Indonesia Continues Hostility

Sukarno Upsets U.S. Mediation

BANGKOK, Thailand (P)—President Sukarno of Indonesia has thrown a monkey wrench into mediation machinery built up by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for a settlement of the Malaysian crisis.

Sukarno vowed continued hostility toward Malaysia in a speech in Jakarta Wednesday night right after Kennedy left on a roundabout flight back to Washington with an agreement among Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines on steps toward peace.

The mercurial Indonesian leader told a rally of 15,000 cheering youths that his island nation will press its drive to crush Malaysia unless that anti-Communist federation of British Communist federation of former British colonies is changed to suit Indonesian tastes.

"Onward, never retreat!" Sukarno said. "Crush Malaysia! Indonesia may change its tactics, but our goal will remain the same."

Tactically, Indonesia agreed to a cease-fire with Malaysia in the undeclared jungle war on their 800-mile-long border in Borneo.

Both agreed to join the Philippines in a conference of foreign ministers in Bangkok the first week in February, a possible preliminary to a summit meeting.

All three nations asked Thailand to check on any violations of the cease-fire.

Taylor Hits Campus Chest, AUSG Discusses U.N. Funds

Campus Chest is no longer serving the purpose for which it was created and should be abolished if it is not changed, Ben Taylor, Lansing junior and Campus Chest director, told All-

University Student Congress Wednesday night.

Congress also heard discussion on the role of the adviser and the administration in student government and introduced a bill for appropriation of funds to the Campus United Nations.

Taylor said the annual fund drive which his organization sponsors each fall term has been bringing in less money every year despite the university's increasing enrollment.

Taylor cited the growth of the University as a major problem. "We have no more contact with the students than any of you have with President Johnson," he told Congress.

He said he expected this term's fund drive to be a "slim pickings success," but that it would probably not bring in as much money as last year's drive.

Another spokesman for the organization said its only practical function now is to allocate times for various fundraising events and to prevent two such events from overlapping.

Under the present system, he said, Campus Chest has neither the power nor the manpower to carry out its other functions.

Also, he commented, the Organizations Bureau is duplicat-

House Calls For Study Of College Presidents

Budget Request Aids MSU

$8 Million To Build

MSU will get $7.96 million for construction if Gov. George W. Romney's $51.2 capital outlay budget for university expansion gets through the legislature unscathed.

The governor has proposed that MSU get $39.6 million for the total operating year, 1964-65. This is a $7.3 million increase over last year, but the figure is $0.9 million less than the University requested.

Paul Wileden, director of the budget division, released figures Thursday telling how MSU will spend the $7.96 million earmarked for capital outlay.

"Legislative committees have not had a chance to work on these figures and so they are very rough approximations," Wileden said. "Of course they will not be final until the money is appropriated by the legislature."

Broken down, the $7.96 million will be spent this way: --$2.75 million for final payment on the new $6 million chemistry building.

--$1.5 million to start construction on a new food science building and another $1.5 million to begin new quarters for forestry-conservation.

--$2 million for the new $8.5 million power plant, to be located one-third mile south of Spartan Stadium between the railroad tracks.

Another $190,000 will be spent for an electrical tie-line with the Lansing Board of Water and Light. Recommended by a legislative study commission, the tie-line will enable MSU to buy from 4,800 to 7,500 kilowatts from the Lansing municipal power system.

MSU is planning to spend $20,000 to remodel Kedzie Chemical building into classrooms. After the chemistry department is moved into a new building the old building will be used to give additional space to the science program.

"I am very hopeful that the legislature will provide funds for these badly needed facilities," Secretary Jack Breslin said. "Since the legislature provided us planning money for these buildings, I hope they will follow through and appropriate the needed funds for their completion."

Breslin also disclosed plans to invite members of both the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee to visit campus in the next few weeks.

"This will give them an opportunity to see MSU's needs firsthand and for us to answer their questions," he said.

President John A. Hannah said that the Romney budget, if approved, would partially restore the average state aid per student to the 1957-1961 average of $1,061.

See Police Academy At MSU

One of the major points of Gov. George W. Romney's traffic safety campaign is establishment of a police training academy on campus.

MSU already has a school of police administration, but few local departments can spare the manpower for the four week training course.

The proposal would grant $100,000 to MSU to establish 16 regional training programs throughout the state, to be administered by a central office here.

"It has been impractical for local units to provide training programs because of cost and lack of qualified instructors," Romney said. "Yet better training is needed if we are to cope with the ever-increasing traffic and criminal problems in Michigan."

24th Amendment Bans Poll Taxes

WASHINGTON (P)—An amendment banning the poll tax as a requirement for voting in elections for federal office was written into the Constitution Thursday.

South Dakota became the 38th state to approve the amendment with a senate vote of 34 to 0. The House had approved it last week.

Ratification by three-fourths of the 50 states is necessary for a Constitutional amendment.

Republicans in the South Dakota Senate complained that undue pressure was applied from Washington to speed action. President Johnson had telephoned the state Democratic chairman, John Engel, on behalf of the amendment.

The measure had been at the bottom of the Senate calendar, but minority Democrats succeeded in having it pushed to the top.

Senate Group OK's Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate Finance Committee voted final approval Thursday of an $11.5 billion tax cut bill—largest slash in the nation's history. The vote was 12 to 5.

The bill was approved by the committee in about the form sought by President Johnson and his predecessor, the late President John F. Kennedy, although the senators changed many House provisions.

The President has made it his top-priority legislative proposal along with civil rights.

Administration officials count on the tax cut to put $30 billion of additional steam into the economy in the next two years.

Senate debate on the bill is expected to begin late next week or the first of the following week.

Red Nays Freezing Arms Ban

GENEVA (P)—President Johnson's proposals for halting the nuclear arms race ran into firm Soviet objections at the disarmament conference Thursday and seemed headed for a deadlock.

With an angry sweep of his hand, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told reporters the U.S. plan for an Atlantic alliance multinational nuclear force "has to be cleared away" before there can be any agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

Western officials of the 17-nation conference were more hopeful of finding common ground with the Russians on other parts of the President's arms control plan, including the establishment of observation posts to prevent surprise attack and accidental war.

Johnson's five-point plan was submitted to the conference Tuesday by U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster.

Tsarapkin is expected to deliver the first formal Russian comment on the plan next week. (continued on page 4)

Castro Supports Test Ban

Sugar Cure For Cuba

MOSCOW (P)—Fidel Castro apparently has committed himself at last on Premier Khrushchev's side in the Moscow-Peking feud after he was promised a better deal for Cuban sugar.

The Cuban Prime Minister flew back to Havana Thursday after voicing support for the nuclear test ban treaty.

For Cuba the test ban treaty has little practical value in itself, but the pact has become important to Moscow in the ideological dispute with Red China.

The treaty was signed last August in Moscow by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union. Red China has denounced the treaty and refused to sign it. Castro said nothing publicly about the test ban treaty until last night when a Soviet-Cuban communique reported: "The government of Cuba regards as a step forward toward peace and disarmament the success achieved by the Soviet Union in the struggle for ending nuclear tests and the agreement to keep nuclear weapons off vehicles in orbit."

The communique also said Castro "expressed his approval" of the steps the Russians have taken to unify the world Communist movement. This was another score for Moscow in the feud with Peking, informed sources said.

The price Khrushchev is paying for Castro's support is 24.1 million tons of Cuban sugar which the Russians say they don't really need.

In return for his support, Castro was in effect getting stepped-up economic aid from the Russians, already running at about $1 million a day.

The Russians have agreed to buy 24.1 million tons of Cuban sugar between 1965 and 1970.

The price, fixed for the period at 6 American cents per British pound, would run out at $134.40 a ton.

Western sources said they considered this a good price since the world market will fluctuate below as well as above this level.

The Russians will pay for it in Russian-made goods, probably heavy machinery and other equipment to help build up Cuban industry.

JFK Center A Possibility

Proposals to name the new International Center after the late President John F. Kennedy may be considered soon.

President John A. Hannah indicated that the proposal came up informally at the last Board of Trustees meeting, but no action was taken. It will probably be taken up by the trustees at the next meeting.

He declined to say whether the board would name the new facility after Kennedy, however. Some other building eventually may be named after the late President.

LBJ Asks Canal Talks

WASHINGTON (P)—President Johnson said Thursday that the United States is willing to "seek solutions to all problems dividing" this country and Panama.

He urged that Panama agree to meet for discussions on the present crisis without demanding preconditions for the meeting.

Johnson spoke at a news conference called on short notice following a White House visit earlier this week by the Cuban American Peace Committee of the Organization of American States, which is trying to promote a peaceful resolution of the dispute.

Few Tickets Remaining

Virtually all student general admission tickets for Saturday afternoon's home basketball game with the University of Michigan have been picked up, Bill Beardsley, athletic ticket manager, said.

Beardsley said late Thursday afternoon that there was only a handful of tickets remaining and he presumed that there would be none left by this morning.

He said that there were still quite a few tickets left for Monday night's game with Ohio State and that the ticket distribution booths at Jenison and the Union second floor concourse were open today 8 a.m.-noon and again 1-4 p.m. to permit students, faculty and staff to secure their seats.

ICE QUESTION "POPS" UP -- Judy Fredricks, receptionist for the State News advertising department, points to the source of a recent complaint. Some students wonder whether or not the amount of ice in campus soft drinks may be excessive.

Question Conflicting Interests

Probe Would Include Hannah

A resolution calling for study of outside interests of college presidents was introduced in the Michigan House of representatives Thursday.

The proposal would create a special house committee to determine whether the time college presidents devote to private interests detracts from their devotion to campus duties.

Rep. Richard A.H.J. Guzowski, D-Detroit, co-sponsored the resolution.

President John A. Hannah would be included in the committee study if the resolution is passed, Guzowski said.

The resolution reads as follows:

"The members of the house of representatives have been informed that various presidents of our state-supported colleges and universities are indulging in outside activities--serving on boards of directors of various corporations, business enterprises and financial institutions.

"It is a distinct possibility that such college president could find themselves in a position of conflict of interest."

The five-member committee to be appointed if the resolution is passed would decide whether outside positions were leading college presidents to such a conflict.

The house committee would also determine the extent to which any college president may be using his office for personal gain.

Passage of the resolution would authorize the committee to:

... administer oaths, subpoena witnesses and examine books and records of any persons, partnerships or corporations involved in a matter properly before the committee."

The solution was introduced by Rep. William Romano, D-Warren. Co-sponsors include Reps. Frederic J. Marshall, R-Allen; Gail Handy, R-Eau Claire and Guzowski.

Vote on the resolution may come next week, Guzowski said.

Calls Wayne Appropriation Insufficient

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski Thursday charged Gov. George Romney with "short-changing" Michigan's university students, especially those at Wayne State University, in his budget appropriation recommendations.

"The education budget is not being distributed as it has been in the past," Lesinski said.

"The governor's recommendations would provide only a 14.2 per cent increase for Wayne State while giving MSU a 22.6 per cent increase and the University of Michigan 15.3 per cent."

Lesinski said that if Wayne State were to maintain the 16 per cent of the total higher education budget which it has been receiving in the past three years, the governor would have recommended $900,000 more.

Romney's budget message called for general operating appropriations of $39.6 million for MSU, $44.1 million for the University of Michigan and $20.1 million for Wayne State.

Explosions Rock Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (P)—A series of violent explosions toppled the tall minaret of the Bairaktar Mosque in the Greek sector of Nicosia Thursday nights.

At least three loud explosions ripped through the darkness and persons in movie houses and cafes dashed for their homes, fearing the blasts would be the signal for new fighting between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot sides in this island capital.

France To Recognize Red China

PARIS (P)—France intends to launch a so-called "two Chinas" policy early next week with the diplomatic recognition of Communist China, reliable French sources said Thursday.

Barring some last-minute complication, France will establish full diplomatic relations with Peking next Tuesday and designate a veteran diplomat and Far East specialist, Jean Chauvel, as French ambassador.

Senate Passes Debate Limit

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate made history Thursday by voting to require that Senators confine their speeches to the pending subject for three hours each day while an important bill is pending.

The vote, which crossed party lines, was 57 to 25. The rules change, sponsored by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and a bipartisan group of 30 other Senators, limits the traditional practice of "ambushing any Senator to talk on any subject during the course of the debate on the pending business."

The change has no effect on present rules requiring a two-thirds vote to cut off debate, and leaves Senators free to speak on any subject after the three-hour period of "germaneness" is ended each day.

Snow

Just The Beginning

President John A. Hannah hit the bullseye when he said, "I'm not celebrating until it (the budget) gets through the legislature." But nevertheless a ray of sunshine has broken through the heavy overcast caused by the baby boom.

Governor George W. Romney has asked the legislature to appropriate $39.6 million for MSU operating funds. While this figure does not reach the $40.5 million asked for by the University, it still represents a $7.3 million increase over 1963-64--- largest dollar increase in recent years. "This is the first time in recent years that the Department of Administration has placed emphasis on rising University enrollments in preparing the state budget," Hannah said. "Passage of the bill will put MSU in better shape than it has been in the last five years."

With a predicted enrollment next year of 30,497 students, 9.8 per cent higher than this year, the University has good reason to view the recommendation favorably. The $7.3 million increase is sufficient to accommodate the additional students, and more significantly it will allow a per student increase.

State aid per student in 1963 has dropped to $876 from the 1957-58 average of $1,061. The proposed budget for 1964-65 would boost this per student rate back up to the $1,000 mark.

The per capita increase would mean improved student services, increased faculty salaries and an increased staff.

But lest we get too jubilant, let us remember that the budget has only rounded the first turn, and the toughest part of the race remains. We can only hope that the legislators will recognize the same need that Romney saw when he visualized the avalanche of students heading for our campus.

Action Needed In Viet Nam

A Michigan State audience was told this week that the situation in Viet Nam deserves a closer evaluation than it has been receiving, one that perhaps paints a gloomier picture than has been given by government observers.

David Halberstam, who spoke here Tuesday night, has been one of the most astute reporters of the long-running struggle for power in Viet Nam.

The New York Times said, in an October editorial, that Halberstam's "resourcefulness and courage in reporting the facts about both the war and the internal situation in Viet Nam have made him the target of special criticism by the Nhus. Correspondents report events, they do not make them. In that job they are entitled to adequate facilities and above all to personal safety. And the American people are entitled to the facts about a war in which American blood and money is being spent."

The clear reporting of events is, of course, one of the primary goals of any news writer, and particularly one covering a situation as complicated as that in Viet Nam. In attempting to make an analysis of Viet Nam, Halberstam has found that Red China poses a bigger threat in that area than the United States may be willing to admit, and suggests the need for a stiffer policy of fighting and resistance to help combat the Red take-over.

He said Monday, "Red China is a real power to those on her borders and what happens in Viet Nam will have repercussions in other Southeast Asia countries."

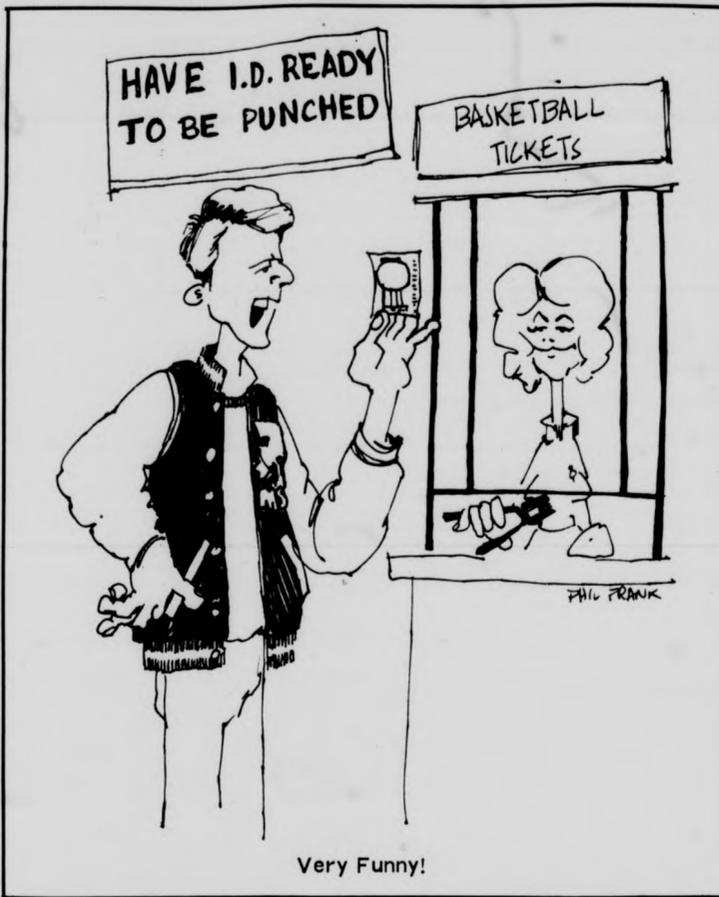

"The State Department is always more optimistic than I am. The guerrilla forces are two to three times stronger than they were in 1962 and the Communists are getting more powerful."

He said that newsmen were reporting deterioration in the delta area last January when the State Department said that we were winning the war. The United States spends $1.5 million a day and is losing to the poorly equipped Viet Cong guerrillas, partially because there is little follow-up of intelligence reports. "It is not a war of machines, but of men, psychology and grass roots skill," Halberstam said.

Halberstam said that defenders of the status quo charged that newsmen were sending out distorted reports about Viet Nam.

We can not but agree with Halberstam that the best way of combatting the slow spread of Communism in Viet Nam is through careful study of the problem by on-the-scene observers, and then by following up the reports they send back by adopting a policy in accordance with the apparent needs.

Viet Nam is too serious a threat to be allowed to wait for a reluctant admission that there is really a problem there after all.

People Of SE Asia Impress MSU Tourist

"How can anyone be 'Persian'?" protested Montesquieu's Parisians with surprise when first they saw a Persian. Don Dickson, East Lansing senior, recently returned from a tour of Southeast Asia, found that this old world attitude still exists between the varying cultures of the world today.

But Dickson also found the natural attributes of people everywhere--warm friendliness and a desire to learn--existed as much in the sub-cultures of the Asian peoples as in the peoples of the Western Hemisphere.

The purpose of the State Department--National Student Association sponsored trip was to establish friendly contacts with Asian students. According to Dickson, Asian students were most hospitable, courteous and anxious to learn about the way of life of the Western student. But the learning wasn't one-sided, Dickson said. "I was so impressed by the people and countries of Southeast Asia, I have decided to do my graduate study there."

The month long trip began Dec. 15. Dickson first visited Hong Kong, the British controlled crossroads of East and West. "The city was extremely crowded. The students very friendly."

"One thing that disappointed me was the lack of interest of Chinese students in politics," Dickson said. "They seem to be satisfied to be a British colony, but with Hong Kong so close to Communist China, the city would be too weak to stand up to the Red Chinese."

Dickson also visited the Philippines. "I found the Filipinos very differ than I had expected," Dickson said. "The Philippines is an individual country with a personality of its own...a personality much different from that of the United States." Indonesia was also a surprise, according to Dickson. "I had pictured the country as completely totalitarian, with no freedom at all. It isn't like that. The country is almost a totalitarian dictatorship, but the people do have the freedom to move around and to criticize, as long as they don't criticize the president."

Politics And Poker

Glenn Should Seek To Reform Congress

By Jack Shea

John Glenn's candidacy for the U.S. Senate is just what the doctor ordered to get a sluggish champion back on its feet. The U.S. Congress, beset by too many people who know all the committee ropes, who know of all the dark corners wherein they can hide controversial legislation and who have long since sacrificed personal integrity to continue themselves in office, has failed to provide for much needed legislation.

Demands by the President, demands by the people themselves have gone unheeded. When a quarter of a million people can stage a march on Washington, only to have their congressman tell them that their efforts won't really have any effect because Representative or Senator so-and-so has decided that his committee isn't even going to hold hearings until he gets ready to...good and ready to...then it's long past time to give the old congressional veins a transfusion.

Some commendable efforts have been made to get things started. In the House of Representatives, Richard Bolling of Missouri heads up a Democratic Study Club that has promised to work hard to raise money for the coming election - with the stipulation that it is only to be used by Democrats who have supported the party on important issues.

Rep. Bolling has about 100 House Democrats backing him up. With a little more support and a few leprechauns on his side, he could take control of the Democratic caucus, get elected Speaker of the House, and then institute some changes that would give chairmanships of committees to Democrats who support the Democratic platform.

Seniority would not necessarily be thrown out the window, but Rep. Judge Smith of Virginia, and a few other people, would be well warned that if they are to be honored with important positions by the Democratic caucus, they will be expected to give full support to the party platform and to respect the wishes of the caucus on important matters.

Committee chairmanships are gifts from the caucus of the majority party, and as such they should be used constructively or else given to someone else. Judge Smith should not be able to tie up the progress of this country; to refute the will of a majority of his own party; simply because he personally doesn't like a particular bill.

To replace the dragging feet of Judge Smith and others like him over in the Senate, we need more people like John Glenn in Congress. People who won't guide their every action by what tradition says they can get away with, but rather will get on with the job at hand with a good mind, a good heart and a loyalty to the Constitution.

Glenn is in need of an issue to carry to the incumbent Senator Young in the May 5, Ohio primary. He might be well advised to approach the progressive Senator from Pennsylvania, Joseph Clark. Clark is the leading reformer in the Senate, and might be willing to campaign hard for Glenn, if Glenn would in turn promise to work with Clark once in the Senate.

The Senate, as well as the House, has no more important work at hand than the reform of its own rules of procedure. The legislation that this country needs so much will not flow like it should until reform is enacted.

Glenn should present himself as a candidate for reform and then he and Clark should take this issue to the voters in the Ohio Democratic primary. A victory for reform on the 5th of May could be a big first step in replacing rule by southern oligarchy, with rule by a majority of the Congress.

Point Of View Goldwater Seen In Another Light

John Kemp

Mr. Shea stated last week that Senator Goldwater is a "militarist" in an age of peace, a "nationalist" in an age of interdependence, and the "protector of the wealthy class" in an era of "painfully slow progress toward a social consciousness".

Calling Goldwater a "militarist" shows a failure to be aware of the school of thought to which he is entitled to belong. Whether we agree with Goldwater's belief in a constructive, positive and non-appeasement type of foreign policy is irrelevant. The importance is that we know what his belief really is. The fact is that he believes we should stop the spread of Communism not only through meeting their threat with our counter-threat, and meeting their force with our resistance, but also by taking the offensive at times and forcing them to react to the U. S. instead of vice versa. Senator Goldwater believes that this sort of action will be a deterrent to nuclear war and not lead to it.

Similarly, the accusation that Goldwater is a "nationalist" can easily be dispensed with. (It is my assumption that Mr. Shea attempted to use it in a derogatory sense, although the term itself does not necessarily connote evil.) Senator Goldwater is a "nationalist" in the respect that we want all United States politicians to be. He believes in America first, but not only. Senator Goldwater might have received this label because he is not an ardent advocate of the United Nations.

However contrary to what some journalists would lead us to believe, he does NOT WANT TO WITHDRAW FROM THE UNITED NATIONS. However, he believes that the efforts of the U.N. are limited because every nation is in it, including the Communist nations. Senator Goldwater believes that as long as the Soviet Union and other nations refuse to pay their share of the expenses of the United Nations that they do not truly desire peace.

He argues that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization can be a much more effective instrument for the realization of world peace. Lastly we must say something of Senator Goldwater being the "protector of the wealthy class." There are innumerable refutations to this statement, but let us use only one.

Senator Goldwater has continually fought the increase in the Federal budget. Crossing party lines on April 8, 1957, in the United States Senator Goldwater committed what appeared to be political suicide when he chastised President Eisenhower's record $71.8 billion budget.

President Eisenhower was responsible for the election of Barry Goldwater to the Senate in 1952. Still, he had the conviction of principles to stand up for the American taxpayer, regardless of monetary stratification. Does not a reduced federal budget help all Americans? Goldwater has also called for a reduction in the progressive income tax. HE HAS NEVER ADVOCATED THE ABOLISHMENT OF INCOME TAXES as some journalists purport. Would not a tax cut help the poor class also? Would not a tax cut at the right time create more money? Would not more money help the poor man also?

Mr. Shea, you have some satisfaction; you are not the first to print distorted statements and untruths about the Arizona "classical liberal". I thank you for not calling him a John Birchler. Congratulations.

Pauline Frederick Speaks

UN World's Greatest Hope

NBC United Nations correspondent Pauline Frederick took some verbal stabs at political conservatives Thursday by stressing the role of the UN in maintaining peace.

Miss Frederick told the Lansing Town Hall Series audience that some people would like to sink the United Nations in New York's East River, but its existence provided an alternative to war.

Through discussion and negotiation world powers can avoid nuclear clashes, she said.

Miss Frederick quoted the late Albert Einstein as saying he could not predict the type of weapons to be used in World War III, but that sling-shots would be used in World War IV.

The United Nations does not threaten the sovereignty of any nation, she said. No country is bound by a UN resolution.

"The UN's only weapon is public opinion," she said.

Miss Frederick cited the change in world relationships during the past decade. Because of the threat of nuclear destruction, man must now settle his disagreements peacefully.

"Russia could not crush a revolt now as it did in Hungary. England and France could not attempt to take the Suez Canal. The United States could not land Marines in Panama or Cuba," she said.

Military power no longer means security for a nation, Miss Frederick said. No nation felt secure last year when the United States and the Soviet Union faced each other in the Caribbean.

Many still believe that "killing people who disagree will lead to agreement," she said, but called this an outdated and dangerous conviction.

"There is nothing magic about our civilization today. Men are not the creatures of circumstances. Rather, circumstances are the creatures of men."

Simplicity Makes 'Stranger' Success

By CAROL WALLEN
 State News Reviewer

Stark simplicity of setting coupled with the acting of a competent cast introduced a unique art form in an Arena Theater performance Wednesday night.

Mariam A. Duckwall, instructor of speech, directed her adaptation of "The Stranger," a novel by Albert Camus. A Frenchman, Camus was the recipient of the 1957 Nobel Prize for Literature.

"In our society any man who does not cry at his mother's funeral risks being condemned to death," Camus wrote. This adaptation of his play gives support to that statement and Camus' dissatisfaction with the workings of society.

Five stools at three-foot intervals rimmed one side of the circular stage; interchangeable blocks marked the center. With only these props, plus lighting and words, five performers took the near-capacity audience through the life of a young man in the desert city of Algiers.

Miss Duckwall terms this form of drama, employing readings and interpretation, "Theater of the Imagination."

This allows the audience to see settings as if they were reading a book," she said. "The Stranger" is a book—I felt too much of the meaning would be lost unless I found a way to present it as though it was being read."

Miss Duckwall's solution gave the five performers the task of alternately narrating and acting -- a task which they handled admirably in spite of no previous experience with the form.

C. David Colson, St. Clair Shores graduate student with an acting assistantship, played Meursault, the leading character. He gave a convincing portrayal of the young man who said little and felt emotion only for the physical.

Burt B. Belant, East Lansing graduate student also, with an acting assistantship, skillfully switched roles to play eight different characters--some to be loved, others not to be loved.

Pete Landry, Ironwood senior, gave credence to six characters ranging from a lawyer to a pimp. Two feminine roles were emotionally created by Christine Bergstrom, Bloomfield Hills junior, and Mary Ellen Finucan, Lansing junior, turned in a fine performance as the gay, bubbling Marie Cardona.

"The Stranger" may be seen tonight and Saturday at the Arena Theater, Tuesday and Wednesday in the Wonders Kiva and Thursday in the McDonal Kiva.

Caribbean Tour Set For Saturday

A filmed tour in the Caribbean area will be shown by travel photographer Eric Pavel Saturday in the Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Titled "Six Gateways to the Caribbean," the program is a presentation in the "World Travel Series."

Pavel takes his audience on a film visit to Panama, Venezuela, Haiti, Guatemala, Martinique and Trinidad.

Louis F. Hekhuis, director of student affairs and adviser to AUSG, admitted that the problem of communication is difficult. He also said that he could not speak for the whole administration.

A bill was introduced to allocate $200 to the Campus U.N. to help pay for their May 15 spring conference.

Several congressmen expressed the opinion that the entire sum should not be allocated, despite the fact that the request was a considerable reduction from the $750 previously requested.

Saturday Marks Paul's Conversion

By LINDA MILLER
State News Religion Writer

Christians will commemorate Saturday the conversion of the Apostle Paul, one of the greatest spokesmen for the world-embracing faith founded nearly 2000 years ago.

Saul of Tarsus was a Jew of the Dispersion. He did not originate the new religion and even remained a Jew after his conversion. The Acts of the Apostles describes the conversion of Saul, later known as St. Paul, along the road to Damascus. "Suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven. And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?"

'Action Poverty' Underway

St. John's Mission Board will launch plans Sunday for another summer project in Latin America.

The theme for the 1964 mission is "Action Poverty." Last summer over 20 students joined "Project Peru" to work in underdeveloped areas.

William Restivo, of Catholic Families for Latin America, will address the students Sunday at 7 p.m. The meeting is open to any student interested in the project.

A "baptism of the barrel" will also take place Sunday night. The barrel will be placed in the St. John's Parish to be filled with donations for the mission.

Smoking 'Could Be' Sinful Pleasure—Fr. Kavanaugh

Smoking could be sinful under certain circumstances, the Rev. Robert Kavanaugh, St. John's Student Parish, said.

In regard to the national reports on physical health and smoking, he said that someone will always say, "yes, it's a sin to smoke. Others will say, 'maybe.' He believes that the answer from the Church will be, 'could be.'"

"You cannot pigeon-hole this sort of thing into mortal or venial sins," he said as he lit a cigarette. "There are too many private factors involved in each case, so it is up to the individual to follow his own conscience. We cannot judge the morality of another person's actions."

A priest said last week in a newspaper that it is a sin for a Catholic who does not make a reasonable effort to stop smoking. The Rev. Fr. Kavanaugh said that there is a possibility that the quote was taken out of context or without the usual qualifications that invariably accompany such statements.

He said that the priest who made the statement may not smoke and does not understand the difficulty involved in telling one who has smoked for 20 or 30 years to quit.

Christianity," he said, "is to 'Love your neighbor as yourself.' Before you can do this you have to love God and yourself. To willingly endanger your health is not compatible with this love."

He said that if an individual studies the facts available and decides that smoking is an unreasonable danger to his health, he has a responsibility to stop smoking.

"It has been the traditional teaching of the Roman Catholic Church that pleasure is good if it is not enjoyed only for its own sake or in excess. If a cigarette is relaxing or pleasurable, it is good. Here you have to remember that every pleasure involves a certain amount of risk, for instance, jumping in the car and going for a ride. No one would say that this activity is morally wrong, although it could be for some individuals."

It is the hope of the Rev. Fr. Kavanaugh that some time there will be as much concern

Faith On Campus

One World Religion

-----By Keyvan Nazerian

Some people think negatively about religion. They simply do not want to be bothered. Others merely believe in religion but have no faith in it. Some students from religious families, after one or two years in college, think themselves better off without religion. Some categorize this group of students as "atheists." I believe that no one is an atheist. His inner consciousness is aware of the existence of God, but he has not recognized this power in his life.

Far from defending an atheist's attitude toward religion and life as a whole, consider why a student is willing to give up his religion. Maybe we can't put all the blame on him. Perhaps religion has not been introduced to him properly and he has a wrong picture of it. Introduced into scientific fields and opportunities for a broader knowledge of life, he compares them with what has been taught to him as religion, and is a little confused. He tries to compare all those new thoughts and ideas with religion and blend them.

Maybe one of his troubles is that he doesn't want to accept something blindly and wants to use his reason, as he uses it in other areas of life, i.e. science. But not aware of the simple and important fact that religion is one - the religion of God--no matter which prophet brought it or when or where, he is puzzled how each one of the religions, even sects in each religion, claim to have the final and everlasting truth, and that others should adopt their way if they want to be "saved."

Being acquainted with people from other countries and other religions he does not understand if a Hindu being born in a Hindu family, Buddhist in a Buddhist family or a Christian in a Christian family, is saved while all have inherited the religion from their parents and automatically accepted it. He wonders how truth can accept multiplicity and how one is saved and others are not while all have accepted their religion automatically.

Above all he sees that many people are called "religious" or "believe," some are called "indifferents" and some "atheists" but he cannot find a clear-cut line between them. In social activities, businesses, human relations, and so forth they follow the same identical pattern. The only difference is designation. Our student finds that being interested in religion is the job of certain people and religion itself is restrict to certain times. Being puzzled, he gives up investigation and adopts the easiest way--the way of saying "no."

Maybe the way religion has been introduced to him is wrong. Maybe it does not consist of traditions, ceremonies, superstitions and dogmas at all. It is exactly like rejecting science because of the extraordinarily powerful instruments of man's annihilation built and used today. Existence of these destructive instruments does not mean that science is harmful; rather it indicates that science has been used in the wrong way. Science is wonderful and is the cause of our progress and betterment of our life.

The disunities and divisions did not originally exist in religion. These are all man made. We are wrong if we evaluate true religion by these concepts. True religion is a vital force, fruitful, progressive and applicable in our daily life.

I believe in the Baha'i World Faith, whose teachings emphatically state the unity of God, unity of religion, and the oneness of mankind. All the religions have one source--God--and however different in name, origin and non-essential teachings, they all have the same essential moral and ethical laws and have contributed step by step to the evolution of our civilization.

Religion is a mighty instrument assisting man "to know God, to love Him" and "to carry forward an ever-advancing civilization. Religion must be in conformity with science and reason." In fact true religion and science are two important factors responsible for the evolution of our civilization and the betterment of our life. Religion "must be the cause of fellowship and love" and is only useful when lived in life and not merely believed with no practice. "Religious, racial, political, economical and patriotic prejudices destroy the edifice of humanity."

A study of the evolution of the recognized religions of the past and their influence on man's every-day life reveals significantly that they have passed through several stages. Man adds his ideas and interpretations to the religion and thus invents a series of ceremonies, dogmas and prejudices responsible for division, disunity and finally the loss of the original spiritual impulse of the religion beyond these man-made dogmas.

Today, however, as Baha'u'llah, Founder of the Baha'i World Faith stated more than eighty years ago, "That which the Lord hath ordained as the sovereign remedy and mightiest instrument for healing of all the world is the union of all its people in one universal cause, one common faith."

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is the last guest editorial received to date. Future contributions to "Faith on Campus" will be published if they are acceptable.

Indonesia Still Hostile

and supporting statements by his subordinates, raised grave doubts about the prospects for a significant change in the sore relationship between Malaysia and its two big neighbors. A nation of 100 million people, Indonesia opposes the federation, with a population of 10 million, on the ground it preserves British imperialism in Southeast Asia and threatens Indonesia with encirclement. The Philippine opposition is based on an old claim to Sabah, a Malaysian state formerly known as North Borneo. What was Kennedy's reaction to Sukarno's remarks? "I am confident that the Asian countries concerned will find a peaceful solution to the differences that now separate them" he said. "I am grateful to have had the opportunity to be of help in this first step and I know all the American people join me in wishing Mr. Thanat Khoman (Thailand's foreign minister) and the leaders of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines success in their work of solving this difficult problem."

AUSG Votes Meditation OK

All-University Student Congress will continue to hold a moment of silent meditation before each meeting. The resolution calling for its elimination was defeated Wednesday after passing a second reading last week. Bailey representative Howard Wilchins, Paterson, N.J., sophomore, said the resolution did not take God out of AUSG, since a moment of meditation not a moment of prayer is called for now. Rep. Mike Hannah, of North Wonders, Grand Rapids freshman, argued that tyranny would exist if the resolution passed. "We are not now forced to meditate," he said. "If the resolution is passed, we will have no opportunity to meditate." Speaker of Congress Bob Henken, Huntington senior, told Congressmen to vote against the resolution only if they used the moment of meditation for its intended purpose.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: DON LIEBERS

Recognize the man below? You may have seen him on your campus. You see, Don Liebers (M.B.A., 1960) represents Michigan Bell on many college campuses—Don's a Staff Supervisor in the College Employment Section.

Seeing what he could do, Michigan Bell next put Don in charge of the 71 Data Processing people who, among other duties, issue the company's entire monthly payroll! Again Don proved himself, and again his reward was a promotion—this time a full-level jump to Staff Supervisor.

Wrestling, Swim, Basketball Squads Home

Grapplers Face Purdue, Ill.

Michigan State's wrestling team, spearheaded by Terry Leonard and Homer McClure, opens its 1964 Big Ten season today and Saturday, meeting Purdue and Illinois respectively at the IM Sports Arena.

Both matches start at 3 p.m.

The Spartans are 1-1 thus far in dual competition. The Green and White will be attempting to match last year's 6-1 record, which included only a loss to Michigan, the third-ranked team in the nation.

Leonard and McClure were the top State grapplers in meets with Mankato State of Minnesota and the University of Oklahoma. McClure, a Tulsa, Oklahoma junior, is 1-0-1 in the Heavyweight division. They lead what Coach Grady Peninger says is "a constantly improving team." Against Purdue, the top match will probably involve McClure, who will meet Bob Hopp, a former Illinois State Champion, now in his first season of college wrestling.

The Illinois team State will face is rebuilding, but features two solid performers in Heavyweight Dave Russell and unbeaten 157-pounder Clay Beattie.

The Big Ten season outlook seems to favor powerhouses Mankato State of Minnesota and the University of Oklahoma, a strong darkhorse, which could pull some upsets as the season progresses and challenge favored Michigan.

Fish Flip Tonight

Youth will meet experience tonight at 7 in the IM pool when Spartan swimmers take on the Purdue Boilermakers.

It's been a pleasant season thus far for the young Spartans who have earned dual victories over Iowa and Iowa State and first place in the Michigan State Invitational Relays in their only outings.

Purdue finished sixth in the Big Ten last season, but five of six Boilermakers who scored in last year's conference meet will be on hand to face the Spartans tonight.

Leading the contingent from Lafayette is junior Harry Wickens who scored in four events at last season's conference meet. He's capable of outstanding performances in the 200, 500, and individual medley.

Albe Burke in the backstroke and Bob Impyn in the freestyle also scored for Purdue in the Big Ten Meet as did Hugh Scott (breaststroke) and Bruce Robison (freestyle).

The quartet will form the nucleus of the Boilermaker squad which will be trying to whittle down the lopsided edge the Spartans own in the swim series. MSU holds a 21-3 advantage in previous dual meetings between the schools.

The Spartans will again be counting on a core of sophomores to help carry the scoring burden.

Sophomore Darryle Kifer, Jim MacMillan, and Bob Sherwood have gone unbeaten in their freestyle events so far.

Next week MSU will travel to Minneapolis for a meet with powerful Minnesota.

'Unimpressive' UM Cage Foe

Powerful Michigan, possessors of a 13-1 season record and a top national basketball rating, rolls into East Lansing Saturday for the "Big Ten Game of the Week" on national television and perhaps the game of the year for the host Spartans.

Game time will be 4:30 p.m. at Jenison Fieldhouse before an anticipated sell-out crowd.

Despite the number two AP and three UPI ratings of the Wolverines, Michigan State coach Forddy Anderson has declared not to be too impressed. "Regardless of the relative standings and records," he said, "Michigan and Michigan State games almost always are good ones. In 1957, a year we tied for the conference title, Michigan beat us twice. That's the kind of series it has been."

However, in Bill Buntin, Cazzie Russell, Jim Meyers, Larry Tregoning and Bob Cantrell, the Maize and Blue boast a star-studded lineup rivaled by few teams in the country.

Coach Dave Strack will open with an awesome lineup. At the forwards will be 6-5 Tregoning and 6-8 Meyers. Big Buntin (6-7) will start at center with Russell (6-5) and Cantrell at the guard posts.

Russell and Buntin have led Michigan to the top of the Big Ten and a 4-0 league mark. Buntin, who was All-Conference center last year as a sophomore, is the team's leading scorer with a 21.9 mark and Russell, perhaps the finest sophomore in the nation, has been averaging 22.3 per game.

Anderson, openly disgusted with his team's last two games,

Three To Miss Track Opener

Michigan State's track team will be missing the services of Captain Sherm Lewis and sophomores Dick Sharkey and Eric Zemper when it opens the indoor season with a dual meet at Ohio State, Saturday.

Lewis, with less than three weeks for transition from football bowl games to track, will be given an extra week in which to condition for 60 and 300-yard dashes and broad jump. Sharkey and Zemper, both sophomore standouts will be sidelined with injuries. Sharkey, who was State's top cross country man all last fall, has been bothered by a strained knee tendon. Zemper, also a key figure in cross country, is recovering from a bone fracture in his foot.

Assistant Coach Jim Gibbard explained that the chance of injury in the case of Lewis and Sharkey, both whom could perform if necessary, is too great to risk one meet for a whole season.

"While we will be definitely weakened for the meet with Ohio State whom we regard quite highly," he said, "our main concern is the Big Ten championships in March. The entire team has been hard-pressed to prepare for the '64 season, especially Lewis."

Lewis, the Spartans' all-American halfback, has been slow in preparing for defense of the indoor track championship in the broad jump and short dashes. "I've found that in ways football helps me," Lewis said, "and DEADLINES--Entries for residence hall, fraternity and independent team handball must be in the IM office by 5 p.m. today.

Entries are also being accepted for the IM paddleball doubles ladder tournament. This year's tournament is the third of its kind here. In the past two years there has been considerable interest shown.

The tournament is divided into three ladders according to the individual skills of the players. "C" ladder is a novice ladder and will consist of participants who have not previously entered IM competition, and those at the novice level of ability. Anyone who has won in the first and second rounds of previous IM competition will be placed in the intermediate group, "B" ladder.

The "A" ladder will gather together all those who have a high level of ability and anyone who has reached the quarter finals of previous IM competition.

Each match will consist of the best two out of three games and the game rules will be determined by the IM office. The tournament will run for eight weeks and the teams at the top of their respective ladders will receive appropriate awards as will the runner-ups.

NOTICE--The boxing room at Jenison will be open beginning Monday 4-6 p.m. daily for supervised workouts. There will be no actual boxing allowed.

Also, a reminder that the weekend opening hours of the IM Building have been changed to allow players enough time to be dressed for their 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. reservations. The building will open at 7:45 a.m. on Saturdays and at 12:45 p.m. on Sundays.

Ice Men, Minnesota Play Duo

Fresh from three victories over Ohio teams, the MSU hockey team goes to Minnesota this weekend for two games with the Gophers.

The Spartans and Gophers are tied for the third spot in the Western Conference.

Minnesota has a fair team which will be tough to beat on their home ice. The Gophers lost 10 lettersmen, but are expected to equal last year's fourth-place loop finish.

The Gophers hold wins over Army, Michigan, Boston U and Duluth-Minnesota. Minnesota has compiled a 5-6 record, compared to State's 7-5 mark.

Ray Nystrom leads Minnesota in scoring with 17 points.

in other ways, it hurts. While my physical condition is quite good, my legs still need steady workouts to undo some tightness caused by the choppy steps in football.

The key to a successful opener for the Spartans will then lie largely in the performances of Bob Moreland and Jim Bowen, both Big Ten champions last year.

Moreland, entered in the 60 and 300, is defending title-holder in the 60 at 106.1. Bowen goes the mile where he reigns as outdoor champion.

Other experienced trackmen for the Spartans include John Parker and Chester Harris in the 440. Ron Horning in the 600, Bob Fulcher in the 880, Mike Kaines in the mile and Dave Mutchler in the shot put.

Starting out on varsity are sophs Mike Martens in the 1000, Fred McKay in hurdles and high jump, and Jim Garrett in 60, 300 and broad jump.

LBJ's Daughter In Wisconsin

Madison Welcomes Lucy

MADISON, WIS. (P)—Lucy Baines Johnson was proudly escorted Thursday on an hour-long stroll through the University of Wisconsin campus by the boy who's been waiting months for the chance.
 Jack Olson, an 18-year-old freshman from Maiden Rock, Wis., has been dating the President's youngest daughter since they met in February in Washington where Olson was a Congressional page.

 "We talked last summer about her visiting in Wisconsin and maybe I thought it might never happen," Olson said.

He not only had a chance Thursday to introduce Lucy to the University and his student friends to Lucy, but he got an assurance that the President's 16-year-old daughter will visit Jack's folks Saturday.
 Forty-three degree temperatures made the walking pleasant. But the tour was slowed by two dozen newsmen, photographers and a host of students anxious to see Wisconsin's young, distinguished visitor.
 Miss Johnson met Univer-

President Fred Harvey Harrington who has four pretty daughters of his own. And Olson and his companion, like many couples before them, viewed Lake Mendota from historic Observatory Hill.

As two Secret Service men ushered the couple into Harrington's office, Leroy Luberg, dean of student affairs, extended the university's official greeting.

"We wish to welcome you to the Wisconsin campus; we're very happy to have you," Luberg said.

Even to a Texas girl, the Wisconsin campus looked big, anxious to see Wisconsin's young, distinguished visitor.
 "It's spread out so far, I didn't expect it," she told Jack near the end of their walk.

Meet the perfect college combination. Good for snacks, study breaks, Sunday meals, anytime. And the "All-American" is so easy on your pocketbook. Try one today.

Knisely Speaks On Med Institute

One of the basic goals of MSU's new Institute of Biology and Medicine will be to instill in students "an appreciation for new knowledge." William Knisely, director of the Institute, said in a speech Wednesday night. Speaking before the annual Veterinarian's Conference in Kellogg Center, Knisely said one of the biggest problems as coordinator and planner of the Institute has been to design a curriculum to fit the changing needs of medicine in the future.
