half games.

Orioles Tip Yanks

Yankee first baseman Skowron hit two home runs and went for a cycle as the Yankees downed the New York Yankees 14-11.

Brooklyn's Tom Seaver pitched a 400-foot double in the eighth inning to drive in the winning run.

Formica took over the pitching from Seaver in the eighth inning and got the win. The Yankees were the starting pitcher for the Yankees.

I am merry for several reasons. First, because I am being paid.

Not, let me hasten to state, that an emolument was necessary. "Sirs," I said a few days ago to the makers of Philip Morris, who underneath their dickerday as friendly as pups and twice as cute, "Sirs," I said to the winsome assemblage, "there is no need to pay me for writing this column. If I can introduce America's college men and women to Philip Morris's natural tobacco goodness, if I can inaugurate them into the vast sodality of Philip Morris smokers and thus enhance their happiness, heighten their zest, upgrade their gusto, magnify their cheer, broaden their bliss, augment their glow, and increase their IQ—"

"PQ?" said the makers, looking at me askance.

"Pleasure Quotient," I explained.

"Ah!" said the makers, nodding their sweet, shaggy heads.

"If," I continued, "I can do these splendid things for the college population of America, there is no need for money, because I am more than amply repaid."

We wept then. I am not ashamed to say it. WE WEPT! I wish the wisecracks who say big business is cold and heartless could have been there that day. I wish they could have witnessed the deep, croaking sob that racked the gathering, the great, shimmering tears that splashed on the boardroom table. We wept, every mack of us. The makers wept. The secretaries wept. I wept. My agent, Clyde Greedy, wept. We wept all.

"No, no!" cried one of the makers, whose name is Good Sam. "We insist on paying you."

"Oh, all right," I said.

Then we laughed. The gloom passed like a summer shower. We all laughed and chose up sides and passed stoop-tag and had steaming mugs of cocoa and 100 percent, white cigarettes, brimming full of natural tobacco goodness. I mean Philip Morris, of course!

Refreshed and exalted, we returned to the business at hand. "Now then," said one of the makers, whose name is Merry Andrew, "what will you write about in your column this year?"

"About students and teachers," I said. "About classes and cutting. About eds and coeds. About Greeks and independents. About the important issues that affect the supple young minds of college America."

"Like what?" asked one of the makers, whose name is To-able David.

"Like how to finance a full social life without a revolver," I replied. "Like how to wear Bermuda shorts though your knees look like brain-coral. Like how to double-date in an MG."

"And will you," asked one of the makers, whose name is Peter-Sit-by-the-Fire, "from time to time say a pleasant word about Philip Morris Cigarettes, which are now available in two sizes—Regular in the familiar Standard Open Pack, and Long Size in the new Crushproof Soft?"

"Crazy kid!" I chuckled, pushing my feet gently against his jaw. "You know I will."

And we all shook hands—silently, firmly, mutually—and I left, dabbing at my eyes with my agent's handkerchief to the nearest typewriter.

The makers of Philip Morris take pleasure in bringing you this uncolored, fresh-scented column each week during the school year—and also in bringing you today's new Philip Morris, packed with natural tobacco goodness, tip and to tip.

In Davis Cup Play

Yanks Face Italian Netters

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — No lasagna and spaghetti for Italy's Davis Cup forces, and no late nights tripping the light fantastic with pretty Yankee belles.

"We may not beat the Americans, but it won't be through lack of condition," said Italy's tennis captain, Marquis Ferrante Cavriani, Monday. "This will be the toughest trained team we ever sent on a court."

The Italians meet Captain Bill Talbot's U.S. team Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the west side tennis club in the European-American zone semifinal. At stake is a trip to Australia to play India and then challenge the Aussies for the big trophy.

"We think we have a good chance, although the odds are with the Americans," Cavriani said. "One thing for certain, we'll be in shape."

Members of the Italian team are Orlando, a six-foot-four giant who handed Tony Trabert one of his few setbacks last year, Giuseppe Merlo, a pint-sized retrieving artist, and Nicola Pietrangeli, the team youngster at 23.

Last year the Italians came here to play Australia in the zone final and became easy victims after gorging themselves on rich Italian food and partaking freely of American night life.

The U.S. team consists of Seixas and Richardson, who are expected to carry the full load, plus Sam Giammalva of Houston and Mike Green of Miami, Fla.

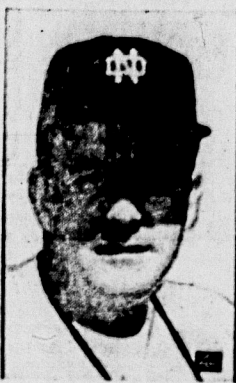

Kowalezyk Tests Ankle In Workout

Walt Kowalezyk, the big question mark in the Michigan State football camp in recent weeks, put his controversial sprained ankle to the test Monday, taking the most strenuous workout he has had since the injury two weeks ago.

In the morning he exercised the ankle ascending and descending the stairs in Macklin Stadium. Kowalezyk then dressed for the regular afternoon practice session and ran plays until he became fatigued and was ordered to stop for the day by Dr. James Feurig, team physician.

Although the Spartan's No. 1 right halfback will not be allowed to start in Saturday's opener at Stanford, Feurig now believes that he will be able to see limited action.

Tough Terry

Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan, whose team was upset Saturday by Southern Methodist, 19-13, scheduled heavy practice for the Irish this week despite an open date this Saturday.

Gridders Get Decaled Helmets

In accordance with a regulation passed at the spring meeting of the Big 10, Michigan State's football players will be wearing helmets equipped with two-inch numerals when they open the 1956 season at Stanford Saturday.

The new ruling, designed primarily for aiding sportswriters and photographers in identifying players, was adopted in preference to an alternative plan which would have called for sewed-on numerals to be placed on both shoulders of each player's jersey.

According to team Equipment Manager Ken Early, the numbered helmet system will have several advantages. "In the first place," he said, "the numbered decals will be using on the helmets are cheaper than the other method." He explained that to sew numerals on the jerseys would cost $1 each for almost 1,000 shirts, while the decals will be obtainable for a small fraction of that cost. Early also maintains that the helmet markings will be easier to spot from the press box and grandstands than would the shoulder patches. "It'd be pretty hard to spot an individual's shoulder number in a pileup," he declared.

According to Early, the athletic equipment company, which is supplying the helmet decals has been experimenting to select the style of numbering, most easily readable from a distance. They decided on the two-inch size because they are large enough to spot readily and still small enough so they won't run up over the top curve of the helmets too far.

As for the lasting qualities of the decals, Early explained that they should withstand most external conditions, as they are being manufactured on a special pressurized tape with extra-ordinary sticking qualities.

True Veterans

Two members of the New York Football Giants this year will mark their ninth season in pro football. They are Charley Conerly and Emlen Tunnell.
