Khrushchev Reign Comes To An End

HOLMES HALL--Construction of MSU's newest dorm, known until Thursday as Dorm Number 5, is proceeding rapidly. The dorm was named for John C. Holmes, a former University secretary, by the Board of Trustees. Photo by Larry Fritzel

Dormitory No. 5 Now 'Holmes Hall'

MSU's newest dormitory has been honored with the name of a former University secretary and professor who was instrumental in keeping MSU from becoming a branch of the University of Michigan.

The Board of Trustees named Dorm No. 5, now being constructed on Shaw Lane near Fee and Akers, John C. Holmes Hall. The dorm will provide residence for 1,276 students when it is opened next year. The seventh coed dorm on campus, it is being built at a cost of $6.5 million.

Holmes served on the faculty of Michigan Agricultural College, as it was then known, from 1857-1862. Prior to that he had been secretary of the Michigan Agricultural Society which was largely responsible for getting the Legislature to establish MAC in 1855.

William J. Beal in his book "History of Michigan Agricultural College," wrote the following:

"He not only urged the establishment of an agricultural college, but he persistently advocated the establishment of a college separate from the State Normal School (Eastern Michigan University) or the State University (University of Michigan)."

While telling the board of Holmes' accomplishments, James Denison, assistant to the president, commented that at the time the existence of the new college was being considered the president of the University of Michigan fought against it. According to Denison one of his key points was that "no college would be complete without an agricultural school."

'Brassy Students' Claim Bell

The mystery of the missing Delta Upsilon fraternity bell deepened Thursday.

An "interested party" who called the State News Thursday night said he "was disappointed" that credit for the caper had been given to students from Northwestern University.

Actually, he said, credit should be given to "a couple of brassy students from Oakland University."

Members of the fraternity

"gave the bell away," the caller said. The Oakland students, under the guise of high school students, borrowed the bell, apparently with the blessing of the fraternity members.

The DU members "actually waved good-bye" as the bell was being hauled away, the caller said.

He added that the bell will be put to good use "which I'm sure you'll find out about later," and that it will be returned safely.

Trustees Seek Million-Dollar Budget Jump

By JOHN C. VAN GIESON
State News Editor

This term's unexpected enrollment crush has forced the Board of Trustees to add an additional $1 million to the 1965-66 budget request.

President John A. Hannah requested the action, which was taken at the board's October meeting Thursday, after 1,000 students more than have been anticipated showed up for the first day of classes.

The revised budget request will now total $49,360,899. It will be submitted to the legislature sometime after it convenes in January.

MSU's proposed budget represents an increase of $9.9 million over the current fiscal year's appropriation.

Hannah told the Board of Trustees that University enrollment for the 1965-66 school year will total at least 2,000 more than was forecast at the time the budget request was worked out.

If enrollment increases are maintained at the current rate, MSU could have approximately 35,000 students next year.

In another action, the trustees approved a grant of $400,000 from the Ford Foundation for research on institution building overseas. The grant is to be used to support work by MSU Indiana University, Syracuse University and the University of Pittsburgh.

An additional $949,274.21 in grants and gifts were accepted. This figure includes a $400,309 grant from the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) and the government of Thailand to finance MSU educational assistance in that country.

A total of nearly $100,000 in grants for scholarships was also approved.

The University announced at the meeting that it has terminated AID projects in Brazil, India and Taiwan and is initiating the new one in Thailand.

A recommendation was approved by the board to name Dorm Number 5 on Shaw Lane near Fee and Akers Hall after John C. Holmes, a University official

3 Advisors To Assist Thailand

MSU is completing advisory programs in Brazil, India and Taiwan, and is initiating a new program in Thailand.

The Thailand project will involve MSU advisory assistance to the Thai government in planning a comprehensive educational program for the Southeast Asian nation.

Three Michigan State staff members will serve full-time on the international program with the assistance of 8 to 10 short-term advisers. They will live and work in Bangkok.

KHRUSHCHEV

Nikita's Relief 'Requested' Because Of Age And Health

MOSCOW (AP)--The 10-year era of Nikita Khrushchev ended in the Soviet Union yesterday with an official announcement that he has been released from his jobs as premier and Communist Party secretary.

The announcement through TASS said Khrushchev requested retirement because of deteriorating health and his age, 70. He is leaving the party Presidium also.

His jobs are being divided among two lieutenants he has trusted. Leonid Brezhnev is taking the key post of party secretary and Alexei Kosygin is becoming premier.

The announcement said Khrushchev's "release"--this was TASS' word--was granted this week. The party Central Committee met Wednesday to take up his request for retirement, it added. His release as first secretary was agreed upon Wednesday and his retirement as premier was voted Thursday.

The action closes a decade during which Khrushchev dominated most of the Communist world. He wound up with the Red world shaken as Lenin and Stalin never could have imagined--in the midst of an ideological scramble with Red China.

What effect the changes will have on the Soviet Union's relations with the West remains to be shown.

In the eyes of western diplomats, Brezhnev has seemed to take action and to speak in a responsible way, always of course within the Soviet viewpoint.

Kosygin has been a leading spokesman on the Soviet side in the dispute with China. A quarrel that has tended at times to take some of the heat off U.S.-Soviet relations.

Poor health, and conceivably an appraisal of poor results, were probably the factors behind Khrushchev's fall from power just three weeks before he hoped to preside over a triumphant celebration of the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

The decision that Khrushchev must go was reached at a session of the Central Committee of the

Party Member For 33 Years

Brezhnev New Red Chief

MOSCOW (AP) Leonid Ilyich Brezhnev, a Communist party member for 33 of his 57 years, has been heir-apparent to Premier Khrushchev for at least the past three years.

The battle-browed, stocky Ukrainian made his last previous step forward last July 15, when he relinquished his figurehead pole as president of the Soviet Union to concentrate on work in the Communist party, the real source of power in Moscow.

Khrushchev said then that Brezhnev was needed for full-time work as a secretary of the Communist party's central committee.

A stocky man with black, piercing eyes and a square jaw, Brezhnev is known to Western diplomats as a man with a sharp mind and a friendly but reserved manner.

A steelworker as a youth, he later became a metallurgist. He has the solidly tough look of a Western steel engineer turned corporation manager.

Brezhnev has been associated with Khrushchev's career since 1938 in the Soviet Union's Ukrainian region. He was born in December, 1906 in Kamenskoye--now Dneprodzerzhinsk. He and Khrushchev came up in the Ukraine as faithful party workers. In 1927, Brezhnev was graduated from an agricultural institute in Kursk, and in 1931 he was admitted to membership in the Communist party. He is one of the post-Bolshevik, post-revolution Communists among whom technological knowledge was more important than revolutionary fervor.

Brezhnev was posted to the Urals area as a specialist in land use, and there rose to the head of the oblast (area) land department. From the metallurgical institute there in 1935' he became a party functionary in the Ukraine and then an armed forces political commissar, serving as with the 18th army during World War II. By 1943, he had risen to the rank of major general and still was engaged in directing the work of political commissars whose job was to check up on the regular army officers and keep the armed forces from straying away from the party line.

When the war ended, Brezhnev was sent back to the Ukraine, where he continued his move

U.S. Officials Believe Nikita Forced Out

WASHINGTON (AP)--U.S. officials expressed belief Thursday night that Nikita Khrushchev was forced out of his positions as Soviet premier and boss of the Soviet Communist Party because of major issues of policy.

Speculation here centered on the probability that others in the Soviet ruling group were displeased primarily with Khrushchev's handling of the problem of ties within the Communist bloc--a problem arising out of the split between Russia and Red China.

The shakeup raised grave questions about the future U.S.-Soviet relations, relations between Russia and Red China, and Soviet foreign policy generally.

In its long quarrel with the Soviet Union the leadership of Communist China has increasingly concentrated its attacks during the past year or so on Khrushchev personally. But officials warned against any conclusion at this time that Leonid Brezhnev, as Communist Party boss, and Alexei N. Kosygin, as premier, would now give in to Red China on such disputed issues as peaceful coexistence.

The U.S. officials took the position that news of the surprise shakeup in Moscow had been received here with calm and without any sense of alarm. They reported no evidence of any unusual military activity on the part of the Soviets and said there was no alert on the part of the United States.

Detroit newspapers

Communist party which began Monday, informants said.

Mikhail Suslov, another spokesman in the Kremlin's dispute with Communist China, delivered the key address. Suslov has appeared at times to be lukewarm in his support of Khrushchev.

But Khrushchev, now 70 and suffering from high blood pressure and a recurrent heart condition, appeared to have kept his own men in power.

Both Brezhnev, 57, and Kosygin, 60, owe their jobs to him.

Khrushchev himself said last year: "I am already 69 and I have the right to say so. Everyone understands I cannot hold for all time the position I now have in the party and the state."

This year, presumably with Khrushchev's approval, Brezhnev was moved from the largely ceremonial job of president to a position of more power in the Communist party.

Republicans Claim Jenkins 'Scandal'

WASHINGTON (AP)--Goldwater forces stepped up their "scandal" accusations against the Johnson administration Thursday and asserted that the Walter W. Jenkins case raises grave issues of national security.

Meantime, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced that President Johnson has directed him to make "a full and complete investigation of the matter without delay."

Jenkins, long-time confidant and top aide to Johnson, resigned suddenly Wednesday. It was disclosed he was arrested five years ago on a charge of "disorderly conduct (indecent gestures)." He forfeited collateral in both cases.

Political leaders sought to gauge the effect on the Nov. 3 presidential election. Surmises ranged from "terrific impact" to a suggestion that it would have little effect because voters would consider Jenkins a sick man and have compassion for him.

"While asserting that the White House is 'dark with scandal'," Sen. Barry Goldwater said he would have no comment on the Jenkins case "at any time."

But Dean Burch, Republican National Chairman, issued a statement saying:

"The Walter Jenkins episode raises grave questions of national security which only the President can--and must--answer."

The story up to now is only partially revealed.

President Johnson, who talks about responsibility, now has the responsibility to explain why he covered up for five and a half years--since Jan. 15, 1959--that his top aide had been arrested on a similar perversion charge. Knowing, as he must, the vulnerability of morals offenders to blackmail, the President should tell us whether Mr. Jenkins was permitted to sit in on meetings of the National Security Council.

Men's Honorary Petitioning Starts

Petitioning for Blue Key, Junior and senior men's honorary will start Monday and will continue through Oct. 28.

Petitions and a list of requirements will be available at the Union Desk, the main desk in the International Center and in Room 101 of the Student Services building.

Labor Party Works Out; Victorious In British Election

LONDON (AP)--Harold Wilson's Labor Party Thursday apparently won the British National Election over Prime Minister Douglas-Home's Conservatives.

Jubilant Labor Party headquarters said the remaining results would only determine the size of the Laborite margin in the House of Commons. Conservative Party headquarters withheld comment but was cast in gloom.

The apparent Labor Party victory ended 13 years of Conservative rule.

From early in the counting, computers predicted a Laborite victory by anything up to 40 seats. The Labor Party's general secretary, Len Williams told newsmen: "23 will get a majority of at least 30 seats--probably more."

391 districts counted out of 630 the results were:

Labor Party	231 seats
Conservative Party	158 seats
Liberal Party	2 seats

This represented a net Labor Party gain of 45 seats, of which 44 were taken from the Conservatives and one from the Liberals.

Before the counting started both sides feared the result would be so close that neither party would gain the 20-seat edge regarded as a minimum working majority in the 630-seat House of Commons.

King's Nobel Prize Challenges U.S. Maturity

The award of this year's Nobel Peace Prize to the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., brings into stark question the maturity of the United States of America.

Martin Luther King, as a leader of the civil rights movement, has aroused dissension and disunity which this nation has not seen since the Civil War. Many Americans will find it difficult to understand why King has been awarded a prize which goes annually to "the one who has worked most or best for furthering brotherhood between peoples."

The Nobel Prize has often been awarded to persons who are "without honor in their own countries."

In 1960, the award went to Albert Lutuli of South Africa, the first Negro to be so honored. Lutuli, a leader of non-violent protest movements in a land where the black majority is completely subjugated to the white minority, has been under house arrest by the South African government for many years.

In 1958, Russian author Boris Pasternak was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature for his novel "Dr. Zhivago," a revealing portrait of the frustrations of life in a communist society.

The Soviet government would not allow Pasternak to leave Russia in order to accept the prize in Stockholm, Sweden.

America does not place King under house arrest, yet many Americans would not receive him in their homes.

The government will not prevent King from traveling to Oslo, Norway, to accept the Nobel Prize. Yet there are thousands of Americans who would never consider King a worthy recipient of the award.

To some Americans, King is at worst a subversive character who is undermining the individual freedoms which are the very basis of the American Republic. At worst, he is "trying to go too fast" and "pushing Negroes where they aren't wanted."

These Americans feel that King in his own way is as dangerous to world peace as nuclear bombs.

Dr. Alfred Nobel, the inventor of dynamite and founder of the Nobel Institute, knew that peace meant more than the end of shooting war. The Nobel Peace Prize was to be awarded to those who worked for the brotherhood of man as well as those who helped end wars.

In announcing the award, the Oslo Nobel Institute said that King has "consistently asserted the principle of non-violence" in working toward human brotherhood.

When that citation applies to an overwhelming majority of Americans, our nation will have reached maturity at last.

A Wise Decision

The married housing office has reported with a straight face that married students who are on the waiting list for University housing have an advantage over single graduate students.

Married students can live anywhere they want while waiting for admission to MSU's married housing developments, but single graduate students who are on the waiting list for Owen Hall must live in undergraduate housing.

More than 250 couples are on the married housing waiting list. It would certainly be interesting to put them in dorms.

How would the three-to-a-room policy in crowded dormitories work if two of the students were married?

Furthermore, it is our impression that the University prohibits students from visiting dormitory rooms of members of the opposite sex.

We must conclude that the University is truly wise in permitting lawfully wedded students to live off-campus while they are on the waiting list for married housing.

'Promise Them Anything' Till Nov. 3

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks of a political candidate gets tired of hearing:

"Remember, Jerry, if you lose this one the only thing left you can run for is—dogcatcher."

"The printer says that if we don't get up the money for your election cards now he'll throw them down the sewer himself."

"One of his troubles is that he gives his speech better when he talks in his sleep than he does when he's awake."

"I think the only votes he's sure of so far are those of people who read billboards aloud with their lips."

"Maybe if we got him to speak in a cemetery we could corral a few ghost votes."

"Now try to get this through your head: at the first stop you munch on Italian salami and some pizza pie. You ask for some bagels when we hit the garment district. And when we pause at Yorkville you say a few kind words about the Sauerbraten your mother used to make."

"You don't campaign on issues anymore. You campaign on your stomach. Why should anybody vote for you if you don't eat the same kind of food he does?"

"Why should we let our tiger debate his opponent on television? That would only let the public find out how little either of them know."

"Let's take Jerry over to the fifth ward next—and spread a little insomnia around there."

"If I deliver you the third precinct, what's in it for me? I'm not one of those college boys who go into politics just to improve their health."

"I think it was the pickled herring at that last stop that finally made him turn green. If you have to use the stomach pump on him, Doc, wait'll we find a dark street. If word of this gets out, we're ruined."

"Jerry, I don't care whether you pawn your wife's wedding ring, mortgage your home, or rob a bank. But we've got to raise more campaign funds. What do you think wins elections—promises?"

Before we stop off at the next factory, kid, rub a little grime on your paws. You can't win the workingmen's vote with clean hands."

"Don't waste any more time kissing babies. Kiss the old ladies. If they like it, they won't forget you on election day."

"See that messy little guy chewing a cigar on the front platform? Cozy up to him real good. He can help us. He knows where half the political skeletons in town are buried."

"Promise 'em what you think they'd like to have, Jerry. After we win the election we can always think up reasons why we can't deliver."

"If you ask me, I'd say our silver-tongued orator was born with a brass spoon in his mouth."

"Tell your wife to hide that fur stole. We're going through a poor district."

"It looks like this is a real intellectual audience. It doesn't make any difference what you advocate—just so you keep it on an international level, and make it sound real highbrow. If you know any big words, go ahead and use them."

"So that's our candidate! Well, all I can say is that if his brains match his ears, we've got a winner for sure."

"When a constituent hands you a present at one of our rallies, man, smile, smile, smile—even if all he holds up is a jar of live eels."

"Wake up and put your shoes back on, Jerry. Just three more speeches, boy, and we'll be through for tonight."

Point of View

Socialist Answers Hoover Criticism

By Paul Schiff

Editor's Note: Paul Schiff is a graduate student in economics from New Rochelle, N.Y. He is president of the MSU Socialist Club.

The Socialist Club usually works very hard to have its programs reported in the State News, but now—now someone merely introduces a resolution and suddenly the spotlight is upon us.

The resolution was offered by a member of the club who had the opportunity of attending—as a representative of the Socialist Club—a regional conference of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America in Chicago this past summer.

Since the founding convention of this nation-wide socialist youth group produced some dozen reports in specific areas of concern (e.g. peace, civil rights in the North, civil rights in the South, civil liberties, culture and education, jobs and unemployment, etc.), and since few copies of these reports are available, the MSU Socialist Club is totally unprepared at this time to intelligently discuss the resolution, much less vote on it.

It seems, however, that there exist many "well-informed" parties that are not anxious for our group to examine the nature and purpose of the DuBois Clubs (and hence the question of affiliation) on the basis of what that organization stands for, as expressed in its constitution, convention reports and resolutions, and publications, and in an atmosphere of rational discourse and legitimate argumentation.

Some of these persons and institutions apparently feel, perhaps "paternalistically," that the Socialist Club must remain "pure" and "uncontaminated," "unalloyed" and "independent." Whatever their motives, they are determined to save us from ourselves—save us from the needless task of fully examining a question which they can answer so easily for us by throwing the "Red Herring."

Behold! The Great White Father has pronounced! And Conservatives, Liberals, mild-mannered "socialists" alike heed "The Word!"

It is a pity that the State News did not see fit (or was unable) to print J. Edgar Hoover's entire statement. To label it a paragon of sordidness would be far too generous. The MSU community should, and no doubt will, become acquainted with this obnoxious insult to man's intelligence.

Unlike the FBI which speaks of "disguises calculated to dupe unwary youth," the MSU Socialist Club has full confidence in the academic community here and throughout the United States to judge groups, individuals and institutions on their merits—and this applies equally to the DuBois Clubs and Mr. Hoover!

Having made these comments, I would like to deal directly with the "charges" leveled against the DuBois Clubs.

First of all, the Hoover statement in effect states that this organization is the youth branch of the Communist party of the United States. This is false. Its membership is drawn from a wide spectrum of socialists, peace and civil rights activists. Hoover asserts that it is "a new national Marxist youth organization." This is likewise false. The DuBois Clubs have not embraced Marxism as the organization's ideology.

On the other hand, the DuBois Clubs are not anti-Communist—and, rightly, I believe, have not excluded anyone from membership so long as he does not work against the positions democratically arrived at by the organization. This attitude is analogous to that held by a large number of organizations, including, I believe, Women's Strike for Peace, Student Peace Union, Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and Congress on Racial Equality. More relevant, perhaps, is the fact that the MSU Socialist Club itself has never excluded Communists.

Are there Communists in the DuBois Clubs? The answer is almost assuredly, yet. And why shouldn't there be? There shouldn't be only if one accepts Mr. Hoover, the McCarthy Act, McCarthyism and Barry Goldwater as the guardians of freedom and democracy. I do not.

It seems to me that the creation of the DuBois Clubs has frightened some of the higher-ups in our government. By labeling it a Communist youth organization, Mr. Hoover and his friends hope to make it just that—by driving away all others.

Thus the purpose of the FBI will have been served—the transformation of a broad-based group into a narrow, ineffective one. This has been the classical technique used by Hoover, HUAC and Eastland's Senate sub-committee on internal security. It is time that American liberals and progressives follow the example of Women's Strike for Peace and SNCC—and throw it back in their faces.

New Law Affects Civil Rights Struggle

This is the conclusion of a series on the new civil rights act written by Jim Spaniol, Cassopolis freshman.

In all the debate and discussion concerning the civil rights bill in Congress, there was little that those on the opposite sides of the issue agreed upon. Title X, however, was generally acceptable to all and was even introduced by a congressman from North Carolina. The only complaints or criticisms of this title were of a general nature and probably prompted by the total effect of the bill.

Entitled the establishment of community relations service section, it establishes such a service under the Department of Commerce. President Johnson appointed Leroy Collins, former governor of Florida, to direct the service for the first four years. This title authorizes Collins to appoint personnel necessary to carry out its work.

The service provides assistance to communities attempting to resolve disputes relating to discrimination and the civil rights law. It may offer its assistance, or be requested by a state, community, or group of persons. In attempting to bring about voluntary and peaceful compliance to the law, it will

Questions New York City 'School Pairing' Experiment

To the Editor:

After reading your recent editorial concerning school pairing, we feel that your comparison of the East Lansing open-housing plans with the situation in New York City has no significant correlation.

The problem here in East Lansing deals with discrimination and, consequently, segregation. Whereas, the "freedom of choice" left to New York City parents by the Board of Education has resulted in nothing more than forced integration.

If a parent, Negro or white, purchases a home because of the educational benefits he believes his child will receive from a school nearby, does anyone have a right to rob this parent of his freedom of choice?

Moreover, the author of the editorial failed to get all his facts straight; otherwise, he would know that the extra distance the New York City children must walk is not a matter of "five or six blocks." In fact, many eight-year-olds must now walk 12 blocks or more to their "new" school.

Therefore, we ask, is the action of the New York City Board of Education really accomplishing its aim of integration or is it merely promoting new hostilities?

Defends Barry's Political Views

To the Editor:

It really worries me when I hear students making jibes at Barry Goldwater for his conservative viewpoints. This involves basic principles that are farther reaching than most would like to think. They are ridiculing a man who stands tall in his personal honor and integrity, and who believes every man has an obligation to himself to preserve these traits. They are chiding a man who feels an individual is entitled to whatever he is able to earn in our free enterprise system. He believes the government should interfere with that individual as little as possible. He is not a war-monger, merely an American who is sick of witnessing our flag being trod upon all over the globe.

If you do not like Goldwater as a person, fine. If you disagree completely with his philosophy, I must conclude that you believe the best way to live is to be supported by the Welfare State, the individual must be suppressed for the benefit of more equality, we can defeat the Communists best by giving in to them, socialism is a superior economic system to capitalism, and that dishonesty and corruption in government is really all right because it has always been there.

If you really want an administration that you can always "lean" on, may you get what you want. You will regret it the rest of your lives.

Sincerely,
Bill Kent

Puzzled Frosh Questions Policy

To the Editor:

Name -- J. Q. Frosh
Number -- 386348

Description -- Loud, boisterous, frosh with Spartan complex. Tends to travel in large groups, shouting and cheering.

Offense -- Pride--unwarranted love and pride of MSU. Covetousness--inordinate desire to become a part, to belong rather than remain just a number.

Dangerous -- May carry unconcealed weapon: school pride. Approach with extreme care.

The above, though exaggerated, seems to reflect the attitude toward the students who rallied Thursday. We have not yet heard any explanation for the ban on such gatherings.

Hurricane Isbell Wobbles Toward Carolinas

WILMINGTON, N.C. (P)—Hurricane Isbell swirled on a wobbly course toward the northeast late Thursday, with lessening danger to the Carolinas.

The Weather Bureau said latest reports from aircraft indicate that Isbell had not turned, as previously thought, to the northwest and is moving to the northeast at about 20 miles an hour.

Viet Cong Terrorist Executed

SAIGON, Viet Nam (P)—A firing squad Thursday executed Nguyen Van Troi, 19, a Viet Cong terrorist who sought to blow up U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara last spring. Troi went to his death at the stake in a prison soccer field, shouting defiance.

LBJ Has No Comment on Soviet Development

NEW YORK (P)—President Johnson and Robert F. Kennedy flew back from an upstate campaign tour Thursday and were greeted by tens of thousands of persons in heavily Democratic Brooklyn.

Johnson made no mention in his speeches of the resignation of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Nor did he give any indication of cutting short a night speaking engagement to return to Washington.

Barry Says He Has No Statement on Jenkins

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said Thursday he would have no comment "at any time" on the case of Walter W. Jenkins, a top assistant to President Johnson for 20 years, who has resigned after being arrested on morals charges.

Rifleman Taken Into Custody in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (P)—A man, armed with a loaded rifle and reported by the Buffalo Evening News to have been under surveillance, was taken into custody nearly an hour before President Johnson arrived here Thursday, police said.

The man, Gordon H. Smith, 39, Buffalo, was arrested at his place of employment, Detective Chief James Lewis said. Smith, a machine operator, had a .22 caliber rifle with him, Lewis said.

Soviet Heroes See Peace Continuance

NEW YORK (P)—Four Soviet heroes of World War II, visiting the United States as guests of American War Veterans, expressed the opinion Thursday that Russia's peaceful coexistence policy would be continued.

They were being interviewed in David S. Broder's "Front Page" television show, being taped for Sunday evening broadcast, when the first news came from Moscow indicating that Premier Khrushchev had resigned.

Ferency Asks for "Smear Literature" Check

LANSING—Democratic state chairman Zolton Ferency has asked the Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission to investigate what he calls "the appearance of massive quantities of smear literature" in state election campaigns.

In a letter to the Right Reverend Archie Crowley, commission chairman, Ferency asked the commission to "investigate and report to the public the nature of the liberty lobby, and sources, quantity and financing of the distribution of its smear literature."

Reactions to Bagpipe Vary Among Animals

GLASGOW, Scotland (P)—A bagpipe concert was given at the Glasgow zoo last week and Sidney Benson, zoo director, said "it was very interesting watching the animals' reaction."

According to Benson, the hyenas nearly went frantic and the tigers seemed interested.

And the zoo's swearing cockatoo reacted with some of the worst swearing Benson ever heard in the zoo.

It could be the most important decision of your life—the career you choose for yourself when you graduate. Before you decide, get the answers to these 5 questions:

1. Which career field produces more top corporation presidents than any other?
2. Which career field offers 100,000 new openings next year and every year for the next ten years?
3. Which career field lets you make the best use of all your college training, including liberal arts courses?
4. What starting salary can you expect in this career?
5. Does this career offer you security?

You can get the answers to these questions and many others in a fact-filled, 24-page booklet, yours for the asking, without cost or obligation. This Opportunity booklet was paid for by public-spirited leaders of American industry as a service to you. It costs you nothing, but a minute of your time to fill out the coupon below—yet it may change your entire life.

LBJ Telephone Call Interrupts HHHTalk

PITTSBURGH (P)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey pressed a get-out-the-vote campaign from steel towns to street corners Thursday. His speech before thousands of students at the University of Pittsburgh was dramatically interrupted by a telephone call from President Johnson.

Humphrey, standing on a platform on the campus lawn as an estimated 8,000 students listened, was in full stride when an aide stepped up on the platform and whispered to him. Turning to crowd, Humphrey said: "Will you stay here a moment, I have an urgent call."

He hustled behind the speakers platform to a panel truck and talked on a mobile telephone. A moment later he bounced back up on the platform smiling, and said, "Okay, let's go."

He said the call had come from President Johnson and that he had explained that he was "having a little visit" and would call back after the rally.

After the speech, hundreds of students crowded around the mobile truck as policeman circled it and Humphrey tried to complete the telephone call without luck. He said the President was in a motorcade in New York and he would try to reach him later.

Humphrey told newsmen and others standing nearby that he wanted to get more information if it was available on the situation in the Kremlin.

At the Pitt rally, Humphrey ran into his first heckling over the Jenkins case. Some students showed up with a large banner saying, "Jenkins LBJ's Pro-fumo."

But in the crush of the crowd the sign was pulled down and police carried it away.

when Michigan Agricultural College was founded.

Trustee Connor Smith read a letter on behalf of the entire board commending the president, officers, faculty and staff of the University. The text of the message follows:

"We the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University, are mindful of the enormous effort being currently extended by you in behalf of the educational goals of our institution. These goals are especially difficult of attainment with the crushing load of new enrollments, far beyond the appropriations for either operations or facilities.

"In public life, heroic efforts in the performance of public duty all too often go unnoticed and appreciation unexpressed.

"Therefore, the Board takes this opportunity to express to each of you our awareness of your efforts and accomplishments and to say 'thank you' for achievements beyond the ordinary. Our youth is at stake and you are doing superbly under difficult circumstances."

Professor Elected Council Chairman

Clyde F. Cairry, professor of pharmacology, has been elected chairman of the Council on Biological and Therapeutic Agents of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Cairry has been a member of the council for seven years and also served as its chairman in 1960-61.

A member of the MSU staff since 1938, he has served as president of the American Society of Veterinary Physiologists and Pharmacologists.

Soc. Sci. College Holds Workshop

Newest methods of diagnosing the emotional, intellectual and social ills of children will be revealed in a professional workshop at MSU today and Saturday.

Authorities from New York, California, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Illinois and Michigan will report current research on diagnosing the child's problem in his home, in his school and among his peers.

The workshop is sponsored by MSU College of Social Science,

Brezhnev New Head Of Soviet Union

upward in the party. At the 19th Soviet Party Congress in Moscow in 1952, he became leader of the party's Presidium. It was the power center of the whole Soviet structure.

When Stalin died in 1953, Brezhnev was fired from his job as first Communist party secretary of the Moldavian Republic, acquired from Romania during the war. But by the time other Soviet leaders arranged the arrest and extinction of Lavrenty Beria, Stalin's secret police chief, Brezhnev had bounced back. He turned up in the role of first deputy chief of the main political board in the Ministry of Defense—political commissar of the armed forces.

As Khrushchev rose to power, the new leader seemed to lean heavily on Brezhnev. The Ukrainian was sent to Kazakhstan, head of Khrushchev's "virgin lands" agricultural experiments, as secretary of the Communist party. In 1956, at the time of the 20th Party Congress, Brezhnev returned to the ruling Party Presidium as a candidate member. He also was placed on the powerful Secretariat of the Central Committee. He became a full member of the Party Presidium and when Khrushchev later ousted Klementi Voroshilov, Brezhnev took over as president, two years later, surrendering his Central Committee job.

He was no ceremonial president as others before him had been. Like Khrushchev, he had traveled broadly and was to continue to do so as a sort of traveling salesman for the Soviet system. He has been to Italy, North Korea, Finland, Morocco, Guinea, Ghana, Yugoslavia and Iran.

Brezhnev is well decorated, including two Orders of Lenin—the Soviet Union's highest, two Red Banner of Labor orders and others.

On his travels, Brezhnev likes to take along his wife and daughter, Galina, an attractive teenager known for her tasteful, expensive clothing.

Faith On Campus.

MSU Students Said To Lack Faith

By George Reynolds

Are we becoming a "Nation of Sheep?" Are the people of today afraid to be individuals and stand up for what they believe?

Sad to say, a majority of Americans are content to follow the crowd—to let others do the duties that they themselves aspire to. This "follow the leader" attitude infects every walk of life with detrimental results, among which are the stifling of personal expression and the waste of undeveloped potential.

Our campus is typical of this trend. Patterns set by "the group" or "the majority" are expected to be followed by everyone else. Those who don't comply are branded as "squares" or "oddballs" and are held up to ridicule.

Material items such as clothes and hair styles are involved in

Wesley On Sin

John Wesley's mother once wrote to him when he was in college, "Would you judge of the lawfulness of a pleasure, take this ruler whatsoever weakens your reason, impairs the tenderness of your conscience, obscures your sense of God, or takes away the relish of spiritual things—whatsoever increases the authority of your body over your mind, that is sin."

this game. More important, however, our very ideals—our morals, our standards, and our attitudes toward our Creator

In the Bible, the prophet Isaiah states in his fifty-third chapter, "All we like sheep have gone astray..." So it is with us when we behave like sheep, for then we are vulnerable to every assailing wind of doctrine.

Let's face it—a majority of college students have rejected any faith in a Supreme Being. They might say they believe there is a God, but their actions speak louder than their words.

The pity is that many students who do come to college with a religious faith are outshouted by the majority and tend to lose that spiritual faith they had had.

Where lies the blame for the failure of these students to emerge and stand up for their beliefs? Much of it can be placed on those who influence them and much can be placed on the individuals themselves, individuals whose faith is not strong enough to enable them to stand.

The university should be a training ground for leaders in all areas of life. The goal of the student should be to develop his qualities of leadership, be they physical, political, or spiritual. Following the crowd is easy; being a leader is hard. Now is the time to decide. Will we be sheep, or will we be men and women? Will we stand up and be counted, or will we blend into the woodwork? It's an open question. We must answer it.

Greer To Speak On USSR

Thomas H. Greer, chairman of the Department of Humanities, will speak on his recent travels in the Soviet Union Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. at Edgewood United Church in East Lansing.

Sunday is "World Order Sunday" in many Protestant churches in America. Greer, a member of the congregation, will occupy the pulpit as a special speaker for this day.

A popular speaker and a student of history and civilization, Greer has edited a three-volume work, "Classics of Western Thought."

This past summer he traveled extensively in the USSR and will share with the Edgewood congregation the impressions and reflections which derived from this tour.

Martin Luther Chapel Dedication Planned

By GEORGE REYNOLDS
State News Religion Editor

The award-winning Martin Luther Chapel and Lutheran Student Center at 444 Abbott Road will be dedicated Sunday.

Four dedication services will be held Sunday. At 10 and 11:30 a.m. there will be the celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

The Festival Service will be at 4 p.m., and at 7:30 p.m., the Dedication Vespers and Alumni Service.

Festival preachers will be the Rev. Martin Frey, president of the English district, the Rev. Richard Luecke, director of the Urban Training Center for Christian Missions in Chicago, and the Rev. Paul Maier, associate professor and student pastor at Western Michigan University.

The Rev. Theodore K. Bundenthal, MSU's Lutheran chaplain, will serve as dedication officiant. He also serves as a lecturer in the Religion Department.

The new Chapel and Student Center is a project of the English District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. The architect, Charles E. Stadel, of Park Ridge, Ill., has received an award from the American Society of Church Architecture for excellence of design of the chapel.

Martin Luther Chapel is unique in that its total purpose is to serve students who are enrolled at Michigan State and their families. The building contains, besides the chapel, offices, work rooms, and a student library-lounge on the first floor.

The lower level of the center has facilities for the Chapel assembly and student group gatherings as well as for a nursery, Sunday School areas and recreational areas.

The library includes some 80 volumes of the Holy Bible, in the languages of most international students attending MSU. Three significant works of art grace the interior of the Chapel.

Catholics Pledge No-Bias Pacts

The Michigan Catholic Conference says a non-discriminatory clause will be part of all future construction contracts entered into by any Catholic church or school in Michigan.

Conference Executive Director Francis Commes said Thursday in Lansing that the clause will apply to general, prime and sub-contractors working on any construction project for a Catholic church or school in Michigan.

St. John's Church Plans Road Rally

St. John's Student Parish will sponsor a Road Rally Sunday, starting in the alley behind St. John's Church at 1:30 p.m.

Later Sunday evening the forum will report on St. John's "Action Poverty" program.

Students will be able to make reservations for the bus trip to the Notre Dame game Nov. 14 after all masses this Sunday. The total cost will be $12 with a $5 deposit required at the time of reservation.

The Saturday night dance will feature WILS disc jockey Gene Healy.

Trustees OK Gifts, Grants Totaling Almost $1 Million

Gifts and grants totaling $949,274.21 were accepted Thursday by the MSU Board of Trustees.

Included was a grant of $400,309 from the U.S. Agency for International Development and the government of Thailand, it will finance MSU assistance to the Thai government in planning a comprehensive educational program for that nation.

The Board also accepted 105 scholarship grants totaling $99,387.25. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation granted $51,116 to support Merit Scholars at MSU during the first half of the 1964-65 school year.

The National Institutes of Health granted $60,283 for support of doctoral students in MSU's Department of Psychology.

A total of 11 Ph.D. candidates will study under the program.

The NIH has also awarded grants for continuation of two grants for continuation of two studies in the Department of Biophysics.

One of the grants, for $51,374, is to support a study of biochemical changes in enzyme inactivation by radiation. Director of the project is Dr. Leroy Augenstein, professor and head of biophysics.

The other grant, amounting to $30,272, will provide continued investigation of electronic charge transport in visual systems. Dr. Barnett Rosenberg, professor of biophysics, is directing the study.

A. T. Cross professor of geology and of botany and plant pathology, will continue a study of the origin and accumulation of sedimentary deposits. His research, supported by a $47,600 grant from the National Science Foundation, is aimed ultimately at unlocking some secrets of oil accumulation.

Doris R. Swindler, associate professor of anatomy of the rhesus and African green monkeys and the baboon. The study eventually will produce anatomical atlas of importance to researchers using these animals in experiments.

NIH grants totaling $17,000 will provide fellowships for three predoctoral students in the Department of Zoology. Charles S. Thornton, professor and head of zoology, is director of the grant.

The Vocational Rehabilitation Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare granted $16,591 to extend current speech pathology and audiology training to include mental retardation. Director of the training is Herbert J. Oyer, professor and head of speech.

A $16,500 grant from the Rinsheed-Mason Company of Detroit to the Department of Marketing and Transportation Administration will provide establishment of the Frederick G. Weed Graduate Scholarship.

The award, to be presented annually to an outstanding predoctoral student in marketing, is named for the retiring chairman of the board of the Rinsheed-Mason Company.

Mock Debate By UN Club

The United Nations Club will simulate a General Assembly debate Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Erickson Hall Kiva.

Indonesian aggression in Malaysia and a proposed amendment to expel "newly admitted" (for the sake of the debate) Red China from the U.N. will be the topics for discussion.

John A. Fuzak, vice president for student affairs, will give his greetings, along with Harry H. Kimmer, chairman of the Religion Department.

Also present will be Henry C. Dykema, director of financial aids, and Gordon L. Thomas, professor of speech and East Lansing mayor.

Annual Council Meets To Study Writing Process

The second annual Conference on Composition is in session today at Kellogg Center under the auspices of the Colleges of Arts and Letters and Education and University College.

The first conference last January sought to identify major stages in the process of composition, from pre-writing to re-writing.

This second conference will try to pin down some of the practical matters involved by taking a new look at composition.

Proof Return Set Monday

Seniors can return their proofs for the '65 Wolverine to Room 43 in the Union Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Those who have not yet had their pictures taken may still make an appointment by coming to Room 43 or by calling 355-7676.

Mission Program To Show Slides

Members of the St. John's Mission Program will show slides of the United States and foreign countries, taken by the members last summer, Sunday at 7 p.m. in the St. John's Student Center. A discussion of the summer projects and the mission program will be held after the slides have been shown.

Group Cites Need For 'Red Tape' Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—It can take you more than five years of red tape to settle a case before some federal regulatory agencies, a Senate study group reported Thursday.

The group's chairman, Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., pictured the situation as getting worse. He called for legislation to streamline and speed up the administrative process lest it become an "impossible quagmire of backlogs and delays."

Regulatory agencies are those watchdog bodies which license activity and enforce rules of interstate commerce in a variety of fields including transportation, communications, commerce, health and government contracts.

Long and his Senate judiciary subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures assessed no blame or criticism of any agencies or individuals for the time consuming red tape they want to cut.

Rather the senators advocated legislation to streamline and speed up procedures under which the agencies must function. In fact, they said, the agencies have been increasing their output of settled cases but the backlog of unfinished business nevertheless continues to grow by the year because the burden of new cases filed has risen even faster. The survey covered fiscal year 1963 which ended June 30, 1963. It counted 31,141 cases still pending when that fiscal year ended, compared with 24,407 at the end of fiscal 1961 and 29,909 at the end of fiscal 1962.

The bulk of the work involved claims by or against the government, many of them in connection with contracts, and various licensing procedures, Long said. He and his subcommittee called all this costly and burdensome to the government and the other litigants alike but gave no dollar estimates.

Unproductive Pastureland To Money

Michigan has over two-million acres of unproductive permanent pasture that could be turned into profit-making forage land with a few simple renovation practices, according to MSU crop scientist Milo B. Tesar.

"Best of all, increased production during the first grazing year will more than pay for the $35 per acre cost of the renovation," Tesar said.

"The renovated land should increase production from one ton or less of low quality forage to three to four tons of good quality alfalfa and bromegrass. The added grass-legume production can be easily turned into profit by using it in a feeder calf or beef operation."

The MSU scientist notes that farmers wishing to renovate should select their more productive land, rather than that which is uncleared or stony. "It will yield more profit," he comments.

"Farmers should try it on 10 acres this next spring and renovate other unproductive pastures in the succeeding years."

CAREERS IN STEEL

Our representative will be on campus

NOVEMBER 6

to interview candidates for Bethlehem's 1965 Loop Course training program.

THE LOOP COURSE trains selected college graduates with management potential for careers with Bethlehem Steel. The Course begins in early July and consists of three phases: (1) five weeks of orientation at our headquarters in Bethlehem, Pa.; (2) specialized training in the activity or field for which the Looper was selected; and (3) on-the-job training which prepares him for more important responsibilities.

OPPORTUNITIES are available for men interested in steel plant operations, sales, research, mining, accounting, finance, and other activities.

DEGREES required are mechanical, metallurgical, electrical, chemical, industrial, civil, mining, and other engineering specialties; also chemistry, physics, mathematics, business administration, and liberal arts.

If you expect to be graduated before July, 1965, and would like to discuss your career interests with a Bethlehem representative, see your placement officer to arrange for an interview appointment—and be sure to pick up a copy of our booklet "Careers with Bethlehem Steel and the Loop Course." Further information can be obtained by writing to our Manager of Personnel, Bethlehem, Pa.

DUFFY VIEWS INDIANA

'Just Spoiling For Victory'

By JERRY MORTON
State News Sports Writer

To Indiana football fans the 1964 season has seemed like a heart-breaking melodrama in which the hero always loses. The Spartans will try to add to their misery tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. when they take on the Hoosiers at Bloomington.

But victory will not be an easy task for the Green and White against a team that has had enough misfortune in its first three games to last for several seasons.

Against Iowa and Northwestern the Hoosiers were one-point victims by scores of 21-20 and 14-13.

It took three key fourth quarter interceptions for Ohio State to top Indiana 17-9 in the season's opener.

If there is any consolation in the Hoosiers' setbacks it's due to the fact that Indiana has out-passed and out-rushed its three opponents and has the top rusher and leading passer in the Big Ten.

Fullback Tom Nowatzke has gained 201 yards against three conference foes and quarterback Gene Badar has hit on 46 of 88 passing attempts for 598 yards.

To combine with Badar's throwing, the Hoosiers have the leading end in the league, Bill Malinchak, who has hauled in 16 passes for 177 yards.

Add these formidable statistics to the fact that Indiana has averaged 17 more plays a game than its opponents and it's easy to see why rival coaches have good reason to fear the luckless Hoosiers.

Coach Duffy Daugherty has drilled the Spartans hard this week in an attempt to shake off the U-M setback.

"One thing for sure," said Daugherty, "we can't go into this game feeling sorry for ourselves over what happened last week."

Football Pass

The football pass contest will begin Monday and continue each day from noon to 1 and 3 to 5 p.m. in front of the Men's IM building.

"This is a very fine Indiana team just spoiling for a victory."

MSU will enter the game without the services of halfback Harry Ammon whose bruised right heel has failed to heal properly in time for the contest.

Clinton Jones is expected to fill in for Ammon with John Tinnick backing him up.

At stake in the Spartan-Hoosier game will be one of college football's lesser known trophies, the Old Brass Spitoon.

The relic, believed to have been taken from an old Michigan trading post, became the series trophy in 1950.

Since that time, the Spartans have won 13 of 14 games with Indiana.

The lone exception came in 1958 when IU chalked up a 6-0 win.

'Just' A Soccer Meet Here

There's no MSU-Michigan football game this weekend (State's not even playing in town), the world series is over and Robin Roberts, Dick Radatz and Ron Perranoski have all gone home.

Is there anything that remotely resembles the color-filled weekend this campus experienced seven days ago?

Only the most successful team in the history of Michigan State offers the sporting fan anything. The Spartan soccer team, scored upon just once and undefeated in four games this year, plays host to a team from tiny California, the soccer field, Saturday, at the soccer field.

The contest, which gets underway at 1:30 p.m. looms as the stiffest test this season for the high-flying booters, however, and it is certain that the sports fan will not suffer complete starvation.

State's success this year has been due to a well-balanced attack and stronger-than-usual defense. Leading the Spartan scorers is all-American George Janes with eight goals and three assists.

Clare DeBoer with six goals and two assists, and Nick Krat with five and two, follow closely to give the squad an evenly-distributed scoring attack. On defense, goalie Charlie Dedich has shut out three opponents (he was not in the net on opening day) and Denny Checkett, Turgud Enuston and Manny Ruschinski have had outstanding defensive performances.

State last met the Akron squad a year ago and scored a 3-0 victory en route to perfect regular season and the Midwest Soccer Conference title.

The Spartans, who were runners-up to powerful St. Louis for national supremacy last season, appear better than ever.

Jenison Bouncing Again As Cagers Start Practice

By DUANE LANCASTER
State News Sports Writer

In weather better suited for yesterday's World Series finale, 15 men greeted MSU basketball coach Fordy Anderson Thursday to begin work for the rapidly approaching cage season.

Prominent in the personnel that will be greeting Anderson as he starts his 11th year at State are six lettermen from the team that finished in a fourth place deadlock with Purdue.

The Spartans won 14 of 24 games last season, finished 8-6 in the Big Ten and were the third highest scoring team in the nation with an average of 92.1 points a game.

Four veterans who helped set the mark are gone and it looks as though the Spartans will be fortunate to equal last year's performance.

Forward Pete Gent, the second highest scorer in Spartan basketball history, center Fred Thoman and Bill Schwarz and Bill Berry, both guards, have all graduated.

"We'll be struggling to keep our heads above water," Anderson said. "If we equal or do better than last year, it'll be a pleasant surprise to me."

But junior guard Stan Washington, a second team all-conference pick as a sophomore, and senior forward Marcus Sanders are back along with defense-minded Bill Curtis, a junior forward.

Also reporting is senior Ron Divjak, a 1962-63 letterwinner back after a knee operation.

The biggest chore facing Anderson will be finding a capable pivot man to replace 6-9 center Thoman. Bill Noack, a 6-8 reserve letterman, was being counted on to fill the spot but he has been declared ineligible.

The Big Ten ruled against Noack because of earlier play with Albion College which used up his eligibility.

Divjak, Washington, Sanders and Curtis form the basis for any optimism and will receive support from letterwinners Dick Holmes and Jim Kupper.

Washington and Sanders loom as State's best bet for stardom on the rugged 23-game road ahead. Washington averaged 14.8 points a game last year in addition to leading the club in rebounds. Sanders accounted for 332 points and a 14.4 game average.

Anderson will again emphasize a blitzing offense with a more than occasional fast break to take advantage of the squad's speed and to offset the lack of height.

The Spartans play fourteen conference games in addition to nine non-league foes.

cooperate and utilize state and local agencies. This service has no enforcement powers and does its job without publicity. At the end of each fiscal year it will submit a report of its activities to Congress.

Title XI

The final title of the civil rights act is the miscellaneous section. It contains a number of customary provisions in summing up the law. Authorized by this title are such appropriations as prove necessary in carrying out the provisions of the law.

One clause states that if any part of the law is ruled unconstitutional, the remaining sections will be unaffected. Another states that nothing contained in this act should be construed to mean that Congress wished to exclude, ignore, or invalidate state laws not inconsistent with this one.

Probably the most significant provision in this title involves the right of a jury trial. After long debate the Senate finally voted to include the right of a jury trial to any person involved in criminal contempt, under titles II, III, IV, V, VI and VII. There was no such provision in the original House bill. The addition of this section is considered the only real victory for the forces debating against the bill.

The civil rights act has been law for approximately three months now. In some areas surprising voluntary compliance has been shown. In others the expected obduracy remains. Though it is too early to predict, the law will have upon the civil rights struggle, there is a general atmosphere of optimism and hope.

Many days, months, and even years will pass before one can say whether this civil rights law succeeded or failed. Even then it may not be clear. One thing is clear, though. The prestige of a nation and the fate of a people are riding on the course steered by America in attempting to solve this critical problem.

Ancient Game 'Go' Gaining Popularity

Ready, set, go. GO, a new game similar to chess is now being played on campus.

Over 4,000 years old, "GO" is the oldest board game in the world, much older than chess, more subtle, and more complicated.

"GO" originated in China, spread to Japan, and to the United States. It has been played at various American colleges for the past 10 years.

Huling Ussery, assistant professor of English, explained that "GO" is a battle game, but rather than capturing a team, the object is to acquire territory. The player with the most territory wins.

The game is played on a rectangular board, 19 inches by 19 inches. Exactly 361 pieces are used in the game, 180 white and 181 black. It is similar to chess in the aspect that two people play.

"GO" is the most intellectually demanding of the board games," said Ussery. "Many chess players are now playing GO."

Thirty people are now playing "GO" on campus according to Mike Hildebrand, Madison, Wis., sophomore and leader of the group. "GO" is easy to learn, but difficult to master," he said. "It is far more intricate than chess."

A National "GO" Association has been formed in the United States and stores are now selling the game.

"More people are playing," remarked Ussery, "but it will be a long time before GO competes with bridge."

The "GO" group is now trying to form a club on campus. Interested students should call Mike Hildebrand at 332-6521.

Massive Housing Project Planned By Private Firm On Shores Of Red Cedar

A private-financed, massive student housing project for 1,070 students, including two high-rise buildings and related commercial structures is being planned in East Lansing with an estimated $6.4 million price tag.

The project, to be located at Bogue Street and the Red Cedar River, was discussed Wednesday night at a meeting of the East Lansing Planning Commission.

The development would, as proposed, include two living unit buildings, one of 13 stories and the other of six. A three-story commercial structure and a large restaurant is also planned.

A representative of the architect firm indicated Thursday night it is hoped to take initial bids on the larger structure by Feb. 1 and that occupancy is hoped for fall of 1966.

The construction would be in two phases, with a two-year gap between beginning of the first and start on the second.

Student GOP's To Survey Voters In Lansing Annex

Young Republicans participating in Saturday's canvass are to meet at 12:30 p.m. at 3419 Forest Row, said Ray Lucas, graduate student working with the Republican State Central Committee.

The canvass will be of Lansing Township Ward 2, Precinct 21, located southwest of the campus.

It is bounded by the Red Cedar River on the east and south, Aurelius Road on the west, and Mifflin Avenue on the north in Lansing.

The purpose is to determine the number of Republican voters and potential Republican voters in the ward, which was recently annexed to Lansing, according to Al Harnisch, Young Republican president.

Professor To Speak

Russell B. Nye, professor of English, will speak at the 7th annual conference of local history at Wayne State University.

The conference is sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society and Museum, the Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library and the Wayne State University history department.

Three Issues Debated As Student Congress Votes No, No, No

"No" votes dominated the first special session of All-University Student Government (AUSG) Congress Wednesday night, as motions to investigate last week's elections, to give North Wonders a second representative and to nominate officers were defeated or continued.

Tom Partridge, East Lansing representative and Swartz Creek senior, asked for a committee to investigate last week's elections and suggest improvements for next week's elections, in East McDonel, Abbott, Rather, Bailey, East and West Fee and East and West Akers.

"The last elections were not well run," he said. "They were held too early and not well publicized. There were few newspaper articles and only a penciled sign at a small table in Berkey Hall indicated the off-campus polling place."

Brian Walsworth, East Lansing representative and Muskegon senior, pointed out that a committee on elections already exists and suggested it be reconvened if just cause is found.

Kathy Derrick, South Wonders representative and Birmingham sophomore, said it is up to candidates, as well as the elections commission, to encourage voting.

After lengthy discussion, the motion was defeated 23 to 14. North Wonders representative Jim Graham, Detroit sophomore, earlier asked that his hall be allowed a second representative.

North Wonders has 619 residents, six short of the 625 required for a second representative, he pointed out.

Greg Owen, East Lansing representative and Glenview, Ill., junior, said the past elections' rules could not be altered now, and Congress agreed to postpone the question until regular sessions.

Nominations were opened and closed for speaker and vice-president, speaker protem and secretary. Prospective candidates refused to allow their names to be placed in nomination until the next special session with all representatives present.

Famed Film To Be Seen

The MSU Film Society will show Vittorio de Sica's "The Bicycle Thief" in the Akers Auditorium Saturday at 6 and 8 p.m.

Arthur Weld, associate professor of radio and television, will present an introductory lecture.

Produced in 1949, "The Bicycle Thief" won the Academy Award for best foreign film of the year, and was voted best foreign film of the year by the National Board of Review and the New York Film Critics Association.

Considered the outstanding example of the Italian neo-realist school of cinema, it was voted second best of all time at the Brussels festival in 1958. The film voted first on that poll, Eisenstein's "Potemkin" is an upcoming feature of the society.

The movie is open to the public at a 50 cents charge per person.

Travel Series: Film On France

France, from the pre-historic caves of Perigord to the industrial harbor of Marseille, from Paris to a fishing village, is the range for "Provincial France," a film to be shown 8 p.m. Saturday in the Auditorium.

Third of the World Travel Series, "Provincial France" was photographed by its narrator, Ed Lark.

Sellers Satire Set Tonight At Fairchild

"The Mouse That Roared," a satire about a duchy that goes to war with the United States, will play at 9 p.m. in Fairchild Theater.

Peter Sellers plays a dual role in the film. He's the bearded prime minister who is the satire's mild-mannered hero. He also plays the matronly Grand Duchess Gloriana.

Sellers' small part on declares war on the United States to get more foreign aid--and wins. The result of the war is a witty, slapstick comedy that has a bomb being tossed around like a football.

Jean Seberg, David Kossoff, William Hartnell and Leo McKern also star in the second presentation of the 1964-65 MSU Foreign Film series.
