Shooting Mars Suez—Cease Fire

UN Police Force Awaits Nasser Ok

LONDON (AP)—Shooting marked the cease-fire along the Suez Canal Sunday. The commander of United Nations Middle East police troops said the force is ready to fly to Egypt as soon as President Nasser gives permission. Only provisional approval has been expressed thus far, with details to be worked out.

A dispatch from Port Said reported British-French forces have suffered three hours of fire from the Egyptian lines this morning, then blasted back with an hour-long barrage which restored quiet. No casualties were reported from the British-French side.

In faraway Communist China thousands of "volunteers" registered to help the Egyptians in the event Israeli, British and French forces do not withdraw. The Peiping move was along the same line adopted by Soviet Russia—and labeled by Britain a propaganda stunt since the British and French have already agreed to pull out of Egypt once the U.N. peace troops arrive and Israel has agreed to withdraw from the Sinai Desert. Israeli officials are still claiming right to the disputed Gaza Strip.

May Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, commander of the U.N. police force, said his soldiers would remain at staging camps near Naples, Italy, until Nasser gives them the green light. Asked at a news conference in Tel Aviv if there had been any snags in the negotiations with Nasser, Gen. Burns replied: "I do not believe anything—any snags—that cannot be cleared up."

Cairo radio said Sunday night talks between Egypt and the UN

Second Polio Shot Due This Week

The second polio shot will be given this week to students who have registered in the ping pong room, fourth floor Union.

The shots will be administered again by nurses of Ohio Memorial Health Center.

Students must present their receipt cards at the specific times they designated in order to receive the shot.

The entire program has been called a huge success by top university officials including Dr. Clifford Menzies, director of the hospital.

Six thousand students subscribed to the program including 85 members of the football squad.

The third necessary shot of the Salk program will be administered spring term. In order to have the shots be most effective all three must be taken.

Heart Attack Kills Famed Song Writer

FALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Victor Young, 56, composer of hit songs and musical scores for motion pictures, died of a heart attack Saturday.

He was stricken shortly after leaving his Hollywood home. Young's songs included "Sweet Sue," "Street of Dreams," "Ghost of a Chance" and "Can't We Talk It Over." He wrote scores for such films as "Around the World in 80 Days," "Samson and Delilah," "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and "Lady in the Dark."

Young was born in the tenement district of Chicago. He began playing the violin at 6.

He entered motion picture work in 1935 and was one of the first to introduce original music into picture scores.

Third Consecutive Year Freshmen Take Jug In Frosh-Soph Daze

Freshmen took possession of the Brown Jug for the third straight year by rolling up a total of 900 points to the sophomores 275 in the annual Frosh-Soph Daze activities.

In the men's canoe race Bob Sasse, Freeport, Long Island, and Bill Durell, Hamburg, N.Y., took first place for the frosh. Walter Goetz and Jim Russell, Orchard Lake sophomores, came in second. Sophomores William McCallum, St. Clair and Wendell Heaton, Bellevue, Neb., were third. In fourth place were freshmen Lucius Munger, Freehold, and Carroll Gilbert, Olivet.

First and second places in the coed canoe races were taken by freshmen June Hamblin and Audrey Hapley, both of Flint. Barbara Neumer, Escanaba and Janet Booth, Akron, Ohio Sophomores Sheri Hill Holdsworth, Hamburg, N.J. and Norma Wesley, Toledo came in third. Debra McEllan and Sandra Vaughn, Alpena sophomores, were fourth.

President Jim Herrmann and secretary Rosemary Meyer led the freshmen team to victory in the sack race over the sophomores led by Bruce Kyburz, president, and Donna Larson, secretary.

The freshmen outnumbered and outplayed the sophomores to win the tug of war, final event of the day.

Judges for the contests were Gordon Sinclair, Union Board president and Roger Bennett, Chief Justice.

Freedom Fight Continued By Hungarian Nationalists

Dag Asks Hungarian Relief Need

Says Observers' Permission Denied

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said Sunday he had asked Hungary for prompt information on how much outside relief its people needs.

He also disclosed Hungary ignored his requests for permission to send in UN observers until he asked Russia last night to help him get an answer. The Soviet-backed Hungarian government then replied in a matter of hours that it was weighing the request.

The Hungarian and Marxist East crises top the agenda for the UN General Assembly's annual regular session opening tomorrow.

A UN spokesman announced that Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the UN command for an international cease-fire force for Egypt, would talk with Egyptian President Nasser in Cairo this afternoon and arrive here Wednesday to confer with Hammarskjold.

The spokesman said Swiss Air would be ready late today or early Tuesday to begin ferrying the UN police force to Egypt from a staging area at Capotichino Airport, near Naples. Military units from seven small nations are gathering there.

He said the UN still is waiting to hear from Egypt as to where the force is being sent there in line with Assembly resolutions to supervise the cease-fire and withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops.

Hammarskjold made public correspondence he has carried on under a U. S. resolution adopted 50-8 in an emergency UN session a week ago.

The resolution called on Soviet troops to withdraw from Hungary where they have been crushing a popular uprising. It asked Hammarskjold to send observers to Hungary to report on the situation.

Meanwhile, the Assembly Friday passed another resolution calling for withdrawal of the Soviet troops and for relief to Hungarians.

In midafternoon Hammarskjold dispatched notes both to Hungary and to the Soviet Union. The one to Hungary said if he got no reply this time, he would "submit the situation to the General Assembly."

The one to Russia asked that it "support my demand to the government of Hungary" to admit the observers.

Hungarian Deputy Foreign Minister Istvan Sebes messaged Hammarskjold Saturday night he had received the note and "the Hungarian government is weighing its contents."

Starts Fall '57 for Top Students

Proposal for Honors College Approved by State Board

The State Board of Agriculture, Friday afternoon, approved a proposal establishing an Honors College at MSU for students demonstrating superior scholastic ability, beginning next fall.

Believed to be the first such college of its kind in an American public university, the college will provide special opportunities for students who show promise of high achievement in all fields.

Development of the plan has been taking place over the past two years under the direction of Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, vice president of academic affairs.

Dr. Hamilton said that admission to the Honors College will be based on academic performance during the freshman year. A dean will be appointed before the beginning of fall term.

Newsman Make Way To Austria

Puppet Premier Talks with Nagy

VIENNA (AP)—Hungarian nationalists tightened their belts and fought on Sunday with both arms and passive resistance against a fate which Josef Cardinal Mindszenty expects to be "greater oppression if the United Nations does not save us."

A procession of Western newsmen caught in Budapest by the surprise Soviet attack a week ago finally made their way out to neutral Austria with fresh details of the onslaught and the slow silencing of the guns of the freedom fighters.

From Budapest came word that Janos Kadar, the puppet premier installed with the backing of Russian guns, had met with his deposed predecessor, Imre Nagy, in a desperate attempt to gain popular support.

Nothing is known of the talks except that they began, but Kadar implied in a radio speech that Nagy was unwilling to cooperate.

Nagy had built up a broadly-based government of all Hungary's traditional parties when the Russians unseated him.

Cardinal Mindszenty's somber view of the situation was expressed by Western newsmen a week ago in an interview that reached Vienna only Sunday.

"For quicker and more effective steps are needed," said the Roman Catholic primate—fired from a guarded castle just 12 days ago and now a refugee in the U.S. legation.

A man who is drowning needs no message.

"What we need is that the Secretary General of the United Nations come to Budapest today and not tomorrow. There has been too much voting and oratory."

"What we need is action now." A Soviet army estimated at 200,000 men holds all the rebellious nation in its iron grip.

And the Moscow radio told the Hungarian people in a broadcast Sunday night the Russian-commanded, eight nation Warsaw Alliance, under which Soviet troops are based in Hungary, "must remain in force as long as the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance (NATO) is in force."

Western estimates of the dead ranged up to 5,000 Russians, 20,000 Hungarians.

Most of the dozens of newsmen in the exodus from Budapest—finally authorized by the Russians with travel papers checked repeatedly by Soviet soldiers on the road west—were inclined to believe rebel resistance is dying. Some, however, looked for a revival within two weeks.

At the Hungarian capital, ripped by methodical shelling of Russian guns in some cases seeking out a single sniper, organized fighting went on only on industrial Csepel Island in the Danube.

Foreign diplomats in Budapest estimate 13 Soviet divisions are

Breen Swims 5 Miles Daily

CORLAND, N.Y. (AP)—George Breen, 44, says he will swim 5 miles a day in the long distance swimming events at the Olympics in Melbourne, has been swimming 2 to 3 miles a week under the watchful eye of his coach, Dr. James Counsilman.

Right now, George is swimming better than he ever swam in his life, says Coach Counsilman. Breen is 5'10", 170 pounds, and his arms, legs, and torso are all a half an inch longer than they were a year ago. One day, Breen swam the 500 yds. and the next day he said he felt lucky in the water. So now he swims to swim every day.

Breen will compete in the 1,500 meter and 400 meter events and also hopes to win a spot on the 800 yard freestyle relay team.

During October, Breen's daily five miles were broken into mile and a half and a half distances in which he either kicks the distance or uses only his arms. When using his arms, his legs are held up by an inner tube.

Breen, now 172 pounds, holds the world record for 1,500 meters. His time was 18:05.9.

Coach Counsilman expects that Breen's stiffest competition will come from Australia's Murray Rose who has turned in faster times than Breen in the 400 and is right behind him in the 1,500. The coach also looks for Jean Boncompagni of France to have something to say in the 400.

Sororities Tie 6-6 In Bowl Tilt

By MARY HILL
Leave it to women, even football. The girls proved that they can handle the pie-skin, and very well at that, in the sixth annual Powder Bowl game, played Saturday at Old College Field.

The hard-playing coeds of Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta sororities battled for a 6-6 tie before an enthusiastic crowd of over 350 fans.

An early Delta Gamma scoring threat that started off with a pass interception, was stopped when the Gamma Phi line held and the ball changed hands as the Deltas ran out of downs.

Undaunted, the Delta Gams came back in the second quarter to threaten again, and this time made their scoring effort good.

Gaining yardage on passes to Geri Kavenough and Sue Chaffee and on a running play by Natty Proctor (No. 11-12), the drive was climaxed by a pass from quarterback Bev Runnigan.

to Miss Chaffee for the first score in the annual contest since 1954 (last year's game ended in a scoreless tie).

A pass attempt for the PNT was missed, and leaving the field at the end of the half, the Delta Gams lost the ball.

The Gamma Phi unit bounced back after half-time to score their only tally in the third quarter on a long pass from quarterback Kay Peard to "Tiger" June Turner, after they had taken the ball on an intercepted Delt pass. The extra point try, a pass attempt, was no good, and the score was six-all.

A very special highlight of the morning was the selection of the 1956 Powder Bowl Queen. Each of the campus fraternities sponsored a member as a candidate for this coveted title. Some of MSU's most beautiful coeds were escorted before the judges.

"Louise," of the Delta Tau Delta was crowned queen of the 1956 Powder Bowl, and was presented with the "Miss Powder Bowl" trophy.

Gilbert Labelled 'Surprise'

Follows Mendyk In Team Scoring

By MIKE PREVILLE

"Don has been a very pleasant surprise. He's quite a boy on the field and a hard worker—a real team man who has improved with every game."

Such praise from Michigan State's head football coach, Duffy Daugherty, is not unwarranted, for big 5'10", 190 pound Don Gilbert has gained 142 yards on 26 carries for an average of 5.6 yards and scored four touchdowns, which makes him second to Dennis Mendyk in team scoring. He has caught one pass good for 20 yards.

Besides this, the big fullback is an outstanding defensive player at his linebacker position outside the left end.

Don's main offensive job outside of blocking is faking. He is known as the "ride man" on the belly series. Don charges toward the line with the quarterback holding the ball in his stomach to draw the defense to the middle. Just before Don hits the line the quarterback laterals to either halfback who sweeps the end.

Don is basically a power runner, called upon to make that needed yard or two, and it was he who made the much needed

Speculation Losing Touch?

By JERRY ROBBINS
State News Sports Editor

Has Michigan State lost its second-half touch. This was the question that Spartan fans asked themselves as they filed out of Macklin Stadium Saturday after watching Purdue throw a scare into Michigan State.

The Spartans were victorious by a 12-9 count but the Boilermakers outplayed them in almost every department, especially in the last half.

In past games and previous seasons the Spartans have been known as a team to completely dominate play in the latter stages of the game.

But Saturday the old razzle-dazzle of the second half was missing, as it was against Wisconsin and Illinois.

In these three games the Spartans have scored but once in the second half, against the Badgers.

Only four times in 10 games last season did the Spartans make a better showing in the first half than they did in the last.

Against Stanford the Spartans rolled up 30 points in the first two periods and 12 in the last half to win 38-14. Against the Boilermakers last year the Spartans rang up 14 tallies in the first half and 13 in the last in winning 27-0.

The following week, State collected 23 points in the opening half and 19 in the closing periods to drop Minnesota 42-14.

This season started out much like that of 1955 when the Spartans sparked in the late stages of the game.

Stanford held the State gridders to a 7-7 halftime tie, but the Spartans bounced back with 14 tallies in the second half to win 21-7.

Notre Dame also held the Spartans to a 7-7 draw at the half, but were clobbered 47-14 when the final whistle was blown.

At Michigan the story was much the same. After being held to a 0-0 tie, John Matsko went to work in the third period and booted a three-pointer through the uprights. In the closing period Denny Mendyk scored the game's only touchdown to give the Spartans a 9-0 victory.

But what's happened since? At Illinois, Michigan State held a 13-0 halftime lead. In the last half the Illini ran circles around the Spartans and the final tally showed a score board reading, 20-13, in favor of Illinois.

Against the Badgers, Michigan State coasted to a 26-0 lead at the end of the first half. For the remainder of the contest the Spartans outplayed the Badgers but were only able to ring up one more TD.

And then came the Purdue story. With the Boilermakers' ace passer, Lennie Dawson, sidelined, everyone firmly believed the Spartans would have another field day.

The men from Purdue thought otherwise. Their line outcharged the Michigan State forward wall, the Purdue ground attack sparkled and their aerial game, without Dawson, made Spartan fans sit up and take notice.

Again the Spartans scored all their points in the early stages and then seemed to sit back and take it easy for the remainder of the game.

What is the cause for this? Yes, injuries have plagued the Spartans. All-American candidate Clarence Peaks is out for the season as is Pat Burke, Bob Jewett, Joel Jones, John Middleton, Palmer Kyle and Bob Sanders.

Others such as Walt Kowalczyk, Bob Handloser, Jim Hinsley, Arch Matsos, Denny Mendyk, Jimmy Wulff, Dave Kaiser and Tony Kolodziej have been banged up enough that they've been unavailable for full-time action.

On the other hand all these men have not been on the injury list at the same time. In addition, the Spartans have always been famous for their great depth.

Look at the talent in the State backfield. Pat Wilson, Jim Ninowski and Mike Panitch are all capable field generals and have all turned in splendid jobs so far this season.

When Peaks was sidelined, Mendyk, the team's leading ground gainer, was ready to take over the left half post. When Kaiser ran into trouble at Michigan, Hinsley moved into the right end position.

Joe Carruthers filled Burke's vacant slot and Wulff and Art Johnson were on hand to run from the right half position when Kowalczyk had ankle trouble.

Even with these capable men filling the slots vacated by injured first stringers, the Spartans still seem to bog down in the last half.

In the past three games the Spartans have rolled up 52 points in the first half and a mere six in the last.

Michigan State has one more test this season to return to its old form as a top-notch ball club in the second half as well as the first. Saturday, the Spartans meet highly-rated Minnesota. The Gophers are victory hungry, needing a win to send them to the Rose Bowl.

A good showing for the Spartans Saturday would help their national rating considerably. If the Spartans fail, there is little hope of regaining their prestige this season. Michigan State's only remaining game is with a weak Kansas State 11.

Gridders Take 12-9 Decision

Dawson-less Boilermakers Do Everything Except Win

By PETER WALTERS
State News Night Editor

Thermopylae almost repeated itself again Saturday at Macklin Stadium, as Purdue's Boilermakers bested the Spartan gridgers in nearly every department except scoring, finally dropping a close, 12-9 decision.

The first re-enactment of Thermopylae came in 1933, when Purdue's student newspaper drew a simile between the defeat of the Spartan warriors in the ancient Greek battle and the Boilermakers' 6-0 upset win over the Spartans.

Saturday's contest saw the Boilermakers, operating without the services of star quarterback Len Dawson, who was sidelined with a shoulder injury, out-gain State both rushing and through the air, yet fail to score at a point where one touchdown could have reversed the game's outcome.

Michigan State opened the scoring late in the first period when quarterback Jim Ninowski tossed his fourth touchdown pass of the year to end Harold Dukes. Ninowski's extra point try was blocked.

In the next quarter fullback Ron Arund carried eight yards to the Boilermaker end where he was tackled. He fumbled the ball into the end zone where Tony Kolodziej recovered for the second time.

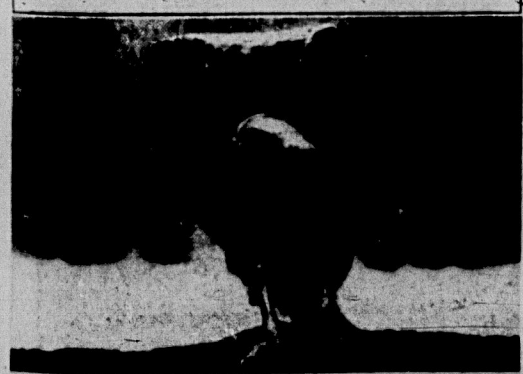

This time Ninowski's boot for the point after touchdown was good, but a holding penalty took the ball back to the 17 and the second attempt went wide.

Oregon State was virtually certain Monday of being tapped as host team in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1.

Since the Rose Bowl game was instituted in 1902, State has appeared just once. That was in 1912 and ironically, of the Atlantic Coast Conference were tied unexpectedly. Missouri deadlocked Colorado 14-14 while Maryland fought Clemson to a 6-6 standoff.

Wyoming won the Skyline Conference championship with a 23-13 victory over Montana and Texas Western won its first Border Conference title by blanking Arizona State of Tempe, 28-0.

The big three of the East - Syracuse, Pitt and Penn State - all came out on top. The Orange Jockey Club, 41-20, the Panthers turned back Notre Dame, 26-13, and the Nittany Lion vanquished Boston College, 49-7.

The Ivy League championship probably will be decided this week when Princeton, the only undefeated, untied team in the East, plays Yale. Princeton's 35-20 triumph over Harvard and Yale's 40-7 shellacking of Penn left the winners tied for the lead.

Leahy Offered Grid Position

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Frank Leahy, ex-Notre Dame football coach, and Sunday he will confer before the end of the month with University of Texas officials to discuss the possibility of becoming athletic director at the institution.

Here on a mixed business and pleasure trip, Leahy said his schedule calls for considerable traveling and indicated he would like to have a job where he can be home with his large family regularly.

A short time ago Leahy was approached concerning the dual post of football coach and athletic director at Texas. Emphasizing he will not return to coaching duties, Leahy said Sunday:

"I told them that I meant it when I said I'd never coach again. But the athletic directorship is a possibility."

Leahy, who left Notre Dame after the 1953 season, watched the Irish take a 23-13 licking from Pitt here Saturday.

He said he believed Notre Dame showed some improvement over its form earlier this season - then predicted the Irish would snap their five game losing streak by beating North Carolina this week.

IM Hi-Lights

TWO corrections were made in the team standings in the Turkey Trot. According to the IM office, further checking found Emmons to have placed third in dormitory competition with 133 points, which would drop Bailey to fourth with 135 points. Delta Tau Delta replaced Alpha Gamma Rho in fraternity third place with 192 points to AGA's 285.

DICK Douglas won the football place-kick kickoff with eight boots in 10 attempts from 35 yards. Herb Heidenreich and Gary Griffith tied for second with six kicks.

A total of 141 entrants participated in the event. BOXING entries are due by 5 p.m. today. Entrants can sign up either in the IM office or in the boxing room. The tournament will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

ENTRIES for the fencing tournament are due by Wednesday at 5 p.m. Sign up either in the IM office or in the fencing area. The tournament will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m.

1st Short Course IM Championship Decided Tonight

The first Short Course IM football champion at Michigan State will be determined tonight with Elevator II and the Raiders clashing for the title.

Students who play in the Short Course leagues don't enter school in the fall until late October and are unable to play in the regular IM football program.

This fall two five team blocks were formed under supervision of Frank Beeman, the IM director. Elevator II won the title of the Agriculture Industries block and the Raiders took the General Agriculture block after a round-robin season schedule within the individual blocks.

All Short Course teams will see action tonight as the two blocks hold their playoffs. The second place teams in each block, Nursery II of Ag Industries and the Good Getters will clash immediately after the championship game for second place.

The other Ag Industries teams include Nursery I in third place, Elevator I in fourth, and Farm Equipment in fifth.

Jones Awarded Game Ball

Upset Scare Warms Crowd

By JIM HYPFA

It was topcast and blanket weather for Saturday's clash between Michigan State and Purdue.

But the 48 degree temperature was warmed up a bit when the upset-minded Boilermakers threw a scare into the majority of the 56,431 fans in attendance. The final outcome was 12-9 in favor of the Spartans, but that remained unknown until a Purdue field goal attempt failed with four seconds left in the game.

Spartan tackle Joel Jones was awarded the game ball for his all-around performance. Jones suffered a knee injury late in the contest which will sideline him for the remainder of the season, according to team physician Dr. James Feurig.

Saturday's win gave the Spartans an even split in games won and lost with Purdue in a series dating back to 1918. The teams have now won five games apiece and have tied one.

Captain John Matsko lost the toss of the coin again Saturday. This marks the fifth time in seven games State has lost the toss.

The Michigan State Marching Band paid a pre-game tribute to President John Hannah who was absent from a Spartan home game for the third time in 15 years.

The band's halftime theme was "The Sports Scene in Michigan." Together with the Black "S" band section they saluted nine athletes who were chosen by sportswriters and sportsmen for the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

Among those honored were the late Fielding H. Yost, former football coach at the University of Michigan; golf champion, Walter Hagen; the late Harry Heilmann, former Detroit Tiger star; former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis; and baseball great Ty Cobb.

Former Detroit Tiger, second baseman, Charles Gehringer, speed boat champion Gar Wood, played by the band were "Blue Skies," "Take Me Out To The Ball Game," "Shall We Dance?", "Skater's Waltz" and "Mr. Touchdown, U.S.A."

The Activities Band made its first appearance of the season at a Spartan home game. It was located in front of the Purdue cheering section throughout the game.

Another first for the season was the wearing of knee length stockings by some of the Spartan players. Four members of the starting eleven had them on.

State's starting backfield made a combined total of 19 net yards rushing in 26 carries.

The Spartans again led in the penalty department. They were penalized 15 yards as compared to 31 yards marked off against Purdue.

Captain Duffy Lougherty said his team was lucky in winning and the statistics bear him out. The Boilermakers made 15 first downs to 16 for State. They outgained the Spartans 153 yards to 103 yards in rushing and 94 yards to 80 yards in passing.

In addition to that State penetrated Purdue territory only one time in the entire second half and that was to the 39-yard line.

Aid for 'Independence' Red Volunteers Pour Into Egypt

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet volunteers continued to pour into the Egyptian Embassy in London today even though the United Nations is ready to move its police units into Egypt for peace talks.

While these Russian volunteers are pouring into the Egyptian Embassy in London, a similar movement is taking place in the Soviet Union. A spokesman at the Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said today that the Soviet Union is ready to move its police units into Egypt for peace talks.

Fairer Sex Now Outnumber Males According to Census

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated Sunday that females now outnumber males in the United States by about 1,301,000.

The greatest disparity is in the 25 and older groups.

Six years ago there were only 600,000 more females than males.

The 1940 census showed 100.7 men for each 100 women.

The decline in the proportion of the male population has been going on since 1910, when the ratio was 100 males for each 100 females.

The census said the sex ratio was due mainly to two factors.

The mortality rate is higher for men than for women.

Immigration has declined, and out about two-fifths of persons coming to live in this country are men.

Prior to 1900, about two-thirds of the immigrants were men.

Census said the total population last July 1 was 166,091,000.

Of this, 83,045,000 were males and 83,046,000 were females.

The second half of the match will be played at Michigan on December 2.

Michigan's record has been brought well under medical control, but there are still about 200 million people in the world who are made invalid each year by this fever.

The exhibition will run for three weeks and can be seen during office hours and on two days from 1 to 3.

The audio-visual center will show two films Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. "One Nation" and "The Civil War" will be previewed in the music auditorium.

Nationalists Refuse Defeat

Hungary. There were two in the country when the revolt erupted Oct. 23.

Hungarian groups of rebels still held out in and around Budapest by admission today of the new Communist premier, János Kadar.

But he predicted the overwhelming power of Soviet armed might will crush the remnants within two or three days.

Western correspondents driving back from Budapest to the Austrian frontier were checked twice while going to Hungarian police. While waiting, some were held on buses, others in their cars.

People in the streets cheered the Hungarian rebels. They held up their own flag, the Hungarian flag.

They shouted "Freedom for Hungary" and "We want help."

Budapest is a city in mourning. Black flags are flying from most buildings. At many street corners there are hastily dug graves where those moved down by Russian fire are temporarily buried.

The killing went on for a week. Wednesday, for example, a man who stepped out of the door of a hotel to get a loaf of bread was shot dead. Saturday night a Russian soldier reported the case of a man in Parliament Square who was shot dead.
