Lakers to seek 16.27-mill renewal June 10

By AMY HEIDEN

A request for renewal of 16.27 mills which expired in December will be the main question on the June 10 school election, after the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port School Board of Education approved the measure Monday night.

Even with the approval, though, the district will end the 1991-92 fiscal year with a deficit, officials said.

Those 16.27 mills include three separate millages, according to Supt. Robert Drury. Included are 5 mills that were approved by voters in 1986, 7.5 mills first approved in 1987, and a 3.77 additional millage request approved in 1988.

The district this year will likely be subject to the Headlee Amendment, Drury said, which will force the district to roll back its millage. The amendment calls for school districts to reduce their millage if the rate of inflation for the previous year is less than new State Equalized Valuations for the current year.

The rate of inflation for 1990 was 5.4 percent, and tentative SEV figures for the district indicate an increase of 7.16 percent. Final figures won't be in from the various boards of review until early in May, Drury said, but the state requires school districts to set millage requests in April.

Because the district will be forced to roll back its millage rate, it will only be able to levy 28.8 mills instead of the full 29.02 mills currently levied.

Tentative figures show that the value of all property in

Laker Principal Craig Douglas heading back to Oscoda

Laker Secondary School Principal Craig Douglas will be leaving that position to become Superintendent of Oscoda Area Schools, Laker Board of Education members learned Monday night.

His new position is effective Aug. 1, and the Laker Board accepted his resignation with regret.

Douglas came to the Laker District in August 1988 from a position as assistant principal of the Oscoda Area High School.

He and his wife Mary have three children, Christopher, Jon and Katie. They currently live in Pigeon, but will be moving to Oscoda later this summer.

the Laker district is $171.4 million. If the full 29.02 mills were levied, the 29.02 millage rate would generate $4.97 million in taxes.

But at 28.8 mills, $4.93 million will be raised, a loss of over $37,000 in tax revenues.

Drury said revenues for the next fiscal year should be $5.389 million, with expenditures totaling $5.482 million. That will leave the district with a deficit of over $93,000, which will be made up out of the district's fund balance.

The Board also considered proposals for an millage increase of .55 mills to cover the deficit for next year, and one to ask for a millage increase of .22 mills and an override of the Headlee Amendment.

But those proposals were rejected because of the board's feeling that the current economic situation would cause voters to turn them down.

The big problem with the Headlee rollback, Drury said, is that the 28.8 mills that the district could levy would be the base figure for next year, and if the rate of inflation stays over five percent, then the district will fall deeper into a deficit situation.

"This is the first year for us to be in a deficit situation," he said. "We could handle a deficit for a year, but the district can't stand handling it for more than a year. We've worked too hard to build up a fund balance."

"We will definitely have to recitify it next year."

State law requires schools to have a balanced budget each year, and if schools run into a deficit, they must submit a plan to the state demonstrating how they'll deal with it, Drury noted.

"The Board made a promise to voters in 1987-88 that we would stay at 29.02 mills till 1990. We've gone past that by a year," Drury said.

"There's no doubt in my mind that this time next year we'll be sitting here asking for an additional millage to cover the deficit situation."

TO RETURN: Virginia Leipprandt and James Clabuesch also announced their intentions to run for the two expiring board seats. No other candidates filed petitions for the seats.

STIRRETT LEAVING: The board accepted a letter from Building and Grounds Director Gordon Stirrett, requesting his retirement after 37 years with first the Elkton School, then the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port District.

The Board designated June 30 as Gordon Stirrett Appreciation Day, and will be hosting an open house in his honor at the high school on that day.

The Board acted on the recommendation of the Staff Evaluation Committee and granted tenure to Kelly Bushey and Dale Grifka, and set a third year probationary period for Kris Swartzendruber, and a second year probationary period for Dan Reynolds.

Kathryn Brown plays April 28 for Caseville Arts Council

Award-winning concert pianist Kathryn Brown will be the special guest of the Caseville Community Arts Council on Sunday, April 28 at 3 p.m. at St. Roch Catholic Church for a piano performance.

Brown, who has family in this area, is coming to Caseville as a "special favor" to the Arts Council as she would like to further appreciation of the arts in the Thumb Area, organizers say.

She participated in the 1989 Van Cliburn International Piano Keyboard Competition, is a first prize winner at the San Antonio International Competition and played in the National Young Artists Piano Competition.

Because limited seating is available, program chairman Robert Haas suggests that interested persons purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

Tickets are available by calling 856-3360 or 856-2650. A special price is available for students.

BAY WATER MEETING FRIDAY

A public meeting is planned at Tuscola Extension Service Office, Caro, from 9:30-11:30 a.m. this Friday, to present an overview of the Saginaw Bay Water Quality Project and its impact on production agriculture.

Areas targeted in the project are western Huron County, northern Tuscola and eastern Bay Counties that are adjacent to Saginaw Bay. A small area of northeastern Saginaw County is also included in the program.

Farm producers in the area are invited to attend and learn how the five-year project will be conducted. With the project is tied additional funding for expanded and/or renewed ASCS cost-share programs.

It is hoped that new or expanded efforts can be targeted at factors that will allow agriculture to function in a productive manner in harmony with the environment.

SURVEY: CARS BETTER TODAY

Thumb Area drivers prefer Buicks, Chryslers and Fords — and certainly like American cars over foreign models.

Those are some of the findings in the Thumb Business Forum survey of "Cars in the Thumb," conducted for The Business Blanket monthly newspaper.

Ford was the top choice in local vehicles, with 31% picking it as their favorite car/truck brand. Close behind was the Chrysler name, with 28% of respondents picking it. Buick was third with 20%.

Persons surveyed said today's cars and trucks are of better quality than they were five and 10 years ago. A total of 65% said vehicles today are "better" or "much better" than they were five years ago. Another 14% said vehicles are about the same quality as five years ago or longer, while 7% believe quality is worse today.

Job performance by local dealers' sales staff is good overall, too, the survey said. 42 of respondents said the sales person's performance was very good or good, while 14% said it was poor.

Service departments did even better, as 51% were rated very good or good, while 29% were rated average. None of the respondents called service work "poor" the survey showed.

REPAIRS FOR M-53 MOVED UP?

Local officials are lobbying to have M-53 put on the state's priority list for repairs and expansion. According to Huron County Economic Development Corp. Director Carl Osentoski, transportation for businesses, tourism and farming is a key to area growth.

Improving M-53 was targeted in Huron County's Jobs 2000 program as a way to enhance and economically improve the area. Jobs 2000 was a study initiated by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to help counties make a self analysis and plan a direction for future development.

The state has M-53 on its priority list for repairs and expansion if federal money becomes available, but that's not enough, says Osentoski.

"We want to make sure M-53 remains a top priority, and we're promoting a grass-roots campaign to keep government officials aware of our needs," Osentoski says. "We want businesses, municipalities and residents of the M-53 corridor to mail letters supporting M-53 improvements to their legislators."

"We are in the process of contacting Tuscola, Sanilac and Lapeer officials to join in the effort."

M-53 runs from Port Austin south to Detroit, as Van Dyke.

Yummy Elkton fund-raiser!

Everybody's feeling the money pinch these days and organizers of the Elkton AutumnFest are no exception.

So, to help raise money to defray expenses for the annual three-day event, a benefit chicken and beef dinner is being planned for Saturday, April 20, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Hitching Post Restaurant.

Organizers Max McKenzie and Walt Forster say the dinner, served with salad and beverages, will be the first of several fund-raising events planned for the coming months.

Planning for the AutumnFest celebration is well-underway, and they hope to include several new events, as well as favorites such as the antique car show, flea market, mud volleyball, lawnmower races and many others.

Tickets for the dinner are available at McKenzie's Gift Shop in Elkton, or from Walt Forster at the Elkton Village Hall.

Goal: 10,000 sandwiches!

A minimum of "10,000 fish sandwiches" is the target of the 14th annual Bay Port Fish Sandwich Festival which is planned Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4.

Dates were set and initial plans were laid out at the April meeting of Bay Port Chamber of Commerce.

Other business conducted includes donations of $300 for Bay Port Little League, purchase of 10 new tables with seating facilities to better serve Fish Sandwich Weekend customers, and publication of 15,000 new Bay Port brochures sponsored by local advertisers.

Bay Port Chamber will participate in Caseville Perch Festival and Sebawaing Sugar Festival parades with the new Bay Port trailer and float.

New buttons will be purchased with a new theme, and new 1991 Fish Sandwich Weekend T-shirts will be ordered.

It was decided not to plant curbs with petunias this summer as the community has done in past years, because of construction of new sewer lines during the summer.

Fish Sandwich Festival Publicist Henry Engelhard promised that if there is any indication by Saturday night of Fish Sandwich Weekend that Festival cooks will run out of fish, "not to worry." Engelhard promised that Bay Port Fish Company has assured Festival committee members that its mighty fleet "will hit the lake early Sunday morning" and will bring in as many extra fresh-caught mullets as are needed.

Cross K'garten round-up coming this Friday

The annual Kindergarten Round-up for Cross Lutheran School is planned this Friday, April 12 at 10 a.m. in the school gym on Rupert Street, Pigeon.

During the one-hour program, information about the kindergarten program will be shared, as well as medical needs and state requirements. The children are welcome to come and meet their teacher, Mrs. Mary Bauer. School officials ask parents to bring the child's immunization record and birth certificate.

The program is open to all members of Cross congregation, as well as non-members. Persons who are unsure of future plans for their child should feel free to come and get acquainted with the Cross Lutheran kindergarden program, officials say.

Essian presents $500 to Scheurer

SPECIAL GIFT: Pat and Sheri Lynn Essian, representing Edward D. Jones and Company, recently presented a check for $500 to Scheurer Hospital to be used for needed hospital equipment. Essian said the donation to the hospital was to "repay the Pigeon community for all the support they've shown me in the past years."

'Turnabout Day' this Friday at Lakers

This Friday, April 12, "the tables will be turned" at Lakers with appointed students taking on different roles as teacher, secretary or principal.

Under the supervision of the respective adult, the student will do the planning and performance of the job. The program is designed to give students an opportunity to see what it is like "on the other side of the fence." Serious in purpose, it is hoped students interested in education-related careers will get a chance to experience a day of work at Lakers.

Evaluation of this "turnabout day" will be twofold. Students will complete a summary paper on April 15 to Principal Craig Douglas. Teachers and other adults being supplanted for the day will complete a survey about the day as well. Reports of this evaluation will be shared with faculty and students on April 16, via the daily announcements.

Perch Festival is just 10 fishin' days away!

Caseville's annual Perch Festival is just 10 days away, planned for Saturday, April 20 through Sunday, April 28.

Main attractions, of course, are the millions of those tasty Yellow Perch just inches below the cool blue waters of Saginaw Bay.

But there's plenty for fishermen and non-fishermen alike to do, in the nine-day event sponsored by the Caseville Chamber of Commerce.

A $100 first prize will be awarded for the longest perch, and $100 will be awarded for the heaviest perch in this year's official contest. Weigh stations are at Hoy's Saginaw Bay Marina, Walsh's Gun and Tackle and Caseville Resort.

The big Perch Festival Parade kicks off at 1 p.m. next Saturday, April 20. The new queen will be crowned at the Queen's Dinner that night at the Bella Vista Inn. For reservations, call 856-2650.

A bottle drive fundraiser, special matinee showing of "Rescuers Down Under" plus doubles pool and cribbage tournaments are planned.

A Grocery Cart Bingo event will be completed, and the Caseville Kiwanis Club will again host its pancake breakfast.

The Caseville Optimist Club runs the concession stand at the breakwall, plus euchre and pinocle tournaments and a bingo party are set.

Also, watch for a fish fry and kids' Fishing Derby. More details will be announced in next week's Progress-Advance.

David Watts 'lays down the law' back home

By AMY HEIDEN

David Watts briefly considered a career in medicine when he attended Albion College, but once he decided "that wasn't my cup of tea," he went back to his first love, the law.

He earned his Bachelor's degree with a major in Spanish and a minor in political science, then attended Notre Dame University, where he earned his law degree.

Now he's in private practice in Bad Axe, in partnership with Tami Woodworth Salens in their new office behind the Nu-Vision optical store.

But they say they're more than partners; they're good friends as well. They met when Watts was an intern in the county prosecutor's office, and Salens was the chief assistant prosecuting attorney.

And both felt that their personalities meshed well enough to open a practice together.

"Everything developed at the right time for both of us," Watts said.

Watts, a 1983 Caseville High School graduate and the son of Janet Watts, Caseville Elementary School principal and high school guidance counselor, said he always intended to come back to Huron County for practice law.

"This is home, I love it here. It all boils down to the people. They care about you as a person, they know you and they're sincere," Watts said.

So after graduation from Notre Dame last year, Watts returned to Huron County. Salens was the attorney who swore him in last November. During his time in the county clerk's office, he served as research clerk and bailiff for Circuit Judge Richard Knoblock.

He also served as the coordinator for the Huron County Community Corrections Advisory Board, overseeing non-assaultive offenders in community service assignments.

During his college years, Watts spent a semester studying in Spain, where he became fluent in Spanish. And he also studied at the Notre Dame London Law Centre, getting a different perspective on the law.

"American law is based on English law, and I got a different perspective on the American system," Watts said.

The joint practice offers a wide range of legal services, and that's one of the best things about having a general practice, the partners agree.

"It's an opportunity to pursue several different types of law," Salens says.

But the best aspect of the partnership is that each partner has a working knowledge of the other's cases and can present that case in court at a moment's notice.

They also bounce ideas off each other.

"Both Tami and I have a very meticulous view of the law. We could talk for hours about the law in practice and in theory," Watts said.

In addition to his legal practice, Watts also teaches corporation and agency law at Great Lakes Junior College, and participates in productions of the Port Austin Community Players.

In his spare time, he says he enjoys tennis and spending time with his family.

Huron hosts Gov. Engler April 29

Michigan Governor John Engler will be special guest at the Huron County Republican Party's kick-off reception and dinner on Monday, April 29 at the Franklin Inn, Bad Axe.

The governor will pose for pictures during a cocktail time at 5:30 p.m., with party membership, according to the County Republican Executive Committee. Also, tickets are available for a 7 p.m. reception and 8 p.m. dinner.

"This is an opportunity to meet our new governor and renew old acquaintances," County Vice Chairman Barbara Buchholz of Pigeon says. "We hope all interested persons will join us for this gala event."

For ticket information, contact Buchholz at 217 S. Main, Pigeon, or write the County GOP at Box 183, Bad Axe, 48413.

The elusive Raccoobuck creature seen for more than a decade throughout the Western Thumb Area has apparently returned from the sunny south.

A farmer north of Pigeon spotted the part-deer, part-raccoon creature one mile north and a mile east of the town, he told The Progress-Advance.

He will be honored by the Michigan Youth Arts Festival at Western Michigan University on May 10. Congratulations, Mike!

THE CHANCE YOU TAKE: The Detroit Free Press last week reported the story of Harvey and Anna Gingrich, whose two-bedroom waterfront cottage in Lake Township north of Caseville had been assessed at $26,800 prior to this year. The Lake Township Board of Review raised that assessment by $5400 this year, and the couple appealed to have that 20% increase reduced.

But, the Free Press front page story continued, a closer analysis of the cottage RAISED the assessment another $10,000 -- to $42,200 -- raising their tax bill by another $300. Most of the folks we've talked to say that's always one of the possibilities when any Board of Review is involved. And, they advise, nearly all assessments (which are supposed to be 50% of the actual property value) are already TOO LOW, which means few property owners would sell their property for double its assessment.

So, we're told, it's smart to say little or nothing, unless you are certain your property is already overvalued... or it may actually rise when you're trying to reduce it!

WILL IT CLOSE? Our nearest military facility is Wurtsmith Air Force Base, across Saginaw Bay at Oscoda. We're supposed to learn this Thursday whether it will be closed in federal budget-cutting.

Oscoda officials, of course, say losing the base would cut deeply into the economic structure there -- and they're right. School districts would lose 54% of local enrollments, and they expect the loss of Wurtsmith's 4000 military and civilian jobs would cut retail sales by a third.

Oscoda and the Tawassee have beautiful beaches and a booming resort business, but losing the base would be catastrophic. We'll know for sure Thursday...

NEW BUSINESS: Sebawaing's newest business is Great Lakes Pallets, which re-located from Caseville to the former Fournier warehouse near the Sugar Factory. The company is owned by Renda Jaworski of Elkton, and it supplies pallets for auto industries in Detroit plus to various local companies in Pigeon, Elkton and elsewhere in the Thumb...

ON AN AVERAGE DAY IN AMERICA, we spend $45.2 million on prescription drugs, $10.9 million on over-the-counter pain relievers, $1.66 million on hairspray and $1.37 million on laxatives...

BAD AXE RENOVATIONS SET

Bad Axe City officials are planning major renovations to the downtown area in efforts to rejuvenate shoppers' interest with a "softened" look.

According to Huron County Economic Development Corp. Director Carl Osentoski, "The plan will create a park-like area by closing part of South Heisterman Street, a side street next to the courthouse.

"The plan includes decorative lighting, landscaping, benches and a gazebo/band stand as an entertainment center." Projected cost of the plan is $250,000.

SPECIAL OLIVER ELECTION SET

A special election has been approved by the Huron County Elections Board, to ask voters in Oliver Township to renew two mills for road repairs and maintenance.

The election is set for Tuesday, May 28 and the two-mill question will be sought for five years, according to Huron County Clerk Helen Lemanski, of the Elections Board. Voters may cast ballots at the Oliver Township Hall in Elkton from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. that day.

LOTS OF EDISON TAXES...

Detroit Edison, the state's second largest taxpayer, provides major support to communities throughout southeastern Michigan for education and public services. The utility's payment of over $168 million in 1990 property taxes will benefit nearly 400 communities in 17 counties.

More than $114 million -- or nearly 70% of -- the total payment will directly benefit education. Payments locally include:

HURON COUNTY with school payments of $708,952 and total payments of $1.08 million, and TUSCOLA COUNTY with school payments of $599,265 and total payments of $808,251.

As we see it

Michigan's seat belt (law) gets tighter...

Michigan has a NEW seat belt law, which took effect last Monday. It requires all persons under the age of 16 to wear a seat belt whenever they're in a vehicle -- wherever they are sitting.

The law is one of the toughest in the nation, Secretary of State Richard Austin says -- and it's about time, he adds.

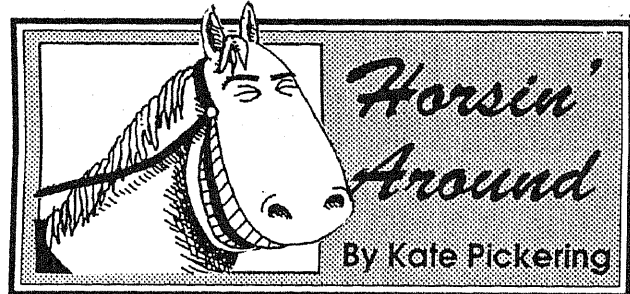

The 1985 law was already strong, but parents weren't doing their part, Austin says. It required all youngsters under the age of four to sit in an approved car seat -- and that should have been enough to make parents require all their children to "buckle up" at all times. Many families did and do, but many others did not.

In fact, 73 children under the age of 15 were killed in auto accidents in 1989 and another 10,416 were injured in motor accidents, state police say. Auto accidents were the number one cause of death for children 15 and under in Michigan -- and that's a shame since it could be avoided.

Lawmakers responded to parental indifference when they passed the new seat belt law -- which may not have been necessary if parents had done their duty....

V-P Powell sounds good, but...

At least one national observer says there are efforts underway to dump Dan Quayle as Vice President and replace him with Persian Gulf War Gen. Colin Powell on President George Bush's 1992

ON THE OTHER HAND

Last week I penned (or shall I say "keyed in") a scathing (editorial - opistle - opinion?) regarding birth order and the trials and tribulations of those whom fate places at the tail-end of a large family. Well, as with any good argument or point-of-view, there's always the other side... "the counter-point."

Yes, there were (there are) many good things that come of being among the youngest. For instance, I could read before I started kindergarten, but not because I was a particularly bright child. This old-fashioned "head-start program" was a manifestation of the patience and kindness of my older sisters, and of the delight they took in teaching me and seeing the results of their unstructured, uncomplicated, light-hearted daily lessons.

A child's imagination will follow easily (and eagerly) when led down a trail of innovation and intrigue, and those elements were a basic component in daily play when the baby-sitting responsibilities were left to said sisters. They (along with my older brother too, of course) created a vast and highly sophisticated Disney-esque world of make-believe, choc full of colorful characters and woodland creatures. As the "woodland" was our backyard, all of nature was explored and explained whilst my chubby hand clung to that of one of my three guru-guides.

Then, when my sister acquired her first horse, my mother and father gave me up for adoption. I was more or less taken in and raised, after that, by Mary Jo. I shadowed her every move, the school day being the only long and agonizing moments I spent away from her and that horse, until my passion and dedication (whining and carrying on, maybe?) turned itself into a horse of my own.

From Jim I learned how to fly a kite, field a ground ball and spear a sucker. From Bev I learned how to sketch out haute couture, sing a song and appreciate fine literature. From Mary I learned how to ride a horse, clean a barn and pay my own way. And all of this skill and knowledge was acquired without the bother and expense of tutors or teachers. They came to me via the teachers/tutors of life - my older brothers and sisters.

Of course none of this is meant to under-estimate (Lord, don't ever do that!) the value of my little (6'4" - 200 lb.) brother John. He has always been my sidekick, my partner, my comrade, and he alone can testify that last week's column did indeed reveal some important truths!!

I dedicate this column to the memory of William B. Pickering - the older brother I never knew.

Republican re-election campaign -- but don't hold your breath.

Columnist Clarence Page says Powell is indeed a dream choice, noting he has become a national hero along the lines of Dwight Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur for limiting casualties during the war with Iraq. The fact that Powell is black would doubly help President Bush by luring black voters back to the G.O.P.'s ranks and soothing the consciences of moderate whites who don't like the continuing civil rights back-sliding underway in our nation's capital.

But, Page notes, President Bush will likely keep VP Quayle on board, since his war victory has brought him high popularity ratings anyway. Why rock the boat by dumping Quayle and losing some conservative support, Page asks.

Things could change between now and election day, of course. But Colin Powell's success and qualifications may not matter, if he's in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Page says he wouldn't blame Powell for saying "thanks, but no thanks" to ANY elective office candidacy. After all, he already has risked his life in service to his country, Page says. Why risk his reputation, too?

TELLING STATISTICS

Have you been surprised by the high price of grapefruit this winter? Or have you wondered why early spring strawberries have been scarce and expensive at the produce counters? Maybe these statistics about California, the nation's top agricultural state, might help bring some perspective to the next grocery store visit that we make.

TELLING STATISTICS... about the nation's #1 agriculture state, California, from the United States Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service: n A severe freeze the week before Christmas cost California growers nearly $700 million. One county south of Fresno in the San Joaquin Valley, reported $286 million lost in navel oranges alone.

■ Other crops heavily damaged were avocados, lemons, broccoli, figs, pistachios, artichokes, cauliflower, celery, strawberries and flowers.

■ California's agriculture is suffering from a double whammy—the hard freeze of December and the ongoing drought condition which has been only somewhat alleviated.

■ Irrigation is crucial to California's farms and nurseries. According to 1987 figures, over 90 percent of the state's harvested cropland is irrigated. California alone accounts for 17 percent of the nation's irrigation.

■ California produces more than 50 percent of the Nation's fruits, vegetables and nuts. California farms produce over 90 percent of the almonds, olives, prunes, raisins, walnuts, apricots, nectarines, grapes, brussel sprouts and broccoli that comes to market.

■ 1989 USDA statistics show California leading the Nation in the production of tomatoes, grapes, lettuce, eggs, hay and greenhouse/nursery products.

■ California is the second leading state in production of dairy products, cotton, oranges, rice and apples and third in potatoes, turkeys and sugar beets.

■ It's also important to remember that the population of the U.S. is now concentrated in three states. Preliminary 1990 Census reports show 58 percent of the U.S. population living in California, Florida and Texas. Demographer Calvin Beale of the USDA Economic Research Service says that such a large shift has not occurred for a century.

RECOLLECTIONS
Of By-Gone Days
BY GEORGE KEIM

In one of my last articles, I wrote that I worked for the Co-op Elevator and then went to work in the Quarry. Well, it was about one week between them that I worked for the Pigeon elevator.

I recently saw a story from 50 years ago, saying they were putting up a storage building and that Ed Danks was in charge.

Well, I knew Danks because I helped on a barn he had built and he told me if he ever had a job again, he'd put me to work. I worked for them several days, carrying lumber and digging a hold four feet square and four feet deep to put a pillar on.

I knew how to dig because I used to help make fences and put in anchor posts.

There was one fellow in the bunch who was a union guy. He went around telling the men to slow down and join the union. He asked me why I was working so hard and what I'd do when I was done. I told him I'd just dig another hole.

Well, he got fired after a day or two. I think the union is all right if it's used right, but I was taught I should give a man an honest day's work and if the working conditions are right and the boss is good, that's all that is required of you.

When I was a hired man on the farm, I had a lot of experience in making fences. I dug a lot of holes and put in a lot of posts and stretched a lot of wire.

Once I was stretching some wire and the handle broke and hit me in the chest and cracked a rib, so I went to the doctor. He said all he could do was give me some pain pills.

Well, I didn't use them all and one night I fell over a spring tooth harrow and hit the lever with my ribs, so I just took the rest of my pain pills. I never had a leg or arm broken, but my poor ribs really got it a lot of times.

When I was plowing with horses and hit a stone, the plow handle used to hit my ribs.

Once a cow kicked me when I was clipping her and it hit me so hard, I could hardly breathe. Last summer when that tractor ran over me, I had some pretty sore ribs.

In Matthew 10:10 it says, "A working man is worthy of his nest." Well, when we older men went thrashing or corn shredding, we always got good meat and good meals and we always could tell which men had the best cooks.

And those meals we used to get — I don't know if we were worthy of them or not, but I still can remember them and there isn't a restaurant that can beat them.

SINCERELY YOURS,
GEORGE KEIM

New Pigeon Post Office lunch times are set

POSTAL PATRONS:

I would like to thank all of the people who responded to the survey regarding the lunch hour window closure at the Pigeon Post Office. It is good to see that most people took an interest and voiced their opinion.

All four of the possible closing times received some votes. However, strong support from the business community made the 12:30 to 1:30 time period the biggest vote getter.

Therefore, beginning on April 15, 1991 the new window service hours will be 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., lunch, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. I hope this will give business people an opportunity to get to the post office over the noon hour and still be convenient for the rest of the public.

As I had stated before, I have no choice but to close the office for one hour at lunch time. There were however, a number of people who voiced their opposition to closing at this time.

As I feel it is important that all opinions are heard, I have forwarded these cards to the customer service representative at the Lansing Post Office.

If I receive a response from them, I will forward it on to you.

Thank you again for your interest and I hope we can make the transition to the new time with the least amount of confusion and inconvenience as possible.

Laker Athletic Boosters to meet

Laker Athletic Boosters Club will meet on Monday,

April 15 at 7:30 p.m. at Laker High School.

Any interested persons are invited to attend, organizers say.

Achievements

Grand Blanc's Jason Taft, age 14, grandson of Reinhardt and Marie Buchholz of Pigeon, completed an "impressive season in extraordinary fashion," winning the state middle school diving championship in Lansing.

Taft also won the Big Nine middle school championship 10 days earlier, setting a new Grand Blanc pool record with 128 points on four dives.

He recorded more points than anyone in the five dual meets he participated in, although, since all divers are given a chance at the middle school level, he was competing on an exhibition level some of the time.

His conference championship helped the host "Bobcats" claim the Big Nine team title.

Taft is the son of Richard and Betty (Buchholz) Taft of Grand Blanc.

Darrel L. Dawes, CLU, Associate General Manager, The Prudential Company, has earned the Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC) diploma and professional designation from the American College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

One of the nation's oldest and largest accredited, non-traditional education institutions, the college specializes in professional education in financial services.

Dawes, who is married to the former Tammy Elenbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherl (Jake) Elenbaum of Sebawaing, began his Prudential career in May, 1983 in Peoria, Ill. and quickly established himself as a national leader in both sales and as the manager of the Peoria unit. He was promoted to Associate General Manager, relocating in Springfield, in January, 1989.

Candidates for ChFC Certification must complete a prescribed program of study and examinations and fulfill stringent experience and ethical requirements. Over 21,000 persons have been awarded the ChFC designation since its inception in 1982.

Cheryl Baur of Bay Port and Christine Licht of Pigeon are among the over 200 candidates eligible to participate in Alma College's 1991 commencement.

The commencement ceremony begins at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 20, in Cappaert Gymnasium.

Baur is the daughter of Randy and Lorna Baur, Bay Port. She is a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts degree in history and political science.

Licht is the daughter of Kenneth and Betty Licht, Pigeon. She is a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration and sociology from Alma College.

Both are 1987 graduates of Laker High School.

Valley Lutheran High School junior Jodi Lewis, granddaughter of Pigeon residents John and Dorothy Diener, skated off with two medals at the 20th annual Western Ontario Section Winter Invitational last weekend in Sarnia.

The Saginaw teenager, daughter of Bill and Deann Lewis of Saginaw and member of the Midland Figure Skating Club, won the gold in the Junior Ladies Elements with first-place votes from all five judges. Lewis added a silver medal in the Open Ladies Free Skate event.

It's a girl!

Captains Bethany and Richard Sprunk of Seckenheim, Germany, welcomed their newborn daughter, Laura Elizabeth, on Tuesday, Jan. 22.

The infant weighed 6 lbs. 11 oz. and measured 20 inches long at her birth at Heidelberg Germany Army Base Hospital.

Her parents, both attorneys, are employed as Captains in the U.S. Army.

She was welcomed home by her sister, Havilah Marie, age two.

Proud grandparents are Bill and Jan Forge of Bay Port and Lucille and Marlin Sprunk of Wyandotte. Great-grandparents are Lewis and Grace Forge, also of Bay Port.

Mrs. Jan Forge traveled to Germany on Jan. 14 through Feb. 19 to see her new granddaughter.

Peggy Kuhl leads St. Jude bike event on May 11

Peggy Kuhl of Bay Port has announced she will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon on May 11.

This year's Bike-a-Thon is dedicated to Brooke Simon, a six-year-old solid tumor patient at St. Jude.

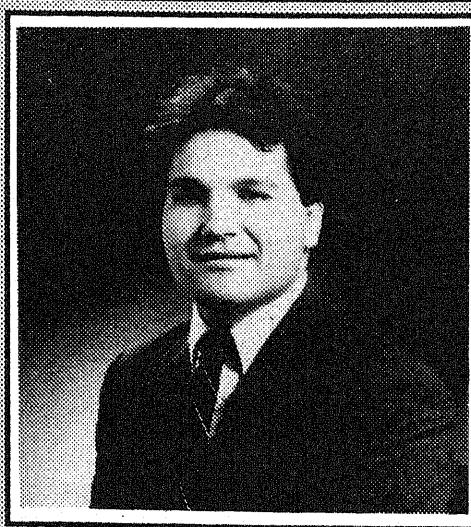

"We sincerely appreciate the concern that Peggy Kuhl has for our work to help children like Brooke, and we hope the citizens of Bay Port will support the Bike-a-Thon this spring to help provide funds needed to preserve the world's greatest asset...our children," say St. Jude spokesmen.

Lisa Jan Swartzendruber and James Donald Hubbert were united in marriage on Nov. 9 at the United Methodist Church in Romeo.

Parents of the bride are James and Arlene Swartzendruber of Pigeon. The groom's parents are Donald and Ruth Hubbert of East Detroit.

The bride, wearing an ivory gown of satin, was escorted down the altar by her father. The gown featured full-length lace sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The sheath style skirt with lace trim was accented by a detachable satin train.

An elbow-length veil further highlighted the dress and was secured by a headpiece made of pearls and satin roses. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of orchids and bridal white roses. Preceding the bride down the aisle was matron of honor Ellen Duce, friend of the bride, who wore a tea-length dress in iridescent plum, featuring an off the shoulder sleeve with a lace neckline. She carried a bouquet of orchids and pink roses.

Lisa Gaviglio, friend of the bride and Lori Davidson, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They wore gowns identical to the matron of honor's.

'Gospelmen Quartet' performs

"The Gospelmen Quartet" from Flint will be special guests this Sunday, April 14 at the Community Wesleyan Church of Elkton. The group will perform at the 10:45 a.m. service, to which the public is cordially invited, according to Pastor DeWeerd Smith. The quartet is known to many in the area as they have been one of the featured groups the last two years at New Years' Eve at Cass City High School. A free-will offering will be taken.

60 Seconds Which Way?

"I AM THE WAY, AND THE TRUTH AND THE LIFE." JOHN 14:6
For another year, Easter has come and gone. So, what does it mean to us?
The ancient question asked by Thomas, "How can we know the way?", was again answered this year. On the Thursday before Easter, when the suffering Jesus and His confused disciples were meeting in the Upper Room, Jesus told them that He was going to prepare a place for them.
He said He knew the path He would take, but Thomas asked, "How can we know the way?"
It is a question asked by blind, groping men and women for centuries. Clear as Jesus' answer was, mankind continues to ask over and over again.
And Easter shows us the answer over and again.
Jesus says, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; no one comes to the Father but by me."
In Christ, we cling to Him, we see His cross as our ladder from earth to heaven, we see the suffering Christ, now resurrected, and we know that He, indeed, is the Way, the only Way!
Easter shows us that again as we rejoice in Christ's resurrection.

THANK YOU, LORD JESUS. YOUR DEATH AND RESURRECTION GIVE US LIFE ETERNALLY. AMEN.

VISIT A FUNERAL HOME

Most people are somewhat intimidated by the idea of visiting a funeral home. They may feel a degree of trepidation that is totally unfounded, particularly if they have had a little previous exposure. Some people may benefit from a tour of the funeral home, to be done at a time when there is not the emotion of a recent loss. A call to the establishment(s) of your choice should suffice to arrange a convenient time when you and perhaps a few friends would be allowed to examine the caskets, ask questions you might be embarrassed to ask if actually in need, and gain some insight into how the whole business operates. It may sound like an unusual thing to do, but it can be extremely useful and informative. You might plan the trip as a program for a club or organization if you prefer not to go privately. Keep in mind that this type of pre-need introduction to the funeral industry will remove some of the awe and confusion that often accompanies the first trip of the bereaved to the funeral home.

Woods & Waters

FISHING SIMPLY

By DUANE GUENTHER

The sockeye ran with the vengeance of an escaping convict—first burrowing deep towards the bottom and then screaming back at me like a runaway train. I got a quick glimpse as he scooted past my waders, orange body, green head, and a grotesque hooked jaw making the fish look like something from a Steven Spielberg movie.

Moments later, he wal-lowed at my feet hopelessly tangled in several loops of my flyline. He would die soon, all spawning salmon did, but for some reason I felt compelled to release him.

Here, deep in the Alaskan bush, with the towering spires of Mt. Denali peering over my shoulder, it just didn't seem right to take a life so ugly, and yet so beautiful. The fish must have felt the same, for a sudden burst of energy propelled him from my hands, back to the safety of the water. I pulled in my scattered line and continued fishing filing this memorable fight in the recess of my mind.

I sat in the bow of the McKenzie River drift boat and soaked up the gorgeous scenery that only comes from a perfect fall fishing day on Michigan's famed Pere

Marquette River. My guide was a legend in his own time, and his boat, handmade during last year's boring winter, was varnished to display each and every grain of beautiful wood it protected.

I sat on a soft cushioned seat, with a bottle of wine perched in a cubicle near my hand, and strung across the bow was a finely crafted flyrod ready and waiting to dobattle with the silver-fresh steelhead hiding in each hole we passed over.

I would catch several fish that day, more than I ever had before. Most would be in story-fashion, running long, fighting hard, but always coming to the net.

Pictures were snapped as I held them aloft, and sadness was felt when we slipped them back into the water.

The South Branch of the AuSable River is one of my favorite places to seek out Michigan's state fish, the brook trout. Almost depleted because of encroaching civilization, he still flour-ishes here because of the "no-kill" limits proposed by various conservation organizations and enforced by the DNR.

I spend many hours on the river. Searching and prodding all of the deep holes with the intent of landing one of the last, really big fish that makes this river their home.

A year or two back, I hooked one, unmistakably, for I was dragging my fly back across the river from an errant cast and he hit it in midstream. I had too much slack out and it took some doing to gather it in before he snapped my leader.

We fought each other for at least 5 minutes before I had him near my wader-clad feet, and I could see that he was a dandy. He broke free as I was lifting him out of the water, so I have no photograph or measurements to show, except those imbedded in my mind.

Lying on the grassy, sun-warmed bank of a local drainage ditch I stare upward at cotton-puff clouds drifting lazily across the sky, trying desperately, like I did when I was a kid, to make out recognizable forms and features.

I return my sleep-heavy eyelids back to the attention of the long, bamboo pole resting on the crocheted stick imbedded in the ground, and follow it to the tip and then down the line to a red and white bobber jerking wildly in the coffee-brown water it rests upon.

A quick jerk and slow lifting of the long pole reveals not one, but two squirming perch, each with a half dead minnow protruding from their mouth. One will go 8-inches, and the other is pushing 10.

My heartbeat quickens as I see the fish, and after extracting each they go in the plastic pail with their other 40-odd brothers and sisters.
This is really fishing. I think to myself. This is fishing at its simplest form, but to me, it is REALLY FISHING.....

Outdoor Report

Week of April 9-10, 1991

If you're one of those potential turkey hunters who did not get a permit, don't despair. Officials for the DNR reports that there are 1,839 leftover wild turkey licenses for this spring's hunting season, which is from April 22-May 26.

The licenses, leftover from a recent computer drawing, are from hunting units that were undersubscribed.
Beginning at 9 a.m., April 9, the licenses will be available at certain DNR district offices on a first-come-first served basis, and will be available throughout the season or until they are gone.
Offices in our area that still have licenses is Bay City with 331 permits for units W and T.

Any group that is planning to sponsor special fishing events during Michigan's sixth annual Free Fishing Weekend, June 8-9, may request a free fishing information packet available now from the DNR.

Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend, held every year in June in conjunction with National Fishing Week, allows residents and outstate visitors to fish all of Michigan's inland and Great Lakes waters without a fishing license or trout/salmon stamp.

OFFICIAL PUBLIC NOTICE
Village of CASEVILLE Caseville, Michigan

Notice is hereby given that the Caseville Planning Commission will hold a Public

Easter egg-citement in Caseville

It seemed like just another spring day. The sun was shining and the sky was blue. There was a nice warm breeze blowing from the southwest.

Then at 1 p.m., all of a sudden like a scene out of "Lawrence of Arabia," the children came out with such force that the attending adults were forced to fend them off with bags of candy and Easter eggs . . . or so it seemed like that.

The Caseville Optimist Club held its fifth annual Easter Egg Hunt at the Caseville School on March 23 for about 80 children, ranging in age from 1 through 11.

The Optimists would like to thank the school for the use of their property, Active Feed of Pigeon for their donation of two cases of eggs and Janice Foster and her Girl Scout troop for decorating the eggs.

The Caseville Optimist Club has been chartered since 1987 and has put on many community activities for area children, including Youth Appreciation Week, Auto Festival, Annual Scholarships, concession sales at the Perch Festival and Carp Shoot, Bicycle Safety Week, Tri-Star Basketball and Football and a drop box for clothes in the parking lot of the Caseville IGA.

SHOWN ABOVE ARE,

YOUNG WINNERS, age one through four, were Trista Dufty, first; Bryan Osentoski, second and Andrew Bouverette, third.

AT ABOVE LEFT ARE,

AGE EIGHT THROUGH 11 winners were Chancey Wolfe, first; Jessica Willenberg, second and Adam Bouverette, third.

BELOW LEFT ARE,

AGE FIVE THROUGH SEVEN winners included Courtney Carson, first; Janelle Guster, second and Thomas Lixie, third.

FARM BUREAU INSURANCE

"Thanks a Million" By Percy Ross

Send your letters to: PERCY ROSS, c/o Progress-Advance, P.O. Box 35000, Minneapolis, MN 55435. Please include your telephone number.

Investment requires reason

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I was just sitting here reading the latest copy of the Photo Shopper, which, by the way, carries your column every week. I'm amazed by what some people ask for and you say, "The check is in the mail." Well, I asked for $500 to buy my family (me, my husband, baby and stepson) some clothes, but you didn't tell me the check is in the mail!

As a matter of fact, I didn't get a response one way or the other. I mean, you could have had one of your flunkies drop me a line saying, "Hey, I'm not helping you because I don't believe your situation is crucial."

This is the last letter you'll get from me because I believe you're a FRAUD!! And I'm not going to waste my time, energy and another 29-cent stamp on you again. In case you get brave and send a response, I'll enclose my address, but I can assure you, I won't hold my breath.—TICKED OFF, Panama City, Fla.

DEAR TICKED:

You stated your need but have failed to include why you can't get it on your own. I'm not a charity. I make investments in people, and like any good business person, I prefer to make a sound investment.

If you care to take a little time to explain why you can't get $500 on your own and invest another 29 cents in writing me, I'll see what I can do. Granted, there's no guarantee I'll give you $500, but that's the risk you'll have to take.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

If you find my writing a little shaky, please forgive it. I had a stroke two years ago. I'm 69 years old. I live with my sister, who takes care of me. I only get Social Security, which isn't much. I have a very large drug bill each month, which Medicare doesn't pay, and I haven't any private health insurance, because I can't afford it. What I'm asking for is $400 so I can go see my son. He has been up in Saratoga Springs in a mental institution for over two years. Thank God it's a beautiful place and he is well taken care of. He is 51 years old and severely retarded. I was up there last year and all I ask is to go at least one more time. My brothers helped last year, but they can't afford to do it again.

Here is the breakdown: It's $26 to Grand Central Station each way by car service, because I can't travel on subways. It's $62 round trip for each of us by Amtrak (my sister will have to travel with me). The Holiday Inn is about $68 a night and we have to stay two nights, plus our food. I'm so proud of my son—he's learned his ABCs and can even dial the phone to call me without any assistance.

That might not mean much to a mother whose son graduated from Harvard, but for me it's like looking at the world through rose-tinted glasses. I just want to show him his mother loves him very much. I know many people write you and you can't help everyone, Mr. Ross, but maybe you'll help this mother realize her one and only wish.—MRS. L.K., Brooklyn, N.Y.

has gone unnoticed down this same trail. Well, Desiree managed to go even farther, across a busy parking lot. Thank God a very nice and concerned woman greeted her. To end this story, Desiree was returned home safe and a close eye has been kept on her ever since.

There have been incidents with child molesters in our community, not to mention the case in which a man exposed himself to a young child near our home.

We've managed to save all but $300 for a chain-link fence. We will continue saving, but time is of the essence. I understand you're a very busy man, as I'm a very busy mother. Please help us, Mr. Ross, to keep our children safe by sending us $300 to get this fence.—MRS. D.B. AND FAMILY, Everett, Wash.

DEAR MRS. B. AND FAMILY:

Thanks for writing such a persuasive letter the second time around and thank God it didn't take a third one.

I hope you're prepared to act swiftly, because my $300 should arrive today. Get that chain-link fence installed, the kids corralled and we'll all sleep much better tonight.

Dear Mommy . . .

I am in Heaven now, sitting on Jesus' lap. He loves me and cries with me; for my heart has been broken. I so wanted to be your little girl. I don't quite understand what has happened.

I was so excited when I began realizing my existence. I was in a dark, yet comfortable place. I saw I had fingers and toes. I was pretty far along in my developing, yet not near ready to leave my surroundings. I spent most of my time thinking or sleeping. Even from my earliest days, I felt a special bonding between you and me.

Sometimes I heard you crying and I cried with you. Sometimes you would yell or scream, then cry. I heard Daddy yelling back. I was sad, and hoped you would be better soon. I wondered why you cried so much. One day you cried almost all of the day. I hurt for you. I couldn't imagine why you were so unhappy.

That same day, the most horrible thing happened. A very mean monster came into that warm, comfortable place I was in. I was so scared, I began screaming, but there was no sound. I guess they had you all pinned down, because you never once tried to help me. Maybe you never heard me. The monster got closer and closer as I was screaming and screaming, "Mommy, Mommy, help me please; Mommy, help me." Complete terror is all I felt. I screamed and screamed until I thought I couldn't anymore. Then the monster started ripping my arm off. It hurt so bad, the pain I can never explain. It didn't stop. Oh, how I begged it to stop. I screamed in horror as it ripped my leg off. Though I was in such complete pain, I realized I was dying. I knew I would never see your face or hear you say how much you love me. I wanted to make all your tears go away. I had so many plans to make you happy.

Now I couldn't; all my dreams were shattered. Though I was in utter pain and horror, I felt the pain of my heart breaking, above all. I wanted more than anything to be your daughter. No use now, for I was dying a painful death. I could only imagine what terrible things they had done to you.

I wanted to tell you that I love you before I was gone, but I didn't know the words you could understand. And soon I no longer had the breath to say them; I was dead. I felt myself rising. I was being carried by a huge angel into a big, beautiful place. I was still crying, but the physical pain was gone. The angel took me to Jesus and set me on His lap. He said He loved me, and He was my Father. Then I was happy. I asked Him what the thing was that killed me.

He answered, "Abortion. I am sorry, my child; for I know how it feels." I don't know what abortion is; I guess that's the name of the monster.

I'm writing to say that I love you and to tell you how much I wanted to be your little girl. I tried very hard to live. I wanted to live. I had the will, but I couldn't; the monster was too powerful. It sucked my arms and legs off and finally got all of me. It was impossible to live. I just wanted you to know I tried to stay with you. I didn't want to leave. Also, Mommy, please watch out for that abortion monster. Mommy, I love you and I would hate for you to go through the kind of pain I did. Please be careful.

Love,
Your aborted baby girl

Local collectors will have an opportunity to meet KINKA, artist of the KINKA™ Collection of porcelain figurines and accessories by Enesco.

KINKA will be meeting the public at Karen and Katie's Hallmark Shop in Bad Axe, Saturday, April 27. During this special event, KINKA will sign figurines from her elegant collection.

Introduced in 1989, the KINKA™ Collection has gained much attention and popularity in its two year history. KINKA'S art is identified by long flowing lines, soft pastel colors and gentle, simple messages that touch the heart — characteristics that combine to create the delicate, innocent characters known as KINKA. Perfect for collecting and for gift-giving, KINKA'S gentle expressions last a lifetime, experts say.

KINKA, a native of Cleveland, has enjoyed a long career as an artist and illustrator. In addition, she currently heads her own greeting card company, Raecath, Inc., with her brother Raymond.

KINKA will appear from 4 to 7 p.m. at Karen and Katie's Hallmark Shop. Admission to the event is free. Refreshments and door prizes will be provided.

For more information, contact the Hallmark Shop at 269-8301.

CASEVILLE TOWNSHIP BOARD REGULAR MEETING APRIL 1, 1991

Meeting called to order by Supervisor Joseph Cilc at 8:00 P.M.

Roll call by the Clerk indicated the following members present: Jerry Cilc, Margaret Barton, Gale Schwalm, Rose Marie Spies and Joseph Cilc.

Motion by Gale Schwalm, support Margaret Barton, to accept the minutes of the March 4, 1991 meeting as read. Motion carried.

Motion by Rose Marie Spies, support Gale Schwalm, to accept the Treasurer's Report as presented. Motion carried.

Motion by Jerry Cilc, support Gale Schwalm, to pay the bills. Motion carried.

Motion by Jerry Cilc, support Gale Schwalm, to adopt the 1991/92 Fiscal Year Budget by Functional Totals. Motion carried.

After reviewing our present insurance coverage with Burnham & Flower Agency, and receiving a bid from Community Underwriters Insurance Company, we found the difference in the cost to be very minimal.

Motion by Rose Marie Spies, support Margaret Barton, to retain Burnham & Flower Agency as the Township Producer for 1991/92. Motion carried.

The Chamber of Commerce will be holding the annual Queen's Dinner on Saturday, April 20, 1991. In the past the Township has sponsored one candidate for participation at this function.

Motion by Gale Schwalm, support Jerry Cilc, to sponsor one candidate, if needed, to participate in the Queen's Dinner Celebration and to pay the cost of one Township Board Member's dinner to escort the candidate. Total cost $56.00. Motion carried.

Motion by Joseph Cilc, support Margaret Barton, to increase Deputy Clerk Helen Kolowich's hourly wage from $4.50 to $5.50, Deputy Treasurer Rosemary Delmotte's hourly wage from $5.00 to $6.00 and Assessor Assistant Velja Cullen's hourly wage from $5.00 to $6.50. Motion carried.

Motion by Jerry Cilc, support Gale Schwalm, authorizing the County Road Commission to spray the Caseville Township Road Ditches. Motion carried.

Trustee Gale Schwalm will contact John Martin, of the County Road Commission, to further discuss this matter. New burning rules and regulations were received from the Department of Natural Resources. Burning Permits will be issued for one day at a time, restricting burning until after 6 o'clock P.M., when the wind is down. A copy of this report will be included in the next newsletter.

Joseph Cilc read a letter he had received from the Huron County Health Department reporting their findings on the quality of well water in the Township. Due to their findings of potential future health problems, their recommendation is for the Township to install a sanitary sewer system. No further business, meeting adjourned at 8:45 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Rose Marie Spies
Clerk
