North Viets Reject Call For Negotiations

TOKYO (AP)--Communist North Viet Nam rejected Monday an appeal by 17 neutralist nations for negotiations without preconditions to end the fighting in Viet Nam.

The rejection -- announced by the official Viet Nam news agency (VNA) in a radio broadcast -- renewed Communist proposals made one week ago and since termed unacceptable by U.S. officials.

The reply had been awaited in Washington as the key to the Hanoi regime's position on President Johnson's offer for "unconditional discussions" made April 7 as well as the appeal signed April 1 in Belgrade by the nonaligned nations.

The Communist Agency, which said it was authorized by the North Viet Nam government to make the statement, renewed charges against President Johnson's proposal, calling it "a smokescreen to cover up the U.S. imperialists' new military adventures in Viet Nam."

It also ruled out any mediation role by the United Nations as "inappropriate" and contrary to the 1954 Geneva agreements partitioning Viet Nam into North and South.

The broadcast claimed that Viet Cong guerrillas now control three-fourths of South Viet Nam. "It is clear that at the present time any solution to the South Viet Nam issue without the decisive voice of the South Viet Nam national front for liberation (Viet Cong) is impractical," it said.

The statement said that "The basis for the soundest political settlement... is to carry out the points" laid down by North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong April 12:

--Recognition of basic national rights of the Vietnamese people.
--Withdrawal of foreign military personnel in accord with the 1954 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam.

--Settlement of South Viet Nam's internal affairs "in accordance with the program" of the Viet Cong.
--And peaceful reunification of Viet Nam "without any foreign interference."

U.S. officials have said that under this formula the United States would pull out of South Viet Nam, leaving the Saigon government to contend with continued North Vietnamese aggression without American support. The result would be to deliver South Viet Nam to the Reds, they said.

U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, however, left the door open and prodded the Reds for an answer to the appeal made by the nonaligned nations that talks begin without prior conditions.

"North Viet Nam has not rejected anything," he said.

Kosygin Warns U.S. Of Viet War Deadline

MOSCOW (AP)--Premier Alexei N. Kosygin accused the United States Monday of stepping up the war in Viet Nam and warned a "dangerous deadline" is near.

He said the use of gas and other weapons such as phosphorous and napalm bombs "may invite retaliation in kind."

The present situation, Kosygin added in a television address, is "fraught with unforeseen consequences."

The Viet Nam policy statement--the Soviet Union's toughest to date--capped weekend disclosures of Kremlin pledges of additional military aid to North Viet Nam, including Russian volunteers in case of need.

It also appeared to lend weight to speculation that the Russians may be on the verge of setting up anti-aircraft missiles on sites reported in preparation around the North Vietnamese capital, Hanoi.

Kosygin, speaking at a Soviet-Mongolian friendship rally for visiting Premier Ukhagbaa Tsedenbal of Mongolia, denounced the use of napalm and phosphorous bombs and what he called "poisonous gases" in Viet Nam.

The United States has supplied the South Vietnamese non-lethal gases of a type used in controlling rioters. There has been no evidence that American forces in Viet Nam have used the gases.

But Kosygin pictured U.S. military commanders in South Viet Nam as having used gas against Viet Cong guerrillas without White House sanction.

Highway Dispute Unsettled

MSU officials and representatives of the State Highway Commission both stood firm Monday on their proposals for construction of a highway which will bisect the campus.

After an hour and a half meeting in the president's office failed to produce any acceptable results, President John A. Hannah appointed a three-man committee

John McQuitty, East Lansing junior, was named chairman of the Student Board at its organizational meeting Sunday.

Receiving the two appointed positions in the seven and a half-hour meeting were Frannie Frei, Dearborn junior, and John Miller, Bangor junior.

Webb Martin, Flint junior, is board vice chairman, and Jim Tanck, Waterford, Wis., junior, will be chief executive officer of the cabinet.

During the meeting, the 14-member group interviewed five petitioners for the appointed seat going to a woman, 19 students for the other appointed seat, and three applicants for the cabinet head.

The next meeting, open to the public, will be at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in 311 Student Services. McQuitty and Martin were elected to the board without competition in the senior at-large division.

An Honors College member, McQuitty is a former executive vice president of All University Student Government (AUSG) and sophomore class president.

Martin was AUSG director of inter-University affairs and parliamentarian of Student Congress.

Miller is junior class president, Omicron Delta Kappa honorary vice president, and a member of Blue Key service honorary.

Another Honors College member, Miss Frei has been class secretary for two years and is treasurer of Spartan Spirit. She belongs to Tower Guard and Alpha Lambda Delta scholastic honoraries and Tau Sigma social science honorary.

Tanck was Spartan Spirit director, a former Student Congress member, and a member of the homecoming executive committee.

The petitions for vice presidencies must be returned by 5 p.m. Wednesday and the cabinet petitions are due at 5 p.m. Friday.

'Biggie' Still Looking For Basketball Coach

To whom it may concern: Yes, the search is still underway for a basketball coach at MSU. And with a little bit of luck, that position will be filled within ten days.

Athletic Director Clarence (Biggie) Munn, since relieving Fordy Anderson of his coaching duties April 1, has searched high and low for the man that will fit the bill, and he may just have the man in mind right now.

Munn was scheduled to see President John A. Hannah late Monday afternoon to talk matters over concerning his recent efforts to secure a head coach.

"We'll announce our choice as soon as possible," Munn said.

AC Tenure Revisions Go To Committee

The Academic Council voted to refer tenure revision proposals back to the tenure committee Monday at their regular meeting.

Specific proposals on liberalizing academic freedom and re-vamping tenure rules to bring them in line with other universities were discussed at length before the tenure report was referred back to committee for further hearings.

Also, Provost Howard R. Neville submitted a progress report on the new "semi-autonomous" college which will be established next year as an experiment in dealing with size problems at MSU.

Neville said MSU officials were working out details of setting up the new college, and that they were in the process of selecting a dean.

The Board of Trustees will appoint a dean for the new college at their Thursday meeting at Oakland University.

A progress report outlining the success of University College courses and discussing future plans for revision was accepted by the Council.

Midwest Flooding Continues

CHICAGO (AP)--The Mississippi River, churning at record high levels, carried southward Monday the flood havoc that has crippled parts of five states.

The peak of the most severe flooding ever, on the mighty Mississippi and tributary streams appeared about over at Minneapolis-St. Paul, where the river crested late Friday and then began to recede.

But downstream a dozen communities, including Winona, Minn., and La Crosse, Wis., girded to meet crests due Tuesday and Wednesday. Farther south, in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, crests were expected later in the week.

The flood, building up the last two weeks, already has made an estimated 40,000 persons homeless and caused property damage estimated at nearly $60 million in Minnesota and Wisconsin alone.

Thirteen deaths have been attributed to the floods thus far, 11 in Minnesota and 2 in Wisconsin.

At Winona, Minn., a city of 25,000 about 120 miles south of Minneapolis-St. Paul, between 1,500 and 2,000 volunteers worked around the clock adding sandbags to weak spots in the dikes.

A crest of 21.5 feet, which is 8.5 feet above flood level, is expected at Winona Tuesday. The Mississippi there already had passed the 21 foot stage Monday. Some businesses along the riverfront were surrounded by water as the river pounded at dikes 25 feet high.

Wabasha, a town of 2,500 about 30 miles north of Winona, was surrounded by water and more than a third of its residents have been evacuated. A crest of 20.5 feet is expected at Wabasha Tuesday.

Men's Club

The MSU Men's Club will meet at 12:15 p.m. in the Union parlors for luncheon.

Lt. Commander Francis J. Sweeney, Jr., will head a program team discussing the U.S. space effort, with illustrative materials.

No Place Like Home Away From Home

By JIM STERBA

"The coeds in Phillips Hall are sick and tired of being man-handled by the University," said one blonde at a roundtable discussion recently.

She was referring to feminine unrest in Phillips generated by the University's plan to locate the new semi-autonomous college in the Snyder-Phillips complex.

Most residents of Phillips hit the ceiling last week when they learned that their second home was going to be used for the new college experiment, one coed said.

"We're the guinea-pigs for the second time in two years," she explained. "When Snyder was converted to a men's dorm, we were all ready to sit-in and not allow the men to invade."

"Now, they're playing around again," she continued, "only this time, it looks like the sorority atmosphere of this dorm has come to an end."

Actually, about half of the dormitory will be used to house about 200 freshmen women who enrolled in the liberal arts college. This means that the "Phillips way of life" is about to be destroyed, according to the residents.

"Phillips Hall isn't like the rest of the dorms on campus," said a senior who had lived in the dorm for the past four years. "There is a real closeness

Biggest Peace Rally Protests Viet Nam War

Over 20,000 March On Nation's Capitol

By MICHAEL KINDMAN
State News Editorial Editor

The largest demonstration for peace ever held in the nation's capital city came off smoothly Saturday.

An estimated 20,000 persons—students and non-students, young and old, from all over the country—picketed the White House, rallied at the Washington Monument and then marched down the Mall to the front of the Capitol.

They were protesting American involvement in the war in Viet Nam.

A petition which a delegation attempted to present to Congress said that while the marchers might disagree on what would be the most desirable policy at present, "we are unanimously of the opinion that the war must be brought to a halt."

The march was sponsored by Students for a Democratic Society, a national peace and social action organization with chapters on more than 60 campuses. SDS cooperated with many other groups with pacifist, anti-imperialist and socialist platforms.

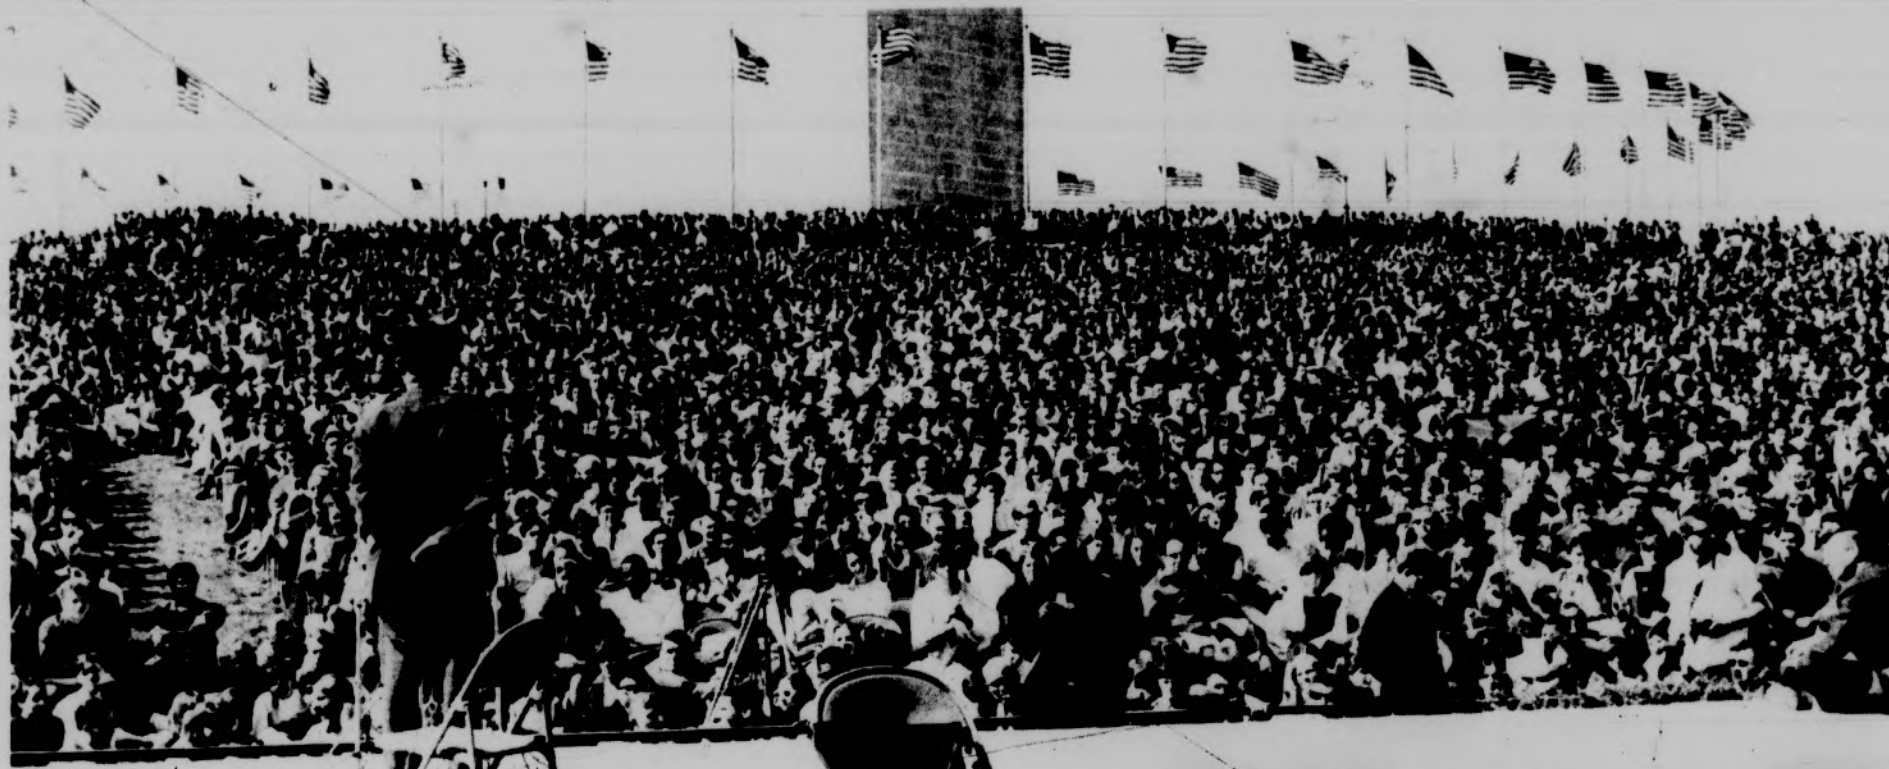

Many marchers, including most of the more than 120 Michigan State students who participated, were not affiliated with any of the cooperating organizations. The petition to Congress, written by SDS in the name simply of "the participants in the March on Washington to End the War in Viet Nam," was accepted by Capitol guards, who said the Capitol was closed for Easter weekend but that they would turn the petition over to Congress. A small demonstration was held on the Capitol steps after the march as the delegation attempted to nail the petition to the Capitol doors.

As the marchers streamed into Washington Saturday morning, they joined a picket line around the White House area carrying printed signs distributed by SDS as well as signs identifying them by home town and school. Some marchers carried homemade protest signs as well.

The SDS signs, printed in simple lettering on cards with black borders top and bottom, read "End the War in Viet Nam Now," "War on Poverty—Not on People," "I Won't Fight in Viet Nam," "Viet Nam for the Vietnamese," "Unconditional Negotiations, Yes; Killing Vietnamese Children, No."

WE WANT OUT—A sea of faces at the foot of the Washington Monument represents some of the more than 20,000 persons who traveled to Washington last weekend to protest United States involvement in the war in Viet Nam. Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, and I.F. Stone, publisher of I.F. Stone's Weekly, were among those who addressed the rally.

Gruening, Stone Warn Rally Of Dangers Of U.S. Policy

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, who with Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has stood alone in Congress in opposition to the war in Viet Nam, told the peace rally at the Washington Monument last Saturday that "the voices of reason will not be stifled."

He applauded the teach-ins, protest marches and other indications that more and more Americans are opposed to their government's policy in Southeast Asia. Gruening said the American idea that we have to remain in Viet Nam in order to halt a spread of Chinese communism is false.

"The United States has no business in Viet Nam," he said. "The United States is in no way imperiled by whatever happens in Viet Nam."

Gruening said further escalation and continued obstinacy in our Viet Nam policy will eventually lead to "a world war of cataclysmic proportions."

"The United States has sought no solution to the conflict in Viet Nam by negotiation, by inquiry, by mediation, by conciliation, by arbitration, by judicial settlement, by resorting to regulating agencies or by an other peaceful means," he said.

He proposed a program for settlement of the war which would require the United States to: --end its bombing in North and South Viet Nam and encourage the Viet Cong to join the ceasefire;

--"recognize who we are fighting" (Gruening sees the Viet Nam war as an indigenous civil war directed neither by Hanoi nor by Peking); and

--submit to international conferences while abandoning the view that withdrawal would mean automatic Communist expansion from China. Gruening called this the "John Foster Dulles domino theory" raised to heights of absurdity.

Earlier, I.F. Stone, whose I.F. Stone's Weekly newsletter has been a consistent opponent of American policy in Viet Nam, recalled two passages from Washington's Farewell Address in evaluating the current war. Washington warned that an overgrown military establishment would endanger the independence of American foreign policy. Stone said that the tremendous military spending which is fundamental to modern American economics requires continued hatred, tension, fear and limited warfare.

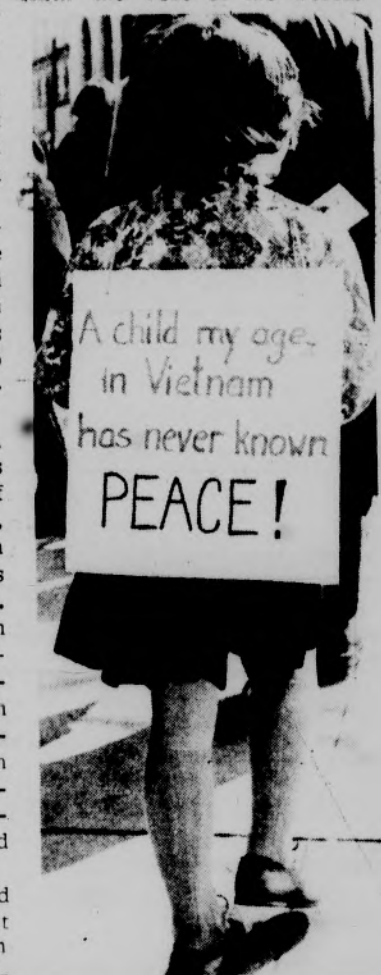

Washington's address warned that too great a fear or too great a respect for another nation can limit a nation's freedom to determine foreign policy.

"Sometimes the liberty of a nation has been the victim of this antipathy that Washington warned of," Stone said.

Stone criticized sharply President Johnson's proposal for rehabilitating Southeast Asia without Chinese participation. He said the United States can neither ignore nor destroy China.

"We cannot kill China," Stone said. "It will be reborn in 10 or 12 years and we will reap a tremendous reward of hatred from the rest of the world."

CONFLICT -- At left, a young girl and an American Nazi Party member show two sides of the debate over withdrawal from Viet Nam. Right and below, the same conflict is shown, in the signs of a peace picket and a Nazi picket. Above, MSU students board one of the three buses that carried them to Washington for the march.

Reinhard Mohr, one of the leaders of the student-run MSU committee, said, "Through the teach-in we reached a lot of new people that now identify themselves with the platform of ending the war in Viet Nam."

Mohr said he feels an increasing number of MSU students are becoming interested in protesting government foreign policy.

Newsmen Welcome On Johnson Flight

JOHNSON CITY, Tex.--President Johnson invited a four-man delegation of newsmen to accompany him aboard Air Force One Monday on his flight to Columbia, S.C.

Johnson had announced Sunday through Press Secretary George E. Reedy that newsmen no longer would fly aboard the presidential jet on what Johnson considers routine flights.

When Monday's flight to memorial services for Sen. Olin D. Johnson was announced, Reedy said no reporters would accompany the President, but would all ride aboard a separate chartered airliner.

Later Reedy switched signals and said four newsmen would make the flight on Johnson's plane.

King Rejoins Camden Marchers

CAMDEN, Ala.--Martin Luther King Jr. returning to Alabama to appraise his Negro voter drive, met Monday with civil rights leaders here after police turned back two marches to the Wilcox County courthouse.

King arrived while about 125 Negroes, their march halted by police, stood beside the street near a Negro church. He led the marchers back to the church for a rally and strategy meeting.

As soon as he drove into town, King was handed a state court injunction prohibiting him and other civil rights leaders from taking pupils out of school to demonstrate.

King planned to speak at a church rally in Selma. He started the Negro voter drive at Selma three months ago.

Top Brass Confer On Viet Nam

A spokesman at the camp H. M. Smith conference site said the meetings may continue through three days.

Chile's Youth Clash With Police

SANTIAGO, Chile--Hundreds of rock-throwing youths clashed with police Monday in renewed demonstrations against increased bus fares.

The youths, urged on by leaders of Marxist students groups, barricaded streets and threw rocks at buses and at carabinieri (national police) who moved in to disperse them. Several buses were damaged by rocks and boards thrown by the students. There were no reports of serious injuries.

Police used water cannon to scatter the students when they refused to disperse.

FACE WAYNE STATE

Netters Set For Opener

State's tennis team opens its regular season schedule today against Wayne State University at Detroit.

The Spartans, who amassed a 3-2 match record on their annual spring trip through the South, will face a Tartar team now in the process of rebuilding. Most of Wayne's veterans left the team last winter for various reasons.

Coach Stan Drobnac will play Dwight Shelton and Charlie Wolff at first and second singles, respectively, supported by Jim Phillips, Laird Warner, Vic Dhooge and Mike Youngs.

Phillips and Dhooge will combine for first doubles, along with the teams of Shelton-Wolff and Warner-Youngs.

Wolff, who was voted team captain, prepped at nearby East Lansing High and has been a regular for two seasons. Drobnac described him as "tremendously improved."

Shelton, a native of Chicago who played his high school tennis in California, has been a steady Spartan performer for the past two years, leading the team in singles victories both seasons.

Last season, State compiled a 14-6 mark, a fourth-place finish in the conference and a tie for tenth place in the NCAA Meet.

Wayne State, coached by Fred Mulhauser, has won nine consecutive Presidents' Athletic Conference titles but feels that it will take a "miracle" to repeat that type of performance this year.

The Tartars earned a 6-3 mark last season. Top returning players are Bob Germain of Allen Park and Greg Bielawski of Grosse Pointe, the number three doubles champion in 1964.

A couple of former major league baseball players meet today in Detroit when Michigan State takes on the University of Detroit at Titan Field at 3 p.m. Only the capacities have changed—they'll be head coaches this time.

Danny Litwhiler, State's coach, divided 12 years in the big leagues with the Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds, St. Louis Cardinals and old Boston Braves, while Titan skipper Bob Miller pitched for the Phillies before retiring in 1959.

Detroit, undefeated in six games this year, presents an interesting contrast to the Spartan team. Detroit appears to be short on pitching, but has almost the entire rest of the team back from last year's squad which compiled a 21-6 mark.

State has its whole pitching staff back but lacks several of its leading hitters of a year ago.

Junior left hander John Krasnan will be the probable starting pitcher for the Spartans and will be faced by either Lou Radomski or George Mach. Both are 2-0 this season while Krasnan has not allowed an earned run in 11 innings and has a 0-1 record.

The big hitter thus far for the Spartans has been rightfielder Dick Billings. The senior slugger has 19 hits in 44 plate appearances for a .432 mark. His extra base hits include five doubles, a triple and a home run.

Bob Speer, a .293 swinger, has also looked impressive this spring and will probably replace Billings as State's clean-up hitter. Billings will hit fifth if the switch is made.

Senior shortstop Bruce Pettibone and third baseman John Biedenbach have also been swinging hot bats. Pettibone is hitting .321 and Biedenbach is a .409 hitter and has batted in nine runs.

The Titans are led by a brother double play combination. The shortstop is Dennis Deputa, who hit .290 last season, and his twin brother, Dan, is at second. Both are seniors and are beginning their third year on the varsity.

Juniors Tom Engel, a .317 hitter last season, and Tom Siedlaczek (.363) handle first and third base respectively to give the Titans a veteran infield.

Four candidates fight it out for the starting outfield positions. Senior Cliff Rothrock and juniors Harry Brinsden and Dick Roshid, all veterans from last year, receive competition from pitcher-outfielder Mark Ottenbriet.

Bluejay Games Now Wednesday

Spring was here Saturday, but the Spring Arbor baseball team wasn't.

The Bluejays were due here for a double header with the Spartans, but the tail-end of winter showed up instead, forcing postponement of the twin bill.

Spring Arbor will get their crack at State Wednesday, when the games will be made up. Starting time at Old College Field will be 1 p.m.

It will be the first meeting in the history of the two teams.

Garrett, Hurdlers Set Marks For MSU In Ohio Relays

COLUMBUS, Ohio—The biggest track guns in the Midwest took aim at the Ohio Relays held here Saturday, but when it came time to inspect the targets, it clearly showed that Michigan State had hit the mark square on the nose.

The Spartans brought three firsts, two seconds and two third-place finishes back to East Lansing, with hurdlers Gene Washington and Clint Jones and broad jump ace Jim Garrett leading the pack.

"It was a very encouraging showing," said Coach Fran Dietrich, commenting on his team's initial outdoor contest. "Comparatively, the boys ran 100 per cent better than in last year's relays held at the same time."

Garrett, who didn't compete last year, set a career high of 25 feet in the broad jump to take first honors in that event, along with a second-place finish in the 300 triple jump.

The team of Jones, Washington, Fred McKay and Bob Steele combined to take the shuttle hurdles in :26.2, erasing the old mark of :26.6 set by Ohio State in 1958.

Jones won the 120-yard high hurdles in :13.8, with Washington running second at :14.1. Washington also tied the Spartan record in the 330-intermediate hurdles and teamed with Jones, Steele and Gus Campbell in the 880 relay, finishing fourth in 1:38.8.

Third place Spartan finishes were brought in by Eric Zemper and Washington. Zemper ran the three miles in 14:46.4, while Gene tied last year's varsity mark in the intermediate hurdles with a time of :37.9.

Lacrosse Victors; Crew, Rugby Lose

By PHIL LOOMIS
State News Sports Writer

A trio of Spartan athletic clubs had better luck with the moody weather Easter weekend than they had with opponents.

The lacrosse, rugby and crew club tangled with wind, rain and opponents alike Saturday, and although each club averted a shutout by the weatherman, only the lacrosse squad finished a winner.

The stickmen surprised the University of Michigan 9-4 at the Old College Field Saturday morning, but in the afternoon the rugby team didn't fare as well, losing to Indiana 3-0. The Spartan rowers finished last in a field of three in a meet on the Detroit River near Belle Island.

The lacrosse team, in its home opener, played a ball-control type of offense in winning its first game of the year. They had played two tournament games at Notre Dame two weeks ago and lost both.

Harrington was the big scorer for the Spartans with five goals. Joe Heywood, Paul Caldwell, Bill Hedger, and Dave Wagner each added one goal.

In the afternoon, the rugby team completely dominated play over the Hoosiers of Indiana, but lost 3-0.

After the Hoosiers had scored on the opening kickoff, they were unable to do anything with the Spartans dominating play. Yet, State couldn't score.

Coach Neville Doherty pointed to inexperience as the big factor in the defeat.

While the lacrosse and rugby teams were sloshing around in the mud, the rowing club was also experiencing some inclement weather.

An inexperienced team, consisting of three juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen, finished last in their triple dual race with Wayne State, the winner, and Canisius College.

Wayne State finished six lengths ahead of the Spartans and five lengths ahead of Canisius after waiting four and one-half hours for the river to calm down.

FINISH LAST AT COLUMBUS

Golfers Clubbed In Debut

COLUMBUS, Ohio—The cry was "force" as Big Ten golf competition got underway Saturday at Ohio State, but for the Michigan State Spartans, it was more like "four."

At least that's the position MSU wound up in in quadrangular competition.

In their season opener, the Spartans were unimpressive, losing to Ohio State, 25 1/2-10 1/2, Purdue, 24 1/2-11 1/2, and Indiana, 20-16. The losses dampened hopes of improving last season's seventh place finish in the Big Ten. Coach John Brotzmann, however, was not dejected about the defeat and gave some reassurance to his golfers for their next match.

"We'll do better in our next outing," said Brotzmann. "Their course was in terrible shape and I can't expect miracles from a team that hasn't practiced on a regular golf course in two weeks."

Since returning from their spring tour to Florida, the golfers haven't set foot on the Forest Akers Golf Course. Two inches of snow blanketed the area forcing the team to use either Jensen Field House or the Old College Field.

The lack of consistent putting and driving was exemplified in the performances of State's top three players. Junior Ken Benson, considered by Brotzmann as the Spartan's best, fell way below his 77 average of last year, shooting rounds of 78 and 82—a total of 160 for 36 holes.

Senior Doug Swartz and junior Doug Hankey also had their troubles with the wet course, but it was these two who displayed the Spartans best efforts. Hankey showed signs of his last summer form when he won the Michigan Amateur title. He finished Saturday's match with a two-round total of 156, scoring rounds of 81 and 75.

Swartz was second to Hankey for State as he tallied a 159 score.

The remaining members of State's team and their totals were George Wakefield, 169; Sandy McAndrew, 171; and John Carr, 171.

Fishel: The agreements were first violated by the North Vietnamese. First, instead of withdrawing all their troops as stated in the agreements, the North Vietnamese left in 10,000 armed agents. Second, they increased the size of their army between 1954 and 1960. Then they infiltrated agents and soldiers across the frontier into South Viet Nam. Under international law, these violations freed South Viet Nam from the other agreements in Geneva.

Seniors Of The Week

Seniors Have Studied Abroad

Humanities, Honors College and travel are hits with Lucy Langohr, from Columbia City, Ind., and Jack Armistead, from East Lansing.

These seniors pursued their humanities studies abroad for a time. Jack studied 20th century English literature at the University of London last summer.

Lucy studied with the International School of America for a year. This traveling school visited 18 countries including Japan, India, the holy land, Egypt, Greece, Turkey, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, France and Great Britain.

In India, Premier Nehru gave the group a two-hour informal interview. Lucy was impressed with the answer Nehru gave her comment on his good health so late in life.

He said he had been in prison over half of his life, and it had given him time to meditate.

Jack found London "a wonderful place to study. It's like New York in that it has many cultural activities such as theatres, museums, concerts, opera and the ballet. You're surrounded by the history of London."

"In one block you have perhaps a 14th century cathedral, now an Anglican church and right next door is a department store," he said.

"I found one of the most interesting things about London was the London pub," he said.

"The pubs seem to be the gathering places for a good cross-section of people, from the downtown businessman to the dock worker. It's like nothing we have in the United States."

Because of their activities and high grades, Jack and Lucy have been invited to join many honoraries.

Jack belongs to Phi Eta Sigma, Tau Sigma, Green Helmet, Blue Key and Phi Kappa Phi. He is president of the MSU chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national honorary with faculty and student membership.

Lucy's honoraries include Phi Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta Phi, Phi Kappa Phi, Tower Guard, Mortar Board and Alpha Lambda Delta. Her sorority, Pi Beta Phi, has awarded her the Helen Lewis Award, the Junior Scholarship Pin and the Amy Burman Onken Award—for the outstanding senior.

Jack has served on Fraternity Council, J-Council, Honors College Council and AUSG re-evaluation committee. He was president of the junior class, chaplain of Theta Chi, and is now public information officer for Army ROTC.

A member of State Singers, Jack has sung in choirs since junior high school.

"Singing in choral organizations is one way for a person who likes music to participate in it without studying it formally," he said.

Jack was one of eight MSU students awarded Woodrow Wilson fellowships for the first year of graduate study. He will concentrate on English literature at Duke University.

At the end of the summer, Jack will receive an Army commission as second lieutenant. He will enter active service after graduate school.

A history major, Lucy has been very active in History Club and was its secretary. She has also worked on such activities as Greek Week and Union Board Week.

Lucy has held several offices. Her sorority elected her vice president and house manager. She was also treasurer of her pledge class.

Tower Guard elected her to the vice presidency of that group. She headed the program of reading to the blind. Alpha Lambda Delta honorary made her vice president. She was treasurer of Mortar Board.

Lucy was one of the 15 outstanding juniors.

Lucy taught history at St. Clair Shores' Lake Shore High School last term. About 15 per cent of the students were from wealthy surrounding areas, but 25 per cent of the students were on welfare.

Nine Initiated

Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity has initiated nine pledges.

Block & Bridle

Hugh Henderson, professor of animal husbandry, will tell the Block & Bridle Club about his experiences in Nigeria tonight at 7:30 p.m. in 110 Anthony Hall. Henderson was head of the animal science department at the University of Nigeria for two years. Prospective members are welcome.

Debaters Place Third

The MSU debate team finished third in the two-man division in the Second Annual Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha National Student Convention last week at Indiana University in Bloomington.

The MSU team of Jim Hudek, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, junior, and Ken Newton, Trenton, N.J., sophomore, finished third to the University of Vermont and Southwest Missouri State.

Ron Smith, Davison freshman, and Dick Brautigam, Albion freshman, debated affirmative in the four-man competition and compiled a 6-2 record.

Forty-four colleges and universities from 38 states sent representatives to the convention held April 11-15.

Kenneth Hance, professor of speech, headed the MSU delegation and was re-elected national treasurer of Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha, national speech honorary.

Beta Sigs
Tap Officers

Beta Sigma Psi has elected the following officers for the forthcoming year:

President, Ken Hofmeister, Gagetown sophomore; first vice president, Ken Kueker, Melrose Park, Ill., freshman; second vice president, Joe Calkins, Cedar Springs junior; secretary, John Komarynski, Livonia junior, and treasurer, Bill Miller, Brooklyn sophomore.

Beta Sigma Psi is the national fraternity for Lutheran men. The MSU "Beta Sig" chapter is presently working toward activation, and plans to have a house next fall.

Graham Speaks

Jim Graham, recently-elected junior representative to ASMSU, will be the speaker at the second general term meeting of Students Off Campus at 8 tonight in 34 Union.

The upcoming SOC road-rally will also be discussed. All SOC members and interested students are invited to attend.

Students To Meet NCA
Officials

Ten undergraduate students are slated to meet with representatives of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at 1:30 p.m. today as Michigan State's periodic accreditation review enters its second day.

The ten will talk for an hour with NCA officials in the lounge of the Student Services Building.

Representing the accrediting body are Walter C. Langsam, president of the University of Cincinnati; Norman Burns, chairman of the NCA's commission on colleges and universities; Robert MacVicar, vice-president of Southern Illinois University. Donald B. Johnson, head of the political science department at the University of Iowa, and John A. Larson, associate professor of business administration at Northwestern University.

Burns, not originally scheduled to make the visit, explained that he drove here from Chicago Sunday "just for the ride -- but they've put me to work." He spent Monday with the other team members in a round of one-hour interviews with MSU officials.

Also scheduled today (Tuesday, April 20) were appointments with seven deans; directors of the library; University relations; alumni relations; physical plant planning and development; department of public safety; honors college and the continuing education service; and the registrar.

The team spent part of Monday afternoon touring the MSU campus, devoting much of their time to the Case-Wonders-Wilson dormitory complex.

Fiber, Fabric
Parley Slated

Owners and managers of women's clothing stores throughout the state will examine the characteristics of the new fibers and fabrics at a conference on campus today.

They will also consider the impact of advertising, display and personnel on the total merchandising operation.

About 50 members of the Michigan Women's Apparel Assn., Michigan Retailers Assn., are expected at Kellogg Center. Participants this year will receive an additional bonus--a copy of the American Home Economics Assn. Textile Handbook and other materials they can take back for use in their stores.

Joining with the MRA division to sponsor this fourth annual women's apparel seminar is the Department of Textiles, Clothing and Related Arts of the MSU College of Home Economics.

Rally Registration Set

Students may register for the Wilson Car Rally, this week at Berkeley and Bessey Halls.

Campbell's truck, registration center for the rally, is scheduled to be at Bessey from noon until 3 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, and from 3 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

The truck will be at Berkeley from 3 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday, from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. on Tuesday and from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Thursday.

Applications for the rally will also be taken at the rally from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and at the East Wilson reception desk at any time until the day of the rally.

The rally will begin at 10 a.m. April 24. Cars will assemble at the Commuter Lot, corner of Farm Lane and Mt. Hope Road. Each car must have a minimum of two persons, one driver and one navigator. Cost is $1.25 per person.

Dave Baehler, Grand Rapids freshman, said approximately 25 cars have been registered. He emphasized that the rally is not limited to the experienced driver. "The rally is based on time and distance, not speed," he said.

Work, Study
Can Beat Age

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Michigan doctor kicked some crutches away from the aging Monday by insisting they couldn't blame their ailments on time, then gave them advice for living better and longer.

"There are no diseases caused by the mere passage of time," said Dr. Frederick C. Swartz of Lansing. "The shaky hand and tottering gait are the results of lack of condition and exercise, not the passage of time. The forgetful mind results from lazy habits of study and lack of motivation. The cure for these so-called stigmas of aging is obvious--exercise and study."

Speaking at the annual scientific assembly of the American Academy of General Practice, Dr. Swartz labeled as brainwashing the concept that "debilities come with age, and at 65 one is over the hill." Dr. Swartz is 63.

"The portly and flabby muscles that result from the lack of exercise... the painful stiff knees and flat feet that come from long-time pounding by too much weight, present a picture of dilapidation which represents long-time lack of care and is not due to the passage of the hours," he said.

Dr. Swartz recommended self-discipline in a program of good posture, daily mental exercise and careful regulation of body weight.

"Add to this the protection of our present day immunization program and a periodic health appraisal program, and the life expectancy figure should jump 10 years in one generation," he suggested.

Art Of Kremlinology Criticized By Meyer

The art of Kremlinology, or speculation on Russian politics, is misplaced effort, and results in only guesses, MSU students and faculty were told recently.

Speaking at a meeting of Delta Phi Epsilon, Alfred G. Meyer, professor of political science at MSU, called Kremlinology "that branch of fiction writing" that tries to find out about power struggles in Russia.

"The effort is misplaced because we just don't know enough. If we could predict, what are we left with?" he asked.

In politics, the past is not an able factor in predicting the future, Meyer said. Simply knowing the name and face of a new leader is of very little use in forecasting future policies.

Kremlinology has been widespread in past months because of the recent leadership change in the Soviet Union.

"The succession problem is something that every country has and is one of the variables in a political system," he said.

In the Soviet Union the leadership is collective theoretically, he said. But actually there is a single leader who is in control.

Delta Phi Epsilon, Meyer's host, is an honorary fraternity for International Relations and International Business.

SPLASHERS--Three members of Green Splash, MSU's swimming honorary, display a poster with the theme of this year's show, "It's A Great Country."

Summer Employment

Thirty Spartan women will demonstrate their talents when they take to the water April 22 for the debut of "It's A Great Country."

The show will run for four days, with evening performances beginning at 8:30 from April 22 to 24 and a Saturday matinee, April 25, at 2:30.

The cast consists of members of Green Splash, women's swimming honorary. Their show, an exhibition of synchronized swimming, involves as much preparation as a full-scale musical production.

Everything connected with the show was planned and carried out by the girls themselves. They chose the theme, planned the numbers, selected the music, made and designed their own costumes and took charge of the various committees.

Each number worked independently of the others, giving each girl an opportunity to contribute to the production along with her swimming participation.

The theme of this year's show centers around the history of America as expressed through American folklore and folk music. The numbers illustrate how our history began through the ways of life and actions of the people.

The members are pledged according to their ability. Green Splash meets traditionally once a week but the girls have been swimming every night since the beginning of winter term to perfect their routines. They are headed by Norma Stafford, their advisor, and Karol Brown, club president.

The tryout schedule is: Saturday, 7 p.m. for "No Time for Sergeants"; 8 p.m. for "Toys in the Attic" and 9:45 for "Take Her, She's Mine."

Alpha Sigma Phi elected Marc Kupperman, Maplewood, N. J., junior as president Monday night.

Phillips

here, and this has been a real second home for me," she said. "We take freshmen who move into this dorm and bring them up to our standards," she explained. "This is why Phillips ranks so high academically."

Another coed commented, "My room here is my home and I really feel like I belong here. Only thing in mind that I have to pack my bags and find a new home."

"I've worked hard to get enough money to get a room I wanted, and now I can't have it," said a junior. "Why couldn't they have picked on Mason and Abbott?"

Most of the coeds showed concern for the freshmen who will be living in Phillips next fall. "I came to MSU because I wanted to meet lots of other different students," one coed said. "I certainly wouldn't come if I had to live in an isolated college like the one that is being proposed."

"Isolating kids with a particular major only leads to narrow mindedness," she said.

"This institution is sterile enough already," said a former resident of Five Hall. "Those monstrous dorms out in the dust bowl aren't dormitories, they're hotels."

"There are still some places at MSU where you can get diversified ideas, meet with upper-classmen and get an all-around education," said another coed. "and Phillips Hall is one such place."

"They say they want to preserve tradition, but they turn right around and destroy a dorm like this that has just what they are trying to preserve," said another coed.

The discussion group generally agreed the residents of Phillips Hall are not going to picket or demonstrate. But they felt that if it would do any good, they could get 40 per cent of the residents of Snyder and Phillips to sign a petition against the new college being located there.

"I can still live in Phillips for one more year because my room is on the other side of the dorm from the part being used by the new college," said an upset sophomore.

"But I'll tell you one thing, they'd have to break down my door and haul me out bodily before they'd get my room, even if the paint is peeling off the registers," she said.

Museum Digs New Course

A summer field course in archaeological methods is being offered by the Department of Anthropology and the MSU Museum, beginning Aug. 15, says Charles Cleland, acting curator.

Places slated to be excavated by the class include the Hopewell Burial Mounds near Newaygo, near Manistee. The mounds date back to about 200 or 300 A.D.

Other projects of the class will be to excavate some late Woodland earth works and to locate archaeological sites in Ogemaw, Roscommon, Missaukee, northern Clare and Gladwin Counties.

Cleland will be field director and his assistant will be Elizabeth Baldwin of Western Michigan University.

The course, worth 10 credit hours, will be open to between 15 and 20 students.

Nazi Propaganda Film Gets Public Showing

The MSU Film Society will present a public showing of one of the major propaganda films made by the Third Reich, Friday in Conrad Hall at 7 and 9 p.m.

Made between 1934 and 1936, "Triumph of the Will" was made under Hitler's auspices by Leni Riefenstahl. The main content of the film consists of edited shots of huge mass rallies, depicting Hitler as the saviour of Germany. Repeated symbolic references draw analogies between Hitler and the Christian Redeemer.

Vernon Lidtke, assistant professor of history, will deliver a short introduction to the movie. The film has been considered an historical document equal in importance to "Mein Kampf," although it is rarely shown in this country.

Riefenstahl's subsequent films have been highly praised for their technical excellence. "Olympia," made in 1938, won the Venice Film Festival award for "best picture."

Admission is society subscription or 50 cents.

Jazz Festival Scheduled

Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity, will hold its 8th Annual Festival of Jazz tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Building Auditorium.

The concert, which is free, will feature the University Jazz Band, which took third place in the Notre Dame Jazz contest last year.

Robert Curnow, director of the band, and former trombonist and arranger with Stan Kenton, will present his composition, Jazz America Suite.

Hugh Arnold and Gary Norris, members of Phi Mu Alpha, will also present original arrangements.
