Membership Lists Not On File Here

By FAYE UNGER and LEO ZAINEA State News Staff Writers

The House Committee on Un-American Activities (HUAC) extended its controversial probe of anti-war group activity onto the Michigan State campus, the State News has learned.

A HUAC agent, seemingly unnoticed, two weeks ago confronted Eldon R. Nonnamaker, associate dean of students, and asked if the University maintained complete membership lists of its organizations.

Nonnamaker told the agent that the only information available on recognized organizations is listed in the MSU Directory of Student Organizations, which is available to the public.

No subpoena was issued to the University by the HUAC agent. A few weeks ago HUAC subpoenaed and received from the University of Michigan membership lists of eight U-M-recognized groups in sympathy with the anti-war movement.

The action by U-M officials triggered a five-hour "wait-in" by about 40 U-M students Thursday in the university's Student Affairs Office.

Several weeks before the subpoena was issued a man, later identified as a HUAC agent, asked the U-M Student Affairs Office if they kept membership lists, Richard L. Cutler, U-M vice president for student affairs, disclosed last week. HUAC's raucous hearings ended Friday just as they began -in flurries of denunciations by members of the "New Left," who criticized the committee as "Fascist-like" and a "kangaroo

CHAMONIX, France (UPI)-An American-led rescue team racing bad weather Sunday reached two climbers stranded for eight days on a narrow, icy ledge in the Mont Blanc Massif. But the feat cost the life of one rescuer.

A German member of the international team headed by veteran American Alpinist Gary Hemming slipped from an overhang and was garroted by an improperly tied rope just minutes before the rescuers reached the stranded men.

The two stranded men had been hanging onto a tiny platform since Monday when they lost their ropes and could not move either up or down.

Nazis, Klansmen Stir Racial Melee

CHICAGO (UPI) -- White youths, many goaded into a fury by the harangues of Nazis and Ku Klux Klansmen, attacked demonstrators with bricks, stones and bottles Sunday as Dr. Martin Luther King led his civil rights marchers through rain-swept streets.

King, his dark suit plastered to his back by pouring rain, led 500 marchers through masses of cursing, jeering, screaming whites in the tense south Deering neighborhood on the far south side . Police clubbed white residents to clear a path for the Nobel Prize winner.

Another band of King's open-occupancy marchers faced even greater enmity in the south suburban community of Evergreen Park, where marchers fled for protection of the Chicago police force.

The crowd began to roam the Marquette Park area after listening through a rain-spattered afternoon to racist harangues from Nazis, Klansmen and members of the National States Rights party. Flying wedges of policemen waded into angry crowds in Marquette Park, where King was felled by a rock in an earlier rally this summer. The police arrested a self-styled Klan "ambassador" from Akron, Ohio, and a California minister with a confederate flag for a vest who spoke from the shoulders of a huge young follower.

The police let swastika-emblazoned Nazis, including their leader, George Lincoln Rockwell, speak because they had obtained permits. But the Klansman and Rev. Connie Lynch of Bakersfield, Calif .--"orator" for the National States Rights party--were arrested when they were unable to produce permits.

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)--America's Lunar Orbiter photo lab dropped into a close orbit of the moon as planned Sunday preparatory to taking pictures of the lunar surface from an altitude of 36 miles or less.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory went ahead with plans today despite trouble with Orbiter's high resolution camera, one of two aboard the spacecraft. Project officials pointed out they were getting much valuable scientific information and said moderate resolution photos -while they do not pinpoint topographical features--were better than expected. -

The first picture-taking from the new orbit was to be initiated at 7:15 a.m. today. The target was an area in and around one of the moon's seas, Mare Fecunditatis.

Focal Point For 45,000

ON MANY CAMPUSES student life focuses on the student union building. This is not so at MSU.

Here, the campus has outgrown the Union. MSU students rarely say, "Meet me at the Union."

PLANS ARE UNDERWAY to end this problem.

The idea of a new university center is receiving much attention. Hopefully this center, if and when it's built, will be the focal point of the campus. Hopefully it will have facilities sorely lacking today. Hope-fully, "Meet me at the Union" will become a common phrase.

But the value of the new center depends on how well its facilities satisfy the needs of the University community.

LAST WEEK, TWO officials in the Dean of Students' Office, Eldon Nonnamaker and Louis Hekhuis, suggested a list of facilities for the proposed center.

All but one are worthwhile. That one, moving offices of student organizations into the center, would be a waste of student money, for students will pay for the center. It would be a waste because it would generally affect only a small portion of the entire community.

It would be far-fetched to claim new facilities would improve the quality of student government.

NONNAMAKER'S AND HEKHUIS' other suggestions are aimed at larger portions of the student body.

First, they recommended facilities for off-campus students--lockers, lounges and individual study rooms. For many off campus students, these facilities would make the campus more than a group of classrooms and labs.

NEXT, THEY SUGGESTED study booths. These would be quite helpful to both on-campus and off-campus students looking for a quiet place to study. But the booths would be invaluable to married students with small children who have a tendency to cry when daddy tries to study. A 3,000-seat auditorium is the third suggestion. Potentially, many more excellent programs could be offered every year. But the Auditorium can handle only a limited number. A new auditorium, hopefully with improved acoustics, could greatly increase the number of programs offered.

They also think the center should include dining facilities for student groups. We agree, for the Union does not have adequate parking space for banquets and Kellogg Center caters to non-student activities.

They also suggested a grill for off-campus students. A good grill would go a long way toward making the center a campus focal point. It must not be a dingy grill as is the Union's. It would have to be warm and attractive.

IT'S ASKING A LOT to expect one building to become the focal point of a campus as decentralized as is MSU. It's asking even more to expect the facilities in the building to meet the needs of a projected population of 45,000. But the facilities suggested by Hekhuis and Nonnamaker, except for the plans for student government, could go a long way towards accomplishing these objectives.

Flights Resume

NEW YORK (UPI) -- Propellers whirred, jets screamed and grounded airline passengers breathed a sigh of relief as five major air carriers resumed nearly normal passenger service during the weekend.

But even so, the airlines involved in the 43-day strike reported below-normal passenger loads Sunday as they began to return to a full resumption of service.

Machinists ended their strike against Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United Airlines Saturday, also ending a forced vacation for hundreds of other ground personnel and crew members, and airline spokesmen said in most cases full operation would be resumed by this morning.

Commentator Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- Fulton Lewis Jr., radio commentator and syndicated columnist, died early Sunday after suffering his second heart attack in four days.

Memorial services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at St. David's Episcopal Church. Interment services will be private.

Lewis, who broadcast for the Mutual Network and wrote for King Features, underwent a pancreas operation on July 5. He was doing well and left the hospital for his home.

However, he weakened and on Aug. 8, he returned to Doctor's Hospital. On Aug. 18, Lewis suffered a "massive" heart attack. He died from a second attack.

CASTEL GANDALFO, Italy (AP) -- Pope Paul VI urged Roman Catholics on Sunday to pray for victims of the Turkish earthquake and the Viet Nam war, which he said "is always painfully present in our spirit."

Addressing thousands of visitors from the balcony of his summer residence in this Alban Hills town the Pope said: "To give our prayers charity and value we only need to see newspapers. We have the victims of the earthquakes in Turkey. We will have a special remembrance for those sorely tried peoples."

SPIT AND POLISH

Army Life For Police Recruits

By BOBBY SODEN State News Staff Writer MSU's seven University Police recruits begin arriving at the station each day around 7:30 a.m.

Freshly starched blue shirts, sharply creased navy blue pants and black leather belts and shoes, spit-shined so hard that their inspecting sergeant will be able to see his reflection in them, mark the men. An Army-type inspection is held each morning at 8, insuring that these new police officers will look sharp every day. "Atten--shun!"

Behind the police quonset buildings, all seven men snap to and space off. Sgt. Haywood W. Julian, the commander of the sixweek recruit school, inspects "the troops" each morning. Each officer is checked from

The rescue work was being badly hampered by ruptured communications, wrecked bridges and blocked and damaged roads. American forces, stationed in large numbers in Turkey, were helping with the rescue, bringing in supplies and medical aid.

TOKYO (UPI) -- The Chinese Communist Party Central Committee has declared the main job of the successor of Chairman Mao Tse-Tung will be to continue Mao's policies. It indicated that Defense Minister Marshal Lin Piao is the man for the job, Radio Peking said Sunday night. In a broadcast monitored here, the official publication of the central committee was quoted as saying, "the first condition for the successor of the proletariat revolution venture is to support unconditionally modern Marx-Leninism and Maoist thought and to learn to grasp and deal with affairs according to Mao's thought. After quoting from recent speeches of Lin, who recently was named to the powerful position of First Vice Chairman of the central committee, the publication Red Flag said, "Comrade Lin's words were completely right and of great interest." No other Chinese official was mentioned.

In an editorial Red Flag also served notice the purge of officials who apparently expressed opposition that some of Mao's pet theories would continue.

Student leaders who took over square in downtown Jakarta for a mass rally Saturday denouncing Sukarno said only a few military leaders in central Java, long an area of strong pro-Sukarno feeling, oppose them.

KAMI is a huge confederation of politically active students who wield enormous influence. Their chief tactic is the street demonstration and they played a large role in already forcing Sukarno to relinquish most of his power to military strongman Gen. Suharto. KAMI central presidium decide "when the time is right,"

The decision for the final push reportedly was made following Sukarno's Independence Day speech in which he defended his policies that have brought economic and political chaos to the country.

There was open criticism of Sukarno's having failed to condemn the Communist attempt to take over Indonesia's government last October.

Students and military leaders resented Sukarno's offense of Suharto and Malik in his speech, calling them "assistants" and placing the blame of Indonesia's economic plight on the military.
