Gen. Arnold Addresses Cadet Grads

Two Presented President's Award

"It is imperative that we recognize that freedom is not free," a graduating class of 120 Army and Air Force ROTC cadets was told Saturday morning during commissioning exercises at Old College Field.

Lt. Gen. William Arnold, commanding general of the Fifth Army, emphasized that "we must never forget that America was born in men and women who valued freedom and opportunity more than they valued security."

ROTC training provides some of the knowledge, training and vision necessary to help keep America's spirit strong, the general asserted.

The three-star general warned against the double threat of a communist conspiracy, backed by armed forces of over six million men, and the "hideous pattern of hate, of atheism, and of intellectual perversion which saps the moral stamina of men, impoverishes their minds, and corrodes their souls."

Gen. Arnold emphasized the importance of the ROTC program to national security and the educational value to American young men.

During World War II approximately 100,000 ROTC graduates served as Army officers in all grades from second lieutenant to five-star general, the general stated.

That general—George Marshall—credited the availability of suitable Army officers in World War II to a reserve group "largely the product of the ROTC," Gen. Arnold said.

The general claimed that success against the communists depends upon our spiritual and moral strength, an unswerving purpose in defending the right, and a sustained vigilance.

America's spirit, so long as it remains incorruptible, will be our most formidable armament, he stated.

Cadet Col. Russell Hare, New Baltimore Army ROTC student, and Cadet Col. Alan Zoss, Lansing student of the AFOTC, received the President's Award for the various ROTC programs.

President Hannah cited them for their outstanding leadership and their contribution to the ROTC program at MSU.

Stevenson Urges Disarmament, End of Nuclear Weapon Tests

Addresses Graduation Ceremony

2,349 Honored In Stadium Rites

By JOHN BARTON
State News Staff Writer

The United States should work for disarmament and the cessation of testing of nuclear weapons, the graduating seniors of MSU's 98th annual commencement were told in Spartan Stadium Sunday.

Adlai Stevenson, former governor of Illinois and two-time candidate for the U.S. presidency, dressed in his scarlet Oxford robes, told the 2,349 graduates that "because even the testing of nuclear weapons is incompatible with human welfare, I have urged for years that we take the initiative toward an agreement to end such tests."

Now Russia has taken the lead, and there is reason to hope that we can reach a reasonable agreement on methods of inspection against violation," he said.

Stevenson, who will leave soon on a European trip including many areas of Russia formerly banned for tourists, advised that the U.S. accept the principle of Soviet equality in power.

"Such a proposal conflicts with present policy, I know. But certainly equality is closer to reality than the concept that Russia is backward economically and that it is sure to collapse from internal defects," he stated.

Stevenson said we must face the facts about world problems today and stop deceiving ourselves.

As an example of what he meant by deceiving ourselves, he recalled that two years ago he stated that Soviet economic development was probably a more important fact than her military power.

"A very high official in our government indignantly replied that such statements of praise for Soviet economy do the cause of the free world great damage."

Stevenson said we must be willing to assume the credit role which Western European nations are putting down after 150 years. He asserted we react to economic problems as though 19th century conditions still existed.

Let us not forget that as the American effort is overshadowed by recession and drought, the Russians are advancing, and Russian-Chinese production is expanding," Stevenson warned.

As another method to build confidence, Stevenson proposed that we sponsor an International Medical Research and Health Year similar to the International Geophysical year that just ended.

Two composers from MSU shared in the annual Student Composers Radio Awards given by Broadcast Music, Inc.

Jack Norman Kinnel, Dearborn, Ph.D. candidate, a composition, received a $1,000 prize for his "Concerto Grosso for Orchestra and Wind Quintet."

The winning composition is part of the work done for his degree, which he expects to obtain this summer.

Richmond Browne of Flint won $500 for his "Overture 1957." Browne completed his bachelors degree in music composition at Michigan State in 1956. He now is studying under a fellowship at the Yale University School of Music.

De Gaulle Turns Eye To Africa

Summons Cabinet To Decide Policy

PARIS (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle turned his attentions Sunday to straightening out France's troubles in Tunisia and Morocco—Algeria's North African neighbors.

Moving rapidly after clamping an uneasy lid on bubbling Algeria, the new premier summoned his cabinet for a session today on relations with those two independent nations.

The session is likely also to see Finance Minister Antoine Pinay give his views on France's shaky financial position.

There were rumors—which could not be verified—that Jacques Soustelle, the political adviser to the Algerians insurgents, would come to the meeting for a cabinet decision on how he could best serve the nation under De Gaulle. But the guess was that Soustelle might be named as De Gaulle's special assistant on Algerian affairs.

De Gaulle is tackling the problems in Tunisia and Morocco after winning the full cabinet support for his plan for Algeria. The plan calls for complete equality between the Algerians and the Europeans in Algeria.

The Tunisians were reported to feel that the plan slams the door on avenues of negotiation for a North African federation of Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco. That idea has been loosely endorsed by De Gaulle himself in the past. The chief trumpeters for it now are President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia and King Mohammed V of Morocco.

Both rulers in the former French protectorates also want removal of French troops from their nations and the resumption of economic aid. Both realize, however, that some Algerian settlement must precede any real betterment of French relations with Morocco and Tunisia.

Salan Invites Rebels To Work with French

ALGIERS (AP) — Gen. Raoul Salan, civil and military boss in Algeria, Sunday sought to smooth ruffled feelings among insurgent public safety committees by inviting them to work with him for a French Algeria. Salan was given top administrative power in Algeria three days ago by Gen. Charles de Gaulle, new French premier. Sunday Salan issued a message of the scores of public safety committees in Algeria which helped bring De Gaulle to power.

Toyman Hail U. S. President

GIENGEN, GERMANY, (AP) — For toy-makers of Giengen, one U.S. president towers above all others and Sunday they honored him with a colorful parade and folk festival.

The local hero is Theodore Roosevelt and his fame here has nothing to do with San Juan hill, the big stick of bull moose politics. He is revered here as the man for whom the teddy bear was named.

This little Wuertemberg town is the birthplace of the teddy bear toy whose fame by now is worldwide. Toy-maker Richard Steiff of Giengen produced the first teddy bear sample in 1903 but it caused no immediate sensation.

The bear's peak success followed the wedding of President Roosevelt's daughter Alice in the White House in 1906. According to local legend, it happened this way:

PRESIDENT HANNAH (left) prepares to confer an honorary Doctor of Law degree on Stevenson (right). Vice-president Hamilton (center) assisted in the ceremony.

Cloudy Skies Can't Dampen Full House at Water Carnival

The weather threatened, but shed only a few drops of rain on Water Carnival's capacity crowd Saturday night on the banks of the Red Cedar.

The three-night run, termed a "big success" by Chairman Peter Zanghi, made hay while the moon shone, but Zanghi could not yet estimate how much the annual senior class event profited.

Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Kappa Phi Sigma earned the largest first place trophy for their "Fountain of the Future" float. "The Harbor that Cradles the World," Alpha Phi and Phi Kappa Phi took second place honors. "Satchmo Uses Hot Jazz to Warm a Cold World," the Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon offering, was third.

Honorable mention went to the pink elephant display of Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Kappa Sigma, Spring Term at Bombay U.

Lebanon May Ask U.S. for Doctrine Help

Spartan pitcher Dick Radatz was elected to captain the 1955 edition of the baseball team. He will replace Frank Palamara, regular second baseman for the past three years, who has used up his eligibility. Radatz sported a season record of six wins and two losses, including a 3-1 record in Big 10 play.

Dean Lock, regular center fielder, has been offered bonus contracts by all 16 major league baseball clubs, but will remain at Michigan State. In addition to his baseball ability, he is a halfback on the varsity football squad.

Senior pitcher Ron Pegrnoski missed the Western Michigan game Saturday as he was at Washington, D.C., trying out with the Senators. He is another Spartan who has been offered a bonus contract by major league clubs.

Senior reserve center Harold King collected his first collegiate base hit in the clash with the Broncos Saturday. After going almost three years without a hit, he singled in the ninth inning, his final time at bat at Michigan State.

Broken Bone Blamed

Tim Tam Tripped in Quest for Triple Crown

NEW YORK. — Was Tim Tam's stranglehold on the 3-year old turf title shattered by a broken foot bone? Or was the Kentucky Derby and Preakness Winner beaten by a better horse in the Belmont stakes?

Those were the questions raised today as horsemen reviewed the appropriately named Irish-bred Cavan's six furlong victory over the Calumet Farm ace in the slowly run mile and one-half race at Belmont Saturday.

Cavan, owned by Joseph E. O'Connell of Boston and trained by Tom Barry who came from County Cork in Ireland, pulled away in the home stretch for his stunning upset. Only the presence of Pete Anderson in saddle kept it from being an all-Irish triumph. Pete was reared on the sidewalks of New York in the German section.

Tim Tam held second safe by 3 1/2 lengths over C. V. Whitney's Flamingo. But once across the finish line, Valenzuela quickly pulled up his horse, dismounted and took off the saddle. Tim Tam definitely was in pain as he limped off the track and then was taken to his barn in a horse ambulance.

Trainer Jimmy Jones lost no time calling for X-rays. He called for additional pictures this morning to determine whether straight races and become the ninth triple crown winner in history, race with Cavan near the end of the field for the first mile.

They both made their moves at the same time, surging to the front with a quarter-mile to go. Cavan, on the rail, took the lead. But Tim Tam, with Ismael Valenzuela playing his whip, was within striking distance for another eighth of a mile.

Then, as if shot out of a cannon, Cavan pulled away. Valenzuela gave the Calumet color blower several cracks of his whip. Tim Tam wobbled out and race was over then and there if Tim Tam had any chance of catching his fast stepping rival.

Tim Tam held second safe by 3 1/2 lengths over C. V. Whitney's Flamingo. But once across the finish line, Valenzuela quickly pulled up his horse, dismounted and took off the saddle. Tim Tam definitely was in pain as he limped off the track and then was taken to his barn in a horse ambulance.

Trainer Jimmy Jones lost no time calling for X-rays. He called for additional pictures this morning to determine whether the son of Tom Fool will be able to race again this year or at all.

The X-rays disclosed a broken sesamoid bone in the right front foot. The bone is in the rear between the ankle and hoof. Tim Tam will be out of action for some time, but no immediate decision will be made on whether he can race again.

Valenzuela gave credence to the belief that Tim Tam suffered his injury in the stretch run.

"Everything was going along fine until the quarter-mile when I asked him to move on that other horse (Cavan)," Valenzuela said. "He started up and then he started to veer out. Then he flattened out completely and when he pulled up on the turn he was lame."

Although Cavan's time of 2:30 was slow by comparison with the American record of 2:26, set by Gallant Fox in winning the race last year, he had plenty of supporters.

The triumph, coming on top of his come-from-behind triumph in the Peter Pan a week ago, was Cavan's fourth in five starts this year. He paid his backers $1180 and earned $73,440 for his owner.

Cavan's future plans are indefinite. He left for Monmouth Park Sunday and he will be entered in all of the important 3-year-old stakes at the New Jersey track. He also is eligible for the rich classic at Arlington Park July 26. There also the $50,000 Yankee Handicap for 3-year olds at Suffolk Downs and it could be that O'Connell would like for the home folks to see his horse.

Cavan Returns to Monmouth, Site of His First Triumph

OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP)— Irish-Bred Cavan, winner of the Belmont Stakes, returned Sunday to Monmouth Park, site of his first racing victory last August 7.

While the 3-year-old colt's trainer, Thomas J. Barry was attending church services in New York, Cavan was welcomed to Monmouth by General Manager Edward J. Bennett.

The chestnut colt, who stunned the turf world with his smashing victory over Tim Tam in the mile and a half Belmont, is expected to be named in several stakes engagements during Monmouth's 30-day meeting opening on Tuesday, including the $25,000 added choice stakes on August 4.

Cavan is owned by Joseph E. O'Connell, retired Boston Banker.

Prep Shot Putter Threatens Mark

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)— Move over Parry O'Brien. They've found the kid who may wreck your shot put records.

He's Dallas Long, a 17-year-old Arizona high school boy who tossed the 16-pound ball 61 feet 10 inches in the Compton Invitational Track meet here Friday night.

Long, almost-unbelievably, heave ranked him as the third greatest shot putter of all time, behind only world record holder O'Brien and Kansas' Bill Nieder. O'Brien's world record, set in 1936 when he was 24, is 63 feet 2 inches.

Long's performance not only cracked all high school records but also bettered the recognized National Collegiate mark by nearly a foot.

Here's what his coach, Vern Wolfe of North Phoenix High School, has to say:

"You may think I'm crazy, but I think he'll hit 70 feet in the time he matures."

Win 5-4 Broncos Edge Spartan Nine

By HARDY CHRIST

The Spartan baseball nine was defeated by Western Michigan University, 5-4, Saturday at Old College Field. It was the final regular season game for both teams.

Western Michigan, champions of the Mid-American conference, beat the 10 champion Spartans, 5-4, Saturday at Old College Field. It was the final regular season game for both teams.

DICK RADATZ, new baseball captain.

Bob Rabias came out to lead off for the Spartans in the sixth and allowed single runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Larry Buckanan led off the Broncos half of the sixth inning with a double, and scored two successive wild pitches in the seventh. Rumohr, second base on an infield hit and a wild throw by Spartan third baseman Dick Radatz, scored on Winesap's single. Rabias held the Broncos in the final two innings but absorbed his third loss of the season. He won two games.

The Spartans came from the bottom of the sixth to tie it a 4-4 game. Capt. Frank Palamara led off with a single, went to third on Dean Lock's single, and scored on Spiller's sacrifice fly ball to right field. State pulled in both the eighth and ninth innings, but scored. Palamara reached on an error in the eighth, and with one out, reserve catcher Harold King singled, but Rumohr, second base, struck out Spiller to force Ron Mariett to tag out to the mound.

In the ninth, Gary Warner led off with a single, but was forced out at second base in pinch hitter John Carter's grounder. Carter was then fanned on Dick Golden's strong ball, and Kearly followed with a single. Palamara ended the game on a grounder to left base.

Kearly led the Spartans attack with three hits in five times at bat. Palamara collected two singles in five times at bat. The game marked the 22nd appearance of nine Spartans, including Capt. Palamara, Ron Pegrnoski, Dick Spiller, Harold King, Kearly, Wayne Don Gilbert, Dean Moss, and Bill Mills.

Nats Edge Tigers In Late Rally, 4-3

Sparked By Ramos' Pitching

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers dropped a decision to the Washington Senators Sunday despite some runs by Gus Zernial, Frank Bolling and Billy Martin. Pedro Ramos pitched the victory on an eight-inning effort with ninth-inning help from Dick Hyde.

It was the fourth victory of the season for Ramos, who had more home-run balls than any major leaguer last season. A two-run burst by the Senators in the eighth provided the victory margin. A double by Ken Aspromonte and two hits filled the bases in the ninth for Washington, and Roy Brown's sacrifice fly and Clint Brown's single drove in the runs. Tom Morgan, second of the Detroit pitchers, was tagged for the loss.

Washington got into the home run act in the sixth inning when Lemon walked his seventh of the season.

Zernial's homer in the seventh was his third of the season. A pinch-hitting role, and the pinch-homer of his career. Zernial's ninth tied him with the major league record with Williams of the Cubs and Billy Hoffman of the Cardinals. Cardinals, Red Legs, and White Sox.

A crowd of 7,904 fans watched the ballgame.

Boston's Bats Beat White Sox, 6-5, 4-1

BOSTON, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox made a clean sweep of a four-game series with Chicago by defeating the White Sox 6-5 on Jackie Jensen's two-run eighth-inning homer and then winning the nightcap 4-1 on a four-run blast by Jimmy Piercy and Gene Stephens.

The White Sox banged out hits including five by Billy Goodman and four by Sherm Lollar, but left 15 runners stranded.

Silent Bob Cery Modest About His Performance

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Husky power Bob Cery appears to be headed for the best year of his career—but he can't wait to go around shouting about it.

If he opens his mouth too much he might break the streak that has held his broken bat in place since May 17.

Because of that wiring job, Kansas City Athletics outfielder has missed only three games; his average has stayed over the .300 mark and he leads the top of the league in home runs.

Cery was batting .344 and had scored 11 home runs when he broke his bat in a collision with Detroit Tigers catcher Red Wilson. Bob was hustling for home runs to score on a bunt when he slammed into Wilson's slider. Wilson was not hurt. The next day, a plastic surgeon worked for an hour in the hospital to mend the damage. On May 22, the hard-hitting Cery went back to work, pushing through his teeth, eating through a straw, taking hits of oxygen between innings and hitting home runs.

His average had dropped to .273 through Saturday, but he had four home runs for a total of 45 runs batted in for a total of 45.

The 32-year-old Cery has provided the principal punch for the Athletics since opening day and, despite the mangled mandible, shows no sign of letting up.

One major difficulty is breathing, a factor that bothered Cery slightly at times even before the accident because of a football-flattened nose. Now, he breathes through both teeth and nose during a hard trip on the basepaths—and then he heads for the oxygen tank.

Base-running is the biggest problem. Of course, if you hit the ball over the fence there's no problem.

Another thing that worries trainer Jim Fwell: there is a chance that Cery might become nauseated and need to vomit. In that case, his physician says, the big outfielder might get food in his lungs.

Fwell believes he has the answer. He carries a pair of wire enjoiners in case Bob needs a slack jaw in a hurry.

Although Bob has the muscle power to break the wires, there apparently is little chance that he will come unwired in another accident.

Physicians said it would take a blow at least as hard as the May 17th collision to open Cery's mouth.

Bob's jaw is scheduled for ungluing June 16. Until then, it's tough getting a quote from the league's top homer hitter.

Yankees Scalped By Indians

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland beat the New York Yankees for the first time this season today 14-1, slugging away for 18 hits while handing the Yanks their worst drubbing of the year in the first game of a doubleheader. Mickey Mantle dropped a fly ball for a three-base error that touched off a five-run Cleveland outburst in the third.

The Indians knocked out starter Johnny Kucks in the first inning when they scored three runs on two singles, Minnie Mirowski's two-run triple and a sacrifice fly by Preston Ward as about 42,000 watched.

There were two out in the third when Mantle dropped Ward's fly for a three-base error. A double by Rocky Colavito, a single by Russ Nixon, a walk to Corrales and a single by Billy Harrell followed by an error by Enos Slaughter let in four runs. Harrell stole home with the fifth.

Colavito opened the four-run fifth with his sixth homer and the Indians continued to attack Art Ditmar with singles by Harrell and Ray Narleski, a double by Bobby Avila and a two-run single by Nixon.

With two gone in the sixth, singles by Nixon and Chico Carrasquel, an error by Marv Thornberry and another single by Harrell accounted for two more runs.

The lone Yank run came in the seventh on singles by Bobby Richardson and Andy Carey and an error by Harrell on Tony Kubek's grounder.

130 Ingham County Youths Compete in Track Finals

The 12th annual Track and Field program for Ingham County grade school boys ended successfully Saturday at Ralph Young Track Field.

The program is sponsored each year by the MSU YMCA in co-operation with fraternities. Boys in area schools are coached by volunteers from the individual houses and compete in preliminaries held at the various schools. The finalists then compete on the MSU track.

This year over 500 boys participated, with 130 making it to the finals, announced Gerry Geske, YMCA Chairman.

Most of the boys are from schools without intramural or inter-scholastic athletics and the Track and Field program is their only chance to participate in coached competition.

Robinson said he would remain in California for 10 days.

As for the Patterson bout he said, boxing is my business, I do it for money.

Co-Presidents Selected

International Clubs Elects Fall Officers

Two men of similar background and ideals were elected co-presidents of the International Club Friday night, marking the first dual presidency of the club in its history.

Sanaullah Kirmani, Pakistan sophomore, and Marouf Hasani, Palestine grad, will share honors and make decisions for the academic year '58-'59. Hasani formally presiding fall term and Kirmani winter term. Both will preside in the spring.

The dual presidency "is a symbol of the spirit of co-operation and understanding that we hope to further among the members of the club," said the presidents.

One of the key planks in their platform is the establishment of a type of representative government, to include a member of each nationality group in campus.

In this clear communication with the nationality groups, they said, they feel that the International Club is the best solution.

Debates, panels and discussions of current world issues are also on the agenda for the coming year.

"We're really very crowded," they said as they glanced around at the four walls of the basement of the International House.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB co-presidents Sanaullah Kirmani and Marouf Hasani confer on the club's constitution, which they plan to revise. Since neither requested a second ballot after the tie vote, they make history as being the club's first co-presidents.

U. S. Demands Return

Helicopter Lands In East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—A big U.S. helicopter with eight army officers and a sergeant aboard strayed into East Germany Saturday and landed in the hands of the Communists. The United States demanded the prompt return of the Army men and their craft.

The U.S. request was presented by Maj. Robert Lambertson, chief American member of the air safety control center in Berlin, through the Soviet delegate at that control center. It was made to the Russians in East Berlin because the United States does not recognize the East German puppet regime. There was no immediate reply.

The army said the helicopter, belonging to its 3rd Armored Division in West Germany, landed at Zwickau, 30 miles east of the border. U.S. authorities assumed the craft on a military exercise, turned east by navigational error in a thunderstorm and ran out of gas.

East Germany, first reported this morning that it was down. The official news agency, ADN, announced that the helicopter Saturday afternoon "was compelled to land in the southern district of Karlmarxstadt and was seized" by police.

The announcement said the East German Foreign Ministry sent the U.S. State Department a protest note, charging that East German air space had been violated.

Allied officials speculated the East Germans might try to use the eight Americans as hostages to force Washington to deal with them directly.
