Calling Cards Trap Hangmen Heads Handle 'Hot Potatoes' At Spartan Roundtable Meet

By DALE FRANK
Spartan Roundtable Meet
President John A. Hannah and Athletic Director Reggie Munn called on the Spartan Roundtable Monday night.
Among the topics:
One of the two hangings of Coach Duffy Daugherty last Sunday night was executed by a pair of Lansing citizens who are neither students nor alumni of MSU. The pair advertised their own crime by stuffing the same with magazines. One of them bore the culprit's name and address. The department of public safety reported there was no word on who handled the hanging—Lansing, Earl Lewis.
"We'd be very unreasonable, after the success we've had in Lansing, to fire people for five letters in one season," Dr. Lewis said.
"I was naturally disappointed that the team was going down, but I wasn't blaming anybody. We'll just have to work it out on next week's game, put our shoulder to the wheel and come out of the cellar next year," Reggie Munn said.
"When the canoes get past Saginaw, they're mine!"
Randy Varner, vice-president of the campus education.
Student Government's Resolution 12, which started a controversy that reached newspapers around the country, was not brought up in detail at the roundtable meeting in Cowles Union.
President Hannah, commenting on the Spartan's losing season (3-1, with one non-conference game remaining), repeated a statement from the Oct. 20 Spartan Roundtable meeting: "I think it is a good idea to have a losing season once in awhile."

Biggie-Duffy 'Rift' Still Unresolved

By LARRY WRUBLEWSKI

The Biggie Munn-Duffy Daugherty rift which supposedly has existed for several years seemed no where close to solution Monday night.
Munn, who fired a verbal barrage at Daugherty and his team for losing five straight and to Minnesota Saturday, 30-12, was met at the Lansing railroad depot Monday morning at 1:30 by four State News reporters.
"We'll have to put our shoulders to the wheel to make our climb from the bottom of the Big 10," Munn said.
"I especially didn't want to lose to my alma mater. (Munn was an All-American guard in 1931 at Minnesota). It really becomes futile when you give the opposition the ball 10 times."
"As you know I'm not one for sitting down and taking defeat. Also one is foolish who thinks he can win all the games."
"I guess the whole thing is sort of a cycle. We've reached the top before and we'll reach it again. This job of rejuvenation will depend on an all-out effort. This means the students, alumni, team and coaches will have to work together."
Munn also said that he "naturally" was "sticking behind" all Spartan staff personnel, including Daugherty.
He also made it certain he had no plans for firing any coaches.
"We'll have to make some changes in our approach to rebuilding life in our football team," one observer felt that Michigan State would now increase its recruiting policy of getting more football players.
This year State has the smallest number of football freshmen on scholarship. Some 40 tenders were offered to prospective high school athletes last spring 12 ended up at schools outside the Big 10.
According to a close MSU official, one Big 10 school has 70 football players on scholarship. A maximum of 100 tenders can be offered by any individual Big 10 school.
Rumors have circulated that Munn might take the athletic directorship at Minnesota. "I have no comment on rumors that I will leave Michigan State to go to Minnesota," Munn said.

think it is a good idea to have a losing season once in awhile."

He added: "I didn't think at the time we'd lose five straight. When we have a winning streak winning becomes important. We grow to expect it. But life isn't that way. You don't win all the time."

"The directors, coaching staff and team are just as competent this year as last. We learn by an experience like this and I think we'll have to all work together pushing and pulling to do the job next year."

In other discussion, several seniors arranged to meet and formulate a proposal to excuse certain third term seniors from final exams. The proposal will be referred to Vice President for Academic Affairs Thomas Hamilton, who will take it to the Academic Council and Senate.

"But I gave up long ago predicting what the faculty would do with anything," Dr. Hamilton added.
Several students expressed concern with the enrollment of officer system. Hamilton explained that many officers have excessive loads, some having to advise 150 students.
He recommended students inform him of specific unsatisfactory conditions.
Hamilton was also asked if students might be excused at noon Nov. 28, the day before Thanksgiving. He said no.

Reds Suggest Two Treaties On Test Bans

By LARRY WRUBLEWSKI

GENEVA (AP) — Russia suggested Monday the negotiation of two separate treaties on nuclear test suspension despite Western arguments that the banning of tests and the control of such a ban must go together in a single document.
In a second international conference in Geneva, the Soviet Union proposed still another treaty — this one to prohibit planes carrying nuclear weapons from flying over the territory of other countries or the high seas.
At the end of a day of intense negotiation, the three-nation conference on nuclear test suspension and the ten-nation technical talks on surprise attack problems both remained deadlocked.
A Western source said the Russians still were ducking on the control issue in the nuclear talks. Under the two-treaty proposal advanced by Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin the Russians again insisted that the United States and Britain must first agree to suspend tests before discussions begin on control features.

Seek Termination of Licenses

The East Lansing City Council Monday night unanimously adopted a motion to notify the Michigan Liquor Control Commission of the results of the Nov. election and to recommend that existing licenses for the sale of spirits in East Lansing be terminated on their expiration date of April 30.

BULLETIN

DETROIT (AP) — At least four ships ran aground on the Detroit River Monday night as heavy fog brought visibility to near zero and caused the waterway to be closed to traffic. One of the ships freed herself by pumping ballast.
A Coast Guard spokesman said the cutter Dublin and two freighters — Frank E. Taylor and Harry E. Jones — were stuck on the lower section of the river. The Norwegien motor vessel Dixie, a 1,500-ton vessel, became stuck crosswise in the river but managed to free herself after several hours.

Pro-West Sudan Government Overthrown by Military Coup

Kremlin Sent Note U. S. Warns Reds To Lay Off Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has warned Russia to quit harassing American planes in international airspace or face the consequences.

What might happen was not spelled out.
A stern U.S. note, delivered to the Kremlin Nov. 13 and made public today, cited two incidents occurring on Nov. 7:
1. A U. S. plane flying over the Baltic Sea, about 66 miles from the nearest Soviet territory was fired on twice without warning by Soviet fighter planes.
2. A few hours later, another U. S. plane was intercepted three times by Soviet fighters in the sea of Japan 64 miles from Siberian coast and about 300 miles north of Vladivostok. No shots were fired but the Soviets "made simulated attacks" as close as 100 feet.

The U.S. protest said in neither case did the American aircraft open fire. But it added:
"If such dangerous incidents are in the future repeated by Soviet aircraft in close proximity to American aircraft in international airspace, the Soviet government should be aware that commanders of American aircraft will be under instructions to take any defensive action which they consider necessary and appropriate."

"The United States government expects the Soviet government to take measures without delay to stop this interference with American aircraft."
"The Soviet government bears full responsibility for the consequences of any continuation of this activity."

At the Pentagon, the Air Force identified both U.S. planes as RB47s, the camera-equipped versions of the jet medium bomber.

Hamilton was also asked if students might be excused at noon Nov. 28, the day before Thanksgiving. He said no.

350 Strike In Revolt At Jackson

JACKSON (AP) — Some 350 inmates staged a short-lived strike at Southern Michigan Prison Monday.

Within minutes all 4,337 inmates were hurried off to their cells to avert any chance the strike might spread throughout the world's largest walled prison, scene of a mass revolt six and one-half years ago.
Heavily armed State Police from six posts rushed to Jackson to be ready for possible violence. Twenty guards were held past their normal quitting time to reinforce the regular 92-man shift.

"We had the situation under control in about 35 minutes, and there wasn't a dollar's worth of damage done or any violence whatsoever," said Warden William H. Bannan.
All but 167 went back to their jobs this afternoon.
The holdouts remained in their cells, Bannan said, "and probably won't get anything to eat tonight."

Inmates in the prison's textile and stamping plant touched off the incident at 9 a.m. when they left their machines and refused to work. A few laundry workers joined the strike.
"We blew a bugle over the loud-speaker system as a signal for everyone to go to his cell," Bannan said. "Everyone of them did so without argument, including all the strikers."

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force shot a mighty Atlas intercontinental missile into space this morning, aiming the great 100-ton war rocket at a target 2,000 miles away.

Two persons were known dead, more than a dozen injured, at least 27 missing and 50 more were snowed out at Mt. Lemmon lodge in the Santa Catalina mountains of Arizona. A C-66 cargo plane with two crewmen aboard, has been missing in northern Colorado since Sunday.

Robert Spangler, Wyandotte sophomore, will play Lt. Roberts' concited and lazy bunkmate, Ensign Pulver, whose effort to distinguish himself resulted in his flooding the ship with soap suds.
John Alberts, East Lansing graduate student, will portray the role of the sympathetic, sardonic ship's doctor, and Kenneth Krezel, Northville, will play the tyrannical Captain Morton. Morton almost succeeds in depriving Roberts of his dream of getting into combat. He knows he needs Roberts to help him run his cargo ship.

Mary Bratton, Grand Rapids freshman, will be the only woman in the cast, an Army nurse, whose visit aboard the ship while anchored off a Pacific island, creates a real amusing clash.

"Mister Roberts" is directed by Mr. Thomas Long, and its scenes aboard the old AK-601 were designed by Dr. Orville Larson.

Ex-Premier Pressured By Nasser

Collapse Blamed on Internal Difficulties

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A military coup overthrew the pro-western premier of sprawling Sudan Monday. The army commander in chief dissolved parliament, canceled the provisional constitution and declared a state of emergency.

The nation's two top religious leaders, who wield immense political power, promptly broadcast statements of support, indicating the new regime would have strong popular backing.

The coup, apparently bloodless, may have been set off over internal matters rather than foreign affairs.

Reports from Khartoum, the capital, indicated a triumvirate of army officers was in charge.

Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, 58-year-old commander in chief, ousted Premier Abdullah Khalil, his World War II comrade in arms in African campaigning against the Axis.

There was speculation here that Khalil—who has been under extreme Arab nationalist pressures emanating from President Nasser's United Arab Republic—may have approved the coup.

The three leaders of the coup, according to advisers reaching Cairo through apparently heavy censorship, are Abboud; Gen. Ahmed Abdel Wahab, deputy commander in chief; and Brig. Hassan Bahir, commander of the Khartoum garrison.

"The makeup means the situation will be no better and no worse for us than before," an Egyptian official said.

Chief problems between Sudan and the U.A.R. have been differences over the frontier and negotiations over the distribution of Nile river waters, plus the prospective flooding of some Sudanese territory if Nasser goes through with his plans to build the Aswan high dam.

Khalil had been known for his Western sympathies and resistance to Arab nationalist pressures.

'George' Controls Campus Activities

MUCH HAS BEEN said recently about the spirit of Spartans (or rather their apparent lack of it) but what seems more disturbing to us is the overwhelming attitude of apathy evident in about 90 percent of the student body.

The predominant line of thought about most campus activities seems to be "Let George do it."

In nearly all university organizations the burden of getting anything constructive done usually falls on a small, hard core of energetic persons, who are willing to take over and do it themselves.

This usually results in loss of sleep, missed classes and generally lower grades for the few students who are probably more intelligent and serious about getting something of value from their four years here than the general herd.

MOST STUDENTS, it seems, are content with the status quo. They say much but do little. They are content to sit through class discussions like so many brass monkeys as long as they can maintain the much-sought-after "gentleman's C," and when it comes to activities they speak fervently about how much they would like to participate—if only they had a little more time.

Yet, these many are swift to complain about the actions of the few. But then it is ever so much easier to deprecate than to initiate.

Then there are the "hangers-on" and "joiners" who say, "Of course, I'm not like that. I belong to three clubs, two fraternities (or sororities) and had my picture in the year-book five times last year."

WE DO NOT WISH to offend or impugn any such groups, yet, when talking with leaders of campus organizations, the prevailing complaint is that nearly all such activities are clogged with deadwood and plagued by apathy. There are ever so many members until something arises that calls for initiative, enthusiasm, and that old bugbear—plain hard work without much reward.

Perhaps in a different situation, such as military service or a prison, where one is not voluntarily a member of the group, such distaste for participation is understandable. But in a university, where students are supposedly seeking to broaden their personalities, and develop character, such widespread acceptance of "Georgism" is neither understandable nor excusable.

NEITHER DO WE wish to make an appeal for togetherness or conformity. There is far too much of that already. What is needed is more individualism and serious interest in campus activities by the student body as a whole.

We shudder to contemplate what would happen if the hard-working core became disgusted and quit, instead of merely being drained slowly by graduation. Most likely, the organizations and student activities would simply grind to a halt.

Some groups have been and are accused daily of being useless or ineffective, but this offers little in way of solution. If you feel dissatisfied with some or all groups, then why let "George" do it?

Communists Do It Again

EAST GERMANY held an election Nov. 16, but no one was especially surprised at the outcome. When all the ballots were in, the National Front party won more than 99 percent of the popular vote in the Parliamentary contest. No unusual victory statements were made, however. There was only one list of candidates, all belonging to the National Front.

Letters to the Editor

Discretion, Confession Urged

To the Editor:

As is quite natural after a controversial issue is countered by an editorial, a group gathered to discuss the pros and cons of the highlighted "tattle-tale" clause.

In summary of the group discussion, we felt that the editors of the State News were premature in their judgment of the controversial phrase, and as a result have caused undue publicity of campus activities.

I have been asked to present a view possibly overlooked, but certainly to be considered.

Purpose of Clause
The purpose of the clause was to aid the campus reputation by means of advising, shall we say, additional discretion on the part of the more anonymously inclined students.

The clause referred to in the editorial was merely an attempt to build "social responsibility" within the student body.

The idea is not to condemn those individuals whose indiscretion has gone beyond the realm of normal social mores, but rather to make these individuals realize the responsibility they have toward society, toward their fellow students, and toward those who may be on the campus for the first time.

Social Responsibility
We must realize that it is the responsibility of each and every student to aid in maintaining the decorum and discretion of the individual to fit within the society.

To say that such action will not change the situation one iota, is burying your head in the sand. It is just such a system of awakening people to their social responsibility toward their fellow man, that we observe so effective in other societies.

The group felt that you were a bit ahead of yourself in condemning the AUSA. It is realized that this clause is only part of the program.

Public Confessions
We must also realize that since this is for the good of the individual, he must not be punished as for a crime, but rather the only thing required of the individual should be a confession of his "unimpeachable" behavior, insuring the person understands his error.

We are sure that the AUSA realizes this also and will complete the system of informers and confessions for the betterment of campus reputation and social responsibility among all students.

Aud should this have slipped the minds of the AUSA personnel, we are sure that the wisdom of the student body will prevail and point out the salient points of such a program.

Irate Students Reprimanded

To the Editor:

I wonder if these "irate students" who exhibited their disloyalty by hanging "Duffy" possess minds as short as their memories. This is my first year at MSU, but I can well remember the terrific teams Duffy has turned out for us each year.

You, the irate, are probably the same people who sit in the stands game after game without opening your vap at all in support of the team.

I've seen more spirit and heard more cheering when a 70-man submarine crew got together for a softball game than this entire student body shows for a Big 10 football game.

Is it easier to kick the guys when they're down than to support them and show that we're behind them all the time?

Irish Temper Exasperated

To the Editor:

My Irish temper is up! Usually other people have been complaining about faults of the student-body and that sometimes liked me.

Today, for the first time, I am sorry to be classified as a student of this university. But maybe I am wrong in this feeling as there is a 30-30 chance that the fault does not lie in the student body.

Ashamed of Hanging
After reading of the hanging, in effigy, of Duffy Daugherty, I am ashamed of each and every one of the persons responsible.

Who are they to criticize a man who has done such a great job in the past and who is doing his best now. Look at the past results.

Why should we suddenly turn against Duffy because he and the boys have an off-season? Is everyone perfect? I'd like to know whether these "hangers" are perfect enough themselves to live in a glass house.

Vulgar Display
In my opinion, it is a vulgar display of immaturity and disloyalty. Are you sure these people aren't fugitives from Spartan Nursery?

Duffy has done a great job in previous seasons. I, for one, hope he'll be around for many more.

Mary Ellen Burke

To the Editor:

Reading of the "hanging in effigy" incidents at other schools, it was nice to think we didn't have those characters at MSU. I admit it was unrealistic for me to think so. In a school this size, I guess we have all kinds.

It's a shame that some will kick a person when he's down, as in the case of a football coach experiencing a disappointing season.

Bold, Noble Manner
It seems to me that people expressing their opinions and feelings in such a brave, bold and noble manner, are the same "city-bogymen" that stand on city corners making remarkable passes-by (when in the safety of a crowd), throw rocks at Negro children (when in the safety of a gang), and bomb synagogues (when in the safety of darkness).

The only difference being, around here they wear civvies and have their hair cut short.

Four Senators Hope To Halt Filibusters

No Compromise Acceptable As Face-Saving Device

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Four leaders of the campaign to amend the Senate filibuster rule served notice Monday they will fight any face-saving compromise.

Sens. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), Robert Humphrey (D-Minn.), Clifford Case (R-N.J.) and Jacob K. Javits (D-N.Y.) said in separate statements a proposal by which two-thirds of senators voting could limit debate offers no real solution but have blocked most civil rights legislation.

The issue will come before the Senate when it convenes in January, on a motion to adopt new Senate rules. Vice President Nixon has said he will hold this motion in abeyance until it is subject to approval or rejection by a majority of the Senate's 81 members.

The election of a substantial number of new liberal Senators is expected to make it less difficult for filibuster opponents to muster the Senate's tradition of cloture to the next. Such a vote called by a 55-38 vote in 1957.

The rule which has existed for several years requires the affirmative votes of two-thirds of all members to bring debate to a halt. With Alaska's two senators must vote for cloture, a process of limiting debate to three or four hours before the Senate business before the Senate.

However, as the old rule stands there can be no limitation on debate about changing the rule itself.

Douglas and Humphrey said in a letter to all 13 new Democratic Senators that Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) and other Southern senators who oppose broadening the means by which the Senate can cut off talk are regarded as a compromise.

But Douglas and Humphrey said that while the Southern senators are willing to accept a change in the rule, they are not willing to accept a change in the two-thirds vote requirement.

Instead, Douglas and others have proposed a rule under which two-thirds of those voting could limit debate immediately. If this failed and debate continued for another 15 days, affirmative votes then could end the talk.

Space Plan Discussed Before UN

Johnson Reports Parties United

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson told the UN today both the Democratic and Republican parties solidly support President Eisenhower's proposal for international cooperation in control of outer space.

The Texas Democrat gave the UN that assurance in an unprecedented appearance before the 81-nation political committee.

He came here at the invitation of Secretary of State Dulles to underline U.S. solidarity on a top foreign policy issue. It was the first time a leader of the political opposition had addressed the UN, although the U.S. delegation includes both Republicans and Democrats.

Johnson, who is among those mentioned as a possible Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1960, told the committee:

"On the goal of dedicating outer space to peaceful purposes for the benefit of all mankind, there are no differences within our government, between our parties, or among our people."

He urged the UN to support the U.S. proposal for establishment of a special committee to explore all aspects of cooperation in peaceful use of outer space and to report back to next year's General Assembly.

He said the principle of international cooperation was written into the law creating the U.S. agency under civilian control to promote exploration of outer space.

He recalled that the U.S. congress had adopted unanimously a resolution asking President Eisenhower to submit to the UN the question of international control in dedicating outer space solely to peaceful purposes.

He said the U.S. resolution sets out essential first steps that if implemented would block "all progress toward the goals of peace which rest of faith believe exist in the realm of space."

He declared that it is to the interest of nations "Dedicated to peace and freedom that the opportunity of space not be perverted to the end of aggression and control over the earth by aggressors."

NATO Prepares For New Cold War

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, after years of concentration on military preparations which showed signs of becoming obsolete before ever being needed, is now beginning to work in its potential for cold war.

For many years Russia's rapid economic development has been viewed in the West primarily as a gauge of her growing ability to make war against the highly industrialized West.

The time of industrial party with the United States has been linked in many minds with the fear of military attack.

Since the death of Stalin, however, Russian leaders have emphasized that they expect to win the world without risking its annihilation by atomic war.

In this vein, they have recently announced a campaign designed to give them parity in basic industry by 1965.

As a preview of what they hope this will lead to, they have already made some attempts to unsettle Western markets and price structures through dumping.

It is noticeable in tin, lumber, and aluminum. The beginning of competition in oil production and control of new oil fields is discernible.

Western economic cooperative programs have, on the other hand, been largely directed at preserving and extending the political base and economic ability for war.

The treaty among members of the Atlantic community recognizes military assault on one as directed against all.

NATO's scientific and technical committee has now recommended that this principle be

NATO Countries Okay Research Rocket Plan

PARIS (AP)—Top Legislators from 15 NATO countries Monday unanimously approved a proposal to put a research rocket into orbit around the earth by 1960.

The law-makers, meeting in the first day's session of the fourth annual NATO Parliamentary Conference, applauded the recommendation under study soon.

Jackson, in outlining the satellite project, emphasized it would be for peaceful purposes.

"There is work for all to do, and the job will go forward at maximum speed only if all take part," the committee said.

The conference heard Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of allied forces in Europe, declare that allied retaliatory forces are so effective "it is most unlikely that there could be in the mind of an aggressor a deliberate decision to go to major war or to take risks which might lead to major war."

After the two major speeches by Jackson and Norstad, the conference went into closed committee sessions.

Resides Jackson, the U.S. is represented by Senators Theodore Green, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, Estes Kefauver, Jacob Javits, Styles Bridges, T. H. Kuchel and Everett Dirksen.

'Nasty' Kid Picks Santa's Pocket

LONDON, (AP)—Santa Claus complained Monday that some nasty little kid picked his pocket and got away with his wallet.

T. T. Fisher-Brent wrote a London newspaper giving the Santa slant on Christmas troubles. He said he found out about those troubles when he took a job as a department store Santa last year.

"A particularly precious youngster croaked in my ear his recital of wants," Fisher-Brent related.

"He soon slipped away with a big smile on his face and my wallet in his pocket."

Green Splash Tryouts

Green Splash try-outs will be held this afternoon at 4 p.m. and tomorrow evening at 7 p.m. in the old pool at the Women's Gym.

Qualifications necessary for the try-outs are a senior life-saving certificate and participation in swimming intramurals this fall. Other requirements are indefinite; however, swimmers planning to try out can expect to be tested on such stunts as ballet legs, kips, catinas, and somersaults. Moreover, strokes will be observed and a minimum time of 2:00 is called for in the 100 yard freestyle.

In an effort to urge all women interested in synchronized swimming to try out Coach Norma Stafford has said that perhaps they will be able to perform skills other than those required and still receive credit.

Green Splash is the women's swimming honorary, and under the direction of Miss Stafford gives a water show each spring term, consisting usually of three performances. In addition, individual members compete in synchronized meets throughout the year and occasionally the whole group takes trips.

Hockey Squad Looks Forward to Opener

"The team has been working very hard, spirit is good, and we're looking forward to the opening game against North Dakota," MSU hockey coach Amo Bessone said Friday.

The squad, in its second week of regular pre-season practice, has been going through line rushing and scrimmages.

On defense Bessone is looking for the best possible combinations. Butch Miller and Ed Pollesel, he said, might work out as the first unit. Other units may consist of Bob Norman and Bob Armstrong, Ed Oxybke and Bruno Pollesel and Bob Kempf and Jack Foote.

Joe Sellinger will once again be the goalie for the Spartans. Sellinger, missing last year's all-American team by one vote, had a 3.01 goal average per game.

The only major problem which remains, according to Bessone, are trying to fill a third offensive line and to find a fifth defensive unit.

When on the road, the team will travel with three lines and five defensemen.

The Spartans will play a home exhibition game against the Detroit Red Wings on Dec. 2, and will then begin their regular season Dec. 5, playing host to N. Dakota, the western sector champions.

Big 10 Financial Aid Plan Blasted

CHICAGO (P)—Athletic Director Ike Armstrong of Minnesota Monday rapped the Big 10's financial aid program, blaming it for opening the recruiting door for western schools in the Gophers' territory.

Minnesota's only football victory of the season came last Saturday 39-12 over Michigan State.

"The Big 10 financial aid program has hurt us about as much as anything," Armstrong told the Chicago American Quarter-back Club.

"Nebraska, Colorado and other western schools have come in and raided us pretty well. They don't have the 'need' factor in their recruiting policy and can get prospects much more than we can."

The Big 10 aid policy is based on the need of an athlete, this status being determined on confidential financial statements of the parents.

The difference between an athlete's computed resources and the basic cost of attending college (board, room, books, tuition, fees) represents the need for financial assistance.

"If the Big 10 just would drop the word 'need' and go on from there, I think it would be a good program," he said.

Armstrong said he also thought the NCAA restriction of 20 days for spring drills has stepped up recruiting.

"Coaches are forced to go out and try to get well-developed high school football players so they don't have to spend so much time on them in practices," he added. "With the limit on practices, they don't have the time."

Armstrong harked back to the old days when teams were made up of boys from their own states.

"When we played Iowa (Minnesota lost 28-6) I was looking over the Hawkeyes' roster and found only 6 boys out of their first 49 from the home state," he continued.

"If Minnesota boys could play just Iowa boys, or just Michigan boys, and so forth, it might be better all around."

"We don't have an alumni association as potent as Michigan's, but maybe we are going to get better acquainted with more alumni from a greater area from now on."

Armstrong did not mention his football coach, Murray Warmath. But he did quip: "Our coaches said that winning was not the only thing—it's just everything."

Armstrong also had a word about Bernie Beirman, who coached the Golden Gopher powerhouses of the 1930's.

"Bernie Beirman is on our staff (in an advisory capacity) and is out to practices every night," said Armstrong. "He has a television program and he writes for the newspapers. And not once has he criticized the athletic administration or the coaches."

Armstrong made his remark from the luncheon rostrum with Big 10 commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson at his elbow.

MSU Mystery

By HARDY CHRIST
State News Sports Editor

SO YOU SAY you can't figure out why the Spartan griders haven't performed up to expectations this season? Well, move over. You've got lots of company.

It's been one of the blackest seasons in Michigan State football, with only two non-conference victories and a tie with Michigan to show for eight games.

It was only about three months ago that the major national sports magazines were coming out with their pre-season picks. And on top of the heap in most of the magazines was Michigan State, destined to run away with the Big 10 championship with an undefeated season and rank as the nation's No. 1 team.

But since then, the 1958 season can be written off as the poorest in Spartan athletic history since 1917 when they lost nine in a row.

They've gone from the best team in the Big 10 to the worst. They failed to win a conference game, and finished in the basement for the first time since entering the Big 10.

What then, has happened to the Michigan State football empire? Of course, the question isn't any easy one to answer. One can easily surmise, however, that the Spartans were merely highly-overrated at the start of the season.

BEFORE THE MINNESOTA game last Saturday, there seemed nothing wrong with the Spartans that a good defensive machine wouldn't cure. In the defensive department, the Spartans ranked among the best in the conference. But in offense, they were among the worst.

After giving up 39 points against the Gophers, even the defenses fell apart completely. It was the most points scored against Michigan State since the University of Michigan imposed a 55-0 shutout.

The Spartans this season are proving the adage that "you can't win unless you score." They've been shut out twice, and scored only one touchdown in two other games. Then against Michigan and Minnesota, they were able to hit paydirt only twice.

In eight games, they've scored only 91 points. And more than half this total came in two games, against non-conference foes California and Pittsburgh.

The Spartans started the season on the right foot. They opened with a 32-12 win over California, followed with a 12-12 tie with Michigan and then defeated Pittsburgh 22-8. Thus, in the first three contests, they amassed 44 of the total points.

But after Pittsburgh left town, touchdowns have become the exception rather than the rule. In the last five games, only four touchdowns have been scored.

ADD THIS UP and it may be somewhat clearer why the Spartans finished in the Big 10 cellar.

But what's been missing from last year's team which had a fine 8-1 record? Could it be the loss of such men as All-American center Dan Currie and halfback Walt Kowalczyk? Or the losses of All-Big 10 players quarterback Jim Ninowski and Pat Burke, coupled with Currie and Kowalczyk?

That quartet formed the nucleus of the 1957 team, and certainly were missed by Coach Duffy Daugherty when practice sessions opened this season.

But two other factors have hit the Spartans this year. The search for a quarterback who could take charge hasn't produced any positive results. Also, the injury list has grown, throughout the season, to enormous proportions.

Even before the start of the 1958 season, the Spartans lost the services of their finest offensive threat, Blanche Martin. Martin, an All-American candidate for his play a year ago, suffered a severe knee injury in the Old-Timer game last spring which required surgery.

The offense, built around Martin, had to be completely revised.

The other two backfield men who were to take over for the injured Martin also have been hampered with injuries throughout the season. Dean Look, left halfback and Art Johnson, right halfback, have been sidelined with injuries most of the way.

Johnson, who was supposed to take over for Martin as the Spartans' bread-and-butter runner, was banged up early in the season and hasn't seen much action.

Look, the sophomore sensation a year ago, hasn't missed a game, but has been hampered with a painful back injury. ON THE LINE, Daugherty had what he called the finest set of guards in the Big 10 at the start of the season. Set lettermen in all were around, but at this date, the corps has been hit hard by injuries.

Ellison Kelly, All-Big 10 choice last season, has played consistently despite an ankle injury. Then in the Indiana game he sat out the final half with a badly-bruised thigh.

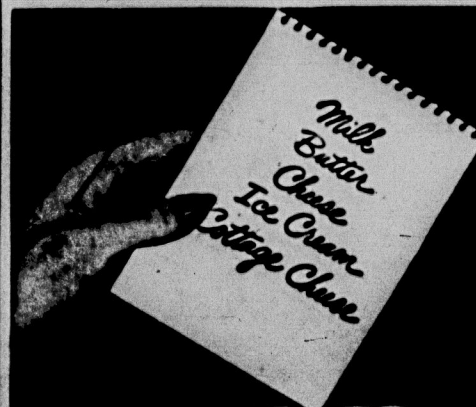

John Middleton, the other starting guard, was forced out of action for two weeks, and substitutes Cliff LaRue and Ron Rickens also have been injury-ridden.

Two other guards, Arch Matsos and Don Wright, were shifted to the inexperienced center position.

Against Wisconsin, first-string right tackle George Poles was the final member to be badly-injured. Poles suffered an injury similar to that incurred by Martin, and required surgery.

In a desperate search to find a quarterback, Daugherty has alternated six men in and out. Mike Panitch started the season as first-string, but Greg Montgomery, Larry Bielat, Ike Grimsley, Jim Chesney and Tom Wilson have also tried their luck.

Harriers Triumph in IC4A Meet, Kennedy Runs Course in 24:21.6

Surging Spartans Set For NCAA Challenge

By DARWIN BENNETT

Michigan State's Fordy Kennedy won the IC4A Cross Country crown for the second year in a row Monday, finishing 25 yards in front of Notre Dame's Ron Gregory, and led the Spartans to their third straight title.

Covering the five-mile Van Cortlandt course in 24:21.6, the Spartans didn't lead all the way but were never in trouble, and Kennedy led the three-mile race to cap the title in a similar fashion.

The Spartans won with a total of 74 points, to runner-up Notre Dame's 107.

Bob Lake, who had an off day at the Big 10 meet in Chicago last Friday, bounced back to place fifth with a 24:51 time and was followed closely by teammate Bill Reynolds, who ran a 24:58 to cap sixth.

After Reynolds—who is only a sophomore—finished, the Spartans had to wait until Jim Ryan (28) and George Tatu (32) crossed the line to earn the straight IC4A crown. The team earned 48th while Ryan placed 77th.

It was only the first one for Fordy Kennedy, who has won the last two years as mentor of the Spartan squad. Dittich succeeded Karl Schlansman after a winter setback after 44 years of coaching and 20 years of membership at State.

Fordy's brother, Henry, won honors in 1955 and 1956, a record in the latter year of 21:18.

Considering these wins with Henry—who won last year with a 24:48 performance—Kennedy's victory makes four years that a Kennedy has won the title.

Kennedy's closest rival, Gregory, was eighth at the 24:58 mark but fell back at the three-mile mark. Kennedy then surged ahead 30 yards in the final quarter of the race, finishing with a 24:21.6 time, a record in the latter year of 21:18.

"I felt awful in the last mile," said Kennedy. "I had a stomach ache."

The Spartan runner had completed a similar ailment in a previous meet with Notre Dame and Wisconsin, which Michigan State won with a total of 74 points.

Kennedy placed second to Jack Deaton, Jones in the 1958 Cross Country Championships at Chicago last Friday, when he clocked at 26:18, as he won the runner-up position in the last few years.

With this win Michigan State is set to host the NCAA Cross Country meet at the University of Michigan on November 24, with the Spartans' predominance in the minds of every Spartan runner.

Michigan State was named the NCAA by the vote of the coaches, who had beaten out the Spartans in the 1957 season.

Michigan State, which has lost to the Spartans in the last two years, finished 121st in the 1957 season, the Spartans won the title.

A grand slam is accomplished by winning the conference, the NCAA title and the Varsity Club Invites.

Varsity Club Invites Lettermen to Meeting

All Varsity lettermen who were on the Varsity Club should be present at the club meeting Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Varsity Club room, Spartan Stadium.

Squad Supports Coach

Duffy, Team Aim for KSC

Coach Duffy Daugherty tended to his football worries as the Spartans opened the week's practice in preparation for their final game against Kansas State next Saturday.

Not concerned with the verbal blast by Athletic Director Bruce Munst, Daugherty concentrated on a lineup change which will put seniors on the starting unit with the junior and sophomores on the reserve team.

The battle between Daugherty and Munst has received a quiet attitude from the Spartan coach. "I'd rather not say anything," Daugherty said. "I'm afraid that if I did, it would be misconstrued."

"The only thing I'm interested in at the moment is finding a winner," he continued. "I think I've been in football long enough to know the mistakes we've been making. Now it's our job to correct them."

In looking back at last Saturday's Minnesota game, Daugherty pointed out that the entire team was crippled in the second half.

"We couldn't use Sam Williams, Fred Aarnas, Henry Young or Herb Adley," he said. "And Dean Look, Al Lippert and the Pugsley couldn't play much because of injuries."

"During that second half we used three centers," Duffy continued. "All three were banged up and we had to alternate them about every two minutes."

Then Daugherty stepped back about 20 yards while explaining what he thought was the key play in the halicame. It involved a Minnesota punt which accidentally hit Greg Montgomery on the leg. The Gophers recovered the ball on Michigan State's four-yard line, and scored.

Bryan 6 now moves into the finals against East Shaw 10 Wednesday.

In another thriller Tuesday night, Lambda Chi Alpha pulled one out of the bag sneaking by Phi Tau 19-13 in a fraternity semifinal action.

With the score tied 13-13 on the last play of the contest, Phi Tau was called for pass interference on their one-foot line. Because the game is not allowed to end with a penalty, Lambda Chi was allowed one play, which they took advantage of with Bill Beattie losing to Jim Sullivan in the end zone.

Cagers Ready for U-D Game With Scrimmages

With less than three weeks remaining before Michigan State's first basketball game, Coach Fordy Anderson has his club running through long scrimmages.

State's home opener is on Dec. 6 against the University of Detroit.

Last Friday, while Anderson was in Chicago for the Big 10 basketball coaches' conference, the team composed of co-captains Bob Anderson and John Green, Art Gowens and guards Dave Fahs and Jim Stouffer poured in 114 points in a regulation intra-squad game.

Green, groomed for All-American honors, notched 37 points and picked off 27 rebounds. Anderson, a steady performer for the Spartans, fired in 38 points.

"This was probably the team's best showing this year in practice," Anderson said. "The squad really showed hustle and spirit." However, Anderson isn't completely satisfied with the team's play.

"The team sometimes looks good, but still plenty of 'tools' need polishing," Anderson said.

Probably the biggest inconvenience which the Spartans have engaged in practice is the small size of the playing floor on the second floor of Jenison Gym.

But this difficulty should be alleviated Thursday when the regular floor will be placed in Jenison Fieldhouse.

This will provide Anderson's cagers with a chance to get familiar with the playing surface they will use for practices and home games.

Students and local fans will be given their first glimpse of this year's personnel Friday night at 8 with the annual Green-White basketball game.

This game is featured with the annual basketball clinic which attracts high school coaches from the Midwest.

The clinic is handled by Anderson. The guest coach is Northwestern's Bill Rohr. During the sessions the collegiate coaches explain patterns and the fundamentals which can be taught to high school players. Some 325 coaches have already registered.

After one month of practice, Anderson remains cautiously optimistic in relation to State's conference hopes.

"One magazine's rating of State as seventh in the nation is a bit overrated. The lack of necessary height and depth will probably hurt us," Anderson said.

Last year State finished with a 16-6 mark. It compiled a 9-5 record in the Western Conference, good for a second place tie with Purdue.

Two U. S. Archbishops Among 23 Newly Appointed Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Archbishops of Boston and Philadelphia were chosen to be Cardinals Monday, along with 21 prelates of other nationalities. The 23 new cardinals will bring the College of Cardinals to 75, largest membership in Roman Catholic history.

Pope John XXIII called a consistory for Dec. 15-18 to give the new cardinals their red hats. The new American Cardinals are the most Rev. Richard Cushing, 63, of Boston and the Most Rev. John O'Hara, 70, of Philadelphia. They will join Cardinals Spellman of New York and McIntyre of Los Angeles in bringing U.S. representation to four, one less than the 1948 peak.

In all, 13 Italians and 10 non-Italians were named cardinals many are relatively young. The average of the 52 cardinals already in the college is 73, and many of them are infirm. The newcomers, although some are well into the 70s, average 67.

No Incidents As U. S. Eases Berlin Barrier

BERLIN (AP) — A U.S. army truck convoy rolled without incident Monday from allied-occupied West Berlin to West Germany, easing blockade fears.

It was the first convoy to make the 110-mile trip from Berlin through East Germany since the Russians turned back an American military convoy Friday.

Monday's convoy of a jeep and two open trucks was regarded as a test of Soviet-East German tactics. The successful trip coincided with signs that the East German Communist regime now is trying a softer policy in an effort to obtain recognition from the West.

Although the movement of the convoy eased worries about a possible blockade, new questions were aroused about an hour later. One after the other, West Berlin newsmen got cryptic telephone calls saying the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin would hold an important news conference at 11 a.m. today.

Need Ride, Riders?

The Union Board is sponsoring a ride bureau for students looking for a ride home for Thanksgiving or those needing riders. Students may register in the main concourse at the Union Board desk.

No Scent GI!

The Veterans Assn. has extended the sign-up date for the Detroit Lions-Chicago Bears football trip to accommodate members who want to go but have not signed up because their checks have not arrived. All such members are asked to attend a special meeting in 316 Student Services Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The youngest is 45-year-old Bishop Julius Döpfner of Berlin. The average age of the whole membership will now be just a bit more than 71.

Pope John, crowned 13 days ago, moved swiftly to rebuild and revitalize the college. Its maximum membership has been 70 since Pope Sixtus V settled upon that figure in 1586. Prior to that, the number usually did not exceed 30.

With the new cardinals the composition of the sacred college will be: Italian 29, French 8, United States and Spain 4 each, Brazil and Germany 3 each, Argentina and Canada 2 each, and 1 each from Belgium, Portugal, Portuguese Mozambique, Armenia, Syria, Australia, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Ireland, India, Poland, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Ecuador, China, Uruguay, Austria, England and Mexico.

Hussein Says He'll Forgive Syrian Attack

AMMAN, (AP) — King Hussein said Monday that for the sake of Arab unity he was willing to forgive and forget the attack on his plane over Syria a week ago.

But he warned Jordan would deal with the situation in a different way should there be another such incident. The 24-year-old king confirmed reports that some units of the Jordan army were preparing to move against Syria in anger over the attack but said fortunately they did not do so. Hussein said he personally intervened to have the Jordan government withdraw a complaint filed with the United Nations against the United Arab Republic and was willing to consider the incident "within a personal scope."

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste
