Homecoming: All For Fun, Fun For All

football display for a homecoming crowd of 66,000 in Spartan Stadium, MSU topped Northwestern, 24-6. Here, junior quarterback Steve Judy (23) scores MSU's last touchdown with a fourth-quarter dive past Northwestern defensive backs Dick McCauley (12) and Wade Clark (42) into the corner of the end zone. Capping the weekend was the annual Homecoming dance at the Auditorium. During the dance, Janis Flanders, Monroe junior, was crowned Homecoming Queen by Excaliber president and football captain Charley Migyanka, East Conemough, Pa., senior.

Triumph Highlights Weekend

By JO BUMBARGER
State News Staff Writer

Students and alumni enjoyed a weatherman-blessed fall weekend, as ideal temperatures and sunshine brought out crowds to view the floats and watch MSU triumph over Northwestern 24-6 in Saturday's Homecoming football contest.

A crowd of 66,311, some 10,000 short of capacity, viewed the game in Spartan Stadium. The Delta Upsilon fraternity touchdown bell--finally returned by Oakland University students who "borrowed" it last week for a birthday party--was back to ring out the points.

Winning the display contest in six divisions were sororities, Delta Gamma, first; Chi Omega, second; and Alpha Phi, third; fraternities, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Triangle; women's residence halls, South Campbell, East Mayo and West Yakeley; men's residence halls, West Shaw, Bailey and East Shaw; co-ed residence halls, Wonders, McDonel and Case; and independent organizations, Forestry Club, Students-Off-Campus and Asher House Co-operative.

All displays were based on the Homecoming theme, "Morris--Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Heavy winds tumbled several floats, including those sponsored by Wilson and Akers Halls in the co-ed division.

Tapped for Excaliber, senior men's honorary, at Saturday night's homecoming dance, were Bob Harris, All University Student Government (AUSG) president, from Bryan, Ohio; Warren Platt, AUSG vice president for special projects and homecoming general co-chairman, from St. John's, Ariz.; John Van Gieson, State News editor-in-chief from Morristown, N.J.; and John Weersing, executive vice-president of Interfraternity Council, from Owosso.

Highlight of alumni activities was a banquet in Kellogg Center Friday evening at which President John A. Hannah spoke. Five Michigan citizens were named honorary alumni. They are Paul D. Bagwell of Grosse Pointe Park, president of K-S Funds, Inc. and a member of the Board of Trustees; Leland W. Carr of Lansing, retired chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court; Raymond W. Herrick of Tecumseh, philanthropist and board chairman of Tecumseh Products Co.; Harry F. Kelley of Gaylord, former governor of Michigan; and Harold N. Metzel of East Lansing, general manager of General Motors Oldsmobile division.

Local Unions Approve Strike End Overwhelmingly

DETROIT (AP)--The United Auto Workers Union voted yesterday to call off its month-old national strike against General Motors Corp., and said "many plants will be back at work today."

DETROIT--The first 57 local unions to report Sunday gave what amounted to overwhelming approval of ending a month-old strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. A UAW spokesman said the first 57 locals all ratified, "and by overwhelming majorities," a new three-year national contract with GM.

At the same time, he said all but one of the first 30 gave approval to at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contract. The one exception was one of 29 UAW units which have not yet reached local-level accord.

There are 130 UAW bargaining units within GM's automaking empire and they represent some 360,000 hourly rated production workers. As of Sunday, 101 had reached at-the-plant agreement.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said before the secret balloting began it could lead to "an immediate return to work." Whether GM could get back into production today, however, was questioned by Louis G. Seaton, vice president for personnel.

In ordering Sunday's vote, the UAW authorized those approving both national and at-the-plant contracts to return to work, but units without local-level agreements were told they could go back or stay out, as they wish.

HAYATO IKEDA,

Japanese Leader Resigns

TOKYO (AP)--Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, who touched off Japan's business boom when he took power four years ago, announced Sunday he is resigning because of ill health. He is suffering from a throat tumor which doctors say could become cancerous unless properly treated.

Ikeda's announcement is likely to set off a scramble for power among leaders of his Liberal-Democratic party. Chief contestants are Eisaku Sato, brother of former Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi; former Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama, and Ichiro Kono, state minister in Ikeda's cabinet and Ikeda supporter.

Liberal-Democratic party leaders said they would formally accept Ikeda's resignation at a party meeting Tuesday. The next step would be to elect a successor to Ikeda as party president. The winner automatically would become prime minister, since the Liberal-Democrats control the Diet (Parliament).

However, the two major opposition parties, the Socialists and the Democratic Socialists (continued on page 3)

LBJ Asks 'New Revolution' In Education Programs

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP)--President Johnson called Sunday for "a new revolution in education... to open the doors of higher education for all who can qualify."

In a speech prepared for dedication ceremonies at Florida Atlantic University, Johnson said science and technology have moved so swiftly that advanced education is no longer a luxury to be enjoyed by the children of fortunate families.

"To deny education to the children of poverty not only denies the most elementary Democratic equality, it also perpetuates poverty as a national weakness," Johnson said.

"And it deprives democracy of well-trained citizens," Johnson added that "there is no protection against the ultimate disaster which an uneducated generation can bring upon itself" and "there is no limit to what a fully educated American public can do to enrich life in the next 50 years."

A sizeable crowd was on hand at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport for Johnson's arrival from Washington. Many carried signs, "Florida Needs LBJ."

Johnson's non-partisan speech at the university dedication ceremonies was his first in a two-day, three-state campaign swing into Dixie. It will be followed by vote-wooing speeches in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina today.

Johnson said "it is time for a new break-through -- a new revolution in education," adding: "If we can work miracles of destruction, surely we can apply the same genius to educating our children..."

"We must not rest until each child has the opportunity to get the kind of education he needs..." "It isn't enough to entice or force children back into the same schools they dropped out of. They too often, need a different kind of education and training."

"There is no real disagreement in this country about this. We all want very much to do these things."

State News Presented Top Award

The Michigan State News was awarded the Pacemaker Award this weekend, making it one of America's top five collegiate newspapers.

This is the third consecutive year it has received a Pacemaker. This Pacemaker is awarded papers for the 1963-64 school year and the State News is the only college paper to win it three times.

The award was presented Saturday at the 40th Annual Associated Collegiate Press Assn. meeting in Chicago. It was made by the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

To qualify to receive the coveted honor, a college newspaper must first receive an All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press Assn.

An estimated 1,105 delegates from 608 college newspapers in 41 states attended the three-day meeting at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

Politics And Song Blended In Rally

By DUANE LANCASTER
State News Staff Writer

The lightness of song and the seriousness of politics converged for two hours Thursday in Lansing's Civic Center.

The Michigan Bandwagon for Barry Goldwater was responsible for the unusual combination and the 1,500 people present seemed to enjoy it.

The bandwagon, sponsored solely by contributions from the Citizens For Goldwater, presented an array of celebrities in fields from fashions to sports--including Mike Goldwater, son of the Republican presidential nominee.

Jock Mahoney, television and movie star, acted as master of ceremonies of the event which

K Toppler Suslov Ill

MOSCOW (AP)--Mikhail A. Suslov, the man credited with toppling Nikita Khrushchev was reported felled by kidney trouble and tuberculosis Sunday.

As he lay in his hospital bed, Khrushchev's twin successors, new First Communist Party Secretary Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin, met with Polish Red chief Wladyslaw Gomulka to try to ease fears roused by the Kremlin purge.

A French Communist party delegation was also in Moscow demanding the truth about Khrushchev's ouster while the Hungarian party, in a Budapest communique, praised the fallen leader but routinely added a few words of criticism.

Hoover Is Buried In His Hometown

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)--Herbert C. Hoover, a man of plain and contented ways, was buried Sunday in his rural hometown. The mood carried a rare note of joy and confidence.

It was a simple and moving graveside service under a gentle, autumn sun. The theme was one of hope and triumph of a life.

"Death is swallowed up in victory," came the scripture reading.

As the burnished copper colored coffin bearing the body of the 31st President of the United States was lowered to its resting place, the 5th Army Band gave forth the strains of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," a song of dauntless courage loved by Hoover.

"Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord..." Hoover's two sons, Herbert Jr., and Allan, their wives and seven of the former President's grandchildren occupied a cluster of chairs set up under a green and yellow striped canopy beside the hilltop grave overlooking the two-room cabin where Hoover was born 90 years ago.

Besides the family and friends lining the grave site, an estimated 75,000 to 80,000 persons stood behind a cordon of soldiers about 250 yards away on the valley floor in respectful silence.

Union Members Reject Paper Strike Settlement

DETROIT (UPI)--Striking pressmen at the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press, defying a personal appeal from President Johnson, Sunday rejected 230-17 a contract offer to settle a 105 day strike against the two papers.

Freeman Frazee, president of local 13 of the Printing Pressmen, who revealed he had received a telegram from President Johnson before the meeting, said "The answer is emphatic" in the membership vote to reject the proposal.

The new proposal, made by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, representing the two papers, was submitted in Washington Saturday, following several days of meetings there with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The membership meeting today lasted four hours before the vote was taken. In a news conference afterward, Frazee said the union would not "capitulate" to the publishers.

Frazee was in Washington Saturday and brought the offer to the membership meeting Sunday.

'Racism Inherent In System'

Socialist Attacks Capitalism

The United States government and capitalism took a beating at the Midwest Student Conference on Independent Political Action Saturday at Wayne State University.

William Delaney, Socialist Workers party presidential nominee, said racism is inseparable from American life and to get rid of racism, the political system must be changed.

"This country cannot live up to its own Constitution. It hasn't and it won't."

DeBarry is the first Negro to be nominated for the presidency by any political party.

He called for a complete withdrawal of American troops from the Viet Nam war and a withdrawal of American troops from all foreign soil.

He said he would like to see a large public works program and a 35-hour work week as automation increases.

He also wants a minimum wage of $2 an hour.

"Capitalism means slavery," said James Shabazz, assistant to Malcolm X, "because slaves were originally the largest source of capital."

The Emancipation Proclamation merely erased the market value of slaves, he said.

Let's Talk Things Over

United Nations Secretary General U Thant called in a news conference last week for two ventures in international communications which would be most helpful to the world.

Thant suggested that the world's five nuclear powers get together to discuss a ban on all nuclear tests. Red China, which has so far refused to sign the 100-nation limited test ban treaty arrived at last year, would be included in such a discussion.

Thant said it would be "very worthwhile if some attempts were made to have a dialogue between the United States, the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, France and the People's Republic of China, perhaps sometime in 1965."

His second suggestion was even more revolutionary than the proposal that Red China be included in serious discussions with the Soviet Union and the Western powers.

Thant called for former Soviet Premier Khrushchev to reveal his tale of his overthrow to the world. "If he were able or inclined to make a public statement," His statement indicated that he has some confidence in the stability of the Soviet government.

He said that he did not expect any great changes in Russian foreign policy, and had great praise for Khrushchev as a leader for world peace.

While the attitude of the Russian government since Khrushchev's overthrow seems to indicate that there is more instability in the Soviet Union than Thant might be taking into account, his proposal merits consideration by Soviet leaders.

If Khrushchev, the first strong leader of the Soviet Union to be removed from office in what appeared a reasonably calm maneuver, was allowed to express his own feelings about the latest Soviet power play, the world could be given added confidence in the maturity of the Soviet government.

It would be an aid to world understanding in what has become one of the most trying periods in recent diplomatic history. The world, and therefore the nation, would benefit greatly from supporting some version of Thant's two proposals for increased international communications.

Ground Zero Next Door?

The Atomic Energy Commission set off an underground nuclear blast in Mississippi Thursday.

The commission's methods--whether or not wrecking Mississippi was one of its goals--in exploding the blast were somewhat questionable. The site was an underground salt dome in a populated area in the southern part of the state.

Residents were paid to evacuate the area, and a special office was opened to pay off damage claims from property owners. An announcement said afterward that "preliminary reports indicate that as had been anticipated, ground shocks of the explosion caused only minor damage to structures in the surrounding area and that radioactivity was confined underground."

Thus, Mississippi survived its first nuclear blast. But haven't we the right to ask why a populated area of the country--even if a sparsely populated area in a not-too-popular state--was chosen for the test. Will heavily settled suburban areas or valuable farm land be chosen next for atomic tests?

Deal With Cuba, Red China

By K. C. Tholer
United Press International

Economic pressures at home are likely to lead Britain to increased effort to expand trade with Communist nations on an ever growing scale.

The British have already sold $25 million worth of buses to Cuba in defiance of an American blockade. Now the British are pushing a similar deal with Red China.

Samples will be shown at the British Industrial Fair which will be held in Peking next month. At the same time, other exhibits of British industry will be displayed to wet the appetite of Red China's machine-starved economy.

The move is part of a determined British campaign for more trade with the Communist nations behind both the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

British Conservatives and Laborites are as one in advocating more East-West trade.

which, incidentally, they also consider as an incentive for progressive easing of the cold war. Britain has rejected American objections to her private industry supplying buses to Premier Castro's Cuba.

The British recognize the Castro government and hold there is no justification under diplomatic protocol to halt trade. The same, says Britain, goes for Red China. However, Britain does not sell arms or war materials to either Cuba or Red China. She has undertaken to bar the export products of both Communist nations that are likely to enhance their war potentials.

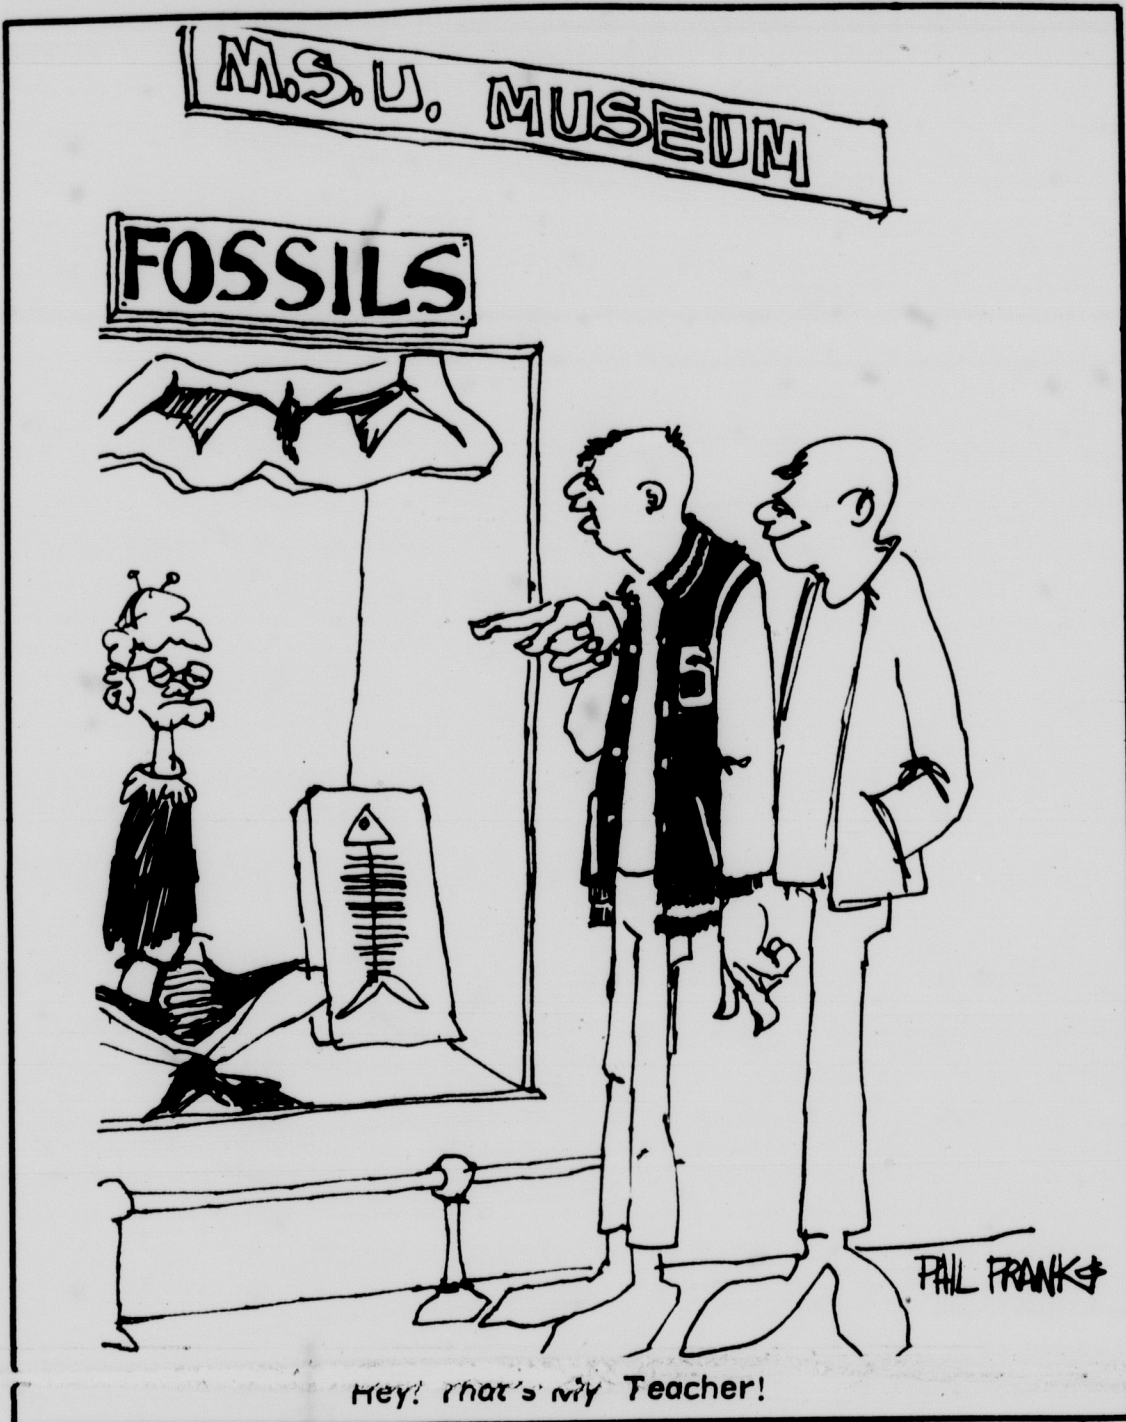

Britain says she adheres strictly to the Allied security embargo governing relations with the Red Nations. At the same time, Britain still feels the allied embargo could be eased substantially in the light of changing international conditions. In opposition to the United States, Britain has thus decided to extend long term credits to Russia of up to 15 years. Credits will also be granted to Red China if prospects for expanded trade prove promising.

Behind this British policy lies partly the assumption that other nations in West Europe--such as France and perhaps Germany--will sooner or later seek more trade opportunities with the Communists. Britain merely wants to get there first.

But, some experts have put a damper on over-extended hopes. They point out that the communists have little to offer in exchange--that trade is likely to be a one sided affair for a long time to come.

This would, therefore, require financial resources which neither Britain nor any other European country could afford for any length of time. British trade has already come up against this problem with Cuba.

Letters To The Editor

Oakland Students 'Find' MSU Bell In Student Lounge

To the Editor:

This is a letter which I received from one of my friends at Oakland University. It makes me feel kind of ashamed that they can proudly boast of their accomplishment while we just sit and do nothing in retaliation. Are we just going to let a mere school of 1,000 students make fools of all 31,000 of us!

An interested Spartan

Dear---

As I sit upon a comfortable couch in the student lounge, I see before me a huge metal bell. One can appreciate the vividness of its gold and white coloring, the clarity of its smooth, flowing lines and the poignancy of the Oakland emblem upon the bell's center.

One, too, can appreciate the carefulness with which this bell has been firmly chained to the Oakland fireplace. Why, not even Hannibal's marching elephants could succeed in separating the bell from the fireplace. If not elephants, could meek and meager men perform such a task?

However, the battle does not end here. The chain can be undone, the bell can be released, and the possessors of these controversial powers have agreed to do so only for a deserving party. The reader may naturally ask, "Who is such a deserving party?"

One can merely offer suggestion. Does a school which

Big Ten Vote 'Conservative'

To the Editor:

You make too much of the Johnson and Romney victories. While there may be some truth to what you say about the "conservative revolution," certain facts should not be overlooked through enthusiasm.

Johnson and Romney are the incumbents and inasmuch as it is rather gauche to be for Goldwater and who ever heard of Stabler, they have a distinct advantage over their opponents.

Let it be remembered that Nixon got 58 percent of the college vote in 1960 when he was, in effect, the incumbent; that vote hardly reflected the final outcome.

Thus the recent vote does not necessarily reflect a (the) broad and basic sentiment as much as it reflects the fact that college students tend to cling to incumbents. And in that respect, I might add, they are conservatives.

Thomas B. Klunzinger

threatens criminal charges and police action quality? Or, in fact, is this school forgetting completely the ethical standards of university rivalry? Cries of all's fair in love and war--and university rivalry--fill the air.

Would not the original possessors of the bell have given their all to acquire the wolverine of Michigan or the sheep of Navy had they felt that they were endowed with the necessary mental attributes? And if success were their reward, would these students not have viewed possible disciplinary action with disgust and dismay while chanting the aforementioned cry?

The feelings and intentions of the preceding questions are obvious. Such a school is deserving of nothing, let alone a valuable possession such as the bell. Such a school, Northwestern University, contacted Oakland immediately upon hearing of its achievement. However, there were neither threats of punishment nor hints of resentment. Quite the contrary!

Northwestern University offered its newly-found allies $200 to remove the ever-present chains of truth which attached the bell to the fireplace and detached any friendship that may have existed among those associated with the campus of Oakland University and its one-time protector.

Keeping all facts in mind, one can only guess at the eventual outcome. Let us remember, however, that rivalry, even if merely for rivalry's sake alone, is not all bad.

An let us remember also that a sense of humor, even at the risk of looking foolish, is a virtue. Retain these, should Northwestern University interrupt Michigan State's homecoming celebration with the ringing of a huge metal bell.

A Lesson Was Learned

To the Editor:

"Methinks the lady doth protest too much."

Through reading the article in the October 21 issue of the State News on the alleged assault of a coed we have been shown the fallacy of one of our concepts.

While we've been weeping the plight of the naive freshman, who has been weeping for the naive factory worker?

It is sad to note that, though some students have the ability to acquire knowledge, they haven't mastered its application to everyday life. We hope most students are past the stage where they must be reminded not to accept rides, candy and other treats from strangers.

If this young lady has profited from her experience something has been salvaged from the ruin. She might want to pass on her advice.

A series of articles such as "How to tell you were assaulted without really trying" or "The procedure of an emergency call at Olin: Is it true they really ask for your student number?" could be a sufficient word to the wise.

We, too, can profit from another's mistakes. If anything is clear from that article, it can be summed up as such: Don't ask for whom the car stops--it stops for thee.

Students Hit Campaign Low

To the Editor:

While shopping in Frandor on Friday evening, October 16th, we were pulled aside by representatives of the Republican presidential candidate and asked, "Do you want a lot of perverts, queers and sex fiends to run the government?"

How low will men go to find issues for a campaign? It is time for truly thinking Americans to recognize that anyone who is perfectly willing to destroy the future of a man in need of psychological attention, merely to win an election, is not of presidential caliber.

More ethical ways exist to remove a man who is a questionable security risk. Must we resort to those tactics which were so popular only a little more than a decade ago?

We are not only angered but sickened by this entire affair. The Jenkins case does not belong in this campaign or in any campaign, no matter which party is involved. The man needs help, not publicity.

It is most difficult to be proud of an America and Americans who would allow this to become a joke. This is especially true when it is treated in a manner such as we witnessed.

Editor's Note

Campaign Nears End

By John Van Gieson

It seems to be almost a fact of life in American politics that every administration shall be cursed with at least one scandal. In recent years President Eisenhower had his Sherman Adams, and the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases both broke during the Kennedy administration.

These political scandals usually have only the most tenuous connection with the president himself, and only the most naive persons would attempt to make this connection.

Presidential appointees or elected officials of the president's party are almost invariably the persons who are accused when political scandals are uncovered.

A case in point is the Bobby Baker affair. The Baker case occurred during President Kennedy's term in office, but the finger of scandal pointed at others in the Kennedy administration rather than at Kennedy himself. Baker had been an associate of Lyndon Johnson's, so there was much discussion of the relationship between Baker and the vice president.

Now, nearly a year after Johnson was thrust into the presidency, his administration has had its own scandal in the Walter Jenkins case.

It can't be denied that Jenkins is a sick man and needs help, but his problem first came to the attention of some government officials five years ago. At the time, Jenkins was a lot less important than he is now, but this is no excuse for dismissing the charges against him as unimportant.

Washington officials must take steps to insure that whenever conduct that is not in the best interests of the nation is uncovered in government, the offending person should be removed from his position.

If the man is sick he should have proper medical attention. If he is guilty of a crime he should be punished.

There can be no doubt that the president knows this. Contrary to the charges that have been tossed about in this campaign, we believe that the president is an honest, dedicated man. His greatest sin has been a sometimes unfortunate choice of associates.

However, this is a serious matter and it deserves the most serious consideration from Johnson when he is returned to office on Nov. 3, as he most likely will be.

The president should make a microscopic inspection of the men around him, and should make his new appointments with the utmost care. If a purge, as we are wont to call such a sweeping of the rulers, is necessary, then it must be undertaken.

Goldwater, Miller Reaction

To the Editor:

It distresses one who has faith in America's clergymen to find an irresponsible and bigoted charge coming from the prominent group of Episcopal ministers who condemned the Republican ticket for "racism."

The accusation of the Goldwater-Miller ticket is a low in smear tactics not reached since the days of McCarthyism. The clergymen stated, first, that they have "sought to frighten citizens by equating the Negro struggle for freedom with crime and violence in the streets."

The stand of the Goldwater ticket on this issue is unmistakably the same as that taken by all civil rights leaders: that the crime and violence in the streets are absolutely evil, should be condemned, and are in no way connected with the civil rights movement.

The fact that the police in the city of Philadelphia, where I live, were ordered not to attempt to stop the North Philadelphia riots, so that Boss Tate could get more votes is an example of the Democrats' attitude toward the civil rights problem.

Who is more concerned with the welfare of the people, a man who orders the protection of the citizens of a great city rescinded for political reasons, or a man who is concerned about the fact that I cannot walk all the streets of my city in safety?

Their second charge, that the Goldwater ticket is cultivating racism would be revolting if it was not so amusing. In view of the Johnson personal record and of the record of the Democrat party for the last century. Do we hear these sanctimonious victories of Roosevelt, Truman, and Kennedy because they depended on the "Solid South," the Segregationist Democrat South?

Do we hear the great pro-civil rights movement even mentioning the Johnson record; his fourteen votes against anti-poll tax laws; his seventeen votes against anti-lynch laws; his votes against anti-discrimination on Federal projects, in federally-financed housing, and numerous other matters; his votes against every civil rights bill that came up while he was in congress; his statements on the matter too vile to repeat? Do we hear these objective men comparing this record with Barry Goldwater's personally segregating the state of Arizona, or with William E. Miller introduction of many civil rights bills in the last House.

Who will believe this nonsense, even though it comes from a respected source, except those who are blinded by the bigotry of the Democrat Party, and to whom facts are to be rewritten for dialectical purposes?

New Russian Leaders Meet With Gomulka

MOSCOW-TASS disclosed Sunday that new Communist Party First Secretary Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin held a secret meeting with Polish Communist chief Wladislaw Gomulka.

The obvious aim of the parley was to explain the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev, but TASS did not mention this. Gomulka was one of Khrushchev's most loyal political supporters and a close personal friend.

This was the first meeting of the new Kremlin leadership and Communist chiefs from abroad who have expressed dismay at Khrushchev's sudden eclipse.

Johnson Praises Jenkins, Bobby Baker

WASHINGTON--President Johnson praised two controversial men last night...Walter Jenkins and Bobby Baker. The President was asked about them in a filmed interview on television. He said he never knew a better or more dedicated man than Jenkins, who was arrested on morals charges. The President blamed "over-work" for Jenkins' troubles. Johnson said Baker was faithful and dedicated...but added that the former Senate aide will be called to account if he violated any laws.

Students Attempt to Burn Embassy in Sudan

KHARTOUM, Sudan--The Sudanese government ringed the American embassy with armed guards Sunday after an attempt by rioting students to burn it down.

U.S. officials ordered Americans to stay off the streets, except on official business, in order to avoid trouble.

Just why the United States was the target of student disorders was not clear.

Hungarian Communists Hit Khrushchev

BUDAPEST, Hungary--Hungary's Communist party said Sunday "regrettable mistakes" occurred under Nikita Khrushchev's regime, but it hailed the fallen Soviet premier's fight against Stalinism and his campaign for world peace.

The mixed appraisal of Khrushchev appeared in a resolution adopted by the party's Central Committee and published by the Hungarian news agency.

Viet Nam Gets New President

SAIGON, Viet Nam--Phan Van Thieu, an old revolutionary, agreed Sunday to take over the ceremonial post of president but only on condition that he can resign in a few months. He failed to name a new civilian premier and South Viet Nam was in effect without a government.

Chinese Want Proof of Russian Intentions

PEKING--Chinese sources in London say Peking wants formal "proof" of a Russian policy change before committing itself to any peace talks with the new Kremlin leadership.

The sources added that Communist China doesn't consider the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev sufficient to warrant a new approach to the Soviet Union.

Soviets Explode Underground A-Bomb

UPPALA, Sweden--The Soviet Union exploded an underground atom bomb in a test at Novaya Zemla Sunday, a spokesman at the Swedish Seismological Institution said.

Dr. Markus Baath, director of the Uppsala University Seismological Institution, said a tremor had been registered "which must come from an underground atom bomb explosion at Novaya Zemlya."

Dem Chairman Optimistic on LBJ, RFK

WASHINGTON--Democratic national chairman John M. Bailey said Sunday that President Johnson would carry all but three states if the Nov. 3 election were held today.

He predicted an overwhelming victory for former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy over incumbent Republican Kenneth B. Keating in the New York senatorial race.

London Paper Wants K as Ambassador

LONDON--The Sunday Express editorially suggested that ex-Premier Khrushchev be appointed Soviet ambassador to London. The editorial said:

"Let the new rulers of Russia realize that whatever Khrushchev's shortcomings at home may have been, the ordinary people of Britain and the West regard him as a symbol of a change that has come over their lives in the last decade... (Vyacheslav M.) Molotov, after his fall, was made ambassador to Outer Mongolia. Why should not London serve as Mr. K's Outer Mongolia? Let him come here as ambassador. What a splendid thing for Anglo-Soviet relations."

2-Piano Recital Set

Contemporary music provides the theme for a two-piano recital by secondary music education graduate students today in Kellogg Auditorium.

Lyn Saunders, Grand Haven graduate, and Ruben Durocher, Mason graduate, will combine their talents in a program of light listening enjoyment.

The recital will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Piano selections include a sonata by Poulenc and "Scarab-mouche" written by Milhaud for two pianos.

"Fantasy in Variations," a trumpet solo by Wormser and a second solo, a cello sonata by Beethoven, will round out the program.

Both Lyn Saunders and Ruben Durocher belong to the State Singers. Ruben Durocher also belonged to the MSU band and is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, an honorary music fraternity.

The recital is presented as the first in a series of cultural programs for continuing education and the general public. Under a program initiated in 1962.

"It's a good opportunity to observe contemporary students in music and dance," says Ruben

Durocher. It is presented as a service to the community, students and state-wide conferences meeting at Kellogg Center, as well as providing an outlet for student and faculty performers. Future programs will include lectures by faculty professors in the fine arts; history, art, composition, a sampling of poems by Robert Creeley, performances by the Brass Choir, the Bell Ringers, the Women's Glee Club and the Promenaders.

PERFORMING FRIDAY--Virtuoso Indian satirist Ravi Shankar will provide an improvisational recital of the music of India Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Erickson Hall Kiva. The program will be the first in this season's Asian-Latin American-African series.

Shankar To Present Recital In Erickson

India's foremost instrumental virtuoso and composer, Ravi Shankar, will present a recital of ancient Indian music for the "sitar" Friday.

First to appear on this season's Asian-Latin American-African Series, Shankar will perform at 8:15 p.m. in the Erickson Kiva.

On the precise melodic forms of the ancient "ragas" in a musical interplay with his drummer. Shankar's improvisation has been compared to that of the greatest jazz musicians.

Accompanying Shankar is Alla Rakha, who plays the "tabla," India's double drums, and Nodu C. Mullick, who plays the "Tamboura."

The "sitar," most popular stringed instrument, has existed in its present form for 700 years.

Rally

mixed the grave talks and gay songs in equal proportions.

Short, serious speeches, emphasizing the importance of electing Goldwater, were interspersed with rib-poking political songs by the Townsmen Three, a folk-singing group from Grand Rapids.

John Locke and John Mitchum, brother of actor Robert Mitchum, also sang a number of folk songs.

Among the celebrities who spoke were Gary Crosby; Jack Kramer, a former tennis great; Gen. Dale O. Smith of the United States Air Force; James Drury, star of "The Virginian"; Nancy Cooke, a well-known fashion expert and former Paraguay Ambassador Harry Stinson.

All were discontent with the present administration.

"I've traveled all over the world," said Mahoney, "and the things I've seen scare me."

"People are looking to the United States for leadership and are not getting it. The U.S. is losing its respect in Europe under Johnson and Barry Goldwater is the only man who can get it back."

Driver's License

Having a birthday soon? You may renew your driver's license 90 days prior to that date at East Lansing Police Headquarters.

Made from a gourd and teakwood, it uses six or seven main playing strings on a track of 20 metal frets. Nineteen sympathetic resonating strings are placed below the main strings.

Along with Pablo Casals, David Oistrakh and other internationally known musicians, Shankar was chosen to perform for a special broadcast celebrating the 10th anniversary of the United Nations.

Among Shankar's compositions is the music score for the prize-winning Indian motion picture, "The World of Apu."

Ikeda

demanded that the cabinet resign along with Ikeda and that the Diet be dissolved for new parliamentary elections.

Ikeda, 64, entered the National Cancer Clinic Sept. 9. Last week pressure mounted within Ikeda's own party and from the opposition for him to step down in favor of someone more physically able to deal with recent developments on the international scene. Mentioned were Red China's explosion of a nuclear device, Nikita Khrushchev's ouster in the Soviet Union and the election of a Labor government in Britain.

Highlanders Meet

The Bugle Band of the Scots Highlanders will hold its term recruiting meeting tonight at 7 p.m., in 14 Demonstration Hall.

Open to all brass musicians, the Bugle Band is made up of soprano, tenor and baritone piston bugles, and performs as a part of the ROTC-sponsored Scottish Band.

Interested musicians unable to attend tonight's meeting may contact Bandmaster Dave Jaehnig, 5-8311 or Maj. R. H. Cloherty, 5-2390.

Alpha Phi Meet

Alpha Phi Sigma, police science honorary, will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Parlor B of the Union. Guest speaker will be Gus Harrison, director of the Michigan Department of Corrections.

The meeting night was changed for this meeting only, in order to fit Harrison's schedule.

Henry T. Darlington Dies At 89

Famed Botanist Passes

Henry T. Darlington, 89, noted botanist and professor emeritus, died Oct. 23 in Lansing.

Until recently Mr. Darlington worked regularly on plant collections at MSU. His important book, "The Mosses of Michigan," was published Oct. 1. It is the first book to be written on Michigan mosses, and describes 377 species.

Mr. Darlington taught at MSU from 1914 until his retirement in 1945. He served as curator of the MSU Herbarium, which subsequently has been named after him as the Beal-Darlington Herbarium.

He was also in charge of the Beal-Garfield Botanic Garden from 1914 to 1929. Together with the late E.A. Bessey, he travelled and made extensive plant collections throughout much of Michigan, especially in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. Darlington was born June 23, 1875, in West Chester, Pa. He received the B.S. degree at the University of Idaho in 1903 and the M.S. degree at Harvard University in 1911.

He was assistant professor of botany at Washington State University, 1911-14, and in 1923 Darlington received the Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago.

He was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi Scientific Society, Botanical Society of America, Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, the American Bryological Society and the Sullivant Moss Society. He was a member of Peoples

Church of East Lansing. Funeral services will be held today, at 2:30 p.m., at the East Chapel of Gorsline-Runciman Funeral Home. Burial will be in Mr. Hope Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society or the American Friends Service Committee.

AAUP To Meet

The MSU Chapter of the American Association of University Professors holds its first meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Parlor C of the Union.

"The Future of Higher Education in Michigan," a report prepared by the state conference of the AAUP, will be discussed at 8 p.m. after a short business meeting.

A committee of the local chapter has prepared a review of this document for members and others unfamiliar with it. The meeting is open to the public.

American Body Recovered Near Cambodian Border

SAIGON, VIET NAM, (AP)—Moving under heavy fire, a unit of South Vietnamese volunteers recovered the body of an American in a flooded rice field 150 yards from the Cambodian border, U.S. officials reported Sunday.

They declined to identify the American, but it was presumed the body is that of a captain captured Thursday by Communist forces seen coming from Cambodia.

Capt. Herman Y. Towery, was seized by the Viet Cong after the Vietnamese unit he was attached to ran out of ammunition in a battle of sampans on the So Ha River, 85 miles west of Saigon and along Cambodia's south-east border. U.S. officials declined to say how the American had been killed.

South Vietnamese soldiers said they saw Capt. Towery captured alive and apparently not wounded, along with three Vietnamese soldiers. The enemy had surrounded Towery's sampan with eight sampans of their own and took him and the Vietnamese toward the Cambodian border.

There were indications that the Viet Cong killed the American and left his body as bait to lure other sampans trying to recover it. The bodies of two South Vietnamese were found nearby.

Police Arrest Four Vandals

Four MSU students admitted damaging and stealing parts of Homecoming displays at three residence halls and a sorority house early Sunday morning, University police said.

Police arrested the four after stopping their car because it lacked license plates.

Mischief reported to police included damage to a meter, valued at $110, at Case Hall, theft of a dummy head from the Yakely Hall display, theft of a plywood cutout of a little girl from Landon Hall and damage to a portion of a display at Delta Zeta sorority house, 110 Oakhill, East Lansing. The case is still under investigation, police said.

Progress Made On Dorms

Three dormitory construction projects are currently underway to accommodate the anticipated increase in undergraduate and graduate enrollments.

Construction is progressing well on Holmes Hall, according to Lyle A. Thorburn, residence halls manager.

The $6.5 million coed dormitory located on Shaw Lane near Fee and Akers Halls is scheduled for completion in July 1965.

The dormitory will accommodate 1,276 students and will house the program for the College of Natural Science.

Facilities will include classrooms, laboratories and a large lecture hall, Thorburn said.

The rooms are planned on the suite system of Case-Wilson-Wonders and McDonel Halls.

A second major construction project will more than double the present accommodations for graduate students.

Scheduled for completion in August 1965 are 512 additional spaces—64 double rooms and 384 singles—to Owen Graduate Center.

"The additions are being built because of the increasing enrollment of single graduate students," Thorburn said.

Steel pilings for footings are now being driven, and bids for major construction work will be taken sometime in November, he said.

Also planned for Owen are enlargement of dining facilities and slight remodeling and revamping of public areas to accommodate the additional student, Thorburn said.

Construction on the 12-story, high-rise dormitory between Fee and Akers Halls parallel to Hagadorn Road should begin in January, Thorburn said.

It is scheduled for completion for late fall 1965 and will be ready to house 1,214 students for winter term 1966.

The dorm will be built with two wings instead of the traditional four, Thorburn said.

Thorburn said some college will be housed in the dorm, but it has not yet been decided which ones.

One room will also be on the plan of Case-Wilson-Wonders and McDonel Halls.

CLEANERS FROM HEAVEN—Ever wonder who cleans the stadium after a football game? This past weekend the angels did it. These girls are members of Angel Flight, women's honorary air force auxiliary.

Angel Flight Girls Cleanup Stadium

At an hour when many people are still sleeping, 14 girls met at the gray, littered Spartan Stadium.

The girls were from Angel Flight, and the time was 8 a.m. Sunday, the day after the Spartan's victorious football game with Northwestern.

The girls' job was to clean up the place, a money-making scheme they worked out this past summer. An auxiliary of the Arnold Air Society, Angel Flight had the guys out there, too. Some 50 students walked the estimated 30 miles of seats stooping, kneeling, picking up popcorn boxes, toilet paper, cigarette butts and spilled potato chips.

They put them into cardboard boxes. When a box was filled, they lugged it down the steps to green trash cans, and back to work they would go.

Drudgery? No! They sang, talked and joked. After a couple of hours there was coffee and doughnuts, as they watched the wind blow the rubbish to the corner of the grounds.

Mary J. Eccles, Benton Harbor junior and commander of Angel Flight, explained that the money was for completing the purchase of members' uniforms and for a springtime trip to their national convention in Washington, D.C.

Do the girls mind the work? "No," says Audrey. "It's good for the waistline."

Four Follow Spirit Torch

Valiant efforts of three McDonel Spartan Spirit workers fizzled when their "torch of spirit" procession to Friday's pep rally gained support of only four students.

Ruth Rudgens, Detroit sophomore; Dick Sinclair, Birmingham sophomore; and Ron Rowe, Birmingham sophomore, lighted a torch symbolic of Spartan Spirit and waited to be joined by cheering throngs from Fee and Akers Halls.

Unfortunately, the procession, which was to have proceeded to a bonfire adjacent to Jenison Field House, attracted only four spirited students. Fee and Akers never appeared.

With torch and McDonel banner streaming, the undaunted procession ended in a one-mile sprint to reach the rally on time.

Spartan Spirit, an organization to create spirit within dormitories, may wish to grant this peppy seven laurels for their efforts.

Stubborn Hoosiers Stall Soccer Streak

By ROBERTA YAFIE
State News Sports Writer

Spartan booters tied Indiana last Saturday, 3-3, but in doing so lost their perfect 6-0 record.

Coach Gene Kenney, commenting on the game, felt that State had played a generally poor game.

He attributed the loss to a fired-up Indiana team, injuries to MSU players, and the fact that the game was played on a football field, which is 20 yards narrower than a regulation soccer field.

Everything seemed to go wrong at once," Kenney said. "It was a very poor soccer game from all aspects."

"Playing on a narrow field, everything had to come down the middle. Indiana's defense is much bigger than ours. We just don't have the kind of team that can pull its way through."

Kenney praised Sydney Alozie, who paced the team with two goals, for his job at center forward, replacing the injured Van Dymitrou. Leading scorer George Jones tallied once.

Two overtime periods failed to snap the 3-3 deadlock brought about by an Indiana goal in the last 18 minutes of play. Alozie's two goals in the second period touched off what was to be a real scoring battle.

Indiana tallied once before the halftime break, but neither team made any headway in the third period.

The fourth quarter saw the Hoosiers tie up the game, but Michigan State broke through with a score by Jones.

Indiana's tying point was the last of the game, resulting in a 6-0-1 record for State.

Colt Power Downs Lions

DETROIT, (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts combined productive offense with surprisingly strong defense Sunday to crush the Detroit Lions 34-0 at Tiger Stadium, and retain their grip on first place in the National Football League's western division.

The Colt defense didn't allow the Lions inside their 20-yard line until the final quarter, when Detroit moved to the Baltimore 5 and 6 on two separate occasions, but failed to score.

A career for exceptional men

... Some notes about you, about us, and the advertising business

About you. If you are the man we seek, you have an insatiable curiosity about people and the world around you.

You're alert and responsive to new ideas, new ways of doing things. You like to take on new problems... you see them as opportunities.

You dig deep into the why of things. And the best answers you can come up with today are never good enough for you tomorrow.

You're an individualist. Yet you thrive on team spirit.

You have conviction about freedom of choice, consistent with the rights of others.

You're the kind of man who could be successful in business for himself, but you see the greater challenge implicit in today's major enterprises.

About us. The J. Walter Thompson Company was formed 100 years ago and has long been one of the world's largest advertising firms. Its stock is owned by more than five hundred active staff members.

We help over 500 companies in the United States and abroad sell thousands of products and services to hundreds of millions of people. Last year alone, we were responsible for the advertising investment of close to a half-billion dollars.

There are over 7,000 people working with Thompson around the world. Their backgrounds range far and wide. And so do their assignments, which include account representation, writing, art, broadcasting, market research, media buying, international business, marketing and merchandising, public relations, accounting, music and styling.

In our experience, superior individuals from every graduate and undergraduate educational discipline find successful careers in a major agency such as the Thompson Company. Staff members in our New York Office alone represent nearly three hundred colleges and universities here and abroad.

Your career with us. You may be surprised to learn that while an advertising company must have artistically creative people, it depends just as much on people who are imaginative and inventive in other ways.

Our business is selling. Communicating through the written and spoken word is how we sell. You must possess the ability to speak and write well so your ideas may be shared and understood.

We are looking for the kind of men who wish and are able to assume substantial responsibility early in their business lives. To such men we offer a remarkable chance to grow and develop—one seldom found in any firm.

Previous advertising experience is not required. Basically, our interest is in the nature of a person rather than in his specialized knowledge and abilities.

We offer you no standard starting salary, no cut-and-dried training program. Beginning salaries are individually considered and compare favorably to those of other national firms. We help you tailor your own development program, based on your interests, your abilities, your goals. Your program will differ from other men's programs just as you differ from other men.

When you join us you will work side by side with experienced advertising men. Your growth will be based on your own initiative, your own development. There are no age or seniority requirements to limit the responsibility you can earn.

We encourage you to follow your curiosity into all phases of advertising, because we want you to become a well-rounded practitioner as rapidly as possible. Experienced advertising men are eager to coach you individually in your efforts to develop your capabilities. Additionally, you are free to delve into every nook and cranny of advertising through our annual series of professional seminars, workshops and classes. You learn from men who are experts in their fields.

About men who join us. A remarkable number of college men who have joined us in the past decade have remained with us and are enjoying varied, exciting careers.

Because of our emphasis on early growth, relatively young men commonly handle major responsibilities in many phases of our business—both in this country and abroad.

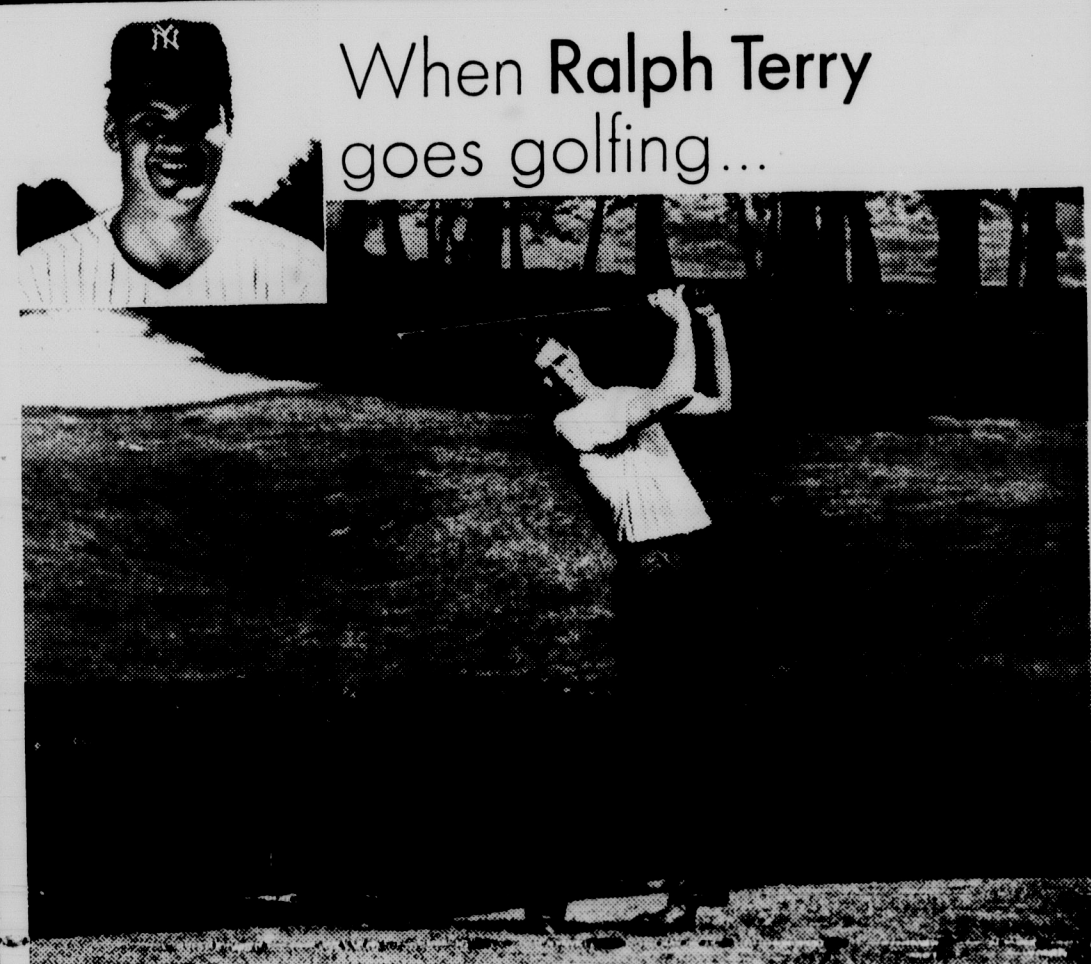

All initial assignments are in New York City or Chicago, but we have many other offices in the United States and throughout the world; and if you are interested, you may request a transfer later on.

If you wish to be a candidate, you must graduate by 1965 and be able to join us by June of 1966. You may obtain further information at the placement office. Please check that office regarding the possibility of a personal interview. We shall be on campus November 9 and 10.

"With today's heavy schedules," says this Yankee ace, "I just can't sneak in much golf during the ball season. So I don't really hit the courses till October. The weather's cool, and that's trouble for my lips. To soothe them, I always use 'Chap Stick'. It takes away that uncomfortable, dry feeling—helps heal sore lips fast—summer or winter. With 'Chap Stick' along—on the diamond or golf course—I don't worry about my lips, just my game!"

Spartans Tame Wildcats In Homecoming Win

Good things can't last forever, but the Spartans found out Saturday that neither can the bad. It had been three weeks since the Spartans posted their last victory but it must have seemed much longer to the MSU squad which bounced back from heart-breaking setbacks to Michigan and Indiana with a 24-6 win over Northwestern. The old grads left the homecoming game happy and the Wildcats headed back to Evanston with their fourth straight defeat.

While there are four quarters in a football game, the Green and White needed only one to prove its superiority over Northwestern.

The Spartans displayed a polished offensive attack while building up a 17-0 first-quarter advantage and the defense took over from there. Dick Kenney put the Green and White ahead to stay with 9:15 remaining in the first quarter when he kicked a 42-yard field goal after a Spartan drive had been halted on the Wildcat 25.

Steve Juday came through with two third-down passes to account for MSU's next two scores. The first was a six-yarder to end Gene Washington with the second coming on a three-yard toss to halfback Dick Gordon.

That gave the Spartans an insurmountable 17-0 lead with 1:58 left in the first period.

They scored again early in the fourth quarter when Juday scooted into the end zone on a bootleg roll-out from two yards away to climax a 65-yard march in 15 plays.

With the score 24-0, Northwestern tallied with 6:56 remaining in the game on a one-yard plunge by fullback Steve Murphy.

There was no scoring for more than 33 minutes between the first and fourth periods but it didn't keep Spartan fans from watching some good football.

The MSU defense was in the limelight most of the afternoon by holding the Wildcats to minus 16 yards rushing while rendering passers Tommy Myers and Dave Milam ineffective.

Daugherty noted that for the first time this season the Spartans were able to come with a successful defensive effort on third-down situations.

The Spartan ground game was paced by halfback Dick Gordon who has been improving steadily week after week.

He picked up 105 yards in 17 carries to lead the attack and his work earned him the game ball by a vote of his teammates.

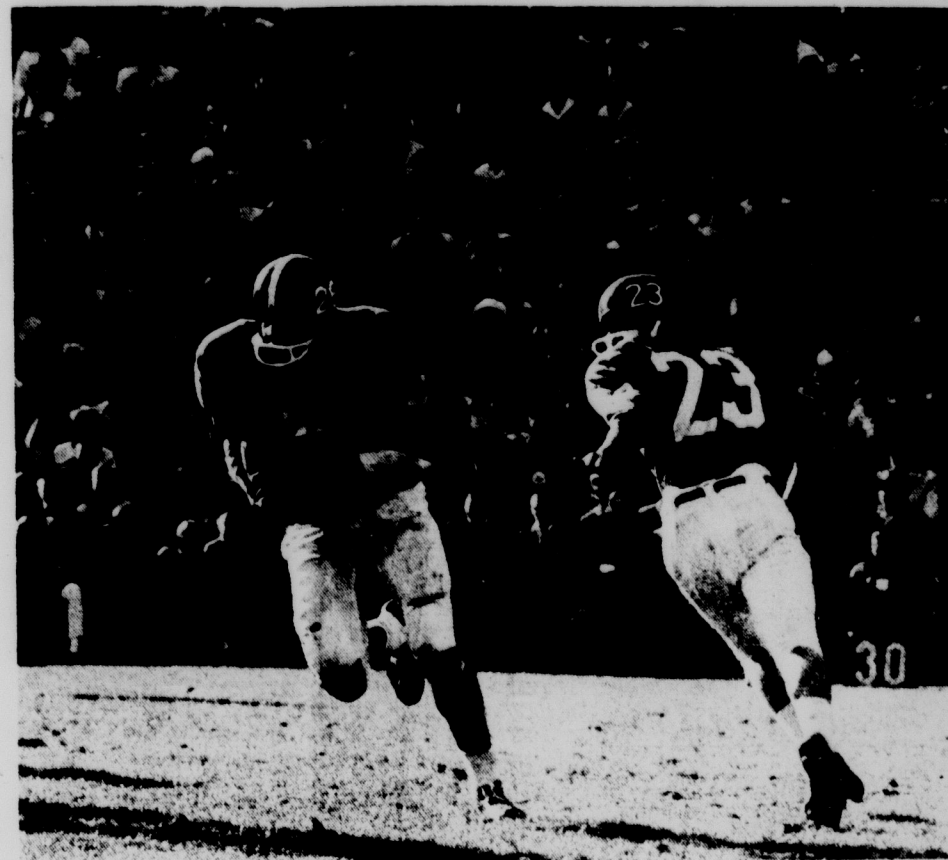

Sophomore Clinton Jones gained 63 yards in 14 attempts to finish behind Gordon in the rushing department.

Juday hit on 7 of 15 passes for the Spartans with Myers connecting on 5 of 17 for Northwestern.

Although Myers has thrown 21 touchdown passes in his career, he never threw one against MSU.

The Spartans stopped Myers for the third straight year while defeating the Wildcats for the sixth time in a row.

Saturday's game was a "must" for the Spartans who can now face the rest of their schedule with renewed vigor.

Irish Trip Spartans In Cross Country Meet

By MIKE BROOKS
State News Sports Writer

A powerful Notre Dame squad rolled over the injury-weakened Spartans 20-38 Friday in cross-country action at Forest Acres. It was the first loss of the year for State.

Without the services of captain Jan Bowen, the Spartans lacked the team strength necessary to defeat what has been deemed one of the strongest teams in the nation.

Keith Coates, a highly rated sophomore who has been injured all season, ran in the meet, but was so hobbled that only a game effort enabled him to finish the race.

Bill Clark, of Notre Dame, was the individual winner as he led teammate Mike Coffey across the finish by a tenth of a second in 25:21.4.

Since this was the first five-mile meet run at Forest Acres, Clark's time established a course record.

Notre Dame also took third as Bob Walsh was clocked in 25:32.5.

Rick Zemper moved to within 30 yards of the Irish leader at the four-mile mark, but the pace proved to be too fast for him and he had to settle for fourth in 26:38.5.

Paul McCallam took fifth for State in 26:01.5, and was closely followed by co-captain Mike Kaines, who lost sixth place to a Notre Dame runner at the wire. Kaines was timed in 26:06.

Notre Dame captured the eighth and ninth spots.

Spartan George Balthrop closed out the scoring for both sides when he finished tenth in 26:32.

Balthrop also finished tenth when he led a Spartan victory the week before by beating a Minnesota opponent by a tenth of a second. This week he defeated an Irishman by a comfortable seven tenths of a second.

Fran Dittrich found satisfaction in the fact that times were better at the four-mile mark than when the Spartans last ran at Forest Acres two weeks ago.

"We needed a team at full strength, and we didn't have it,"

By RICHARD SCHWARTZ
State News Sports Editor

Even four-letter words had a glint of notoriety about them Saturday in the post-game pandemonium that was the Spartan locker room.

"Well, fellows," announced Duffy Daugherty, "we've started a new streak."

Pausing just long enough to calculate the bounds of his optimism, the Spartan skipper added, "And let's only hope this one isn't as short-lived as the last."

Sensing how he had won the enthusiasm of his audience—even more so, himself—Duffy allowed a chuckle to escape, signaling a second exchange of wit.

"You realize Myers (the Northwestern quarterback) has never scored a touchdown against your team," one alert scribe offered.

"Yes, and he never will," Daugherty riposted, hoping he might slide into the next query before anyone could realize the Wildcat signal-caller is a senior.

The play fizzled. Casting aside his funny cap, Daugherty resorted to more discerning observations.

"Up 'til now, we haven't been able to click on the key plays, but today it was different. This team has made great strides since our first game."

"We have never been entirely out of a game nor have we been where we couldn't have won it with the right move."

Recalling the 17-point explosion that took the Wildcats by storm in the opening period, Daugherty said:

"Offensively and defensively, we would have to rate that as the best quarter of play we've put together all year."

"It really helps when your defense can get the ball deep in your opponent's territory. Then your drives can be short and quick."

"We knew we had a job to do in containing Northwestern's fine passing attack," Daugherty said. "Dick Smith was a dangerous receiver all day and gave us a lot of trouble."

"But despite five of our regulars sitting out the action, we did a bang-up job. Fellows like Smith, Yarian, Webster, Thornhill and Hoag really picked up the slack while we rested Goovert, Macuga, Owens and Roberts."

Rattling through a roll-call of game heroes, Daugherty placed most emphasis in the pronunciation of one Richard Gordon.

"There's very little you need to say about Dick. I think the fellows said everything when they presented him with the game ball."

"I was also very pleased with Steve Juday's handling of the team," Duffy said. "Had some of his receivers held onto the ball a little better, Steve might have ended with better passing statistics to show for his efforts."

"I really helps when your defense can get the ball deep in your opponent's territory. Then your drives can be short and quick."

Homecoming

ion sing at Beaumont Tower Friday night were attended respectively by 6,000 and between 1,500 and 2,000 students, according to Jim Tanck, Spartan Spirit director and Waterford, Wis., junior.

The hootenanny show featured "The Village Stompers" and "The Gateway Trio." The first midnight carillon sing began on the Union steps at 11:40 with music by the Singing Statesman who marched to Beaumont Tower at midnight.

For the first time this year, AUSG joined the Alumni Club in sponsoring Homecoming activities. General student chairmen were Warren Platt, St. John's, Ariz., senior and Sue Lindsay, Romeo senior, who worked with Jack Kinney, director of alumni relations.

The Queen, Janis Flanders, Monroe junior, and her court played an expanded role in this year's festivities. They appeared at a pep rally preceding Friday's show, the football game and the dance. Miss Flanders, runner-up Jane Lundy, South Haven junior, Miss Lindsay and Platt also were guests at the Alumni banquet.

Other members of the court, selected from some 75 contestants sponsored by living units and chosen by a panel of student leaders and faculty members, were Gabrielle Adler, Dearborn sophomore; Kathryn Kuschel, Benton Harbor sophomore; Lola Miller, Leola, Pa., junior; Sherrie Payne, Detroit senior; and Judith Dengel, Dearborn sophomore.

Approximately 4,000 attended

Friday's pep rally on Old College Field, sponsored by Spartan Spirit, to hear Head Football Coach Duffy Daugherty and Athletic Director "Biggie" Munn speak. Other features were a baton twirling performance by Nancy Wendlandt, Grand Rapids sophomore and national award-winning twirler and strutter, the introduction of the homecoming court and a bonfire, preceded by a torch run from residence hall complexes.

Maynard Ferguson and his orchestra provided music for Saturday's dance in the auditorium, attended by a capacity crowd of 4,000. Intermission activities included songs by "The Gateway Trio," presentation of the court at which time Miss Flanders received the Queen's rotating trophy, awarding of display titles, and tapping of Excalibur members. Huge cut-outs carried out the Homecoming theme.

Poverty Program

Opportunities for students in federal anti-poverty programs will be discussed tonight by David Gottlieb, MSU sociologist on leave to serve with the government. Gottlieb will speak at 7:15 p.m. in the library auditorium on the Job Corps, Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and other aspects of current and pending programs in the Office of Economic Opportunity.

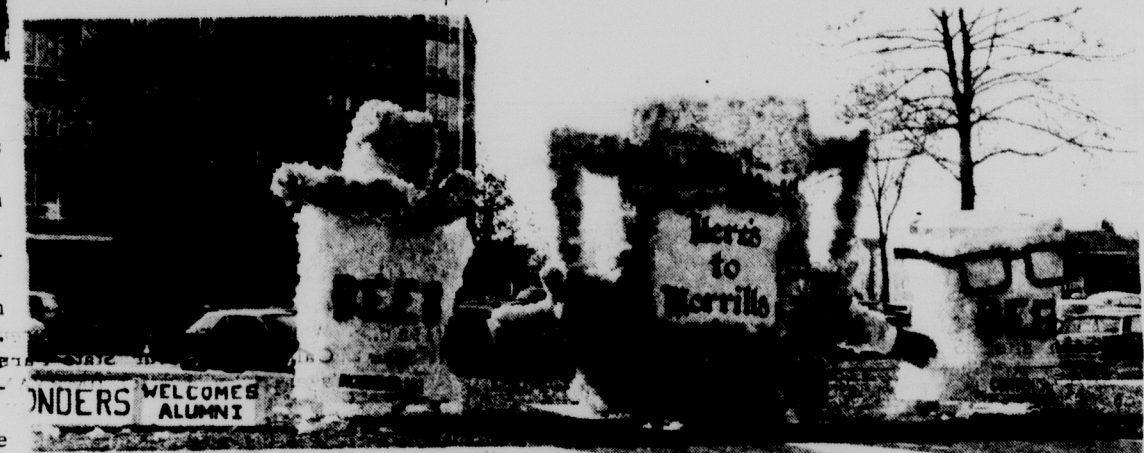

From this came the inspiration for Michigan State's "Student Education Corps," inaugurated spring quarter 1963. Students working in the corps serve as teacher aides, primarily in elementary schools.

Goldwater Policy Assailed; Senator Said 'Missing Point'

GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater was assailed last week for his stand on issues relating to the maintenance of peace.

Thomas H. Greer, chairman of the Department of Humanities, called peace "the most important single issue facing the people" and said Goldwater's views would lead away, not toward, this goal.

Greer, speaking before the local chapter of SANE, cited four requisites for progress leading to lasting peace. On all of these he said he believes the conservative senator is missing the point.

One primary peace aim, he said, is a substantial reduction of weapons of mass destruction. "An infinite kind of arms race can only lead to trouble," he said. "It's a question of time until something will go off."

"The sheer quantity of our weapons in no way secures us against our enemy's quantity of weapons," he added.

Greer said that it is equally important to end the Cold War. This would mean the destruction of deliberately held ideas developing out of fear of the enemy--the "enemy psychology."

"Amidst hate and mistrust, how can we get solid arms reduction?" Greer asked. No one can be sincere if there are no grounds for trust.

Greer foresaw another step toward peace in the strengthening of world organization, especially in the form of the United Nations. "No nation will disarm unless there is some international maintenance of security."

He said that another essential is quick and concrete progress over rampant population growth and poverty.

But to all this, Greer said, Goldwater is essentially opposed. Citing the senator's record, he noted that although a nuclear test ban treaty was a plank in both party platforms in 1960, Goldwater voted against the treaty's Senate ratification and called it "a dangerous thing."

"We were the stupidest people in the world to go along with this treaty," Goldwater was once quoted as saying.

And disarmament Goldwater saw only "a dangerous exercise in complete and total futility," Greer said.

Greer said that the senator was quoted in 1962 in the New York

Post as saying, "I am convinced there will either be a war or we'll be subjugated without war--real nuclear war...I don't see how it can be avoided."

In contrast, Greer said President Johnson has placed himself strongly in favor of ending the Cold War, and in continuing and expanding the exchange of goods and culture among all nations. "Through such exchange," Greer said, "people can begin to think of others as actual human beings rather than blank stereotypes."

On coexistence, he mentioned Adlai Stevenson's dictum of "coexistence or coextinction."

To Greer's thinking, this would only intensify the Cold War, "an arena where a man has to refuse to back down only once, and that can be the end."

He urged that we expend our energy in aiding the underdeveloped areas of the world where, he said, freedom is lost as misery advances.

More should be spent here, at the root of the problem.

"We're seeing the symptom when communism looms to the fore, and we'll see more of it if its real base isn't struck," he said.

OLIN HOSPITAL REPORT

New Bus Signs

Bus-riding students will find new signs in the rear windows of the campus vehicles this week. The signs will indicate destinations of the buses and aid commuters in boarding the proper bus.

Henry Jolman, general foreman of the bus system, said the signs were ordered a week ago and just arrived last week.

Tutoring Begins

Tutoring service by five scholastic honoraries has started. Any student needing help in any subject should call 355-4455 between 3 and 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

LBJ Questioned

Former U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay Harry F. Stimson, Jr., challenged President Johnson to answer the following questions in a Friday press conference in Flint:

---If Spanish vessels are being escorted into Cuban harbors by U.S. government-owned ships.

---If U.S. ships are patrolling the area around Cuba to prevent invasion by other countries or by Cuban exiles.

---If the U.S. government has any agreement or understanding with Russia that they will not invade Cuba and will try to prevent any other country from such an invasion.

Stimson was a member of the committee of former U.S. ambassadors which recently announced the evidence of a military buildup in Cuba.

Stimson said that the nature of the buildup is unknown but that Cuban exiles report that many Russian troops wearing fatigue uniforms are now in Cuba. He said they are believed to be training other Latin American troops which will be used to re-infiltrate their countries.

As a possible solution, Stimson suggested a five-point plan:

---To appoint a government in exile.

---To give moral and material support needed to take over Cuba and Castro.

---To strengthen the economic boycott of Cuba by the OAS and the NATO allies.

---To put Cuba back on its feet after Castro's ouster.

---To take steps to see that the Monroe Doctrine is never again violated.

When asked if the insinuation that President Johnson's integrity was not the highest had been made, Sen. Gordon, D-Colo., said that the people around the President and the things ultimately touching him all lead to the White House. President Johnson, he said, has much explaining to do to the American people.

Concerning the Jenkins affair, he said, it alone is not a decisive factor in the election. However, it is an accumulative thing, he said, which is tearing at the integrity of the central core of the government and with other things could have a severe impact.

Local Victories Predicted By Both GOP, Democrats

East Lansing Republican and Democratic committees are focusing attention this week on activities to secure the largest partisan vote possible on Nov. 3.

Both parties are compiling lists of voters. The names are gathered by precinct chairmen and volunteers in each of the 11 East Lansing precincts.

Gary Marshall, East Lansing Republican committee chairman, explained the purpose of voter lists:

"On election day, poll challengers or checkers, keep a record of all those on the list who have voted. A telephone committee then calls all those on the list who have failed to vote and offers to provide transportation."

Very similar to the Republican committee plan is that of the Democrats. Robin Drews, associate professor of social science and East Lansing Democratic chairman, said a check is made on registered voters and a list compiled for Nov. 3.

"Compiling an accurate Democratic voter list for election day is our primary objective for the next two weeks," he said.

Other local pre-election activities include distributing party material and fund-raising activities.

The Democrats are once again utilizing their "Dollars For Democrats" campaign to raise money, through precinct leaders in their districts.

The real purpose of "Dollars For Democrats," Drews said, is to make it possible for individuals to support candidates of their choice.

Democrats are also mapping plans for the large number of volunteer workers offering their services to the party this year.

Drews attributes the large number of volunteers to the unpopularity of Sen. Barry Goldwater as a presidential candidate and the fear that he might get elected.

Both chairmen expressed optimism on their party candidates' chances in the upcoming election even in light of East Lansing's Republican voting record.

"County candidates have been very successful in the past and I suspect this trend will continue," Marshall said.

Marshall also displayed confidence in the state and local elections and said that Gov. Romney and East Lansing incumbent Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain should be re-elected.

As to the national ticket, Marshall said:

"Many Republicans are not stating their position on the presidential race. However, Goldwater's chances are looking better than at the beginning of the campaign."

Drews said that the success of Democratic county and state candidates hinges on the national ticket.

"President Johnson is a very exciting candidate," he said, "and chances are better than usual for a Democratic presidential victory."

"We are hoping that Johnson's popularity will encourage citizens to vote a straight party ticket and thus insure Democratic county and state votes."

Drews said that some votes would come from Republicans who are disaffected because of Goldwater.

On the local level, Drews said: "With the new districting system, it is difficult to say how the election will shape up for congressional candidate Boyd Benedict."

Ex-Student Dies

Don Charles Armstrong, former Michigan State student from Southfield, died last week in an automobile accident in Detroit.

Armstrong was affiliated with the Beta Theta Pi fraternity while a student at MSU. He had plans to return to Michigan State for the spring term.

Armstrong was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald William Armstrong, also of Southfield.

International Club Provides Cultural Exchange Program

One of MSU's largest student organizations on campus this year is the International Club which has an approximate 500 members.

L.C. Shah, president of the club, said it was organized primarily for students to meet each other. He said for the 1,000 foreign students that represent some 90 countries, it is the only club designed to make foreign and American students familiar with each other's culture.

Indicative of the club's efforts was last Friday's program of an American folk singing group and a disc jockey from local radio station WERS.

Shah said that foreign students are greatly interested in American projects. "For them," he said, "Michigan is a home away from home and they want to be a part of its activities."

The latest program planned by the club is to raise money for the John F. Kennedy International Scholarship Fund. Money from this would be used to send abroad one American MSU student who has contributed to international understanding to study for one term.

Accident Error

Friday's State News report on the automobile accident involving Annette R. TenElshof, Grand Rapids graduate student, erroneously stated that Miss TenElshof's car was struck by the automobile of Carole A. Starke, Frankenthum freshman. Campus police report that it was Miss TenElshof who struck Miss Starke as the former was turning left into a parking place from the right lane.

Mike Goldwater Supports Father

Twenty-four-year-old Mike Goldwater urged young people to take part in politics in a speech Thursday at Albion where he joined the Goldwater bandwagon which had been touring Michigan since Oct. 17.

"I'm campaigning for my father not because he asked me to, but because I share his views," he said.

The candidate's son said he thought his most climactic moment of the campaign would be not the convention nor election day but "Jan. 20 when I see the expression on Earl Warren's face when he swears my father in."

"I'm confident my father will be elected," he said.

When asked if his father was holding any political bombshells for the last days of the campaign, he replied:

"Sure, we know things that could help us win this election but you have to remember national security and consider the possibility that if dad doesn't win how the President would look in the eyes of the world."

When quizzed on his father's civil rights stand, the candidate's son said:

"My father voted against the civil rights bill because it is in part unconstitutional, but it's the law of the land now and as president my father would support it."

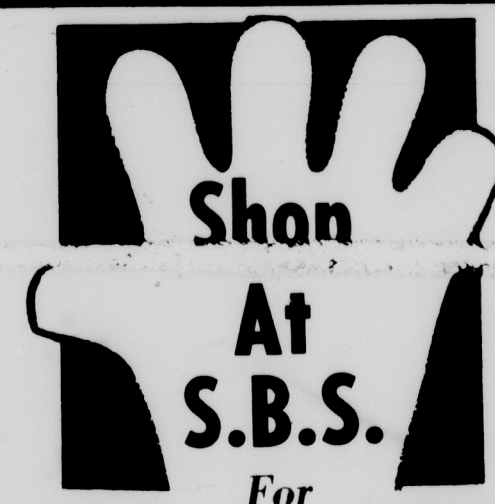

"I believe, and my father does too, that legislation won't make people like each other—it has to come from the heart," he declared.
