By DENI SCANLON
An MSU first will take place tonight.
A basketball pep rally and show will honor Michigan State cagers from 7:30-9 p.m. this evening at Jensen Fieldhouse.

State and Iowa players and coaches will be present for this event.

The doors will open at 6:30 and the show will start promptly at 7:30, according to Roger Forbush, chairman of Spartan Spirit. Sound trucks will tour the campus during this time to remind students of the free rally.

The rally, which precedes the MSU-Iowa tilt on Saturday, will include door prizes and entertainment for students.

Biggie Munn, athletic director, Hawkeye Coach Frank "Bucky" O'Connor, State Coach Forddy Anderson, Dean King, and the cheerleaders are included on the program.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Playboys, Noel Stookey, Birmingham sophomore, and two acts from the Senior Council Touring Talent Show. Acrobast Bob Knappe, St. Clair shores freshman, and the Dudads: Stephanie Barnes, Cleveland, Ohio, freshman, and Charmin Campbell, Wexford, Pa., freshman, are the members of the Talent Show.

More than $200 in door prizes will be given away during the rally. Each student will be given a numbered ticket at the door. Duplicate tickets will be dropped into a large basket on the stage.

The drawing will take place midway through the rally. Clothing, dinners, records, a 1957 Wolverine with the winner's name engraved on it, sporting equipment and movie passes are some of the prizes.

Two tickets to the Ted Heath All-Star Revue, scheduled for Feb. 27 in the Aud., will be given away by the Lecture Concert Series.

A hi-fi phonograph with a diamond needle is the grand prize. Mrs. Forddy Anderson will draw the ticket for the grand prize at 8 p.m.

Two post pep rally events are scheduled. The Frosh-Soph Council is sponsoring an all-university dance in the Union Parlors immediately following the rally. A varsity boxing match against Bowling Air Force Base will be in the Fieldhouse after the show is over.

UN Defeats Red Move For Debate

On Ike's Doctrine,
Other U. S. Acts

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P)—The UN Steering Committee beat down a Soviet demand for immediate assembly debate on the Eisenhower doctrine and other alleged aggressive acts by the United States Thursday.

The committee voted 8-6 against the Russian move after U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., denounced the complaint as "stupidly false" and a "gigantic cock and bull story."

Lodge, however, conformed to the longstanding U. S. policy in favor of airing all charges against the United States. He voted with the Soviet delegation for a debate. Others voting for debate were Czechoslovakia, Egypt, India and Britain.

Countries voting against were Nationalist China, Denmark, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, France, Italy, Peru and Turkey. Pakistan abstained and the 16th committee member, Prince Wan Wathayakon of Thailand, assembly president, did not take part in the voting.

Lodge said the United States did not object to inscription of the proposed item on the assembly agenda "in the belief that membership in the United Nations gives every member government the right to make a free and full statement of its own position and that it is a right to which the Soviet Union in this case has taken complete advantage."

The committee can only recommend a debate by the assembly. The final decision is up to the 80-nation assembly. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov is expected to renew his demand when the assembly takes up the report of the steering committee.

Kuznetsov charged that the Eisenhower doctrine was aimed at direct U. S. intervention in the internal affairs of the Middle East.

Dorm Regulations To Be Discussed

"Are the University's housing regulations meeting the needs of MSU students?" is the topic of "Grass Roots," the first in a series of public discussions on campus issues, Sunday.

The All-University event is scheduled for 2:30 p.m., room 31 Union.

Representatives from Student Government, Dean of Students, IFC, AWS, State News, and a varsity debater will comprise the panel. Speakers limited to five minute speeches will answer questions from the audience.

Rifleman Shoots Baby During Factory Strike

PRINCETON, Ind. (P)—A 15-man state police detective team sifted through "dozens" of rumors Thursday to find the rifleman who shot a nonstriker's baby during a violent strike at an electrical relay factory.

The 4-month-old baby, Julia Ann Russell, who was shot through the head by one of seven bullets fired into the trailer home of her parents early Wednesday, remained in critical condition.

Two bullets and a cartridge case found in or near the trailer at Lakeland City were flown to Indianapolis for examination in the state police laboratory.

The baby's father, Roland Russell, 23, a machinist, drew some food when the baby took some food in Dearborn Hospital at Evansville. He stayed in the hospital near the baby, along with his wife, Louise, 23, who also has been working in the strike-plagued Potter & Brumfield plant as a secretary.

The baby's doctor said it was still too early to predict her chances of survival or whether the paralysis in her left side would be permanent.

The father said he had received no advance warnings of the shooting, but reported he had been considering quitting his job because he was "fed up with the whole business."

State police, who have kept up patrols in the Princeton area since stonings on the picket line Nov. 29, reported they have listed names of "hundreds" of persons they want to talk with in hope of getting information about violence.

Rewards for arrest and conviction of the baby shooter totaled $4,500—$2,500 offered by Potter & Brumfield; $1,000 by the International Assn. of Machinists; $500 from the striking machinists local; $500 from the Indiana State Federation of Labor.

The strike started Nov. 5 in a dispute over dismissals.

S'News Staff Meeting Slated for Saturday

There will be a general meeting Saturday for all State News staffers, according to Managing Editor Hal Bateman.

The meeting will be held at the State News office, third floor Union, at 10:30 a.m.

Farrall to Advise Research Group Of Farm Leaders

Professor Arthur W. Farrall of MSU has been named to the group of 20 top farm leaders who will help America's farmers keep pace with the age of advanced mechanization.

Professor Farrall will serve on the advisory committee for the new Thor Research Center for Better Farm Living.

The group will guide the Thor Research Center in its nationwide "Operation Farm Improvement" program to increase operating efficiency and living comfort through better planning and use of the farm shop.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Tamm Benson last fall dedicated the non-profit center. This represents the first organized effort to help the nation's farmers offset their heavy dependence on farm production machinery with modern methods, materials and tools for equipment maintenance and home improvement.

Spartacade Plans Underway

By JACK KOWALEC

The bright lights and color of a festival, a modest but exciting version of burlesque, the lively comedy of modern vaudeville — you ask what it is? Why, Spartacade, of course.

A crew of 58 living units from on and off campus is getting together to set up 29 booths inside of Jensen Fieldhouse.

This will be the eighth annual Spartacade. The first one was held in 1951 and served the same purpose, as the later events: to raise money for Campus Chest which supplies organizations that provide for those in need.

Eisenhower Appoints 2 New Ambassadors

R. T. Ross Resigns Position

Senate Investigates Defense Assistant

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (P)—President Eisenhower Thursday accepted the resignation of Assistant Secretary of Defense Robert Tripp Ross, who has been under Senate committee inquiry regarding army contracts let to his wife.

In resigning, Ross wrote the President he has been guilty of no wrong-doing, but feels that his worth to the Defense Department "has been impaired by the very serious implications" stemming from the investigation.

In reply to a question put at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President did not ask that Ross resign. His resignation is effective Feb. 20.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) has been looking into contracts totaling millions of dollars from the military services to firms headed by Ross' wife, Mrs. Claire Wynn Ross, and her brother, H. D. Wynn of Knoxville, Tenn.

The President expressed no view in his brief letter to Ross regarding the merits of the case. The Chief Executive did say: "I deeply appreciate the concern you express for the interest and requirements of the Department of Defense."

Ross told McClellan last month that he had "severed all connection with Wynn Enterprises Inc. and with Southern Athletic Co. and its affiliated companies in February, 1952." That was after his election to Congress as a Republican from New York's 6th district.

H. D. Wynn said the 1954 listing of Ross was an error not discovered until long afterward. Wynn had signed the report to the state.

Snow Sculpture Contest Scheduled for Saturday

If the weatherman cooperates, the Women's Inter-Residence Council will hold its annual snow sculpture contest Saturday with all the coed dormitories competing.

'Pops' Tickets Available Today

Tickets for the Boston Pops concert Feb. 25 will be distributed today at 9 a.m. in the Union second floor checkroom. Students must present coupon "B" of their activity books in exchange for tickets.

Tickets are also on sale for the special "International Festival of Music" starring Ted Heath and his orchestra, Al Hibbler, June Christy and the Eddie Heywood Trio which will be presented Feb. 27 at 7 and again at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the Union desk for $2. There are no reserved seats.

The sculptures must be completed by 10 a.m. Saturday when judging will take place. Each living unit will work separately and the theme must pertain to any winter term activity. One winner and two honorable mentions will be named.

Last year's contest was marred by vandalism in which several of the sculptures were destroyed before judging time. The vandals remained unidentified.

Judging the sculptures will be Dr. Laurena Beadle, assistant director of Women's Division, Dean of Students; Irving Munn, resident advisor of Emmons Hall; and Dr. Paul Love, associate professor of art.

Sculptures will be judged on originality, construction and adherence to the theme.

If there is not enough snow Saturday the contest will be postponed to Feb. 23.

Authorities to Discuss International Crises

Canadian-American authorities will discuss recent international crises and their effect on British-American relations Monday night.

Among distinguished speakers discussing "The Mid-East Crisis" and its effect on the Atlantic Triangle, will be Dr. Norman Pennington.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the conference room of the Physics-Math building.

J. Folger, P. Young Get Posts

Bohlen Offered New Assignment

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower has decided to name new ambassadors to Belgium and the Netherlands as part of a continuing shakeup of diplomatic posts overseas, officials said Thursday.

It was also disclosed that Charles E. Bohlen, who has been ambassador to Russia for nearly four years, has been offered another diplomatic post by the Eisenhower administration.

Bohlen is under instructions to report to the State Department for consultation Feb. 21 presumably to discuss this new assignment.

Llewellyn Thompson, now American envoy to Austria, is reported in line to succeed Bohlen at Moscow.

Authorities said J. Clifford Folger, chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, will be appointed ambassador to Belgium, succeeding Frederick M. Alger, Alger, a political appointee from Grosse Pointe, has headed the American Embassy in Brussels since 1953.

Phillip Young, retiring chairman of the Civil Service Commission, is slated for the Netherlands. He would succeed H. Freeman Matthews, ambassador to the Netherlands since 1953. Matthews is in Washington for consultations but expects to fly back to the Hague before resigning.

Folger, a 60-year-old Washington, D.C., investment banker, has been Republican finance chairman since April, 1955. He is president of Folger, Nolan, Fleming, G. W. B. Hibbs brokerage house and also of the Cumberland Trust Co. of Knoxville, Tenn. He has no previous top-flight diplomatic experience.

The 46-year-old Young, who will go to the Netherlands, is a trade and business expert. He has worked for the government for 14 years under both the Democrats and Republicans.

A Republican, Young was named chairman of the three-member civil service commission as well as White House advisor on all government civilian personnel on March 23, 1953.

Bus Boycott Leader To Speak in Lansing

Dr. Martin Luther King, leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, will speak Sunday at 3 in the Lansing Civic Center. He will talk on the movement of non-violent protest of bus segregation made by the Montgomery Assn., of which he is president.

The address is sponsored by the Union Baptist Church and the Lansing Ministerial Alliance. Students wishing to attend the lecture may obtain rides at the YMCA house, 314 Evergreen, at 2:15.

Students to Discuss Regulation Revisions

Sunday a meeting will be held to discuss the student protests over existing housing and social regulations. Student leaders and University representatives will discuss what the problems are and what, if anything, can be done in those areas.

It has already been established that the basic four rules cannot, and will not, undergo any drastic revisions. No one really wants drastic revisions.

Students have indicated, though, that perhaps some adjustment could be made on the fringes of the rules.

What comes out of the meeting is not going to satisfy everyone. There will be those who will be unhappy if nothing concrete comes from the meeting while others will be unhappy if anything does come of the meeting.

Indications are that there are no such people in the groups which will meet Sunday. All are willing to talk in a sane, sensible manner about what the student body feels are some sensible complaints.

Perhaps nothing will happen. But even the ability to meet and discuss the problem is a positive step. Elsewhere there cannot even be discussion.

Student opinion has been high all week. Some of the complaints have been on the irrational side but most are serious and sincere. The presence among the opinions of students defending the administration indicates that this is perhaps more than just another student bitch session.

These are students who will look at both sides, as will those students and administrators who meet Sunday.

The students are not going into the meeting in an attempt to make policy for the university, or even to try and rewrite policy.

They do not consider this a bargaining session, as some have hinted. There is no air of bargaining attached to this recent outcry of student opinion. It is merely a grumble of dissatisfaction and an honest request to be allowed to air the grievances.

The administration, as stated, has firmly established that there will be no major changes. It does recognize, though, that there may be areas where some consideration may be given to liberalization or interpretation.

The students have asked for a chance to discuss the rules and that opportunity occurs Sunday. We are sure that any sensible student suggestions will produce some action, and maybe some of the desired alterations too.

U. S. Middle East Intention Debate Delayed

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

The United States and the Soviet Union found themselves on the same side of a United Nations vote again Thursday — this time in favor of a debate over American intentions in the Middle East.

Despite this unanticipated unanimity, the General Assembly's Steering Committee, created against an immediate debate, sidetracked Soviet charges at least for the time being.

A large number of delegates to the General Assembly have expressed irritation at Russia for insisting on trying to use them in a propaganda move while the Assembly is concerned with important matters of substance, such as Middle East.

Many are agreed, however, that the debate should come up later not only so that the United States can have the opportunity of answering the charges, but also to maintain a precedent for a similar consideration of charges brought by any nation.

By this means, the Assembly strengthens the position taken several years ago that it has the right to consider matters which it was originally thought, would be handled by the Security Council which has been hamstringed by Big Five veto rights.

Russia is charging that under the Eisenhower Plan the United States is attempting to intervene in the internal affairs of the Middle Eastern States and is preparing for an Atomic War.

Events of recent months have proved that Russian bases in Eastern Europe are maintained against the will of the peoples involved.

Everybody knows American bases abroad have been established through negotiations in which, in almost every case except Okinawa, she has paid through the nose for the privilege of defending other people as well as herself.

Russia is not going to convince anyone that the United States is fomenting war instead of trying to avoid it.

The UN delegates, most of them, therefore, resent having their time taken up with what they consider a pretty cheap Russian tactic.

Letters to the Editor

Added Regulation With Adulthood

To The Editor:

Concerning recent letters-to-the-editor carried in your paper on the subject of the present system for the regulation of coeds here on campus:

It seems to me, the writers of these letters and also the writer of the editorial from the Ohio State paper have forgotten one important thing—that adulthood does not mean freedom from all regulation.

It means, rather, greater regulation, due to greater responsibility. And if this greater regulation must be imposed by strict rules and a system, such as the present one, rather than by individual conscience, it is simply because many of the students here on campus are not adults.

I believe that the frequency with which this system is violated proves that. When I hear an under-age student boasting of a Friday night of TGIFing or another telling of a weekend spent doing anything but skiing on a forged permission for home, I place very little faith in the student's claim to adulthood and to his complaints of over-regulation.

A truly adult person would accept those restrictions, knowing they are also for his own good, and would try to abide by them. Not, perhaps, liking them, but understanding that in them is the acceptance of responsibility and understanding also that in regulation there is greater freedom than there is in lack of restraint.

Carolyn Schowengerdt

Student Voice

To The Editor:

During the past few weeks there has been considerable comment around the campus concerning student rules and regulations. This is as it should be, because without the free and open discussion of the rules which govern our society we tend to forget that we have a voice in the determination of those rules. It is for the purpose of representing our views that we send representatives to Student Government, AWS and IFC. Sometimes our own "blat" attitude prevents these people from accurately representing our views. This attitude arises because it is easier for us to set back and let "George do it" than to express our views when they occur.

Gripe sessions among five or six friends in the dormitory or house, or over coffee in the grill do little but solidify opinions formed without good background knowledge. Because of this current interest in local problems and the lack of real opportunity for the individual student to voice his opinion and to hear the opinions of the people who speak with authority, the Michigan State University Forensics Union with the cooperation of the Speech Department are sponsoring a series of weekly forum debates on local problems.

Sunday at 2:30 p.m. the first forum debate will be presented in 31 Union. The topic selected will be, "Are University Housing Regulations Adapted to Student Needs." At the close of the five-minute opening speeches by an administrative official, a Student Government officer, an IFC representative, an AWS representative, a State News reporter and an intercollegiate debater, the audience may ask questions they wish to on the subject. Prior to adjournment the audience will be permitted to select the subject for the following week's discussion.

I sincerely hope that this program meets with your approval. If you want to make your voice heard and make a real contribution to your representatives, may I urge you to take advantage of these programs. A clarification of the issues and an open discussion of viewpoints is the first step in solving a problem. Don't expect George to do it. Please come out Sunday afternoon and voice your opinion.

Joseph C. Rhea
Vice-president,
MSU Forensics Union

Work at Home

To The Editor:

In reference to your editorial on book banning in Detroit, again. Why are you so concerned with Detroit—got relatives there? Detroit can function without you.

You seem to dislike Detroit's policy of banning books but allowing those smutty "men's" magazines to be sold. Well, those same smutty "men's" magazines are being sold on every magazine rack in East Lansing. Why don't you attack the East Lansing Police instead? Why don't you get them to clean up these Lansing racks?

You live here, so do we. Don't tell us about Detroit when there's plenty of digging to do right here in East Lansing. If you're scared just clam up. If you're not then start your crusade for decency without chains, right here in town.

Ken Samoray

New Evidence Given in Grimes Killing

Investigator Says Girls Molested

Claims Findings Being Withheld

CHICAGO (AP)—The chief investigator for the Cook County coroner said Thursday the Grimes sisters were beaten before they died, and one of the sisters—perhaps both—were sexually molested.

These views are directly opposed to the findings of three pathologists who made extensive laboratory tests on the girls' bodies. They said the girls were not beaten or sexually abused.

Harry Glos, investigator for the coroner's office for five years and a policeman for 20 years before that, told newsmen that only half of the story has been told and I don't know why the other half has been withheld.

Dr. Jerry J. Kearns, one of the pathologists who studied the bodies, disputed Glos' statement. He questioned Glos' qualifications to reach such conclusions and reaffirmed that there was no indication of sexual molestation.

The Grimes sisters, Patricia, 13, and Barbara, 15, left their southwest side home on the night of Dec. 28 to go to a movie. Their nude bodies were found near a road near suburban Willow Springs on Jan. 22. Glos said he had investigated every angle of the case as deputy coroner and that he had drawn these conclusions:

1. The girls were beaten before their deaths.
2. Barbara, and perhaps Patricia, had been sexually molested. He said there is laboratory proof of this which has not yet been publicly disclosed by other authorities.
3. The girls were alive, or had been dead a very short time, before their nude bodies were dumped beside the road where they were found.
4. The bites on the girls' faces—which other investigators and three pathologists have said were rodent bites inflicted after death—were not rodent bites and were inflicted before the girls died.
5. The girls probably were dumped alongside the road either on the nights of Jan. 9, 10 or 11. He did not say how he arrived at these specific dates.

Cagers Seek Sixth Victory

By JOE HOFFMAN

Hoping to take another step toward the conference title, Michigan State plays host to an improved Iowa team Saturday night at 8 in a Big 10 basketball game at Jenison Fieldhouse.

The Spartans have won five straight and are in a third place tie with Illinois, one full game behind front-running Indiana and one-half game behind second place Ohio State.

If State defeats Iowa and receives some unexpected co-op-

Quigley will be trying for six in a row. Iowa also defeated Purdue in its last outing, 74-67, with a second half surge led by guards Clarence Wordlaw and Augie Martel. The Hawks won the game despite the absence of its leading scorer and rebounder, Tom Payne, who was recently declared ineligible for the second semester.

Payne's replacement is a 6'8" sophomore, Americus John-Lewis. John-Lewis hasn't seen too much action and has averaged only four points a game. But Coach Buck O'Connor said that with a little more experience "he'll be of great value to us."

Other Hawkeye starters in addition to Wordlaw, Martel and John-Lewis will probably be Dave Gunther and Frank Sebolt. Wordlaw is now the team's leading scorer with a 12.2 average, while Gunther is hitting 11.3 points per game.

The Iowa team is scheduled for a workout in the fieldhouse early this afternoon and will then participate in the Basketball Review tonight.

State's next game will be at Champaign Monday against Illinois. Both the Iowa and Illinois games will be broadcast over WLS and WKAR-FM.

Pistons Move To Motor City

DETROIT (AP) — The Fort Wayne Pistons Thursday switched their National Basketball Assn. franchise to Detroit, signing a six-year contract to play 22 nights a year at this city's Olympia Stadium.

The switch to Detroit will become effective next season. Fred Zollner, millionaire industrialist who owns the club, called the transaction "a great step forward in professional basketball."

The Pistons, currently leading the NBA's Western Division, Zollner said that Indiana town, with a population of about 137,000, is too small for a big league basketball team.

Varsity-Freshman Meet Scheduled by Tankers

With no Big 10 meet scheduled for the weekend, the Spartan tankers take to the water to stage their annual varsity-freshman meet in the Jenison Pool tonight at 7:30.

Coach Chuck McCaffree described the meet as one in which no team scores will be recorded and the teams are to consist of both varsity and freshman swimmers integrated together.

This competition is a preparation test for the Big 10 Championships slated for March. McCaffree stated, "We've added events we don't compete in dual meets with this purpose in mind."

The new events are the 200-yard medley relay instead of the 400, and 100-yard butterfly, 100-yard backstroke, 100-yard breaststroke and four relays. Competing in the 200-yard medley relay as such standouts as Don Nichols, Paul Reinke,

Michigan State's ice hockey team boasts a brother act in Ed and Bruno Pollesel, of Copper Cliff, Ontario, Canada.

IM Hi-Lights

Finals in the all-university badminton singles tournament will be held tonight at 7:30 in Jenison Gym.

Three games were played in the first round of the tournament. E. Shaw 3 bowled 230 to take high individual game honors. Joe Zambardo of Bailey 4 chalked up the highest individual series of 533 rolling games of 192, 179 and 167.

Foilers in Triangular Meet

Michigan State's fencing squad, undefeated in the first five matches of the season, will try for wins number six and seven when they duel Iowa and Michigan in a triangular meet on Saturday afternoon in Madison.

Leading swordsmen for State so far this year have been George Thomas and Darrold

McCalla in the sabre event. Thomas has been set back but once so far this fencing season, while McCalla has almost an equally fine record. Ed Hildebrand and Harold Simonds, foil, and Ed Kotlar and Warner Johnson in the epee are just a few of the hopeful participants of Coach Charles Schmitter.

ILA Strike Decisions Uncertain

Shippers Lose
$3 Million a Day

NEW YORK (AP) — On again, off again optimism marked peace talks in the three-day strike of 18,000 longshoremen from Maine to Virginia Thursday. The walkout drove the export of goods to Europe to a standstill and cost shippers an estimated $3 million a day.

The strike was called by the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) after a failed attempt to reach a new contract with the National Maritime Union (NMU).

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad reported to its 5,000 employees within the next five or six days because of the strike and the embargo on freight shipments to docks already crowded with unimpaired cargo. Rail sources said other lines probably will be forced to make similar sacrifices if the strike persists.

Negotiations were held Thursday between the two unions, but they failed to reach a new agreement. The ILA is demanding a 10 percent wage increase and a new pension plan.

The National Maritime Union, which represents the longshoremen, said the two sides were "not very far apart" in their demands.

The strike is the first in the history of the ILA and the NMU. It is the largest strike in the history of the maritime industry.

After about five hours of consideration, the union committee took a break, intending to resume later. The length of their deliberations, however, was a new batch of optimistic guesses that a settlement might be near.

The strike drove up the cost of shipping goods to Europe. It also caused a shortage of goods in Europe.

The strike is expected to last for several more days. It is a major test of the ILA's ability to win a new contract.
