Jordan's King Hussein Faces Dismissal

Pro-Soviet Sentiment Aroused

Dropping Nabuli Causes Eruption

CAIRO (AP)—The latest wave of trouble rolling over Jordan may be the beginning of the end of a dynasty Jordanians never have considered their own.

Reports breaking through heavy censorship indicated the immediate crisis is nearing its end, but everyone who knows Jordan admits King Hussein is dangerously close to losing his throne.

During the crisis he was cast in the role of coroner rather than champion of Arab nationalism. And he has taken a line in opposition to Egypt's President Nasser, still the greatest single hope for Jordan's street mobs.

A report from Hussein's palace Sunday on the suppression of troublemakers inside the army shows at least the army's loyalties have been divided. This was pointed up by a dispatch reporting Hussein had deported to Syria his youthful chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nawar.

The greatest threat to Hussein is not from the army, but from an explosive population numbering many embittered Palestine Arabs who blame the West for the loss of their homes when the state of Israel was created.

Palestinians contend Hussein's dynastic family, the Hashimites, were traitors and British stooges from the beginning.

When he sacked British Gen. John Bagot Glubb last year as commander of the army, Hussein was momentarily hailed by the mobs as a real Arab patriot.

When he tossed out the popular nationalist government of Sultan Nabduli last week, however, Hussein revived in the public mind memories of the Hashimites as tools of the Western powers. The dynasty does not command such fundamental loyalty of the people as, for instance, the Iranians give to their Shah.

Jordanian politicians generally have resented Hussein's determination to rule as well as reign. After Jordan annexed Arab Palestine in 1948, the constitution was revised to transform the country from a primitive absolute monarchy into a modern style constitutional monarchy.

Monitor to Broadcast Part of Vocal Concert

"Monitor," NBC's weekend radio service, will broadcast a portion of "The Big Sing," the four glee-club concert to be presented in the Aud April 26.

The Michigan State Men's Glee Club will be joined by the glee clubs from Wayne University and Lafayette College and by the United States Army Chorus. Tickets, priced at $1, are now on sale for the program at the Union Ticket Office.

Panel Sates Convo For Spring Rushes

A rush convocation will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Union ballroom for all coeds rushing this spring, according to Panel Hel. All coeds planning on rushing must attend. Spring rush lasts from April 22 to May 3.

The J-Day dance committee, (l. r.) Jane Crouch, Howie Elman, Nancy Proctor, Karen Tompsett and Karen Paulson, discuss plans for the big dance April 26, "Wakiki Sands" which features Kenny Davis and his orchestra.

English Emigrants Warned Of U. S. 'Dollar Scramble'

LONDON (AP)—British Bankers of emigrating to the United States were warned Sunday in a national newspaper to prepare for a frightening experience in a country where "landings goes in the dollar chase."

America was depicted as a land of bribery, "sneaking frankness" about sex and psychiatrists, "though fabulously generous and 'refining' in willingness to experiment with something new."

The report in "The People," Sunday newspaper with a circulation of 1 1/2 million, was written by Len Coulter, an Englishman who has lived in the United States for seven years.

"It's a fascinating country," he concluded in advising prospective emigrants to think twice before embarking for New York. "But for someone born and bred in Britain it is sometimes hard to take."

High wages in the United States, he claimed, were misleading.

"You see," he wrote, "the average working class husband in America is up to his ears in debt. Unless he buys things he cannot afford he loses social standing among his neighbors."

"Money is the measure of everything. So people swap jobs constantly in a frantic scramble for the extra dollar."

Coulter emphasized in his report home that New York was not typical of life throughout

An associate editor of the Henry Ford Junior College student newspaper, Miss Scanlon transferred to Michigan State this fall. She has worked for the State News since then as student government reporter, assistant night editor and night editor.

John Wade, Lansing sophomore, was named darkroom manager for Publications Row. He succeeds Betty Halberg, Lexington junior.

Summerfield To Get Boost Congress to Pass Bill Increasing Postal Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two congressional leaders Sunday agreed that a money bill to let the postman deliver mail again on Saturdays should whisk through Congress in practically no time at all.

Chairman Cannon (D-Va.) of the House Appropriations Committee said "I expect no difficulty" when the House Monday takes up the measure to give Postmaster General Summerfield another 41 million dollars.

And Sen. Robertson (D-Va.), head of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee which handles postal funds, raised the prospect of the Senate speedily sending the bill on to President Eisenhower—possibly by late Tuesday.

Summerfield is pushing Congress for 47 million dollars to keep postal services running for the remaining 2 1/2 months of the 1957 fiscal year.

When he didn't get the money before the weekend, he put in some sweeping cutbacks including closing of most post offices and elimination of home mail deliveries on Saturday.

Robertson, in an interview, said he believes the 41 millions will be enough to restore all services.

Comptroller General Campbell Saturday ruled that the Budget Bureau had violated the law which is aimed at making federal agencies portion out the spending evenly throughout the year so they won't ask Congress for supplemental funds. He said the Post Office Department, too, had violated the law "in spirit."

Robertson said if the House passes the 41-million-dollar supplemental Monday, as expected, he believes the Senate Appropriations Committee can act on it Tuesday in time for it to get to the Senate floor Tuesday afternoon.

Seven Suspended For Participating In Basketball Riot

Seven male MSU students were suspended from school for a term for taking part in the riot following State's cage upset victory over Kentucky March 16, according to a recent announcement from the dean of students' office.

Others involved in the fracas included five men and five coeds who were placed on disciplinary probation for an indefinite period.

According to Tom King, dean of students, the great majority of male transgressors were freshmen.

Dean King said, "If such an incident should occur in the future stringent measures will be taken to correct the situation."

He further commented, "Students must conduct themselves in a mature manner, for bad behavior places the entire institution in a precarious position."

Mystery Guest Arrives Today

'Oscar' Named Water Carnival Theme

By AUDREY MACKNESH

His train arrived last night. The purpose of his visit - to act as the theme for Water Carnival, which will be held June 6, 7 and 8. What all his plans are until he is properly introduced to society at Water Carnival, he did not disclose.

But he did promise Nancy Toben, Lansing senior, who invited him here, that he would keep the campus well informed on what he does.

The name of our visitor is OSCAR.

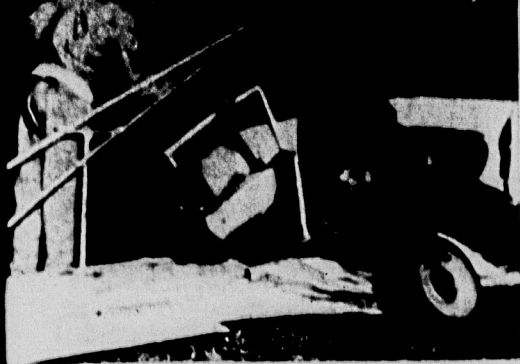

After resting up from his long journey, he looked into the past history of this annual event, which is sponsored by the senior class. He found that "Monitor," "Songs of Our Times," and "The World We Inhibit," were some of the themes which had visited MSU before him.

Oscar's first proclamation, after due deliberation, was that all floats would bear the name of a movie title that either won an academy award, or who had a member in the cast that won the award.

And it just so happens, by strange coincidence, that each of these films received a prize named after our distinguished guest.

The second thing Oscar decided to do was pair up campus living units and give them a movie title. Following is the list of living units he decided upon. But Oscar was very reluctant to give out the name of the ac-

Misses Runway Plane Crash Injures 3 Persons Sunday

Three persons were injured when their single engine aircraft missed the runway at the Grand Ledge Airport Sunday night at 7:15, according to the State Police.

Those injured were: pilot Roy E. Jones, 39, of Grand Ledge, who suffered a possible brain concussion, broken ribs and wrists and shock.

His daughter, Peggy Ann, 5, suffering from gasoline burns and a possible brain concussion.

The other passenger, Edward Pratt, 11, of Lansing, received lacerations and multiple bruises.

Jones had taken the children for a pleasure cruise when his plane overshot the landing strip and plunged into a nearby field.

The trio was taken to St. Lawrence Hospital for treatment.

At the time the State Police were unable to comment further upon the cause of the plane accident.

Activities Carny Opens Petitioning For Top Posts

Petitioning for committee chairmen for Activities Carnival will be held today through Friday, according to co-chairman Carolyn Shattuck, Birmingham junior.

Petitions may be filled out and turned in at the Union desk in the concourse. Chairmen are needed for the following committees: publicity, programs, theme, organization, entertainment, and correspondence, plus a treasurer and secretary.

The only qualification necessary for petitioning is a two-point all-university average. Because Activities Carnival will be held during the first week of classes next fall, all of the committee work must be completed this term.

Activities Carnival will be held October 3 in the Mackinac Stadium concourse. It is an all-university event which gives students an opportunity to become acquainted with the various clubs and organizations on campus. It is sponsored by Men's Union and AWS.

O'Hara to Speak On TV Tonight

John O'Hara, author of the controversial novel "Ten North Frederick" will be featured guest on the live NBC broadcast carried by WKAR-TV tonight at 8:30.

O'Hara will be interviewed on the program "Literature: the D. Van Nostrum of Brown University" by Dr. Albert

They will consider books and movies in contemporary society as they effect the individual. Special emphasis will be on O'Hara's "Appointment in Samara."

Instruction Directors Hold Kellogg Meeting

The first meeting of the directors of instruction for Michigan secondary and elementary schools will be held at Kellogg today and Tuesday.

The directors will discuss improvement of teaching personnel, planning instructional publications, and the contributions of citizens to curriculum development.

UMOC Campaign Underway

Coed Units Pick Male Candidates

By MITZI KENT

Once a year coeds hold the strings at colleges throughout the country when women's living units elect male candidates to represent them in the Ugliest Man on Campus contest.

Campaigning, which begins today for the ugliest man, will include posters, skits, pep rallies, discussions and radio announcements. Caricatures, slogans, and applications are to be turned in 8 a.m.-10 p.m. today to APO organizations room 2, third floor Union.

According to the rules established for this year's contest all living units will submit the name of their candidate to UMOC President Chuck Leider, Howard, N.D. senior. These names will appear on ballots in the State News, April 23-25.

Students may cast as many votes as they have State News ballots for candidates whose names appear in the paper. From these candidates, 10 finalists will be chosen to compete for the title of the Ugliest Man on Campus.

The winner of the contest will be announced at the Ugliest Man on Campus Dance to be held April 27-9-12, at Kellogg Center. At 10:30 during intermission, the 10 candidates will be introduced by Tom King, dean of students, an honorary APO member. He will then introduce Kathy Arnold, Miss MST, who will crown the winner. She will also award a plaque to the women's living unit which nominated the winning candidate.

The man named the Ugliest Man on Campus will receive a key in the form of the ugliest head and a plaque with pictured entries of past UMOC winners.

Dance tickets are now on sale in the Union ticket office for $2.50 a couple. The affair is dressy. The Cappo Orchestra, directed by Dick Shook will provide music for the evening.

Library Assistant To Attend Convo

James E. Skipper, assistant librarian, will attend Western Reserve University's National Symposium on Systems for Information Retrieval to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, today through Wednesday.

This will be the nation's first comprehensive demonstration of systems now in use for organization, storage and retrieval of recorded information as well as information-handling problems and techniques.

Economic Integration Caribbean Areas Move Toward Unity

Two important moves in the direction of integration of small political units in the Caribbean are under way. Each of the moves promises to have far-reaching effects in an area in which the United States has large and vital economic and political interests.

The Central American republics have taken an important step in creating what eventually will become a common market. A committee of these countries, including Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras and Costa Rica, met recently in San Jose, Costa Rica, to discuss the possibility of a common market.

The British West Indies Federation has taken a similar step. The federation, which includes Barbados, Antigua, Montserrat, Dominica, Grenada, St. Vincent and the Grenadines, and St. Lucia, met recently in St. Vincent to discuss the possibility of a common market.

Beck Fights to Hold Position

Teamster Conference To Decide

Union Charged With Corruption

CALESTON, (P) — Fiery Teamsters President Dave Beck, due here Monday for a closed-door conference with the union's executive board, faces the first round of his battle to remain kingpin of the giant labor organization.

The focus of the conference agenda presumably is whether the union will accept a settlement from the AFL-CIO to a May 8 hearing on corruption charges against the Teamsters.

Beck is reported to be insisting that the union study the hearing even if it means the Teamsters are kicked out of the national confederate. Other top union officials are reported to be urging that Teamsters appear before the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee.

Beck, who invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times when Senate probes accused him of putting $570,000 of union funds to his own use, faces another session before the Congressional Committee.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said last week that in the light of new unconvincing evidence it is highly probable Beck will be called back at some future time. The Senator did not reveal the new evidence nor the time of the next hearing.

The 62-year-old Teamsters' chief will also have to deal with apparent growing opposition to him within the union itself. After the Senate charges, some local leaders pledged to him their full support.

The split over the Senate charges and the course the union should take as to the AFL-CIO investigation may be an important factor when Beck faces reelection at the union's September convention.

Sitting around the conference table in Parlor C of the Calver Hotel in this seaside resort city when the 13-member executive committee meets Tuesday will be several possible successors to Beck as the Teamsters' chief.

Some of the regional vice-presidents, who are virtually autonomous in their own territories, are reported by some observers to carry as much if not more influence within the union than does Beck.

Some of the top officials due here are also having their own troubles. James R. Hoffa, the union's midwest kingpin, is under indictment charged with being a member of the McClellan committee's staff to find out what evidence would be presented.

Delegates to the United Auto Workers 16th convention in Atlantic City, N.J., hail UAW President Walter P. Reuther to their shoulder during a demonstration last Wednesday prior to Reuther's reelection to his seventh term as head of the union, which has a million and a half members.

McClellan Forecasts Possible Labor Reforms

WASHINGTON, (P) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said Sunday the special Senate committee investigating racketeering in the labor-management field may push for reform legislation at this session of Congress.

McClellan told a newsmen luncheon committee, which he heads, already has more than a year's work ahead of it. But he said the group may decide to submit more legislative recommendations before completing its investigations.

The committee will resume public hearings Tuesday with testimony about what McClellan described as the use of "gun squad" violence by labor union officials in the Scranton, Pa., area.

Its first round of hearings dealt with affairs of the giant Teamsters Union and was highlighted by the refusal of Dave Beck, the union president, to say whether he had used union funds for his own enrichment.

Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination.

McClellan said it would take five years to investigate all the complaints that have been received by the committee, set up

Propaganda Slash Disappoints Ike

Appropriations Committee Calls for 26 Per Cent Cut

WASHINGTON, (P) — President Eisenhower views with "deep concern" the prospect of a big funds cut in U.S. propaganda activities. He says there is actually a "pressing need" to expand this work in many parts of the world.

But Rep. Rooney (D-N.Y.), chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, figures the American taxpayer hasn't been getting his money's worth in the way the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) has been run.

The outcome so far, the Appropriations committee has approved for a House vote this week a USIA money bill for the new fiscal year starting July 1 that has been slashed 26 per cent below Eisenhower's request.

At 106 million dollars, the measure is 38 millions short of the Eisenhower budget and 7 millions under what USIA got last year.

Eisenhower's and Rooney's conflicting views were made public Sunday in an exchange of letters released by Rooney. Rooney read the Eisenhower letter to a closed committee session Friday, just before the group sustained the subcommittee cut.

Eisenhower's letter, dated April 9, said: "I must express my deep concern over the possibility of a slash in this budget."

The President called the USIA budget "of critical importance" because he said "impressively, in key areas of the world, America's voice of truth must become more clearly heard."

"There is pressing need for expansion of our informational functions in the Near East, Africa and the Far East. . .," Eisenhower wrote.

British Offer 12 Awards to Grads

The British Government is offering 12 Marshall scholarships to U.S. grad students.

Students of either sex who are citizens of the U.S. are eligible for the annual awards. Candidates must be under 28 years of age on October 1, 1957, and must be graduates of a U.S. degree-granting college or university.

Information as to procedures for application may be obtained from the office of Dean Dugood, 117 Merrill Hall. It is recommended that preliminary inquiries be made not later than May.

U. S. Ambassador Meets Nasser for Canal Talks

CAIRO, (P) — U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare met President Nasser for one hour Sunday. It was their third meeting within a month in negotiations on the Suez Canal, which appeared to be making little progress.

Despite talk of negotiations by Nasser, Arabians' sources said the Americans have little hope of achieving any major changes in the Egyptian position.

Egyptian sources insist Nasser has made no real concession and feels he will not have to make any. Nasser was described as feeling sure he has won the fundamental question of sole Egyptian operation and control.

The American Egyptian talks have continued for two sessions. The American hope is to cut the West Bank of the canal at least major concession from Nasser.

Nasser, however, continues the talks to give the appearance of being conciliatory and keeping the door open.

The canal is being opened to an ever increasing volume of shipping.

The Egyptians believe the canal more matter or later will be most to the use of Egyptian control and the whole price will be forgotten.

The United States may persuade the Egyptians to move their forthcoming canal operation to an international treaty. The Egyptians are willing, provided some formula is worked out to prevent Soviet tampering.

The canal is being opened to an ever increasing volume of shipping.

Regular Play Starts Tuesday

Nats, Orioles Begin Season

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Baltimore and Washington, a pair of 100 to 1 shots, get the jump on the rest of the major league clubs today with a special opening day at Griffith Stadium, where the first day's play will start at 10:30 a. m.

The annual business of selling through the field to the press. The New York Yankees, reported in the World Series to be in the lead, Tuesday with a full schedule of eight games in the first inning.

With Mickey Mantle and Alex Berra in good health and a tilt stacked roster, the Yanks are expected to skewer it in the American perhaps easier than last year. They are dissenters, at least notably the managers of the contenders, but the odds-makers in Las Vegas have made Casey Stengel's perennial champs a 2 to 1 favorite.

challenging. A long, distant threat from St. Louis, if Fred the Birdman comes up with some solid pitching, just about sums up the National. Pittsburgh may be peppy, and the Phillies tough to score on but pinch-hits.

If the expected throng of 28,000 shows up at Washington to watch the warm-up for ball signing, the two-day opening program probably will draw over 25,000. Much depends on the weather, of course, for the Phillies, opening at home against Brooklyn, are daring the elements with a night game Tuesday.

Pittsburgh's fine spring showing of last year is reflected in the estimate of a crowd of 36,000 to watch the Pirates play the New York Giants. This could be the largest of the Tuesday schedule.

As happens every other year, Washington stages the opening diamond show a day ahead of the other clubs. And this time the Orioles get their second chance to share the limelight since moving to Baltimore from St. Louis in 1954.

Manager Charles Dressen of the Senators tabbed Bob Chakales for the coveted opening day pitching assignment. For Chakales, a 29-year-old right hander, starting any kind of a game is almost unique. He worked 43 last year, but all except one in relief. He won 4 and lost 2.

Healer Harold (Skinny) Brown, a 32-year-old knuckleball exponent, was Manager Paul Richard's choice to try for the Orioles' first opening day triumph.

Chakales and Brown notwithstanding, the pitcher of prominence will be the 66-year-old righthander up from the White House.

Eisenhower has hurled the season under way from his first traveling box, each of the last four seasons, although he needed a postponement to get back in time from a golfing vacation his first year in office.

Before they let go at each other, the Senators and Orioles will scramble to retrieve the pitch and earn a Presidential handshake. The ball, presented by Spalding for the majors since 1876, is then to be shipped to the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Kubek Official Yankee

NEW YORK (AP) Tony Kubek, the rookie outfielder who has been out-landing in spring training Sunday officially became a member of the New York Yankees when his contract was purchased.

Kubek, a left-handed batter, hit .331 at Denver last year where he was a shortstop. Manager Casey Stengel has used Kubek in center and left field during the exhibition games. After an impressive start, Kubek's average has slipped in recent games and he was batting .267 before Sunday's game with Brooklyn.

Frothers Beat Stars

DENVER (AP) The Harlem Globetrotters defeated the College All-Stars 30-60 Sunday for their 13th victory in 15 starts on their nationwide basketball series.

Despite the presence of All-American Lemmie Rosenbluth of North Carolina and Chet Forte of Columbia, the All-Stars couldn't overcome the Globetrotters, who resorted to their fancy tactics in the final minute.

Robinson In Shape

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) Sugar Ray Robinson boxed four rounds Sunday in preparation for his May 1 title clash with Middleweight Champion Gene Fullmer in Chicago and announced afterward that he "never felt better in advance of a fight."

Robinson, who brought his total of practice rounds to 46 Sunday, said that his hard work has made him feel like 21 again.

Leonard Wins Open

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) Stan Leonard, 40-year-old Canadian with 17 years professional experience, ditched four holes in a row on the front nine Sunday and held on for a three-stroke victory in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Leonard, playing from Lachute, Canada, finished with a one under par 69 for a 72-hole total of 276, four under par, and a three-stroke edge over Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.

WALT KOWALCZYK ART JOHNSON Score scrimmage touchdowns with long runs...

No Increase in Injuries Kowalczyk Shines In Grid Scrimmage

Walt Kowalczyk started off Saturday's scrimmage in Macklin Stadium by breaking away for 80 yards on the first play, continuing his sharp play of the young spring season.

With shadow at right half, Art Johnson, also scored while running with the second unit. Trackman Doug McFetter also scored on a 40 yard breakaway.

The scouting team worked against the first three teams, using the system expected from Indiana in the opener next fall.

The quarterback stands up close to the center as in the I but slightly to the right so the fullback is snapped back to the left halfback.

The I-formation team physician reported only a few minor injuries. Tom Swanson, Charles freshman, suffered a bruise to his left hand. Andrew Brusko, fullback, received a minor head injury. Halfback Terry Pursel sprained his left ankle. Marcus Cisco also suffered a bruised hand.

There was no change in the lineup. Nimoska worked at quarterback, Kowalczyk and Branch Martin at fullback, Don Gilbert at full, Tony Kowalski and Dave Kaiser were the ends. Arch Matoss and Ellison Kelly the guards. Les Hurdledge and Joe Carruthers at the tackles and Don Berger filled the center post.

Rookie Simmons, Mackell Foil Canadiens' Sweep

BOSTON (AP) — Boston edged Montreal 2-0 on rookie goalie Don Simmons' second Stanley Cup shutout Sunday night to keep alive its faint hopes for hockey's top prize.

Two goals by Fleming Mackell helped atop Montreal's try for a four game sweep of the series.

Exhibitions Close With Tight Tilts Brooks Nip Yanks Tigers Tip Pirates

By the Associated Press. Just by way of showing the New York Yankees they aren't quite supermen, the Brooklyn Dodgers edged the World Champions yesterday, 2-1, with Johnny Londer, hurling four scoreless innings.

They couldn't touch Postes and the left-hander thus ran his string of scoreless innings against them to 21, starting with the last two innings of the third game of the 1955 World Series.

Carl Furillo's single with Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider on base in the third inning provided the Brook runs.

In other action, Detroit turned back Pittsburgh, 1-3, in Charleston, W. Va. Philadelphia topped Boston, 4-2, at Boston. Cleveland edged Milwaukee, 5-4 at Milwaukee. The Chicago Cubs defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, at Chicago. The New York Giants nipped Baltimore, 6-5, at Baltimore. St. Louis and Kansas City split a doubleheader, the Cards winning the first, 7-3, and the A's the second, 1-0, at St. Louis, and Cincinnati stopped Louisville of the American Association, 4-3, at Louisville.

Jim Fingon hit a two-run homer and Bill Tuttle knocked in the other two runs with a double in the Tiger's conquest of the Pirates. The Phillies had to put down a Red Sox uprising in the ninth to preserve their victory.

The Giant's victory, too, was close. Bill Taylor made it come true when he came up in the 11th as a pinch hitter and smote an inside-the-park homer.

At Smith's three-run homer provided the impetus for Cleveland's decision over Milwaukee, while rookies Bob Will and Casey Wise knocked in three runs between them in the Cubs victory over the White Sox.

8-2 Win Hurlled by Perranoski

U of D Errors Aid Spartans in Snow

By BILL KEOUGH
Michigan State's Spartans, behind the fine pitching of Ron Perranoski and Norm Creamer, blitzed a fumbling U of D ball club 8-2 Saturday in an error fest which was called after four and a half innings in a blizzard.

A scant crowd of shivering onlookers were on hand for the season opener at Old College Field, to watch Coach John Kobs' bustling nine bang out six singles, as Detroit loaded the ball for seven errors.

The Spartans scored their first two runs in the first inning, after loading the bases when Dennis Mendyk knocked a grounder to the Detroit shortstop, who fumbled the ball for a two-run error.

The Spartans really warmed up in the second inning despite the near freezing temperatures and snow, as they put together four hits and four errors to score their remaining six runs. The keystone contribution of Gary Warner and Jerry Korwek each collected two RBIs as the team batted around in the inning.

In the pitching department Ron Perranoski allowed only one hit in three innings, while striking out three and walking one, to pick up the win. Sophomore rookie Norm Creamer came on to relieve him in the fourth, and after striking out the first two men he faced, went on to give up only two hits in the two innings he pitched.

Light snow fell throughout the entire game, and finally in the fifth inning it came on so heavily that second base was invisible from home plate. The umpires said that the scheduled seven-inning contest would be accorded an official game, as four and a half were completed.

State's hits were well distributed with Ted Keatly collecting two, John Russell one, Dick McKenzie one, Gary Warner one, and Jerry Korwek one.

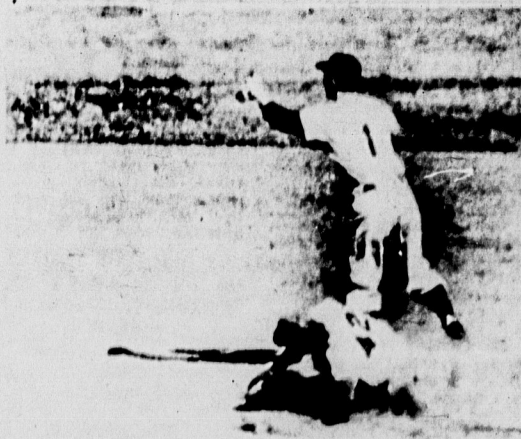

The Spartans fielded well all afternoon, and right fielder John Russell made the only error for the team in the last half-inning of play.

Detroit's two runs came in the first of the fifth. Creamer hit the first batter, then got Detroit's pitcher, O'Donnell to fly out to left field. The next batter hit a sharp single to Russell in right field, who couldn't find the handle on the ball, and the run scored.

Another single by Detroit second baseman Ed Coyle brought in another run, and Spartan almost stop Jerry Korwek finally ended the rally by spearing a line drive off the bat of Detroit's lead off man, John Oles, to rob him of a single and end the game.

The Spartans had the situation well in hand the entire game. It was quite evident that the seasoning they gained on their southern road-trip gave them an advantage over the less practiced Detroit club.

Coach Kobs kept an outdoor charcoal grill burning in the dugout throughout the game to warm up chilled players.

Spartans Capture First Five Places

The Spartans walked away with all honors in a pistol match with Purdue Saturday. Firing the special course used in national competition, the State shooters took five of the first six places in all categories.

The match consisted of two courses, one ten shots in ten seconds each, 150 "time-fire" targets, ten shots in forty seconds on each, and two "rapid fire" targets, also ten shots on each, but only twenty seconds per target.

Finally, the regular NRA course was fired which consisted of one "rapid fire" target. The latter course decided the team match, which the Spartans won 1323 to 1269 for Purdue.

The high individual scores for both courses were fired by Sanford Mead of MSU, who shot a 253 on the NRA course, and had an aggregate total of 21.

Following Mead in scores were Jim Flannery (Greg Maraca), Jim Robertson, Chuck McCord, and Bill Harlan, only Purdue member to place. Their respective aggregate totals are as follows: 214, 203, 276, 282 and 281.

Today marks the beginning of major league diamond action for 1957, as the Washington Senators take on the Baltimore Orioles in the season opener. See story page 4.

Standing Score Breaks Tie

Rifle Team Finishes Third In Final Conference Ratings

The Spartan rifle team returned from Iowa City Sunday with a respectable third place in the final standings of the Western Intercollegiate Rifle Conference.

The U of M team took top honors in the meet with a season total of 2,829 points which won the Russell Wiles Trophy and the Emmett Swanson Trophy. The University of Illinois was second with 2,825. The Spartans tied the Buckeyes of Ohio State with a 2,804 total.

The tie was broken by rating the teams according to the score made firing from the standing position. This put the Spartans third, ahead of the Buckys.

Dick Cregar led the team with a 570 score. Jim Russell had a 568, Al Smith had 565, Dick Forrest scored a 555 and Phil Rhine racked up a 548. The best possible score is 600.

In the individual standings Al Smith was the only Spartan to place in the top 10. He was fifth with a season total of 1,681.

Gymnasts Edged in AAU Tilt

Last Saturday a large crowd viewed the fourth Michigan AAU gymnastics meet at Jackson Fieldhouse.

A total of 122 participants took part in the five divisions which included high school, junior girls, junior boys, senior men and senior girls.

In the high school division Angela was the victor. The Detroit Turners walked off with a first place in the junior girls section.

The junior boys division was topped by Kalamazoo YMCA. Central Michigan proved to be too much for the Spartan gymnasts as they won first place.

In the senior girls division, State was victorious in all events but because of lack of depth was edged out of first place by Flint Junior College.

The Spartans top performer in the senior girls division was Elizabeth Russell who topped all four events she entered. She won firsts in free exercise, tumbling beam, side horse vault and tumbling.

Miss Russell's performance earned her the highest score of the meet. A repeat showing in the NCAA May 3-4 at Chicago would bring her a top ranking.

State's other entrant in the senior girls was Mary Lou Van Patten who won a first on the trampoline and placed third in the side horse vault.

Gymnastics Coach George Szypula commented that the other top performers were Stan Tachibana, Sparline Vitellio and Al Stahl.

Tachibana, a Michigan State freshman, won both bars with a double flip and placed third in the flying rings.

Miss Vitellio, who hails from Jackson, won free exercise and tumbling in the junior girls division even though she is only 12 years old.

Stahl, a freshman from the U of M, turned in a fine performance by copping five firsts.

Winning lifts for the Michigan State team were Tim Olson, Jim Van Vleet and Dick Becker. Coach Szypula said, "The MNC people did a creditable job and judging from the interest it looks like gymnastics is picking up."

The members of Michigan State's 1957 wrestling team will launch their season this week being practice of the same when practice begins.

Paper Labels Them Inadequate Britain Blasts U. S. Weapons

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express said Sunday Britain has decided that U.S. ground-to-air missiles are not good enough to defend air bases and nuclear bases during the summer.

The Express said Britain has turned down a U.S. proposal that the missiles be used to guard U.S. air bases and bomb dumps. The defense chiefs insisted that all the missiles be under one command.

Once the U.S. missiles were installed, it might be difficult ever to replace them with British ones, which will be superior to U.S. weapons against bomber attacks.

The move might tempt the government to cut research on British missiles to save money.

which could make Britain permanently dependent on America for air defense.

There was no immediate comment on the story in the independent newspaper.

The story said British defense experts also regarded the U.S. missile radar system as inferior to a British counterpart.

The cost of the decision will be heavy, the Express said.

The U.S. missiles operate on a different radar system from that of the British ones, which will be installed to defend Royal Air Force airfields and bomb dumps. The defense chiefs insisted that all the missiles be under one command.

Omicron Nu Initiates 20 Honorary Presents 8 Awards

Eight honor awards were presented and 20 members were initiated into Omicron Nu at the 6th annual Home Economics Honors' Night last Thursday.

Dr. Thelma Porter, dean of the College of Home Economics, presented the awards to the following students:

Irene Schiele, Grosse Pointe, received the Ellen E. Judson award, given each year to the student attaining the highest and best standing in clothing courses at the close of her sophomore year.

Janet Widmayer, Chelsea, was presented with the Marjorie Judson award. This scholarship is awarded to the student attaining the highest and best standing in foods and nutrition courses at the end of her sophomore year.

Margaret Keeley, Franklin, was granted the Bayha award. It is given to the home economics student who, at the close of her junior year, has shown unusual ability in the clothing field, has a high scholastic standing and is partially or wholly self-supporting.

Janet Doranite, Freeland, was given the Campbell award which is awarded each year to the F.H. Club or rural student in the College of Home Economics, who at the close of her junior year has the highest scholastic standing.

The Zonta award was given to Marilyn Nemceck, Capac. The Zonta club of Lansing awards this fund to the girl in home economics who at the close of her junior year has attained the highest standing among those who are earning their own maintenance while in school.

Katherine Allington, Saginaw, received the Snyder Cup. The cup is awarded to the sophomore student in the College of Home Economics who has made the best record in scholarship during the freshman year.

The Elizabeth I. French award was given to Kristin Kaestner, Bridgeport, Conn. The annual award is presented to a student who in the opinion of the Dean has the attributes necessary to combine the duties of homemaking and civic responsibilities in a well rounded program.

Irene Schiele also received the J. W. Knapp Co. award. This tuition scholarship for one year is awarded to a retailing junior for her high scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, interest in retailing as a career and personality.

Following the presentation of the awards 20 students were named as new initiates of Omicron Nu, the national home economics honor society. They include:

Ellen Dowling, Detroit; Lois Jacobson, Niles; Donna Benson, Lansing; Diane Dailey, Flint; Kris Kaestner, Bridgeport, Conn.; Diane Katalin, Rochester, N.Y.; Pat Kelley, Utica; and Lyn Laake, Elmhurst, Ill.

Other initiates are Cathy O'Hearn, Buffalo, N.Y.; Janet Reising, Beaver, Pa.; Nina Rhines, Grand Blanc; Diane Rybski and Georgia Bassett, Chicago; Irene Schiele, Grosse Pointe; and Margaret Thar, Decatur.

Marna Ban, East Lansing; Janet Widmayer, Chelsea; Marlene Upright, Lansing; Nancy Boyd, Jackson; and Margaret Dowey, Inkster, also were initiated.
