Key Business, Defense Leaders Among Victims

AF Missile Treasurer On Flight

Most Victims From California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Business leaders, key defense industry personnel and top Los Angeles county leaders were among the 47 persons killed Monday in the crash of a United Air Lines plane near Las Vegas.

Robert Hight, 36, a specialist in administration and finance, was treasurer of the Ramo-Woolridge Corp., an Inglewood, Calif., firm which coordinates the Air Force Ballistic Missile program.

William H. Torrains, 43, was a specialist in Ramo-Woolridge's Space Technology Laboratory. He was working on experimental missiles.

John B. Emanuel, 40, was a forecasting expert at Douglas Aircraft Corp. He was on his way to Washington to report to the Pentagon on a new project.

Morton C. Aaronson of Ennis, Calif., was vice president of Inquire Shoe Co. He was flying to Denver on business, a trip he was to have made Sunday, but postponed until Monday.

W. A. Simons, was vice president of Gillilan Brothers, Inc., electronics manufacturing firm. Two of the company's production engineers, Ralph Keene and John Dietrich, also died in the crash.

H. A. Thomas Jr., 58, was general manager of the Fruit Grower Supply Co., a Sunkist subsidiary. He was on a business trip that included a stopover in college, Penn.

Mrs. Helen A. Rachford, Pasadena, Calif., was director of audio-visual education for the Los Angeles County School System. She was en route to Minneapolis to attend a convention.

S. Robert Kallenbaugh, Chevy Chase, Calif., was Los Angeles district manager of Timken Steel and Tube Co. He was on his way to Denver on business.

Robert J. McKinney, 43, was sports writer for the Los Angeles Examiner. He was on his way to Denver to preview a show before it came to Los Angeles.

Student Catches Alleged prowler

Quick action by an MSU student caused the apprehension of an alleged prowler about midnight Monday.

Hans Schuler, Marshall junior, noted a man loitering near the Alpha Gamma Delta house, 31 Charles St., challenged him.

He caught him after a three-block chase. John Peterson, Delta junior, reported.

Several Alpha Gamma Delta's advised the man as a student who they had seen prowling the house last term, and on a few days ago.

Had passing police verified charges will be presented today. They declined to press the charges have been formally pressed.

Will Present Paper

Dr. Richard E. Sullivan, assistant professor of history, will present a paper at the annual meeting of the Medieval Academy of America to be held Friday and Saturday at Boston, Mass. Dr. Sullivan's paper, "Monasticism and Western European Civilization: A Re-evaluation," is designed to suggest the need for new research in monastic history in the early Middle Ages.

ACS to Hear Basolo

The MSU section of the American Chemical Society will hear Dr. Fred Basolo at its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, 122 Kedzie Chemical Laboratory. Dr. Basolo, associate professor of chemistry at Northwestern University, did research at the Technical University of Denmark under a Guggenheim fellowship in 1954-55. His topic will be "Mechanisms of Substitution Reactions of Platinum Complexes."

Fellowship to Harder

Paul Harder, assistant professor of music, has been awarded a fellowship for graduate study in 1958-59 by the State University of Iowa. The fellowship, awarded in recognition of a meritorious record in graduate study, will cover full-time work on the Ph.D. degree. A prolific composer, Mr. Harder has studied composition at the Ecole des Beaux Arts de Fontainebleau in France and the Royal Conservatory in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Mann to Speak Today

Dr. William A. Mann, staff member of the Highway Traffic Safety Center and associate professor of teacher education, will speak in Saginaw today in connection with the 1958 safety program of the Castman Company. ## U of M's Carnival, 'Michigras,' Begins Run Friday

Special to the State News

ANN ARBOR—Michigras, the University of Michigan's huge Spring carnival weekend which occurs on campus once every two years, is scheduled for this Friday and Saturday. Theme for the event will be "Ventures-In-Vention."

Modeled after the Mardi Gras carnival in New Orleans, the weekend will open with a giant parade beginning at 3:30 p.m. Friday and winding slowly through Ann Arbor streets. About 20 floats, built by students in fraternities, sororities and independent housing units, will carry out the theme by portraying real or imaginary inventions.

Made mostly of chicken wire and millions of colored napkins, the floats are produced by students after months of planning. In past years they have been compared with those in the famous Rose Bowl parade.

The parade will be led by the high-stepping Michigan Marching Band, followed by the floats, high school bands from nearby communities, clowns and other attractions.

The "big top" carnival, held Friday and Saturday evenings at the Yost Fieldhouse, will offer a variety of entertainment including games of skill, show booths and refreshment booths. In keeping with tradition, prizes for winning floats and booths will be awarded Saturday evening by President Harlan Hatch.

Profits from the event will be donated to charities including the U-M's Fresh Air Camp, Wexler Memorial Fund, Wausenaw County Chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, and University Hospital Division of the American Cancer Society. The 1958 Michigras profits totaled $14,376.

Assails GOP Legislature

Williams Blasts Lawmakers For State's Financial Woes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. G. Mennen Williams blasted the Republican-controlled Legislature Monday for "leaving the State Government in a financial shambles."

The Democratic Governor, returning from a weekend of speechmaking on the West Coast, told reporters he had not yet had a chance to assist the $32-million dollar austerity budget adopted by lawmakers Saturday.

He said he would consult with his financial advisers to see what reductions in service might be made to stay within the spending limits.

Ruthless and drastic cuts have been made in essential governmental services, such as education and mental health," he said.

Williams also assailed legislators for failing to provide revenues for a balanced budget, either for the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30 or for 1958-59.

"We face a deficit of 18 to 19 million dollars by June 30," he said. "Yet in the face of this, the Republicans threw up their hands and went home, without action on the only money-raising bill left alive—the intangibles tax adjustments."

The Governor's proposal to double the intangibles tax and pump about 20 million dollars into the state treasury, awaits action when the legislature returns for final adjournment May 15-16.

Lawmakers also sidestepped an opportunity to put thousands of jobless workers back on the job, the Governor said. This could have been done, he said, by passage of his proposed 114 million dollar bonding program for state building projects. Legislators also should have done something about extending unemployment benefits for workers who have exhausted their unemployment insurance, Williams said.

Applications Open for Fall Scholarships

Applications for tuition scholarships effective fall term may be obtained from the scholarships office in Student Services Bldg.

Scholarships are available for out-of-state and Michigan residents who are sophomores and above. The number of scholarships are limited.

To apply students must: 1) have been at MSU for at least two terms; 2) have point standing of at least 2.6, 2.8, and 3.0 respectively at the end of their freshman, sophomore, and junior years; and 3) show sufficient evidence of need. Deadline for returning applications is May 15.

Two scholarships are also available for persons whose parents are residents of Ingham County. Applicants must also be in the School of Business Administration, have a cumulative grade point standing of at least "B", and demonstrate financial need.

Whether this legislative mess can be cleaned up when the legislature returns next month remains to be seen," he said. "If it has enough ingenuity to get the state into these troubles, it ought to have enough ingenuity to get the state out of trouble."

The film, "The Last Bridge," will be shown in Fairchild theater today and Wednesday at 7 and 9 p.m.

The film, a winner of many awards, will feature European actress Maria Schell, who received the Cannes Film Festival "best actress" award for this film, and who now is playing the role of Grushenka in "The Brothers Karamazov."

Fairchild Plays 'The Last Bridge' Tonight at 7

The German film, "The Last Bridge," will be shown in Fairchild theater today and Wednesday at 7 and 9 p.m.

The film, a winner of many awards, will feature European actress Maria Schell, who received the Cannes Film Festival "best actress" award for this film, and who now is playing the role of Grushenka in "The Brothers Karamazov."

In "The Last Bridge," Miss Schell portrays a German nurse who puts her love for duty to humanity before all else. The action of the film takes place between German soldiers and Yugoslav partisans in Germany toward the end of World War II.

United DC-7, F-100-F Jet In Death Dive

Blindfolded Student Pilot On AF Training Flight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An eastbound airliner carried 47 persons on a screaming, four-mile death dive Monday after colliding with an Air Force jet trainer high above the Nevada desert.

The big United Air Lines four engine DC-7 and a supersonic F-100-F from nearby Nellis Air Force Base came together in a flashing explosion 21,000 feet in the air. The two men aboard the jet rode it to their deaths.

A number of businessmen and key defense industry figures were aboard the airliner, en route to Washington and New York. Altogether, there were 43 civilian passengers, 5 crew members and 7 military personnel.

The Air Force said its plane went aloft on an instrument training flight during which a blindfolded student pilot operates the ship in response to radio signals beamed from the ground. An instructor in a forward uncovered cockpit was also in the dual control fighter-bomber.

Just before the collision the jet was given instructions to let down from 28,000 feet to 16,000 feet on instruments.

A frantic radio call from the stricken airliner was monitored moments after the collision. United Air Lines said the pilot's last words were:

"United Air Lines 736 (the flight number). Mayday (the aircraft distress call). Mid-air collision over Las Vegas, 736."

That was at 4:30 a.m. After that, there was no more.

The jet was following normal procedures for such a flight, an Air Force spokesman said, and had not reported any engine trouble or flying difficulty before the collision.

Thousands in this gambling resort town saw the fiery plunge of the huge silver transport.

"A huge puff of white smoke came from the plane and it started spinning slowly," said a Las Vegas newspaper photographer, Dennis Schieck. "Then bright orange flames shot out of the wing. It was a spectacular sight."

Another witness, Jeff McColl Sr., said the plane went into a steep dive after its staggering run.

"It came down with all four engines screaming wide open," he said, "and as it fell the flames crept back from the wing to the fuselage."

The dying plane disappeared behind a low ridge 10 miles south-west of Las Vegas. Moments later another explosion was heard and a black plume of smoke rose in the cloudless sky. The fighter-bomber crashed eight miles from the transport.

Bright bits of wreckage floated down for several minutes and the path of the falling airliner over the desert wasteland was marked by tinsel-bright bits of debris.

It hit the ground with tremendous force and burned fiercely. The largest single piece of the plane found was a 20-foot section of the fuselage. Three of the four engines were found a mile from the main crash site.

The bodies of nearly all the victims were badly burned and mangled. Airline officials said the task of identifying the bodies would be a slow and painful one. A temporary morgue was set up for that purpose at the Las Vegas race track.

Wreckage from the transport drifted down for five minutes after the collision.

The Air Force plane, a dual control trainer with a student pilot in the rear seat and an experienced flier in front, had been operating out of Nellis Air Force Base at 27,000 feet just before the crash.

Col. Bruce Hinton, in charge of the pilot training group at the base, said it could not be determined which man was flying the plane, but that on a normal instrument training mission the student pilot, flying on instruments in a hooded cockpit, would be in control.

"What this plane was supposed to be doing," he said, "was practicing instrument training in clear weather. The guy in front is out from under the hood, and one in back is under the hood."

"The pilot was given permission to descend on a routine penetration (following signals from the ground). He was told to go ahead. We don't know what happened then."

"The pilot could have been flying on his airplane radio to make the descent. I assume he was under the hood—but we can't tell."

Nellis AFB reported its communication center picked up the cry, "Mayday—the aviator's distress call, just after the collision. Other words followed, but they were too garbled to be distinguishable."

Radiomen said the pilot might have been reporting a "flameout"—a cutoff of the jet engine, or reporting that they were bailing out. Investigators said it could not be determined whether either man had tried to use his parachute.

An Air Force pilot who was flying 6,000 feet above the jet trainer said, however, that he heard the words, "bail out!" on his radio and looked down to see that the planes had just collided.

Capt. Louis A. Du Pont, an Air Force pilot, said he was on an instrument training flight with a student pilot when the collision occurred. He said he saw the airliner crash in a burst of orange flame and smoke, but did not witness the collision. On his radio, he said, he heard the pilot of the F-100-F say something like "bail out!"

The transport, bound for New York with stops at Denver, Kansas City and Washington, left Los Angeles at 7:30 a.m. The Civil Aeronautics Administration got its last report from the airliner as it passed over the Mojave Desert town of Daggett, about halfway to Las Vegas. It was flying at 21,000 feet and was due over Las Vegas at 8:31 a.m.

The jet had taken off from Nellis, 16 miles north of Las Vegas, at 7:45 a.m. It was returning to base at the time of the accident. The bodies of all 47 aboard the airliner and the two Air Force pilots were found in the wreckage of the two planes.

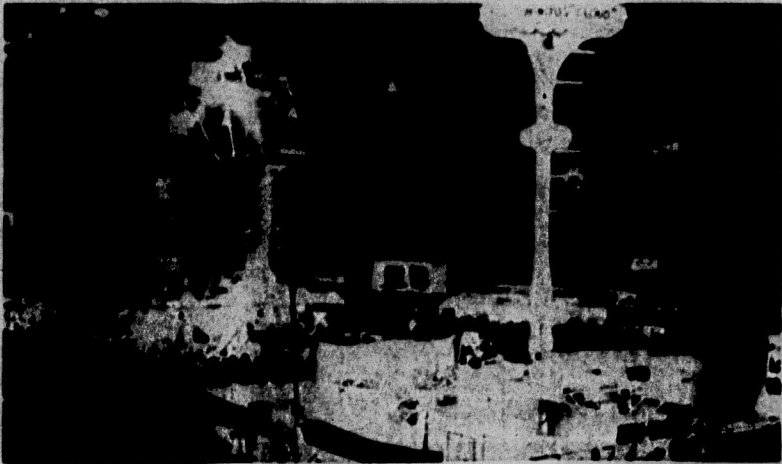

United Air Lines identified the crew members as follows: Flight Captain Duane Ward, 44, first officer Arlin Edward Sommers, 39, Flight Engineer Charles Woods, 43, all based at Denver and stewardess Pauline Mary Murray, 23, of Watertown, Mass., and stewardess Yvonne Petersen, 27, of Sidney, Mich. Ward had been with the company 18 years.

Nellis AFB identified the student pilot as Lt. Gerald Moran of Rapid City, S.D., and the instructor as Capt. Tom Correll, who lived with his wife in Las Vegas, but is from Indianapolis.

It was the fourth major air disaster in the Southwest in less than two years involving collisions.

History's worst civilian crash occurred June 30, 1956, when two transports smashed into each other over the Grand Canyon, killing 123. On Jan. 31, 1957, a transport on a check flight collided with a Navy jet over the crowded San Fernando Valley. Five men aboard the two planes were killed. Three students were killed and 79 injured when the crippled transport plowed into a schoolyard.

Less than three months ago a military air transport plane and a Navy patrol bomber collided at night over a Los Angeles suburb, killing 47 in the planes and a housewife on the ground.

Talks to Diplomats Khrushchev Predicts Communist Supremacy

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev told American Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson Monday the communists will re-educate the capitalists of the world, "when we win."

In a free-wheeling 15-minute speech to diplomats at a Polish embassy reception marking the 13th anniversary of the signing of a friendship agreement between Poland and the Soviet Union, Khrushchev said:

"I could close my eyes and if you are a socialist ambassador I know your country is a peaceful country. There are other ambassadors here who would like to spit on communism. But don't let's see who can spit farthest, like camels in a cage. Instead, let's compete. We have to maintain minimum sanitary conditions."

Then, lifting his glass, Khrushchev said, "let us drink to the strength and growth of the socialist camp."

Then, as an afterthought, Khrushchev commented: "The main problem is to avoid a military clash. But this is only possible if the adversary knows that if he attacks us he will get an unpleasant surprise."

'Splashes of Sparkle' Highlights Weekend

"Splashes of Sparkle," annual swim show, will be presented in the Women's Gym Pool Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. The show is sponsored by Green Splash, Women's swimming honorary. Tickets are one dollar and may be purchased at the Union ticket office.

"We will beat the capitalists, but that does not mean killing anybody."

He praised the Chinese people for what he called re-educating the capitalist re-educators. Then, he pointed to Thompson and said:

"When we win in this competition we will also re-educate you."

When he spotted Israeli Ambassador Joseph Avidar, Khrushchev said dowager Queen Elizabeth of Belgium—who was recently in Moscow—asked Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov whether the Soviet Union had a special attitude toward Jews.

"If you ask what this special relation consists of, I say half the wives of the presidium of the party are Jewish," Khrushchev said.

He also had a few words to say about Soviet and to other countries:

"When we let other countries have our equipment, do we do it for gain? No. We get more profit if we used this material in our country."

MSU to Partake Varied Activities Set For Michigan Week

In observance of annual Michigan Week, May 4-10, MSU has planned a series of events ranging from special exhibits to a football game.

All the activities, sponsored jointly with the Ingham County Michigan Week committee, are designed to appeal to all residents of the area. Communities have been invited to participate in the week-long observance.

Throughout the week, MSU will conduct tours of the campus. In the spotlight will be State's newly opened Museum Dr. Rollin Baker, Museum director, is planning a special exhibit depicting the history of Michigan.

The second annual "Old-Timers" football game to be played May 3 will signal the beginning of Michigan Week. Five high school bands will perform at the game and will plan their program around the Michigan Week theme, "It's Great to Live in Michigan."

Plans also are being completed between the Ingham county committee and community chairmen to have "Queens" from each city present at the football game.

At the present, 20,000 persons are expected to attend the "Old-Timers" football game. Spartan Stadium capacity is 76,000 so seats are still available. Tickets are $1.00. No reserved seats.

AUSG Reps Get Top NSA Posts

Gleason, Holmes Elected
Michigan Branch Officers

By LIZ TROESTER

Two members of the All-University Student Government executive branch were elected officers of the National Students Association's Michigan region at an NSA workshop held at Ferris Institute this weekend.

Marne Gleason is regional vice chairman and Dick Holmes, organizations bureau director, is the vice chairman in charge of the Student Government commission.

MSU will be the publication center for the monthly newsletter, The Observer, and the site of an orientation meeting in the spring for delegates to the NSA National Student Congress at Ohio Wesleyan.

This was the first time delegates from MSU had attended an NSA meeting as members. Congress approved a bill to join the association at its final session winter term. The bill stipulated that MSU apply for membership by April 15.

Although the university is the newest member of NSA, it contributes unity to the meeting, according to Gleason.

"Whenever they wanted a decision, they came to us," he added.

The workshop, which was centered on the theme of higher education, passed a resolution, that the legislature should not make any cuts in the budget for the state's educational institutions. This was passed at almost the same time the legislature approved the cuts.

Gleason's new job involves trying to attract new schools in to joining NSA. It ties in with AUSG's new program on concentration on junior colleges, only one JC in the state is an NSA member. That is Flint JC. The other members of NSA are Wayne, Marygrove, University of Michigan, Central Michigan and Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

One of the main events for Holmes in his new position will be the organization of the association's regional assembly on student governments to be held here in the fall.

The 60 delegates to the workshop also worked on ways to implement the $25,000 Ford Foundation grant. The money was given to investigate student responsibility in higher education. Wayne and Ferris have been selected as pilot campuses for the grant this year.

Cellist Presented In Senior Recital

The music department will present Grace Taylor Field, cellist, in her senior recital, Tuesday, April 29, at 8. The performance will be held in the Auditorium.

Mrs. Field has made many appearances both on and off campus during her four years here at MSU.

The program for the evening will include Sonata in E Minor by Antonio Vivaldi; Concerto in D Minor by Edvard Lalo; Sonata in E Minor for violin and piano by Brahms; and three shorter pieces: Lamento by Gabriel Marie; Intermezzo by Katharine Lucke; and Piece in C Minor by Nadia Boulanger.

ROTC Units Parade In Practice Session

The parade season begins today for ROTC units with a joint Army-Air Force practice parade at 4 p.m. at Jensen Field.

The alternating command will be the responsibility of the Air Force with the Army taking command on May 13 for the Awards Day parade.

HEARING FOR THE French farce, "Pathelin," are (l-r) Ed Jurney, Detroit sophomore; Jane Tobey, Manistee junior, and Joseph Johnston, Bergland junior. In this play, presented Thursday, dialogue will be in French.

Students to Present Old French Farce

15th Century Play Slated
To Open Thursday Evening

"Master Pierre Pathelin," 15th century French farce, will open Thursday at 8:00 p.m. in the Music Aud.

Madame Marguerite Juliet directs the characters in prose version of this comedy. Madame Miller has directed the French plays in the last years.

Edward Flournoy, Detroit sophomore, plays the role of Jean. His wife, Guillemette, portrayed by Jane Tobey, Manistee junior, Guillaume Jockey is played by Harold Miller, Pittsburgh, Penn., senior.

Joseph Johnston, Bergland sophomore, plays the part of hault l'Ainelet. The judge characterized by William ending, East Lansing senior.

Pathelin has been in the planing and staging since the beginning of winter term. The department of foreign languages has collaborated to the correct inflections and diction that are important in making a foreign play. The play itself is an interaction between Guillemette, the wife and Guillaume Jockey, the draper. She must convince Guillaume that Pathelin, her husband, has been in bed 11 weeks.

The farce evolves around the patronizations of the people they are portrayed in their own language and setting.

Annual Election of New Officers Held by 'Friends'

The Friends of the MSU Library elected new officers at an annual meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at the library. David Randall, book librarian at Indiana University, who spoke on the department in a book collection in Mid-West universities, was elected president. The officers are: president, Dr. Kumber, division of sociology; director, vice president, Paul Bagwell, head of the skills department on leave absence; William Drew, head of plant pathology; Mrs. Ramsey Haynes, secretary; Jackson Towne, MSU librarian and treasurer; Philip MSU vice president and treasurer.

The Friends of the Library was founded in 1943. Membership is open to all.

Cadet Wing Staff Posts Assigned

The department of air science has announced that Cadet Robert Swanson, Crawfordville, Ind., junior, has assumed command of the Air Force ROTC Cadet Wing.

Swanson, a member of Blue Key, Alpha Phi Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Arnold Air Society, will hold the post until June 1959.

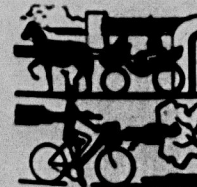

Cadet Peter East, Manhattan, N.Y., senior, has been named to serve as Deputy Wing Commander. Cadet East, an honors college student, is the commander of the AFROTC Air Police, winner of the freshman Scabbard and Blade Award, and is tentatively named as a Distinguished Air Science Cadet.

A member of Psi Chi, psychology honorary and Arnold Air Society, East is in a non-flying AFROTC category.

A third top position in the Cadet Wing will be filled by Cadet Paul Woodruff, Lansing junior, who has been named Wing Executive Officer. Woodruff, a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Green Helmet and Arnold Air Society, is in the AFROTC engineering category.

Other juniors assigned to staff positions are: Cadet Woodell Heaton, Bellevue, Neb., Administrative Officer; Cadet Chester Pelton, Waterbury, Director of Personnel; Dan Berkuchin, Hollywood, Operations Officer; Cadet Harvey Rosenberg, Detroit, Director of Material; Cadet Robert Dove, Hyattsville, Md., Wing Inspector; Kenneth Jonker, Grand Haven, Director of Controller; Jerry Flood, East Lansing, Information Services Officer.

Commanders of cadet groups are: Charles Heidt, Detroit; Warner Johnson, Muskegon; Wesley Kilporen, Spartan Village; Kenneth Mills, Perry; Bruce Richardson, New Castle, N.H.; Monte Stuck, Lansing; Kenneth Van Howe, Roseville; and Jon Lundberg, East Lansing.

Given Warm Reception

American Cagers Arrive in Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — American basketball players reached Moscow Monday night and received a welcome from Soviet athletes and officials warm enough to melt the cold war.

Klieg lights glared and movie cameras hummed as the 24 men and women players plus officials stepped from a sleek Soviet jet airliner, which brought them from Prague.

"It looks like we are in," commented per Margaret (Babe) Holloran, 125-pound member of the Nashville Business College women's team which along with the men will face the Russians in a series of games.

The first games are scheduled in Moscow's Sports Palace Thursday and Friday nights. Games are slated in Tbilisi April 27, 28 and Leningrad May 4, 5.

A large crowd gathered at the Moscow airport for the Americans' rival. A loud cheer went up when the players disembarked.

In the official greeting party were Maigons Valdamanis of Riga, captain of the Russian team, and Ian Kruminsch, the seven-foot-three Soviet center who played on the Olympic team at Melbourne in 1956.

Through an interpreter one of the Russian players told Kellum Johnson of Dallas, president of the amateur athletic union:

"We lost last time we met but this time we are planning to win."

Reference was to the Olympic games at Helsinki, and Melbourne in which U. S. men's teams beat the Russians. Johnson, who said the teams came through the trip in good shape, said: "Our players have two aims, first, to beat the Russians, second, to see as much of the Soviet Union as possible."

Sergei Resonov, president of the Soviet Basketball Federation, formally greeted the American athletes, welcoming them on a radio microphone which was thrust to the edge of the plane.

H. O. Ball, president of the Nashville Business College whose AAU championship team furnished six members of the women's squad, said he brought a letter from the governor of Tennessee to Russia's Premier Khrushchev.

Ball also said he was offering two scholarships at his college to a deserving Soviet boy and girl. Most of the men's players are from the National Champion Peroria, Ill., City.

Aid to Griddler Brings Ruling

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist Athletic Director Matty Bell Monday called a probation slapped on the school "the most absurd thing I ever heard of."

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Monday placed the school on one-year probation. It said the school drew the penalty for obtaining a summer job for a prospective football player. The NCAA ruled the player involved failed to meet job specification and said the job was "tailor made to meet his needs."

Bell said he assumed NCAA referred to Glynn Gregory, freshman football halfback and a baseball player from Abilene, Tex. He said that was the case the school had discussed with the NCAA.

The athletic director said Gregory was employed by the Ray Oil Co. as a representative in West Texas.

"They required him to be on the job and he did the job he was required to do," Bell said.

"I think it is a very unfair decision," Bell added.

The athletic director said Gregory obtained information for oil companies on wells.

"He wasn't even paid when he was let off to go to the high school all-star game (which precedes fall college football practice each year). They docked him those two weeks."

There are lots of kids paid more than he was in the oil field. He wasn't overpaid."

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director who made the announcement, said the penalty against Southern Methodist is not considered very major in that the student involved "did do some work on the job and did not receive exorbitant pay."

Seattle's Coach Resigns In Face of Probation

SEATTLE (AP) — John Castellani, athletic director and head basketball coach at Seattle University, resigned Monday two hours after the NCAA placed the school on two-year probation for his recruiting practices.

He said he had not been asked to quit as a result of the disciplinary action, but felt it would be for the good of the school. He said he had intended giving up coaching by the end of the year anyway.

"I have no future plans to coach," Castellani said.

He denied there had been any pressure on him as a result of the NCAA crackdown, but added in a formal statement: "In light of the penalties imposed on Seattle University, it is my considered opinion that my resignation as head coach and athletic director would best serve the interests of the university."

"It is unfortunate that my efforts in behalf of the school should be interpreted as at variance with the rules established by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. as I still believe that I am innocent of any wrong doing. I acted in good faith."

Castellani, who came to Seattle two years ago from Notre Dame where he was freshman basketball coach, led the Chieftains this season to the finals of the NCAA basketball championships.

He was accused by the NCAA of offering two prospective basketball players monthly payments of $50 and $200, respectively, but no money ever changed hands.

THE TEMPO OF PRACTICE is stepped up as players go all out to earn their places on the football team. The play is rough and injuries keep piling up. Right now the varsity is working out for the annual Old Timers Game to be held May 3 at Spartan Stadium.

Another Wilson Shines at State

By CHUCK RICHARDS

Wilson and Michigan State are synonymous. First it was John, then Pat, now another Wilson has stepped in to fill the shoes.

Tom Wilson, a freshman, just couldn't go to school anywhere else. John was the first to enter State. He played defensive half-back when Biggie Munn was having his wonderful unbeaten years. John later became a Rhodes scholar, a noteworthy distinction for a football player.

Pat quarterbacked the Spartan eleven and the basketball team two years ago, and also performed well in the classroom. John is currently working as an administrative assistant at State while Pat is in the service.

"Did Tom take the last of the Wilson brothers, consider any other college than State?"

The only other school I considered going to was Notre Dame," he confessed. "But I knew just about everybody here."

Wilson family is an institution at Laporte. One friend who met Tom recently tells of his trip to visit at Laporte.

"We weren't sure how to find the house," he recalls, "so we stopped and asked the first person we saw in the middle of town. He told us just where they lived, as if everybody knew. I think everyone in town knows where the Wilson house is."

and liked them so much. No, my brothers didn't try to influence me, although I have been coming here about eight years to watch them play."

One of the many friends Tom has made at State is backfield coach Sonny Grandelius, a friend of the whole family. He played ball with John, coached Pat, and now is coaching Tom.

"Tom is a real fine player and is doing a good job," said Grandelius. "He looks like he'll be one of our finer quarterbacks despite that injured knee (suffered last fall). He is an all-around student and a real smart fellow."

The youngest Wilson was the most spectacular of the three in high school. He was an All-State performer two years in both football and basketball at Laporte High.

Ernestine Gymnasts Pace Canadian Tourney

By LARRY GUSTIN

Michigan State's Ernestine Russell won first places in every event she entered in the Eastern Canadian gymnastics championships held Saturday at Windsor, Ont.

Competing unattached, members of the Spartan NCAA championship team also left their mark in the men's division.

Test Marvezko took first in parallel bars and still rings, and came in second in the all-around event. He also tied for first with another Spartan, Cal Girard, on the side horse, and was third on the horizontal bar.

Stan Tarshis was first in horizontal bar, and Dick Becker won the free exercise event. Girard was second in parallel bars and tied with State's Sandy Horn for third on the still rings. Girard's fourth place in the all-around and Herman Junker's fifth on the side horse completed the Spartans' scoring.

While Ernestine and the varsity were competing unattached at Windsor, the freshmen and two women gymnasts competed at M. Pleasant in the Michigan AAU meet.

Miki Worfold was first in trampoline, second in parallel bars and sixth in side horse vault.

Hal Shorr tied for first on the horizontal bar, was first in parallel bars event, first in the all-around event and second on the side horse.

John Daniels was first in free exercise and first in tumbling. Chuck Thompson was first in trampoline, and second in tumbling. Tom Higgins placed first in side horse and tied for first on the horizontal bar.

Since the Spartan team consisted of freshmen, it was ineligible for a team rating. Flint Junior College placed first.

Auburn Hardest Hit By Ruling

Seattle, SMU Draw 1-Year Probations

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association Monday slapped a new 3-year probation on Auburn and handed one year probationary periods to Seattle University and Southern Methodist.

Auburn, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press football poll last fall, is finishing the season year of a 3-year probationary period handed out in May 1957. The new penalty extends until Sept. 3, 1961.

Seattle, runnerup to Kentucky for the NCAA basketball title for this year, was found guilty of giving illegal financial aid to two prospective players. Seattle's probation will end Sept. 1960.

Southern Methodist drew the penalty for obtaining a summer job for a prospective football player. The NCAA ruled the player involved failed to meet job specifications and said the job was "tailor made to meet his needs."

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, called the decision given Auburn the "most severe in the group's enforcement history. Only the year suspension handed North Carolina State in 1956, and action taken against Kentucky basketball teams several years ago outstripped the move."

The NCAA said it moved Auburn "under a prospective player's ill-fated financial aid for himself and his family." Keeping with NCAA policy, Byers refused to identify the athlete involved, but the Birmingham News said it was quarterback Don Fuell of Guntersville, Ala.

The NCAA dealt more severely with Auburn since Alabama school was still in probation. The final year of Auburn's present probation does not bar the Plainsman from NCAA title events or post-season bowl games, but the new penalty bars them from all such events.

In the Seattle case the NCAA said the school's head basketball coach offered two prospective athletes financial aid. Byers said one case involved $250 per month and the other $200 per month, but he added, "No money changed hands in either case."

The action against Seattle bars the school from NCAA basketball title competition and participation in mid-season and post-season tournaments.

Byers said the penalty against Southern Methodist was "a considered major in that student involved" and no work on the job and did not receive exorbitant pay.

Announcement of the penalties came at the end of a two-day session by the NCAA executive council.

Ernestine and the varsity were competing unattached at Windsor, the freshmen and two women gymnasts competed at M. Pleasant in the Michigan AAU meet.

Donovan, Lary Stage Fense Duel

McDermott's Hit Wins for Bengals

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey McDermott lined a pinch single to centerfield in his first appearance with the Detroit Tigers Monday and gave them a 2-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

The lean southpaw, who has been in action as a pitcher, relief pitcher Ray Moore with the smash that scored pinch runner Johnny Groth from second base. Groth was running on a double by McDermott, whose lead-off hit dictated the outcome of the game.

For eight innings it was a pitching duel between Donovan and Detroit starter Lary. Lary was lifted for pinch hitter Bill Taylor, who hit a single to start an eighth inning that ended Detroit's lead.

Kobsmen Prepare For Big 10 Opener

By HARDY CHRIST

Although the Spartan baseball nine won two easy victories over Albion College Saturday, there will be no letup in the practice schedule this week as the Spartans prepare to open the Big 10 season against the University of Michigan.

State will play a three-game series against the Wolverines this weekend, with the curtain-raiser being played here Friday and a doubleheader at Ann Arbor Saturday.

The Spartans resumed work-outs Monday with an intrasquad game. These will continue until Wednesday, when they will concentrate only on batting and fielding practice.

"The games against Albion helped the players both physically and psychologically," Coach John Kobs said. "They proved to us that we have a fine hustling, hitting, and pitching team this year also."

The Spartan coach was amazed at the hitting attack which was displayed against the Britons. Thirty-seven hits were included in the two games.

Four veteran pitchers, Ron Perranoski, Bob Rabias, Dick Radatz, and Bill Mills all hurled brilliantly, holding Albion to only a single run in the double bill.

Perranoski and Rabias did superb jobs, holding the Britons scoreless in the first game. Perranoski hurled the first five innings, striking out five batters. He was in a jam only once, that coming in the third inning when Albion loaded the bases.

Rabias fanned six hitters in the four innings that he pitched. Only in the ninth did he get into trouble, when he walked a batter and another got one of the two hits off him.

The infield is set, with Gerry Stiller at first base, Capt. Frank Palamara at second, Gary Warner at third, and Dick Golden at shortstop.

Kobs was impressed with the work of Don Gilbert behind the plate. Gilbert hit three doubles Saturday, and his hustle paid off. He legged two of the doubles out with expert baserunning, and also scored all the way from first base on a teammate's single.

In the outfield, John Fleser, Dean Look, and John Russell all merited praise from the coach. Fleser knocked in the first two runs of the afternoon against Albion, and also made a circus catch of a foul ball.

Look responded with a homer and two doubles, and Russell chipped in with a pair of hits, one a double.

Coach Kobs also gained confidence in his bench strength. His second stringers played parts of both games, and proved that they can be counted upon to fill in whenever needed.

The double victory over the Britons brought State's record to eight wins against four losses.

Bobbed Fans Want Event In Olympics

PARIS (AP)—The International Bobsled Federation is still fighting to get its event reinstated in the 1960 Olympic winter games at Squaw Valley, Calif., and has high hopes of success.

Count Renaud De La Fregeoniere, president of the international federation, said the question will come up for a final decision at the international Olympic committee session starting May 14 in Tokyo.

The bobsled event was thrown out of the 1960 Olympics when the IOC met in Sofia last fall. At that time, Prentice Hale, president of the Squaw Valley organizing committee, told the IOC that only two nations had definitely promised to take part.

Olympic rules provide that events must be held only if 12 nations are entered. Since construction of a bobsled run would cost about $750,000 and contracts would have to be let quickly, Hale asked permission to drop the event. The IOC agreed.

The international federation—led by the Italians, who have been strong in this event—immediately reacted with a "we wuz robbed" attitude. They claimed the letter asking about participants was sent to National Olympic Committees, who replied without checking the bobsled federations.

Pastrano Outpoints Bygraves

Neither Fighter Shows Any Power

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Willie Pastrano of New Orleans, third-ranking heavyweight contender, outpointed Joe Bygraves of Jamaica Monday night in a fast but, rather uneventful 10-round fight at Granby Halls.

There were no knockdowns. Neither fighter was able to show anything resembling a knockout punch.

Although outweighted 17 1/2 pounds by the former British Empire champion, the American gained the undisputed decision with his clever footwork and flexible left hand. Pastrano weighed 187 1/2 pounds. Bygraves checked in at 205.

The Associated Press scorecard gave seven rounds to the American, three to the Jamaican. It was Pastrano's third victory in a British ring in six months.

Bygraves forced the fight in the early stages, rushing Pastrano with a two-listed attack which was vigorous if not damaging. The Jamaican seemed to have the edge in the second, third and sixth rounds although Pastrano met the attack with effective counter measures.

Pastrano let Bygraves attack in the early stages, moving out of the aggressor's way with nimble foot work and beating a steady tattoo on the Jamaican's head with a sharp, rapier-like jab.

When Bygraves showed signs of tiring, the American plunged into the attack. He belted Bygraves with rights and lefts to the body and several times Bygraves appeared on the verge of exhaustion. But he never fell.

Pastrano received $14,000 for his part of the $45,000 gate receipts paid by a sellout crowd of 6,000. Bygraves' purse was not revealed.

Harris May Get Shot at Floyd

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a strong possibility Monday that undefeated Roy Harris of Texas might get a shot at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in New York this summer.

The 24-year-old school teacher-fighter from Cut and Shoot has one good thing going for him. He hasn't been declared ineligible by Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato. If Roy and his manager, Lou Viscusi, remain silent for a while, they'll have a better chance of getting the title fight.

Of the leading contenders, D'Amato already has ruled out Eddie Machen, Zora Foley, Willie Pastrano and Nino Valdes. Winner of all 22 of his pro fights, Harris is ranked third by the NBA and fourth by Ring Magazine.

D'Amato said Monday he has five different deals on the file. But once again he declined to mention names of possible opponents, dates or sites.

"I want to repeat," said the manager, "that I am working on five different fights for Patterson. But I will not say anything about them until the deals are closed. If any of the people I am negotiating with reveal these negotiations they automatically will be out of the picture."

He said that several fights he had lined up in the past were torpedoed by premature disclosures.

He did say, however, that several Texans, including Gordon McLendon, a radio-television figure, and a number of oil men, had talked to him about a possible title fight.

D'Amato said he hadn't spoken to anyone at Roosevelt Raceway about staging a Patterson defense at the Harness Plant in August. Gene Ward, New York Daily News sports writer, said in a copyrighted story Monday that Patterson's next defense would be made sometime in August at the Raceway.

But Emil Lence, who promoted Patterson's first defense against Hurricane Jackson at the Polo Grounds last July, said he had been approached by a Roosevelt representative.

"They asked me about promoting a fight there and I'm interested," said Lence. "Nothing concrete was discussed. However, the Polo Grounds people were nice to me last year and I may go back there."

"I've got two or three opponents in mind but I can't say anything about them. I'm going to discuss things with Gus. Harris is interesting. He's undefeated and he hasn't loused himself up in a bad fight like Eddie Machen and Zora Foley."

Machen and Foley, the top two contenders, fought to a draw at San Francisco April 9. "That eliminated the two of them," said D'Amato.

Asked about offers reportedly made to Patterson to meet the winner of Wednesday night's Nino Valdes-Mike DeJohn fight at Syracuse, D'Amato mapped:

"They're looking for publicity. These managers try to use Patterson to get fights from the IBC (International Boxing Club)." D'Amato is feuding with the IBC.

"Valdes had a chance to fight Patterson in England," said D'Amato. "I told Bobby Gleason (Valdes' manager) to sit tight. But he ran to the IBC and got several fights for Valdes from them."

Yankees' Lumpe Out of Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Infielder Jerry Lumpe of the New York Yankees severely sprained his left ankle when he stepped on a loose ball Monday and will be out of action for two and a half to three weeks.

The accident occurred during practice before the game with Boston at Yankee Stadium. He hobbled off the field. X-rays taken at Lenox Hill hospital were negative.

He is the third Yankee to be sidelined. Shortstop Tony Kubek is recovering from a pulled muscle in his right leg and outfielder Harry Simpson has a mending right wrist which was broken during an exhibition game April 7 at Greenville, S.C.

THE POSTMAN COMETH

I have recently received several letters from readers which have been so interesting, so piquant, so je ne sais quoi, that I feel I must share them with all of you. The letters and my replies follow:

SIR:

Maybe you can help me. I came up to college eight years ago. On my very first day I got into a bridge game in the student union. I am still in the same bridge game. I have never gone to class, cracked a book, or paid any tuition. All I do is play bridge.

To explain my long absence and keep the money coming from home, I told a harmless little lie. I said I was in medical school. This made Dad (my father) terribly proud. It also enabled me to keep playing bridge. We were both very happy.

But all good things must come to an end. Mine ended when I came home for Christmas vacation. I arrived to find that Sister (my sister) was in the hospital with an ingrown spleen. Dr. Norbert Sigados, the eminent ingrown spleen surgeon, was scheduled to operate, but unfortunately he was run over by a hot-food cart on the way to the scrubbing room.

"Oh, never mind," chuckled Dad (my father). "Harlow (me) will fix Sister (my sister)."

Well sir, what could I do? If I told the truth I would make a laughingstock out of Dad (my father) who had been bragging about me all over town. Also I would get yanked out of school which would be a dirty shame just when I am beginning to understand the weak club bid.

There was nothing for it but to brazen it out. I got Sister (my sister) apart all right, but I must confess myself completely at a loss as to how to put her back together again. Can you suggest anything? They're getting pretty surly around here.

Sincerely,
Harlow Protein

Dear Harlow:

Indeed I do have the solution for you—the solution that has never failed me when things close in: Light up a Marlboro! Knots untie as you puff that fine rich tobacco. Shade becomes light as that grand flavor comes freely and friendlily through that splendid filter. Who can stay glum when Marlboro gives you such a lot to like? Not I. Not you. Not nobody.

SIR:

Just off the campus where I go to school there is a lake called Lake Widgwan. Thirty years ago when my father was an undergraduate here he went fishing one day in Lake Widgwan and dropped his Duke pin in the water. He dived for days but never found it.

Just yesterday—thirty years later, mark you!—I went fishing in Widgwan. I caught a four-pound bass. I took the fish home, cut it open, and what do you think I found inside?

You guessed it! Two tickets to the Dempsey-Frigo fight.

Sincerely,
Willie Whyde

MSU Dems Set Plans for Drive

The MSU Young Dems launch their election year organization drive tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Union. Organizational plans for the remainder of spring term will be drawn up at this meeting.

Spearheading the attempt to revive the Young Dems are Thomas I. Hansen, East Lansing graduate student; Richard McBane, graduate student; and Lyle G. Sumerix, East Lansing senior. Former members, they expect to enroll many old and new members.

Winter term activity consisted of monthly meetings with the Ingham County Democratic Party. These meetings will continue along with on-campus activities, said Hansen.

U.S. Gov. Phillip A. Hart, Democratic candidate for United States Senate, Sen. John E. Swanson, Plymouth, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, and state administrative officials seeking re-election are expected to speak at spring and fall term meetings.

The club will meet every other Tuesday night.

Kellogg Scene Of Hotel Dance 'Spring Swing'

"Spring Swing Dance" complete with terrace dancing off the Big 10 room at Kellogg Center (providing the weather holds) has been planned Saturday from 8-12 by the Fresh-Soph Council of the Hotel Assn.

The dance is for hotel students and their guests, according to Jack Bonne, publicity chairman, and tickets are $1.25 per couple.

Bonne stated the price includes refreshments consisting of hors d'oeuvres, honeydew melon baskets and punch.

Music will be by the band of John Bigelow, Lansing graduate student majoring in music. Bonne said that during intermission, men will be tapped for membership in Sigma Pi Epsilon, national hotel men's honorary.

U. S. May Send Man Around Earth in Space Ship Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States might be able in two or three years to send a man around the world in a space ship, Dr. John Hagen told Congress Monday.

But Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, told the House Space Committee he does not think the objective should be to get a volunteer into space as soon as possible.

"We shouldn't use a man as a guinea pig," he said. "The aeromedical people have plans for instruments to be sent up that would tell them much of what could be learned by sending a man into space."

Hagen said he was not differing fundamentally with his Army opposite, Dr. Werner Von Braun, who told the same committee last week that within a year a man could be projected about 150 miles into space and be brought back safely.

Hagen said it is about time for an international conference to set rules on what kinds of satellites may be put into the sky and decide what radio transmitting equipment they might carry.

He said he is convinced Russia has a master plan for further space research and the United States must consider what it might do to keep abreast.

Saltonstall Supports Ike's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) Monday introduced President Eisenhower's controversial defense reorganization plan and announced it is "in sympathy with the President's objectives."

Saltonstall is senior Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee. Sen. Tyng (Minn.) and Cooper (R-Ky.) announced they would join him in sponsoring the legislation, which Eisenhower sent to Congress Wednesday.

Two Democrats also announced support of the bill. Sen. Symington of Missouri, Clark of Pennsylvania, said for an end to the criticism said already is being directed at the plan by members of Congress before it has been enacted in detail.

Symington said this is a time when both parties are sniping away at the plan. The use of such words as "Cooper" said some opponents are suggesting that Saltonstall House committees won't support the plan. He said there is much involved in let that pass.

Thye said he feels Eisenhower has demonstrated the leadership the country needs proposing the plan.

Meanwhile, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said he expects Senate hearings to be delayed while the House considers the reorganization proposal.

Sticklers!

WHAT IS THE BEST PRESENT YOU CAN GIVE A FRIEND WHO'S GOING TO EUROPE? (SEE PARAGRAPH AT RIGHT)

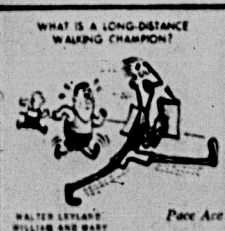

BOH VOYAGE presents? You might give a substantial checking account in the Left Bank of Paris. A deck of cards for playing London Bridge. Or walking shoes in which to Rome Italy. Better yet, give Luckies—and make your present a Partin' Carton! A Lucky, after all, is the best-tasting cigarette anywhere. In Paris you hear, "Un Luckee? C'est merveilleux!" (That's French! Roughly translated, it means: it's all fine, light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. (That's advertising!) Just light up a Lucky and see for yourself! (Now, that's smart!)

Stuck for dough?

START STICKLING! MAKE $2

We'll pay $25 for every Lucky you never get used! So start Stickling! They're so easy you can think of them in seconds! Sticklers are simple with two-word rhyming names. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do anything but) send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy Joe Lucky, Box 674, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
