

Junta Leader Says Troops To Attack Rebel Citadel

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, P.—The head of the civilian-military junta said Thursday a permanent cease-fire is out of the question and his troops soon will attack the rebels' stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta president, said in an interview "It is now too late for a permanent cease-fire such as the U.N. and the Organization of American States (OAS) have been trying to arrange." Imbert's declaration was the junta's first public statement of its plan of action to end the Dominican rebellion.

"We are considering a 12-hour truce for humanitarian reasons so dead and wounded can be removed from the battle area," Imbert said. "But we have renewed our military operations and they cannot be stopped."

A spokesman for the U.N. peace mission had said both the junta and the rebels of Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno had agreed to the halt fighting Friday to let the Red Cross remove dead and wounded from the fighting zone in Santo Domingo's northern industrial and suburban sections.

"We want to avoid a bloodshed if possible and we are giving every chance for those in the rebel area to surrender or to come out," Imbert said. "But we have to take the rebel stronghold very soon and bring peace to the country." Imbert hinted that the attack would come next week, as soon as Dominican tanks and troops take the northern sections of the capital.

The job was more than half done and rebel spokesmen acknowledged that their forces—many of them armed civilians—were being encircled, with their backs to the Ozama river.

The rebel forces in the north are cut off from the main insurgent force in the downtown enclave of office buildings, apartments and low income homes. U.S. Marines and paratroopers surround the enclave on three sides. The fourth side is the sea. Imbert was asked how he would get his troops and tanks into the downtown area without going through U.S. lines, an operation that seemingly would require the cooperation of the U.S. government.

Field Of 73 Entries Ready For Saturday's Junior 500

Seventy-three entries are scheduled to race in Saturday's 18th running of the Lambda Chi Alpha Junior 500.

The race, to be run around West Circle Drive, is the largest fraternity-sponsored event in the country.

Three trophies will be awarded in each of two divisions—one for the best men's time, the other for the best women's time.

The 1964 men's record was set by Omega Phi Psi fraternity with a time of 2:58.7. Their team was made up of four football and track stars. Second place went to Alpha Tau Omega, and third place went to Delta Tau Delta.

The women's division was won by Delta Delta Delta with a time of 3:10.8. Gamma Phi Beta was second followed by Delta Sigma Theta.

Each entry is permitted to have a driver and four runners. The length of the race is approximately one mile, and each man will run for approximately a quarter of a mile.

The event will begin with a parade through East Lansing led by the starting car for the Indianapolis 500. The lead car will be followed by the queen of the Junior 500, her court and the queens from the living units entered in the race.

This year's race queen is Cinda Scandling, Lansing freshman. The race was originated in 1948 by MSU's Lambda Chi Alpha chapter. It is a small-scale model of the original Indianapolis 500.

This year's starter for the race is Sam Williams, all-pro defensive end for the Detroit Lions.

The Kingtones group will play at the race.

No Organized Unit Study

Board Kills Housing Motion

By JO BUMBARGER
State News ASMSU Writer

The ASMSU Student Board killed a motion to study discrimination in organized, off-campus living units Wednesday and all but repealed a motion to investigate discrimination in non-organized housing.

The nine-member committee created last week to investigate discrimination in non-organized housing, was reduced to a two-member committee to study University policy before taking further action.

"I don't think we have the right to take action in organized units unless formal con. fairs have been made," John Miller, board member at large, said.

The Inter-fraternity and Pan-hellenic Council presidents pointed out that Greek organizations on campus are not permitted to discriminate according to race, color, creed, religion or national origin.

"The governing groups should be able to handle these problems themselves," James Stefanoff, IFC president, said. "If the board sees they aren't doing their job, then we should take action."

The board also cut the budget a total of $85 to $3,855, approved dissolving class councils and incorporating senior activities into the ASMSU structure, appointed six persons to the student traffic court and granted three provisional club charters.

The former nine-man committee to investigate discrimination in non-organized housing was reduced to a two-member committee to study University policy before taking further action.

The board also cut the budget to allow the all-University radio committee to evaluate a survey now being returned. It cut the labor allotment to $110; and set board expenses at $100; Spartan Spirit at $25 and student government services at $50.

This will leave the budge an expected $224 in the red by June 15.

The board referred a motion to make Union Board a semi-autonomous vice presidency to the steering committee, composed of the board chairman, vice chairman and cabinet president.

Provisional charters for one year were granted to the Insurance and Risk Club, Enzian Honorary and the People to People Association.

Student Board Backs Pair's Court Fight

Two students were granted funds Wednesday to contest a broken apartment lease.

The Student Board moved that Bob Flemming, Goodrich sophomore, and Carl Curchoe, Williamsport, Pa., junior, be given up to $250 for lawyer's fees, if it is necessary to take the case to court.

The men signed in January a nine-month lease beginning next September at $300 per term for an apartment on Cedar Street.

The landlord, Don Godden, informed them the last week in April that they would have to sign a lease for a 12-month contract at $330 per term for lower apartments and $360 per term for second and third floor apartments, they said.

They said Godden told them he could break the lease, since it had been signed four months ago.

Flemming and Curchoe have rented a comparable apartment for $165 on a 12-month lease at the advice of Kenneth Smith, assistant prosecuting attorney of Lansing.

They are suing Godden for the difference between the two apartments, the additional three months on their present lease, and time spent locating a new apartment.

The Board approved the grant as an illustration that ASMSU will support students.

McDonald Removed As Adjutant General

Gov. George W. Romney removed Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald as Michigan adjutant general Thursday and suspended Brig. Gen. Carson R. Neifert as quartermaster general after finding them guilty on two counts of misfeasance and gross neglect of duty.

Romney culminated nearly nine weeks of complex hearings in the Guard case by finding McDonald guilty of two counts of misfeasance and misfeasance and gross neglect of duty. Neifert was found guilty on two counts of misfeasance and gross neglect.

Under Romney's decision McDonald has two choices. He can accept a transfer to the Michigan National Guard unassigned as a major general or resign as a major general and be reappointed as a colonel in the Michigan Guard with another assignment.

Neifert was suspended for seven months retroactive to Nov. 8, 1964. He will be reinstated as quartermaster general June 8.

The two counts involved improper land transactions at Camp Grayling and misuse of armory funds.

In his lengthy decision, Romney emphasized that neither man profited personally from their activities.

"In fact, it does appear that these actions may have resulted in some monetary gain to the State of Michigan," Romney said.

However, he said "the end cannot justify the means regardless of how laudable or how profitable the ultimate end may be."

Romney said he ordered the State Military Board to convene and provide him with a list of qualified Michigan National Guard officers who may be eligible for appointment as adjutant general. Until the selection of a new adjutant general, Col. Clarence C. Schnipke will continue as acting adjutant general, Romney said.

In reading his decision, the governor said he gave McDonald 10 days to choose one of the options because "I am desirous of seeing to it that all rights and privileges which have accrued to Gen. McDonald are protected."

E. Lansing To Present Art Exhibit

The streets of East Lansing will be transformed into a little bit of old New York Friday and Saturday for the city's second annual Greenwich Village Days art exhibition.

Mike Bidwell, Greenville senior in advertising who originated the art show last year, says that approximately 90 artists are expected to display their work this weekend. Bidwell said about 35,000 people are expected to attend the exhibition.

He said 1,500 invitations were sent to artists throughout the state, in addition to the invitations sent to artists in the MSU Art Department and area high school students.

The show has an entry fee of $6 per artist. All fees are used to promote the show.

Types of artwork to be displayed include pottery and ceramics, various forms of sculpture, oil paintings, watercolors, charcoal drawings, collage and other art forms.

In addition, the paintings entered will also represent many different schools of art technique, according to Bidwell.

One of the highlights of the art show will be the arts and crafts of other nations that will be displayed by foreign students attending MSU.

Greenwich Village Days was initiated in 1964 to give practicing artists an opportunity to present their works to the public.

Lansky Named Chairman

Don Lansky, Huntington Woods junior, was named chairman of next year's Water Carnival at the group's banquet Thursday night.

As production chairman this year, Lansky was responsible for the physical setup of and security measures for the water front, lighting and sound and the communications system.

He was rules and regulations chairman his sophomore year and worked on that committee as a freshman.

Lansky is a member of Blue Key men's service honorary and belongs to Alpha Epsilon Pi social fraternity.

Associated Students of MSU will take over production of the annual event from the senior class next year. The past Water Carnival heads and the ASMSU special projects office jointly chose the new chairman.

Open Forum Set Sunday

The Student Board will hold its first open forum Sunday afternoon for all students to present their opinions and ideas to the new Associated Students of MSU government.

The meeting will be at 3 p.m. in Erickson Kiva.

"We hope students will feel free to come and tell us what they think we should be doing," said John McQuitty, board chairman.

"We will also be glad to answer any questions on our projects or decisions."

The Student Board became the chief student governing group under the constitution passed winter term.

Propaganda Leaflets Dropped On N. Viets

SAIGON, Viet Nam (P)—U.S. warplanes staged a propaganda leaflet raid only 55 miles south of Hanoi and bombed the Phouc Loi naval base, 165 miles from that Red Capital, in a series of almost continuous strikes at North Viet Nam Thursday.

More than 100 planes were involved in this third day of the resumed attacks north of the 17th parallel. A military spokesman said that, despite a thunderstorm and light ground fire, all returned safely.

Radio Moscow broadcast a Hanoi dispatch reporting American reconnaissance craft, escorted by a dozen jets, flew over an area about 12 miles west of Hanoi. It said they drew anti-aircraft fire. This account was unconfirmed by U.S. authorities.

In the ground war, Viet Cong guerrillas used mortars for the first time against U.S. Marines. A brief barrage killed one man and wounded two of a Marine patrol in brush-covered foothills 15 miles southwest of the Da Nang air base. Shooting back, the Marines believed they killed two Viet Cong.

U.S. paratroopers came unscathed through a light encounter with the Red enemy in another sector. Sniper fire met elements of the 173rd Airborne Brigade which moved by helicopter Wednesday to a guerrilla-infested zone 15 miles north-east of Bien Hoa, itself 12 miles northeast of Saigon. A spokesman said the paratroopers destroyed Viet Cong booby traps and a couple of tons of rice.

Vietnamese government troops pressed a search-and-destroy campaign in coastal Binh Dinh province, 250 miles northeast of Saigon. U.S. authorities said the troops killed 63 Viet Cong and captured six while losing five men killed and 13 wounded.

7 Americans Die In Crash

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—A Pakistani airliner crashed in a ball of fire Thursday while approaching Cairo Airport on an inaugural flight, killing 121 of the 127 persons aboard, including seven Americans.

The airline, the U.A.R. embassy in Washington, and relatives of victims in the United States listed the seven Americans. They were identified as:

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Howard and their daughter Elizabeth Clare of Sturgis, Mich. Howard, 43, and his wife, the former Marian Peeters, were on their way home after a visit in Saudi Arabia, where Howard worked for an oil company.

The U.A.R. embassy listed George Brock, an American traveling on a diplomatic passport; Arthur C. Hill of the Chicago, Ill., Tribune, and Jerry Harris of Stamford, Conn.

Donald B. Love, 45, of Riverside, Conn., an oil executive, was identified by his company and the airline.

Civil Rights Plan More Militant Acts

More militant demonstrations are planned by civil rights groups Saturday if demands for action on open occupancy and boarding house licensing ordinances are not met by the East Lansing City Council, spokesmen for the civil rights groups said Thursday.

Specific plans for the action are still being considered by the advisory council of the groups involved. The decision will depend on what action is taken by the City Council before Saturday, spokesman Gary M. Sommer said.

"We feel that the demands presented to the City Council for some action to end discrimination in East Lansing have not been met," Sommers, a New York graduate student, said.

"The City Council still does not realize the urgency of our protest. They have left us no choice except to continue action," he said. "We will take to the streets on Saturday."

Sommers was speaking for the advisory council to the civil rights movement in East Lansing. The council is composed of student representatives from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Friends of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee, the Committee for Student Rights and the Canterbury Club.

The advisory council met Wednesday night with the mayor of East Lansing, Gordon L. Thomas. Sommer described the meeting as a "fruitful exchange of ideas."

Sommer declined to disclose what action would be taken Saturday by civil rights demonstrators.

"Any type of action that has proved effective in the civil rights movement so far is being considered," he said.

Sommer said that an economic boycott of East Lansing might be undertaken in the fall if the City Council takes no action before then.

An Ire For An Ire

The pickets are out again, but this time it's not the same old 20 or even the same old 300. A small group of students, calling themselves the Ad Hoc Committee for Peace in Luxembourg, insists on marching to the capitol building at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Like the MSU Committee to End the War in Viet Nam, which like it, has been refused a parade permit by the Lansing City Council, the committee has issued a high-flown statement of purpose and principle.

It is hardly the kind of statement one would expect from an activist peace group, and that is what makes the Luxembourg crowd interesting. It reads in part:

One might logically ask us two questions. First, does the current use of demonstration warrant our attention, and second, can we hope that our approach will help alleviate the problem?

To answer the first question, one only has to look about him. Look at Iowa State, look at Harvard, look at Howard University, look at hundreds of other campuses throughout the United States. And, finally, look at Berkeley.

What about the second question? Is our solution to his problem a logical one? We think it is, for two reasons. The first of these is the direct effect of our action. The citizens of Lansing have, in recent months, seen a good deal of abuse of the right to demonstrate.

The people engaged in demonstrations fail to realize that by their actions they are committing a double injustice. They are hurting their cause by their own irresponsibility and they are impinging upon the freedom of other citizens. They will not discuss their actions. They will not even think about them.

In light of American ethics, it is extremely unwise to force these people to stop demonstrating. It is, after all, their right, and a right which must be maintained. Since they will not discuss their policies with us, we feel that the most effective way to alert them to what they are doing is to allow them to see how little a demonstration similar to those in which they have been participating accomplishes.

There is also a second reason why we feel our method is desirable. We feel that a great number of people in the United States have grown tired of this abuse and misuse of freedom.

We feel that by engaging in an activity of this nature, which will attract attention, we can reaffirm the faith of the people of the United States that there are still some left who will actively support mature thinking, with the same fervor with which these people support their causes.

Clearly, this is not an ordinary Peace in Luxembourg group. Its chairman, Carl J. Stensel, said there are about eight march organizers, but he is hoping for up to 200 marchers to join them Saturday. This march is more than a joke, Stensel said, although it did start out as one. The committee sincerely feels it is performing a service both to the public and to the supposedly chronic demonstrators by demonstrating, in effect, for nothing at all.

If Saturday's march comes off well, we guess there will be some re-evaluation of technique on the part of, say, the Viet Nam protesters. There will also be some laughter. Both are in the plans of the Luxembourgers, and both will prove the imagination which went into their planning.

If the tactic of public demonstration has become worn--and Stensel could offer little evidence other than his own belief that it has--then this march, because of its ludicrousness, could fail to make the demonstrators consider some new approaches. It could just be an entertaining Saturday afternoon show.

But if the technique has not become worn, then this march may just reaffirm its validity. It could demonstrate that demonstrating can make people reflect on their views and can produce results disproportionate to the time and energy expended.

For the effectiveness of demonstrations lies in the fact that masses of people can be exposed to ideas by a relatively small committee group. The eight Peace in Luxembourg workers may find that their voice is magnified by their marching and not made the object of ridicule because of it.

Luxembourg Protesters Protested

The following telegram was received from Chicago by the State News late Thursday afternoon.

"The office of the Consul General of Luxembourg has been informed that a certain group of persons plan to use the name of Grand Duchy of Luxembourg in a demonstration scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday, May 22, 1965, in East Lansing, Michigan.

"You are advised that the office of the Consul-General strongly objects to any such persons assuming the name of Grand Duchy of Luxembourg for these purposes."

Joseph J. Witry

Consul General

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

The State News called the Consul-General in Chicago in attempting to determine the authenticity of this telegram.

Consul-General Witry indicated that he was upset over this use of the name Luxembourg and said that he wished the person or persons planning the march would stop using the name.

City Investigating Housing

A case involving the legality of licensing and open occupancy ordinances passed by the city of Ann Arbor is currently being decided in the circuit court.

Thomas said he does not expect the case to stop there and that it may take a year to get a final decision from a higher court.

In reference to President Hannah's statement that the University would not interfere in this struggle, Thomas said he believes the University's position is clear.

"President Hannah has said that the University is colorblind. The City of East Lansing has taken the same stand," Thomas said. "Both have gone on record as being against discrimination."

"There is probably as much prejudice among students on campus as there is among the citizens of East Lansing," he said.

The mayor indicated that he expects the University to work with East Lansing in reducing discrimination in East Lansing.

'Sorry, Honey, The Date's Off'

By DON SOCKOL

Last week I called up a girl for a date. "No!" she cried. "No, no. A thousand times no! Never! If you were the last man on earth, no!"

"How about next week?"

"No!"

Well, a guy expects these setbacks. It's all part of the game. The thing that galls a fellow is the sneaky excuses girls contrive to get out of an already existent date. These can be classified by type.

One type is the "Just Called" excuse. It goes something like this.

"I'm sorry, Floyd. My parents just called and I have to go home this weekend." Or perhaps: "Gee, Sam, my boyfriend just called and he's on furlough...."

Then there's the "Brazen Hussy" excuse. The girl says quite frankly:

"I'm breaking our date, Arthur. I'm going out with someone else."

Invariably the fellow will answer, "You brazen hussy!" and hang up. This is where the excuse gets its name.

One of the most diabolical excuses is alternatively called the "Twilight Zone" or the "Alfred Hitchcock" excuse. It goes like this.

"Is Ellie-Mae there?"

"Ellie-Mae?" a strange voice answers with disbelief. "Why--Ellie-Mae's been dead a hundred years."

The most infuriating excuse is the "But...But I just put a One and a Half Pound Meat Loaf in the Oven" excuse.

You invite a girl over for dinner, and put the food in the oven before you go to pick her up.

When you get to her dorm you call her up and say:

"Is Becky there?"

"No, she's not."

"But...but I just put a one and a half pound meat loaf in the oven."

"I'm sorry, she's gone for the evening."

Of course, there's the "This Is Your Life" excuse.

"Edward, I've got the most exciting news. I'm sorry, but I'm going to have to break our date Saturday. My sister, whom I haven't seen for eight years is coming up to school to see me. Isn't that exciting? I'm sorry about the date."

There are many other excuses that I have neither the time nor space to pursue here. But, remember fellows, always be on your toes. The date she breaks may be your own.

Hello, Marcia, I Don't Think I'm Going To Be Able To See You Tonight.

Hello, John, Betty Doesn't Feel Too Well Tonight.

By PHYLLIS HELPER

Men have more excuses to break dates than they have numbers in a little black book. I am firmly convinced that some of them stay awake nights trying to dream up outlandish excuses for coeds. Maybe they even stage contests to see who can invent the most fantastic excuse.

If a college male does not want to go out with a certain coed, then why ask her in the first place? Or is the date broken because something "better" comes along?

There are certain standard excuses which all men know and memorize from the time they begin dating, the most common being sickness.

Of course a cold is uncomfortable and sometimes sickness does arise, but why tell a date that you have sleeping sickness or Rocky Mountain spotted fever--in Michigan?

I think the wildest excuse I ever heard over sickness was that the boy had had a recurrence of a problem of "vestigial matter" that had plagued him the previous year.

Vestigial matter refers to something decayed or useless, and after calling the hospital where he was supposed to be (naturally he was not there), I decided that the date was a piece of vestigial matter himself.

Friends and relatives are always popping up from out-of-town and do make it impossible for a date to be kept.

If a couple have a date for Saturday night, and the male half was out Friday night, he can always use the excuse that he was caught at an illegal grasser and has been put on social probation.

The University is accused of acting slowly in some areas, but in "discipline" as this would be, action would be swift.

Men are somewhat forgetful, too, as there have been many instances when they just "forget" about the first date, and take out a second instead. Or--how about the guy who makes a date a week and a half ahead of time and then doesn't call at all?

A college atmosphere provides a convenient setting for a complete set of excuses. An exam always creates sympathy and a good excuse to break a date, while car trouble is often beyond the driver's control.

Spring term always provides more excuses, as sunburns and discomfort can be prevalent. So can skate-board injuries.

Girl friends and pinmates seem to appear out of nowhere, especially if the date has no idea that the guy is "taken," as he says. "I'm sorry I have to break our date--my girl friend is coming up for the weekend." But the best excuse is, "I'd really like to go out with you, but I'm afraid I have to break our date. I just got engaged."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Open Housing Ordinance: How It Will Hurt The City

To the Editor:

The "dichotomy" which exists in the open housing controversy--and, by extension, in the whole issue of civil rights--is much greater and far more lasting significance than that stated by Michael Kindman in his column of May 17.

The distinction lies not so much between extreme activists and cautious moderates. Rather it must be made between those who demand that any and all means be used to secure their rights, and those who insist that under our constitutional government rights are not available on demand and that more legislation is not the answer to every problem of this nature that arises.

Mr. Kindman states that "... the only fact that is relevant now is that something must be done to combat discrimination..." A statement of this nature is not only false, but a deliberate misrepresentation of the problem.

That discrimination exists and must be eliminated is an undeniable fact, but this is not the whole problem. We must remember that such things as open housing ordinances affect not only the right of some to live where they choose, but the right of others to decide whom they wish to have living near or with them.

The rights of both are involved, and it is an extremely difficult task to pass legislation that will insure the rights of one group without infringing on those of another.

It seems that no one has yet dared suggest what may be a valid point of view--that as far as the law is concerned, none of us have a "right" to live where we please. No one has any inherent right to buy from someone who does not wish to have him in his home.

The problem of discrimination is not a legal problem but a moral one, and as such cannot be solved entirely by legislative means. A distinction must be made between those rights which it is the proper function of law to define and maintain, and those which, however "natural," can only be worked out on an educational, interpersonal level.

The solution does not lie in pursuing all possible means to the end. In attempting to deal with such a problem in this manner, government is overstepping its bounds, trampling on both our constitutional system and the rights of the other parties involved.

Those of us who dare see that there is another side to the problem of discrimination are not shirking our responsibility as Mr. Kindman suggests.

Rather we realize that the purpose of our government is to protect the interests of not just the minority nor of just the majority, but of the entire community. Yet it must be realized that the constitutional rights of the many cannot be sacrificed to the interests of the few--however admirable their cause.

Blood Lust Or Patriotism?

To the Editor:

In Thursday's State News, the columnist attributes a statement to Wesley Fishel which is glaringly quoted out of context. Following a paragraph concerning a standing ovation for Thomas Greer by "about 30 persons," it reads: "After that, I'm not sure whether to address you as Members of the Madmen's Society or Future Beasts of America."

As it stands, the sentence is misleading and rather meaningless to anyone who did not attend the discussion.

If the reporter had been less intent upon counting the number of persons applauding Greer, he would have noted that Fishel's comment referred to a point made by Greer in a highly emotional soliloquy in which he portrayed a large segment of American youth as a band of blood thirsty anti-Communists who could not wait to dive into the ecstasy of battle --to bayonet Viet Cong, to napalm bomb innocent villagers, to bag their first victim.

Fishel's introductory remarks alluded to these most interesting comments which unfortunately were not noted by the press.

On Hannah's Commitment To Housing

Dear Dr. Hannah:

It is surprising that you are taking an apathetic stand on the open housing problem existing in our community. The position that you are adhering to is not expected of a community, state and national leader. It is true that you are an individual with a single vote, however, you are a president of an American university.

A person of your stature should realize the impact that your words and actions have on the people of your community and state. You are in a unique situation as president of Michigan State University to correct the social problems of racial discrimination.

Now that I have stated your position as being the spokesman for Michigan State University and representing the pillar of American education, may I remind you that you have been the national chairman of the Civil Rights Commission.

Although you are not a resident of the state of Mississippi, you conducted hearings regarding the unpleasant racial situation in that state. Would you not be more effective in conducting these hearings, if under your leadership the unpleasant racial situation was corrected in your community.

You said you declined to use your position in regards to the East Lansing housing problem. Would you also not agree with me that democracy and racial understanding should start from the top and when the leaders of each community set the example, others will follow.

Hopefully, you will change your stand, use your influence and express your dedication, not by words but by direct action, and with leadership for open housing in East Lansing.

A Real Nice Clambake

To the Editor:

In hundreds of newspapers across the world you can find every day stories of rape, robbery and rebellion committed by today's "teenager."

Friday evening we watched the floats and listened to the dialogue presented by the students of MSU. The hard work, the resourcefulness and thought behind each presentation was easily discerned. This is the real "teen" --the one who will hold the reins of tomorrow.

We're not worried. They'll do just fine.

To the Editor:

Let's be fair to the BBC, whose international broadcasts are probably the most objective, least distorted of all that fill the world's airways.

The headline (May 12) says, "Poles Feel The BBC Distorts U.S. Image." This doesn't fit the story, which begins, "Many Poles listen to the BBC and the Voice of America, they feel that Radio Free Europe distorts the news..." The latter is a private anti-Communist organization unconnected with either the Voice or BBC.

Russell: Use A-Bomb--Maybe

Russell

ATLANTA--Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said Thursday the United States should use the atomic bomb in Viet Nam if Chinese Communists invade the country in force.

The senator gave his views at a news conference held primarily to announce that he has recuperated from an attack of emphysema and that he will run for re-election in 1966.

"I don't think we should use nuclear weapons in Viet Nam unless the Chinese Communists come there in force," Russell said. "But if they do come in great numbers I would use as big a bomb as necessary to keep American troops from being overwhelmed."

Russia Blasts LBJ

MOSCOW--The Soviet Union, in one of its harshest attacks on President Johnson, rejected Thursday his bid to ease tensions. "No one should expect that it is possible to interfere in the internal affairs of independent states, provoke armed conflicts here and there, commit acts of aggression against the socialist countries and at the same time talk about some kind of agreements with the Soviet Union and about 'ending tensions'," a Soviet statement said.

Government May Sue To Desegregate

Humphrey

NEW YORK--Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Thursday night the government will sue to desegregate Southern school districts which fail to meet federal requirements even if they elect to forego federal aid.

"In reality the choice is simply this: To continue receiving federal aid and desegregate or to sacrifice federal aid and desegregate anyway," the vice president said in a major speech on administration civil rights action.

Humphrey's speech was prepared for delivery at a dinner honoring the late Herbert H. Lehman.

China's Bomb Not H-Bomb

WASHINGTON--The United States said Thursday that Red China's latest nuclear weapons test did not involve an H-bomb type device. It also termed "implausible" any thought that the device exploded last Thursday was missile-delivered.

But the government's first announced analysis of the character of the test immediately prompted unofficial, but knowledgeable, speculation that the test put the Chinese Communists on the road to developing an H-bomb in two to three years.

Kennedy Backs Firearm Bill

Kennedy

WASHINGTON--Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, whose life was completely changed by a $12.75 rifle which killed his brother, appealed Thursday for a federal gun control bill to "wipe this stain of violence from our land."

Kennedy appeared before the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee in support of a bill by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., that would put strict controls on the sale of mail-order firearms and curb importation into the United States of surplus military weapons from other nations.

Indian Team Scales Everest

NEW DELHI--An Indian team Thursday reached the summit of Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain, the government announced. A spokesman said the two men who reached the peak tied an Indian flag to a pole left there by American climbers in 1963.

Their feat, which drew congratulations from President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, may be the last of its kind for many years, at least from the 29,028-ft. mountain's non-Communist side. Nepal has barred future attempts to all foreigners.

School Board Salary Accepted

SOUTH BEND--The South Bend Federation of Teachers, which conducted a four-day "boycott" of public schools last week, Wednesday accepted a school board salary schedule for next year. Union President George Bull said the schedule was accepted "with extreme reluctance."

The pay scale, providing starting salaries of $5,200 for beginning teachers, was the same one offered by the school board a week ago Monday.

Panhel Presents Awards
To Outstanding Greeks

Panhellenic Council presented two top awards to outstanding women this week. The awards are the Foreign Student Scholarship and the award for the graduating Greek woman with the highest grade point average.

The high grade point award winner is Sue Korpi, Wakefield senior and Kappa Alpha Theta, with a 3.81 average.

Sue has earned majors in music and German and a minor in education in her three years.

at MSU. Within her music major, she has a dual major in voice and piano.

She is a member of six honoraries: Alpha Lambda Delta, Tower Guard, Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honoraries; Delta Omicron and Phi Kappa Alpha, music honoraries, and Kappa Omicron Pi, education honorary. Sue plans to enter the University of Pennsylvania graduate school this summer.

The 10th annual $750 Panhellenic Foreign Student Scholarship was awarded Wednesday to Soo Ja Cho, MSU senior and chemistry major.

She is from Seoul, Korea, and has been in the United States for seven months. Although she has senior standing, she will remain at MSU for two more years to receive her B.S.

Soo attended Ewha Women's University in Seoul and claims that MSU is the first coed school she has attended.

She is the oldest of six children

Trackmen Installed Big Ten Favorite

By ROBERTA YAFIE
State News Sports Writer

With a 2-0 dual meet record tucked snugly under their arms, the Spartan track team hit the road for Iowa City in an attempt to come up with their first championship win.

Since 1901, when the first official track standings were compiled, Michigan State has never been at the top of the list in the conference. The best finish the Spartans have been able to achieve was the runner-up slot in 1951, their first season as members of the Big Ten.

Last year, they wound up fourth, with 22 points, behind Big Ten champ Wisconsin, which tallied 64. Michigan and Illinois finished ahead of the Spartans. From their initial outing in the Ohio Relays, Coach Fran Dittich has pointed his team in Iowa's direction, and it looks as though his guiding will pay off in large dividends.

Times have shown a steady downward trend, as evidenced by the records set. With exceptional strength in the hurdle and some of the running departments, State can carry the ball through to the final wire.

The '65 indoor season saw State lose the title to the Badgers by the meager margin of 46-45 1/2. During the winter campaign, the Spartans began a record-breaking tradition that has followed them through the outdoor season and is mainly responsible for them being tabbed the odds-on favorite.

Four of the 16 men who made the trip are conference indoor champs. Gene Washington earned the 70 lows title. Keith Coates took the mile crown, Jim Garrett finished first in the long jump and the 300 went to Das Campbell.

Outdoors, these men have been just as impressive. Washington holds the field (37.6), varsity (36.8) and meet records against Ohio State (37.6) and Notre Dame (38.0) in the 330 intermediate hurdles.

In the 120 highs, he's tied the Notre Dame meet mark (14.3) and with the wind at his back was clocked at 14.1 against Ohio State. That unofficial time better the field mark of 14.2. Last week's 98-43 trouncing of Notre Dame provided the cinder-men with more honors. Jan Bowen set a new meet record in the mile at 4:11.6, while Campbell tied the 440 meet mark of 1:47.4.

Triple honors went to Mike Bowers in the high jump. He cleared the bar at 6'7 1/2" for new varsity, field and meet marks. In the Big Ten standings, that jump puts him in second place behind Holden of Wisconsin, who's jumped 6'8 3/4".

Along with these men in their respective events, Coach Fran Dittich has Washington in the mile relay along with Bob Steele, Clint Jones, Campbell and Coates. Steele and Jones will also go in the two hurdle events. Coates will be running in the 880 and will team up with Bowen and Mike Kaines for the mile. Kaines and Bowen are also slated to go in the two mile with George Balthrop and Paul McCollam.

Another entry in the 120 highs is Fred McKay, who is set for the high jump as well. Long of 47.4. jumper Jim Garrett will join Jim Summers and Norm Sinclair in the 100. That trio will be running the 220 as well with Campbell.

The shot and discus have Tom Herbert going for the Spartans, rounding out the competition. Dittich has no entries in the pole vault or 660.

Today's events, starting at 3 p.m., include preliminaries in the hurdle and running events, with semi-finals to be held if necessary.

Saturday's competition wraps things up with the remaining field events and hurdle and race finals. The mile relay will wind up the day.

AT BIG TEN MEET

Netters Qualify 5 Of 6

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. -- Michigan State's tennis team roared through the first round of the Big Ten meet here today, taking five of six singles matches and sweeping all of the doubles to come within one point of third place in the conference.

The Spartans, entering the meet with 49 points, left the courts with a 76 total, in hot pursuit of third-place Northwestern. Indiana still leads the pack with 94 points, and the University of Michigan is second with 93.

Captain Charlie Wolff defeated Ron Keith of Minnesota, 6-1, 6-1 in No. 2 singles, while No. 3 man Laird Warner dumped Rick Wurzel, 6-2, 7-5.

Jim Phillips, State's No. 4 singles, whipped

Tom Mansfield of Northwestern, 6-4, 6-3. Vic Dhooge, No. 5 singles, stopped Bruce Brodie of Purdue, 6-1, 6-1 and also beat Chuck Nicholson of Minnesota in another match, 6-4, 7-5.

No. 6 man Mike Youngs defeated Len Engleberg of Purdue, 6-2, 6-0 and then repeated the performance against Roger Freeman of Northwestern, 6-2, 6-0.

In doubles matches, Dwight Shelton and Wolff beat Dave Lamon and Bucky Byrne of Ohio State, 6-1, 9-7, while the No. 2 doubles team of Phillips and Dhooge handed Geoff Gluck and Wulf Schwerdtfeger of Wisconsin a 6-2, 6-4 setback. Warner and Youngs beat Jim Stratford and Engleberg of Purdue, 6-2, 6-2.

BIG TEN GOLF CHANCES SLIM

'S' Pipe Dream Can Go Up In Smoke

By JOE MITCH
State News Sports Writer

After ending a dual meet campaign on a bitter note, John Brotzmann is hoping that his fledgling golfers can sample the sweet fruits of success when they meet the Spartans in the Big Ten championships at Lafayette.

Broetzmann closed out his worst season as golf coach in his five years as the Spartans' mentor. State wound up the season with a 27-stroke loss to Michigan last Monday, 530-557, bringing the conference mark to 4-12 and the season's total to 4-14.

Broetzmann's teams have registered a 44-36-2 overall mark. If this year's squad lands in the conference cellar, his career average will dip below .500.

Last spring, the Spartans finished with a 7-12 record and a seventh-place standing in the conference.

Steady performances must be turned in by the number five and six players if the Spartans are to finish high in the meet. Scores in the high 80's by these men have been responsible, in part, for State's downward progress.

Sophomore Sandy McAndrew will hold down the number five spot while Mike Biber will handle the chores in the sixth position. Other Spartans to make the trip are Doug Swartz, Doug Hankey and Fred Mackey.

Purdue, the defending champ, is expected to retain its crown. Top threats to the Boilermakers will be posed by Indiana and Ohio State.

Although the season has been a dismal one for the team, there have been some individual bright spots. Ken Benson, a junior from Crete, Ohio, is the lone Spartan in possible contention for individual honors.

Benson has been averaging in the middle 70's for the season, his best performance coming in a five-team tourney at Forest Akers Golf Course. In that meet, he one-putted his way to scores of 75 and 72 for a 36-hole average of 147.

Against Michigan, Benson tied with Buck Morrison for the lowest Spartan score. With rounds of 40 and 37, he finished with a 77 for 18 holes while Morrison, a first-year junior on the squad, had scores of 36 and 41.

Judo, Stickers Home; Ruggers On The Road

This weekend will be a busy one for the lacrosse, rugby and judo clubs, with two of the three teams playing at home.

The lacrosse club faces Notre Dame at 2 p.m., Saturday on Old College Field. On the season the stickmen stand fourth in the Midwest Association with an 8-6 record. They met the Irish once before at South Bend, winning that contest 14-9.

Coach Paul Caldwell plans to initiate a new offense which he hopes will put his squad back on the winning track. The plan will take some of the pressure off his ace star Steve Harrington, who is second in conference scoring with an average of four points per game.

The ruggers have had their troubles this season, winning only twice in nine starts. The club will be traveling to Ontario to face the Sarnia rugby team. Warren Pughon is expected to line up to give the Spartans added strength. The Men's IM Arena will be the site of the Invitational Judo Tournament, slated to get under way at noon Saturday. Clubs will come from Ohio State, Michigan, Detroit, Flint and Grand Rapids.

Both women and men will compete. The women will be entered in belt classes--white, green and brown--while the men will be entered in combined belt-weight categories. The two weight classes are below 165 and over 165. The belt classes are the same for men and women.

There will be five-minute matches with two-minute overtime periods. Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each division.

Batsmen Chase Leaders In Title Showdown

By DUANE LANCASTER
State News Sports Writer

Spark plugs, Firestone tires, and Offenhauser engines consume most of the sports talk currently, but three Big Ten schools are concerned with more than auto racing this weekend.

Ohio State, the University of Michigan and Michigan State will battle down to the wire today and Saturday in a race of their own. To the victor go the spoils—in this case the Big Ten baseball title, plus the right to represent the Big Ten in the upcoming NCAA tournament.

Second-place Michigan (9-3) meets league-leading Ohio State (8-2) today, then the third-place Spartans (8-4) follow the Wolverines into Columbus for a Saturday doubleheader. In between the Wolves and MSU both get a crack at Indiana, with the Spartans facing the Hoosiers in a single game today, and Michigan scheduled for a twin-bill with Indiana Saturday.

The MSU-Hoosier contest will be carried on radio by WKAR-AM (870 k.c.) this afternoon at 3:30. Lack of broadcast facilities will prevent play-by-play of Saturday's Buckeye games, but telephone reports will be carried at 4, 4:45 and 5:30 p.m.

Just about anything can happen in this closing weekend of a hectic conference season.

Coach Marty Karow's Bucks appear to be in the best position for the crown as a rain-out doubleheader with Minnesota earlier in the season gives them a better won-lost percentage. Still Michigan could grab off first place by beating OSU today and taking two from Indiana Saturday. Then, even if Ohio State takes both games from the Spartans, the Wolverines would claim the title.

The Spartans would claim the title.

MIDWEST OPEN HERE

Rowers Would Rather Root

By RICK PIANIN
State News Sports Writer

There is a strong possibility that one of the five entries in the Michigan State crew club's second annual Midwest Open this weekend will be watching the race proceedings from along the shore lines—namely MSU.

The races will be held Saturday afternoon at Grand River Park, adjoining the Lansing Boat Club from 1-4 at Charlotte Road. State's club is trying to muster up enough rowers to enter a nine-crew in the competition, which will feature entries from the Notre Dame crew, the Detroit, Ecorse and Wyandott Boat Clubs. This puts crew in a rather embarrassing spot, since the other clubs have gone to the trouble and expense of supplying all the necessary equipment for the affair, while host MSU is having difficulty merely supplying its own rowing team.

Club representatives claim that the shortage of man power is due to lack of interest caused by insufficient funds and publicity.

Racing events will include the singles, doubles, fours and eight-man boat races. Should State

Renaissance Meeting Set

The annual North Central Renaissance Conference will be held at 10 a.m. starting today and will continue through Saturday at Kellogg Center.

The conference is for those interested in the Renaissance as a period in history. Political scientists, artists, historians and literary people will attend.

1961, and the Buckeyes last took the honors in 1955.

The Spartans have already snapped off more victories this season, than any other State team in history. State nipped Western Michigan Tuesday night 3-2 to record their 27th win, against eight losses.

Litwhiler will stick with the same lineup that has piled up so many decisions in the win column. Bill Steckley (.246) and Dick Kilbourn (.278) will share the catching duties. Steve Juday, the Spartan's second leading hitter at .359, will get the call at first base over Howard Miller.

Jerry Walker, who has battered conference pitching at a .447 pace, will start at second. Shortstop will be handled by senior Bruce Pettibone, who as a .265 hitting average. Hard hitting third baseman John Biedenbach heads the Spartan batter with a .419 mark.

Biedenbach needs only one hit to set an all time base-hit record. The left-hand hitting junior has knocked out 54 hits in 129 bats, including 12 doubles for an all-time high in that department.

Bob Maniere (.277), Bob Speer (.298) and Dick Billings (.287) will man the outfield post.

Litwhiler is optimistic about the Spartan chances at the crown because "we got a good ball club that wants to win it."

Intergroup Relations Conference Slated

George Johnson of the MSU College of Education, and former member of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, will give the keynote address at the Michigan Conference on Intergroup Relations at Kellogg Center today and Saturday.

More than 250 Michigan school and college people--teachers, principals, superintendents, guidance personnel, curriculum directors, board members and teacher educators--are expected to take part in the two-day meet.

Elizabeth Cole, former chief of the education of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, will also speak at the conference, the theme of which is "Education for an Integrating Society."

Concurrent discussion groups will consider curriculum, classroom organization and grouping and school climate. A student panel will point up experiences in integrated and segregated schools.

Problems of intergroup relations materials in textbooks will be reviewed by Norman Drachler, assistant superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools and a representative of the American Textbook Publishers Institute.

Jaycees Slate Car Belt Clinic

The Lansing Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Seat Belt Clinic Saturday and Sunday at Frandor shopping center.

Rodger Schaefer, president of the Lansing Jaycees, said that last year the Jaycees installed over 650 seat belts.

This year they will emphasize the installation of seat belts in the back seats of autos, he said.

He Got His 'Kicks' In Hospital

John M. Williamson, Selinsgrove, Pa., freshman, was taken to Sparrow Hospital Wednesday afternoon with cuts on his arms and leg.

According to campus police, Williamson cut himself when he kicked a fourth-floor fire door in Bryan Hall and broke the glass in the door.

Thefts of money from different dorms reported to campus police in the last 24 hours total $90.

Kenneth Johnsen, Houston, Tex., sophomore and Richard Grow, Taylor sophomore, reported the loss of $31 from their room in North Wonders. Arthur Erickson and Barry Bly, both Kalamazoo freshmen, reported a loss of $18 from their room in South Case.

Ronald Bernt, New Haven freshman, lost $12 from his room in South Case. David Monrie, Birmingham sophomore, also lost $12 from his room in North Wonders.

Robert Apisa, Honolulu, Hawaii, freshman, lost $9 from his room in North Wonders. Laima Rastenis, Detroit freshman, lost $8 from her room in Butterfield Hall.

A limestone rabbit is missing from the rear of Kresge Art Center. The sculpture, valued at $25, is twice the size of a grown rabbit.

China-U.S. Policy Based On Myth--Lee

"Foreign policy reflects the people and mentality of a country," Joseph Lee, professor of American thought and language, told a group at the Union Wednesday night.

Speaking on "Sino-American Diplomacy: Cultural Contrast," Lee based the diplomacy of China and the United States on a myth.

While both countries share a myth of a universal nation, the U.S. follows a messianic approach while China believes superior power will radiate and attract.

China's present foreign policy is based on this myth and the task to enhance nationalism, Lee said.

This war for justice of humanity reflects the colonialism and imperialism in China's past. China's transcendental philosophy treats all counterparts as equals, he said.

Her foreign policy may be broken into three parts, Lee said: present reflection of herself, a laissez-faire attitude towards other countries' conversion towards her ideas and a cordial diplomacy towards helping other countries if her help is wanted.

Man's persuasiveness is a vital factor in foreign policy and is more effective than war, planes and ships.

Faith, hope and charity distinguishes man, Lee said, and they must be guarded well.

Science Lab To Be Built In Okemos

MSU's scientific talent may be put to good use as a result of the Owens-Illinois, Inc. decision to locate a major research plant in Okemos.

Gov. George Romney said Tuesday that the new 10,000 square foot science research laboratory here will provide that industry with an opportunity to use the broad facilities and scientific talent of the MSU community.

"Michigan needs more new industry to absorb an ever increasing over-supply of scientific and technical talent leaving state institutions of higher learning each year," the governor said.

Milton E. Muelder, MSU vice president in charge of industrial research development, led a delegation of MSU representatives in the ground-breaking ceremonies held Tuesday.

Regional director of Owens-Illinois, J.M. Teague, announced that Barnett Rosenberg, professor of biophysics, will serve as a consultant to the new installation and its staff.

Owens-Illinois, Inc. spent $21 million on research last year. The company is a major manufacturer of glass, plastics and forest products.

Zeta Tau Alpha Rush Attracts 51 Pledges

A unique rush for Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity and Pan-Hellenic Councils culminated in the pledging of 51 women.

The rush, which took place at the ZTA house at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, included 100 women, invited back for closed rush.

To wind up a busy week, activities and new pledges will have a social function with Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity today, a Hawaiian luau at the chapter house Saturday, and a picnic at Grand Woods on Monday.

The women will be activated and given their sorority pins Wednesday.

by Jim Steffanoff, president of IFC, and Linda Windslow, vice president of Pan-Hel Council.

Interviews of rushees began in the Student Services building between 6-9 p.m. Sunday. Rush continued all day Monday. A final social get-together at the ZTA house at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday included 100 women, invited back for closed rush.

The 51 women were pledged Wednesday, followed by a serenade of the house by Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity.

Events leading up to formal pledging began May 16 when a tea, attended by about 300 women, took place. Talks on the advantages of Greek life were given north was made by 25 U.S. Air Force Thunderchiefs. Acting on behalf of Saigon's information ministry, they dropped a half million leaflets in the Ninh Binh area, 55 miles south of Hanoi, calling on the Communists to drop "their aggression and sabotage in South Viet Nam" or face more disastrous consequences.

Addressing North Vietnamese servicemen, the pamphlets said: "Our brothers in the army of North Viet Nam, don't let the Chinese and Vietnamese Communists use your bones and blood to wage a fratricidal war in South Viet Nam."

The spokesman said the Thunderchiefs on this mission made the closest approach to Hanoi of the air campaign. The closest announced bombing raid was an attack April 3 on a river bridge 65 miles south of the capital.

dominion over the atom

Man will never really conquer the atom until he conquers his fear of the atom -- his fear of annihilation. He needs a spiritual understanding of himself, of the universe, and of God. ## Art Projects Exhibit Needed For Degrees

The graduate student exhibition in Kresge Art Gallery is a show of streamlined forms that speak motion in painting, collage, sculpture, industrial design and bas-relief.

The second of two graduate shows, the exhibition is part of the requirement for a master of arts degree in the applied arts. The exhibition includes in its sweep the white and yellow sketchy paintings of Richard Graham, Midland graduate student, and the foreboding mauve tones in "Cave Dwellers in an Atomic Age," a painting by Armilde Kivilaan, East Lansing graduate student.

It takes in the motion-filled agonizing religious bas-relief works of John Scott, New Orleans, La., graduate student, and designs for a torsion spring chair, a car and a cooler-bar.

The massive forms of sculpture and carving dominate the exhibition. "Queen's Chair," carved from a tree trunk, by Gil Peterson, Spring Lake graduate student, curves upward as tall as a man.

Steve Bergman Trio And All That Jazz

If the success of a musical combo depends on coordination, the Steve Bergman Trio has solved the problem. They not only practice together, they live, work and study together in a house that is both home and business office.

Over a year ago Butch Bamber, South Bend, Ind., junior, sat in on drums at a jam session with pianist Mike Cogley, Port Huron senior, and bass player Steve Bergman, Brooklyn, N.Y., senior. The Steve Bergman Trio gave its first performance.

Since then the combo has played for term parties and campus organizations, appeared at Jack Tar Hotel, Coral Gables and the Walnut Hills Country Club, and has taped a segment for WMSB-TV's "Polygon."

Through the efforts of Bergman and the Trio, jazz musicians will gather at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Golf-O-Tron to swing into a jam session that is open to the public. The proceeds the musicians will

'Figaro' Is The End Product Of Series Of Productions

The performance of "The Marriage of Figaro" at 8 p.m. tonight in the Auditorium is for the students and faculty in the departments of speech and music the summit of a four-year series of musical productions.

Since the presentation of "Kismet" in 1961, the two departments have been working toward an operatic production, Frank Rutledge, instructor in speech and staging director, said.

"We didn't feel we had the singers to tackle opera until about a year ago," he said. Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," Rutledge remarked, best suited the type of talent in the Music Department.

"The Marriage of Figaro" is one of the most elegant, entertaining and satiric operas in repertoire," Gomer Jones, professor of music and musical director, said. "It is a wise comment on the human comedy."

Next year the departments of music and speech will return to musical comedy for their joint production with "West Side Story." After that they will alternate an operatic production with musical comedy every other year.

Campus Weekend

Wonders Term Party Tonight

Wonders Hall will hold its annual spring term party tonight in the cafeteria.

"Somewhere" is the theme of the party which will include a buffet supper and a semi-formal dance. White dinner jackets are optional.

Tickets are $3 per couple which covers the supper and dance favors.

The dance will start at 8:30 p.m. and will continue to midnight. The Johnny James Quartet will provide the music.

Instead of the usual term party dance, Case Hall will have a hall picnic for the first time this year. The outdoor picnic will be held Saturday in Potters Park starting at 2 p.m.

Activities and games are scheduled for the afternoon. At 5 p.m. supper will be served which will be followed by a dance that will last till 10:30 p.m. Regular hours for supper in the cafeteria will remain the same for residents who will not be attending the picnic.

Africa-A-Go-Go

Africa-A-Go-Go is the theme of Montie House co-op's spring term party, to be held Saturday night at the house, 548 M.A.C.

Music for the event will be furnished by the Bill Black band. Intermission entertainment will be provided by a special Montie House group, "The Lemmons TWEE"—Jim Hoopfer, Tom Grein and Mike Skok.

Program Marks

Israel's Freedom

A program commemorating the 17th anniversary of Israel's independence will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Union Ballroom.

The program will include Israeli Folk Songs by Samuel Alpert and dances by Mike Kugel and his group.

The celebration is intended to give everyone a chance to congratulate the State of Israel and her citizens on this anniversary.

There is no admission charge.

midnight Saturday. The band will be the High-Lighters, and the theme will be Kawai Katomi—"Lovely Memory."

Committee chairmen are Ann Mills, Nancy Dodge, Beth Ann Blass and Kady Graves.

Yugoslavian Experts Here

A delegation of Yugoslavian farm experts are touring southwest Michigan at the invitation of James W. Butcher, professor of entomology at MSU.

Butcher visited Yugoslavia last year to study cereal leaf data. The delegation, headed by Jozc Ingolic, secretary of agriculture and forestry, is studying efforts to combat a local invasion of cereal leaf beetles.

The beetles have caused quarantine of several southwest Michigan and northwest Indiana counties over the past several years. The Department of Agriculture has sprayed the area. This includes 400,000 acres in Berrien County and areas in nearby counties.

Case Square Dance

An all-University square dance will be held from 8 to 11 tonight in the Case Hall multi-purpose rooms. Admission is free.

No previous knowledge of square, round or folk dancing is necessary as members of the MSU Promenaders will be present to instruct.

This dance is co-sponsored by the Promenaders and the Case Hall Social Committee.

Education Corps Picnic

The Student Education Corps will hold a picnic behind Jensen Fieldhouse Sunday afternoon for volunteers and invited guests.

All volunteers who have not yet replied should call the office at 355-8307 today.

The Steve Bergman Combo will entertain.
