Romney Elected Governor

East Lansing Says 'No' to Beer, Wine

Many City Residents Strongly Favored

Recall Loses to 1,200 Votes

By C. R. PETERSON

The news was reported by a state-wide poll, but it was definitely defined by a vote of 2,100 to 1,200. The press was surprised when the Governor was elected in the 1964 campaign. However, the results were still uncertain.

In the city of Lansing, the Governor was elected with a strong margin. In the county, the Governor was elected with a narrower margin. The results were announced on the evening of the election.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 3 - Unofficial returns from 216 out of 51 precincts indicate that three-term Republican Governor George Romney sustained a strong victory in the state's gubernatorial contest. In the city of Lansing, Governor Romney led by 11,000 votes, the closest he has been in any election. InIngham County, Romney led by 8,000 votes.

The Governor's campaign was marked by a strong effort to appeal to moderate voters. In the past, the Governor had been criticized for his strong conservative views. However, in this campaign, he emphasized his effectiveness as a leader.

Younger Tips Foe, Davis Endorsed

By GERRY HINKLE

The New York Times

Early returns showed Republican incumbent Paul C. Younger leading the race for state Senate, but he was trailing Democratic opponent Allen B. Davis. Younger continued to lead in most counties, while Davis was gaining in others. The race was considered too close to call.

In the race for state Senate, Davis was leading Younger by about 1,000 votes. However, the race was too close to call, and it was expected that Younger would eventually gain the majority.

DETOUR—Governor Romney was elected governor of Michigan Tuesday, the Republican candidate, John W. Long, and Republican Senator Homer S. Weems of the upper house, were also re-elected.

At 2:30 a.m., with 6,711 votes cast, the Governor had 11,161 votes, and Weems had 1,120 votes.

For the first time in years, the Republican candidate was able to carry a state wide vote, including the city of Lansing.

The election results showed a shift in political sentiment, with Republican candidates winning in a majority of the state's counties.

A year-ear-old voter turned out in record numbers, with the result being a generational change in Michigan's political leadership.

Swarmson, who led a successful campaign last year, was defeated by Younger. The race was considered too close to call, and the outcome was uncertain.

A Shelud Social Problem

The problem of the sewage plant on Kalamazoo Ave. next to the Brody group is simply a sewerage source.

A trip down Kalamazoo or a visit to a friend in Bailey Hall is a delightful reminder of the fact that a person was not accustomed to this area.

The University and the City of East Lansing have been using deodorizing equipment, but it has proved to be ineffective.

The facility is processing more sewage than it was designed for, and the cold weather of winter term to stem the complaints of students and area residents is no solution.

The time to act is now.

The odors become particularly unsettling during the warm weather of late summer and fall.

The increased population on campus during the fall also tends to bring the problem to the forefront of student complaints.

It has been brought to the attention of the administration that it may have to be removed.

Money should be appropriated for the plant's construction immediately.

There is no sewage problem involved with the Red Cedar smelt. It is just as important to the University to get rid of it as to build a new dorm.

You have to get residents willing and happy to live in a dormitory before it really applies any value.

Let's push for some immediate action on this most pressing situation. Many complaints have been registered with residence hall advisors and the State News.

It becomes hard to respect a democracy with such an obvious and offensive—social problem.

The idea is to use one of these places as a stop for students going to and from home and to have a discussion of events.

Some students proposed. Once passed, it should turn into an annual event. At least, the idea that the University should have such a facility and the idea of students taking part in their community should be considered.

What pools are open to these citizens of Lansing and the students. Many students have come up with ideas for such a center.

If students could utilize a telephone directory of the University to contact professors and students, for example, the idea could be carried out. It should be started.

The creation of such a service would be a precedent for the University and for the students. Who knows what the students might do with such a facility.

They believe in the idea.

They want contact with their community. Communication was established by the University when the students were set up on campus.

The people of the University were wrong in their opposition to the idea of students. The majority have been silent, many have been silent, and the majority are not aware of the problems.

However, if the students want to use this as a means of communication, their ideas should be heard.

They will be grateful if we help them to this end.

Daughtry Manuevers Men After Minnesota Drubbing

As might be expected after a 40-13 defeat, there were some grumblings and complaints about the game. Coach Lou June felt he could have adjusted his defense better, but found his team was still scoring well. He said some offensive plays would be changed for the next game.

June's squad is currently in full swing under the guidance of the new head coach, Donner. The team is gearing up for its third straight victory of the season against the lowest scoring team. The game was played in the rain and the players were cheered on by the crowd. The next game will be against a tough opponent with a score of 7-15.

Manned Expedition To Mars
Hopefully Set For Early 1970's

Life on Mars is attractive to scientists, the first goal being a manned expedition. The larger ships would make a complete orbit of the sun, be turned back, and then be sent to Mars. If a mission were charged of finding manned space probes to this planets, little would be asked of the earth men around the sun, but they would have to allow the earth men the time, 12 days later. After about 50 days, the problem of the velocity of Mars would continue around the sun, as it is to the earth, but as it is to the Mars, then the crew would arrive at the point in the orbit where the Mars would be on the same side of the earth. A year would have gone by and the earth would be on the opposite side of the sun when the Mars would be on the same side of the earth.
