Polls Favor Labor In British Election

LONDON (UPI)--Britain votes today in a new Parliament amid indications that Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor Government will be returned to power with the largest majority since the labor landslide following World War II.

Public opinion polls, the national press and London book makers predicted a Labor majority over the combined Conservative and Liberal parties of up to 200 seats in the 630-seat House of Commons. Labor gained a 200 seat majority in the 1945 post-war election that stunningly dumped Sir Winston Churchill from the premiership.

Such a margin would give Wilson, Britain's most popular premier since Churchill's wartime glory, the strength to press ahead with the socialist-based economic and welfare policies which his previous three-vote majority government was unable to do. It could also give Britain stable government for a full five years and the Labor Party the longest consecutive period of control in its 60-year history.

About 75 per cent of the nation's 36 million registered voters were expected to mark ballots during the 14-hour--7 a.m. to 9 p.m. (1 a.m. EST to 3 p.m. EST)--voting period.

Some observers predicted such a landslide for Labor that even opposition Conservative leader Edward Heath's Parliamentary seat--which he won by a scant four per cent in the October 1964 general election--might be in jeopardy.

Whatever the result, Britain's 44th Parliament of modern times will reassemble at historic Westminster Palace beside the River Thames on April 18 and Queen Elizabeth will formally open the new session three days later.

As zero hour approached, leaders of the two major parties and the third-running Liberal party made last minute pleas for support in "marginal" areas where even the slightest swing could send a new man to parliament.

Wilson whistle-stopped his way north to his Labor stronghold of Huyton, Liverpool, for a hometown rally. The other leaders also quit national electioneering for election even appearances in their local constituencies--Heath in suburban Bexley and Liberal leader Jo Grimond in the Scottish Islands of Orkney and Shetland.

Draft Dodgers Arrested; Sold Bogus Credentials

Up To $5,000 For Phony Papers

New York (UPI)--The FBI began a roundup of 38 youths and fathers Wednesday on charges of dodging the draft by paying as much as $5,000 for bogus air force reserve credentials.

It was the biggest roundup of draft dodgers in the FBI's history. Federal agents announced the arrest of 33 of the indicted men within hours after raids began at dawn at homes in the New York area. Five more arrests were expected later.

Thirty-one men, including seven fathers, were arraigned in Brooklyn Federal Court Wednesday afternoon. Two others were arrested outside the jurisdiction of the court, one in Washington and one in Georgia.

The man in Georgia was identified as Robert J. Zambina of Valley Stream, N.Y., an enlistee serving in the army at Camp Gordon.

The crackdown resulted from the arrest earlier this year of an air force reservist who allegedly stole the documents and an accomplice who peddled them for an average price of $1,200. The FBI said one father had bought a bogus deferment for his son without the son's knowledge.

The FBI also announced arrests of five men in upstate New York, Ohio and Illinois on charges of employing similar methods to avoid the draft. The New York ring was not connected with these cases, a spokesman said.

The New York ring leaders were identified as Solomon Gottfried, 56, of Levittown, N.Y., and Paul George Miller, 28, of New York. They are free on bail pending grand jury action.

According to the district attorney's office, Gottfried obtained air force reserve credentials, called DD44 forms, while serving with a reserve unit at Mitchell Field. The papers were used to notify draft boards of individuals who joined the reserves, resulting in reclassification of the "reservist" from IA to a deferred status of ID.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Leonard J. Theberge said Miller, a department store credit authorizer, made contact with the youths and their parents and said Gottfried, a Civil Service Commission employee, received $200 for every form he completed and filed. Miller kept the balance of his fees, which ranged from $500 to $5,000.

Gottfried and Miller had been operating their draft dodging mill for a period of three years. They were found out, authorities said, when the Defense Department modified the DD44 forms without their knowledge and the pair continued to file the old forms.

Civil Rights War To Be Discussed

Left-wingers and churchgoers are finding that they have enough common goals, particularly concerning civil rights and the Viet Nam war, to talk to each other for two days here this weekend.

The conference, called "Encounter," begins at 8 a.m. Saturday and runs through Sunday night. Any student may attend for a $1 registration fee.

Sponsors of the conference include the Wesley (Methodist) Foundation, United Campus Christian Fellowship, Channing-Murray Fellowship (Unitarian-Universalist), Students for Democratic Society and Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

They say that "although participating persons and groups do not necessarily share any common allegiance or viewpoints, there is a mutuality of concern related to the basic social issues of our time."

Speakers include a full-time co-ordinator, between the National Student Christian Federation, a loose organization of religious groups, and Students for a Democratic Society.

Also coming will be the editors of "Liberation" and "Free Student" magazines, area ministers and representatives from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Persons from the University of Michigan and Kalamazoo, Albion and Alma colleges, as well as MSU, are expected to attend. All sessions except two will be held in the Union Building Parlors.

The schedule is as follows:

Saturday, 8 a.m., registration; 9 a.m., Dave Dellinger, editor of "Liberation" magazine, "Critique of the Great Society"; Viet Nam, A Case Study; 10 a.m., Respondents; "Reflections on Crises in the Great Society"--Rev. Paul Light, Ecumenical Center, Ann Arbor; Tom Smith, Channing-Murray, East Lansing; Father Joseph Walsh, Newman Center, Wayne State University. Saturday, 2-5 p.m.--"War and Peace," A. Conscientious Objectors and Pacifism--Ronald Young, Fellowship of Recognition; B. Disarmament--Dave Dellinger, editor, "Liberation"

City Mayor Testifies At Trial

By BOBBY SODEN
State News Staff Writer

The issue of open occupancy in East Lansing and the right to assemble arose Wednesday in the trial of Marlene Deutsch, former MSU student, with the testimony of Mayor Gordon L. Thomas.

The trial, which continued for seven hours in City Hall, was highlighted by the testimonies of several police officers and Thomas.

The selection of the six-member jury was completed at 10:30 a.m. Previously-formed opinions had disqualified many potential jurors Tuesday.

Miss Deutsch is charged with blocking traffic, in violation of a city ordinance. She was one of 56 civil rights demonstrators participating in a sit-in last May in front of City Hall.

Thomas testified that, at the time of the demonstration, he had read aloud to the demonstrators a copy of the city ordinance and (continued on page 9)

Students Protest Sentences

By LEO ZAINEA
State News Staff Writer

About a dozen shivering students, bundled in layers of quilts and blankets, staged a combined sit-in and hunger strike in front of Cowles House Wednesday urging the release of four jailed demonstrators.

John Burns, a spokesman for the group, said they planned to stay in front of President Hannah's home until "all students are released."

The students were protesting Circuit Court Judge Marvin J. Salmon's action Tuesday which denied the four the right to be released on bail pending an appeal to the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The four, Howard Harrison, Albert Halprin, James J. Dukarm, and Fred Janvin III, were sentenced by Salmon for "trespassing and interfering with the normal flow of traffic" in Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon.

Harrison and Halprin were sentenced to 30 days in Ingham County jail, while Dukarm and Janvin received 10-day sentences. Dukarm is the only MSU student of those sentenced.

Burns said that Hannah, as president of MSU, is "definitely involved" in the issue and should use his "influence" to free the prisoners on bail.

Michigan State is the complaining witness in the trial.

Under Michigan law, if an individual serves his sentence he cannot later appeal it to a higher court. Thus, with all the paperwork needed for an appeal to appellate court, plus the time it takes the court for a decision (continued on page 8)

ASMSU Student Board Changes Operations Policy

By LAUREL PRATT
State News Staff Writer

ASMSU Student Board adopted three major changes in its Operations Code Tuesday night.

Under an amendment adopted at the meeting, the comptroller of ASMSU was moved out of the cabinet structure to a position in which he will be responsible only to the Student Board. The comptroller was formerly part of the financial system under the vice president for operations and finance.

The amendment provides that the comptroller shall be appointed by the Student Board from open petitioning and interview. A representative of the University Department of Accounting and Financial Administration will be among the interviewers. The comptroller may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Board.

The comptroller's responsibilities will include receiving the budget requests of all ASMSU offices and reporting them to the Board; reviewing the requests and recommending a budget for the next term; overseeing budgeted expenditures; signing financial documents; and reporting overspending.

He will present an itemized list of financial documents to the Board every other week, close and balance the books by the date of the spring term general election.

An independent audit of ASMSU books is to be enacted between the election of members-at-large and the time when the new comptroller takes office.

A second amendment created the position of Secretary of ASMSU, who is to be appointed by the Chairman of ASMSU and approved by a majority of Student Board. He may be removed by the chairman at his discretion.

The secretary will be responsible for inter-university correspondence; official ASMSU correspondence; publication of an ASMSU newsletter; advising and adding in the design of major ASMSU news releases; public relations affairs; and the mechanics of all petitioning for ASMSU vacancies.

This amendment creates a position totally new to the ASMSU structure. The secretary, according to the proponents of the (continued on page 13)

Roy Says Trigger Died Last July

Hollywood (UPI)--Trigger is dead.

Movie cowboy Roy Rogers announced Wednesday that his equine co-star died of old age last July 3. He hesitated to reveal the news, fearing the loss would shock Trigger fans around the world.

So fond was Rogers of the big palomino that he is having him stuffed and mounted for a projected western museum at the singer-actor's resort in Apple Valley, Calif.

"After old Trigger passed away I just couldn't bury him," Rogers said emotionally.

University Enrolls 31,000

Preliminary figures show that 31,000 students enrolled on the campus for spring term, Registrar Horace C. King said Wednesday.

Of those who were registered at the close of the regular registration period Tuesday, 17,650 had completed early registration during winter term finals week.

A number of students who arrived at the Men's I.M. after the close of registration Tuesday were given a reserved time to begin late registration, King said.

The reserved time was stamped on the back of the student's permit to register. These students will not be charged late registration fees, he said.

Late registration began Wednesday morning and will continue through Tuesday.

Students registering late should report to 107 Administration Building with their permit to register and their section reservation-enrollment card.

Students may also reserve time for late registration by having their permit to register stamped at 107 Administration Building.

Those students who reserve times to register late, other than those who had their permits to register stamped Tuesday evening, will be charged late registration fees, King said.

Drops, Adds To Be Friday 'Til Tuesday

Drops and adds begin Friday, and late registration or section changes within a course run through Tuesday.

Students dropping or adding courses should get the necessary approval signatures from their academic advisers or the adviser's representative and the department concerned, Registrar Horace C. King said.

Drops and adds which do not affect fees should be turned in at the registrar's tables in the lower level of the Auditorium Friday through Tuesday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Where fees are affected, students should go to 107 Administration Building.

"Tuesday is the last day for late registration, adding courses or changing sections," King said.

Courses may be dropped through April 12, he said. Drops may be turned in at 113 Administration Building after Tuesday.

Section changes may be completed within the office of the academic department concerned, King said.

The departments will then send the completed section change cards to the registrar's office.

"Drops, adds or change of sections in Health, Physical Education and Recreation courses will be processed in the appropriate physical education office in 230 Jantzen or 139 Women's Intramural Building," King said.

North Viets Ask Communist Support

MOSCOW (UPI)—Ho Chi Minh's right-hand man appealed to the Soviet Union and other Communist nations Wednesday to give North Viet Nam "every support" in its war against the United States.

Le Duan, first secretary of the North Vietnamese Communist Party, won a standing ovation from 5,000 delegates of world communism when he rose to address the second session of the 23rd Soviet Party Congress.

The North Vietnamese gave the Soviets a major triumph in the Sino-Soviet struggle by agreeing to attend the Congress even though Communist China scornfully rejected its invitation.

LBJ Requests Food For India

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson asked Congress Wednesday to endorse an emergency shipment of 3.5 million additional tons of food grains to India to help fight famine.

Johnson also urged other nations "which have either the food to offer or the means to buy food" to match the U.S. shipment.

The United States already has allotted 6.5 million tons of grain for hungry India in the current fiscal year. And Johnson said Indian officials estimate that an additional 6 to 7 million tons will be needed through next December.

The promise of additional grain to help meet the critical Indian food shortage—caused by backward farming methods and severe drought—was about the only substantial major commitment that the United States gave Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi during two days of talks here.

Star-Gazer Orbit Halted

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—An attempt to orbit the world's first star-gazing satellite was halted an instant after its rocket engines fired Wednesday, frustrating weary launch teams for the third time this week.

The three engines of the Atlas booster burst into life with a bright flash of flame at 3:16 p.m. EST and then quit a second later while the 117-foot vehicle remained anchored to its firing stand.

Cause of the malfunction was not known, but the launch of the 3,900-pound orbiting astronomical observatory (OAO) was expected to be delayed for at least several days.

French NATO Withdrawal Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—France has officially told the United States it will withdraw its forces from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's integrated military structure by July 1, 1966.

Simultaneously, France denounced the headquarters agreement affecting the Supreme Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe (SHAPE) and the Central European command (AFCENT), and requested that the American headquarters and "several" U.S. Army and Air Force installations be transferred out of France by April 1, 1967.

War Veteran Integrates All-White Police Force In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Negro Leroy Stover, an airborne veteran of the Korean War, yesterday was sworn in as a Birmingham policeman—desegregating the nation's largest all-white force.

"I feel proud and honored," Stover told United Press International at the police academy here where he received his uniform.

The local force, once commanded by staunch segregationist Eugene (Bull) Connor, had been the subject of constant criticism by civil rights organizations.

Dr. John Nixon, President of the Alabama Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called the action by the city "wonderful."

"It has been a long fight and the hiring of Stover on our police force could be considered as a major breakthrough in the lily-white system of Birmingham," Nixon said.

"However, the NAACP will take a wait and see position," he added. "It will be important to us to know if there are any limitations on Negro policemen."

Home-Based War Training Said No Defense Risk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said Wednesday there is no threat to the nation's security from use of the four home-based army divisions to train green troops.

The Pentagon acknowledged Tuesday that the Viet Nam war buildup had sapped the readiness of the home forces. The army has been forced to use the regular divisions for training new men as a result of the administration decision not to call up reserves.

McNamara was asked Wednesday by reporters if this was a threat to national security.

"Certainly not," he replied. "On the contrary, the national security is strengthened and enhanced" by the policy.

McNamara said, "We have said that four divisions are being used to train additional personnel we need to supply continued increases in personnel to South Viet Nam and for rotating the personnel now in South Viet Nam."

recruits and to meet needs in rotation of men for Viet Nam duty protects the reserve strength, he said.

Meanwhile Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., Chairman of the Senate Preparedness Committee, complained that McNamara assured Congress last summer that army divisions were ready to fight when they were actually far below authorized strength.

Stennis quoted McNamara as saying on Aug. 4, 1965, that all of the nation's 16 army divisions were "ready to go to combat." The four divisions now in question are part of that 16, he said.

The four involved are the 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions at Fort Hood, Tex.; the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo.

Stennis said McNamara was asked last August if the army divisions had "all they need," and replied that they did "without any qualification whatsoever."

"The investigation conducted by the Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee showed that at the time that statement was made one of the four U.S. Divisions was at barely 55 per cent authorized strength and another was barely more than 70 per cent of authorized strength," Stennis said.

"I am certain that the secretary had not been advised of the actual condition of these divisions when he made the statements quoted above," Stennis declared.

Stennis commented that army reserve and National Guard forces were set up to provide support units when the regular army is committed to combat.

"Because selected units of that type have not been called to active duty, these (four) divisions have been used, contrary to their intended purpose, as a personnel and equipment pool for units deploying to Viet Nam and as an expansion of the training base," he said.

Stennis, long a partisan of the reserve and National Guard, also commented that calling reserve training divisions to active duty for training duty "would have alleviated or reduced the problems which are now confronting us."

Nat Sci Fire Scare

East Lansing firemen were called to the Natural Science Building Wednesday afternoon to investigate a report of the smell of smoke.

Lt. Victor Gregg discovered nothing after a careful search of the building. Gregg stated faulty wiring as a possible cause of the alarm.

He described it as part of the Pentagon's program to "maintain a healthy reserve and guard as reserve forces."

The defense secretary said 350,000 men in nine reserve and guard divisions could be ready for active duty in 90 days if needed. Use of active divisions to train draftees and other new

Seaway To Open Friday

DETROIT (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway will open to daytime traffic Friday, the earliest starting date in its eight-year history, the Seaway Corp. said today.

That date coincides with the scheduled opening of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie. The corporation said the Welland Canal, between Lakes Erie and Ontario, will open April 4.

The earliest previous seaway opening date was April 8, accomplished in 1964 and 1965, a spokesman added.

Seaway Administrator Joseph H. McCann said he is confident of a record shipping season this year, with total tonnage possibly reaching 47 million.

He predicted the United States and Canada each would ship over 10 million tons of agricultural products. Last year Canada shipped nearly 9.5 million tons and the U.S. over 8 million.

"I am also looking for a sizeable increase over last season's 11.7 million tons of iron ore and 5.6 million tons of general cargo," McCann said, adding: "Altogether, it is not unlikely that we will go over last year's 43.4 million-ton total by 4 million tons unless, of course, there are unusual labor problems, crucial shortages of rail cars or other unusual conditions."

Michigan Roundup

After misfiring on one attempted compromise, the two chambers agreed to let a board of contractors, builders and tradesmen determine specific nature of the performance bonds.

The board also will determine size of bond for each licensee with limits of $2,000 to $10,000.

Counties which already license contractors will continue their programs through Aug. 31. Then the state program will take effect.

Licensing and bond-posting had been approved last year but contractors and bond underwriters complained of technical problems in getting bonds written.

TOP 'M', QUALIFY FOR NCAA'S

Spartan Gymnasts 2nd In Regionals

By ROBERTA YAFIE State News Sports Writer

The Spartan gymnasts took a step in the right direction March 18, placing second as a team in the NCAA Mid-East Regionals at Wheaton College and qualifying seven men in 11 categories for individual titles.

State topped Michigan, the Big Ten champ, while finishing behind Southern Illinois. The three teams will represent the region in the national collegiate meet Friday and Saturday at Penn State, vying for the team crown with nine other units.

Southern dominated the meet, totaling 191.00 and qualifying 11 men in 16 categories. Michigan qualified 10 men in 13 of the top eight spots.

Big Ten all-around champ Dave Thor totaled 53.85 to win the event and the opportunity to represent the region in the nationals. He nosed out SIU's Larry Lindauer, who had 51.45 and Gary VanderVoort of the Wolves, who totaled 51.0.

Frank Schmitz of SIU, defending NCAA floor exercise champ, led the event's qualifiers with a 9.55 score. Second was Thor at 9.25, followed by Brent Williams and Steve Whitlock of Southern, both at 9.2.

Paul Mayer of the Salukis scored 9.05 while teammate Lindauer, Phip Fuller of Michigan and Hal Shaw of Illinois completed the list at 9.0.

State's Ron Aure just missed the qualifying list, finishing ninth at 8.95 while John Rohs was 10th at 8.6 and Bill Diggins wound up 17th at 7.9.

Thor registered a sizzling 9.6 in side horse to lead the qualifiers. Mark Slotten of Iowa followed at 9.35, with Alan Curran of Mankato State scoring 9.3 and State's Dennis Smith hitting for a 9.25 mark.

Curt Hahn of Indiana State scored 9.2 while Wisconsin's Jerry Herter had a 9.15 mark. Bob Hoecherl of Minnesota scored 9.1, while Illinois' Jack Eliason at 9.05.

Spartan Captain Jim Curzi, working horse for the third time this year, was ninth with a 9.0 performance. Ted Wilson was 23rd at 7.4, with Jerry Moore 31st at 6.6.

Big Ten title - holder Wayne

Miller scored 9.7 in trampoline to lead the qualifiers. He was followed by Dale Hardt at 9.55, Hutch Dvorak at 9.2 and Brent Williams at 9.15, all of Southern.

SIU's Schmitz, holder of the NCAA crown, failed to qualify, scoring 8.4 to wind up in a tie for 12th.

Other qualifiers were Michigan's Vic Conant at 9.1, Bob Cordaro at 9.0, Cooke Rollo of the Illinois at 8.85 and Dan Poe of Indiana State at 8.7.

Ray Strobel finished 19th with a 7.2 score. Dave Thor worked the event for the first time this season to score 8.1 and rank 17th.

Defending NCAA champ Jim Curzi registered 9.65 for the leading high bar score. Thor was next at 9.45, with Neil Schmidt of Iowa and Rick Tucker of SIU both scoring 9.3. Chuck Weber of the Illinois followed at 9.25.

Michigan's Gary VanderVoort was the sixth qualifier with a score of 9.15, while John Cashman of the Wolves and Bill Silhan of Illinois both hit for 9.0.

State's Ed Gunny was 21st with an 8.0 mark, while Wilson scored 7.9 for the 22nd spot. Frank Schmitz got another chance to defend another national title as he scored the meet's highest individual mark, 9.8, in vaulting. Teammates Brent Williams and Paul Mayer swept the next two spots, scoring 9.65 and 9.5.

Iowa's Ike Heller scored 9.45, while Thor and Wayne Miller hit for 9.4. Wolverine Chip Fuller qualified at 9.35, with Ron Aure and Hal Shaw closing out the group at 9.3.

Gunny's vault of 9.1 gave him a tie for 12th with Len Thompson of Mankato State. Dennis Smith scored 8.35 to finish 25th while Wilson tied for the 26th spot at 8.30.

Settled in a tie for high finish in parallel bars were Curzi, '66 Big Ten champ and defending NCAA title-holder, and VanderVoort. Rick Harstead of Southern scored 9.3, with Rich Blanton of Michigan next at 9.20.

Lindauer qualified with a 9.15 score, while Wolverine Ken Williams placed at 9.10. Curran of Mankato and Randy Brown of Illinois tied at 9.0.

Rohs scored 8.3 to finish 21st while Wilson's 8.2 mark gave him a tie for the 22nd spot. Thor was out of the running with a 7.9 mark, winding up in the 27th place.

Top rings qualifier was Fred Dennis of the Salukis, scoring 9.55. He was followed by Blanton of Michigan at 9.45. Gunny tied Cliff Chivers of the Wolves at 9.25. Deadlocked with a 9.2 score were Dave Croft and SIU's Tom Cook. Schmitt of Iowa completed the roster at 9.10.

Larry Goldberg wound up 17th with a score of 8.95, while Thor placed 28th, scoring 8.25.

Batsmen Win 7-6 On Speer's Double

TALLAHASSEE--Senior outfielder Bob Speer doubled with two out in the top of the ninth inning here Wednesday morning to drive in two runs and give State's baseball team a 7-6 victory over Rutgers University.

It was the second consecutive victory for the Spartans in their annual spring training trip to the South and their fifth win in 12 games. They have tied one.

Coach Danny Litwhiler's squad played Florida State Wednesday night and will conclude their 14-game southern schedule by meeting Wake Forest this morning. Speer's hit was the 11th of the game for the Spartans and gave Roland Walcott, a senior right-hander from Wyoming, the victory. Walcott took over for Tom Phipps in the fourth inning.

The Spartans continued their hitting rampage for the second straight day after they had difficulty connecting in the early part of their schedule. State pounded out 12 hits Tuesday for a 7-6 victory over Florida State following a 7-1 loss to Wake Forest earlier in the day.

All-American third baseman John Biedenbach slammed his second home run in two days. It came in the seventh inning after he had driven home another run with a single in the fourth. He also had another single.

Joining Speer and Biedenbach in the hitting department were catcher Bill Steckley and right-fielder Steve Juday. Steckley collected two hits and drove in a run in the seventh.

Juday had two hits and a run driven in also. The Spartans will return home Friday and then will wait a week before starting the regular season schedule, April 8, against Ball State at Muncie, Ind.

Mikkola, Jacobson Ice Co-Captains

By JOE MITCH State News Sports Writer

State's newly-crowned national collegiate hockey champions have named wing Mike Jacobson and center Tom Mikkola as co-captains for the 1966-67 season.

It was the second consecutive year that the Spartan skaters will have co-captains. This season the captains were Mike Coppo and Don Heaphy, both seniors. A year ago Doug Roberts was the lone captain.

Jacobson and Mikkola are both juniors from Copper Cliff, Ont. They were teammates in high school along with two other Spartan members--Heaphy and Sandy McAndrew.

Teaming up with sophomore Wayne Duffett on the No. 2 line, Jacobson and Mikkola played key roles in helping State to its first NCAA championship. Together they tallied 55 points on the season, with Mikkola finishing with 33 and Jacobson with 22.

Mikkola placed fourth in team scoring behind leader Doug Volmar who had 54 points. Mikkola had 10 goals but assisted on 22 others, indicating his exceptional ability as a playmaker. He also had a three goal hat-trick, which came against Minnesota.

In the NCAA tournament at Minneapolis, Mikkola was awarded a spot on the all-tourney second team for his all-around ability and hustle.

Jacobson's 22 points ranked him sixth in team scoring despite missing five games and being hampered by a shoulder injury all year. He contributed 13 goals to the Spartans' cause and finished with nine assists.

The 5-11, 184-pound left-winger had two three-goal hat-tricks this season. His first one came against Minnesota mid-way during the season and the other was against Michigan in the last week of the regular season.

Last year Jacobson, as a sophomore, set a new school record for the most goals scored in one season--29. He had 15 assists and finished the year with 44 points, second highest on the team.

While naming next year's co-captains, the Spartan skaters picked Coppo, a senior wingman from Hancock and sophomore Gaye Cooley of North Bay, Ont., as "most valuable" for the 1965-66 season. Both were awarded berths on the All-NCAA Tournament team picked at the conclusion of the national finals.

Secrecy Prevails In Grand Jury Ring Probe

CHICAGO (UPI)—A federal grand jury investigation of gangster influence in professional boxing began today under heavy guard and an atmosphere of secrecy.

The location of the grand jury hearing room was changed at the last minute from the Federal Building to the U. S. Customs Building a mile away. And FBI agents and U.S. marshals stood guard over the jurors as they were whisked into the building through a basement entrance.

The grand jury is expected to hear evidence behind closed doors concerning alleged mob death threats to heavyweight Ernie Terrell and a rumored showdown between the Black Muslim Negro supremacist sect and the New York Mafia.

Among those waiting to testify were Felix (Milwaukee Phil) Alderisio, a reputed terrorist and kingpin in the Chicago mob, Bernard (Bernie) Glickman, who says he once was Terrell's manager, has been quoted as saying Alderisio beat and choked him last month when the underworld's plans to stage a fight between Terrell and heavyweight champion Cassius Clay in New York fell through.

Just before the hearing began, a U.S. marshal arrived with a federal court order ordering all unauthorized persons off the seventh floor of the Customs Building, where the grand jury room was located, for an hour before and an hour after the hearings. Newsmen outside the room were forced to retreat to the lobby.

It was learned that word of the new location of the hearings was spread by telegram last night. The move was an apparent attempt to shield witnesses and jurors from newsmen and, possibly, mob observers.

Authorities' concern for the safety of the jurors was evident in the manner in which they were brought to the Customs Building. The jurors arrived in a bus chartered from a suburban bus company. FBI agents and marshals kept close guard on them during the brief time it took the jurors to alight from the bus and enter the building.

Glickman, an admitted associate of Chicago mobsters, was expected to be the star witness. He was brought to Chicago from St. Louis Monday by U.S. marshals and FBI were holding him in protective custody at an undisclosed location.

THE GREATEST?—Well, Cassius Clay, the nation's most controversial draft dodger, retained his "unofficial" World's Heavyweight Boxing Championship Tuesday night with a 15-round decision over Canadian champ George Chuvalo.

GIVES 'ALI-BI' FOR NO KO

Humble Clay Praises Chuvalo

TORONTO P.—"I told you he'd be tougher than Sonny Liston, Floyd Patterson or Ernie Terrell. I hit him with seven or eight of my best punches but he didn't go down. If he had fought all his other opponents like he fought me he would have won them all."

Cassius Clay was generous in his praise of George Chuvalo after winning a unanimous decision over the Canadian Tuesday night in a 15-round "heavyweight showdown" match at Maple Leaf Gardens. Clay's world title was not at stake officially because he is not recognized by the World Boxing Association of which Ontario is a member.

"He's a tough body puncher," said Clay of the 7-1 underdog who never has been knocked off his feet in 48 pro fights. "This fight proves I can take a body punch."

The champ, dressed in a tuxedo, met newsmen at the Gardens shortly after the fight. He said he would have stopped the plodding but game Canadian if he had not been forced to interrupt his training while the fight was shifted from city to city and a new opponent was substituted for his original foe, Terrell, the WBA champ.

"With all the traveling I did, I didn't have a chance to work on the heavy bag. The hardest thing I punched since I beat Patterson was Chuvalo's head."

Chuvalo, who was given no chance to win, said he thought he could have beaten Clay if he had more time to train. The Toronto bully boy had to take the fight on short notice when Terrell pulled out.

"I thought it was a pretty close fight," he said. "He fought a good fight and so did I. I didn't know who won or lost. I thought I won eight rounds."

"With the proper time to train, I feel I could knock him out. . . I wouldn't say he's great. He's very quick but not an extremely hard puncher. His punches have a lot of snap but he's not a big banger."

Alas! Koufax, Drysdale Sign With Dodgers

LOS ANGELES P.—Pitching ace Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale wrote a happy ending to their cliff-hanger 32-day holdout Wednesday by signing with the Los Angeles Dodgers for "more than $210,000."

Dodgers General Manager E. J. Bavasi declined to disclose the exact figure. He flew into town Tuesday to try to bring the two to agreement and said they rejected his "final" offer of $210,000-$112,500 for Koufax and $97,500 for Drysdale.

But, Wednesday morning, he upped the ante enough for them to sign.

Bavasi made the announcement at a news conference with 26-game winner Koufax sitting on one side and 23-game winner Drysdale on the other.

Koufax seemed to summarize the attitude of all when he said: "Let's put it this way. Don and I are both happy."

Bavasi said he talked Tuesday night with the players' attorney, J. William Hayes, and was assured that the two wanted to play ball.

Paramount Studios said the two players would be released from their contracts to act in a picture, which was scheduled to start filming April 11.

The pair originally asked for a three-year contract for a million dollars, to be divided equally between them.

Big 10 Pinmen Here Friday For Tourney

Bowling teams from nine Big 10 schools (all except Northwestern) will compete here in the Big 10 Bowling Tournament at the Union lanes, Friday and Saturday.

Team, singles, and doubles competition will be held, with five trophies to be presented. Friday will be reserved for registration, receptions, and practice bowling, with actual competition set for Saturday.

Team events will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, doubles and singles at 12:30 p.m. An awards banquet will be held in the Union at 6 p.m. for the bowlers.

MSU's Phil Pierson and Briney finished 1-2 in the singles competition last year, while Briney and Bill Allen combined for a seventh place finish in doubles.

MSU High School Relays On Jenison Track Saturday

Michigan State will be the scene of the second big high school athletic event in two weeks Saturday when the Michigan State High School Relays are held at Jenison Field House.

About 2,100 athletes representing 138 teams are scheduled for entry in the 13 events in both class A and B competition.

Preliminaries will start with the pole vault at 12 and the finals will begin at 6 p.m. Admission will be $1 for students and $1.50 for the general public with the proceeds going to the Ralph H. Young Scholarship Fund for athletes.

In the class A division, Flint Southwestern, Flint Northwestern, Lansing Sexton and Ann Arbor are the favorites to cap the team title.

Last year's co-champions, Roseville and Ypsilanti, are also highly rated as is Royal Oak Kimball and Birmingham Seaholm.

hurdles champ from Sexton, Ypsilanti's Kercheval Patterson, 60, and Roseville's Bill Wehrwein, long jump, half mile and quarter mile are the best bets for individual titles.

In the class B division, Ecorse is the overwhelming favorite to walk away with team honors. They rolled up 56 points in the Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan Saturday to easily win the title.

River Rouge, winner of this event in the first two years of its existence in 1964 and 1965, is also a possibility but the Panther's aren't as rich in talent this year.

Ecorse will be led by Willie Purifoy. In the Huron Relays he was second in the pole vault and won the high jump by clearing 6'2", one inch higher than the MSU Relay record.

Fencers Fourth In NCAA

The MSU fencing team ended its season with a fourth place finish in the NCAA championships at Duke University, Durham, N.C., last week.

Individual competition was held last Friday and team competition the following day.

Mark Haskell, who captained the Spartan fencing squad this year, fenced in the individual sabre competition, along with the team effort of Mel Laska, sabre, Steve Vore, foil, and Don Lund, epee.

Haskell, who finished ninth in sabre last year, tied with Wayne State's Bill Boucher for second place. Paul Apostol of New York University was individual sabre champion. Haskell defeated both Boucher and Apostol during the meet, but lost more than Apostol in overall competition.

The team finished in a fourth place tie with Temple University behind Wayne State, Army and the champions from NYU.

Laska beat Boucher in the sabre finals after Vore and Lund had been eliminated in earlier competition.

Spring practice for next year's squad will begin Monday. All interested in trying out should contact coach Charles Schmitter at his office in the Men's IM Building.

Pierced Ears: Fad Spurs 'Earie' Cult

By LEO ZAINEA
State News Staff Writer

The constant needling coeds have taken here since fall term has been so intense it leaves a ring in their ears. Ear-piercing, women's age-old masochistic art now being perfected by some men, has hit big on the MSU campus, and East Lansing jewelry stores report pierced-earrings sales have rocketed to ear-popping heights.

Olin Health Center reports it has punctured loads of lobes. Dr. Thomas Hall has personally pierced over 500 heads (1,000 lobes) since the beginning of fall term. The doctor said he refuses to pierce any men's ears because he does not want to be a party to any kicks or fads.

The danger in ear piercing lies in the possible secondary infection that can result from an incision.

Dr. Hall has recorded nearly 5 per cent infections in his office due to piercings, which he said is a much lower rate than occurs when coeds attempt to perforate their own ears.

The reason for this independent action on the coed's part, many said, is the convenience of having it done in their own room.

What many women may not know is that performing minor cosmetic surgery on a roommate is tantamount to practicing medicine without a license, a violation of a state law. Any complications resulting from the lancing could prove legally hazardous to the one who performed the operation.

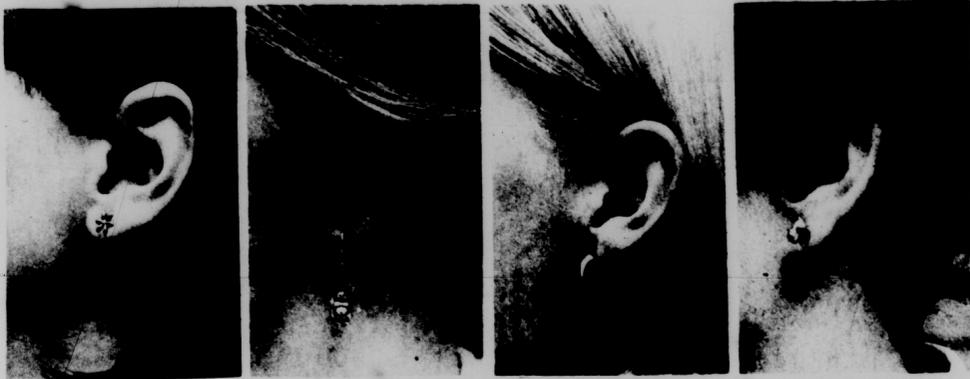

The operation involves quite primitive instruments--an ice cube, potato, darning needle, and a lot of gumption.

The ice cube is used to numb the ear in preparation for the impaling.

After the ear is sufficiently numbed, a spot is marked on the lobe where the coed wishes to hang her bangle. Then comes the fun part. A darning needle is normally used to create a wide aperture which can accommodate the "trainer" ring, which should be 14 karat gold or sterling silver to prevent infection. A potato is placed snugly behind the lobe to catch the needle sliding through.

Alcohol, or some form of antiseptic fluid, is used to keep the lobe area germ-free.

The trainer ring must be worn for at least one month after the piercing, otherwise the hole can close within hours if the ring is removed.

AN EERIE FEELING--These four earlobes, all belonging to MSU coeds, display the wide variety of styles in pierced earrings--everything from dainty flower studs to fat little dangly men. The range in prices is as wide as the one in styles, and the current fad offers females something new to spend mad-money on. Photos by Tony Ferrante

Due to the recent upsurge of these "student-surgeons," the off-campus jewelers have had increased sales in pierced earrings.

Leon G's reports selling over 1,000 pairs since fall term, as has The Card Shop. The Questing Beast, a dealer in beat and bohemian jewelry and artifacts, has sold 250 pairs since its opening three months ago, including three pairs to men.

Prices range from $1 for everyday earrings to $100 for diamond ones. Jewelers indicated most of MSU's female citizenry spend between $3-$5 a pair.

The coeds speak enthusiastically about their new earrings and how their lives have been changed dramatically by them.

A pair of freshmen ears from Cadillac confided she adores the "cute little stud earrings," even though her mother was against them in the beginning.

Another coed did not have as sympathetic a mother. Cynthia Price, Bloomfield Hills freshman, remarked when she went home her mother nearly kicked her out on her perforated ear.

One coed tells an eerie story of how her little brother, after seeing his loose-lobed sister, asked "why don't you put another ring through your nose?"

The reasons most women gave for impaling their ears included: the fun of shopping for new earrings (like a reward); more comfortable than conventional clasp-type; vogue; and ethnic custom.

Most girls indicated a preference for the post-type earring as opposed to the hoop-style.

Surprisingly, many agreed that the shape of the face and hair-style does not determine whether one can wear pierced ears.

Johnson's Niece Elopes With Student

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)--While President and Mrs. Johnson were preparing a big church wedding for their daughter Luci, the President's niece has quietly eloped with a University of Texas zoology student.

Rebekah Alexander, 22, whom Johnson regards almost as closely as his own daughters, flew to Las Vegas earlier this month for a quickie wedding with David George Shulman, 23, a University of Texas student from Kilgore, Tex.

They had dated since last October at the University, where Becky was a senior English student.

The tall, black-haired bride is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Birge Alexander of Fort Worth. Mrs. Alexander is the President's younger sister.

The couple was married March 6 in a simple civil ceremony and then returned to Austin. Becky confirmed the marriage Tuesday.

Becky said she had decided long ago that her wedding would be simple and without fanfare.

Goldman Abductor Remains Silent

MIAMI (AP)--Friends of Daniel Goldman gathered in a Jewish temple Wednesday to pray for his safety, but the parents of the quiet, studious youth stayed at home by the telephone and prayed themselves for a call from his kidnaper.

Officers said no contact had been made by the abductor, a man who took Daniel at gunpoint Monday morning from the home of his wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldman. All inquiries to city, county and federal officers were referred to Sgt. Larry Vardell, one of several Dade County deputies assigned to deal with news-

Vardell's orders were to say only: "No comment."

Police in the fashionable Surfside community, where the Gold-mans live, took a short, dark-haired youth into the Goldman home Wednesday and a spokesman at the station said "he volunteered some information." "We sent him down there to talk to the people in charge," the spokesman said. "He may be a crank or it may amount to something--I can't tell you. We've got to check everything out."

The prayer service for the 18-year-old victim was conducted by Rabbi Dov Rosenzweig in Temple Beth Rathael, an ornate structure built by Goldman, a contractor.

"Guide him (the kidnaper) that he will not do anything desperate," the rabbi prayed. "Urge the abductor to communicate immediately with the parents and assure them of the boy's safety."

As the kidnaper, who had set the ransom at $50,000, maintained his silence, friends formed a committee to raise $50,000 for information leading to the safe return of Daniel.

Air Force Says It Releases All UFO News To Public

WASHINGTON (AP)--Bothered citizens are peppering the Air Force with letters about flying saucers.

Some want to know whether the reported sightings are real. Some ask for pictures of Unidentified Flying Objects--UFOs. Others complain that the Air Force is being less than truthful about the whole situation.

Among the 200 or so letters received in two days this week was this hand-scribbled plea: "This is not a joke. Please, sirs, tell me your honest opinion of UFOs."

The Air Force replies that it releases all information about UFOs and harbors no secrets.

The Air Force years ago set up a public relations office to handle the flow of mail about flying saucers and strange lights. Last year this office sent out 3,717 replies. In January and February this year the count totaled 847.

Most replies are virtually a form letter telling the inquirer that the Air Force has no pictures of flying saucers, that it has no evidence any UFO comes from outer space, or is a threat to national security.

The writer is sent an annual report on Project Blue Book, with headquarters at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, which investigates and evaluates mysterious sightings.

Student Petitions Due For Off Campus Council

Students living in unsupervised housing may petition for the Associated Students of Michigan State University's (ASMSU) Off Campus Council (OCC).

Fifty signatures from students living in unsupervised housing must be turned in to ASMSU's main office by Wednesday. Candidates must be full time students, have earned no less than 24 credit hours, have at least a 2.0 All University average, and be in good standing with the University in social, disciplinary, and financial matters.

Petitions are available in 313 Student Services Building.

There are 11 positions open on the OCC. Six members must reside in East Lansing, while the other five must live outside of the city.

The election of officers will take place April 13 along with ASMSU's general election.

At the last meeting of the OCC five amendments were passed, three of which pertained to the re-organization of the executive board. Under these amendments the vice-president will assume the duties of the president in the event of his absence.

If the president is disabled, or can no longer hold office, a new president will be elected while the vice-president acts as president during the interim.

Also during the last meeting residents of Campus View Apartments met with the Off Campus Council Social Regulations Committee for Supervised Housing during term break.

As a result of the meeting, a proposal is now being considered by the Student-Faculty Social Affairs Committee calling for regularly scheduled dinner socials to take place between 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday evenings.

During the event, the resident manager will act as chaperone.

Lawyer Available For $2

ASMSU Student Board will have a lawyer here for the first time Friday to consult with students.

Kenneth I. Smith, Lansing attorney, will be available by appointment on Friday from 2-4 p.m.

Students may consult with Smith on all legal problems, including housing contracts, court appearances, or any other difficulties. They are required only to pay a service charge of $2 which pays for the secretarial help, stationery, and other costs involved in retaining a lawyer.

Smith, of the law firm Reid, Hildebrandt, King, Weed, Smith, and Brown, will be available to students every Friday from 2-4 p.m. If there is a large demand, the times will be expanded, said Webb Martin, Student Board vice chairman.

Costs for the lawyer are being subsidized by ASMSU. However, the attorney is for consultation only, and if ASMSU is to help with any cases, the student will still have to get the approval of its legal aid department and the Student Board.

Those students wishing to use this legal consultation service should call either 355-4560 or 355-4561 to make an appointment. The lawyer will be in 334 Student Services.

Students will maintain the customary lawyer-client relationship. Students are not required to provide any identifying information including their names to the lawyer, nor is the lawyer responsible to ASMSU other than to supply information on the number of cases of each type on which he has been consulted.

Wall Street Trading Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street Wednesday seemed convinced that President Johnson will ask for a tax boost and the result was a stiff selloff in the stock market. Trading was fairly active.

Volume was 7.99 million shares compared with 8.3 million Tuesday—not very heavy in view of the sharp losses taken by many of the erstwhile market favorites.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 9.63 to 919.76. The average reflected further weakness in blue chips.

Many of the gains of last week's recovery drive were chopped away but the list was still well above the level from which it began its rebound.

on whether to hear the case, two of the convicted will have served their sentence before an appeal is heard, one student said.

If the sit-in and hunger strike appears as though it may stretch for a long period, Burns indicated that the group may gain support from other anti-Viet Nam groups from Wayne State and the University of Michigan.

Burns said he was told by Sgt. Haywood W. Julian, of the Campus Police late Tuesday night, that the protestors could sit in front of the house as long as they did not impede traffic on the sidewalk or sit on the lawn. They now are sitting on the very edge of the sidewalk out of the way of traffic.

"Julian spent most of the night with us," Burns added, "but left after he became too cold."

According to Burns there have been no incidents between passers-by and the sit-ins.

"As long as they (sit-ins) don't block the sidewalk or interfere with University operations," Hannah declared, "they can stay as long as they like."

Burns said the idea of a drive to raise needed funds for the prisoners' bail and subsequent appeals had been suggested and was being considered both locally and nationally.

Efforts are now being made by Conrad Lynn, the defense attorney retained from the American Civil Liberties Union, to gain an appeal for bail bond from the state Court of Appeals.

Attorney General Settles $727,000 Estate Contest

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley announced settlement today of a seven-year-old will contest involving the $727,000 estate of Dr. Lunette Powers of Muskegon.

The settlement, Kelley said, will result in gifts to charities of more than $250,000. A 1965 state law makes the attorney general a necessary part to any will contest and settlement involving bequests to undesignated charities.

Dr. Powers, one of west Michigan's earliest women doctors, died March 24, 1959.

The Michigan Supreme Court, which has had the case under consideration several times, described it as one in which "a Michigan lawyer drafted a will and two codicils thereto which left the bulk of an old lady's estate of three-quarters of a million dollars to the lawyer's wife."

Why pay less than $10 for a canvas shoe?

Frankly, the Sperry Top-Sider canvas oxford is the most expensive you can buy. But it's worth every penny. The famous, exclusive anti-slip safety sole has made it the only shoe for men and women who know boats. (Great tennis favorite, too.) And the rest of the shoe makes it perfect for all casual wear: The non-chafe loose lining, that relaxes your foot. The double-deep heel cushion. The tailored looks. In Classic White, Navy, Breton Red, wide or slim widths. So why pay less, when you could wear fashion's famous Sperry Top-Sider canvas oxford for $9.95?

cutting attorney and the heirs-at-law contested the will. A Circuit Court jury returned a verdict against the will. The ruling was overturned by the high court. It ordered a new trial, and the contest is still pending.

The net estate, Kelley said, is about $542,000—after taxes and administration costs. Under the settlement, Mrs. Alex Regeski will receive $157,500. The heirs-at-law will receive $67,500.

Hackley and Mercy hospitals in Muskegon will divide $213,564 between them; $44,500 will go to charities specified in the will; other funds will go to other, unspecified, charities and to non-charitable entities.

Kremlin Rejects Khrushchev, Stalin

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union will never return to Stalinism or Khrushchevism because the evils of both "have been resolutely thrown away," a party leader declared Wednesday.

Nikolai G. Yegorychev, head of the Moscow party organization, gave the assurances at the second day's session of the Soviet Communist party's 23rd congress.

Holding one of the highest positions in the Soviet power complex, Yegorychev obviously was laying down the official Kremlin line.

His mention of Joseph Stalin and Nikita S. Khrushchev could be the beginning of a re-evaluation of the two leaders during the congress.

"The cult of personality, violations of Leninist norms and the principles of party life, Socialist law—all that which hindered our movement forward—have been resolutely thrown away by the party and it will never return to that post," Yegorychev said.

The terms are those which have been used here to label both Stalin and Khrushchev. Yegorychev specifically mentioned "Stalinism" but avoided direct references to Khrushchev.

AN EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

States Against Daylight Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Resistance appeared likely to develop in a handful of states to an attempt to get uniform application of summer Daylight Saving Time throughout the nation.

A bill passed by the House on Wednesday and sent to the White House would permit states to remain on standard time only if their legislatures so decree. But it would require the states to be wholly on one time or the other, whether standard or daylight, beginning next year.

In Kansas, where some counties are on Central and some on Mountain Standard Time, Gov. William H. Avery commented: "I like Daylight Saving Time. But I don't particularly like Congress telling us what time to abide by."

Virginia observes Eastern Daylight Time for three months of the year—the Sunday after Memorial Day to the Sunday before Labor Day—but eight southwest counties are exempted by state law.

The law has been amended to provide for April-October Daylight Saving Time in future years, but the eight-county exemption was continued.

Another trouble spot is Missouri. St. Louis and other cities along the Mississippi River observe Daylight Saving Time, but the remainder of the state stays on standard.

Aloys P. Kaufmann, president of the Metropolitan St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, said business and recreation would suffer if the river cities were forced to go along with areas on standard time.

Rep. George T. Smith, speaker of the House in the Georgia Legislature, said he would oppose placing Georgia on Daylight Saving time. Gov. Carl E. Sanders said he favored it.

In Oregon, Pacific Daylight Time was adopted by popular referendum in 1962 but Malheur County, with a population of 25,000, was exempted so that its clocks could conform with adjoining Idaho, which is on Mountain Standard Time.

Harry Bolvin, president of the Oregon Senate, said there was no chance the state legislature would solve the problem by putting Oregon back on standard.

Japanese Air Crash Spurs Jet Investigations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commercial airlines were alerted Wednesday by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to inspect parts of the tail section on older models of the Boeing 707—the world's most widely used jet transport—for possible cracks.

The action was described as "purely precautionary."

An FAA spokesman said the crash March 5 of a British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) 707 in Japan prompted spot inspections of 707's around the world. The inspections revealed BOAC 707 in England with tiny cracks in a vertical fin fitting and similar cracks in two Trans World Airlines (TWA) 707's undergoing routine modifications at Boeing's Seattle (Wash.) plant.

All three planes had been in operation more than 12,000 hours. The BOAC 707 that crashed March 5 also was an older model, but the FAA spokesman said investigators found no tail cracks when they examined the plane's wreckage.

The FAA called for visual inspection of all 707's with more than 12,000 hours of operation and for immediate replacement of fittings if any cracks were discovered.

Boeing also reported to have asked BOAC to inspect tail fittings on all 19 707's the airline has in service. In Sydney, Australia, Qantas Airlines was reported to be checking all of its 707's.

Steeplechase Track At Aintree For Sale

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Mirabel Topham was granted permission Wednesday to sell the Grand National Steeplechase track at Aintree for housing, and racing men throughout the land threw up their hands in horror.

"If the National has to go I feel it will be a calamity," said horse race trainer Neville Crump.

development for housing would be in breach of the sale agreement.

Britain's law lords of the House of Lords ruled in favor of Mrs. Topham Wednesday.

Lord Sefton said: "I am assured that before anyone can build houses or factories at Aintree they will first have to get planning permission."

"I am extremely upset. Another piece of England has been taken away from us. I look upon it with horror."

Crump, trainer of three Grand National winners, voiced the feelings of many horse racing trainers and owners. Crump won the National with Teal in 1952, Shetla's Corrag in 1948 and Merryman II in 1960.

Mrs. Topham first proposed selling the course—the home of the Grand National—in 1964. It was estimated she would get one million pounds ($2,600,000) for the layout.

Lord Sefton, who sold the course to Mrs. Topham's company in 1949, opposed the sale

South African Elections Considered 'Carnival'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—More than one million white South Africans voted in a carnival atmosphere Wednesday, in parliamentary elections considered certain to increase Premier Hendrik Verwoerd's majority.

Even the opposition expected Verwoerd's Nationalist Party to win. It has been in power 18 years.

160-seat chamber. This would be at the expense of the opposition United Party, which had 49 seats in the old parliament.

The lone representative of the multi-racial Progressive Party, Mrs. Helen Suzman, may also be unseated in Johannesburg's wealthy Houghton constituency if the swing to the right has gone far enough.

day with a 17-2 lead over the United Party because of unopposed constituencies. An erosion of Afrikaaner support for the United Party was expected to be reflected in a drop in its share of the vote in country districts and working class suburbs where the bulk of the electorate is Afrikaans-speaking.

Most observers predicted the Nationalists would get between 125 and 130 seats in the new enlarged 170-seat parliament, compared with 105 in the old Party officials in Johannesburg and Pretoria said it was a "gentlemen's election" in the most friendly spirit since World War II.

However, two incidents were reported. One was a first fight between Nationalist and United Party supporters at Mulders Drift, near Johannesburg. In the marginal Turfontein constituency south of Johannesburg, United Party workers complained they were being intimidated by Nationalists.

During his speech, the mayor said, Paul Schiff, New Rochelle, N.Y., graduate student and a member of the demonstrating group, called the mayor a liar.

Thomas had met about a week previous to the sit-in with Miss Deutsch and a group of students in her apartment to discuss open occupancy. At that time the students indicated they might demonstrate.

Sit-In Trial

had asked the group to leave within five minutes. When the time had elapsed and they had not moved, police began to take action.

The sit-in was sparked when the mayor spoke in the Union Building May 25 on the city's policies on human rights.

Prosecuting Attorney Jack Cote introduced as evidence a document showing a part of the various actions of East Lansing Human Relations Commission.

Poverty Funds Increase Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., demanded Wednesday $7 billion for the Anti-Poverty Program in fiscal 1967. This is four times the amount sought by President Johnson.

Powell said the $1.7 billion requested by Johnson for the year starting July 1 would shortchange needy Americans while billions of dollars are being spent on a "victoryless war" in Viet Nam.

Powell is chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee which has jurisdiction over the Anti-Poverty Program.

"The 32 million poor people—black and white—in this country who have suffered under the oppressive heel of hunger, will not stand idly by while we fill their heads with soothing phrases instead of their stomachs with bread," Powell told a news conference.

part of a 10-point program proposed by Powell as "the irreducible minimum for an effective crusade against poverty."

He called for a minimum wage of $1.75 per hour in 1969 and $2 in 1970. His committee recently approved an administration backed bill to boost the present $1.25 an hour minimum wage to $1.40 by Feb. 1, 1967 and to $1.60 by Feb. 1, 1968.

The current poverty program received $1.5 billion. Powell said his Anti-Poverty Subcommittee has so far agreed to boost the total to $3 billion for the 1967 fiscal year, still far short of the $7 billion he wants.

King Seeks Rights Funds

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Negro civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., on a fundraising tour in Europe, arrived here Wednesday and said the money raised will be used to help his movement in Chicago and "to further political education in the South."

Students Hit Speaker Ban

Republican students from 35 colleges expressed "vehement disagreement with the Democrat-sponsored resolution passed by the Michigan Senate against allowing Communists to speak on our university campuses" recently.

He told a news conference that Chicago was chosen as the next civil rights target because it "is the prototype of all the urban problems" facing the Negroes in the North.

7-Year Old Hit By Car

The Michigan Federation of College Republicans called it a "gross intrusion into the rights of free speech and of association" at its annual convention in Detroit March 11-12.

The delegates also disapproved of "discriminatory application of draft quotas" which means that married men and students are drafted in some states and not in others. They also urged a more fitting sanction against draft protesters than induction in the armed services.

A graduate student's seven-year-old son was seriously injured when hit by a University-owned auto at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Robert Sauls, son of Eugene H. and Frances I. Sauls, received extensive cuts and abrasions to the right side of his head and right ear, said a Campus Police spokesman. The child was taken to Sparrow Hospital and is reported in serious condition.

Former Aide Gives Painting To 'S' Council Union Opposes Merger

The former naval aide to President Franklin D. Roosevelt Wednesday presented President John A. Hannah with a painting of Henry Ford as part of the "Faces of Freedom" exhibit now on display in the Union.

FACES OF FREEDOM--Students study the works of famous American persons and events done by American artists in the "Faces of Freedom" art exhibit now on display in the Union. Photo by John Castle

The presentation was part of opening day ceremonies of the exhibit, which is sponsored by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Vice Admiral John L. McCrea (retired) gave to MSU the painting of Henry Ford as a young man in his laboratory, done by American artist Robert Fawcett.

The painting will be on display along with 37 others in the Union until April 8. They make up the insurance company's traveling exhibit, "Faces of Freedom", which depicts items and individuals important in the history of the United States.

"By thoroughly understanding these paintings, we can sense the solid background upon which our nation is built," McCrea said in his presentation.

McCrea, now vice president in charge of client relations for the insurance company, has a distinguished record of service in both the Navy and the U.S. Government.

During World War II, he accompanied former President Roosevelt to the Casablanca conference. He also commanded the North Pacific Cruiser and Destroyer Task Force during the last year of the war.

After the war McCrea served in several positions in the Pentagon, including director of staff of the personnel policy board for the Department of Defense.

He holds numerous military decorations, including the U.S. Legion of Merit, and has been decorated by the governments of France, Belgium, Chile, Greece and French Morocco.

A native of Michigan, McCrea holds the Bachelor of Laws and Master of Laws degrees from George Washington University. He is a member of the American Bar Association and has been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

"Faces of Freedom" is part of John Hancock company's historical series of over 120 paintings which were commissioned and begun in 1947.

The purpose of the series is to remind people of their stake in America and encourage them to think about the independence and enterprise that made the nation great, according to the company.

The traveling display has been seen by over seven million people in 36 different exhibitions since 1962, including the New York World's Fair, Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry, and the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

MSU is the fifth Big Ten University to have the exhibit. Presentation of the paintings at universities in the Intercollegiate Conference marks the first showing of "Faces of Freedom" within a major academic system.

James Byrne, president of the Printing Pressmen's Union, said the delegates told Turner he owes it to the public to completely investigate the claim by the New York World-Telegram and Sun, the New York Journal-American and the New York Herald Tribune that they were losing money.

Turner, according to Byrne, should get proof instead of just signed statements that the three papers are in the red.

The delegates said Turner told them that the merger, on its face, was unlawful. Turner later denied saying that, declaring "no merger agreement is illegal on its face."

He said he did tell the delegates that the agreement would be unlawful if the companies were healthy. The "falling company" defense allows a merger if a firm can prove it is losing money and the merger itself would not set up a monopoly.

Turner said the craft unions asked to see the newspapers' books and also sought a formal hearing on the merger. Turner said he refused both requests on grounds that they did not fall into the Justice Department's jurisdiction.

Thomas Laura, president of the Mailers Local 6, said Turner refused to say whether he would enjoy the merger if he is not satisfied with his investigation before the papers put their proposed agreement into effect.

Under the plan, Hearst's Journal-American and Scripps-Howard's World-Telegram and Sun would become one afternoon paper called the World Journal. The Herald Tribune would continue

587,000 Study By TV

Nearly one-half million grade-school students studied under some form of programmed instruction last year.

Another 84,075 enrollments in programmed instruction were recorded in U.S. colleges and universities.

These are the latest facts on the status of programmed instruction in America, which are revealed in a new MSU publication, "A Preliminary Report of Programmed Instruction". It was prepared by Lawrence E. McKune, director, University of the Air, Continuing Education Service.

The report shows that the 448,139 enrollments in the K-12 grades and those recorded in higher education used both non-commercial and commercial means of instruction. Students received programmed instruction primarily at school, although in about 40% of the cases, instruction was received both at school and at home.

A total of 895 subjects are listed in the report, including electronics, religion, the Constitution, ear training in music, poetry and biochemistry.

The subjects most frequently listed were mathematics, English, reading, science, social studies, language, psychology, medicine, Spanish and history.

Data in the report comes from 466 schools in the 50 states, and is the most current listing of its type yet published. It is a supplement to Volume 12 of "The National Compendium of Televised Education," also compiled by Dr. McKune.

Copies of the 101-page publication can be obtained by contacting the University of the Air, 14 Kellogg Center.

Represented at the meeting were the Printing Pressmen's Union, the American Newspaper Guild, the Newspapers' Mail Deliverers Union, Mailers Local No. 6, New York Stereo-Typers Union, International Typographical Union, and the New York Newspaper Guild.

James Byrne, president of the Printing Pressmen's Union, said the delegates told Turner he owes it to the public to completely investigate the claim by the New York World-Telegram and Sun, the New York Journal-American and the New York Herald Tribune that they were losing money.

Turner, according to Byrne, should get proof instead of just signed statements that the three papers are in the red.

The delegates said Turner told them that the merger, on its face, was unlawful. Turner later denied saying that, declaring "no merger agreement is illegal on its face."

He said he did tell the delegates that the agreement would be unlawful if the companies were healthy. The "falling company" defense allows a merger if a firm can prove it is losing money and the merger itself would not set up a monopoly.

Turner said the craft unions asked to see the newspapers' books and also sought a formal hearing on the merger. Turner said he refused both requests on grounds that they did not fall into the Justice Department's jurisdiction.

Thomas Laura, president of the Mailers Local 6, said Turner refused to say whether he would enjoy the merger if he is not satisfied with his investigation before the papers put their proposed agreement into effect.

Under the plan, Hearst's Journal-American and Scripps-Howard's World-Telegram and Sun would become one afternoon paper called the World Journal. The Herald Tribune would continue

Poles Reject Pope's Visit

VATICAN CITY (AP) -- The Polish government was reported Wednesday night to have ruled out a visit by Pope Paul VI to Communist Poland in the foreseeable future.

The pro-Communist Rome daily Paese Sera said that Warsaw had sent official word to the Vatican that the time is not right for a papal visit. Sources at the Vatican declined official comment but said privately that the report was true.

Navy Fire Extinguisher Discovery Is 'Hoax'

HOLY LOCH, Scotland (UPI)—A mysterious cylinder found in Ireland with the words "Thresher" and "radioactive" marked on it is nothing more than an ordinary fire extinguisher, the U.S. Navy announced Wednesday.

"That's a terrible suggestion to make," he said. "There is no truth in it." He asserted the object had no connection with the Thresher. Before taking the two-foot-long object to Holy Loch by road, Navy experts Lt. Philip B. Kinzie of Nashville, Tenn., and Bob Bays of Greenock County, Ky., told newsmen at Prestwick Airport they recognized the extinguisher for what it was immediately.

"Undoubtedly we have been hoaxed," Kinzie said. "The object hadn't even been in the water very long." He said Holy Loch naval detectives would try to discover the origin and ownership of the extinguisher before disposing of it. Meantime, red-faced Irish authorities ordered an investigation into the hoax.

U.S. Troops Engage In Fierce Battle

SAIGON (UPI)—A North Vietnamese regiment Wednesday pounced on U.S. 1st Air Cavalry troops who tried to sweep back into the Chu Pong Mountain battleground area. They pinned down the Americans in fierce hand-to-hand combat, shot down at least five U.S. helicopters and surrounded one U.S. unit that was outnumbered more than 10 to 1.

fighting for their lives at the base of the mountain, which was the scene of the bitterest battle of the war last November. Some units of the American forces suffered moderate to heavy casualties in what was termed "some of the heaviest fire I've ever seen" by a UPI correspondent with the 1st Cavalry. But a U.S. spokesman said overall U.S. casualties were light.

As night closed in, an American military spokesman said the unit was surrounded by North Vietnamese troops and was outnumbered by more than 10 to 1. The size of the trapped U.S. unit was not disclosed. A North Vietnamese regiment usually numbers from 1,500 to 2,000 men.

Air Force fighter-bombers hammered the communist troops with rockets, napalm and bombs. U.S. transport planes dropped flares to light up the perimeter of the surrounded unit. Shortly after dusk the Americans called for more ammunition and it was promptly dispatched.

Last November, the 1st Cavalry killed an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese troops on the slopes of Chu Pong Mountain and in the adjoining Ia Drang Valley in the bitterest fighting of the war. The battle also resulted in the highest number of American casualties.

Proposed Laws Deal With Incompetent Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Judicial Conference is circulating among the nation's federal judges two proposed laws to deal with the problem of incompetent U.S. judges.

The cumbersome process of impeachment by the House and conviction by the Senate. Otherwise, federal judges serve for life unless they choose to retire. There is a belief in some judicial circles that if any change in removal procedures is to be made it will have to come through constitutional amendment rather than through federal law.

The second and stiffer proposed law would give the conference authority to retire an unfit judge involuntarily. This would create a vacancy for the president to fill. The retired judge would retain his salary for life unless impeached by the House and convicted by the Senate.

Designed as alternate approaches, they would set up new procedures for examining a judge's fitness. If he was found incompetent, a new judge would be appointed to take over his duties. The proposed laws were framed last month by the conference's Committee on Court Administration. The conference decided at its closed meetings to circulate them on a confidential basis among the federal judges, but withhold approval of disapproval until the conference meets again in September.

Both proposed laws would empower the chief justice to appoint a seven-member commission to investigate complaints that a federal judge is unfit. Five of the commission members would be federal judges and two would be nonjudges. Under one proposal, the U.S. Judicial Conference would certify a commission finding that a judge is disabled or inefficient and report this to the president who would appoint a temporary judge to take over the unfit judge's duties. The unfit judge would not be retired or removed. He would lose his seniority but not his salary.

The conference, summoned annually by the chief justice, is composed of the chief judge of each U.S. circuit court, one district judge from each circuit and the chief judges of the special federal courts.

Board OK's New Bypass

The first stage of a proposed $5.8 million north-south bypass to be constructed east of East Lansing was approved Tuesday by the Michigan Highway Dept. following review of an engineering report.

The Van Atta Connector, which will link Grand River Avenue (M-43) to I-96 about two miles east of Okemos, will involve construction of 2.7 miles of highway. The bypass will ultimately carry traffic between I-96 and M-78, according to State Highway Director Howard E. Hill.

The proposed route is intended to provide easier access to East Lansing and the campus for those coming from the east, as well as to serve Okemos, Haslett and Meridian Township more adequately.

Student Board

amendment, will act as a personal assistant to the chairman and will take over some of the functions of each of several other officials.

The third amendment passed by the Board establishes a new Agenda Committee, to comprise the chairman, vice-chairman, cabinet president and two elected members, one to be a member-at-large and the other a major governing group president. The agenda committee replaces the steering committee (chairman, vice-chairman and cabinet president).

According to the amendment, all main motions introduced at a Board meeting for the first time are to be automatically referred to the agenda committee for a week unless two-thirds of the members present and voting wish to take final action at that meeting. Although discussion may be heard and amendments may be made, no final vote may occur until the committee has had a week to review the legislation.

The legislation automatically returns to the floor after a week, and may be recommitted to the committee by a two-thirds vote of the Board.

The committee may amend any motion while it is in committee and may introduce motions through its presiding officer, the vice-chairman.

The Board also passed a motion to establish procedures for the first meeting of the second session, to be held Thursday, April 14. The motion provided methods for the selection of the appointed members-at-large, the chairman, vice-chairman and cabinet president of the second session.

Peace Corps placement tests will be offered three times during spring term at post offices around the nation. The dates for these three-hour tests, which begin at 9 a.m., are April 9, May 14 and June 11.

Students who will be going home on Easter Sunday weekend may attempt to take the test at their hometown post offices on a first-come, first-served basis April 9. Applicants should report prior to the exam to complete several forms necessary for test participation.

Any citizen of the United States is eligible if he is 18 or over and has no dependents under 18. Married couples may also apply if both husband and wife can serve.

Examinations to determine potential ability will be offered to applicants who have no foreign language background. French and Spanish tests will be given to those who have knowledge of those languages.

Students remaining in the area may take the examination in 217 Lansing Main Post Office. Forms are available at all post offices.

Joseph Meltes, professor of physiology, has been awarded the annual Sigma Xi Senior Research Award and will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to summarize the work he did to receive the award.

The speech in the Engineering Auditorium will be nontechnical, concerning "Regulation by Brain Hormones of Reproductive Functions. Body Growth and Cancer."

SOB! SHAVING EVERY DAY IS SUCH A UGH-DRAG! WHAT CAN SAVE MY TENDER, BEAUTIFUL SKIN? ME! AND I'LL SAVE YOU MONEY, TOO! Norelco The Close Electric Shave

If you've never used an electric shaver before, the Norelco 'Flip-Top' Speedshaver is a great way to find out the easier side of shaving. Its rotary blades stroke whiskers off. Never cut or nick. They won't hurt you. Neither will the price, which is about the same as a year's supply of razor blades and shave cream. P.S. If you want to spend a little more, get the Norelco Speedshaver 30 (at right). 35% closer shaves. 'Floating heads', too. And a pop-up trimmer for sideburns. All the trimmings. From shave to price, it's clear about any Norelco--you can't get slung!

News Access Bill Expected To Pass

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House subcommittee on freedom of information Wednesday unanimously approved a Senate-passed bill its sponsors said would "materially strengthen" public access to government news.

The measure seeks to give citizens for the first time a statutory right to most non-military information in the federal government. Denial of access could be challenged in federal court.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., predicted the bill would be approved shortly by the group's parent Government Operations Committee and by the House after the Easter recess.

This would send it to the White House, which has opposed its passage unless considerable changes are made. At one time the Justice Dept. hinted it might recommend that President Johnson veto the bill.

Moss said today he did not believe the bill would be vetoed. He said he believes administration opposition to the measure has been somewhat eased.

Moss pronounced the bill a good one.

"I believe it will materially strengthen the right of access to Government news," Moss told a reporter. "I am optimistic that it will be finally passed."

The bill, sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., grew out of continuing controversy over alleged denial of access to government records either by the press and public or in some cases by the Congress itself.

For the first time it would put on the government itself the burden of proof in justification of an information denial. In general, all official records would be declared by law to be public.

Specific exemptions would be made for classified or security matters and for specified other categories of information including personnel files, commercial trade secrets and investigative files of law enforcement agencies.

The bill was passed by the Senate last Oct. 13. The House information subcommittee held long hearings on it but delayed action in an attempt to reach agreement with the administration.

This proved impossible so the subcommittee finally went ahead and approved it.

Last March 30 a Justice Dept. spokesman called the measure unconstitutional. He said the government concedes the public's right to know but believes the problems are too complicated to write a specific solution into law.

The bill drew wide support from press groups including Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, and the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Press spokesmen cited numerous instances in which they said the public had been wrongfully denied access to public records.

Moss said today he believes the Justice Dept. has changed its views on the bill somewhat although it did not suggest the department now favors it. He said he would recommend against a veto, if one were suggested to the President by the department, and that he believed the bill would become law.

In addition to its objections about the bill's specific provisions, the Justice Dept. wanted the measure amended to include a statutory affirmation of the President's right to exercise "executive privilege" in withholding information in some situations.

This right has been exercised by presidents since George Washington but has never been fully conceded by Congress. The Moss subcommittee flatly refused to affirm it by writing it into law.

Continuing argument over executive privilege has quieted somewhat since the late President John F. Kennedy promised Congress in 1962 to restrict his administration's use of the claim to himself only.

President Johnson subsequently affirmed that pledge.

Western System Slammed

told me. 'He's a local boy, and a good man. But what's somebody from Delano doing with $267,000? Those people in Washington must be crazy.'

But like it or not, NFWA was definitely committed to the strike. At its height, over half the farm labor force in the Delano area had left the field. Sept. 26, AWOC and NFWA demonstrated their solidarity during a multi-racial rally in Ellington Park and a march through Delano's "other side of the tracks" districts.

During the day, cries of "Viva la huelga," (hurray for the strike) and "Abajo esquirolas," (down with scabs) echoed through the grape fields. At night Chavez, AWOC leader Larry Itliong, and their top lieutenants conferred on strategy in the Filipino Community Hall.

Delano police parked a van at each corner of the street in front of the hall and photographed everyone who entered the building.

Up to the time of the strike Chavez had jealously guarded the NFWA from outside interference. Terry Cannon, editor of a monthly newspaper published by the California Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, reported that after three visits to Delano he had still not seen Chavez.

"Chavez to us was something like Castro used to be. He was up there in the country, and he had something going, but we couldn't find out anything about it," Cannon said.

Sometime in September Chavez made his decision. He decid to ask for outside support. SNCC, the California Migrant Ministry and other members of "The Movement" loaned NFWA some of their staff members. The college campuses of California loosed a flood of experienced picketers.

Six months later a Delano bartender summed up his reaction to the influx: "Cheez, Joanie, I told my wife, this sure isn't like any strike I ever saw."

Atom Site Picked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced a firm decision today to pick the site for a proposed $375-million atom-smasher from the list of six recommended last week by the National Academy of Sciences.

Those sites are Ann Arbor; Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, Long Island, N.Y.; South Barrington or Weston in Illinois near Chicago; Denver, Colo.; Madison, Wis.; and the Sierra foothills near Sacramento, Calif.

It was emphasized at the time the academy recommendations were made that they were not binding on the AEC or on Congress which has yet to authorize the huge 200-billion-electron-volt device.

But today Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, AEC chairman said in a statement "the commission has reached the conclusion that the best site will be found among those recommended by the academy."
