

25,000 Alumni Coming Home Today

Five To Be Honorary Alumni

MSU will designate five prominent Michigan citizens as Honorary Alumni at homecoming festivities this weekend.

Named to receive the awards are: Paul D. Bagwell of Grosse Pointe Park, president of K-S Funds, Inc. and member of the Board of Trustees; Leland W. Carr, Lansing, retired chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court; Raymond W. Herrick, Tecumseh, board chairman of Tecumseh Products Co.; Harry F. Kelly, Gaylord, former governor of Michigan; and Harold N. Metzger, East Lansing, general manager of General Motors' Oldsmobile division.

LELAND CARR

also is director of the Michigan Associated and General Telephone companies and the National Bank of Jackson.

Kelly, holder of the Croix de Guerre with Palm and the Purple Heart, was governor of Michigan from 1943 through 1947. He was elected to the Supreme Court in 1953 and 1961.

Metzger has been with Oldsmobile for 36 years, joining the firm in 1928 as an experimental tester. On July 6 he was appointed general manager of Oldsmobile, vice president of General Motors and a member of the GM administration committee.

distinguished Michigan citizens for their services to education and the community.

President John A. Hannah will present the citations at an alumni club officials' banquet Friday evening in Kellogg Center.

Awards for Kelly and Herrick will be made "in absentia."

Bagwell, a former department head at MSU, was president of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and head of several associations for the mentally and physically handicapped.

Former Justice Carr was dean of Michigan Supreme Court justices when he retired last year after 42 years as a jurist. He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1945 by Gov. Kelly.

Hoover's Service Kept Plain

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st President of the United States, was given a simple, impressive private funeral service Thursday. President Johnson came from Washington to join the mourners.

The fanfare and tumult of the 1964 political campaign died away momentarily as Johnson was joined in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church on Park Avenue by his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, and their Republican opponents, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller.

Thus the death of the 90-year-old Hoover stilled partisan oratory and brought the four top candidates together under one roof for the first time since last summer's nominating conventions. It was a rare few minutes of political history.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Terence J. Finlay, Rector of St. Bartholomew's. It started with a prayer that began: "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord."

Hoover's two sons, Herbert Jr., and Allan Henry Hoover, sat in a front row pew in the nave of the impressive Byzantine-Romanesque church. Their

Special Session Of AUSG Accepts Procedure Rules

Howie Wilchins, Paterson, N.J., junior, was elected speaker and vice-president of Student Congress at its second special session Wednesday night.

Serving with Wilchins will be Don Erickson, Riverdale, Ill., senior, as speaker pro tem and Sue Smith, East Mayo representative and Highland Park senior, as secretary.

Wilchins and Erickson were West Fee Hall and East Lansing representatives, respectively, but their seats were declared vacant upon their elections to Student Congress offices.

Elected to the committee on committees, which chooses members, chairman and vice chairmen, of the four other standing committees, were Dave Jensen and Greg Owen, East Lansing representatives, and Jim Graham, North Wonders. The speaker and speaker pro tem are also members of this committee.

Accepted at the lengthy meeting, lasting until almost 11 p.m., were rules of procedure for the Fourteenth Congress, sponsored by Wilchins, Miss Smith and Brian Walsworth, East Lansing.

Deleted from the order of business without discussion was a period of silent meditation preceding the meeting. This proposal caused lengthy debate in last year's Congress.

The section on committee meeting absences was changed to make it mandatory that half an absence be counted for those who miss a committee meeting without an excuse approved by the speaker. Members with more than four absences are dropped from congress and vacancies declared in their districts.

Congress defeated a motion to hold meetings every two weeks, rather than weekly, to allow more time for committee meetings. Tom Partridge, East Lansing, sponsored the motion.

Immediately following the first special session, the first regular meeting, consisting mainly of reports, was called. Wilchins explained the nature of the four standing committees: Congress business and organizations, student rights and welfare, finance and academic affairs. Under the new rules of procedure, the corresponding cabinet member is an ex-officio committee member.

Louis Hekhuis, director of student affairs and All University Student Government (AUSG) adviser, and Bob Harris, AUSG president, spoke.

Wilchins, nominated by Dick Keuhnemuni, East Lansing, defeated Walsworth for the speaker's post.

Last year's speaker pro tem, Wilchins, has been on Congress for three years and served on the committee on committees and Congress business and organizations committee. Maintaining a 3.3 all-University grade point average, he is in Honors College.

Erickson, nominated by Walsworth, defeated Owen for speaker pro tem. A former Congress member, he was vice-chairman of the student rights and welfare committee.

Miss Smith, nominated by Owen, won over Natalie Keiser, West Akers. This is Miss Smith's fourth year in Student Congress. Last year's secretary, she has been on the committee on committees, was secretary of the steering committee and is presently senior class secretary. She was acting speaker at this year's first special session.

Archbishop Hits Church On Document

VATICAN CITY (AP)—England's leading Roman Catholic churchmen called Thursday for revision with laymen's help of the Vatican Ecumenical Council's document on modern world problems to cover such things as birth control pills.

Archbishop John C. Heenan of Westminster attacked the document, or schema, as "a set of platitudes" and brought the contraceptive pill issue openly before the assembly in St. Peter's Basilica for the first time.

He lashed out at the clerics who prepared the document as men "who hardly know the world as it really is" and said the results would dash the hopes of everyone who has been awaiting it.

Archbishop Heenan proposed that a new commission of lay specialists and priests with long pastoral experience be set up immediately to do over the document. He suggested a long recess of the Council in the interval. "Then after three or four years let the fourth and final session of the Council be convened to discuss all these social problems," he said.

Homecoming Fete Tonight

President John A. Hannah will address the homecoming banquet tonight at 6 p.m. in the Kellogg Center.

Alumni club awards and honorary alumni awards will be presented, and the homecoming queen, Miss Janis Flanders, will be introduced.

Open to alumni and friends of the University, the banquet costs $3.50 per person.

VIEW FROM THE DEPTHS—Opening of the indoor swimming season on campus has brought out water-toddlers, dog-paddlers and sea-sprits such as Sue Barbour, Grand Rapids senior. Some 25,000 alumni will begin pouring onto campus today to join 31,000 students in what Director of Alumni Relations Jack Kinney describes as "one of the best planned homecomings ever in terms of both student and alumni activities."

A Spartan Spirit-sponsored pep rally will kick off student activities at 7:30 tonight on Old College Field, while alumni activities will begin with a Homecoming banquet in the Big Ten Room of Kellogg Center at 6 p.m.

Mississippi Explosion Triggered

BANTERVILLE, Miss. (AP)—The United States exploded a five kiloton nuclear device a half mile underground Thursday to see if American detection devices can spot sneak atomic tests by foreign powers.

With a ground tremor and a deep, muffled explosion the blast erupted 2,700 feet below the surface in the Tatum Salt Dome. A fine dust haze appeared above the site.

The device had about a fourth the punch of the atomic bomb that leveled Hiroshima in World War II.

"Everything went off as expected," Dr. Philip Randolph, the Atomic Energy Commission's project director, told newsmen following a check of instruments in the blast area.

A worldwide network of seismographic stations, including two behind the Iron Curtain, had been alerted prior to the explosion in this south Mississippi piney woods country.

The AEC said the test results would be evaluated and results disclosed later.

2 From MSU Take Medals In Olympics

Michigan State captured a little of the glory of the Olympic Games Wednesday as alumna Marcia Jones won the bronze medal in the women's kayak singles. The winning time, by Russia's Ludmila Khvedosuk, was 2:12.87; Miss Jones' was 2:15.68.

Reportedly, Miss Jones first became interested in kayaking in 1960 when she attended the Olympics in Rome. Appalled at the United States' last place showing in the competition, she decided to take up the sport. Four years and not a few victories later, Marcia won first place in the New York tryouts and followed up with a third place in Tokyo.

Another feather in old Sparty's cap is Gary Dilley, of Huntington, Ind. This sophomore in pre-dental won the silver medal in the men's 200-meter backstroke last week in 2:10.5.

Last year Gary worked out in freshman practice and "showed promise." But this summer, under Coach McCaffree, he made the vast progress that was to win him first place in the tryouts in New York. Ironically, Princeton's Jed Graef, who placed second under Gary in New York, was to switch places with Dilley in Tokyo, capturing the gold medal by two-tenths of a second. Jed broke the old world mark of 2:10.9; Jed's time being 2:10.3 and Gary's 2:10.5.

Ohio State Returns Help LBJ's Lead

President Lyndon B. Johnson again received a majority of Big Ten mock election votes as Ohio State University added its returns to the total Wednesday.

Johnson swamped Barry M. Goldwater 5,045 to 3,224 at Ohio State, 61 per cent to 39 per cent. This brings Johnson's Big Ten total to 19,156 over Goldwater's 10,777. Out of the 29,933 ballots cast at six of the universities, Johnson received 63 per cent to Goldwater's 37 per cent, 19,156 to 10,777. Michigan State gave Johnson the biggest margin of victory of the participating universities. Johnson received 6,610 votes to Goldwater's 2,822, or 70 per cent to 30 per cent of the votes cast.

Every participating university gave Johnson a majority. Northwestern University gave Johnson the smallest edge, however, with 52 per cent to 48 per cent or 1,270 to 1,172.

A cold day was blamed for the small turn-out at the University of Illinois whose paper, the Daily Illini, is sponsoring the Big Ten event. A vote of 3,570 was turned in for Johnson while 2,084 was for Goldwater.

Iowa gave 2,226 votes to Johnson and 1,161 to Goldwater. Minnesota showed great voter interest with its large turn-out, giving Johnson a victory of 4,350 to 3,530.

Purdue and the University of Michigan did not hold elections. Indiana's election was invalidated because of a "lack of communication" between the Student Election Commission and the Young Democrat and Young Republican clubs," said Joe McNally, campus editor of the Indiana Daily Student.

Eisenhower Hospitalized

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was admitted to Walter Reed General Hospital Thursday suffering from a very painful cough and inflammation of his windpipe.

Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, surgeon general of the Army, said the 74-year-old former president was admitted at 3:20 p.m.

"He (Eisenhower) speaks with extreme difficulty and has a very painful, productive (SIC) cough," Heaton said in a statement. "His general condition otherwise is satisfactory."

The technical diagnosis was not clearly severe tracheobronchitis, and Heaton said it was expected that Eisenhower would be hospitalized for seven to 10 days.

Thant Wants To Hear K's Version Of Coup

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant said yesterday it would be helpful and desirable if Nikita Khrushchev could tell the world about the circumstances leading to his exit as leader of the Soviet Union.

Thant made the statement at a news conference, where he called also for a meeting in 1965 of the nuclear powers, including Communist China.

Asked to assess the situation in the Soviet Union in view of the shakeup in leadership, Thant had praise both for Khrushchev and the new leaders, Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Thant said Khrushchev would be remembered as a man who had advanced the cause of peaceful coexistence with some degree of success, particularly among some of the leaders of the western world.

"It would be helpful and even desirable if Mr. Khrushchev were able or inclined to make a public statement on the situation leading to his exit," he said.

He made clear, however, that he had transmitted no request to Moscow that Khrushchev be permitted to speak out.

He said he knew both Brezhnev and Kosygin, and regarded the former as a man with a deep knowledge of world affairs.

He expressed the belief that the two leaders have a realistic approach to the world situation, and were unlikely to reverse the course of history and take the Soviet Union back to the 1953 era of Stalinism and the cold war.

He recalled that Nikolai T. Fedorenko, the Soviet Union's chief U.N. delegate, had urged him that the new government would pursue the same policy of

The Revolution That Isn't

The so-called conservative revolution on the campuses, which has been ballyhooed throughout the nation during the past four years, is largely a myth if the results of Tuesday's Big Ten mock election are to be believed.

Results of the voting from five universities are already in, and they show President Lyndon B. Johnson the winner over Sen. Barry Goldwater by nearly a two-to-one margin. The schools whose votes have been counted are MSU, Illinois, Iowa, the University of Minnesota and Northwestern University. More than 21,500 students participated, with MSU students casting nearly half of the votes in the election.

The Big Ten schools probably include as wide a social spectrum of students as any universities in the country. All of them but Northwestern are state-supported, indicating that most of the students are drawn from average American homes. It can't be said that the results of voting from Big Ten schools are merely the opinions of a narrowly privileged class.

The enormous margin which the students gave President Johnson is far greater than that received by any candidate in an actual national election. Some conservatives would attribute this to the belief that all college students are liberal because they have been "indoctrinated" by liberal professors.

How then can the huge six-to-one margin received by Gov. George Romney at MSU be explained in terms of the theory of liberal indoctrination? While Johnson received a three-to-one margin here, Romney completely emulsified his Democratic opponent Neil Staebler.

This does not seem to indicate that students are blindly liberal, but that they have a tendency to vote independently.

The results of the election at MSU indicate that students reject the conservative philosophy of Sen. Goldwater but are not sheep-like followers of one party. Results from the other Big Ten schools indicate the same rejection of the Goldwater brand of conservatism.

This still leaves the unanswered question of why the "conservative revolution on the campuses" has received so much attention during the past four years.

We don't think of college conservatives as increased significantly. We simply think that the conservative minority, spurred by Sen. Goldwater's candidacy for the presidency, has become more vocal.

The resurgent expression of American conservatism is healthy in our democracy.

However, the conservative revolution just isn't.

New Ad Building Overdue

Students who have attempted to transact any type of business in the administration building will breathe a sigh of relief at the University's $2 million request to the state legislature for a new ad building.

There are several compelling reasons why the legislature should grant MSU's top-priority request for funds to begin construction on the building.

In the first place, the present building just is not big enough to serve the needs of 31,000 students. In the past decade, MSU's student body has doubled, yet the same administration is still in use.

Secondly, the present ad building is not functionally designed. Any student who has attempted to obtain information from the registrar and been shuttled from Vault 3 in the basement to room 106 on the first floor to the main office on the third floor knows how awkward the building is. It is obviously equally awkward for administrators to function efficiently in such a setup.

The University Business Office, for example, is located on the second floor. Cashier's offices are on the first floor. If a problem arises, students must often run up and down the stairs or cashiers must make lengthy phone calls to straighten the matter out.

A new administration building will undoubtedly be designed to facilitate rather than hamper administrative services.

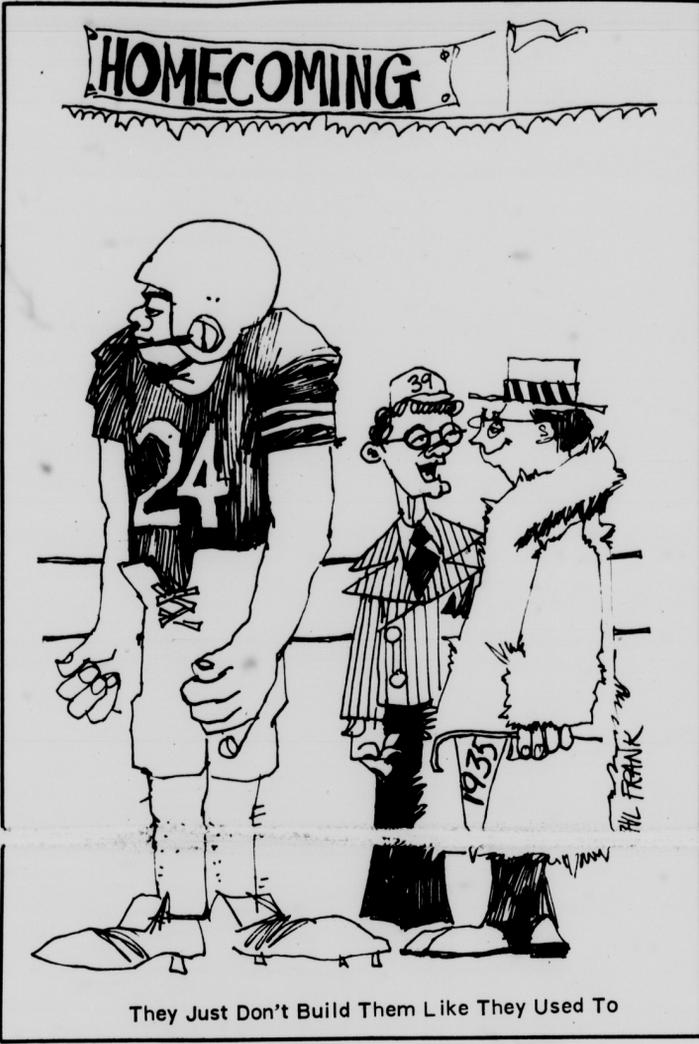

A less important reason for construction of a new ad building is that the new structure will be located on the Red Cedar River near the Center for International Programs. This building site is close to the present center of campus.

A new administration building will be a great aid to the University in every way, if the legislature sees fit to authorize the funds.

Red Cedar Report

By having freshmen register at counseling clinic they postpone their first encounter with regular registration until January. This way they can still enjoy Christmas.

Soon the leaves will be falling. Then the Grounds and Maintenance Dept. rakes the leaves to one side of the campus then the next day they rake them to the other side, and finally on the third day a big air hose comes and blows the leaves in the river.

'Iron Curtain' Invisible In Soviet Union--Greer

Thomas H. Greer, chairman of the humanities department, says he found "no iron curtain" when he visited the Soviet Union last summer.

Accompanied by his wife and two teenage children, Greer traveled through Russia for a month, talking to people and just observing.

Greer found that the Russian people are as interested in the U.S. presidential election as Americans are.

"The Russians are very fearful of Goldwater's being elected," he said. "In fact they are unable to understand why a major party would nominate such an 'unpredictable' and 'uneducated' man."

The Russians liked the late President John F. Kennedy, not only because he desired peace and understanding among nations, but because he realized the dangers of living in a nuclear age, according to Greer. President Johnson is well liked because he is following in Kennedy's footsteps, Greer added.

"The Russians don't want to be our enemies. They still remember the last war. Because they are so fearful of another war, one high official stated they were willing to give up exporting revolution or any other policy that may risk war."

The Russians classify Goldwater, the Chinese Communists and the Germans as threats to peace, Greer said, and they feel the Chinese leaders and Goldwater are reckless people, willing to risk nuclear war.

As far as the Berlin wall is concerned, Greer said the Communists feel justified in building the wall.

"There was much resentment against the draining of the professional people from East to West Berlin."

Greer said the Russians are bitter toward the United States for helping to build up and re-arm West Germany.

"Russians seem to have few misconceptions about Americans, commented Greer. "They are envious of our standard of living."

The young people, enjoy our films and envy the clothes we wear and the automobiles we drive, he said.

Though the people are well-nourished, observed Greer, the agricultural system of the Soviet Union is lagging.

Greer said the Russians admit they are behind and haven't succeeded in bringing their agriculture up to Western standards of productivity.

"Discontent is expressed by some Russians in the form of wanting to travel more, to have more things, and to have more freedom of expression, but basically, the bulk of the people support their government."

The Russians are a proud, courageous people, and believe their social system is fundamentally sound, commented Greer.

"They would doubtless remain socialists even if the present leadership were to be removed," he emphasized.

Greer was able to converse with some professors and found no significant difference between them and his own colleagues.

"The Russian professors were free-thinking men, who knew what was happening in the world and didn't try to cover-up facts."

However, Greer, felt out from news sources while in the Soviet Union. Though foreign newspapers and periodicals are available in libraries and by private subscription, the traveler finds it difficult to secure publications printed in English.

'Equal Time' Battle Rages

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI)--The broadcast networks are back on an election-year merry-go-round known to the industry as "equal time."

President Johnson touched off the latest round Sunday night when he delivered a 20-minute report on the world situation.

The Republican National Committee labeled the address as political designed to boost Johnson's candidacy. The GOP put in immediate demands for time to answer.

Democrats called the appearance non-political. But whatever it is called for the purposes of the law, no one can say that a Presidential address to 60-million people has no political impact of any kind.

All a President has to do is make a speech during an election campaign and the political barometer wavers.

Two of the networks, the American Broadcasting System, turned Republican requests down flat. The Federal Communications Commission backed them up and said the address was not of the nature that made it subject to the equal time law.

The National Broadcasting Company went along with the idea that the speech was non-political but out of courtesy to the other side offered 15 minutes of time. The time was offered to GOP chairman Dean Burch, instead of Senator Barry Goldwater, to avoid the possibility of having to spin the merry-go-round again to give Johnson and other presidential candidates another ride.

Burch took NBC up on its offer and appeared on the screen Monday night. And Democratic National Chairman John Bailey came right back with a request for equal time to answer Burch. The NBC decided that enough's enough, and denied the Bailey request.

in the middle. Republican Burch said that his party will initiate legal action against the agency's decision denying the GOP equal time to answer Johnson.

Behind all the controversy is section 315 of the communications act. That section says that when a broadcaster gives time to a legally qualified candidate for public office, that broadcaster also must give equal time to all other candidates for that office.

From Nowhere Driving Along--

Mike Hofmann, Bloomfield Hills junior, said Thursday that he and four other students were not returning from a party when they were halted on the road in Shiawassee County last spring as was reported in Thursday's State News. Hofmann said the group was just driving along when they were stopped.

Bus Signs For Recognition

To the Editor:

Will you be so kind as to advise me, to the best of your knowledge, of the person or persons responsible for the commuter bus management? My purpose for this request is a simple one: For the sake of the "Parking Lot Y" commuters I would like to ask the management if it be possible to place small signs in the rear and side windows of the buses stating their destinations, or that they are a commuter bus.

So often I have rushed up to the front of three buses parked at the Shaw stop to see if the head bus is the commuter-- usually it is not and I am satisfied to wait the 5 or so minutes for the commuter bus to arrive; but more than slightly annoyed that I had to struggle through a crowd to see which bus was which. Also I have observed, while waiting for the correct bus to arrive, many other students doing the same thing. Some run to catch the bus but find it the wrong one when they reach the door.

If small signs, not obstructive to the driver's rear vision, were to be placed in the rear windows, they would be easily read crossing from Farm Lane, Bessey Hall or walking from anywhere in that vicinity toward the bus stop and much confusion and frustration would be eliminated. I'm sure I speak for many commuters in this request.

Hagadorn Sidewalk Needed

To the Editor:

We thought we should bring it to the attention of the authorities that there is a vital need for a sidewalk along Hagadorn Road between Grand River Avenue and Shaw Lane. Since the building of the dorms on the East end of campus, there has been an increase in pedestrian traffic along this road.

Students from East Lansing walk along it to reach their classes in the new dorms and students from the dorms use it to walk up to the shopping center on Grand River. As new dorms go up in this area the foot traffic will not only increase rather than lessen. This is the only place where the students must walk along. The speed limit is fifty miles per hour and the road is very busy with numerous large trucks and cars.

Whose responsibility it is, we are unsure. The University owns most of the land on the west side of the road. However, since the road itself is not on the campus, the responsibility may be the city's. Whose ever it is, we feel something should be done before there is an accident that everyone will regret.

Patriotism Not Antiquated

To the Editor:

After carefully reading Mr. Schiff's opinions expressed in Point of View last Friday, I find my reactions divided into these following thoughts:

First, I am an American citizen who is not ashamed to admit his love and pride of country. Concurrently, I find myself a graduate student in personnel and a member of an armed forces reserve unit. Neither of the later situations have shown me any logical reason, nor afforded me just cause, for prostituting my patriotism for some other "ism" mentioned by Mr. Schiff in his pseudo-intellectual condemnation of the director of the F.B.I.

Now if Mr. Schiff and his followers, who hopefully are few, would then place me in the company of J. Edgar Hoover, Barry Goldwater and the late Joseph McCarthy by dint of my remarks, then so be it. However, they surely must be sophisticated enough to recognize the ill-feeling, if not rancor and hate, that their position engenders for them in our American democracy, a democracy paid for many times over by American lives. Take note, Mr. Schiff, I said American lives.

Where are your communists and socialists when we are at war? The belief in democracy I profess is not one-sided. If I may apply the words of Disraeli here, you will find that "I disagree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

So I say to Mr. Schiff, and all of similar ilk, "stand up, with what pride I cannot possibly imagine, and be counted." The more of your breed loyal Americans can clearly recognize for what they are, the faster the rivers of freedom will flow.

Red China Rejects Test Ban Treaty

TOKYO—Peking rejected Thursday President Johnson's suggestion that Communist China sign the limited nuclear test ban treaty and repeated its proposal for abolition of nuclear weapons at a world summit meeting.

The Peking People's Daily, organ of the Chinese Communist party, said in an editorial that the treaty, now signed by more than 100 nations, is "nothing but a fraud."

"How can we be expected to walk into the trap now that we possess the means to break the nuclear monopoly of the United States? Fantastic, isn't it?"

People's Daily said the Communist Chinese proposal for a summit meeting on nuclear weapons is "practical, reasonable, easily feasible and involves no question of control."

U.S. Atty. Charged With Contempt of Court

JACKSON, Miss.—U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox held U.S. Atty. Robert Hauberg guilty of contempt of court and ordered contempt proceedings against acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach Thursday after they refused to handle grand jury indictments.

Hauberg, a veteran Jackson attorney, told Cox that Katzenbach had instructed him not to draw up or sign indictments the grand jury wanted to return.

Outside attorneys called the judge's action "extremely unusual if not unprecedented," and the Justice Department said it would appeal the ruling to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

Think "Joe Bananas" In Bottom of River

NEW YORK—Authorities in New York City say they think kidnaped gangland chieftain Joseph "Joe Bananas" Bonanno has been "dumped."

A Justice Department official said, "if I had to guess, I'd say Joe Bananas is at the bottom of a river somewhere." Bonanno was kidnaped at gunpoint Wednesday—pulled from a cab on New York's fashionable Park Avenue.

Bonanno was slated to testify before a federal grand jury investigating the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Flint Buick Settles in GM Contract Dispute

DETROIT—Negotiators tried Thursday to evaporate the diminishing pool of local issues in the General Motors strike before United Auto Workers vote Sunday on contract and return-to-work proposals.

A "yes" vote on the national contract and resolved local terms, plus agreement to work in factories with still-open disputes, could put GM back into the automobile production picture next week.

The Flint Buick complex has reached a local level agreement covering nearly 15,000 workers.

The world's no. 1 automaker stopped turning out its 1965 models when some 260,000 UAW workers walked off their jobs Sept. 25 in support of new contract demands.

Truman Leaves Hospital After Nine Days

KANSAS CITY—Harry S. Truman left Research Hospital Thursday after spending nine days there recovering from injuries suffered in a fall.

The 80-year-old former President was wearing pajamas and a robe when he left for home with Mrs. Truman and Lt. Mike Westwood of the Independence, Mo., Police Department.

Truman received a cut over his right eye and fractured two ribs when he fell in the bathroom of his home in Independence Oct. 13. A maid found him there, semiconscious, and called police. He was taken to the hospital, 13 miles away, in an ambulance.

How Now, Trapped Brown Cow

AMSTERDAM, N.Y.—Well, there was this 900-pound cow somehow it fell into a wide, 15-foot deep well.

Farmer Gustave Lenz of nearby Minzville wasn't worried that the animal would drown. Only a few inches of water were in the well.

But, to lift the cow free, he needed help from volunteer firemen. Rather than attempt a rescue with a derrick, the firemen simply pumped the well full of water and let the cow float to safety.

Bike, Car Registration Increase

The bicycle may eventually replace the automobile as the primary traffic problem on campus. That seems to be the trend now.

As of Oct. 8, the bicycle registration was 5,476. This is an increase of 67 per cent over the similar period last year.

Richard Benitt, Director of the Department of Public Safety, said the increase was primarily from the decrease in student

"The same may also be said of the automobile revenue. Though we take in a lot, we spend more for the construction of parking facilities such as the Shaw Ramp," Pierson said.

Both Benitt and Pierson are more than pleased with the campus bus service.

"Because of the reliability, buses have more than solved the traffic problem," Benitt said.

"There just wasn't the street capacity to handle all the cars before. Last year, for example, the traffic on Farm Lane equaled that on Grand River before I-96 was opened," Benitt said.

Two Coeds' Cars Collide

A Grand Rapids graduate student, Annette R. TenElshof, suffered bumps and bruises when her car collided with two others in front of the Music Building on West Circle Drive.

Campus police said Miss TenElshof's car was struck by the automobile of Carol A. Starke, Frankenmuth freshman, when she attempted to turn left into a parking place from the right lane. Her car then struck another which was parked.

Coed Hurt In Wreck

An MSU coed is in satisfactory condition but under intensive care at Edward W. Sparrow Hospital today following a two-car collision at Grand River Ave. and Audubon Road Wednesday night.

Nancy E. Babcock, Huntington Woods junior, received a deep forehead cut when the car she was driving collided with another driven by Kirk C. Campbell, 17, of 4383 Elmwood St., Okemos, East Lansing police said.

A witness told police Miss Babcock pulled into the path of Campbell's car when attempting to turn left onto Grand River Ave. from Audubon Road.

Police said Miss Babcock could not remember what happened when questioned after the accident. She was issued a summons for failure to yield the right of way.

Dance For Victory

The men of East Shaw are sponsoring an open Homecoming Mixer Saturday night in the Lower Lounge from 8:30 p.m. to midnight. Music will be provided by Shaw Radio, WKME. Admittance is free.

Women's Journalism Honorary Hears Talk On Communications

Three speakers presented different aspects of getting jobs in the communications field at a meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, Wednesday night.

The speakers were William Haight, associate professor of journalism, and Thomas W. Simons, associate director of the Asian Studies Center.

Haight explained the role of the Placement Bureau in helping graduates and alumni secure jobs.

He stressed the importance of having correct, up-to-date information on the Placement Bureau for employer's reference.

"The total jobs available in the communications fields have never been better for graduates," Haight said.

Women are needed for news-papers, for public relations-retail work and in retail ad-

McNelly talked about the variety of jobs open to women in the international communications field.

"It doesn't cost anything to look into any field," McNelly said.

Women who are enthusiastic, self-confident and can ask questions are potentially suited for work abroad in communications, he said.

Simons related some of his experience with the United States Information Service (USIS), affiliated with the Foreign Service Organization, and introduced a variety of careers open to women in communications.

Interpretation of the position of the United States abroad, and cultural programs to promote understanding were only two aspects of this service.

"It's a growing impression that its getting to be more of a woman's world," Simons said. 353-1931.

Symphony Opens Season Featuring Musical Greats

For James F. Niblock, professor and chairman of music, the opening concert of the Lansing Symphony Orchestra Tuesday marks the world premiere of his "Symphonic Overture."
Niblock composed the music for the Orchestra, which begins its 35th season 8:30 p.m., Tuesday in the Sexton High School. Niblock is former concertmaster of the Lansing Symphony. Gyorgy Sandor, concert pianist, will play Rachmaninoff's "Concerto No. 2 for Piano and Orchestra in C Minor, Op. 18."

Jazz-man Dave Brubeck, TV composer Henry Mancini, and the 300-voice LanSymphonic Festival Chorus appear as part of the new Philharmonic Series of the Lansing Symphony season. The Symphonic Series will include appearances by John Luele, conductor of the Winston-Salem, (N.C.) Symphony Orchestra; Leslie Parnas, young American cellist who won the "Tchaikowsky Prize" in Moscow; and Hugo Vianello, musical director and conductor of the Kansas City Civic Orchestra.

Cash Prizes Offered During Poetry Contest

One book publication and $1,500 in cash prizes await winners of the second annual Kansas City Poetry Contests.

College students can submit single poems for six honor awards totaling $600. These honor awards are sponsored by Hallmark Cards, Inc., of Kansas City, Mo.
For a book-length manuscript the Dr. Edward A. Devins Award offers cash payment of $500. The manuscript will be published by the University of Missouri Press.
The total value of the Devins award will be determined by sales of the book. The $500 is in the form of a guaranteed advance royalty payment.
Both the Devins award and the Hallmark awards are offered in open competition on a national basis. The Hallmark awards are open to students of junior colleges of undergraduate or graduate status.
Information on entries may be obtained by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Contest Directors, P.O. Box 306, Kansas City, Mo., 64141.
Final day for submitting entries is Feb. 1, 1965.
No clue to authorship should be on a work, but entrants are to enclose their names in a sealed envelope attached to the entry. Even the names of judges--all recognized poets and critics--will not be revealed until after the contests are decided.

Gregory Millar returns for his third season as conductor of the Lansing Symphony Orchestra.
Season tickets for the seven concerts and two plays are available from the Lansing Symphony Association, IV 2-0753, for $8. Reserved section seats are $15.

New York Philharmonic

WKAR Airs Sunday Concert

Because of the change to Eastern Standard Time in New York, the New York Philharmonic concert will be broadcast 3 p.m. Sunday on WKAR.

Guest conductor, Josef Krips, will conduct the broadcast. Lorne Munroe, the Philharmonic's new solo cellist, will play Dvorak's "Cello Concerto."
In addition to Dvorak's work, the program includes "Sinfonia da Requiem" by Benjamin Britten and "Symphony No. 2" by Sir William Walton.

Britten wrote his Sinfonia da Requiem during a 1939-1942 visit to America. The New York Philharmonic gave this work its world premiere in March 1961. The "Sinfonia" is in three movements: Lacrymosea, Dies Irae, and Requiem awternam.

In 1960 on a commission from the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Society, Sir William Walton completed his latest symphony, "Symphony No. 2."
The Philharmonic Society gave the symphony its world premiere in September that year. Three months later, George Szell directed the Cleveland Orchestra in the symphony's U.S. premiere. Dvorak's "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in B Minor, Op. 104" was the last work the Bohemian composer completed in the U.S., during his visit between 1892 and 1895.

Milton Cross serves as commentator for the Philharmonic throughout the Sunday afternoon series over MSU radio.

Housemother Tea

All housemothers and resident advisors are invited to a housemothers' tea Sunday honoring new fraternity and sorority housemothers at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Services lounge.
The tea is sponsored by the Panhellenic Council and Intrafraternity Council.

Case Open House

North Case Hall will hold an open house on Saturday after the Homecoming game from 4-6 p.m.

Even After Refusal, Sartre Given Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The 1964 Nobel Prize for literature was won Thursday by Jean-Paul Sartre, French playwright, novelist and philosopher. He said he will not accept the $53,123 award.

Sartre, having lunch in a secluded Left Bank restaurant in Paris when a newsman told him of the award, said, "I am refusing the prize. That is a fact."

He declined further comment, saying his explanations would be given to the Swedish press, then adding, "You will be promptly informed of them along with all the newspapers of the world."

Sartre then lit a cigaret and resumed his conversation with Simone de Beauvoir, herself a noted writer.

The Swedish Academy of Letters, which presents the annual Nobel award, was named in the will of Swedish chemist Baron Alfred Nobel, had been warned Sartre would refuse the award. In an unusual letter early this week he had politely but firmly refused, in advance, to accept the award for his own personal reasons.

Sartre is known to detest all awards "whether a sack of potatoes or a Nobel Prize" on principle, as much as for the pomp and glory surrounding them.

Academy sources said the prize money would be returned to the Nobel funds if Sartre refused by his decision.

WMSB To Show John Muir's Life

The life of John Muir, whose influence upon President Theodore Roosevelt led to the creation of Yosemite National Park, is depicted in the first of WMSB-TV's "Pathfinders" series 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

"Pathfinders" relates the lives of 13 prominent Americans, pioneer leaders in fields ranging from politics and philosophy to sports and architecture. The determination of Scottish-born writer John Muir led to legislation which provided for the creation of Yosemite National Park and the allotment of 148 million acres for forest conservation.

Host Benjamin DeMott, noted author and lecturer, will read selections from Muir's writings and converse with Gursky, editor of some of these works. A concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and a report on the 1956 Hungarian revolt are two other coming shows listed as "top viewing" by WMSB.

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra, one of the oldest and most highly regarded American orchestras, will perform under the direction of Jean Martinon on the "Festival of the Arts" series 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Hoover's Funeral

wives, and Hoover's grandchildren and great grandchildren were with them.

Hoover died Tuesday morning in his 31st floor apartment in the Waldorf-Astoria Towers, on Park Avenue directly across 50th Street from St. Bartholomew's. The body, in a sealed, flag-draped casket, has lain in state in the chancel at the east end of St. Bartholomew's for two days, and the public has filed past in homage at a peak rate of 3,600 per hour.

From 3 to 5 p.m., the church was closed to all but the 1,250 members of St. Bartholomew's, which opened to the public again until 9 p.m.

Hoover was one of three living former Presidents of the United States. The two remaining are Democrat Harry S. Truman and Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower. Neither was able to attend the funeral.

Eisenhower had planned to be there, but he has been hospitalized.

Truman was hospitalized in Kansas City by injuries suffered in a fall. He was represented at the funeral by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Daniel.

Truman and his wife sent a basket of white chrysanthemums and white gladioli.

A number of floral tributes came from abroad. Among them was a wreath from King Baudouin of Belgium, a country where many were saved from starvation in World War I by an American relief mission which Hoover headed.

One of the most poignant of the floral offerings was a basket of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. It came from Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widowed exactly 11 months ago yesterday when her husband, the nation's 35th President, was assassinated in Dallas.

Tomorrow Hoover's body goes to Washington, to lie in state in the Capitol Rotunda, just as President Kennedy's did last November.

At the request of Hoover's family, the funeral services were starkly simple, with choir music and eulogy omitted.

St. Peter's Grotto Is Oldest Church

ANTAKYA, Turkey (AP)—As a bridge between numerous civilizations, the land where Turkey lies today also saw the establishment of the first church of the Christian world.

Less than two miles north of Antakya, capital of Turkey's southernmost province, is a cave hollowed out of rock on the slopes of Mt. Stauris.

This is St. Peter's Grotto. It is here that St. Peter, after his arrival in Asia Minor from the Holy Land, preached to those devoted to the faith of Jesus Christ.

It is in this cave-church in ancient Antioch (Antakya today) that the group of people met who had no definite name until they received the name "Christians," meaning "belonging to the faith of Christ."

St. Peter arrived in Antioch sometime between 29 and 40 A.D., after the crucifixion of Christ, to spread the new faith. This was the same period when the other apostles chose various routes out of the Holy Land for a similar purpose.

The first meeting of Christians is said to have been held in St. Peter's Grotto, and that is why this hollow rock in Mt. Stauris came to be known as the first church of the world of Christianity.

Now a museum, St. Peter's Grotto has none of the decorations seen in later-period churches, not even a cross.

The building is a cave, resembling a Gothic church, and built after St. Peter's departure for Rome, where he too was crucified, has been surrounded by a high wall, forming a small garden accessible only through an iron gate.

One has to accustom himself to darkness and keep the door open in order to see inside pillars, a stone altar placed long after St. Peter, and a statue of St. Peter above the altar. This statue is said to have been brought here from another church in Antakya.

The cave, about 30-feet wide, 40-feet long and 20-feet high, was made into a church by the Crusaders in the 12th and 13th centuries.

Today it is, however, almost as simple inside as it used to be when St. Peter started to preach to the followers of Christ about the new faith.

A few patches of mosaic on the floor are believed to belong to the 4th or 5th centuries. On the right is a cavity where water flows from the rocks. Christians in Antioch considered this sacred water.

Two Greek letters are engraved in the altar stone, the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet -- Alpha and Omega -- signifying that God is the beginning and the end of all creation.

A door on the left of the altar opens into a tunnel, now assumed to have served as an escape route should the church be attacked by unbelievers.

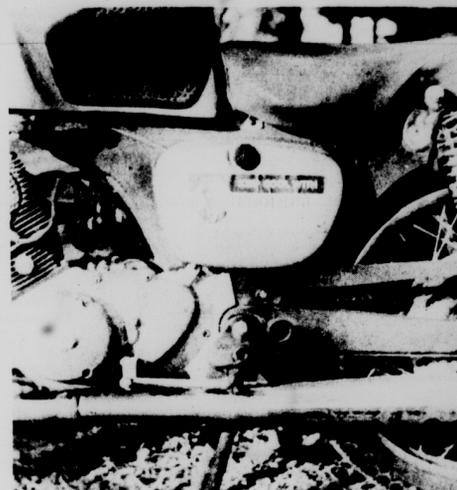

A divine service is held here every year, on June 29, to celebrate St. Peter's Day. The flow of Christian tourists reaches its peak at that time.

Howland House Sets Ball Theme

"Harvest Ball" will be the theme of the Howland House term party to be held 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday.

Late 2 a.m. permissions have been granted dates attending the Howland House term party.

A house-wide decorating party is planned for 10 a.m. Saturday.

In making the proposal for a meeting of the world's atomic powers, Thant said he was endorsing a recent suggestion made by former Kansas Gov. Alf M. Landon, the 1936 Republican presidential nominee.

Thant described Peking's "hydrogen bomb" test as a regrettable and in violation of a 1962 treaty.

Thant said he felt that it could be very worthwhile to have a dialogue between the United States, the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and China perhaps some time in 1965.

English Preacher To Hold Services

The Rev. Canon Bryan Green, well-known preacher, lecturer and author, will fly here from England for a series of speaking engagements in Lansing and other Michigan cities during the first two weeks of November.

CANON GREER

He will conduct a six-day mission in Lansing's Sexton High School auditorium. Nightly services will be held at 8 p.m., Nov. 1 through 6.

as Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Houston, Washington, D.C., and New York.

While his services are evangelistic in character, Canon Green shuns the sawdust-trail, Bible-banging, highly emotional techniques of religious oratory. Nonetheless he is said to be a powerful speaker, able to express complex ideas in the simplest language.

Canon Green is presently Rector of St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, England, and is Canon of the Birmingham Cathedral. He broadcasts regularly over an English radio station and writes a weekly column for one of England's largest newspapers.

A man of great vitality, Canon Green sometimes works from six in the morning until two the following morning.

During one U.S. visit, for example, he spoke five times in four different places within fifty-five minutes.

Canon Green is visiting Michigan at the invitation of the Rt. Rev. Richard Emrich, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

In addition to his appearances in Lansing, he will conduct "Bishop's Missions" in Ann Arbor and Detroit.

ABRACADABRA--Illusionist Andre Kole, acting as a special representative of the Campus Crusade for Christ group used his illusions at a recent meeting to illustrate how Christ and the audience could and should be reconciled to each other.

Dedicate Chapel

The dedication of the new Martin Luther Chapel and Student Center last Sunday was a complete success. More than 2,000 persons attended the four services.

Episcopal Services

The initial Episcopal Sunday service of the new chapel, held recently in the Alumni Memorial Chapel, was also the first Episcopal service ever to be held in the Chapel.

Politics For SCF

In keeping with the upcoming national elections, tonight's Spartan Christian Fellowship meeting will be an election special entitled "Political and Social Implications of Christianity."
