Israeli attitude shifts

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israeli spokesperson, signaling a shift in attitude, said Monday the government would reconsider the expulsion of Nablus Mayor Bassam Shakaa in exchange for a statement by him against terrorism and his voluntary resignation from office.

A military review board which was to hear Shakaa's appeal against the expulsion order postponed its meeting for the second time to allow quiet contacts to continue.

Israeli sources said consultations among Prime Minister Menachem Begin's Cabinet on Sunday produced an agreement to explore the feelers put out by Arab mayors on Shakaa's behalf.

It was still unclear if a compromise could be reached between the government's insistence that Shakaa be deposed as mayor and Shakaa's refusal to step aside, sources said.

Shakaa was arrested Nov. 11 pending deportation following a discussion he held with a top army officer in which he allegedly condoned Arab terrorism. Shakaa said he was misquoted and that he opposes violence, although he blames Israel's 13-year occupation for the on-going strife.

Americans back trial

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Three young American women living here have endorsed the occupation of the U.S. Embassy by Iranian militants and say that the 49 American hostages should be tried as spies.

"If they are not spies, they should certainly welcome a public trial," Mariam Kazemi told a news conference organized Monday by the Ministry of National Guidance. She said she was from New York and spoke with an American accent, but did not give her maiden name.

Kazemi, Molly McComb, formerly of Los Angeles, and Margaret Hunter of Atlanta, all in their 20s, said they represented a newly organized committee of "about a dozen" American women married to Iranians.

Hunter, who has been staying with an Iranian family for two months and plans to return to the United States, said, "I think that, in fact, many Americans do support the activities of the Iranian students here."

"There are a lot of people that want the shah sent back to Iran. They see him as the criminal that he is."

Troops free Mosque

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Soldiers have the last of the armed Moslem fanatics who occupied Mecca's Grand Mosque cornered in the mosque's basement, the Saudi information minister said Monday.

Government forces held off a final assault in order to catch the holdouts alive and prevent further damage to the mosque, Islam's holiest place, Mohammed Abdo Yamani said in a statement broadcast by Riyadh radio.

He said the upper floors of the huge edifice and its seven steeples were in complete control of security forces.

Yamani did not say how many diehards still were in the basement tunnels.

He said the statement was in response to "many questions" about the reasons for withholding official information about the Mecca siege, which began at dawn last Tuesday.

He said security forces had maintained a tight ring around the stadium-size mosque since its takeover by the armed attackers and wanted to overrun it, but "they also were keen on carrying out King Khaled's orders to protect the lives of Moslems," he said referring to hostages held by the attackers.

Abortion case heard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said Monday it may decide whether Congress can refuse to pay for most abortions wanted by women on welfare.

Once again taking up one of the nation's most divisive legal and social topics, the court agreed to hear arguments over the constitutionality of the spending restriction on abortions.

But the justices left themselves an escape route. First they will have to decide if they have the proper jurisdiction before ruling on the constitutional question.

Arguments likely will be heard this winter and a decision announced sometime before the end of the court term in June.

The so-called Hyde amendment, attached to the budget for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was first passed by Congress in 1976. Various versions of it have been enacted for each fiscal year since then.

Lending rate drops

NEW YORK (AP) — Some major banks cut their prime lending rates Monday to 15 and one-half percent, responding to lower costs for acquiring funds and to cooling of demand by businesses for loans.

Bankers Trust Co. of New York, the nation's eighth-largest bank ranked by deposits, reduced its basic lending rate from a record 15 and three-quarters percent. It was the first reduction in the prime since the key rate began rising sharply last August.

No. 11 Wells Fargo Bank, based in San Francisco, quickly joined in the quarter-point reduction, as did several smaller regional banks.

Banking industry analysts said they expected other major banks to join the move to lower prime rates.

Bankers Trust Chairperson Alfred Brittain III said the reduction "reflects a decline in our own cost of funds."

Major banks acquire a significant part of their lendable funds in the so-called money market, a term used to describe dealings in large-denomination securities and corporate debt, mostly with maturities of a year or less.

OPEC hike expected

ABU DHABI (AP) — The chairperson of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries said Monday he believes OPEC will agree to only a slight increase in oil prices for 1980 at its meeting next month in Caracas, Venezuela.

Oteiba declined to predict how much of a price increase OPEC might vote at its meeting in Caracas on Dec. 17. OPEC's current maximum base price is $23.50 a barrel, and some members have indicated they would like it raised to $30. But Oteiba thought that was unlikely for 1980 at least.

Oteiba also told reporters his country will reduce its oil output by only about 80,000 barrels a day next year, substantially less than U.S. officials had feared, and he predicted that most OPEC nations would maintain production at current levels.

IRANIANS URGED TO TAKE UP ARMS

Anti-U.S. marches continue

By ALEX EFTY
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini raged against the United States Monday and told his followers all Iranians must learn to handle weapons, drop their divisive arguments and unite with all their might against America or "we will disappear for good."

As attempts to solve the U.S.-Iranian crisis got under way at the United Nations in New York, Khomeini broadcast a speech from his headquarters at the holy city of Qom to revolutionary guards, asking that they mobilize against the "Satanic" power of America.

And 100 miles away, in Tehran, the 49 American hostages that are his price for return of the deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi spent their 23rd day as captives in the U.S. Embassy.

Meanwhile, the United States Monday ruled out any negotiations with Iran unless it assured the talks will result in the immediate release of 49 American hostages.

"Any discussion has to be predicted upon that," said Hodding Carter, the State Department spokesperson.

"An Islamic country ought to be a military one... Everyone must learn shooting and military skills... In addition to the religious equipment and faith that (the youth of our nation) possess, they must also be equipped with materials and arms... A country that will have 20 million youths in a few years time, should have 20 million armed men," Khomeini said on Tehran radio, monitored in London.

SHORTLY AFTERWARD, THE radio broadcast a statement from the guards' central headquarters saying it had formulated a nationwide program of military training for all which would be explained in further announcements.

Religious fervor heightened as Moslem leaders called for demonstrations and again alleged U.S. responsibility for the invasion of the Grand Mosque, Islam's holiest shrine in Mecca, Saudi Arabia.

Thousands gathered in an unusual night demonstration outside the occupied embassy, listening attentively to speeches then, on cue, bursting into deafening chants denouncing the U.S. government. Many wore white mourning shrouds signifying their readiness to die for Islam. "Death to Carter, death to the Shah," they shouted.

The embassy has become a place of pilgrimage for thousands of devout Moslems who travel there from all over Iran to denounce "infidel America" in response to the appeals of Khomeini and other religious leaders.

The hostages, held inside the embassy buildings since militants took it over Nov. 4 and demanded the shah be extradited from New York, where he is undergoing cancer treatment, have had their first American visitor.

REP. GEORGE HANSEN, R-Idaho, described them as well but worried after a brief visit with 20 of them on Sunday.

The congressman, here on a personal mission to solve the stalemate, does not have the Carter administration's approval, the White House press secretary Jody Powell said on Monday that Hansen's independent negotiations could prolong the holding of the hostages.

Powell said the administration opposes the mission and expressed concern that the Iranians might misinterpret Hansen's statements as an administration signal, giving a "conflicting view."

Hansen has proposed congressional hearings into charges against the shah, but President Carter publicly has refused to negotiate in any way with the Iranian leaders as long as the Americans are held.

But Carter did agree to a U.N. Security Council session called for by Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim. Iranian Foreign Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr, who was going to attend the meeting, postponed his trip for a week and members of the 15-nation council had to decide whether to continue with the meeting as planned or wait for Bani Sadr's arrival.

Diplomatic sources, preferring not to be named, said U.S. Ambassador Donald F. McHenry was trying to have the council meet soon and call for the hostages' release. They said Iran's Charge d'Affaires, Jamal Shemirani, had asked that the meeting be put off until after next Saturday.

Headlee Tax Act cuts MSU funds

By TIM SIMMONS
and DEBBIE CREEMERS
State News Staff Writers

With state allocations for higher education already declining, the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment is expected to cut even deeper into MSU's requested $42.2 million budget increase, MSU President Cecil Mackey said.

Although the effects of the tax amendment passed last year are still undetermined, appropriation decreases are probably "inevitable," Mackey said.

"Before, the state Legislature had more flexibility in allocating funds, but this amendment limits the flexibility of dollar disbursement," Mackey said.

The Headlee Amendment limits the growth of state taxation to no greater than the growth in personal income. Funds for local and non-local use are determined by a formula in the amendment.

CURRENTLY, ABOUT 60 percent of state appropriations are used for non-local expenditures such as welfare, mental health, and higher education, Mackey said.

"We are seeking as best we can, to get it (education) as high a priority as possible," University of Michigan Interim President Alan F. Smith said.

Although Smith acknowledged that higher education appropriations over the past decade have declined, he said he is hopeful U.M.'s requested $30 million budget increase will be approved.

Michigan currently ranks 40th among the states in per capita appropriations for higher education.

Student fees and tuition throughout Michigan's four-year higher education system are also about 40 percent above the average of most other public four-year schools in the United States.

This results in higher student tuitions and fees in order to balance the University budget.

IN 1966, STUDENT tuition and fees accounted for about 22 percent of the total general fund budget at MSU. Currently, about 29 percent of the budget comes from student fees and tuition.

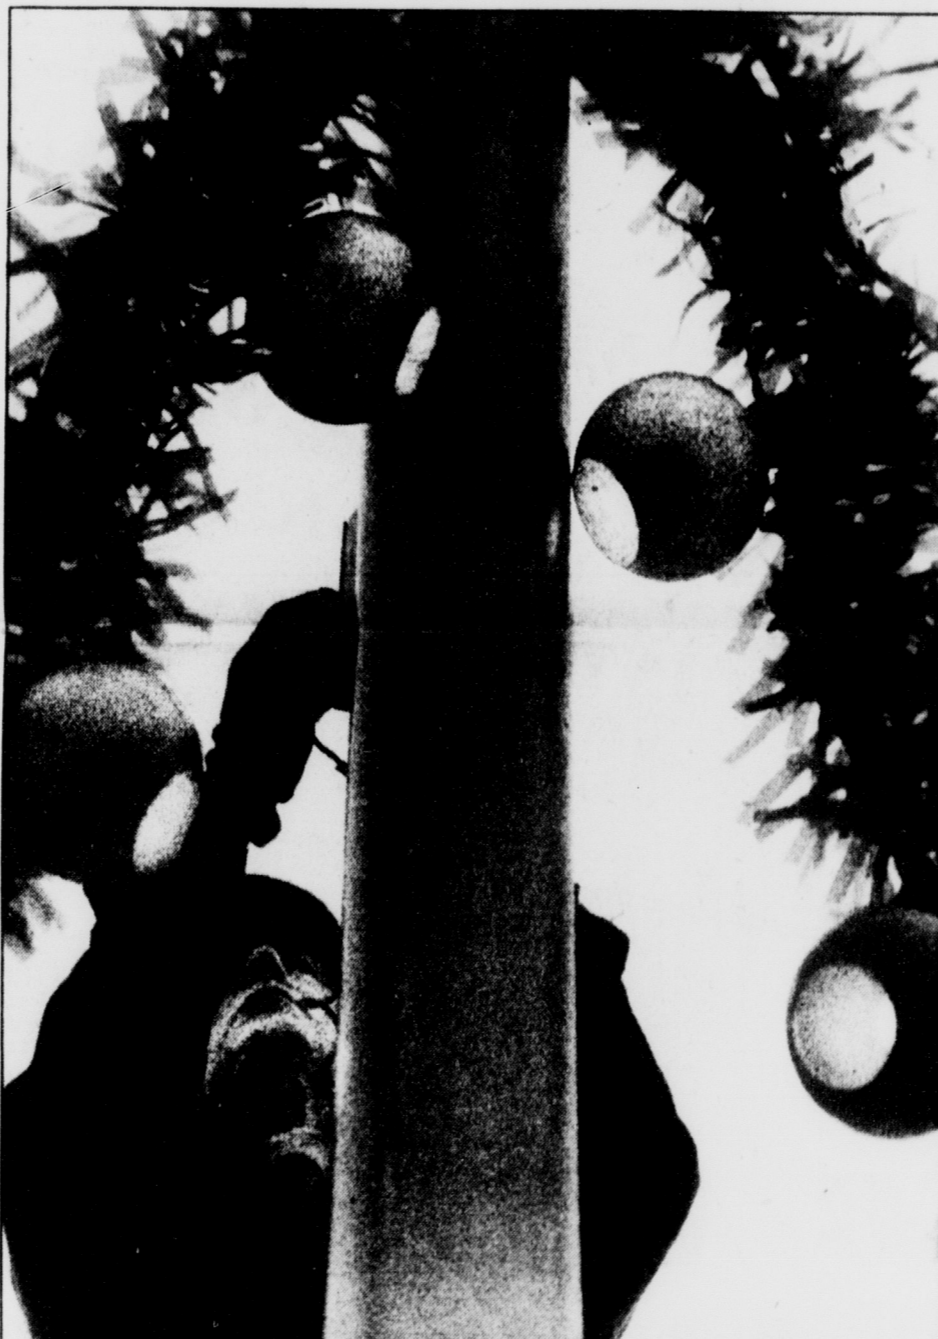

Mackey called the Headlee Amendment "a fact of life," adding that appropriations will have to change because of it.

Earlier this month, the State Department of Management and Budget told MSU officials it was considering a recommendation of 5 percent to the governor for next year's appropriation.

MSU's $42.2 million general fund budget increase for 1980-81 represents a 33 percent increase.

"They have to be prepared for the worst and maintain the fiscal integrity of the state," Mackey said of the department's budget recommendation.

"All we can do is hope for the best, but prepare for the worst."

While everyone hurried to their destinations in Monday's freezing weather, Muri Walter and other employees of the city of East Lansing quietly went about their duties putting up Christmas decorations along Grand River Avenue.

STOP BLACKMAIL BY OIL NATIONS

Levin says: make U.S. oil-independent

By JOANNA FIRESTONE
United Press International

DETROIT — Sen. Carl Levin, D-Mich., said Monday this country's outrage at the holding of American hostages in Iran should be channeled into approval of a windfall profits tax to make the United States more energy independent.

Such independence, Levin said, would free the U.S. from blackmail by oil producing nations such as Iran.

"The Iranian situation gives us a great opportunity to use the understandable rage of this country for a very positive purpose," Levin told reporters prior to addressing the Detroit Economic Club.

"The events in Iran should move us to adopt a strong windfall profits tax bill."

Levin said revenues from a windfall profits tax on oil companies should be funneled into energy research and development.

"TODAY'S CRISIS IS unique because it involves a direct threat to specific American lives," he said. "But surely we all understand that the forces which make a nation like Iran believe they can hold down American citizens and mold American policy are not unique."

"Surely we all understand that as long as this nation needs foreign oil, then nations with oil will be tempted to drain our economy dry, challenge American policy and insult American integrity. Surely we know that the only way to stop international threats is to reduce dependency on international supplies of energy."

Levin said oil producing nations have indicated they believe that now is the time to exert their influence over the U.S.

"The nationalism that many oil nations feel has grown — not declined — since the first embargo," he said.

"The hostility that many of them feel has increased, the anger has grown, the frustration has intensified — and so will the (continued on page 8)

Heathcote's Spartans open season; Vincent's injury could harm team

By ADAM TEICHER
State News Sports Writer

The wait is finally over for the MSU basketball team.

"We've been looking forward to opening the season because we've been playing against each other for so long now," said Spartan coach Jud Heathcote, whose team began practice Oct. 15.

"That's a universal thing, I've been talking to all of the other Big Ten coaches and they feel the same way."

Tonight the Spartans will get what they want. MSU will play an 8 p.m. exhibition game against Athletes in Action at Jenison Fieldhouse.

Everyone, including Heathcote, is anxious to see just how good MSU will be. "Our players are looking forward to seeing how they can do without (Earvin) Johnson and (Gregory) Kelsner," he said.

THERE REMAINS SOME worry about the foot injury to center Jay Vincent. Heathcote says Vincent will start against AIA, but doesn't know how much or how effectively he will perform.

"It will be an in-out thing," the coach explained. "We've been trying to have him do a little more each day. I hope he will get a feel for what he can do and hope he will get himself ready for the weekend (when the Spartans open the regular season with the Lapchick Tournament in New York City)."

Heathcote was quick to add that having the 6-foot-8 Vincent in the lineup is very important. "With Jay in there, we're a good basketball team," he pointed out. "Without him we are average and we would struggle to beat most teams."

Alongside Vincent, the Spartans will start senior Ron Charles and junior Mike Brkovich at forward and senior Terry Donnelly and sophomore Kevin Smith at guards. First off the bench will be Rob Gonzalez and Kurt James.

"We go into this season a player away from being a super basketball team," Heathcote said. "If we had a legitimate center, we could play Jay at his normal position, which is forward, and team him with Charles, and we could play Smith, Donnelly and Brkovich at guard. Gonzalez and James would come off the bench."

"But we don't have a center so we move Vincent to center and Brkovich to forward and we're just a good basketball team."

OPENING WITH AIA is no way for defending national champions to start a season. AIA had won its first 13 games against some of the top teams in the nation before losing to nationally-ranked North Carolina Saturday. The game is (continued on page 8)

WHY WE NEED A YES VOTE ON YOUR BALLOT, AT WINTER TERM REGISTRATION . . .

The cost of newsprint has risen recently and we are forced to seek further student support. 3.9 tons of paper are used each day to print the State News. At the current price of newsprint, the daily cost is $1462.50 per day for just the paper to be printed on. Multiply that number times 50 (the number of days we print each term) and the cost per term for newsprint alone is $73,125!

Your student fees are earmarked to cover the cost of newsprint alone, however, at the current rate of $1.00 per term, the subscription price from students per term totals on $31,662. This leaves the State News subsidizing our readers for over $41,000, and even with the 1¢ a day increase, that subsidy will remain at $20,732 per term.

Not since 1961 has there been an increase in the student subscription fee for the State News . . . and we hope that there will be no need for anymore increases for another 15 years!

So vote ☐ YES during winter term registration for the State News and for you, our readers.

At an additional 1¢ per day, it's your best buy!

Crim wants House, Wayne County decision Council meeting

By MICKI MAYNARD

United Press International
House Speaker Bobby Crim said Monday he wants a legislative package reorganizing Wayne County government to be on Gov. William G. Milliken's desk by Dec. 14.
The Davison Democrat told reporters he would consider keeping the House in session a week beyond the current Christmas recess date if lawmakers are close to final action on the bill.

Crim said several problems remain in the Wayne County package. Those include the issue of an appointed or elected county executive, the decision on which elected officials' jobs will be protected and the status of the county road commission.

Wayne County reorganization headed a laundry list of action Crim wants taken before lawmakers go home for the holidays.

The House speaker also said he would support anything the Legislature could do to help stumbling Chrysler Corp.
"I'd be willing to support anything we can do to help Chrysler that is legal and proper," Crim said.
Milliken Administration officials currently are considering a state loan to Chrysler based on use of the automaker's Highland Park headquarters and Chelsea proving grounds as collateral.

Under state law, the company can borrow up to 75 percent of the assessed value of the property.
While some estimates have placed the combined value of the property at up to $200 million, Crim said he believed it was worth closer to $72 million.

"If we make the loan on that basis, it would amount to only $54 million," Crim said. "It's a matter of appraisal — whether we take it at its assessed value or at what potential purchasers would pay for it."

Among other measures Crim wants on Milliken's desk before the Christmas break are wetlands protection, revamping of Blue Cross Blue Shield and sunset legislation.

Absent from the list was a package of legislation permitting strikes by public employees.

A report from the University Committee on Curriculum will be discussed at the Academic Council meeting at 3:15 p.m. today in the Con Con Room, International Center.
Douglas Hall, chairperson of the committee, will give the report, which informs the council of changes in courses and curricula.

Mackey holds student reception to discuss concerns of Blacks

Black MSU students are invited to attend an informal reception with MSU President Cecil Mackey at 7 tonight in the Union Ballroom to discuss issues affecting the Black community.

Alta Perry, president of the Office of Black Affairs, said a concise list of students' concerns ranging from the decrease in Black enrollment to the tenure of Black professors has been presented to Mackey for this event.

Perry said students will be given the opportunity to talk with Mackey about the problems Black students are presented with today.

The event is being presented by the National Pan-Hellenic Council and the Office of Black Affairs.

No admission will be charged.

Lansing Township police look for hit, run driver

Lansing Township Police are searching for the driver of a vehicle in a hit and run accident in connection with the death of a 19-year-old Lansing man.

Stanley Goddard, 1635 Vermont St., died in Sparrow Hospital Sunday night from multiple injuries sustained Nov. 18 when a vehicle struck him and then sped away.

Police said Goddard and his brother, Walter, 18, were walking along Lake Lansing Road when the incident occurred.

New silence

None of the presidential candidates have spoken out on the Iranian situation as yet and on President Carter's handling of the issue. That silence is greatly needed. This is not a situation calling for political rhetoric from the candidates. Accordingly, the candidates must continue to refrain from comment.

They have no real power to deal with the Iranian government, and it would be useless for them to speak out against Iran or against Carter's actions. In a situation as touchy as this one, comment is only valid from people with the actual power and authority to deal with the issue. The candidates may want to comment (and criticize Carter) to improve their positions in the presidential race, but in doing so, they could hurt America's position toward Iran. The embassy takeover cannot become a political battleground for presidential candidates, because speaking out against Carter would make America appear divided and indecisive. Strength, not rhetoric and indecision, is needed to solve this crisis.

If the candidates have comments about American policy toward Iran, they should discuss those comments with Carter privately.

Comments were warranted

Joy Haenlein's comments on the ASMSU sponsored tuition hike protest were certainly warranted. Unfortunately, Ms. Haenlein neglected the inherent tragedy of this case of mercenary activism. By offering monetary prizes for the best protest signs, ASMSU discredited the march it was trying to promote. How can the state Legislature, not to mention the press and the public, take this protest seriously, when the main reason for participation appeared to be the chance to win $100? This frivolous attitude toward protests can only hurt the battle against tuition hikes. I hope that ASMSU will act more responsibly in the future.

plc Marine Corps College And The Corps

The Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) is the primary college officer commissioning program of the Marine Corps. It is a leadership program, and the positive characteristics developed during training as a candidate will be of great value to you throughout your career—be it civilian or military.

What does it take to complete PLC training? It takes strength, agility, coordination, endurance, intelligence, moral and physical courage. It takes desire, determination and grit. If you think you've got what it takes find out for sure while you're still in college. And do it with no obligation.

You can join the PLC program in your freshman, sophomore or junior year of college. On campus you will not have to wear a uniform, participate in drill or attend any special classes because all training takes place ONLY IN THE SUMMER. Freshmen and sophomores attend two six week training courses. Juniors take one ten week course. Only after you graduate from college and accept your commission are you required to serve on active duty. Before then you may disenroll at any time.

U.S. meet

The MSU women's field hockey team leaves today for Princeton, N.J., and the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women's National Field Hockey Championship.

MSU faces the University of Massachusetts in first round action at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and with a victory would play the St. Louis University-San Jose State University winner.

The Spartans' leading scorer this year is senior Jennie Klepinger with 13 goals and seven assists, followed by Barb Oakley with 12 goals and five assists.

Sixteen teams will be vying for top honors in the national tournament. Princeton University will host all three divisions, making it one of the biggest national tournaments ever.

Last year's national champions, Pennsylvania's West Chester State University, did not qualify for this year's tournament, thus guaranteeing a new champion in Division I.

The Spartans will take their 17-6-2 record with them to the tournament, where there are no official seedings.

Gung Ho, adjective. Enthusiastic. Energetic. Willing to help. From an old Chinese phrase, "work together." Describes very old peasant farmers and very new students. Meijer is gung ho about college, too. Meijer Thrifty Acres is perfect for college students; new and old. We have the selection of the name brands you want, priced to save you money. Maybe enough for chow mein and won ton for two. And we have Meijer people, gung ho. Always willing to help.

Simon comedy hit at MSU tonight

Neil Simon's Broadway smash Chapter Two, an autobiographical comedy based on his second-time-around romance, plays at 8:15 p.m. tonight in the Auditorium. This 15th play of Simon's marks the third play to come for the MSU Broadway Series.

Chapter Two is about a novelist, George Schneider, and his adjustment after his first wife dies — as happened to Simon in 1973. George marries an actress named Jennie after a three-week courtship (just as Neil Simon married Marsha Mason after three weeks) and learns that adjustments have to be made with his past and for his future. George is played by David Faulkner and Jennie is played by ex-Gilligan's Island castaway Dawn Wells.

Chapter Two has been critically acclaimed as Simon's most affectionate and thoughtful play, still abounding with Neil Simon's compelling wit and humor. Tickets for Chapter Two may be purchased at the Union ticket office (355-3361). Prices range from $3 to $4.75 for MSU students and $6 to $9.50 for the public.

'Mork' moves

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC will unveil six new prime-time series after the first of the year, and change air times for two of its most successful comedies, "Mork and Mindy" and "Laverne and Shirley."

Joining the ABC schedule after the first of the year are two half-hour comedies. Three series begun this fall, "240 Robert," "Detective School" and "Out of the Blue," will be dropped from the ABC schedule.

Dawn Wells and David Faulkner in Neil Simon's Chapter Two.

Correction

The MSU Jazz Ensembles I and II will present their annual fall concert at 8:15 tonight in the Music Building Auditorium. The concert was incorrectly announced as Monday night in yesterday's State News.

The concert's highlight will be a tribute to the late Stan Kenton. There is no admission charge, and the concert is open to the public.

Killen to perform at 10 Pound Fiddle

The Ten Pound Fiddle will host Lou Killen, one of the world's finest singers of traditional British folksongs at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Best known for his repertoire of songs about the sea, Killen will be performing Wednesday in a very intimate setting — the living room at the home of Bob and Laura Stein, 431 Gainsborough St.

Killen, who has recorded several albums with the Clancy Brothers, often accompanies his singing on concertina and is thought by many folk musicians as the world's finest concertina player.

Says Folk Scene magazine: "Killen can take you across the fragile bridges of time and culture and language, because he is such a credible guide. If believability is the standard by which great singers and storytellers are measured, then there is no one greater."

The Lou Killen concert is accessible to handicappers. General admission tickets, available at Elderly Instruments, are $3.

The next Fiddle concert will be 8 p.m. Friday, when Margaret Christl appears in Williams Hall. Future events include seven local folksingers (John Babula, Stan Bartilson, Bob Blackman, Karrie Potter, Sally Rogers, Laura Stein and Stan Werbin) in Williams Hall at 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 7, and contemporary folk singer Stan Rogers at 431 Gainsborough St. at 8 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 14.

Chrysler breaks ties with business roundtable

By JAMES V. HIGGINS

United Press International

DETROIT — Chrysler Corp. Chairperson Lee A. Iacocca has severed his company's ties with the prestigious Business Roundtable to protest that group's opposition to federal financial aid for the ailing No. 3 automaker.

In a strongly worded letter released Monday, Iacocca criticized a Nov. 14 statement from the Roundtable's policy committee against "federal bail outs" for failing corporations.

That statement from the New York-based alliance of business leaders coincided with Iacocca's testimony before the Senate Banking Committee in support of $1.5 billion in federal loan guarantees for Chrysler.

Iacocca removed Chrysler as a member of the Roundtable and declined an invitation to serve on the group's policy committee.

THE BUSINESS ROUNDTABLE includes chief executives of 200 corporations, guided by a 46-member policy committee.

Iacocca charged Chrysler was not given a chance to plead its case before the Roundtable issued its statement. He also challenged the group's contention that Chrysler might find a practical solution to its difficulties through reorganization under new federal bankruptcy laws.

"Finally, I believe my acceptance of your current invitation to become a member of the Roundtable would be a source of embarrassment to the other members," Iacocca said in concluding the letter.

"I had looked forward to joining a business forum that openly discusses vital economic and social issues in an atmosphere of mutual trust and respect. The Roundtable's press release indicates that such an opportunity does not exist in the policy committee.
