

... MSU Opens Basketball Season Saturday Against Iowa State ...

By JOE HOFFMAN

Facing one of its toughest opening game opponents in recent years, Michigan State's basketball team takes to the court Saturday night at 8 in Jenison Fieldhouse against Iowa State.

The Spartans will start the all-veteran lineup of Capt. George Ferguson and Larry Hedden at forward, Chuck Bencie at center, and Harry Lux and Jack Quiggle at guard. Ferguson and Lux are seniors, the other three juniors.

State will be attempting to improve on its 13-9 record of a year ago. Coach Forddy Anderson, starting his third year at the Spartan helm, is optimistic about the team's chances. "We should have better depth this year plus a more balanced scoring attack," Anderson said.

In his first two seasons, Anderson's forces relied mostly on the scoring of two individuals—Al Ferrari in the 1954-55 season and Julius McCoy last year.

But there are no Ferrari's or McCoy's this year. It is very possible that four or five men will be averaging in double figures, something unheard of in past seasons.

Anderson has probably the best reserve strength since he took over the head coaching job from Pete Newell three seasons ago.

Backing up the forward spots are sophomores Bob Anderson and Tom Markovich. Gary Siegmeier, also a sophomore, will give support to the center position.

But it's at guard where the Spartans have the greatest depth. Outside the two starters, three men are fighting for the top spots, and all are of about equal ability.

Letterman Pat Wilson, who just started practice Monday because of football, has a slight edge because of his experience. But it will take a few weeks for Wilson to obtain his full form of last season.

The other two guards are Tom Rand and Dave Scott, both sophomores. Rand was the high scorer in Tuesday's Green and White game, while Scott was the outstanding player in the intrasquad game played at the Basketball Coaches Clinic last Saturday.

Iowa State will also start an all-veteran lineup consisting of Chuck Vogt and John Crawford at forward, Don Medsker at center, and Gary Thompson and Lyle Frahm at guard. Medsker will be the tallest man on the court at 6'8".

Thompson is one of the country's finest playmakers, and he's been picked on many pre-season All-American teams. He averaged 16.8 points per game last year.

Coach Bill Strannigan's Cyclones copped the runner-up spot in the tough Big Seven Conference last season. They had a fine overall record of 18-5.

Preceding the varsity game Saturday will be a freshman game starting at 6:15. Students will be admitted free to this and all home games upon presentation of their ID cards.

State's next game will be at home against Brigham Young University Dec. 8. The opening Big 10 game is against Purdue, also at home, Jan. 5.

Cloudy and a little warmer with occasional snow flurries is predicted for the Lansing area Friday. Winds will range from 15-20 mph. The low for Thursday was 22, and the high expected for Friday is 31-36.

The Goodnight Kiss Will Stay—Hooray!!

At Marquette—Nix on Kiss;
At MSU—It's OK to Osculate

From a wire service story out of Milwaukee dated Nov. 29:

"Male students at Marquette University rose up in indignation today over a 'no good-night kiss' rule imposed on coeds by school officials."

"Mrs. Mabel McElligott, university dean of women, had ordered a crackdown on girls 'who kiss goodnight in front of dormitories' for women. A rule prohibits a 'public display of affection' outside any of the school's 10 women's residences."

By DONN SHELTON and GENE RITZINGER

For awhile, men, we were worried. Supposing the "no-kiss" rule spread to MSU? Supposing somebody thought there was too much kissing outside of coed dorms and decided to end it all at one fell swoop?

Supposing coeds read the tragedy of Marquette and decided to revolt? How would you like to walk your girl to her dorm, whisper goodnight and then, tenderly, passionately, shake her hand?

Yes, we were worried. But not anymore.

We did a little checking, made a few phone calls to various coeds and are happy to report that at MSU, at least, kissing goodnight in front of coed dorms is here to stay.

Said a pretty brown-eyed resident of North Campbell: "I think kissing goodnight is a fine institution. Who wants to shake hands?"

And a five-foot-two, eyes of blue, doll living in East Landon said:

"Kissing is fun. I like to kiss. I wouldn't think of giving it up, even if it meant getting tossed out of school."

A Williams dormitory resident said:

"At MSU coeds can't be kissed inside the dormitory. They have to get kissed outside the dorm if they're to be kissed goodnight at all. Otherwise they'll get late minutes."

And another coed commented:

"I kiss goodnight outside of my front door at home. My dorm is supposed to be my home away from home. So what's wrong if I kiss goodnight outside it?"

We checked sorority coeds, too. One, a beauty queen, said:

"It's a tradition at my house for a girl to be kissed inside the door. Our housemother doesn't like to see kissing outside the door since the neighbors might not like it."

Another said:

"If they ever cracked down at kissing goodnight at my house, I'd quit."

And do coeds think there is too much kissing goodnight at MSU? Or too little? Opinion on this was mixed. Some typical comments:

"There's not too much kissing here. MSU coeds don't let it get out of hand."

"I think it looks silly to see a bunch of people kissing outside a dorm. But I'm not against it. My boy friend hasn't got a car. Where else would we kiss goodnight?"

"I think there's entirely too much kissing. People should be more discreet. They should kiss goodnight in private."

"If you don't kiss outside the door, you'll do it somewhere else which might be worse."

We queried a few males, too. To a man (bless 'em) they thought the Marquette ruling was an invasion of a sacred right.

"Outlandish! Sinful! Immoral! They had no right!" screamed one.

"It would be a mighty empty world if people didn't kiss," said another.

"It's just like drinking beer," said another. "Take it away from them and they'll do it all the more."

"Oh, for Pete's sake," said another. "If those guys at Marquette have any gumption, they'll go on strike. This thing should be fought. If I was a student there, I'd personally lead the strike."

And then, just to make sure that there were no plans to end kissing in front of dorms here, we called Miss Mabel Petersen, assistant to the dean of students, women's division. She said:

"No action like that at Marquette is planned here."

"We hope all our ladies will act as ladies," Miss Petersen said. They are on their personal honor to do things that are always right and in good taste.

And then for the final, absolute word, we checked with Dean of Students Tom King himself. He said:

"We have received no complaints. We expect our students won't over do it, that they will continue to act like ladies and gentlemen."

MSU Sets Aside Fund 10 Scholarships Offered To Hungarian Refugees

Hungarian refugees, recently admitted to the United States have received an offer of ten scholarships from Michigan State University according to Vice President Thomas H. Hamilton.

Pilger Named Administrator Of Ice Show

Nic Pilger, Lansing junior, was named administrator for the Ice Show to be given Jan. 19 by Bob Becker, student government president.

The entire production will be under the direction of Jean Arlen, director of many professional ice shows. Pilger will be in charge of all the special arrangements that will be made and will be working with Miss Arlen.

Becker said that appointments for the other chairmanships would be made before the end of the term.

The name of the show will be "Silver Blades" and will start at 8:30 in Demonstration Hall. There will be an admission charge of $1 per person.

All of the proceeds of the show will go into the new Student Government Scholarship Fund, which has been set up in conjunction with Bob Stewart, director of scholarships.

Carol Heiss, world's figure skating champion, will be the star of the show. Many national and regional figure-skating champions including Miss Heiss' sister, who is the Eastern U.S. Junior Figure Skating Champion, and her 10-year-old brother, who is Eastern U.S. Novice Figure Skating Champion, will also be featured.

The Ice Show bill was passed unanimously in the student congress meeting Wednesday night in which the congress pledged to support and endorse the necessary funds for the show.

The scholarships normally available to foreign students have been set aside for the refugees. The arrangements will be made through Buell G. Gallagher, chairman of World University Service.

Information received by the University is that there probably will be no more than 150 students among the first group of Hungarian refugees admitted by the U. S. under current emergency procedures. Few are expected to speak better than broken English and may lack formal academic credentials. They will be interested primarily in highly specialized fields such as agriculture, forestry, geodetics and medicine.

As a publicly-supported institution, MSU cannot make contributions to students in Europe, Dr. Hamilton said, but "we can make an educational home for a few students, and we hope this will be of encouragement and assistance to some who make their way to this country."

Five scholarships for undergraduates and five graduate scholarships are available under existing regulations of the State Board of Agriculture, according to J. Robert Stewart, director of scholarships. They represent a waiver of fees and $25 a month for each student. Because of the economic condition of most of the refugees, they probably would have to be augmented with funds from other sources, such as sponsoring groups or individual donors.

MSU has a program of intensive instruction in English for foreign students, and has strong offerings in many of the listed areas of specialized educational interest.

Executives Deny AWS 'Hitlerism'

'Coeds Didn't Have To Take Penalty'

Three executives of AWS Thursday night denied their organization "smacked" of "Hitlerism" as was charged by a student congress representative Wednesday.

The charge, made by Bob Hess, married housing representative in congress, was in reference to an AWS ruling ordering 140 coeds of East Landon dormitory to receive five late minutes each because of a defaced sign-out sheet.

"All 140 coeds need not have received these late minutes," the executives said.

The three, AWS Judiciary President Bev Roush, AWS Judiciary Vice President Liz Schneider and Jo Brady, acting president of AWS Activities, said.

"The violators of the rule calling for all women students to uphold the regulations and standards of AWS and their residence hall were given opportunity to confidentially make known their error in defacing the sign-out sheets, which are the property of the university and of the Intercollegiate AWS organization, and which are open to their inspection at all times."

"This is not 'mass punishment' but the only recourse which AWS had in penalizing the violators when group responsibility was found to be lacking."

The three said AWS was not acting under the principles of "Hitlerism" when it stipulated that only the guilty need be punished.

"Every channel was open for these violators to admit the misdemeanor," the three said. "The choice of the number of women to receive the penalty lay with the 140 coeds of East Landon."

The executives also took issue with the student congress resolution passed Wednesday which urged AWS to reconsider its ruling with revisions that see AWS, Page 8

S'News Staff Meeting To Be Held Saturday

The final State News staff meeting of the term will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the State News office.

Hal Bateman, managing editor, announced that appointments for winter term will be announced at the meeting. Fall term awards will also be handed out. The term's work will also be reviewed.

This is one of the ways that East Lansing is being "dressed" for the Christmas season. Merchants of the city have erected decorations along Grand River.

'All Depends On Troop Evacuation'

Shipments to Top
Half-Million Daily

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department broadly hinted Thursday that emergency oil supplies for Europe will begin flowing as soon as Britain and France make a "definitive statement" about plans to pull their troops out of Egypt.

Top officials said such a statement setting a public timetable for troop withdrawals, would "have a bearing" on American readiness to put an emergency plan into operation, to help relieve the European shortage caused by the closing of the Suez Canal.

They expressed this view in commenting on a decision by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to put off until Monday an expected formal announcement of Britain's readiness to join France in a "phased withdrawal" of the forces from Egypt.

Anticipating a satisfactory British pledge, final arrangements have been completed by government agencies to trigger the emergency oil arrangements which would move from 500,000 to 1,000,000 barrels daily to Europe.

A White House announcement officially setting the plan in motion is ready, authorities said, to reassure European allies of U. S. willingness to co-operate in solving the mounting oil crisis.

Officials involved in the oil arrangements said they expected they would be invoked early next week, presumably after Lloyd's Monday announcement.

Boy Back in School Minus Presley-Locks

Last Elvis Haircut Bows Out Under Romeo Barber's Shears

ROMEO (AP) — The last "Elvis Presley" haircut in Romeo bowed to a barber's shears Thursday. Friday 16-year-old Robert Phernetton can go back to high school for the first time since Nov. 6.

Robert had kept his fancy locks intact despite two edicts from the Romeo Board of Education. He was expelled, then lost a court fight for the right to keep the swirling curls above his ears and still attend classes.

So Thursday Robert begrudgingly left his hair—at least enough of it to satisfy the school authorities—on the cutting room floor at Trim's barber shop.

"I'm not happy," the youth said when it was over.

He then presented himself before School Superintendent T. C. Filippula.

"It looks okay," Filippula said. "Still pretty long on top... but okay."

Mrs. Alice Phernetton, the boy's mother, said the family came to the decision to cut after she consulted an attorney.

"I decided Robert's education is more important than the principle involved," she said.

Phernetton was the last hold-out in a group that once numbered 54 boys. School authorities told them to dress up, get their hair cut and look like students.

"It'll take years to train my hair again," Robert said glumly as he went back to his books.

Students Threatened In Tennessee

Told Not to Abuse Negro Pupils There

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—White students said Thursday they were threatened with expulsion from Clinton High if they were found intimidating or abusing Negro pupils at the newly integrated school.

They said Principal D. J. Britain Jr. made the threat at a student assembly, adding pointedly: "And I mean it."

The assembly was called after all 10 Negro students remained away from classes for the second day in a row because of what they termed "abuse."

White students hurled rocks at Negro pupils Monday, and eggs were thrown by two white boys at three Negro girls Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the Anderson County School board voted in a special session to make it possible for Negro pupils to return to an all-Negro high school in Knoxville—2 miles southeast of Clinton in Knox County—if their parents so request.

The school, Knoxville's Austin High, was attended by Anderson County Negroes before Clinton High was integrated Aug. 27 under order of U.S. District Judge Robert L. Taylor to climax five years' litigation. Anderson County has no Negro high school.

On Nov. 21, Kasper was acquitted on state charges of sedition and inciting to riot growing out of the same accusations.

Membership Effective Dec. 1

East Lansing C of C Approved

The East Lansing Chamber of Commerce approved Wednesday noon their membership in the United States Chamber of Commerce effective Dec. 1.

Carl G. Card of the East Lansing State Bank and vice president in the East Lansing chamber was appointed National Counselor to represent the East Lansing Chamber.

MSU professor Ruben Austin in the division of business and economics was elected chairman of the National Affairs and Education Committee.

Prior to coming to MSU Austin received national recognition for his accomplishments as Mayor of Dubuque, Iowa. He now serves at MSU in the capacity of Coordinator of the United States Chamber and is chairman of the Government Study Committee for the East Lansing Chamber.

President for the new year will be William A. Burgess, Jr., East Lansing postmaster and member of the board of directors of the chamber.

Vice president is Vincent L. Vandenburg of Vandenburg Construction company, and treasurer is John Hicks of Hicks Hardware company.

The chamber presently has 116 members. At the Wednesday meeting, 110 new membership cards were distributed.

This year the chamber held meetings with state and county highway officials to initiate plans for solving Grand River Truck traffic problems. In addition they were instrumental in securing a much needed addition to the East Lansing Post Office. The chamber is now organizing and promoting a program to select a city seal for Municipal and Public School use.

Mallet to Narrate "Tour of Europe"

"The Grand Tour of Europe," narrated by Robert Mallet, commentator with Burton Holmes Travelogues, will be shown Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Aud.

"The Grand Tour" begins in New York and crosses to England via luxury liner, with a visit through London. Traveling on to the Continent, the film features the Low Countries, the Rhine and southern Germany. A trip through Italy contains visits to Venice, Florence, Rome and Capri. Gay Paris climaxes the cinema.

MSU Groups To Perform Opera Sunday

Henry Purcell's 17th century opera masterpiece, "Dido and Aeneas," will be presented in a public performance of the MSU Mixed Chorus and Orchestra at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Auditorium. Admission is free.

The performance, which features faculty and student singers in solo parts, will be directed by Gomer L. Jones, classical scholar, composer and conductor on the MSU music department staff.

"Dido and Aeneas" will be given in its entirety in choral form. It combines beautiful music with the classic story of tragic love as personified by Dido and Aeneas and is based on Virgil's "Fourth Book of the Aeneid," one of the all-time great choral works.

Soviet Troops Mine Border

Attempt to Halt Stream Of Hungarian Refugees

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Russian troops have started to mine the Hungarian border in an apparent effort to halt the stream of refugees into Austria, frontier police said Thursday.

Frosh-Soph Plan Is Considered By L-C Group

Members of the Frosh-Soph Council heard a report at their last meeting of the term from special events chairman Tom Coghill, Columbus, Ohio, sophomore, that the committee's project of sponsoring some all-university event, such as the appearance of a big-name entertainer or band, was being considered by the Lecture-Concert Series committee.

Although the committee has not yet made a decision, it has been indicated that it would regard the event as being in competition with the Lecture-Concert series. Approval of this committee is necessary because it controls use of the auditorium.

Vespers chairman Barb Tiegs, Park Ridge, Ill., freshman, said that the Council-sponsored services would be held Jan. 27 in the chapel.

Final plans were made for the Council's hayride. Members will meet at the west entrance of the Union on Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Police said they had confirmed the laying of mines about a mile inside Hungary near the Austrian town of Lutzmarfburg. It was assumed mine-laying was being undertaken at other points. There have been earlier reports from refugees of mine-laying activities along the border.

Austrian officials reported that the mining and apparently a general tightening up by the Russians had reduced the flow of refugees. Only about 800 came into the Austrian province of Burgenland during the day, compared with 3,800 during the 24-hour period ended at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Radio Budapest gave a very meager picture of the situation in the country. Premier Janos Kadar, with the aid of the Russians, is trying to straighten out the chaos left by five weeks of rebellion, strikes and passive resistance.

The radio reported that the Presidential Council has issued an amnesty to nearly 100,000 persons who have fled across the border into Austria — provided they return to Hungary by next March 31.

There was no accurate picture of the coal-mining situation. Coal miners have been the most stubborn in refusing to work until their demands for the restoration of former Premier Imre Nagy and the withdrawal of Russian troops have been met.

The country is faced with a serious coal shortage and the mines are said to be producing only about 15 per cent of the normal production.

Winter Wonderland, Parties To Kick-off Holiday Spirit

By AUDREY MACKNISH
Winter's here. And along with the snowy landscape comes the annual holiday celebrations. Santa Claus will be paying an early visit to the campus this weekend to add Christmas spirit to the parties and dances.

The Queen of the Veterans' Association will be crowned during the intermission of "Winter Wonderland," an all-university dance to be held Saturday night from 8-12. The decorations for this semi-formal dance, which will be held at Kellogg Center, will be centered around a winter theme.

Music will be provided by Tony Romans and his orchestra, and intermission entertainment will feature the Kappaliers. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

A Christmas wrapping party will be held at Bryan Hall for the dorm members, and the coeds of East Yackley. Presents for the underprivileged children at the St. Vincent dePaul Orphanage will be wrapped. The lower lounge will be decorated in anticipation of the party which will be held there Saturday afternoon from 2-4:30. Movies will be shown Saturday and each little boy at the party will have a big brother, and will receive gifts from Santa.

Emmons Hall will sponsor an informal record dance for couples only at Brody Hall, Friday night from 9-12.

Saturday afternoon, men from Emmons Hall and coeds from East and West Mayo will sing Christmas carols and help decorate the Bogue Nursing Home in East Lansing. The group will also present the home with a Hi-Fi record player.

Rowe Riding Ranch will be the scene of a hayride for present one of Butterfield Hall, Friday night from 9-12.

"The Divided Heart," a British film will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. Friday in Fairchild Theater. "The Open Window," a British short subject, will also be shown.

"The Night Before Christmas" is the theme of Phi Kappa Tau's annual Christmas party, which will be held Friday evening from 9-12 at the house. There will be Christmas decorations, plus a fireplace through which Santa will enter and distribute gifts to all. The Playboys and the Knapp Trio will supply the music.

Christmas songs and gifts from Santa Claus will highlight the Christmas party for Lansing underprivileged children sponsored by the Phi Tau's Saturday.

The Alpha Omicron Pi's are having a tree trimming party and record dance at their house Friday evening from 8-12.

A Christmas tree, a fire, storytelling, and gifts given to underprivileged children by Santa will highlight the annual Christmas party sponsored by Delta Zeta and Theta Chi. The party will be held Friday night from 6:30-8:30 at the Theta Chi house.

Everyone is required to bring a dance decoration at the "Do it Yourself" party given by Theta Chi's pledges for the activities. The dance will be held at the Theta Chi house Friday night from 9-12.

Sigma Nu will have their annual Christmas party at their house Friday night from 9-12. Santa will give out gifts during intermission. There will be dancing to the music of Tony Romans and his orchestra, and intermission entertainment will feature "The Jailbirds."

The Delta Chi house and a Christmas tree will be decorated Friday afternoon in preparation for the Christmas party which will be held Friday night from 8:30-12. The record dance is being given by the girls who are joined to Delta Chi's and all the fraternity members and their dates will receive gifts from Santa.

Christmas songs will be sung by the Alpha Chi Sigma's and their dates as they decorate their Christmas tree, and pop popcorn in the fireplace. The Christmas tree trimming party will be held Friday night from 8:30-12:30 at the Alpha Chi Sigma's house.

Santa Claus will be at Triangles' "Snowball Stomp" to present small gifts to the dates of the fraternity members. Friday night from 8-12. There will be dancing to Hi-Fi music. The party will also serve as the formal unveiling of their new living room furniture.

Alpha Delta Pi will honor their U of M chapter at a semi-formal dance Saturday night from 8-12. The East Lansing

American Legion Hall will be decorated in the traditional Christmas style and the ADPi's and their dates will dance to the music of John Shaffer and his band.

There will be a semi-formal dinner-dance Saturday evening at 8:30-12 given by Kappa Sigma. The dance will also be attended by the fraternity's U of M chapter and the University of Toronto chapter. Jim Voorheis and his orchestra will provide the music for dancing, and the Kappaliers will entertain during intermission.

"Happy Holidays" is the theme of Union Board's informal record dance Saturday night from 9-12 in the Union Ballroom.

Robert Mallet will show and discuss his film, "Grand Tour of Europe," Saturday evening at 8 in the auditorium.

Plans for Pi Kappa Phi's new house will be the main topic of discussion at the fraternity's annual Founder's Day Banquet, Saturday at 5:30 p.m. Active and alumni will attend the banquet which will be held at the house. Movies and the basketball game, after the banquet will provide the entertainment.

Everyone is invited to the Christmas program sponsored by Kappa Kappa Gamma and Theta Chi in the Alumni Memorial Chapel, Sunday at 8 p.m. The speaker for the event will be Rev. William Kuhert, and refreshments will be served after the program.

Zeta Beta Tau will entertain twenty-five underprivileged Lansing and East Lansing children at noon Sunday at their house. Santa Claus will present gifts to the children who will range from three to twelve years in age.

Yvonne Brown, queen of Alpha Phi Alpha will be the Christmas angel at the fraternity's party for underprivileged children Saturday afternoon.

"Sightseeing," a dressy dance will be held at the Alpha Phi Alpha house after the basketball game Saturday night until 12 Christmas mamba music will be provided and a prize will be given to the best dance team.

Religious Groups Plan Weekend Activities

Parties, dances and cost suppers have been planned by campus religious organizations for the coming weekend.

The Folksingers Group of the YM-YWCA will meet to-night at 8:30 in the Y house. Gamma Delta and the Lutheran Student Association will co-sponsor a square dance at 8 p.m. at the Forestry Cabin. Rides will be provided from the Martin Luther Chapel.

The Bible Foundation will also meet tonight at 7 for a fire-side religious service. Newman Club will hold a record dance at 8.

Saturday morning the Y's are holding a general membership meeting and breakfast party at the Y house at 9:30. The group will discuss the topic "Finals Frustrations." At 8:30 p.m. the Y's are sponsoring an all-university square dance at the Forestry Cabin. Bob Copeland will be the caller. Admission is 50 cents.

Newman Club will serve breakfast following the 8:45 mass Sunday morning. Christian Student-Foundation breakfast groups will meet at 9 a.m. at Westminster House and at 10 a.m. at College House and Westminster House.

Archie, Floyd Clash Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The old man fights the former Olympic middleweight champion for the world's heavyweight title tonight with Archie Moore, 39, "going on 43," pitting his experience against 21-year-old Floyd Patterson for the crown vacated by Rocky Marciano.

Moore, who had his first pro fight in 1936 when Patterson was only a baby, hopes to take the title on the second try in this 15-round match. He was knocked out in nine rounds last September in Marciano's last fight. The latest odds on Moore are 6 to 5 and pick 'em.

The nationally televised NBC fight starts at 10 p.m. EST with Chicago and a 150-mile surrounding area blacked out on TV. It also will be broadcast on NBC.

International Boxing Club officials indicate a gross gate of $250,000 with 17,000 fans present.

According to the contracts, each fighter will get 30 per cent of this anticipated total take of about $400,000.

No matter what happens in the ring, a new record will be set in the age department. Moore would be the oldest man ever to win the heavyweight title and Patterson the youngest.

Jersey Joe Walcott was 37 when he upended Ezzard Charles and Joe Louis was 23 that June night in 1937 when he flattened Jimmy Braddock at Chicago's Comiskey Park.

The contrast in the two men is startling. Moore, born in 1916 or 1913, depending on whether you take his word or the record book claims of his mother, is a ring gypsy who has battled around the world in 156 fights for a 131-20-5 record.

The question of the effects of his ninth-round knockout beating by Marciano is of great importance in Friday's contest. Rocky never seemed to leave them the same. However, Moore has fought 11 times since Marciano, winning 11 of them.

Patterson never has taken a beating. In fact, he has lost only one of 31 pro fights since he came back from the '52 Olympics. That one defeat was a disputed decision eight-rounder to Joey Maxim, the "cute" ex-light heavy king.

Last June, Floyd beat Hurricane Jackson in 12 rounds but broke a bone in his right hand in the process.

Patterson's hand has passed several examinations but there are those who fear it might be damaged again and prove a serious handicap.

Rifle Teams Hold Weekend Matches

The Michigan State rifle team will face the University of Wisconsin and Purdue University rifle teams in a Big 10 match at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Dem Hall rifle range.

The AFROTC rifle team will fire its first match of the year against the University of Toledo Army ROTC at 1 p.m. Sunday in Dem Hall.

Army's Upset Hopes Ride With 2 Cadets

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—The Army football team pins its hopes to upset Navy Saturday on a knee operation and a boys' confidence.

The pivotal knee belongs to hardluck Bob Kvasky and the growing confidence to quarterback Dave Bourland, who had participated in only two varsity plays prior to this season and injured his shoulder in the first week of fall practice.

Whatever the outcome of the colorful 37th meeting between the Cadets (5-3) and the midshipmen (6-1-1) before 100,000 in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, the year will be a triumphant one for fullback Kvasky.

Kvasky first injured his left knee the opening day of practice last fall but battled his way back to play parts of four games. When it was found the injury involved a critical internal ligament, Bob underwent difficult surgery last December. He was shifted to quarterback in the fall when Bourland was hurt. When Bourland came back, Kvasky went to full again. With all the obstacles to overcome, he still has rushed 631 yards for a 5.7 average.

As a plebe, Kvasky broke his collarbone and came up with the same injury in the '54 opener.

Bourland, an El Paso, Tex., second classman junior, was slow in developing ball-handling skills because his opportunity to gain experience were limited, but with increased confidence he could be ready for his biggest effort in the "big" game.

Indiana, eight lettermen are back at Hoesstertown this season, five of them 6'4" or better. The Indiana attack will center around Archie Dees, one of the best jump shots in the conference. He averaged 17.4 points per game last season. Jeffery Thompson and Jim Hinds will get the starting call at forward with veterans Hallie Bryant and Charlie Hodson at guard. Indiana has plenty of speed to go along with its fine rebounding and scoring punch.

MINNESOTA: A sixth place finisher last season, Coach Ozzie Coaches figures to have a first division spot this year, and a possible title. The big gun in the Gopher attack is Jed Dommever, last year's Gopher scoring leader with 418 points. Cowles has him shifted to center this year. The rest of the starting team are all veterans—Dave Tucker, George Kline, Gerry Lindsay.

Big 10 Cage Outlook: A 'Wide-Open Affair'

By JOE HOFFMAN

For the first time in several years, the Big 10 basketball race figures to be a wide-open affair, with as many as five teams given a chance of coping the title and an automatic berth in the post season NCAA tournament.

Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Northwestern as well as Michigan State are all given a chance at the title, with the Illinois favoring a slight edge.

With the basketball season only one day away, here's a look at what the Big 10 has to offer this year and a prediction of the final finish, excluding the Spartans:

- | | |
|-----------------|---------------|
| 1. Illinois | 5. Iowa |
| 2. Indiana | 6. Purdue |
| 3. Minnesota | 7. Ohio State |
| 4. Northwestern | 8. Michigan |
| 9. Wisconsin | |

ILLINOIS: The most consistent team in the conference for the past decade, Illinois has the necessary material to carry it to the top. Center George Bon-Salle is the conference's best center, having finished third in Big 10 scoring last year behind Robin Freeman and State's Julius McCoy. Veteran forwards Harry Schmidt and Bill Altenberger give the Illini a powerful front line. The one problem is finding adequate replacements for last year's two All-Conference guards, Bill Ridley and Paul Jurison. Depth will also be an important factor but the first team is good enough to hold forth.

INDIANA: Eight lettermen are back at Hoesstertown this season, five of them 6'4" or better. The Indiana attack will center around Archie Dees, one of the best jump shots in the conference. He averaged 17.4 points per game last season. Jeffery Thompson and Jim Hinds will get the starting call at forward with veterans Hallie Bryant and Charlie Hodson at guard. Indiana has plenty of speed to go along with its fine rebounding and scoring punch.

MINNESOTA: A sixth place finisher last season, Coach Ozzie Coaches figures to have a first division spot this year, and a possible title. The big gun in the Gopher attack is Jed Dommever, last year's Gopher scoring leader with 418 points. Cowles has him shifted to center this year. The rest of the starting team are all veterans—Dave Tucker, George Kline, Gerry Lindsay.

and guard Dick Mast give the Wildcats a fine one-two scoring punch. The two will probably be flanked with three sophomores, center Joe Rulick, forward Nick Mantis and guard Dick Johnson, all outstanding high school players. An indication of the talent on the squad this year is that three starters of last year will be on the bench in the season opener against Western Michigan.

IOWA: Coach Bucky O'Connor faces the toughest rebounding job a coach could imagine—replacing the entire starting team. The Hawkeyes' graduated their championship team of Carl Cain, Bill S. host, Bill Logan, Bill Seaborg and Milt Scheurman, and O'Connor must start from the ground up. Forwards Tom Payne and Frank Seabolt played some what last year but enough to be "sure" players. The center and guard spots will be filled mostly by untried sophomores. Iowa is a young team, but O'Connor has a reputation for molding "youngsters" into winners.

PURDUE: Rugged center Lamar Lundy could mean the difference in a first or second finish for the Boilermakers. One of the most improved players in the conference last season, Lundy is one of the league's strongest rebounders. Another big factor will be the play of sophomore Wilson Eason, a 6'6" forward who two years ago copped all scoring honors in Indiana's "Hot Red" of basketball.

OHIO STATE: Floyd Stahl, pint-sized coach of the Bucks, faces the ridiculous problem of replacing Robin Freeman, everybody's All-American last year. It mightn't seem great enough, Stahl also lost starting center Don Kelley and Freeman's talented running mate at guard, Charley Ellis. Back are forwards Frank Howard and Jim Laughlin, an excellent combo. But the rest of the lineup looks weak. The one bright spot for Ohio State is that its home games will be played in the new St. John Arena instead of the State Fair grounds.

MICHIGAN: Basketball was Michigan's poorest varsity sport last year. It might repeat. Ron Kramer returns to give the Wolverines a top-flight center. Other experienced lettermen include forwards Pete Tillotson and Randy Tanner and guards Jim Shearon and Billy Wright. Rookie M. C. Burton may help, but Michigan doesn't have the necessary talent to finish higher than the second division.

WISCONSIN: About the best thing for the Wildcats to do this season is to pray. It is a "green" team, with only four seniors. Bob Litow and Glenn Burdick returning. Coach Bud Foster quips: "It will be a great coaching accomplishment if we improve on last year's record." Wisconsin was 6-16 last year, 4-10 in the conference.

Midwest Open Championships Gymnasts Prepare For Chicago Meet

By PETE WALTERS
State News Night Editor

Hoping to extend the late-season streak of success that they enjoyed toward the close of the 1955-56 campaign, Michigan State's gymnasts will open this year's competition Saturday at Chicago's Navy Pier in the Midwest Open Championships.

Returning varsity letterwinners from last year are Capt. Roland Brown, Don Leas, Dick O'Brien and Jim Breza, all seniors.

Other returnees include Jim Cook, a junior, Russ Paul, a junior who competed with the 1951 team before entering the service, and Cal Girard, Angie Festa, Dick Becker, George Hopely and Tom Werthmann, all of whom worked with the freshman squad last season.

Although Becker, Festa and Hopely are all ineligible to compete fall term, the Navy Pier contest will be the only action for the Spartans before winter quarter.

Brown, defending Big 10 champion and NCAA runner-up in the free exercises event and fifth place tumbler in both meets, was State's most consistent winner last season, and is looking forward to a double crown in the coming year. Leas was State's top all-around man in 1955-56, placing the Spartan point-scoring in every meet and taking a first in flying rings and fifth all-around in the conference tilt.

O'Brien was Coach George Seyppala's No. 2 all-around man, while Brown specialized in the tumbling and trampoline events. Cook has been concentrating on the flying rings, and Paul has been working the apparatus events.

Girard has been a consistent all-around winner in intra-squad meets this fall and should add needed depth to the team. Festa and Hopely are also all-around men, while Werthmann does his best work on the side horse and Becker is a free exercise man.

U. S. Team Eyes Olympic Crown

Holds Edge Over Russia, 318-219 1/2

Campbell, Johnson Vie for Decathlon

MELBOURNE (AP) — Two young giants, Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson, climaxed the two-man race for the decathlon gold medal Friday as the U. S. track and field team entered the final phase of its assignment to build up enough points to carry the Yanks to another over-all Olympic title in the unofficial point count.

The track and field athletes, America's workhorse crew when it comes to winning medals and points, thus far have collected 12 of the 19 gold medals won by the U.S. in the 1936 games. The track and field competition ends Saturday.

After that, America will have to concentrate on the swims as its main source of points while Russia goes to work in gymnastics.

Going into Friday's events—with the first swimming finals scheduled in the men's 100-meter

Olympic Extra

MELBOURNE (Friday) (AP)—Milt Campbell skipped over the 110-meter hurdles in the amazing time of 14 seconds flat to win 1,124 points and increase his lead over teammate Rafer Johnson.

Campbell's total after six events was 3,688. Johnson did 15.1 seconds for the hurdles and gained 788 points to bring his total to 5,163.

freestyle and women's 200-meter breaststroke — the U.S. holds a 318 to 219 1/2 edge over Russia in points.

The only track and field final Friday are in the decathlon and women's shot put and 200-meter sprint, and the U.S. is without a qualifier in the sprint.

Campbell, the 1932 runnerup, and Johnson, the world record holder, were in a class all by themselves through the first half of the decathlon Thursday.

Campbell won three events and placed second in the other two for a 4,564-point total. Johnson, a UCLA student, was second with 4,375.

Going into the final five events — 110-meter hurdles, discus, pole vault, javelin and 1,500-meter run — Campbell, from Plainfield, N.J., and former Indiana University star, was running ahead of Johnson's pace when he set the record of 7,984 points.

The complete domination by the American pair in the decathlon and a 400-meter run victory by Charley Jenkins of Villanova were highlights of Thursday's competition in cold, blustery weather. But the big talk was reserved for the 3,000-meter steeplechase — which provided the first rubarb of the games.

Britain's Chris Brasher — the "rabble" who paced Roger Bannister to his historic break through the four-minute mile barrier — first was judged the winner in record time; then was disqualified for "interference."

The Olympic jury of honor finally settled the case and awarded the decision to Brasher, who finished 15 feet ahead of the pack, and then disallowed a subsequent protest by Hungary's Sandor Rozsnyoi, the world record holder and "interim" winner.

Tom Courtney (153), of Livingston, N.J., hits tape in winning the Olympic 800 meter run in 1:47.7 for a new Olympic record Nov. 26 in Melbourne, Australia. He outlegs Britain's Derek Johnson (137). Auden Boysen, partly hidden by Courtney, Norway, was third. Arnie Sowell (154), Pittsburgh, Pa., was fourth.

Brasher's time was 8:41.2, clipping the Olympic record set by Horace Ashenfelter of the U.S. at 8:45.4 in 1952. Chuck Jones of Iowa was ninth as the lone American entry.

While the decathlon is decided Friday, the U.S. gets set for its final surge in track and field with preliminary heats in the 400-meter and 1,600-meter relays.

Bobby Morrow, Ira Mutchison, Thane Baker and Leon King are the four Yank rockets in the 400. In 1,600, it's Jenkins, Lou Jones, Tom Courtney and Jessie Mashburn.

Jenkins won the 400 Thursday in 46.7 with Jones, the world record holder, finishing fifth after burning himself out by setting a killing early pace.

The swims should offer an Olympic record as well as gold medals Friday. In the men's 100-meters, all three Yanks qualified with Reid Patterson of Pineville, Ky., breaking the Olympic record of 57.1 seconds on a 56.8 clocking. That in turn was clipped to 55.7 by Australia's Jon Henricks in the semi-finals.

Mary Jane Sears of the Walter Reed Swim Club was the lone U.S. entry in the women's breaststroke. She qualified for the finals.

The U.S. basketball team, paced by Bill Russell, meets Uruguay in an opening game of the final round-robin Friday night. Russia, whipped 85-55 by the U.S. Thursday night, plays France in the other. The two winners meet Saturday for the championship.

In boxing the U.S. goes into Friday's bouts with only three representatives, while Russia has six semi-finalists.

Jim Boyd of Rocky Mount, N.C., a private from Ft. Benning, Ga., and Pete Rademacher, Army officer from Grandview, Wash., joined Jose Torres of Puerto Rico in the semi-finals.

Kelly Predicts Yanks to Capture 15 Gold Medals

MELBOURNE (AP)—Jim Kelly, head coach of America's track and field forces, raised his sights Friday and predicted the Yanks would bag 15 gold medals before the curtain is rung down on the track phase of the Olympic Games Saturday.

"When I came to Melbourne I said we would win 12 firsts," said the veteran mentor from the University of Minnesota. "Now you can bet we will win 15 unless somebody breaks a leg."

With two days of track and field competition remaining, 19 championships have been decided, 12 in favor of the powerful American team. There are five events to go, including the 1,600 and 400-meter relays.

"We should win the decathlon and we will take both relay races unless there is a calamity of some sort," said Kelly.

Vols Bowl Bound

Saturday's Games To Decide Bowls

Six major bowl spots are up for grabs Saturday with Tennessee, Navy, Georgia Tech, Baylor and Clemson leading the parade of college football teams under observation for post season dates.

Tennessee, which also has an unbeaten, untied season and the Southeastern Conference championship riding on its Vanderbilt game, is best bound for sure. The destination is the only question with the Sugar Bowl holding the top cards.

Both spots in the Sugar and Gator bowls still are to be filled in addition to the visitors' assignment in the Cotton Bowl and the choice of the Atlantic Coast Conference representative for the Orange Bowl.

The bowl picture at a glance: ROSE — Iowa vs. Oregon State; ORANGE — Colorado vs. Clemson; Duke vs. South Carolina.

SUGAR — Tennessee vs. Georgia Tech or Houston.

COTTON — Texas Christian vs. Navy, Syracuse, Tennessee or Georgia Tech.

GATOR — Georgia Tech or Mississippi vs. Navy, Baylor, Syracuse, Pitt or Wyoming.

Scouts from the Cotton Bowl will be much in evidence at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium where once-beaten Navy tangles with Army before 100,000 fans. Dependable sources indicate the Mudpies are a shoo-in if they defeat the Cadets as expected.

Cotton Bowl officials concede Tennessee is all but en route to New Orleans. Since a Southern team has been the visitor for seven straight years and an Eastern team is desirable, Syracuse may get the nod if Navy falters.

Georgia Tech, which meets traditional rival Georgia Saturday, remains a major candidate also.

If Baylor can get by Rice Saturday, the Waco Bears have a good chance of opposing Tennessee in the Sugar bowl. Georgia Tech, with an impressive 9-2 record in major bowl competition, might be selected for a rematch of a regular season contest won by the Vols 6-0.

Houston, opposing weak Detroit, also has a chance.

The Gator Bowl is making its biggest pitch for Tech. If not Tech, Mississippi is the most likely prospect for the regional representative at Jacksonville.

Newcombe Signs '57 Brook Pact; Gets Pay Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Dodger pitcher Don Newcombe signed his 1957 contract Thursday after a short meeting with E. J. (Boss) Ziegler, Brooklyn vice president.

It was believed his salary was hiked about $5,000, to $30,000 a year.

The huge Brooklyn right-hander had plenty of awards to look up his demands for an increase in pay.

He was honored for the second time Wednesday when he was selected as the first winner of the Cy Young Memorial Trophy to be awarded annually to the major league's outstanding pitcher. Previously, he had been named the National League's most valuable player.

Apkarian Decisions Runge For IM 177-Pound Mat Title

Art Apkarian outpointed Robert Runge to win the 177-pound crown in the All-University IM wrestling Finals held Wednesday.

One point was the slight margin of victory as Apkarian edged Runge 4-5.

The 136-pound title was won by Rudy Sherrill who downed Glenn Kestead six points to two.

Roger Noyce scored quickly and readily to take the 137-pound division title. Noyce collected nine points to Barry Hood's two.

Al Currie whitewashed Herb Miller 6-0 to capture the 147-pound crown. Mike Marier defeated Bitter by the same count of 6-0 to finish second.

In the 157-pound division, Don M... pinned Harlan Perkins to take first place. Jim Lightfoot was demolished by Perkins and placed third.

British Film Runs Tonight

The British film, "Divided Heart," the dilemma of a mother separated from her son by differences in background and language, will be shown tonight at 7 and 9 in Fairchild Theater.

"Divided Heart" tells the story of a Yugoslavian boy adopted and raised by a German couple who had believed his parents dead. His real mother turns up and wants her son back. The dilemma of what to do about the problem is left to an Occupation Tribunal to decide.

The film has won two British Academy awards and was awarded the Golden Laurel at the Edinburgh Film Festival.

The role of Toni, the boy, is portrayed by Michel Ray, and that of his real mother by Yvonne Mitchell, both English stars. Cornell Borchers, a German actress, is cast in the role of his foster mother.

Single admission tickets can be purchased at the door.

U. S. to Send Oil

Harold Caccia called on Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. to explain his government's plans.

Caccia's call was made after Lloyd addressed the British House of Commons. It was one of the few visits the ambassador has made at the State Department since British-American relations were joined severely by the invasion of Egypt.

afterward that Caccia's visit was connected with "an interim statement" which Lloyd made in London Thursday.

Authorities familiar with the government's oil plan emphasized that even when it is put into effect the amount of oil to be sent to Europe will, when added to oil from other sources, still fall short of meeting normal European requirements. The American supplies, however, will enable Europe to meet 85 to 90 per cent of its needs, the said.

A State Department spokesman, press officer Lincoln White, told a news conference
