Kohr to head Bean Shippers' Board

SAGINAW — John Kohr, new president and chief executive officer of Cooperative Elevator Company of Pigeon, has another new office.

He has been elected president of the board of directors of Michigan Bean Shippers Association, at that group's 95th annual meeting last week in Frankenmuth.

Kohr has been president of Co-op Elevator since the start of 1987 and has been on the board of MBSA for the past year. He has had a lifelong association with Co-op Elevator and has lived in Pigeon all his life.

OTHER LEADERS: Eugene Mueller, president of Wm. Mueller and Son, Inc, of Reese, was elected to a second two-year term on the board, and Thomas Ittner, manager of Ittner Bean and Grain of Auburn, was elected to the board for the first time.

Also elected was Jerry Valade, vice-president of Agri Sales, Inc. of Saginaw, who was named to a two-year term on MBSA board and was appointed vice-president.

RE-ELECTED: John McGill of Saginaw was elected to another term as executive vice-president and treasurer of the bean shippers, an office he has held since 1969.

Other members of the MBSA board include Gerald Geiger, general manager of Ruth Farmers Elevator of Ruth, Richard Krafft, Jr., president of Star of the West Milling Company of Frankenmuth, and William Kenney, bean trader for Berger and Company of Saginaw.

Huron and Gratiot Counties -- two of Michigan's highest bean and grain producers -- are among 40 counties nationwide selected by USDA for a pilot program to maximize farmers' returns through improved marketing skills.

Huron and Gratiot Extension and ASC Services will be involved in the USDA program, which will teach farmers how to protect their commodities and derive most profit through trading in futures and options.

Commodities included are corn, wheat and soybeans across the country, and also cotton in the South.

FROM FARM BILL: The plan is being developed as a result of a provision in the 1985 Farm Bill. That requires the Secretary of Agriculture to determine the manner in which commodity futures and options markets may be used.

While educational programs have been offered for years, this program will include the Commodity Credit Corporation. Through CCC, participants will be guaranteed that they'll receive as least as much as they would get from county loan rates.

"Those will be the guarantees from USDA as an incentive to bring producers into participation," one of the officials explains.

"It's a method to involve farmers in their own marketing," he continued.

MUCH PLANS: The pilot program has been in the discussion and planning stages for a long time, he continued, Guidelines will be announced in early March.

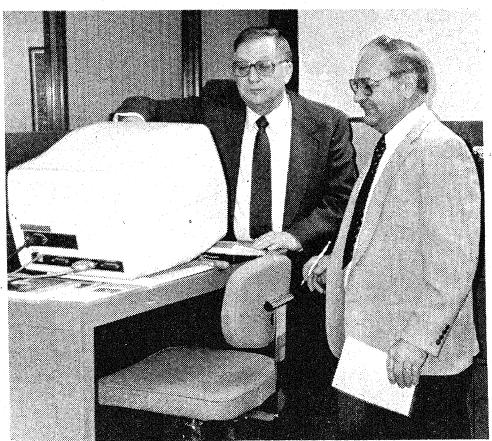

PRACTICING PRESIDENT: Pigeon Chamber of Commerce President Dave Jarvis "practices up" on card games, in preparation for the Chamber's annual "Las Vegas Nite" on Saturday, March 19.

All types of games are played -- just for fun -- and the evening starts with a happy hour at 6:30. Games start at 7:30 and tickets are available in advance only, from Pigeon Chember members.

More than $1500 in available prizes will be auctioned off about 11 p.m., Jarvis says.

Thumb National's Bud' Luedtke plans to relax (a little)...

ARTHUR "BUD" LUEDTKE scans a computer screen, with longtime Thumb National co-worker Nelson Binder, right.

By AMY HEIDEN Arthur "Bud" Luedtke has been an integral leader and familiar face to Thumb National Bank & Trust customers for the past 37

But later this month, Luedtke will be stepping down as senior agricultural loan officer, while retaining the Chairmanship of the Board of Directors, as well as serving as a consultant.

EARLY 1950s START: In 1952, after being "courted" first by longtime banker Ernest Clabuesch, then by son E.J. Clabuesch, Luedtke agreed to begin employment at the then-Pigeon State Bank as a bookkeeper.

During the past 37 years, he has worked his way through nearly every position — including cashier, assistant trust officer, vice president, and president—all the way to his present post as Chairman of the Board. As a loan officer for Thumb National, he has specialized in ag loans.

THEN AND NOW: Speaking of the differences in banking through the years, Luedtke says, "Back in 1952, a busy day might have meant 50 to 150 transactions and six employes. Now we might have 4,000 to 5,000 transactions a day and we have 37 employes, a trust department, and a branch office."

He says the biggest change he's seen "is the area and the number of farmers we've done business with. It has shrunk in numbers.

"The value of land has changed. Back in 1952, land sold for $300 to $400 an acre. In the late seventies, the price went up nearly to $4,000 an acre. Now it's down to around $1500 an acre. And the size of farms has increased."

MORE MACHINERY: Luedtke says there has also been a tremendous increase in mechanization, along with the size and dollar amount of equipment needed in order to farm.

"Before, a lot of farmers had a small dairy farm. Now you have to be more diversified on a farm operation."

PERSONAL HISTORY: Born in Berne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Luedtke, he attended St. John's Lutheran School where his father was his teacher and principal.

After graduating from Pigeon High School in 1940, he worked at various jobs in the area before joining the Naval Air Corp and serving as a radioman on a torpedo bomber during World War II.

He married Alice Richmond in 1945, and together they had three children, Carol, Janet, and Alan.
In 1947, Luedtke went to work at Pigeon Lumber and work at Pigeon Lumber and was employed there until the Clabueschs tapped him for the job at the bank.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE, T00: Luedtke has not limited his talents to banking only. He operated a cash crop farm north of Pigeon from 1947 to 1970, when he sold the operation.

He is a past President of the Pigeon Chamber of Commerce, and the Pigeon Lions Club, where he has been a member for over 35 years. Luedtke also was elected to the Pigeon Village Council in 1959, and was elected Village President in 1961, serving until 1970.

A lifelong member of St. John's Lutheran Church in Berne, he served on the Church Council for 15 years. PLEASE TURN TO PAGE 15

OBSERVATIONS BY CO-PUBLISHER MARK RUMMEL AND ANYBODY ELSE HE CAN GET TO WRITE 'EM!

IMPORTANT FACT ABOUT NEXT WEEK'S PAPER --We're in the midst of installing some newer, faster and more flexible typesetting machinery here. In time, we'll be handling MORE news CLOSER to our Tuesday afternoon print time. But first, we've got to ask for a little more time.

Deadline for news stories and pictures for our next TWO issues (March 9 and March 16) will be 5 p.m. FRIDAY!

We need the extra time to make some adjustments and to handle the new materials we're using. We appreciate your help these next two weeks!

We won't tell you much about the new equipment now, except to say that our words will be bigger, easier to read and will look slightly different.

WONDERFUL TIME OF YEAR - These spring-dawning mornings are just beautiful, in my opinion. Seeing the sun brightening the sky by 6:30 a.m. or so brings with it the promise of warm, long days ahead.

And, having the sun still shining until after 6:30 p.m. is great, too. Spring is the exact season which should follow harsh winters. It brings a freshness, a promise and a hope that is unmatched by anything manmade...

TAXING SITUATION - The news reports of the last week aren't very comforting. The General Accounting Office in Washington says Internal Revenue folks give incorrect answers to 39% of the questions asked of them by people who call for help. That's nearly double last year's survey, which found 21% of the answers given by the IRS were wrong.

It likely has plenty to do with the new tax laws now on the books... but do YOU or I get a break if WE can't understand the tax laws? Not on your life... POLITICALLY SPEAKING -- Is anybody else as sick of these debates, back-biting and accusations floating all around by presidential candidates as we are? We've had more than enough, thank you...

Which brings to mind the great Al Smith, former governor of New York, who was about to begin a campaign speech, when a voice from the audience shouted, "Go ahead, Al. Tell them all you know. It won't take long.' To which Smith replied, "If I tell 'em all we both know, it won't take any longer!"

LOOKING UP -- Every year, "Inc. magazine" ranks offices being decided March America's fastest-growing metro areas. Last year, Saginaw-Bay City -- our closest "metro" area -- was number 142. Good

This year, Saginaw-Bay City jumped up to 89th spot, a good move forward. The rating is based on the creation of jobs, rate of "significant" new business startups and percentage of young companies enjoying high growth rates.

Even so, the area has a 40.73 score on a 1 to 100 scale... so we've STILL got a way to go...

HURON CARE FACILITY MILLAGE?

Huron County officials are considering the possibility of needing extra millage to support the county's Medical Care Facility near Bad Axe. Falling land property values are reducing funds available to all county government operations, including the facility, and state budget cuts may require a millage request to support the 112-bed long-term care facility.

State officials have proposed a $43 million budget cut in care facility funding for 1989, which could mean more than $490,000 in funding cutbacks. Plus, administrator Arthur Woelke says, farm land values have dropped nearly 40% since 1983 to further reduce revenues.

About $250,000 in county general funding helps finance the care facility's operations each year. That equates to $6.51 paid daily for each patient covered by Medicaid benefits Besides a county millage, the facility could be sold to a private corporation, but some residents may then be denied service, officials say. Tuscola County voted a millage two years ago for its medical care facility, but similar votes in Sanilac and St.

Clair Counties have failed in recent years. GTE PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

More than $28 million in expansions and improvement for telephone service in Central Michigan have been announced by GTE North District Manager Kevin Hammer Combined with last year's expenditure, that totals $57 million in all in improvements in the past two years.

Caseville will get all private lines, as the final party lines are eliminated. Caseville also gets more cable projects, to add more lines.

COMMUNICATION WORKSHOP SET Persons who participate on boards and organizations can fine-tune their communication and leadership skills at a "Dynamics of Group Communication Seminar," planned from 5:30-9 p.m. on Thursday, March 10, at Huron Area

Areas to be covered include parliamentary procedure, basic organizational skills and listening skills Speakers include Walt Rummel of The Sebewaing Blade Crescent and Don Wheeler of Laker High School.

The per-person cost includes dinner. Deadline to register is Friday, March 4. For more information, call the Extension office at 269-9949.

BAY MED, OSTEO TO MERGE Officials of Bay Medical Center and Bay Osteopathic Hospital in Bay City are studying the possibility of merging the two hospitals, in light of declining patient census and revenues at BOH, according to Bay Health Systems.

BOH employes recently received a letter from BOH President Jack Mills who stated, "After much study, Bay Health Systems has concluded that the BOH facility could best be used to provide specialty medical care as a part of the Bay Medical Center.

Last August, BOH and Bay Medical formalized an affiliation agreement that paved the way for many BOH physicians to secure staff privileges at Bay Medical. The hospitals intend to complete the planning, merger and regulatory approval process in 1988, and remodeling and/or construction in 1989 or early 1990.

A new (old) trick

If you're a devoted reader of outdoor magazines, chances are you've run into a couple articles of a new trick conservation officers are using to catch road hunters. Across the U.S., in 19 states to be exact, wildlife law enforcement personnel are placing decoys along the highway and then arresting hunters who stop their vehicles and take "pot shots" at them. It's working so well that another 12 states are on the verge of implementing such a program themselves.

The scenario is simple, so simple one might think the idea came from a carnival con-man. An officer will place a decoy usually a deer that is stuffed or made or foam, near a roadway and then conceal himself to wait for a violation to take place, and from most reports, he usually doesn't have to wait long.

Once a vehicle stops and the occupants fire at the decoy, law enforcement officers can issue a citation for discharging a gun from a roadway. Violators have been screaming entrapment since the agencies have been using the decoys, but game wardens claim they are not enticing the public to break the law, but merely giving them a chance to violate in front of an of-

While the pros and cons of using decoys to trap game law violators continue, I'm reminded of another man's use of a decoy for the pure enjoyment of a comical situation. He was the father of a boyhood buddy and if we promised to be quiet, he always

The decoying took place almost 45 years ago in rural Tuscola County, during a time when Chinese Pheasants outnumbered the human population 25 to 1.

Hunting seasons were filled with a tremendous amount of excitement for those who hunted the birds, but for a couple of 9-year-olds, it was boring. Too young to shoulder guns and follow the men and dogs afield, we were relegated to flapping our arms and cackling like crazy while taking turns chasing each other around the

One evening right after supper, I hiked down to my buddy's and joined him on the long front porch that graced the front of his parents' farm house. Sitting in dejected fashion, elbows jammed into thighs while curved palms supported our chins, we prepared to wile away the evening asking each other the age-old question, "What-doyouwantodo?" My friend's father surveyed the situation, and with a twinkle in his eye, asked us if we would like to have some fun. We looked at each other, half-expecting an invitation to share some sour lemonade, or perhaps join the adults for an episode of "One Man's Family" played through the speaker of the ancient radio sitting atop a pedestal table in the parlor. But instead, he disappeared into the house and returned with a bedraggled stuffed phea-

He headed down the steps and crossed the gravel road running in front of the house. Inquisitively, my buddy and I followed as his Dad crossed the ditch on the other side of the road and walked about 50 yards into a stubble field where he bent and set the stuffed pheasant down. He turned us around and we all headed back to the porch. When we got to the road I turned and glanced over my shoulder. The stuffed bird, with only his head and neck visible from this distance, looked so real I thought he would fly away at any moment. Back on the porch, I still was not sure what the old man was up to, but from the look on his face, I knew it had to be something

Not more than 15 minutes later, a dustcovered Ford crunched slowly along the gravel road and when it became parallel to the stuffed pheasant it creaked to a stop. A shotgun barrel protruded from the rolleddown window and "kaboom", it went off in a cloud of dust and smoke. The car and its occupant were silent for a couple of minutes and then the gun went off again and again. Several more minutes went by and then the dusty Ford spun its wheels and headed down the road. I looked at my buddy's Dad and he was doubled over with laughter. We finally caught the gist of the joke and joined him until tears streamed down our faces.

At least 6 more cars stopped before it got dark. Each one blasted away at the stuffed bird, and sped away when they finally figured out they had been had. When it got too dark to see, we headed across the road and retrieved the stuffed pheasant.

"I bring him out once a year," he said holding the stuffed bird affectionately in his arms, "just to see how many stupid hunters I can fool."

"I'm never disappointed," he added, cackling like a hen. My buddy and I cackled too, but like a rooster.....

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY

A CLERGYMAN IS A MODERN VERSION OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN

A woman was driving along on a very hot day last summer. Suddenly, her car refused to budge another inch suffering from vapor locks and as a result of that, a worn-down battery. However, the Lord was with her, because the place where she became stranded happened to be directly across from the parsonage of one of the town's churches. She sought help there, and although busy with their own concerns, the Pastor and his mechanical-minded son went out in the broiling heat and worked under the hood until they were able to send her on her way. Perhaps you have no problems with your car, but in case you have some other kind, take them to your House of Worship. Talk to your clergyman, who will pray for you and help you any way he can. This is one of his many ways of doing the Lord's work, as you will find out for yourself whenever the time comes.

The first step in solving a problem is to tell someone about it.

I serve as chariman for our "Day of Love" group. This is a group of women, ages 44-90, who meet every Tuesday. Our main purpose is to help other people in our town, county, state and the world.

What we do is transform scraps and old clothing into quilts, which are sent to different missions. From t-shirts we cut and sew diapers for Lutheran We're totally self-supporting by having thrift sales. The money collected from these projects go toward our expenses, such as postage, upkeep of the sewing machines, thread, flannel.

Our problem is we need a large closet built to accommodate our projects. This way we could keep everything on shelves and it would remain neat and orderly.

Any help you could give us would be greatly appreciated by all the members of our "Day of Love" group. — Mrs. S.J., Orton-ville, Minn.

It's not that easy . . . a used vehicle is not a one-time cost. The cost of maintenance, insurance, license tabs, etc. will probably run higher than the purchase price of the car within the irst year.

If you can convince me that you can handle these extra costs, I'll make a onetime contribution of $1,000 toward a used car. From there you're on your own.

What to do with Sesqui - leftovers?

Now that Michigan's Sesquicentennial is over, the Sesqui Office has a problem: What to do with the state's nearly 10,000 birthday cards and congratulatory letters? Many of the cards and letters are currently housed in a gigantic laundry hamper at the Sesqui Office, but some items simply don't fit. How does one file a 4x4 foot ceramic tile map of Michigan that weighs nearly 150 pounds? Or how about 28 birthday cards, each measuring 6x4 feet, sent in by Michigan shopping malls. Some of these bear more than 9.000 signatures. There are even several birthday scrolls, up to 20 feet n length and signed by hundreds of people. Most of the cards are handmade. Many are from kindergartens and elementary schools, and there is one

rom "all of us at the Eaton County Jail." Other projects made and sent by children include a 12-foot-long watercolor mural of the Mackinac Bridge, complete with attached cut-outs of robins and Alcott and Lopez both had good tee shots. Lopez got under her second shot and plopped it in some mud, while Alcott put hers about 75 yards ahead. The third shot by Lopez was on the fringe, about 40 feet from the cup and Alcott put her ball about seven feet away from the hole. Lopez chipped to within five feet. All Alcott needed was to sink the birdie putt and so she did to be the winner of the Shootout.

A long-drive contest was also a feature of pre-tournament time. The English contingent claimed top honors. Laura Davies won with a blast of 219 yards and Trish Johnson belted one out 211 yards for second place. The third spot went to American Jill Briles with her drive of 209 yards, all drives beng hit into the teeth of the wind swooping at the Bent Tree driving range.

That completed the pre-tourney events. Everyone was ready for the Pro-Am on Wednesday and then the four rounds of competition. More tournament talk next week, FORE!

CAR ACCIDENTS CAUSE HIDDEN INJURY

Automobile accidents are the number 1 cause of injury to the cervical spine (neck). Yet, many times a victim will walk away from an accident feeling fine, maybe just a little shaken up, not realizing that spinal misalignment, fixations

Maurice was involved in a 3-car accident. Although he suffered from no apparent injuries and had no physical complaints, x-rays of his neck revealed that one of the bones in the neck had become stuck out of position and could not move normally as a result of the
