Pete Smith's Rating

Bat double or outfielder...the hit as it was belted. Third baseman George Bixler, assistant coach, was very pleased. "Felt Smith's hitting continues to improve," Bixler said. "He's really come through this year." Smith analyzed the event in the ninth inning when he drove the ball into the gap and then scored on a groundout by first baseman Jerry Youngblood.

"It was a very challenging situation," theangen said. "The ball was hit right at us, but our defense was very good. We were able to make a couple of nice plays."

Spring Practice Begins U of M

The Michigan baseball team will begin spring practice for the 1962 season on Friday, February 23rd. The team is expected to have a solid weekend, with several new acquisitions joining the roster. Head Coach Arthur D. Smith has been working with his team throughout the winter, preparing for the upcoming season. The team is scheduled to play several exhibition games against local college teams in the coming weeks, including the University of Michigan's baseball team.
