British, French Cease-Fire Fails to Halt Suez Crisis

LONDON, Eng.—Shooting ripped through Port Said Wednesday night despite the cease-fire invoked by Britain and France along the occupied Suez Canal sites at 2 a.m. (1 p.m. EST) Tuesday.

The British government said it had been informed of the cease-fire Wednesday night.

British and French had agreed Egyptian forces left at Port Said, but sequences had been set up by the British to ask the withdrawal of all other combatants.

French units returned to their headquarters in Port Said to fight to Suez, and more Allied troops were being disembarked.

There was no indication the British-French forces had been from points they had been since the cease-fire hour.

From correspondent Leonard Leddington, reporting for American press, report from Port Said at 10 British time (5 p.m. EST): British-French troops had moved there—but there was no sign of the Egyptian forces.

One estimate had 200 killed over thousand wounded in Port Said fighting.

Units still were being brought in by stretchers. Wednesday, Leddington said, were victims of Egyptian sniper fire caught in the British and French.

President Eisenhower sent a telegram to Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion urging him to support U.N. resolution calling for withdrawal of Israeli troops from territories.

U.S. General Assembly voted to create an international emergency police force immediately in keeping with the Middle East situation.

Kris Kastner gave a report on the academic benefits committee and told that four of the chief functions included the opening of student-faculty committees checking into unused scholarships and their requirements; coffee hour discussions with faculty members and international Week festivities.

A bill to give Civil Action to beneficiaries of veterans' compensation was introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. John W. McCormack of Boston.

This vote was taken without voting "no" to Communist demands for withdrawal of Soviet and Israeli forces from United Nations territories.

It was thrown in an immediate force to keep it suspended on that.

Egypt Seeks China's Aid

HONG KONG, Nov. 7.—(UPI)—The government of Egypt has appealed to the Chinese "to help voluntary work."

China tends to extend its influence in Africa. "The Chinese are trying to expand their influence in the African countries," Egyptian Foreign Minister said all efforts must be made to maintain the balance of power between the two major Egyptian, French and British interests.

Premier Ben-Gurion, in a speech to Parliament in Jerusalem, indicated Israel would not withdraw. By declaring his country would not agree to any foreign force that matter, he called being stationed in Israel or any territory occupied by Israeli forces. He declared the 1949 armistice with Egypt was dead, a position that could indicate Israel expects to get stronger, earlier than that given in the demarcation line.

Israel's forces now hold all of the Sinai Peninsula, the Gaza Strip of Palestine and two islands at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba once used by Egyptian guns to interfere with Israeli shipping. Ben-Gurion indicated Egypt did not regard any of these places as being part of "Egypt proper."

American Military Alerted

WASHINGTON (AP)—American military commanders around the world have been alerted to tighten their defense readiness, the Joint Chiefs of Staff disclosed Wednesday night.

With a eye on Russian moves in Europe and the tense situation in the Middle East, the Joint Chiefs have canceled simulated training maneuvers, reduced training activities of the Strategic Air Force to keep it ready for instant action, and taken similar steps in the Army.

"On virtually a daily basis, the Joint Chiefs have been keeping their major commanders advised of developments in the world situation and have been giving them guidance as to preparatory measures to increase the nation's defense readiness, with the emphasis on defense."

At the same time it was emphasized that there is no new imminent crisis.

As one preparatory measure, however, the Navy ordered a carrier strike force to sea Wednesday.

The 60,000-ton supercarrier "Enterprise" was scheduled to leave Mayport, Fla., while the 45,000-ton heavy cruiser "Des Moines" and a screen of a dozen destroyers were due to sail from Hunter Roads, Va.

Specific operating plans of the carrier forces were kept secret. Spokesman for the Joint Chiefs said: "We do not want to be caught flat-footed and at the same time we do not want to take any provocative action which would get us involved. It is the sensible thing to do in this situation." The Joint Chiefs have been meeting twice a day recently.

The Navy also sent patrols to the Korean peninsula, but they have not yet been alerted.

Wheeler No. 4 Man

Harrier's Desire Pays Off

By LARRY WROBLEWSKI

Denning Ron Wheeler a pair of spikes when he tried out for the cross-country team in high school never discouraged him, from becoming the top two-mile runner in Detroit and from winning a berth on the Spartan harrier team.

Wheeler, a sophomore, became interested in distance running from watching his cousin, Gene Parker, a varsity member of the Spartan cross country team in 1953.

Ron's biggest asset is his desire to better himself. His high school coach, Carl Holmes, upon seeing Ron run for the first time, noted him as a very clumsy runner.

When running, he practices his steps, works extra hard in stretching, corrects his mistakes. Today, he's the fourth man on the MSU cross country team.

Ron attended Pershing high school where he starred for three years as a harrier and two years in track.

In 1954 he set a new Detroit city record in the two-mile cross impressed by the Kansas star's determination.

Ron prefers his own particular style, although he does imitate Henry Kennedy by carrying his arms close to his sides.

At Michigan State Ron runs the four mile regularly in about 20:27.

In summing up this year's harrier team Ron states, "Up here with so much competition even Kennedy's position is uncertain."

He also stated, "With the runners always improving any member of the team can be outdistanced by any other runner. The team should repeat as Big 10 and NCAA Champions."

Last year as a member of the varsity track team Ron was one of the members of the four-man relay team which captured first place in the four-mile relay held at Quantico, Va. His first varsity letter was in track.

Wheeler never lets his running interfere with his studies. He maintains an all-college average of about a three-point Ron's sporting interests also include water-skiing and skin diving. He also enjoys drawing in his leisure time.

A recent award Ron has been given is entering either the industrial or commercial art fields after leaving Michigan State.

With Sevyn Jones and Captain Dennis graduating in June, Wheeler has a wonderful chance to become a great Spartan running star.

Middleton Breaks Left Hand. Out for Season

John Middleton, third string left guard, broke his left hand in practice Tuesday and will be out for the season, according to Dr. James Feuring, team physician.

He has been replaced in scrimage this week by Richard Bakker, Lansing sophomore, who will probably replace him on the third string, said Feuring.

Middleton will be released today and will have a cast on his hand for six weeks. Because of the nature of the fracture and the fact that no rigid supports are allowed in football, Middleton would not be able to play with a cast on his hand.

Bob Handloser and Dennis Mendyk, both injured in the Wisconsin game, will be ready Saturday, Feuring also said.

Annual Race Held Today

Turkeys the Prize For IM Harriers

By BASIL STEVENS

Turkeys will be in style today at 3 p.m. as males take part in the 13th annual College Field.

The winning team and first three-sent will receive live turkeys for their performance.

The last person still running at the finish will be given a goose egg for his efforts.

The mile-long cross country type race is run by circling Old College Field twice. The runners start in a group at the fence near the baseball diamond and go along the river to the golf green.

The course goes behind the green and past the second softball backstop. The runners turn at the backstop and head back to the baseball diamond, going behind the third backstop.

After going behind the baseball backstop, the runners turn at the river and follow the same route to the green. The second time around the course turns at the markers just past the green and heads straight down the center of the field.

Two saw horses are set up near the diamond. The runners must go under the first and over the second and run as far as possible into the finish chute.

Supervisors will be posted along the course to determine the route for the runners.

Men may run for men's or women's living units, as any group of four or individuals. Any number of men may run on a team, but only the first four to finish will be counted for the team standing.

Many of the teams will be sponsored by women's housing groups. It has been the tradition for the women to name their teams after their residence halls.

The original idea of the Trot came about because of a man named Walker who had a number of turkeys and wanted them to run across a field and dash an obstacle course set up for them to dash across the field.

The Trot has been a tradition ever since.

Two Cabinet Posts May be Vacated

Dulles, Wilson Might Retire From State, Defense Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If there are any changes in President Eisenhower's Cabinet, two posts in the highest spots for new men are in the State and Defense departments.

There is no certainty there are no changes even there.

Associates of Secretary of State John Dulles, diplomatic sources say, believe he will be succeeded by George C. Marshall around Dec. 1. But, they add, no one can say whether Dulles will be recalled to recuperate from his recent heart operation, and then return to his post, or to follow the lead of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has set for himself the end of four years.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. Wilson, 66, has been talking of late somewhat like a man who is thinking of retiring. He said Oct. 28 he knew the time would come "when I think the job should be turned over to someone else."

If Dulles is laid up, there are possibilities for a third seat in the State department, which is now held by Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and for a fourth in the Defense Department, which is now held by James V. Forrestal.

H. Wilson should never pass from the Cabinet unless he is replaced by Donald A. Winnick, 50, of Albany, N.Y., a former member of the House of Representatives, who is now chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, 65, his friends say, that at 66, he is anxious to retire to private life before too long. But, they add, chances are he will remain at least through the next session of Congress.

As far as the State and Defense posts are concerned, the odds are that the new men will be chosen from the ranks of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is in charge of foreign policy.

Senators from the South, particularly those from the Deep South, are considered to be the best prospects.

Secretaries of Agriculture Benson — Benson has said he would be glad to stay on, and there has been no speculation around the department of any change. Benson is 57.
