Police substation has busy first year on Sand Point

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

The setting is peaceful and the biggest battles are often fought with mosquitos rather than desperados, but the Huron County Sheriff substation located on Sand Point has resulted in better police protection for many people in the Western Thumb.

Huron County Sheriff Richard V. Stokan terms the substation, established at the wooded site at Beadle Bay Marina on Sand Point in March of 1985, a success for several reasons.

He says Sergeant Kent Tibbitts and deputies Arlin Herford, Richard Koehler and Elwood Smith who man the substation spend less time traveling to and from work, and thus more time on patrol.

The location also results in quicker response time to complaints by residents and more police traffic in the western part of the county instead of a concentration in the Bad Axe area.

"What we try to do is utilize the manpower where most of the activity is," says Stokan. "Our attempt with (the substation) is to distribute coverage equally across the county."

In recent years, the county has been divided into three districts with four officers primarily assigned to concentrate on activity in each. The substation coordinates activity in the district located west of a line from State Park Road to Filion Road to Gagetown Road to the south edge of the county.

The other two districts are separated by Verona Road, which runs from the north to south boundaries of the county.

Sand Point residents benefit from added police visibility in the area, but also contribute another officer based at the substation.

Caseville Township officer Jack Hopkins' salary is paid by the Sheriff's Department, which in turn is reimbursed by the Township.

Stokan says Hopkins is also deputized and can handle some complaints in the district which require immediate attention in the event other officers on duty are involved elsewhere at that time.

The response time for complaints in the Sebewaing area has increased greatly, Stokan says. That takes some pressure off local police who often had to respond to accidents which occurred in their area, but outside their jurisdiction, notes the Sheriff.

Another advantage of the substation is the fact that the four officers each live in the district. For that reason, they are in familiar territory, and often know the people with whom they are involved.

The biggest drawback to the substation is the paperwork shuffle, Stokan says. Because officers there are not based in Bad Axe, sometimes reports take a little longer to be transported to headquarters. That sometimes causes some minor problems for news reporters who look over the police blotter on a daily basis, notes Stokan.

Because of the success of the substation, Stokan says he is working on a way to speed up response time on the eastern side the county.

Although the smaller population base there compared to the Western Thumb can't justify establishment of another substation, Stokan says plans are in the works to save some time on the road between Bad Axe and officers who live in that area.

"We've been lucky. So far it has gone really smooth," concludes Stokan about the substation.

The Western Thumb substation has been successful in providing quicker response time, Stokan says.

Annual School Elections coming this Monday

Voters will be going to the polls this Monday, June 9 in annual School Elections in Caseville, Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port and Owendale - Gagetown School Districts.

All will be electing members to the Board of Education plus deciding millage renewal or increase questions. All polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday in each community's school building.

IN CASEVILLE, voters will likely elect Robert Kundinger and George (Al) Pittenger to the two four-year seats expiring. Both are incumbents and no opposition submitted nominating petitions.

Caseville voters are being asked to approve a renewal of a five-mill request for five years for general school operations.

AT LAKERS, voters also have just one choice in School Board candidates. Incumbent Bruce Baur of Bay Port is seeking another four-year term and he is unopposed.

Laker voters are being asked to okay a 1.50-mill question, with one mill renewal and a .50-mill increase for five years, for general school operations. Officials say the small increase is needed to maintain present funding levels, due to falling property values, which reduce tax collection amounts.

AT OWEN-GAGE, five candidates are seeking the two expiring seats on the Board of Education, also for four years.

Incumbents Donna Salcido of Gagetown and Jack Brinkman of Owendale are running, as are Donald Dorsch and William Kretzschmer, both of Owendale, and Sue Albrecht of Gagetown.

Owen-Gage voters are being asked to renew 9.75 mills for five years, plus add six mills for one year for general operations. Officials note the district hasn't had a millage increase in five years, and say the one-year increase is needed due to falling property values.

NEW OWNERS: The task of placing price stickers on enough items to fill an empty store is a huge task, as Village Variety store co-owner Linda Gardy found out. She and her husband George will open the Main Street business in Pigeon by the first part of next week (or sooner if the store can be set up in time).

The Gardys say they have received a very positive response from people in the community who learned they would be re-opening the store.

OPENING SOON: After being closed for business for more than a year, the former Ben Franklin store in downtown Pigeon will again open its doors. The new business will be operated under the name "Village Variety" by George and Linda Gardy.

The new owners say the store will stock "A little bit of everything and something for everyone."

tional System (ARES) was used in a children's assembly setting. Previous uses of the robot have been with smaller groups. Teachers danced with the robot and students enthusiastically answered questions about personal safety, seat belt use and bike safety.

Business office open at Scheurer

After having been located in a portable building away from the main hospital facility, the Scheurer Hospital business office has now become a permanent part of the main building.

The business office is now located in the new north wing of the hospital, adjacent to the new laboratory and emergency room area.

The public and staff can now experience the convenience of obtaining billing information in the main hospital facility. The move took place last Friday, May 23. The new hospital lab and emergency room were also put into service within the past two weeks.

Anyone desiring to pay bills or obtain information regarding billing should inquire at the hospital reception desk for directions to the new business office.

Thanks A Million

DEAR MR. ROSS:

Before putting this letter in "file 13," I want you to know that I'm unable to work. After taxes, my wife's paycheck just covers rent and utilities. I'm writing to ask for help in buying her some new uniforms for work.

If I'm denied my request, I can't help but wonder how you make your decisions. You didn't purchase a McDonald's Restaurant for a man, but you sent him $50 to buy hamburgers. Another couple needed money for diapers and you sent them a year's supply.

Certainly my request for new uniforms is more important than hamburgers or diapers.

If we do not qualify for your assistance, please acknowledge this letter so we'll know you're for real. For all I know, you could just be something the newspaper made up. — Mr. E.F., Knoxville, Tenn.

DEAR MR. F.:

My decisions are made by looking at the need within each individual's situation. In addition, I'm usually swayed by those who show a willingness to help themselves.

Had you written for $200 to make ends meet, chances are your request would have been passed by. But $200 for uniforms so your wife may continue to work is right up my alley.

As to your question of whether or not I'm for real... answer that yourself after receiving the check I just mailed.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I'm the mother of three small children. We manage as well as we can on welfare. We're thankful, however, because there are worse living situations in and out of this country.

My problem, which I hope you don't find ridiculous, is diapers. Only my three year old daughter is toilet-trained. My oldest boy has just turned two, and my youngest son is nine months old.

I never seem to be able to stretch my budget for diapers. They are quite expensive and I like to make sure my children are kept dry. There have been days my boys have been wrapped in towels and also days they have to be left bare-bottomed. This horrifies me! My children have never had diaper rashes, but some nights, sleeping without diapers they wake up very wet and very sore.

The closing sentence of her letter to me read, "I hope this 'old friend' will provide her grandchildren with as many happy memories of grandma's cookies and love, as it did for me." To all of you who responded with offers and especially to Mrs. Rodgers. "Thanks a Million."

Mr. Ross, the only solution is cloth diapers. I figure two boxes would solve the problem. I'm a very clean person and could wash them in the basement laundry, or if necessary, by hand. My budget, as you might have guessed, will not allow me to buy them. Could you help? — Ms. L.G.S., Philadelphia, Pa.

DEAR MS. S.:

Your request is received with open arms! The last time I gave away diapers in this column, they were disposable. I still hear from quite a few irate readers who won't let me forget it, either.

To aid your children's needs and set the record straight with my readers... two boxes of cloth diapers are on the way.

DEAR PURSE STRINGS:

I need $5,000 to tide me over during these hard times. I'm a greedy dog that loves money. Whedda ya say? — M.A., Pomona, Calif.

DEAR MR. A.:

You're barking up the wrong tree with me. As soon as I saw the word greedy, your request landed in the doghouse. Sorry.

DEAR READERS:

I recently printed a letter from Mrs. M.M. of Toronto, Ont., who requested information on the whereabouts of an Aunt Jimma cookie jar. From among the many offers I received, the one from Mrs. Diana Rodgers of Sugar Loaf, Calif. was chosen.

The closing sentence of her letter to me read, "I hope this 'old friend' will provide her grandchildren with as many happy memories of grandma's cookies and love, as it did for me." To all of you who responded with offers and especially to Mrs. Rodgers. "Thanks a Million."

TUMBLING DOWN

Came some of the walls recently at People's Oil & Gas in Pigeon. The demolition was part of renovations at the Main Street business.

Auto service work is now discontinued although gas sales will continue at the self-serve pumps.

Future changes at the business include a convenience store and a laundromat, as announced at the May 12 Pigeon Council Meeting.

Pigeon selects new insurance bid

Pigeon Village Council last Tuesday approved the bid of Michigan Community Underwriters of Sterling Heights for its overall umbrella insurance policy, effective June 1.

The annual premium of $32,858 includes a $4000 discount for prepayment at one time, noted Village President David Geiger. Village Supt. Bob Brown, Jr., will seek a refund on the portion of outstanding police protection liability coverage now handled through the National Sheriff's Association.

The winning bid was nearly $20,000 cheaper than the lowest local bid submitted, Council noted.

AFC HOME: Irene Ferguson was given village approval to house up to six persons in her two-story home at 95 Brush Street, in preparation for final state approval of the Adult Foster Care facility.

"In Pigeon, we really need a place where older people can go, where they can be loved," Mrs. Ferguson said. "Too often, we put them into an institution and they get tagged in a wheel chair and become a number."

No skilled care will be offered, and people living here are alert but need some assistance. A Huron County Visiting Nurse will make calls. Residents may live there for a short period or long-term. Three residents are now in the home, and three more may be added if they can climb the stairs to the second floor.

WATER: Gary Osminski of K. Don Williamson, village engineers of Harbor Beach, noted that bowl of the water tank is in construction stages. The tower stands at 105 feet and the bowl will be completed at 143 feet of height, within 10 or so days.

Then, a crew will sandblast and grind the tower, prior to painting. The ground storage reservoir is nearly complete, and pumps are installed as interior work is being completed.

FUNDING: Osminski noted the original $870,000 bonded for has grown by $20,000 in interest. He expects all construction to cost $850,000 leaving a reduced final payment amount of $40,000.

Fund balance increases at Caseville School

The 1985-86 budget was adjusted at the May 19 meeting of the Caseville Board of Education. Expenditures were lowered from the expected figure of $1,037 million to an actual amount of $986,713, resulting in a $50,000 increase in the fund balance, according to Superintendent James Stahl.

The Board set a public hearing hearing on the 1986-87 budget for 7 p.m. on Monday, June 16 in the school library.

Stahl was authorized to begin the paperwork to borrow funds in anticipation of taxes to be collected. The amount to be borrowed is not yet known, says Stahl.

Scholarships for Caseville graduates were accepted from St. Roch's Catholic Church and also American Legion Jean Post in Caseville.

In other action, the Board appointed Melvin Dutcher to be auditor for the fiscal 1985-86 year.

Thumb Weekly News Round-Up

LAKE STUDY STARTS JULY 17

This year's portion of an underwater study of Lake Huron begins July 17, as scientists hope to learn more about lake fish habitats.

Michigan State University Zoology Professor William Cooper says the Johnson Sea-Link II submarine will work as deeply as 850 feet in the Lake, from its parent ship, Seward Johnson. Scientists plan to view underwater reefs targeted as lake trout habitat, to evaluate whether reefs are suitable spawning areas.

Samples of fish called sculpins will also be sought, Cooper says. The $500,000 research effort, centered in upper Lake Huron off Harrisville, runs from July 17 to Aug. 10. Scientists also expect to learn what effect bottom-sediment pollutants such as PCBs, PBBs, mercury and heavy metals have on aquatic wildlife.

Both vessels will then proceed to Lake Superior, for a similar exploration late this summer. A return to Lake Huron is expected in several years. Both ships were recently used in the Atlantic Ocean in the search for remains of the space shuttle Challenger.

LAKE RISE TO CONTINUE

Although Lake Huron water levels should rise by another four to six inches by July, few local problems are expected — unless major storms from the northeast are encountered.

The Great Lakes Environmental Research Lab at Ann Arbor says the rise will help erode beaches in the Thumb, but no large numbers of residences should be affected. With normal precipitation, Frank Quinn of the Lab says, lake levels will return to normal in six to 10 years.

His research was featured at last week's Council of Great Lakes Governors meeting on Mackinac Island.

NEW COAST GUARD STATION

The U.S. Coast Guard has announced plans to build a $500,000 Coast Guard station at Harbor Beach, to replace the 105-year-old facility presently under several inches of water in Lake Huron.

That station was scheduled for closure last year in federal budget-cutting efforts, but has remained open following congressional debates. The new station will be located about a half-mile north of the old one just north of Harbor Beach's business district.

Fourteen crew members staff the station in summer months from June through August. Two permanent crew members man the facility year-round. The new station should be completed by late 1987, according to an aide to U.S. Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, who announced the approval.

TACA SEEKS INPUT

Thumb Area Commission on Aging (TACA) is asking for ideas on how to properly fund the three-county agency offering services to senior citizens in Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac Counties. Agency Director Alan Sward said differing funding levels from each of the participating counties must be changed — or changes in services will result.

Sward spoke to Huron County Commissioners last week, who appointed Commissioners Jean Talaski and Ronald Knobloch to study Huron County's options, as TACA prepares its fiscal year budget. Presently, Huron County contributes $25,000 to TACA annually, directly from county coffers.

Tuscola provides $112,000 annually and Sanilac contributes about $80,000 — both from special millages which Huron voters did not approve. Federal and state donations provide the balance of TACA's operating funds this year.

TACA asked Huron County to increase its contribution to $56,000 or face reduction in services such as meal sites and senior citizen transportation. Knobloch says he would consider quitting TACA, allowing Huron to seek that federal aid individually or through another agency. Talaski said some type of senior citizen programs must be continued in Huron County.

The TACA Board has been reorganizing since sloppy book-keeping questions and problems in Sanilac County were uncovered earlier this year. Sward took over the director's position in March and is asking the three county boards to give the agency a chance to function properly under his management.

PHONE CONSTRUCTION NEARS

Telephone service should improve in Kinde and Port Austin exchanges, as Century Telephone begins a $2.5 million construction project to rebuild office and outside plant facilities.

Completion is expected in late November, when all lines will be changed to one-party service and no operator assistance will be needed when making long distance calls. Fiber optic systems will be used for the new central offices, allowing all types of phone services not previously available. Underground cables will be buried throughout the area this summer, Century officials say.

LONG RECOVERY YEAR

It's been nearly a year since Mariette's John Sullivan was struck by a bolt of lightning while golfing in East Lansing — and his on-going physical therapy treatments are continuing.

Sullivan, an 18-year-old Mariette High honor student, was to have graduated with his classmates this month. Instead, he lies nearly motionless in bed, fighting to regain the ability to speak and move his legs and arms. He and three other teens were struck by lightning while competing last July 15 in the Michigan Junior Gold Champion Invitation golf tournament at East Lansing. He and another youth were injured critically, and Sullivan spent nine weeks in Lansing General Hospital and the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

His parents say doctors are optimistic he will regain full use of his limbs, but cannot estimate how long the recovery will take. Mariette friends and groups have sponsored fundraisers to help the family pay for expenses not covered by insurance.

Good schools need good support

All local schools here in the Western Thumb area are asking voters to cast ballots in Monday's annual School Election, to decide both Board of Education seats plus millage questions.

It's important that taxpayers of all persuasions consider all the options — plus budgetary truths and realities — before they go behind that curtain and cast their all-important ballot.

Our resident philosopher, George Keim, has clearly stated his personal opinion about education many times in the past. "Even though I don't have any kids in school now, I always remember that someone paid their taxes to give ME an education 'way back when.'" Now, it's OUR duty to do the same for the next generation.

In short, we recommend "yes" votes on millage questions facing local voters, especially in the Laker and Caseville School Districts. Children deserve full support, as requested by competent administrators and intelligent Boards of Education.

The old truth "you get what you pay for" is very applicable in education. Caseville and Laker area residents are blessed to have excellent teaching and support staffs, plus top-notch school programs. These deserve basic, firm and complete support to be maintained — as local children should receive.

Years ago, someone paid to give today's adults their educations. Our children deserve the same now.

School millage requests are being increased or continued due to falling property values. The recent 10% average decline in farm values is bad news "on paper" for agricultural land owners here, but it also reduces the amount available for education and other taxing needs based on property values.

It would be easy to simply say, "let them get by with less money." Simple, maybe, but impossible today.

It's a vicious circle. Schools COULD get by with less funding than in past years. It might not even be noticed widely at first. But inadequate pay has already forced many valued teachers to go into other fields which compensate them better. Don't local children deserve the very best possible education from the best available teachers?

Actually, it's a circle all right, but it's not so vicious. Funding educational programs pays off in stronger, more vibrant communities. It helps assure a brighter future, which guards against depletion of our own properties or investments.

These points all sound like business decisions. They are, but personalities are involved, too. Many important elements make up the wheels which together make a community liveable. Schools, obviously, are a vital cog in that wheel.

Good schools aren't a "plus." They're a mandatory requirement. No local tax rates are so excessive that they deserve to be turned down. The present school millages should be supported to maintain what's here, pure and simple.

ROSES and THORNS

By MARK KARLS

Mothers' Day 1986

This is a continuation of the message Floris Wertz presented to the Salem United Methodist Church congregation on Mothers' Day 1986.

Moms, just a word or two for those of you who have little ones: Hold them close to you, rock them, cuddle them, sing to them, read to them, play with them, laugh with them, spend as much time as you possibly can with them, because they grow up all too quickly and are soon gone from you.

Teach them to revere the Lord. Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it. Above all, pray for and with your children and read the Bible with them.

Did you know that children who listen to their parents pray learn to pray themselves by listening to their parents pray? It's true. As I would listen to my children pray, many times their prayers sounded like my prayers. As they grew older their own personalities began to come forth in their prayers.

What a blessing it is for a mother to watch her babies grow up a mature spiritually as well as emotionally and physically!

At this point, I would like to share something about our son, Rodney, who went home to be with Jesus just a few weeks ago. You all know that Rodney was ready to leave this world. He knew Jesus as his personal Savior and had lived life to the fullest serving the Lord.

When Rodney was five years old, he came to me one day and told me he wanted to ask Jesus into his heart. I was at the kitchen table folding wash. I asked Rodney if he would like to have me pray with him and he could ask Jesus to come into his heart right there in our kitchen. He said, "Yes."

So I picked him up and put him on my lap and I prayed and he repeated the prayer after me. At that moment Jesus came into Rodney's heart. I will never forget that moment that day. Rodney was so happy and so excited! I don't know who was happier, Rodney or me.

I cried tears of joy. That was a little difficult for Rodney to understand. He thought at first I was sad because I was crying. I had to explain to him that sometimes we adults cry when we are really happy. He seemed to understand and then he went about happily playing.

Mothers, let me tell you — leading your own child to the Lord is one of the greatest joys and blessings you can ever receive as a mother. If at all possible, don't let someone else lead your child to the Lord. Don't miss out on the blessing God has intended for you to have.

If you see your son or daughter is searching for the Lord, talk to him or her. Ask them if they would like to have you pray with them and have Jesus come into their heart.

As our children were growing up there were several things as a mother I tried to instill in them and teach them. I tried to teach them to be loving and kind, to be courteous and polite and to be honest. I tried to teach them the importance of spending time alone with God in prayer and in the Word each day.

I especially encouraged them to pray each night before they went to sleep and to make sure they had everything right with the Lord.

I have tried and am still trying to let them know how special they are to God, to us as parents and to many others. I have encouraged them when they needed a little boost. I have tried to show them the importance of setting short and long-term goals and striving and working hard to achieve as many of those goals as possible.

I have always believed in our children. I know that together with God there is no task too big that they can't accomplish if God is in it with them. Most of all I think I have tried hardest to have my children believe in themselves, to really learn to love and accept themselves as they are.

If God accepts us as imperfect as we are, then we ought surely to accept and love ourselves as we are. Teach your children to have a good, healthy sense of pride about themselves.

You know, if WE don't love and accept ourselves as we are, it is very difficult if not impossible to really love God and to really love others.

Think about that a moment. We must be happy with ourselves and love ourselves before we can blossom, bloom and grow and share God's love with others. Teach your children to believe in themselves, to have confidence in themselves and to have a certain dignity about themselves.

Inspector Gordo's MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE Manufacturer's clothes

The body of T.B. Dowd, a manufacturer of men's hats, was found by two students in his expensive sports car parked in secluded Meadowlark Lane.

"Dowd was a lefty," Police Sgt. Cook told Inspector Gordo the next day at headquarters. He apparently committed suicide.

"The bullet entered his left temple. When found, he was leaning over the steering wheel, slightly to the right of center. The pistol was on the floor by the clutch pedal."

Gordo nodded thoughtfully and continued to study the pile of clothing which Dowd had been wearing.

On the police table were a pair of shiny black shoes, navy stretch socks, a blue suit, black leather belt, monogrammed underwear and shirt, a conservative tie and two handkerchiefs — one soiled and one still folded for the breast pocket. Sgt. Cook continued.

"Besides these clothes and the gun, the only other object in the car was a briefcase. It contained his firm's latest advertising program."

"Dowd told his secretary he was driving to the Civic Center to attend the men's wear trade show. He left his office at 1 p.m. The coroner places the time of his death around 2:30 p.m."

"He's supposed to be happily married and a financial success," concluded the puzzled Sgt. Cook. "So why suicide?"

"It wasn't suicide," corrected the world-famous Gordo. "The killer shot Dowd somewhere else, then staged the suicide in the parked car. But he forgot one item that gave the business away!"

RECOLLECTIONS OF By-Gone Days

By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR,

Last Wednesday, my son Wayne, his wife and I drove over to Zurich, Ont., to pick up my daughter, Charlene. She has been in Ethiopia for 2½ years as a Registered Nurse taking care of sick people and performing operations on eye patients.

They are simple operations, but if not done, the person could go blind in a short time.

She does other things, too, such as feeding the hungry. She saw some bean bags and corn from the Co-Op Elevator in Pigeon!

I suppose if she wanted to, Charlene could write a book on her experiences.

We went down M-53 on our way to Port Huron, and crossed the Blue Water Bridge. There was a good-looking woman at the bridge, who asked us where we lived and how long we were staying there.

Canada looks just like the United States, but we were still in a foreign country. The place we went to was a nice country home. They had a nice orchard and lots of shade trees.

The man was about my size and had a beard about the size of mine. He was about my age, too, and also a widower. His name was Earl and he knew many people around Pigeon and Elktion and is related to the Gaschos and Bechlers.

We had a very good visit and a very good dinner. When we got back to the bridge, a man asked us where we were going, if we had bought anything and how long we had been in Canada.

We came home on M-25 and it was a very nice drive. There are many summer homes along the way, and we came home in good time.

Charlene has to get used to being among white people again. The Ethiopians aren't of the black race, but they are of the brown race and of course, their culture is far different from ours.

She'll stay at my place a while, until she gets a job here in the U.S.

Then, I attended the Pigeon Historical Society meeting last Thursday night. We talked about the old depot that we hope to use for a museum. I remember very well how people used to come there, waiting for the next train.

Once, a big man came there with a wooden leg and cane. He said he had lost his leg in the Civil War. He got around real well.

There were some other men around. They started to throw pennies against the wall, and the fellow who got closest to the wall would win the pennies.

Well, that one-legged man got a roll of pennies out of his pocket and started to throw them. Somehow, they always were the closest to the wall and he won them all. Soon, his train came and he got on and rode away.

Lots of times, we boys were at the depot and watched them unload the express. They'd send bread and all boxes of stuff. Once, they had a dog in a crate. Sometimes, they'd have chickens and on the Grand Trunk (north and south), they'd carry milk cans.

In Deut. 19:14, it says, "Remove not the old landmark." Well, the depot has been an old landmark in Pigeon for a long time. I wasn't around yet when they built it.

Once, a young boy asked me if I remembered the 1881 fire. Well, I'm getting older every day and can't get around as well as I once could, but even Hugo Leipprandt wasn't around yet when the big fire came through!

SINCERELY YOURS, GEORGE KEIM

Letter to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to salute the students who are participating in the 1986 "Project Graduation."

This is a big step for you and it's encouraging to see that you are taking a stand as young adults to help make our roadways a safer place to travel.

Graduation is upon us and I know you have looked forward to this day. You have worked hard to achieve this goal and it is indeed a time for celebration. As your sheriff, I encourage you to continue your efforts and remind your friends and relatives that "Drinking and Driving Don't Mix."

I would like to congratulate all graduates and wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors, as it will be students like you who will become the leaders of tomorrow.

Yours for Safety, Sheriff Richard V. Stokan

SUPERINTENDENT'S CORNER

Annual school election

by HARRY BRUNET
LAKER SCHOOLS
SUPERINTENDENT

With the Annual School Election coming up on Monday, June 9, voters will be casting their ballots for a representative to our Board of Education and for the renewal of one mill plus an additional ½ mill for school operation.

Running unopposed for the four-year term is current Board of Education President Bruce Baur. This will mark Mr. Baur's third four-year term on our Board of Education.

The renewal of one mill plus the ½ mill increase is placed on a single ballot. Currently one mill brings in $189,000. The ½ mill will bring in an additional $94,050. This ½ mill plus our other extra voted would bring our district total to 9.75 mills. The state average extra voted for districts out of the state aid formula is 19 mills. You can clearly see that we are far below the average for school districts not receiving any state assistance.

In previous columns we have written about our school district not receiving any state aid. This is a result of the district's high state equalized value. The entire yearly expenses are paid completely through the collection and disbursement of local tax dollars. Included in these expenses are all salaries and fringe benefits, transportation costs, heating fuel and electricity, all repairs to our buildings, all teaching supplies, plus other less costly categories.

As mentioned, the ½ mill would bring in $94,050 if approved by the voters. This will mean that each individual taxpayer will see an increase of 50 cents for each $1,000 of their property's state equalized value. Here is a brief breakdown giving you an idea of the cost increase on state equalized value:

$8,000 SEV at ½ mill increase equals $4.00 per year
$10,000 SEV at ½ mill increase equals $5.00 per year
$15,000 SEV at ½ mill increase equals $7.50 per year
$20,000 SEV at ½ mill increase equals $10.00 per year
$30,000 SEV at ½ mill increase equals $15.00 per year
$40,000 SEV at ½ mill increase equals $20.00 per year

If you prefer to break these figures down into a monthly expense, you can see that your overall increase in some instances can range from a few cents to a few dollars. Of course, if your property has a high state equalized value, the amount of payment will be appropriately higher. Another point to remember is that your home is valued at ½ its true cash value. In the above illustration, the $40,000 state equalized value represents a true cash value of $80,000.

The ½ mill increase is badly needed to maintain our solvency and not create a financial hardship on the school district in future years. It is much easier to cope with a gradual increase in operational millage than to wait until you have a large deficit.

There are three voting precincts located throughout the school district's elementary schools. The polls will open at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. Your support is appreciated.

Return trip

Is it winter or summer today? It's difficult to tell with the way the weather has been changing from day to day. The calendar says June, and we, along with many other snowbirds, have returned from the south. Therefore, we hope it is summer, more warm, sunny days than cold, windy, dark ones.

Actually we have returned twice from the southern region recently. Have you heard the expression about meeting one's self coming and going? That's what it seemed as number three son and myself returned and in a short while I flew back to Florida to make my semi-annual chauffeuring trip. Now it's back on the farm for the summer, with lots of time on the golf course in the plans.

On the second northward drive a short diversion was enjoyed in northern Tennessee. We stopped to visit the Museum of Appalachia. Located near the Clinch River, this is one man's effort to preserve the history of the mountains and valleys of that area. Barns, a school, a jail and a church are just as when they were being used everyday. A log cabin has been featured in TV movies.

A display barn is filled with items collected from family members, friends and neighbors. A textile section contains looms, spinning wheels, gins, combs and cards, samples of wool and cotton and flax. The dying process using natural materials is illustrated. Another display is of musical instruments made and used by the mountaineers. Their folk art is also on display. An exhibition of traps was fascinating. "Ingenious" has to be the word to describe a rat trap involving a piece of an ear of corn attached to a wire which was rigged to a post. When a rat nibbles the corn, the wire wiggles and triggers the release of a rock which is atop the post. The rock falls on the rat and WHAM-O, the end of the rat. That trap is pretty simple in comparison to some others displayed in that section.

Among the mail on our return was the June issue of Readers' Digest with an article, "One Man's Museum." You can read more about this interesting place there.

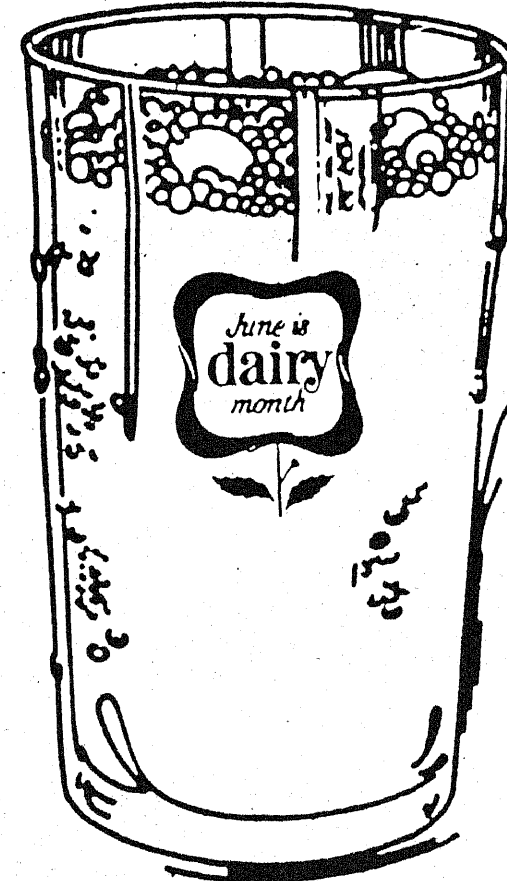

That magazine is famous for its humorous little stories. We heard one which should be in it, if it hasn't been yet. Some grandparents were planning a visit with their daughter's family. On arrival a grandchild asked grandma how long they would stay. "About a month," she replied. "Oh goody," exclaimed the child. "You'll get to see Daddy to tricks!" Grandma asked, "Whatever do you mean?" The youngster explained, "He said if you stayed more than two weeks, he would climb the walls."

He had better holler "Fore!" if he does.

A 1-day dream trip

Two Caseville area boys had a dream come true when they recently met Bozo the Clown in person. What made the meeting remarkable, however, was that the boys traveled to Chicago, visted the Bozo television program taping in WGN and came back home all in one day. One of them even participated in a game during the show, which will be broadcast this weekend.

Matthew, age seven, and Mark, five, sons of Jim and Roberta Liston, watch the Bozo program aired on satellite station WGN from Chicago, carried on the local cable system. They persuaded their mother to call the television station and ask if tickets to the show were available. Much to her surprise, Mrs. Liston was told some tickets were available for the next day.

Transportation was no problem for Mrs. Liston, who works as a flight attendant for a major airline.

The eventful day which began at 5 a.m. included an airplane flight to Chicago, subway and bus ride, visit to the television studio and return home at 9 p.m. that evening.

The tickets became available when a group canceled their reservations just prior to the show. Others waiting in line said they had waited 10 years for tickets, Mrs. Liston says.

Matt participated in a game of musical chairs on the show that is viewed in 50 countries, Mrs. Liston says.

That particular show (taped in April) was shown Friday, May 30 on WGN on cable channel nine in Caseville, Pigeon and Elkton.

Salute to the Dairy Industry

June is Dairy Month

Spanish priests brought cows to America as early as 1525. English colonists tended cows in Jamestown in 1611, nearly a century later. Dutch farmers who settled New Amsterdam pursued their Old World interest in agriculture and dairying. Cheesemakers from Switzerland, Germany, Italy and other European countries brought their skills to the New World.

In June, foods from the cuisines of many countries are appropriate as the dairy industry observes its fiftieth annual Dairy Month.

The celebration recognizes dairy farm families and their importance to the health and economic welfare of the nation and encourages the use and enjoyment of milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, sour cream, yogurt, cottage cheese and cream.

Emphasis on regional American foods includes cheesy tacos and enchiladas from the Southwest, crab legs in clarified butter from the Northwest, Swiss fondue, hearty German fare and hot buttered corn from the Midwest, chess pie from the South, fresh strawberries and cream from Florida, Boston cream pie, New York-style cheesecake and ice cream in flavors to fulfill everyone's dreams.

The dairy industry, which gave early settlers flavor and nutrition for their diets, today includes the farmers who produce the milk, processors and manufacturers who provide all the services needed to turn out a variety of wholesome, refreshing products and the retailers who bring them to consumers. Salute them all during June Dairy Month, and enjoy the freshness and flavor of real dairy foods in recipes and ways appropriate to all the national backgrounds that make up American's "melting pot" or "ethnic stew".

For a light texture in certain cookies and in pound cakes, cream the butter and sugar well. Butter needs to be firm so that bits will stick to the crystals of sugar (shaped somewhat like snowflakes) during the creaming. When the sugar crystals melt in the oven, they leave tiny pockets of air, lightening the finished product.

June is dairy month

In Recognition of National Dairy Month

May we suggest:

Calcium is the most abundant mineral in the human body and dairy products are the body's best source of dietary calcium. Bodies need calcium throughout life because bone tissue is continuously being broken down and formed again. Two glasses of milk a day for children and adults, three a day for teens, provide the needed calcium as well as protein, vitamin A, thiamin, and riboflavin.

Salute June Dairy Month now with a glass of milk and start a dairy good summer.

Ideas for Outdoor Eating

Two great ideas for outdoor eating have been developed by American Dairy Association for your enjoyment this summer. One is a Blue Cheese Butter Log, to add a special flavor touch to grilled meat. The other is an ice cream pie combining the flavors of apricot and orange with chocolate and vanilla.

Flavored butters are particularly popular with restaurant patrons because they enhance the flavor of other foods. Fruit-flavored butters are favorites for hotcakes or biscuits. Herb-flavored butters are often used on fresh vegetables. This combination of Blue cheese and butter is formed into a log and kept on hand for use whenever steaks, chops or hamburgers are being grilled. It goes well with produce fresh from the garden too, such as green and lima beans.

The Apricot Chocolate Ice Cream Pie can also be prepared in advance and kept ready for drop-in guests or a busy-day dessert. As with most ice cream desserts, it should be moved from the freezer to the refrigerator before serving time, so it will cut easily and be at peak flavor.

CALCIUM -- Make no bones about it!

HERE ARE quantities of food needed to give an adult 300 mg. of the 800 mg. RDA recommended for adults. The photo shows containers of food and their quantities to provide the 300 mg. Identifications are based on starting at the top center (12 o'clock) and going clockwise: 29 bananas, 15 carrots, two cups raw greens, 10 eggs, 2 1/2 oz. sardines, two cups raw broccoli, one 8-oz. glass of milk, 15 slices of bread, one cup almonds, 1 1/2 heads cabbage, 13 cups orange juice and 19 apples.

(DAIRY COUNCIL OF MICHIGAN PHOTO)

Make no bones about it, currently "calcium" is the buzz word of nutrition!

The daily recommended amount of calcium for adults is 800 mg., but the National Institutes of Health recommend 1000 mg. for menopausal women and 1500 mg. for those who are postmenopausal. Seventy-two percent of the calcium in our food chain comes from the dairy group, 10% from the vegetable group and 9% from the meat or protein group.

Scientists are pointing to exciting new research which correlates lower calcium intake to increased incidence of osteoporosis and higher blood pressure. The most current findings are showing that getting enough calcium in a diet may help lower the risk for colon cancer.

Choosing high calcium food in the right quantities helps assure that your body will not be deficient in calcium, according to the Dairy Council of Michigan.

Forty-eight student safety patrollers from Elkton Elementary School will visit Boblo Island on Monday, June 2 as recognition for their efforts in protecting fellow students at street crossings and on school buses in the 1985-86 school year.

They are among more than 3,700 Michigan students who will be honored in AAA Michigan's annual Safety Patrol Recognition Day.

"Each of our more than 50,000 safety patrollers has unselfishly given about 300 hours of volunteer time this year to their schools and fellow students in patrol work," says Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Safety and Traffic Manager.

"Due to their commitment, 800,000 elementary school students daily traveled safely to and from school."

A boat ride from either Gibraltar or Detroit is included in the all-day outing.

SOUND-OFF !!

Phone 453-2323

I'd like to comment on mothers changing their children's diapers in local restaurants. People are there to eat their meals, not there to look at messy pants while eating. If you want to change your baby's diapers, the proper place to do it would be in the restroom, not at the table. Thank you.

I don't understand what the deal is here in Pigeon. There's nothing to do and nowhere to go for us kids. As for the guy going to the bathroom on a side street, there was nowhere for him to go either. Parents don't want us kids in their faces, so why don't they do something about it? I can't remember the last teen dance at the VFW, hint-hint.

Remember, anyone interested in attending the 1976 10-year Laker Class Reunion, but who hasn't received an invitation, please call 453-2569.

I agree about how messy so much of our shore area looks. The people who come here don't do so because it's pretty here, but because it's cheap and close to home. With an attitude like this, we'll always look like this.

Why does Bad Axe now claim this lesbian campground? I always thought it was near Owendale. That's typical of our county seat. They get business, fast-food restaurants and other "goodies" they don't deserve. If they really want that camp, why don't they move it right into Bad Axe, or maybe annex it?

To the person complaining about mailboxes: People on the rural route at least get their mail delivered in front of their house and the cost for a mailbox is no more than $8 to $10.

The box is good for 15 to 20 years, if taken care of. As far as snow plows, sleepy drivers and vandalism, don't you have home-owners insurance with property damage?

Your insurance pays at least $15 to $18 for mailbox and post. We in town have to pay box rent and go to post office to pick up our mail in ALL kinds of weather. We should have AND could have city delivery, if proper channels are taken.

Don't forget Pigeon's annual Garage Sale Weekend this Thursday through Saturday. There are bargains all over town. Come shop locally, and save.

I think people who own pools, high or in ground, should have chains and locks on their fences and ladders, so little children cannot get in and possibly drown.

Thanks, people, for using the Chandler Town Hall for depositing throw-aways a few weekends ago. Legal or not, at least you didn't throw them all out along the roadway. It was a nice bonus for me, at least a case of returnable empties!

The detour in Bad Axe should keep everyone out of that town for a while, maybe for good. There's false advertising, too. The store that says it has a clock above the door has one all right, but it's just painted on there. It's not real!

To the lady driving the not-so-new Buick: I think you should stay away from people driving pickup trucks, like my husband. If he tries to pick you up again, you'll get a visit from me.

I'm waiting for the new bakery and dime store to open up on Pigeon. Both are needed badly and will be welcomed.

DEAL CONSTRUCTIVELY WITH GUILT

Many of the problems with grief stem from unresolved guilt. More often than not, the guilt is purely imaginary. We hide ourselves for not having use of seat belts, or to get drunk drivers off the road, are doing this because of some personal tragedy—doing some good for the community and at the same time working out their own feelings.

It is important to resolve these feelings and not to gloss over them, especially if there has been some measure of culpability. The

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY AND EVERY SUNDAY

FAITH TEACHES US THE MEANING OF OUR COUNTRY'S FLAG

The flag of our nation may be adorned in a very elaborate and costly manner, or it may consist of merely an inexpensive piece of material mounted on a wooden stick. The important thing is not the price of it, but the meaning. Therefore, whenever we see the flag go by we should pay homage to it, and we should display it at our homes and places of business; at least on national holidays. Finally, we should teach our children that the flag represents the glorious history of our freedom, and that this is why they should salute and respect it. It is our sacred banner, as the Bible tells us, and it is used to proclaim our liberty. Attend your House of Worship, which you were allowed to choose as one of the blessings represented by our nation's flag, which with the help of God will wave forever in the skies over our free land.

The things that the flag stands for were created by the experiences of a great people.
— Woodrow Wilson

God's hall of fame

READ HEBREWS 11: 1-40
In time past ye were not a people, but are now the people of God; which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. 1 Peter 2:10

At Yankee Stadium, the home of the New York Yankees, there is a "Yankee Hall of Fame." You can spend a number of hours reading about all the great Yankee stars of the past.

By putting on earphones you can hear their voices on recordings; telling you among other things what their greatest thrills were as Yankee players.

God has a "Hall of Fame." In Hebrews chapter 11 He has listed some of the heroes and heroines of faith — men and women who trusted in God for their salvation. It is a thrilling chapter to read.

We too are heroes and heroines of faith, members of God's "Hall of Fame." It is not because of our exploits in life — not because of what we have done but what God has done for us through Jesus Christ.

Faith in Jesus as our only Savior from sin is the only way you or I or anyone else can become a member of God's "Hall of Fame."

As we by faith look "unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith," we by God's undeserved love remain the ones chosen by Him to be His people for time and eternity.

Lord God, heavenly Father, help me always to remember that I am what I am by Your grace in Christ Jesus, my Savior. Amen.

Women attend ALC convo

Her books are all among the top sellers in Christian literature and include such titles as "I'm Out to Change the World," "I Love the Word Impossible," "Yes, I'm Running to Win" and her latest book, "Struggling for Wholeness." She has been a school teacher, youth director, college dean of women, marathon runner and is now married with two children.

The convention will also feature speakers, a Bible study leader from the national American Lutheran Church, a pastor from South Africa, the Michigan District ALC's Bishop Holle, small group workshops and an original musical written for the occasion. The convention will also look forward to the New Women's Organization which will be formed by the

YOUR KEY TO GOOD HEALTH

THE CAUSE OF YOUR PROBLEMS

Nerve interference is caused when one or more of the 24 movable vertebrae in the spine become thrown out of its normal alignment in relation to the vertebra above and below. This puts pressure on the nerves that exit through openings in the vertebra, or directly on the spinal cord. This misalignment is known as subluxation and is the main source of disease in the human body.

There are many causes of subluxation, including nervous tension or any sudden jar or jerk. It is necessary for a chiropractor to locate and eliminate these subluxations of the spinal column to allow the life force to flow unobstructed to every part of your body. When this happens, your body will return to a state of good health.

THE CORRECTION OF YOUR PROBLEM

A chiropractor corrects subluxations by exerting gentle pressure on the misaligned ones, causing them to return to their normal position. This exerting of pressure, by hand only, is a spinal adjustment. His expert handling and using the most modern methods, can help you eliminate pain, and improve your health without drugs.

WOODS and WATERS

By Duane Guenther

River

June is "American Rivers Month", and we are fortunate to live in one of the most "river-rich" states in our union. While we may not have large, majestic rivers like the Mississippi, Missouri, or Rio Grande, or the wild, tumbling, white water of mountain rivers like the Colorado, or Snake, we do have a variety, and an abundance of flowing water within our state.

Although I'm not sure of the exact number of rivers in Michigan, I do know we have more than 33,000 miles of rivers and streams. Of these, two, the Pere Marquette and the Au Sable are federally designated wild and scenic rivers, and 12 more are designated state natural rivers, and at the present time, 27 more rivers have been proposed for designation.

Rivers have played an important part in the settlement and economy of our state. As early as the 1600's, the navigable streams provided water highways for an influx of explorers, trappers, and adventurers. Later, when the territory began to become settled, the rivers produced fish and furs, a means of delivering logs to the saw mill, and, after being harnessed by dams, gave our state a source of cheap water power for electricity. Now, hundreds of years later, these same rivers provide recreation in the form of canoeing and fishing which affects more people and brings in more money than all the other economic endeavors put together.

Michigan has a unique river system. Geologically, our state has a major backbone bisecting the Lower Peninsula in north-south direction. Rivers, drawing water in the form of runoff and springs, flow mainly in an easterly or westerly direction, depending where you are in the state. In the Upper Peninsula, the dividing ridge is more in an east-west direction. There, the majority of rivers flow either north or south.

Trying to decide which is the best, or most beautiful river in our state, would be an almost impossible task. But, most people seem to have a favorite, and I am no exception. Rather than single out any one river, I would like to ramble on about a few I consider special. Perhaps I may mention some that are unfamiliar to you. I hope so.

My vote for the most violent, and wild river in Michigan has to go to the Presque Isle. Located in the western end of the UP, it makes up the southern boundary of the Porcupine Mountains State Park. At its lower end, there is a 2-mile foot trail allowing hikers to get a close view of the waterfalls. The last plunge to Lake Superior is a spectacle of crashing rapids and dangerous looking whirlpools. A suspended bridge, hanging on gossamer cables lets the stout hearted get a bird's-eye peek of this panorama.

Vikings ambush Eagles in district baseball finals

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

After soaring high on their home field with an impressive 6-1 victory over Michigan Lutheran Seminary, the Caseville in the semifinals to defeat MLS in a game most people expected to determine the district championship.

Eagles were grounded by lightly-regarded Akron-Fairgrove for the Class D district tournament baseball title last Friday.

After the emotional victory, however, Caseville players came out flat against the Vikings of Akron-Fairgrove, which had compiled an unimpressive 11-11 record, including a win over Port Hope in the tournament semifinals.

Top Caseville hurler Tony Seagraves was limited to only three innings of work in the title game after he allowed only two MLS hits in the seven-inning first game. He came in blank the Vikings in the final three innings of the championship game, but the winners had already already crossed the plate 10 times.

Ray Johnson started on the mound for Caseville in the championship game and gave up six runs. Pete Delmotte took over pitching duties in the third and gave up four runs in the fourth inning.

The Eagles battled back from a 10-3 deficit after three innings. Caseville scored a pair of runs in the fifth inning on two sacrifice flies, and scored their final three runs in the bottom of the last inning. Trailing 10-8 with the bases loaded and only one out, the Eagles bowed out of the tourney.

Caseville contributed some costly defensive errors, as well as several key baserunning mistakes to the Akron-Fairgrove victory, but Viking hitters equalled the seven Eagle hits in the game.

"We have not hit off-speed pitchers at all this year," said a disappointed Caseville Coach Gerald Winkler after the game. That characteristic proved true in the tourney, as Caseville hitters pounded 10 hits against hard-throwing MLS pitcher Dave Berkholtz, but were foiled by slow curves from Viking hurler Mike Spagnuolo.

Eagle catcher John Winkler banged out three hits Greg Langley added a pair of RBIs in the win over Seminary. Bruce Langley added three singles in four trips to the plate in the title contest.

"We're normally a better team than this," said Coach Winkler after his team was eliminated.

He pointed out his team set three goals at the beginning of the year — to earn championships in the Huron County Tournament, NCTDL and district tournament.

The Eagles accomplished

the first two marks, as Caseville is assured of the league title with a three-game lead, with only two games remaining to be played.

Akron-Fairgrove Coach Joe Orban noted the tournament draw which paired Caseville and MLS in the semifinals worked to his team's advantage because Seagraves had to use seven of the 10 innings he was allowed to pitch during the district tournament.

"They scare me because I know they can hit," he added about the Eagles which earned a 22-3 record with two games to play.

Scenic hosts Thumb District Golf Association

Bonnie Kleinau, Bea Anklam and Mavis Pechette all had birdie holes. Chip-ins were reported by Lois Anderson, Eunice Binder, Lillian McLean and Mavis Pechette.

At the seven tables of bridge, winners were Frances Seeley, Kay Miller, Marian Rathje, Betty Peterhans, Betty Young, Virginia Pacific and Marion Cypher. The bridge hour is 1:30 p.m. this season.

Lakers bow in district finals

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

A young Laker softball team served notice it will be reckoned with next year by coming within one run of capturing the district tournament at Mayville last Friday.

Although posting a losing record this season, Lakers surprised the host team with a 4-1 victory in the semifinals to earn a spot in the championship game.

In extra innings, the Lady Lakers bowed to Cass City, 1-0 to settle for the runner-up spot.

Laker junior Rhonda Baur provided an outstanding performance on the mound and at the plate. She allowed only two hits by Mayville, and didn't give up a run to Cass City until the eighth inning of the finals.

Baur also belted two the three Laker hits in the championship contest.

Lakers also benefited from a pair of shattering catches by centerfielder Shelly Henne. She also stole home with the winning run and drove in two insurance runs with a triple in the first game.

Penny Haag also stole home to score Laker's first run of the semifinal victory over 21-12 Mayville.

Cass City (now 12-11) earned a spot in the finals with an 8-5 upset over Unionville - Sebawaing (25-4) in the first game of the tourney.

Lakers retire from the tournament with an 8-17 overall record but are already looking to the future.

"With so many juniors coming back, we should have a shot next year," says Laker Coach Jack Tyler.

ALL-CONFERENCE: Four Laker players were accorded All-Conference recognition in the Thumb B after coaches' balloting last week. Juniors Rhonda Baur and junior Bethanne Beachy received Honorable Mention.

4 Lakers earn Meet of Champs honors at Caro

A quartet of Laker track team members received individual honors at the Thumb Meet of Champions last Tuesday in Caro.

Julia Sturm placed second in the 800 meter run, Todd Schember was third in Discus, Jenny Warren was third in Long Jump and Kelli Damrow was fifth in the 1600 meter run.

The Laker girls 1600 meter relay team placed third and the girls 800 meter relay team finished fifth.

POLICE BLOTTER NEWS

■Nine persons were injured, none seriously, in a two-vehicle accident May 24 on M-25 north of Caseville, near Gagetown Road. Autos driven by Robert Selesky, 18 of Dearborn Heights, and Gary Prill, 32 of Port Austin, collided as Prill's westbound car attempted to turn left and was struck by Selesky's vehicle. All sought their own treatment.

■About $500 damage was reported on Memorial Day to a pickup truck owned by Randy Swartzendruber, Pigeon, which had stopped and was stalled at Cemetery and Bay City - Forestville Roads, near Cass City. He told Michigan State Troopers he left the vehicle to call for aid and returned to find someone had used a bottle to break windows and enter the driver's seat, damaging some equipment.

■William Carr of Sebawaing told Huron County Sheriff's Deputies his auto was taken late last Wednesday or Thursday from his Rose Island Road house. The 1979 silver station wagon was valued at about $1300, and keys were left under the floor mat.

■Police are searching for Michael Curtis, 18 of Vassar, who walked away from the Tuscola County Jail Friday afternoon while serving a one-year jail term. Curtis, a jail trustee, did not return his job doing yard work at the jail about 3:24 p.m. Friday. He is not considered dangerous.

Thumb Area Outdoor Report

All types of fishing have picked up during the past week. Harbor Beach reported great catches of Kings most every day. Fish have been hitting both to the north and south of the harbor, with 30 to 45 feet being the best depth. High winds and rain on Sunday drove most boats off the lake, but prior to that, fishermen enjoyed some of the best angling of the year.

Both Port Austin and Grindstone City had plenty of action with both salmon and trout. Port Austin fishermen were taking nice Lakers in the 10 to 15 pound range, while anglers at both Port Austin and Grindstone hit Kings and a few Cohos throughout most of the week.

Walleye fishing has picked up during the mid-week. Best catches were reported from the Charities, with trollers picking up plenty of fish in the 20 to 24-inch category. Hot-N-Tots still prove to be the best lure going, but the color combination will vary from boat to boat. A few Walleyes were reported in both the Sebawaing and Bay Port area, but for the most part, the fish were far and few between.

Last week's Bass opener may well have been the best on record. Warm weather has put the Largemouths on their beds, and most any offerings were met with slashing strikes. Anglers working the cuts, and walking along the banks had a field day. One report had 3 fishermen hooking 38 Largemouths in one morning. Plastic worms were the hot lures, and purple and black were the 2 main colors. Smallmouths were not quite as active in the northern part of the Thumb, good catches came out of the Broken Rocks region.

Perch fishermen found most of the action in the harbors of Harbor Beach and off the lighthouse near Port Austin. Minnows were the only thing the "yellowbellies" wanted, and some of the fish brought to shore proved to be real keepers. As the water warms, Perch will head out to deeper and cooler areas, but for the time being, small boaters are still able to land a few dandies.

Catfish, an almost forgotten specie, have been very cooperative with those who search them out. The shallows off Sebawaing and Bay Port are loaded with them, and near nightfall on these warm summer evenings, you can hook them at will. A gob of night-crawlers, or a chunk of bloody meat is all that you need, but a little patience will help.

Laker netters nearly crack top 10 in state tournament

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

In very tough competition at the state finals last weekend, the Laker tennis team placed 14th in the 23-team field.

Coach Dick Pauly says a better draw and a few breaks could have resulted in a top 10 finish for his squad. He added the Laker team was only two points out of eighth place due to many ties.

"I am very proud of my team. They played excellent tennis and never gave up. It is an honor to play in the state finals and now our underclassmen know what it takes to win at that level.

"With some hard work and a little bit of luck we'll be back," Pauly says.

Junior Randy Heckman in first singles and freshmen Jeff Rosenthal and Steve Deenen in third doubles each won their first match to advance to the quarter-finals before bowing out.

SINGLES: In first flight, Heckman defeated Brad Dorubar of Grand Rapids Baptist Academy, 6-2, 6-4 before losing to Dave Novak of Kalamazoo Hackett, 6-2, 6-0. In second flight, Jeff Sturm lost to David Barlow of University Liggett, 6-1, 6-2.

In third flight, Kendall Wertz lost to Dale Fuller of Almont, 6-2, 6-4. In fourth flight, Tony Garza lost to Jason Wolter of Williamson, 7-6, 6-4.

DOUBLES: In first flight, Dan Bivens and Paul Elenbaum lost to Chad Reuschel and Scott Bidgar of Hamilton, 7-5, 7-5. In second flight, Chris Williams and Jay Anthes lost to Jud Tanja and Steve Hoogerheide of Kalamazoo Christian, 6-1, 6-1.

In third flight, Rosenthal and Deenen defeated Steve Mauer and Brad Formsma of Grand Rapids Baptist Academy 6-0, 6-4, before losing to Dan Gilles and Mick Grewal of Williamson, 6-3, 6-1.

Season ends on losing note for Laker baseball team

Laker baseball fortunes took a nosedive last week as the team lost its final three games of the season to finish 5-8 in Thumb B play and 8-12 overall.

The Green and White team didn't get a chance to play on their home field in the district tournament after dropping a 10-0, five-inning pre-district decision to Harbor Beach last Tuesday.

Chris Wurst was tagged with the loss for Lakers, while Wurble was the winner for the Pirates. Wurst struck out four and gave up 10 hits in the game.

Laker hitters could not manage a hit in the game and only had one baserunner as a result of a walk.

The downhill slide continued last Wednesday when Lakers dropped both ends of a doubleheader to Marlette. The Red Raiders won the first game, 14-8, then edged Lakers 4-3 in the rematch.

In the opener, Lakers were led at the plate by Bryan Wertz with a pair of doubles and Chris Wurst with a double and single.

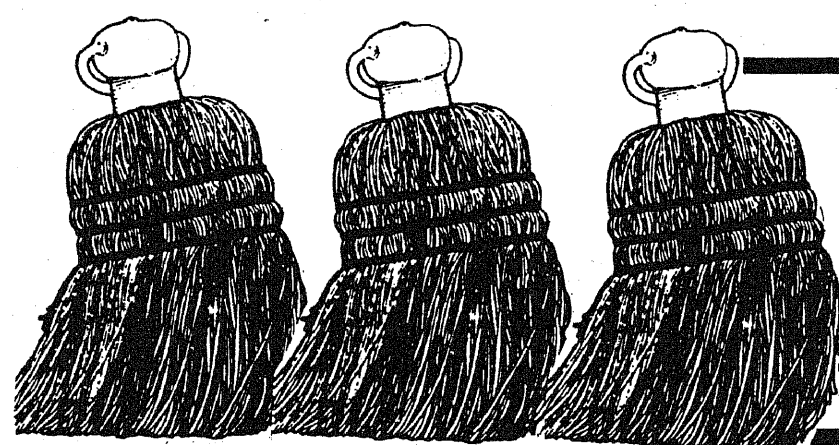

In the nightcap, Brian Wisenbaugh belted a pair of doubles and Dave Swartzendruber also doubled in Lakers' final game of the year.

ALL-CONFERENCE: Steve Wolfram was the only Laker accorded post-season honors in the Thumb B with an Honorable Mention listing.

The family of Myron Adams wishes to thank the doctors, nurses and the support staff of the Schuerer Hospital for their professionalism in caring for our late father and grandfather's sudden illness and for their sensitivity to our needs following his death. We also wish to thank the many friends, relatives and neighbors who helped sustain our bodies and spirits. A special thanks to Rev. Kummer, Dr. Wilson, Scott Davis and Debi Ackerman and the ladies of our church for the comforting words and luncheon.

God Bless You All
