Ike Outlines Reductions For Budget

Letter to Rayburn Expresses Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, whose budget for next year has been a target of criticism, Thursday outlined a method of cutting appropriations by $1,858,000,000.

He "recommended" specific reductions totaling 1,342,000,000 and told the House it might wish to consider postponing an additional 516 million in spending authority requested for many procurement and production.

He said there can be no substantial reduction in his actual spending budget of nearly 72 billion dollars for the fiscal year starting July 1 unless Congress "revises or repeals the governing laws." He stressed a distinction between spending in a particular year and appropriations or spending authorizations, which may call for expenditures over a period of years.

One third of the actual spending forecast in fiscal 1958, he said, will be done under measures voted by previous Congresses.

Eisenhower put his ideas in a letter to House Speaker Rayburn D-Tex., last month the House adopted a resolution asserting the public interest requires "a substantial reduction" in the 1958 budget and asking the President where cuts could be made.

So far the House has slashed 14 billion from the budget requests, and more cuts are in prospect.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey quickly threw his support behind the President's proposals.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Industrial Conference Board in New York, Humphrey said "the President's position not only guards the nation against ill-considered or dangerous slashing of the budget but it also points the way to well-considered steps toward holding future federal spending down."

"Controlling the upward march of total government spending is of the greatest importance to us all."

"The proven principles set forth in the President's letter will serve both our national security and the people's best interest. They deserve the full support of every American."

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, commented that he feels the President's plan "is too modest but it is a long step in the right direction."

"I will continue to press for further cuts along the line I have previously announced," Bridges added in a statement. He holds that the budget can be safely cut by $3,300,000,000.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Italy Threatens Trade Boycott

ROME (AP)—Italy has threatened Egypt with a trade boycott unless Cairo backs down on its demand for payment in cash by Italian ships using the Suez Canal. Previously, under treaty agreement between the two countries, canal charges against Italian ships were deducted from Egypt's trade deficit debt to Italy, which runs $62 million dollars a year.

Darkness Halts Rescue Workers

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Darkness halted efforts Thursday night to locate nine men missing since an offshore oil drilling barge capsized in the Gulf of Mexico near the mouth of the Mississippi River. The coast guard said none of the missing was located Thursday by divers probing the capsized barge.

French Transport Strike Ends

PARIS (AP)—The 48-hour French transport strike ended just after midnight today. It had provoked only one brief flare of violence. Early morning trains began to roll on schedule and subway workers reported for duty on maintenance jobs. Night buses resumed operations.

USSR Tests Nuclear Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced Thursday that the Russians have set off another nuclear explosion in Central Asia. It was the fifth nuclear explosion detected in the USSR since April 3.

Racket Probers Quiz FBI

Bettendorf Explanation Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rackets probers Thursday called for an explanation of why a manufacturer, who allegedly made payoffs to Teamster Union officials, was not indicted, although the Union men were.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the investigating committee said he has asked the FBI for some explanation of the case. The manufacturer was named as Edward P. Bettendorf of Sandston, Va., near Richmond.

However, Bettendorf told newsmen "the only settlement we made with the Union was aboveboard." He said "we were forced to pay" in order to get truck into the Toboyanna Signal Corps depot which was under construction at the time near Scranton, Pa.

Thursday's witnesses included two union business agents from Scranton, accused of accepting $1,200 from Bettendorf, and a third Teamster leader similarly charged with extortion.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) asked one of Thursday's witnesses whether Bettendorf was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury which accused McHugh and Robert Malloy, another business agent.

McHugh said Bettendorf had not been indicted. The Virginia manufacturer was supplying warehouse pallets to the Toboyanna Signal Corps depot which was under construction near Scranton in 1953-54 when the payoffs were said to have been made.

I'm astonished that the courts have not indicted the man who is alleged to have paid the money," McNamara said, addressing the remark half to McHugh and half to McClellan.

McClellan replied that the committee staff has started an investigation of that question and "has called on the FBI to give us some explanation."

Although Bettendorf was listed in committee records as of Sandston, Va., it developed that he now lives at Texarkana, Ark. He told newsmen there that the only way a truck could enter the Toboyanna depot was by paying the Union. He said the FBI "understands this case 100 per cent and known about this case for two years."

That was the only questioning on the payoff charges, although McHugh had been mentioned by the committee's star witness, former Teamster Paul Bradshaw, in connection with "a fellow named Bettendorf."

Bradshaw told the committee Tuesday that a man who identified himself as Bettendorf had telephoned him and offered Bradshaw $200 a week if he would let trucks carrying Bettendorf's products enter the Toboyanna project without having to carry an extra driver from the Scranton Teamsters local.

University Heads Blast Budget Cuts

Williams Also Raps Proposals

Governor Calls Budget 'Incredible'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams Thursday called Republican budget proposals "incredible" and said they would deal a "body blow" to higher education.

The Democratic governor ripped into the GOP spending blueprint point by point and said the Republicans "appear to have reacted in angry reprisal" against the people's mandate in the April 1 election.

The Republican budget, submitted in the Legislature in the form of appropriation bills Thursday afternoon, amounted to a reduction of 82 million dollars from the Governor's recommendations.

"We are making detailed studies of the damage embodied in this Republican budget," Williams said, "but it is clear from a preliminary examination that they propose to go backward instead of forward in nearly every important area of state services."

"He said the cuts in his proposed expenditures for college and university operations would prevent them from maintaining present standards, let alone meet the demands of rising enrollments."

Presidents Call Move 'Backward'

Hannah 'Shocked' With Reductions

By LYNN SHEPARD

State News Capitol Reporter
Presidents John A. Hannah of MSU and Harlan Hatcher of the University of Michigan joined forces Thursday to denounce Republican budget cuts in education appropriations.

Their statements were released soon after the Senate Appropriations Committee and House Ways and Means Committee proposed the general fund budget of $24,190,720 for MSU and $29,761,000 for the U of M. Both universities heads claimed the Legislature's move would be a "backward" step.

The statement issued by Dr. Hannah made the following comments:

"I am shocked by the action of the Senate Appropriations Committee in recommending appropriations which would fall so far short of meeting even the minimum needs of Michigan State University in the coming year."

Dr. Hannah continued that "the bill proposes to grant exactly the same amounts available for (the agricultural) agencies and would make no allowance for increased costs."

The Hatcher remarks, concerning the U of M situation, were based on the same reasoning.

"The appropriations for operations as introduced in the Senate," said Hatcher, "are inadequate for even the university's minimum needs. It would not only handicap the university, it would force us backwards."

Hatcher also stressed the difficulty in providing new and needed faculty, adjusting deserved salary raises and continuing the urgent building program.

The Hatcher release, supporting the Hatcher objections, added: "I cannot believe that (material) reductions in services to the taxpayers) to be the intention of the Legislature."

In his concluding words, Hatcher had said, "The proposed budget cannot be endorsed, and every effort must be made to increase it substantially. I urge the Legislature to reconsider its responsibility in this matter."

Dr. Hannah stated that the budget cut matter would be considered by the State Board of Agriculture today.

Will Take Action Wednesday

IFC Assembly Votes To Table 'Law' Change

By JEAN MEMANUS

The IFC Presidents' Assembly voted Thursday night to table the proposed change in the IFC by-laws, which would raise the grade point average necessary for fraternity pledges to be initiated, until the next regular meeting Wednesday.

If the Assembly approves the change, all pledges will have to have a 2.2 all-university average and also a 2.2 average the previous term to go active. The present requirement is a two point in both cases.

The motion to table the proposal was made in view of the fact that only a minimum quorum was present.

Last spring the Assembly passed a ruling requiring all fraternities to maintain a 2.2 scholastic average to be in good standing. The penalty is one term of warning probation followed by a type of social probation levied by IFC.

This probation means the fraternities cannot participate in all-university activities, intramural sports or sponsor social activities of their own.

The present proposal was suggested last term when 10 IFC fraternities were placed on warning probation for failure to comply with this standard fall term. Winter term averages have not yet been computed.

The change in the by-laws was proposed in an effort to encourage better scholarship in the fraternities and also to aid them in fulfilling the all-fraternity average requirement.

Arguments against the change were based on the idea that better scholarship could not be legislated.

The Fraternity Advisors Association approved the proposal saying "it was in keeping with a general strengthening of the fraternity system."

Juniors Plan

Hula Settings

For 'Their Day'

April 26 has been set by the Junior Council as J-Day, and has been planned to feature both an afternoon lemonade hour and evening dance.

The lemonade hour will take place from 3:30-5:30 at the band practice field, and will include music, group games and refreshments.

The dance, called "Waikiki Sands," will feature the music of Kenny Davis and his band. Set in a Hawaiian atmosphere, the affair has been planned to include imported Hawaiian drinks and intermission entertainment by the Hawaiian Club.

Favors of Hawaiian orchids will be given to coeds. Also planned as an added attraction are an assortment of Hawaiian leis, which will be given to those attending.

During intermission, awards will be presented to the 25 outstanding juniors. The honored juniors will be selected in petitions submitted last week, according to Marne Gleason, Royal Oak junior, chairman of the awards committee.

Most Joyful Season of the Year

Eggs, Rabbits Typify Easter

Easter, because of what it symbolizes, is the most joyful season of the year.

It is also one of the times when the churches burst at the seams with their large congregations. Somehow even those who can't seem to make it to church the rest of the year get there on Easter.

It is a day to show off your new clothing and Easter bonnet. Never is there such a display of large hats, small hats, straw hats, flowered hats, and highly original hats as there is on Easter.

It must be said that it becomes exceedingly difficult to concentrate on the sermon when there are so many colorful adornments to gaze upon.

Although Easter is the oldest of Christian festivals, many of the present customs and observances are derived from heathen origins. There is nothing to be found in the New Testament about the festival of Easter, yet its observance began in the apostolic age.

The egg is a folklore symbol of fertility and new life, so it finds its place at Easter time. The ancients exchanged eggs at Eastertime in a sign of goodwill. The egg hunts and egg rolling of today are leftovers from an age when hopeful farmers rolled eggs across their fields to make sure of their bumper crops.

The white rabbit of Easter comes hopping down to us from eras when the sun and the moon were gods to men. The rabbit played in the full of the white Easter moon, and because of its proliency, was a token of prosperity.

Easter has many quaint customs and they all serve to make this the joyous season that it is. The happiest time of all, however, comes in church when we hear once again that "Christ is risen!"

Agreement

Daily Iowan Censored By the Administration

Two to three hundred have recently become involved in a struggle over what constitutes freedom of the press in a college environment.

The Daily Northwestern student publication of Northwestern University, recently published an editorial attack on so-called "censorship" of the student newspaper at Iowa State University.

The editorial charged that the Daily Iowan had been forbidden by the university administration to criticize the policies and actions of either the university administration or the state legislature.

In a rather weak worded editorial, The Daily Iowan replied that their inability to criticize administrators or legislators was not really censorship at all, it was merely a "gentlemen's agreement."

The "gentlemen's agreement," they said, was recently set down in writing to the effect that "The faculty editorial board will read a finished draft of each editorial, offering such constructive criticism, suggestions, and comments as may be necessary." The "gentlemen's agreement" was stated in a memorandum of the Board of Trustees' student publications.

There seems to be a linguistic problem here. The students at Iowa were not "forbidden" to criticize their administrators, but to let someone censor their editorials prior to publication. The fact that no criticism exists from this system is merely coincidental.

Is this really an abridgment of freedom of the press or is it only an illustration of how a group of right thinking potential journalists can cooperate with a dictatorial administration?

The Daily Iowan editors say that the newspaper has never been muzzled, just "closely watched." However, under the circumstances they could hardly say anything else.

There is the subtle overtone throughout their whole defense that these are some rather unhappy students trying unsuccessfully, fully, to defend a situation imposed upon them.

Students at Michigan State University are fortunate in that their newspaper, so far, operates under no such "agreement." There is no prior censorship of editorials or news copy, and it would be a black day in East Lansing if such censorship were initiated.

A free press is a prerequisite to a free society. Because people elect to enter a university environment does not mean that they should no longer exercise their privileges as free citizens.

We send our sympathy to Iowa City along with a fervent prayer that their unfortunate predicament does not spread.

Kansas Governor Answers: 'Editors Should Speak Out'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The chancellor of the University of Kansas told the editors of the university paper that they are not to take sides in state and national politics. The governor of the state disagrees. He believes that the university should allow its student editors "to be as partisan as they please" on the political questions.

The question of press freedom in the colleges and universities is admittedly a complex one. A student newspaper ordinarily serves two functions—as a laboratory for journalism students and as a medium for expression of student opinion. Without some faculty control, the laboratory function may not be well served. Student journalists need to learn responsibility in newspaper writing and editing. Most colleges attempt to solve the problem by allowing most student editors a lot of freedom, stepping in only when they "go too far."

Is an institution "going too far" when it establishes a flat rule that a student newspaper cannot take sides on partisan political issues?

Most college newspapers are financed either from university or general student funds. Because the institutions must be nonpartisan, it could be argued that their newspapers should not take sides on political questions.

There are other ways of looking at it. Universities need to be places where freedom to speak one's mind, to probe and investigate, is a way of life.

Student editors have a tendency to speak with authority on subjects they understand imperfectly. But they also need to get practice in the exercise of freedom. How are they to get this practice if their newspaper is too rigidly controlled?

A special committee of educators working under the auspices of the American Civil Liberties Union recently completed a study of the entire field of civil liberties for students. On the matter of student publications, the committee concluded:

"To avoid, by rigid and complete control, the irritations and controversies that a free college paper almost inevitably entails, is inescapably to limit the effectiveness of an education program intended to promote vigorous independent inquiry."

It is usually better to give college students too much freedom in matters than too little.

Clashing Philosophies

2 Viewpoints Result From Fee Question

Editor's note: This is the last of a series of three articles on the student fees hike.

By LYNN SHEPARD
State News Capitol Reporter

If it were possible to analyze every argument that has been presented in the controversial fee increase issue, in the end, there would emerge two basic, opposing schools of thought.

The clashing philosophies might be identified as those favoring a steady increase in state appropriations to higher education (the educators) and those who would resist this trend (the legislators).

A legislator might state that the state is not responsible for the education of its citizens. The educator might reply that the state is responsible for the education of its citizens.

The relative merits of both groups, carefully examined and evaluated, reveal some fairly reliable conclusions by which we can judge.

In this light, the legislative position may appear cold and unimaginative, but it is, nevertheless, realistic. On the other hand, the educator's point of view, while it may appeal more to our emotions, is by the same token, based on a theory which always works better on paper than in real life.

By forcing the tax-supported schools to raise student fees, the legislature has nullified part of a mission long overdue. It has awakened the few, which scholars to a few facts of their own existence.

The most important of these is that, despite the necessity of money, the state is not responsible for the education of its citizens.

Letters to the Editor

Arab Prejudices Attacked

To the Editor:

The Arab letters attacking the editorial on Saudi Arabia have indicated a great deal of patriotism in an admirable trait under a common bond, but to solve the serious Middle-Eastern situation, the Arab states must be brought into the fold.

The Arab states, obtaining education in free institutions such as Michigan State will have to rise to the leadership of their people. They can begin taking steps in that direction while they are still here by emancipating themselves from their consuming and destructive passions of hatred. They can also obtain a more realistic picture of some of the very slanted ideas they presently hold. The following list of points is an attempt to correct the false connotations their letters carried.

1. The Israeli army is made up of reservists who are on immediate call from their homes and places of employment to man the defenses of their country. They cannot be considered professional soldiers by any military standards. They fight as well because they fight for their very existence.

2. The American Jews' allegiance is to America and America alone. Since the state of Israel has been established only 14 years, it is not surprising that there still are approximately 1,000 Jewish immigrants entering the U.S. annually.

It is reasonable to expect most Jews in the U.S. to be in sympathy with Israel since it is the home of their forefathers, the home of their religion, and the haven for many Jewish refugees from other countries. This sympathy is not an over-natural emotional thing. It feeds upon 2,000 years of persecution.

3. The word "harem" in the English language refers to the wives, concubines, and other females occupying a household, so the State News editorial did not misuse the word. When in this country trying to support one wife has its difficulties, it is understandably perplexing to many Americans why some Arab leaders support a nest of them—especially since their economic problems are much graver than ours.

4. An editorial in this country, such as the one in the State News, is an expression of the views of the editor on a news

Bomb Ban Advantage To Soviets

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

In the midst of the great arms race, Soviet Russia is always in the best position to make propaganda hay out of her talk of banning nuclear bomb tests and atomic weapons.

Even in the totally unrealistic disarmament talks, which go on occasionally, as they are now going on in London, other nations are forced to confine their talks to slight limitation of conventional weapons, in consideration of their own security.

That doesn't have much effect on people throughout the world whose great fear is of radiation from the tests and possible mass destruction by atomic war.

When the Kremlin's Valerian Zorin evades all Western suggestions by returning to the showboating talk of atomic bombs, he sounds like the friend of all people.

Indeed, his statement in London Thursday was almost simultaneous with one by India's so-called neutralist, Nehru, and almost identical in meaning—on the surface. Both inveighed against nuclear tests and atomic war.

Nehru wants India, with himself as her leader, to emerge as the moderate of world troubles, and as the beneficiary of the East-West struggle for her support.

Zorin, on the other hand, is conducting a cold-blooded maneuver for position in advance of a possible war.

In a war with modern weapons, a small nation with a nuclear equal of a large nation, regardless of manpower.

Russia is conducting a series of atomic tests at the moment, trying to impress the London conference with the reality of her atomic advantage. At the same time she calls the showboating attention of other nations to the danger of atomic testing, thus, facing her own people with the free world defense system.

There is every reason to believe that Russia is still behind the United States in the development of atomic force, and of tactical weapons, which makes the West's smaller armies her equal.

In a military way, Russia has everything to gain by an atomic ban.

Spring Fashions Led By Yearly Favorites

Suddenly, it's spring, and once again a young man's or woman's fancy lightly turns to trenchcoats and white tennis shoes. Every spring fashion dictates the silhouette, the neckline, the sleeve, the hemline, or the tail. In plaid skirts paired with the button-down collar shirts will be seen on style-conscious coeds from Berkeley to Anthony Hall. Other popular blouse styles are the ultra-feminine "stacy blouse" and trim looking one with the fairly new roll-up sleeve.

As far as fabrics go, cotton is the yearly hot weather favorite but Dacron is making a bit because of its talent for avoiding wrinkles.

The male element seen in the classroom or lounging on the Union steps seem to prefer sun-fair, chambray, and button-down shirts in solid, light colors, muted stripes, or belted pants. Spartan men also face the great outdoors in short windbreakers usually lined in plaid.

The tailored look of bermuda shorts is still fast in casual wear, and they are seen in every shade, plaid, and stripe.

This, then, is the MSU look for Spring 1957—mod, but strictly casual.

Dr. Porter Returns To MSU as Dean

Home Economics Graduate Welcomed Back by College

By JUDY NIELSEN

A well known MSU graduate is back on our campus again after thirteen years of absence. She is Dr. Thelma Porter, Dean of the College of Home Economics.

Although this is Dr. Porter's first year as Dean, she is already well known for her present work and her past experience.

A graduate of MSU and a recognized authority in the field of nutritional research, she was given the MSU Centennial Distinguished Alumna Award.

Dean Porter has devoted most of her life to science and home economics. She entered MSU as a biology major but transferred to home economics during her sophomore year because she thought it was a more useful field for women.

After graduating, she received her Master's Degree at the University of California and her PhD at the University of Chicago where she was later Professor and Chairman of the Home Economics Department.

Dr. Porter has also worked in the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a professor at Rutgers College, in the Department of Food and Nutrition at MSU from 1938-44 and at the University of Chicago from 1945-56.

Dean Porter said that of all the cities she has lived in, she likes Chicago the best. However, having purchased a home in East Lansing, she enjoys the quiet and cleanliness of a small town. It also gives her an opportunity to see her mother and brother who live in Lansing.

Dean Porter has two children and four grandchildren. Her

The newly purchased house of the Evans Scholars will be ready for its members to move into by fall.

Fall Move Staged

Evans Scholars Buy New Chapter House

A new location is in store for the Evans Scholars of MSU. As of Fall Term, 1957, the members will move into their newly purchased house at 213 Louis st. They are presently residing at 215 Louis st.

The two-story, red brick house, now an apartment building, is expected to accommodate 25 to 30 men. Little re-decoration will be necessary before taking up residence.

A large entrance way will be constructed, while the basement of the 23 room building will be fireproofed and converted into a large recreation room for social activities. A spacious lounge will also be constructed from a two bedroom apartment on the main floor.

New furniture will be purchased to be placed in the almost brand-new building. No dining room facilities are provided for, as each member is encouraged to obtain a part-time job for meals.

The Evans Scholars, now consisting of six chapters throughout the Midwest, were founded at Northwestern University in 1927.

Engineering Honorary Begins Petitioning

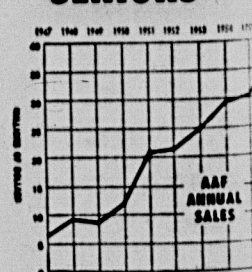

The Knights of St. Patrick will begin petitioning for prospective members Monday. The all-engineering honorary gives recognition to engineering juniors and seniors who have excelled in extra-curricular activities and have a 2.0 all-university average.

Petitions may be picked up at the Union desk or on the main floor of Olds Hall, and must be turned in to Dean Ryder's office by May 1.

Triangle Celebrates Fraternity's Founding

Triangle fraternity celebrated their 50th anniversary last Sunday with a ham dinner, games and installation of officers. The first chapter was formed at the University of Illinois in 1907.

ENGINEERING SENIORS—

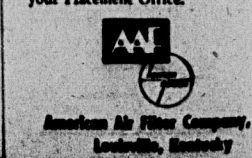

Picture Your Future In This Growing Company

Looking for a solid, satisfying career with a vigorous company in a growing industry? American Air Filter Company, Louisville, Kentucky—world's largest manufacturer of air filter, dust control and heating and ventilating equipment—needs graduate engineers to fill responsible jobs in sales, engineering and production in its scores of field offices and nine manufacturing plants.

Next July, we commence our next five-month technical training course for a selected group of men. A representative of American Air Filter Company will be on your campus to interview engineering seniors.

Engine Catches Fire As Capital Plane Lands

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sudden and frightening flames leaped from the right inboard engine of a Capital Airlines plane Thursday as the four-engine ship landed at Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Firemen raced alongside the craft as it landed. They doused the flames within two or three minutes and helped the 30 passengers to safety.

None of the passengers and three crewmen were seriously hurt. Several suffered bruises, mostly the result of their hurried exit.

The plane was on route here from Buffalo, N.Y. It made a normal approach but hit the concrete runway "hard" and bounced, an airport official said.

Instruments in the cockpit indicated the landing gear had not locked properly and Capt. R. L. Calhoun zoomed the ship into the air again. As the plane came in for its second landing attempt the right inboard engine caught fire.

A passenger, Mrs. John Hurns, of Buffalo, said someone aboard yelled "It's on fire." Then, as the passengers tensed, the warning came over the loud speaker system.

Prepare for a crash landing.

Mrs. Hurns said a wave of panic swept through the plane but Stewardess Katherine Seymonski shouted "keep calm" and most everyone relaxed. Seconds later the big ship was on the ground and the firemen were pouring extinguishers on the flames.

Buell to Present Slides of Tour

Professor Don Buell of the speech department will show slides of his recent trip around the world, and give impressions of several of the areas he visited, at the International Club meeting tonight at 8 in 31 Union.

Primary focus will be on Japan, Malaya, Thailand and Italy. Dancing and refreshments will follow the meeting, open to all students.

AUSG Names New Traffic Court Justice

Jackie Toikkanen, Ashland, Ohio, freshman, was accepted Wednesday night by Student Congress as a traffic court justice.

Mrs. Toikkanen, a psychology major, petitioned for the recently vacated seat, and was appointed by Chief Justice Roger Augustine.

Conviction

Sala claimed he fought in the Legion "without really knowing who I was." He said he did not recover his memory until he found himself in the battle of Dien Bien Phu, Indochina, nine years later. French records show he received a good conduct discharge from the Legion last August. He reported to U.S. Army headquarters here Sept. 20. Fingerprint records in Washington showed that Turco was actually Sala.

The prosecution charged that Sala enlisted in the Legion because he was afraid to return to the U. S. Army. Referring to Sala's criminal record before his enlistment in the U. S. Army and later during his stay in Germany, Prosecuting Officer Frank W. Porter Jr. said:

To believe this man's story is to believe a convicted burglar, a convicted thief and a proved liar.

Air-Phone Service Tested

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission Thursday took the first step toward providing radio telephone service for air travelers.

The commission authorized the Bell Telephone Company of Michigan and Illinois to establish such a service on a limited and strictly "developmental" basis in the Detroit and Chicago areas.

Calls may be made to or from such planes throughout the United States, through combination use of ground wires and the radio facilities at Detroit and Chicago.

The phone company plans to make the service available to commercial airlines which desire it and also to private planes.

The rates for a three-minute call will range between $1.00 and $3.00, depending on the location of the aircraft and the ground connection.

Union Art Gallery Features Sculpture

The Union Art Gallery is now displaying the Third Annual Contemporary Sculpture exhibit. It was organized by Lindsay Decker, a sculptor in the art department, in conjunction with the first annual reunion of the Women and Arts Alumni held last week.

The display will continue through April 30.

'The Big Sing' Here April 26

A mixture of classical and popular songs will be presented April 26 in the Auditorium when the United States Army Chorus, from Michigan State, Wayne and Lafayette, are joined by the United States Army Chorus for "The Big Sing."

After performing individually, the four singing groups will combine their voices to sing the Wayne and Lafayette alma maters, "Spartan Toast," "With a Voice of Singing," and close with "America the Beautiful."

This will be the largest concert presentation in MSU history, according to John McGoff, co-ordinator of the Cap-and-Gown Series, co-sponsors of the program. It is being held as part of the three-day Intercollegiate Musical Council Conference, April 25-27.

Of the 35-member Army chorus, five are MSU graduates — Don Springer, Owen Munk, James McMahon, Tom Vasileff and Ralph Karney. All are former members of the MSU Glee Club.

State Runs Wild, 21-1, Clobber Wayne in Rout

Pitchers Yield Only Five Hits

Palamara Blasts First Old College Homer

By BILL KEOUGH
Coach John Kobs' Spartan nine hit their stride Thursday afternoon and trampled away from an outclassed Wayne University team, 21-1.

It was one sided all the way, as the Spartans collected seven runs on six hits in the first inning, and batted around for the rest of the three times.

Altogether the Spartans collected 21 hits while pitchers, Don Peranoski, Bill Mansfield and Robert Rabias, held the opposition to five hits. Peranoski started and worked his second win of the official season.

Just about every State player who got into the game had a good day. Ken Warner had five hits in six times at bat which was good for three runs and three RBIs. Dennis Mendick had four base hits, including a double and a triple, and scored five runs.

Second baseman Frank Palamara became the first person to knock the ball out of the park at Old College Field this year, when he clubbed one 352 foot over the left field wall in the fifth inning to drive in two runs. Palamara also hit a double in the eighth to give him a total of four RBIs for the day.

Pitcher Bill Mansfield collected a single, a triple and an RBI in his two times to the plate, and Jerry Korwek came through with four RBIs.

Coach Kobs had two changes in his starting lineup from the team which beat the University of Detroit last Saturday. Frank Palamara started at second base and Gary Warner moved over to his regular position at third base replacing Ted Kearly. The other change started Barry Fullerton behind the plate in place of Team Captain Al Luce.

Luce spelled Fullerton in the eighth and batted on a single his first time up.

Coach Kobs also used his pitchers sparingly, starting Peranoski for four innings, then relieving him with Mansfield and pitching Rabias for the last two innings.

Wayne couldn't seem to do anything right, as they used 17 players, committed seven errors and had a total of 14 strike outs in the course of the afternoon.

The lone Wayne run came in the third inning off Peranoski. The Tartars got a triple and a double in that order before Peranoski got the pitcher to ground out and struck out the next two men.

Those were the only hits Peranoski gave up in his four inning stint. He had a total of seven strike outs, and wiffed the last five men he faced in order. Mansfield shut the Tartars out for three innings on three hits, as his curve really cut the corners and Rabias blazed his fast ball across the plate for two innings of no-hit no-run ball.

The Spartans will play a double header against Albion Saturday afternoon on Old College Field. The first game will start at 1 o'clock.

Olympian Mann Wins Swim Title

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Olympic winner Shelley Mann blazed from behind in the final lap Thursday and successfully defended her 200-yard butterfly title in the National AAU Senior Women's Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships.

Miss Mann, world record holder of all distances in the butterfly, was timed at 2:27.7. Last year at Daytona Beach, Fla., she was clocked at 2:26.3.

Netters Face Ohio State In Initial Big 10 Match

Michigan State's tennis team, which Coach Beeman terms as his scrappiest in years, invades Columbus, Ohio, Saturday for the Big 10 opener against Ohio State.

Although the Spartans and Ohio State did not meet last season, Michigan State has only been beaten by the Buckeyes once in the last nine years. In the 1936 Big 10 meet, Michigan State finished sixth and Ohio State eighth.

The Spartan netmen will be headed by Capt. George Stepanovic.

... captain ...

Stepanovic and Bill Bisard, Bisard, the oldest player in the Big 10 at 31, will be playing at the No. 1 singles slot. Last season Bisard compiled a 7-4 singles record playing the No. 3 and No. 4 positions.

Stepanovic, who also had a 7-4 dual meet record in 1956, will be No. 2 man in singles. He is the lone senior on Coach Beeman's squad.

Handling the No. 3 and No. 4 positions in singles will be Mike Zarembo and Ron Mescall. Zarembo is a junior and Mescall a sophomore.

Spartan '9' To Tangle With Albion

The Michigan State Spartan nine will renew an old rivalry Saturday when they meet Albion at Old College Field in a doubleheader at 1 p.m.

The game will renew a series which ended in 1929, the two teams first played in 1896.

Albion brings an unblemished record to face the Spartans, having been undefeated in its first four starts. State has an 8-3-1 record after taking Wayne State into camp 21-1.

State will have five hurlers ready for action, including Dick Radatz, Bill Mills, Jon Davis, Norm Creamer and John Griffin.

After the Albion contest, MSU will face Indiana on Friday and on April 27 journey to Columbus for two games with OSU.

Calumet Farm's Gen. Duke works out with exercise boy Joe Swart. The horse, winner of the Florida derby, is one of the favorites in the Kentucky Derby on May 4.

Fans Get Look at Top Colts In Special 7 Furlong Race

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Gen. Duke, the Calumet Farm swiftie, Iron Ledge and One-Eyed King measure their Kentucky Derby fitness in a special seven furlong dash Friday, offering blue grass fans their first view of top derby colts.

Gen. Duke, world record holder at a mile and an eighth, will spot his stablemate and Calumet's Stable's One-Eyed King nine pounds in the special race for the first time, barred betting in Friday's $5,000 Hope Purse.

Gen. Duke, the derby favorite since whipping Bold Ruler in second time in the Florida Derby three weeks ago, will tote 122 pounds tomorrow with Willie Harkack riding. That's four pounds less than he'll carry in the derby and the distance is three-eighths of a mile shorter.

Calumet's Iron Ledge and Dave Erb the pilot and One-Eyed King with Pete Anderson riding will pack 113 each, this week worked six furlongs handily in 1:13. Iron Ledge, also a son of Bull Lea, went five furlongs well in hand in 1:02. One-Eyed King, a Nautilus colt, was clocked in 47.3 for a half mile and previously breezed three quarters in 1:04.

One-Eyed King is figured to come back next Thursday in the $25,000 added Blue Grass Stakes, A 1 1/4 mile test for the Louisville classic.

Horseshoe competition begins Monday at the horseshoe pits behind the third base bleachers on Old College Field. Deadline for entering this event is 5:00 p.m. today. Competition will be in singles only.

Contestants will be notified by phone or mail as to opponents. Winners Monday should contact the IM office for next opponent.

The rifle shoot begins April 27 at the ROTC range in Den. Hall. Competition will last until May 3. Interested persons should call the IM office for more information.

Managers of dormitory softball teams are asked to remember the changes in playing time on Monday nights. Games will now be played at 5:20 and 6:05 p.m.

In bowling this week, Chuck Crozier of the Harvey All-Stars had the high score with a 353 total. Don Rumbles of the Dirty Manner team had high game of 201.

Beecham Underdog In Mims Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Returning to the ring after a five-month layoff, the veteran Holly Mims of Washington, D.C., is an 8-3 favorite to defeat Jimmy Beecham of Miami in tonight's television fight from the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Mims, who has been a ranking welterweight contender several times but isn't rated at present, scored a close but unanimous decision over Beecham in his last fight last Nov. 13.

The 10-round bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC starting at 10 p.m. (EST). It will be scored on a point system, with 10 points going to the winners of each round.

It will be the 63rd fight for Mims in a 10-round ring career. Now 28, he has a record of 47 victories, 15 defeats and five draws.

The 22-year-old Beecham, a natural welterweight, says he will return to that division after this fight. Beecham won his first 12 pro fights, six by knockouts, but was sidelined for a time after his jaw was broken by Charles Joseph. His record is 17 wins and three losses. In his only other bout this year, he outpointed Sugar Boy Nardo.

I intended to quit the midweight division after my last fight with Mims," Beecham said. "But I felt I could beat him the next time and I couldn't turn down the television money."

Golfers to Face Top Pros In Big 10 Time-up Match

Friday will see a special match between Eldon Briggs and Bob Herford, both professional golfers, and Otto Schubel and George Wakulsky, currently No. 1 and 3 on the MSU golf team. The match is further preparation for competitive action in the Big 10. Eldon Briggs, well known pro and now traveling the circuit, and Bob Herford, local pro and instructor, are favored in the match which will begin at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

The linksters have been practicing daily to sharpen their games and Coach Ben Van Alstyne reports that the team is doing very well. Scores have been ranging in the low 70's for the six teams members during the past week. Otto Schubel and George Wakulsky turned in fine six-shot rounds Wednesday.

Starting Monday and ending Wednesday a special 36-hole medal playoff will be held to determine the number 7 and 8 men on the squad. Voting for these two positions will be Jim Sullivan, Roger Fuller, Gary Spies, John Payne, George Priekorn, Dave Belfore and William Jarosz.

Marines' New Reserve Plan In Operation

The Marine Corps announced recently a new reserve program which will allow college students to continue their education with only a short interruption and at the same time fulfill their military obligation.

Under the new program men between the ages of 18 1/2-21 may volunteer for six months of active duty with the regular Marine Corps and complete their obligation as a member of a reserve unit for five and one-half years.

Unique Sets, Costumes Highlight Theta Alpha Phi's 'Antigone'

Unique staging with modernistic sets and contemporary dress are drawing cards of "Antigone," Theta Alpha Phi's production beginning a four-day run Wednesday in Studio Theater.

George Latchford, East Lansing senior and Dan Covell, Bay City senior and director, have designed the set for "Antigone."

A definite play of darks and lights employing varying shades of blue, black and white carry out the color symbolism. This effect is also brought out in the costumes.

Contrasting shades of blue, the medieval symbol of purity, is used in the costumes of Antigone. This extends the color effect of the staging. Dark greys and blacks are also planned.

Costumes for the women will be modern formal dress based on classic lines. Tuxedos and trenchcoats will be worn by the men.

Agnes David, head of costuming in the Speech Department, is designing the costumes, and Judy Lookanoff, Detroit junior, is in charge of costuming production.

Studio Theater seats 110 people. Tickets for the performance are $1, with no reservations. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. for all four nights.
