Negro Vote Questions Unheeded

Officials Refuse To Take Oath

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Six Alabama voter registration officials defied the federal Civil Rights Commission Monday and refused to testify about Negro voting or any other phase of their work.

Five of them even declined to take the oath as witnesses. The election officials were asked several Negro witnesses testified that they were prevented from registering solely because of their race. See STORY, Page 4.

The Negroes were college graduates who attended famed Tuskegee Institute in Macon county. A sixth registrar consented to testify but gave the commission information about the alleged denial of voting rights of Negroes.

The federal fact-finding agency in the first day of its first hearing failed to get voter registration records in any of the counties into which the information has been extended.

One of the commission members, former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia, later rebuked the officials for what he said was an effort to cover up their actions on Negro voting. He said the defiant stand may be used by northern congressmen next year as a strong argument in favor of a tougher civil rights law, which he said, "react adversely to us in Alabama and to you in Alabama."

The refusal to testify started with one member of the Macon board of registrars, Grady Rogers. He agreed at first to answer questions, but declined to discuss registration procedure.

Soviets Agree To Test Ban

U. S., Russia Cooperate In Geneva Conference

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Britain obtained Russia's promise Monday night to cooperate with an international control system to police a ban on nuclear weapons tests.

All three powers approved the second article of a draft treaty calling for setting up a control organization and specifying the obligation to cooperate with that body.

But the commitment was in general terms. The control organization itself has yet to be defined.

There is the next difference of views between East and West already is developing. During today's 3 1/2-hour conference session, the Russians introduced a long definition of their ideas on controls—ideas which include such provisions as veto rights and other concepts unacceptable to the Western powers.

The three powers now have approved the first two articles of a treaty but still face the hard task of gaining East-West agreement on actual operation of a control setup.

As approved, the second article represented essentially a combination of proposals advanced by U. S. Ambassador James Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore, conference sources said.

But the Soviet's document on controls confirmed Western views that the Soviet Union is miles away from the U. S. and British position on this subject. Included in the Soviet paper was the "built-in veto" that would allow Russian authorities to interfere with the activities of the control organization at all levels.

The Russians avoided meeting the Western demand that the proposed 180 observation posts scattered about the globe and the mobile inspection teams should be allowed the right to make completely objective investigations and inspections of suspicious earth tremors.

Before final agreement can be reached at this conference, the Russians must agree to open their large and secret land to such complete inspection as the Western powers are willing to do.

Anti-Red Election Favorite

Venezuela's President Ahead

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Romulo Betancourt, a leftist who once won Venezuela's presidency through a coup, appeared headed back to the presidency Monday night through a free election.

Mounting returns from Sunday's voting gave the 50-year-old leader of the anti-Communist Democratic Action Party, 1,097,369 to 925,549 for his leading opponent, Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal. The third man in the race, Rafael Caldera of the Christian Socialist Party, trailed badly with 315,589.

Authorities hearing rumors of discontent over Betancourt's apparent victory, extended an election ban on liquor sales until today at noon in a move to help keep tempers under control.

The Democratic Action Party appealed for calm.

The organization of Betancourt's Democratic Action Party, largest in the nation, seemingly offset the marshall personality of Larrazabal, head of the junta that ruled Venezuela after the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez last January.

Betancourt, in politics since his university days as a law student, is hated by many, but is followed loyally by many more. Labor union votes helped him sweep Zulia State, Venezuela's principal oil-producing region.

He served as provisional president for two years after a coup that ousted president Isaias Medina Angarita in 1945, then handed over to the democratically elected president Romulo Gallegos.

Gallegos lasted less than a year. He was overthrown Nov. 24, 1948, by an army coup and, with Betancourt, went into exile.

Resume Deliberations

Georgia Jury Locked On Jewish Temple Blast

ATLANTA (AP)—A jury arguing the Jewish temple bombing case against George Bright reported Monday it was hopelessly deadlocked, but the judge sent it back to resume deliberations.

Bright was the first of the five men to be placed on trial. Defense attorneys said inability of the jurors to agree on a verdict within a few hours favored their side. They look for either acquittal or a mistrial—hung jury.

In the case of a mistrial, it was reported the state planned to call for immediate re-trial of Bright.

Robert Garland, attorney for Robert Bowling, brother of Bright, and William Allen, two of the other defendants, asked Bright to have the cases of those two tried next.

Pye told the attorney that as soon as the jury disposes of the Bright case, the state would have to say which of the other defendants would be called for trial.

Some diplomats said the resolution in preparation in the African group of eight UN delegations would call for negotiations.

They said the Algerians' backers would seek a long general debate and then put in the resolution as the subject for further discussion. They said France was lobbying for a short debate by urging friendly countries not to speak.

France Boycotts UN Talk

Algerian Debate Irks Delegates

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP)—France walked out Monday on a UN debate on French-ruled Algeria. Diplomats said eight African countries were working on a resolution to have the General Assembly recognize "the right of the Algerian people to independence."

Five French delegates left the room when the General Assembly's political committee took up the question of what to do about the four-year-old Algerian rebellion.

France had announced the boycott in advance. She contended that Algeria is her domestic matter and notes that the UN is forbidden by its charter from intervening in domestic matters.

Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim, opening the debate, expressed "profound regret" that the French had not stayed to present their arguments.

He said the committee should recommend negotiations between France and the new Algerian provisional government, which speaks for the rebels. He said that government "represents the people of Algeria and exercises control over them."

French Premier De Gaulle disclosed in October that he had offered to bring Algerian leaders to France to negotiate for an end to hostilities. They replied that they would negotiate only in a neutral place and on all aspects of a cease fire.

Slim criticized De Gaulle for asking the Algerian rebels to "raise the white flag of parleys," which they said meant surrender. He told the 81-nation committee the logical way to end the war was through political negotiations.

Some diplomats said the resolution in preparation in the African group of eight UN delegations would call for negotiations.

They said the Algerians' backers would seek a long general debate and then put in the resolution as the subject for further discussion. They said France was lobbying for a short debate by urging friendly countries not to speak.

Sparta Claus Earns $700

Collections for Sparta Claus hit the $700 mark Monday, according to Bill Livingston, member of the board of directors.

The group expects to collect $900 by the end of the drive.

"We want to thank all who contributed and participated in this successful drive," Livingston said. Contributions will be accepted through final exam week at the organization's office in Student Services.

The money donated will be used to purchase food baskets for deserving families in the Lansing area.

Premier Otto Grotewohl feebly echoed Moscow's assertion that the municipal elections "have nothing to do" with the Soviet bid to turn West Berlin into a neutral demilitarized city.

Prior to Sunday's elections—in which the Reds again failed to seat a single candidate in the 133-seat city parliament—the Communists urged West Berliners to support the Soviet proposal with their votes.

Grotewohl, 64 and ailing, told his parliament U.S., British and French troops legally were obligated to get out of West Berlin. But showing little conviction that the Allies would comply, Grotewohl added that he was ready for negotiations on pending questions affecting the western garrisons.

It was a clear invitation for talks and Western recognition of his regime when the Soviet six months ultimatum for acceptance of the free city proposal runs out. Then the Russians say they will transfer to the East Germans their controls over Allied air, rail and highway facilities to West Berlin.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government appeared determined to press the Western big three for an uncompromising rejection of the Soviet proposal. A highly placed Bonn informant said the Adenauer government believes the Soviet ultimatum should be turned down cold.

The West would be operating "from the worst position possible," he added, if it replied to the Soviet note with a counterproposal for an East-West conference on security in Germany and central Europe.

East-West talks about Berlin, Germany and central Europe should be held in the future, the informant said, "but not now, not under the pressure of an ultimatum."

The West Germans thus seemed to be adopting a tougher attitude toward the Russian proposals than the Western big three. The British—with some American and French backing—have been advocating using the Russian note on Berlin for a counter-proposal that would set up a high level conference on divided Germany and European security.

The Bonn republic and the Western powers will try to thresh out their differences when they meet next week in Paris at the Atlantic Pact foreign ministers conference.

Communist officials in East Berlin privately expressed shock at the outcome of the West Berlin elections. The Communist press said the whole thing was a farce and a fraud, that terror at the polls was at the root of the vote. But the cold, hard fact was that the Reds had anticipated the Socialists would sweep to victory with the Christian Democrats running second.

But they had expected to garner more than a paltry 19 percent. Under the West Berlin election law at least 5 percent is required to seat a candidate.

Tukey, Duffy, Biggie to Join Big 10 Heads in Annual Meet

Three top athletic personalities will be represented at the Big 10 annual winter meet this weekend.

Dr. Harold Tukey, MSU faculty representative, Coach Duffy Daugherty and Athletic Director Eugene Munn will make the trip to the Big 10 headquarters at the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago.

Topics ranging from recruiting policies, grant-in-aid, the Rose Bowl Pact, and a possible round-robin conference football schedule will be discussed at the meeting Wednesday through Saturday.

With the collapse of the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) next July 1, the present Rose Bowl contract between that loop and the Big 10 extends through the 1956 New Year's Day classic.

From the remnants of the PCC, which split over recruiting limitations by member schools, has emerged the Big Four or Big Five, of California, UCLA, Southern California, Washington and later possibly Stanford.

If these West Coast schools should join in a new conference, this action would conceivably preserve the Rose Bowl series and the Big 10 would prefer it to continue under the present contract, with necessary amendments, rather than require complete re-negotiations.

A new contract would mean Big 10 faculty representatives would have to investigate the idea of post season football appearances. What the final decision is, however, remains to the faculty of the Big 10 schools.

Each time the Rose Bowl subject required a vote since the series' inception in 1917, a bare majority vote prevailed in the Big 10. Some schools switched attitudes over that span, but a firm minority always prevailed.

It is anticipated that the Big 10 will announce at its meetings that the 1956 Rose Bowl will go on, as scheduled, despite the break up of the West Coast conference.

Today the Big 10 champion, California, PCC title, meet in the 1956 Rose Bowl game. The two main items on the official agenda in the Big 10 winter sessions actually were approved tentatively at last May's conference spring meeting.

One is a long sought proposal for a 10 game football schedule. In October, MSU's 13 member Athletic Council voted for the round-robin conference football schedule.

If given final approval, this would result by 1959 in a full round-robin football schedule of conference games.

The 10 game schedule, however, would be effective in 1955. At present each Big 10 school plays a maximum over-all schedule of nine games and between six and seven conference tilts.

The other important item up for final action is a recruiting change which would allow coaches to visit prospective athletes off the campus and authorize conference schools to pay campus-visit expenses for a prospective athlete.

Last month MSU's Athletic Council instructed Tukey to vote against this proposal to ease Big 10 recruiting regulations.

MSU's coach Duffy Daugherty will join other conference coaches, along with MSU's Fred Stabile and his cohorts and MSU's Ticket Manager Warren Hurtt and associates on Wednesday.

He Visits Ill Dulles In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower visited Secretary of State Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital Monday.

The President went to the hospital during the afternoon after the State Department requested that Dulles be moved to make satisfactory progress from the influenza which hospitalized him last night.

Dulles was in ward 8. This is the same suite used by Eisenhower during his 1956 illness and last year when he suffered a slight stroke. It was used by Dulles two years ago when a generous portion of his colon was removed.

Dulles plans to go to Paris next week, as scheduled, for his Atlantic Pact colleagues.

The department press chief Dean White said doctors have deemed there is no recurrence of the 1956 malady. White said he did not know exactly when Dulles would leave the hospital.

"The secretary had a restful night and his temperature is normal," White told his news conference. "Thus, there is essentially no change from the information I gave you yesterday." Dulles scheduled meetings at Paris, probably Monday, with French ministers of Britain, France and West Germany. The plan is to discuss Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to make West Berlin a "free city" for six months of big four negotiations. The Atlantic Pact (NATO) foreign ministers starts Tuesday at Paris.

Delegates Have Batty Visitor

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Missolonghi, many of whom daily brave the jungles, didn't let a little thing like a bat bother them today.

Some 400 delegates are here attending the annual session of the division of foreign missions, National Council of Churches. Their session began at a mid-morning hotel the bat flew into the meeting room.

And around and around it went. Finally one delegate rose to his feet and took a mighty swing at the bat with a rolled program. He missed.

Shortly before the session ended the bat disappeared just as mysteriously as it had flown into the meeting room.

The opening of MSU-Oakland is still nine months away, but requests for applications and information about this new school continue to pour in each day.

"And we are getting mail inquiries not only from Oakland-Macomb area, but from other Michigan cities as well," reports Roy Alexander, MSU-O director of student affairs.

Educator Speaks on College

Olsen Raps Generalization

"Don't go overboard in agreeing with the critics who say 'Only top students should go to college'."

That warning was sounded by a Michigan educator at a MSU conference of 250 school superintendents and school board members Dec. 2. The speaker was Dr. Willard Olsen, dean of education, University of Michigan.

"The contention that 'Only top students should go to college' is a severe, over-generalization," declared Olsen.

"That argument is inhuman," he stated, Olsen then described much research about students who are slow starters, who mature late, etc., to point out that many of these "average" and "below average" high school students do make fine contributions to our American society.

Education is growing in importance in the world today and the U.S. must be willing to spend some "risk capital" in providing educational opportunities for as many youngsters as possible, the speaker urged.

"It is not true that the 'threat of failure will help students succeed,'" he said. "Americans do not work for failure but rather for success. We need to motivate for success, not hold the threat of failure over youngsters."

Olsen was one of the resource specialists at the two-day joint conference of the Michigan School Board Association and the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

Public Hearings Check Alabama Voter Lists

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal civil rights commission Monday got its hands on the voter lists of Alabama's Macon County, focal point of an inquiry into Negro voting rights.

Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson, who is the governor-elect, objected vigorously but vainly when the lists were brought into the hearing room. Voter records in five other counties have been impounded by Alabama officials to keep them from the commission.

Earlier in the day the commission heard multiple complaints of Negroes, some of them with high academic degrees. The witnesses testified that they had tried persistently but unsuccessfully to register to vote at Tuskegee, Macon county seat and home of famed Tuskegee Institute for Negroes.

Macon Probate Judge William Varner, 70, brought eight volumes of his voter records before the recently created commission which is holding its first public hearing in this deep south capital.

Before he could reach the witness stand to testify about the records and his duties, Patterson protested from the floor that Varner had no legal right to take the records from his county.

The commission's vice chairman, Robert Storey, presiding, said the commission had no intention of taking the records to Washington, D.C., where also outside of Alabama Patterson continued to challenge the commission's right to question a judicial officer of the state. Storey declared there would be no constitutional violations and said he could see no ground for objections.

The attorney general returned to his seat after giving the commission a letter which he wrote to the probate judge setting forth his protest.

Officials said the probate records were only lists of qualified voters. They added that the records did not include names of the questionnaires and were submitted by the board of registrars to voter applicants.

TATU HORAN
Harrier Workhorses

On Harrier Squad

Horan, Tatu Work for Berths

By DARWIN BENNETT

Two members of Michigan State's 1958 cross country team, which won the Big 10, IC4A and NCAA titles in a "grand slam" performance, have shown what determination and hard work will accomplish.

Jim Horan, a Long Beach, Calif., product, had never run in cold weather until entering MSU in 1956. Last year the junior runner was hampered by injuries and failed to live up to Coach Karl Schlademan's expectations.

George Tatu, who ran track and cross country for three years at Detroit's Edsel Ford High School, elected to bypass the harrier sport his freshman year in order to concentrate on books.

Horan competed in basketball and baseball during the large part of his prep career at St. Anthony's but Coach Brother Thomas Fry insisted the athletes run track or cross country in order to keep in shape for the other two sports.

In his first year as a cinder-man Horan ran a 4:32 mile. Competing in the harrier sport, he ran an 8:30 and 9:06 for 1.7 and 1.9 mile, respectively.

Coming to MSU with Jim Carr and Pat Ryan, two Spartan cinder-men, Horan has come along this year in cross country and should make a strong bid for a berth on the team next fall.

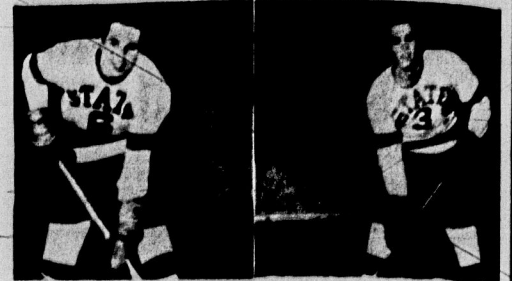

In addition to posting a 26:46 time in a dual meet with Penn State, Horan placed fourth in the team's NCAA meet on the heels of a 21:22 performance.

Tatu, a runner that has been up and down during the entire season, can be credited indirectly for the Spartans' triumphs in the three championship meets.

Running his best race of the season in the Western Michigan dual meet, he paced over the four-mile old College Field course in 21:13. Tatu earned a fourth place finish.

In the IC4A at New York, the sophomore harrier placed 42nd in the 300 man field of runners and was the fifth Spartan to cross the wire, enabling MSU to win the crown for the third straight year.

Tatu finished 69th in the NCAA meet but didn't fail to realize his previous performance had sparked his teammates on to the heights they reached at the national meet.

Iceers Elect Captains

Polano, Miller, Pollesel To Lead Hockey Squad

By HARDY CHRIST
State News Sports Editor

Veteran forward Joe "Bepi" Polano was elected to captain the 1958-59 Spartan hockey team Monday by his teammates.

Polano has been a starter on the ice squad since his sophomore year. He netted three goals last weekend against North Dakota, two coming only 40 seconds apart in Saturday's game which tied it up, 3-3, early in the third period.

Ellsworth "Bulch" Miller and Eddy Pollesel were named as the alternate captains. The pair, both defencemen, form the nucleus of a great defensive wall which exhibited its power in the weekend series.

Miller was a one-man defense against North Dakota, while Pollesel combined expert defensive and offensive play. Eddy chipped in with one goal and three assists against the Sioux.

Coach Arno Boenke gave his approval of the new leaders.

"They all played great hockey against North Dakota," he said. "Both Miller and Pollesel who great on defense, and Polano sparked the offense."

The Spartans started preparations Monday for an extended road trip.

While most MSU students are homeward bound for the holidays, the iceers will be on their way to Boston, Mass., to participate in the first of two tournaments during the Christmas recess.

At Boston, they'll play in the Boston Invitational Tournament, a single-elimination affair, from Dec. 26-30. State will meet eastern powerhouses as Boston College, Boston University, the University of New Hampshire and Brown.

They'll head the long bus to Troy, New York, to take part in the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute round robin tourney from Jan. 1-2. At Troy the iceers will meet RPI, Princeton and Brown.

After the holidays, they'll meet Minnesota at Minneapolis, Jan. 9-10, and finally return home Jan. 23-24 to meet the Gophers in a return series.

Cagers Cop 2nd Win; Defeat Butler, 72-46

4 Spartans Net Over Ten Points

By LARRY WRONIEWSKI

Michigan State's cagers, going a balanced scoring attack and a tight defense, trounced Butler University Monday night, 72-46.

Four Spartans hit double figures, John Green took game scoring honors with 18. Bob Anderson, 16, sophomore guard, got 14 and forward Bruce Walker, 11.

Playing before 1,871 fans, one of the smallest home crowds in recent years, the Spartans scored a commanding 14-3 advantage early in the game.

On occasions, however, State's defense sagged when Butler utilized the full-court press.

The strategy baffled the Spartans and Butler managed to close State's margin to five points at the end of the first half.

Coach Forbly Anderson turned to the bench to help spark the offense. He called on seniors

Cagers in Top 20

Forbly Anderson's high-ranking cagers are ranked in the nation top 20 teams on both the Associated Press and the United Press International in the initial week of polling. The Spartans are in the 15th spot on the AP poll and in fourth place on the UPI poll. Cincinnati ranks first in the nation on both wire services.

Jim Stoffer and Gowers. Both had their roles to expectations. In the closing minutes of the game, Stoffer put away a jump shot and a layup. Gowers dropped in a pair of baskets, a state adjourned to the dressing room leading, 41-15.

Green, who celebrated his 25th birthday, and Anderson combined to score 22 points in the first half.

Returning for the second night, Anderson used Anderson, Gowers, Green, Stoffer, and Ben.

This combination proved effective as State built up a 33-15 lead.

Gowers paced the Spartans in the second half with 12 points and six field goals.

Although the Spartans showed signs of fatigue, they scored on 10 of 13 tries from the floor for 30 points.

Butler's top offensive threat was guard Bill Scott. He scored 18 points on eight field goals and five free throws.

To take a 72-46 win, Anderson said Coach Forbly Anderson said outside the Spartan lockers.

"These two games were good for us," Anderson said. "The moving Saturday against Butler was a wonderful way to start the season. A person can't expect a team to be high for a holiday game. Considering the way we did a good job."

"We corrected our rash foot balling of Saturday's game. We didn't fumble as often. Our passing and ball handling needs improvement and we expect to work especially on these things."

State now has a nine-day layoff before traveling to South and Ind. to oppose Notre Dame. During this period MSU's men will tackle fall term work.

The Spartans return home to Nebraska on Dec. 20. Last season, MSU upset Wilt Chamberlain and Kansas, 43-41.

During the Christmas holidays, the Spartans will participate in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C., on Dec. 21. This tournament brings together eight top cage teams.

There are four regulars—host North Carolina State, Duke, North Carolina and Wake Forest.

Fall Term Roundup

IM Crowns New Champions

Michigan State's vast intramural program, headed by Director Frank Berman and Assistant Director Bob Gowers, again proved to be one of the finest in the land fall term.

Seven individual and four team sports were on the fall term program.

Highlighting the seven team sports was touch football, with 154 squads participating in three separate leagues.

The Independent league entry DDE's took the All-University championship, defeating the dormitory entry, Bryan 6, in the finale.

Lambda Chi Alpha was the Fraternity champion, but was defeated by the Bryan club in the semi-finals.

Delta Tau Delta set a new total pins record in winning the Fraternity bowling championship from defending champion Delta Sigma Phi.

The Delta set an IM record of 3616 total pins and beat DS Phi 7450 pins to 3318 in the finale for the title.

Four blocks, including 175 men and 25 teams, took part in the program. Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Theta Chi and Beta Theta Pi were the block winners.

Don Wiegandt of Alpha Tau Omega won the All-University

Wildcats Top Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (Northwestern, ranked No. 10 in the AP basketball poll, won its third straight victory Monday night over eleven-ranked Notre Dame, 68-63.

Ticket 1.00 and Bailey Hall raised away with the team championship.

Wiegandt won the 15th annual IM with a time of 5:57.9, but Bailey's best score of 39 easily took the team title.

Gordon Porter of Bailey took second place, and Owen Rodriguez of the Newman Club was third.

Ernest Hall was second in the dormitory competition with 76 points, and West Shaw, Butlerfield, Butler and East Shaw followed.

ATD took the fraternity championship in the event, with LCA second, Alpha Gamma Rho was third, Sigma Xi fourth, Delta Upsilon fifth and Delta Sigma Phi sixth.

In the Independent league, Evans Scholars placed first, and the Stingers were runners-up.

Dominic Marino and Tony Avramis teamed up to win the fall term basketball doubles tournament. The pair defeated Bill Butler and Jack Miles in the finale, 21-9 and 21-8.

In the All-University fencing tournament, Don Thornton won the championship in the foil event and Dick Snyder in the epee. Second place in the foil went to John Holt, and Don Kest in the epee.

In the open, Paul Carpenter was runner-up, with Dean Mills third. There were not sufficient entries to merit competition in the sabre event.

Championships in the All-University gymnastic competition saw six men crowned.

Paul Johnson won the horizontal bar title, while Elaine Rabe took second place.

In the living cage event,

Charles Drake was the winner, and John Stein captured second place.

Ron Hoeffner took top honors in the trampoline event, with Lee Kronenberg taking second. Kronenberg, however, came back to win the singles tumbling championship. Dick Beaudry was runner-up in the tumbling.

In the doubles tumbling, Frank Beattie and Frank Maxwell won the title, while Charles Brock and Chuck Labinski were second.
