New Gagetown clerk needed (again)

By MARY DRIER

Even though newcomer Republican George Wilson won the tie-breaker draw last week for Gagetown Village Clerk, village officials are looking for someone to fill the position.

Wilson declined the clerk's position in favor of the treasurer post he won in the general election.

During the March 14 elections, incumbent Democrat Elery Sontag received 29 votes for treasurer and 31 votes for clerk, while Republican newcomer Wilson received 33 votes for treasurer and 31 votes for clerk.

Wilson and Sontag were to have met March 21 to draw lots at the Tuscola County Clerk's office, to break the tie for the clerk's position.

Because Sontag did not attend, deputy clerk Delores Gangler drew in his place. Wilson won the post with the ballot marketed elected. However, he declined the position and kept just the treasurer's seat.

Because of Wilson's decision, Village Council members will have to appoint someone to fill the clerk's position.

Village President Charles Wright requests persons interested in the clerk's position send an application to him at P. O. Box 35, Gagetown, MI 48735.

Gagetown's election raised questions of "incompatibility" of having one person hold the clerk and the treasurer position when County Clerk Margie White questioned State Election offices about the tie vote.

State officials cited a 1947 Attorney General opinion that it "would not be suitable or compatible for one person to hold the offices of village clerk and village treasurer at the same time" because the treasurer has to prepare reports for the clerk.

Sontag estimates the seats have been combined for about 50 years in Gagetown.

Kids can put 'stamp on world'

Post offices in Bay Port, Sebawaing, Pigeon, Unionville, Owendale and Gagetown have joined forces to promote an environmental postage stamp design contest sponsored by the U.S. Postal Service and McDonald's Corporation, for children age eight through 13.

The contest invites youngsters to design an official U.S. postage stamp that shows ways to protect, preserve or restore the environment.

All entries must be received by April 30. Contest rules and entry forms are available at participating post offices and McDonald's Restaurants.

The local post offices mentioned above are encouraging children to make a copy of their entries and enter them at their local post office for a chance to win a local prize.

Nationwide, four winning designs will be selected and printed on nearly 200 million first-class stamps in 1995. This contest marks the first time this generation of kids has had the opportunity to enter such a competition.

THAT'S a drive-in window at the bank!

By AMY HEIDEN

Thumb National Bank in Pigeon gained an unwanted new drive-in window about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning, when a motorist smashed through a front window and came to rest in the lobby.

Pigeon Police Chief Van Johnson said Lisa Avalos, 28 of Pigeon, was driving north on S. Main Street and failed to turn at the corner of Main and Michigan Ave., and plowed into the front window of the bank.

The car sustained extensive damage, as did the bank frontal area, but Avalos did not sustain major injury. She was taken to Scheurer Hospital and kept overnight for observation.

The window was immediately boarded up because of security reasons, and the bank reopened by 10 a.m. Bank employees chipped in to man brooms to clean up the shattered glass and bricks.

The car crashed through the window of TNB Vice President Mike LePage, but he hadn't come to work yet.

"I was still at home tying my tie when it happened," LePage says. "I had planned to come in early but I didn't sleep much the night before, so I shut the alarm off."

And because he is also a member of the Winsor Township Fire Department, his beeper also went off — summoning him to the site.

LePage's desk was destroyed along with several chairs, and knowing that he might have been sitting behind his desk was unnerving, he says.

"It really puts things in perspective. If I had been sitting there, there would have been no more 'me'," LePage says. "I hugged my kids real hard that day."

Avalos was charged with careless driving, and may have fallen asleep, observers at the scene said. There were no defects in the car, Johnson said.

Taxes are Caseville topic

Property taxes and Proposal A continues to be the main topic of conversation at local school board meetings, and the Caseville School District's monthly meeting was no different.

Supt. James Stahl said Caseville will be forced to ask voters to increase millage rates on non-homestead and business property. If voters fail to approve the increase, the state Department of Education may not send the district any state funds.

Voters will be asked to approve an increase of 10.6 mills on non-homestead property, depending on the effects of the Headlee Amendment. Even with a non-homestead rate of 20.76 mills, that is still less than the 24 mills that most other districts will levy on non-homestead property, Stahl said.

"I've been trying to get the news out that we are still in the millage business," Stahl said.

The Caseville Board also approved the purchase of a communications package from GTE at a cost of $10,101. The package includes a digital phone lines and data lines into each classroom, to be used as needed, as well as fiber optics from the new telecommunications room to outside the building for future development.

The package will allow the elementary school to make full use of a technology mini-grant from the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Seaway Telecommunications Collaborative, through the state Department of Education. The award package allows the school to be electronically linked to a total of 84 Education Connection Network sites in Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania, as well as have access to Internet, the giant world-

Roundball comes to Pigeon in June

By AMY HEIDEN

For the past several summers, the streets of Pigeon have been stuffed full of sweating, yelling basketball players, in 3-on-3 tournaments sponsored by Bluewater Thumb Youth for Christ. Known as the Hacker 3-on-3 Slamfest, the weekend fundraising tournament brought hundreds of players and their friends and families to Pigeon.

Those players—and many more—will be back again June 11-12, playing in a BTYFC tournament, but this time, the tournament will be run by Roundball Enterprises.

Roundball Enterprises primarily operates in the Midwest and has gained a reputation as one of the best tournament organizers around, according to Youth for Christ Executive Director Ken Smeader.

The small company was selected by the Youth for Christ Board of Directors to run the tournament because planning for the event was taking up so much of the staffers' time.

"We were spending three months planning for the tournament, and having Roundball come in frees our staff to do what they're paid to do," Smeader said.

"We're in this thing for the ministry and if we can kill two birds with one stone, praise the Lord."

Roundball will handle the promotion for the event, advertising in their summer series catalog of tournaments. They bring their own equipment, although they'll also be using YFC's own special hoops, the only ones that allow players to dunk the ball. Roundball also supplies high quality t-shirts, and handles the bracketing of the many teams that are expected to sign up.

While Roundball will handle all the day-to-day planning and scheduling, Youth for Christ staffers will still monitor the courts.

"The same tournament ideals we've always had still apply," Smeader said. "That includes no foul language and good clean play."

All the proceeds from the tournament remain with Youth for Christ, allowing them to continue their ministry to Thumb-area teens. Concession stands are also set up by YFC staffers, but more concessions operated by other local groups are welcome, Smeader said.

Egg hunt Saturday in Unionville

Bay Port Benefit draws over 300

More than 300 Bay Port boosters and fish-lovers turned out for the Bay Port Chamber of Commerce's third annual Benefit Fish Fry held Sunday, March 20 at the Bay Port Inn.

Over $2,000 was raised for community park and recreational equipment improvements, according to Bay Port Chamber President Pat Gembel.

Country Corner Video Closes its doors

COUNTRY CORNER VIDEOS in Pigeon will soon be closing its doors for good, according to Manager Myrna Daniels. Co-owners Don and Judy Shaw and Char Keillor have been selling all the remaining videotapes, Nintendo games and store equipment.

The business opened in 1986, and soon expanded to a location in Bad Axe. But that store closed last year, Daniels said. More people are watching movies on cable, and other retail outlets are also renting movies also, causing a decline in rentals. AMY HEIDEN PHOTO

USA school sale continues

USA School officials expect to have all of the necessary steps completed to sell the old middle school at 628 E. Main St., Sebewaing, to the highest bidder by the end of April. Then, construction will begin on the new school structure in May. The district will build a new middle school wing at the high school between Sebewaing and Unionville, as soon as mother nature cooperates with some warm weather.

"The Board thinks that all matters pertaining to environmental regulations at the middle school site have been completed or contracts let for completion," said USA Supt. William Dodge. "We are meeting with our attorney on the sale of the middle school." School attorney is William Bovil of Saginaw.

"I estimate a public sale within four to five weeks. However, occupancy of the building will not be granted until Sept. 1, 1995."

USA Board of Education members had hoped to sell the property sooner, but meeting environmental standards was necessary before bids could be received on the facility.

Some environmental issues need cleaning up before the property went out for bid. The site has two underground gasoline storage tanks and a tunnel inside the school that contains asbestos. All environmental clean-up work must be done by the seller, before property can be sold.

In February, Board members approved having Peerless Environmental, Saginaw, remove the gasoline tanks for an estimated cost of $5,400 and to have a Phase I Environmental Site Assessment done for $2,100. Mechanical Insulation of Saginaw will do the asbestos work during Easter break for $9,040.

Also, bids will soon go out for construction of the new middle school wing.

"Documents are being prepared for bidding and should be out at the end of the month, awarded in April and construction started in May," said Dodge, "with completion by Sept. 1, 1995."

Plans are to sell the Middle School building and site at 628 E. Main Street, Sebewaing, to the highest bidder.

A California based company has expressed a strong interest revamping the school into an independent living facility for senior citizens. — BY MARY DRIER

State CROP Drive leads U.S.

Contributions from the Laker High and USA High CROP Drives helped contribute towards the success of Michigan in its 1993 Church World Service/CROP Drive.

Total CROP income in Michigan was $1.752 million. In the past 46 years, Michigan CWS/CROP volunteers have collected $21.8 million in farm commodities, clothing, blankets and cash.

The Pigeon/Laker School District CROP telethon resulted in funds totaling $6,154. These contributions were used to purchase 23,500 pounds of light red cranberry beans for shipment to Honduras, helping provide food for Tropical Storm Gert victims.

A canvass in the Unionville-Sebewaing Area by USA students brought in a total of $1,588.

New Tuscola radio tower?

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department is looking for additional land needed to update their communications system. Tuscola Unersheriff James Fyvie asked Tuscola Intermediate School District Board of Education members Monday for an easement on property they own for a new radio communication tower.

Plans are to replace the existing 160-foot radio communication tower with a 400-foot tower, if the county gets the necessary money to upgrade its communication system.

"We want to change from a low-band radio system to an 800-megahertz system," said Fyvie. "The current tower has to be replaced because they have to be strong enough to hold a microwave dish. The tower is located off Deckerville and Cleaver Roads about one mile north of Caro.

Officials are also looking to purchase land in the Mayville area to place a second tower 300-foot tall to give better radio service to the southern part of the county.

Bids on the new communications system are due by Mon-

As we see it

Spirit of '76 was mostly invented ... 218 years ago

We all have an image of the brave American colonists who risked their lives and possessions to create this new nation back in the mid-1770s. We all believe they willingly worked together for a common goal, and shared a joint vision of living as free people in a free land.

Well, there's more to the story than we've learned from textbooks. The image of Americans in 1776 wasn't actually "created" until 100 years later, when our nation celebrated its Centennial, as this viewpoint reveals:

"The mixture of restless colonists and new taxes and restrictive laws exploded — with results we all know."

"The American Revolution and the people famous for their parts in it form a solid basis for a U.S. national heritage. The rebellious colonists — by no means unified even among themselves, let alone in their resolve to break with the Crown — were impelled to invent a heroic, if recent, past."

"The Boston Massacre and the Boston Tea Party gave Revolutionary publicists an opportunity to do just that; and once the battle was joined, each minor victory had to be made into a triumph of bravery and military genius by the American press."

"The overall situation was bent into a myth perpetuated to this day — that of the untrained farmer militia staunchly struggling against a polished, battle-tempered British army. The British troops were in fact an ill-paid, untried lot, generally recruited from the dregs of English society, while many of the Continentals were highly motivated property owners (led by officers who as veterans of the French and Indian War were well-seasoned guerrillas).

"It is equally true that while the "Spirit of '76" did indeed exist, it existed only among a limited number of patriots."

"The brand-new nation that emerged from the War of Independence had an even greater need for her own patriotic by-words; history held no precedent for her form of government, and culturally the United States was but a branch sawed from the tree of England."

"The new America stood in need of instant tradition, and starting with Benjamin Franklin, her native sons began to create it for her. People like Ethan Allen and Israel Putnam became genuine folk characters."

"But writers — from hack pamphleteers and ballad-mongers to the likes of Longfellow and Cooper — created many of the tales that we think of as an integral part of America's story."

"As the nation came upon its Centennial in 1876, a new wave of Americanism swept over many writers; the literature of the time abounds in Revolutionary fictions. The end result has been a legacy of legend, fictionalized history, and romance as richly varied and fanciful as that of any nation on earth."

So looking back doesn't always recall all the truths, and all the truths weren't necessarily so, even though their stories have been wound together into something believable... and memorable... in American history.

Minute Mystery

The case of the gentle jewel thief

Sgt. Michael N. Argy of Scotland Yard is telling the world-famous Inspector Gordo of his Atlantic crossing and his success in apprehending Brenda Gibson, international jewel thief.

"Our voyage had nearly ended," begins Michael, "and I was beginning to lose hope of catching her with the goods—although I was positive she had the diamonds in her possession."

"We were approaching the Statue of Liberty. I stood at the rail watching her. How attractive she looked, elegantly dressed, waving an elaborately long cigarette holder to point out interesting landmarks to the other passengers. Not a bit like one's notion of a jewel thief." "She sounds lovely, Michael," Gordo says. "What about the diamonds?" "Yes, I knew I had to find them before we docked. If she got past your customs officials, all would be lost."

"Luckily I had become acquainted with her on board. We had had cocktails and danced together several times."

"In view of this, I told her how much I had enjoyed her company, and asked if I might have her New York telephone number."

"She agreed very sweetly and rummaged in her purse for her card. I thought at the time that she must be quite nervous, judging from the heavy nicotine stains on her fingers."

"And then, just as she found her card and gave it to me with a charming smile, it came to me—I knew where she was hiding the jewels! And I was right!"

Where did the Sergeant find the stolen diamonds?

Minute Mystery Answer: Inside that "elaborately long cigarette holder." Brenda had had nicotine-stained fingers, indicating that she usually smoked without a holder—hence the "elaborately long" holder.

I was astounded to read the want ad concerning Pigeon Manufacturing that was published in your paper on March 22.

I can't believe that a local paper would turn its back on 64 local strikers and their families. This ad has enabled "scabs" to take away jobs from hard-working men and women who have supported Pigeon and other local communities.

It is not their fault that the management of the Detroit-owned company will not negotiate fairly.

I was a faithful customer of your paper, but I no longer can justify buying it. One would expect local papers to support local people and not companies owned by people in Detroit.

He was wounded — by US!

"...He was wounded for our transgressions." Isaiah 53:5a Holy Week has been observed by the Christian world for more than 1,500 years. It is a time of solemn devotion, when Christians remember their sins and look to the death and burial of their Savior, Jesus.

They remember Jesus' glorious entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday, but they also know that the same week will also see their Lord in His deepest degradation and humiliation. What did He do to deserve the pain, the insults -- and death? We know that answer only too well.

We need only look at today's world to know that sin is reigning as openly and freely as any time in world history. We know that human beings today are as selfish, cruel, vile and dangerous as they have ever been. Even those who consider themselves Christians deny and pain their Savior every day with their words and deeds.

God sees our condition, and because of His love for us, He sent His own Son as the only means of returning us to Himself.

So Jesus came to earth! He lived among us and showed us how to love and serve and care for each other. He reconciled us to our Heavenly Father, and in this Holy Week we re-live the story once more.

If time had ended on Good Friday, as the Crucified Jesus died on the Cross, this would be the most horrible week in history.

But, crushed as we are on Good Friday and Holy Saturday with our Savior in the tomb, this week is also a time to look up and to take hope.

Sunday is coming! Easter Sunday! That's the day when everything changes, as Jesus conquers death and the grave!

That's when we receive our redemption and are invited to be with Him in eternal life.

That's when the last words of Isaiah 53:5 tell us the good news, that "with His (Jesus') stripes we are healed!"

PRAYER: Praise God, from death on Good Friday, we rise to joy and peace of new life in Christ the Crucified. Amen.

day, April 11, and awarding of the bid is expected by the end of April.

To fund the proposed upgrade of the communication system, county officials are working ballot language for an election proposal, probably later this year.

Central dispatch progressing

Efforts to create a regional dispatch service in the Thumb are moving ahead.

The Tuscola County Central Dispatch Administrative Advisory Board was scheduled to host an informational meeting Monday at the Charming Restaurant, Cass City, on a proposed plan for a regional dispatch center in the Thumb.

Advisory boards have been exploring the feasibility of a regional dispatch system involving Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac and possibly Lapeer Counties.

The possibility of a regional dispatch is under study because it could save money by having one centralized center rather than three to four counties operating their own, said Michigan State Police Caro Post Commander Douglas Lautner.

2 USA seats expiring

Two four-year seats on the USA School District's Board of Education are expiring this year. The seats are currently occupied by Charles Squires and Kurt Ewald. They are completing their first term on the board, serving since 1990.

Petitions are available at the Board of Education office, 628 E. Main Street, Sebewaing, and are due back by 4 p.m. Monday, April 11. The annual School Election is Monday, June 13.

2 water funding choices

Unionville Village officials are exploring two different options to secure funding for a new water system.

The first option is to have Ledy Design Group of Lansing apply for a Rebuild Michigan Grant through the state Department of Commerce.

Also, Unionville is applying for a Farmers Home Administration loan to fund the entire cost of the project.

Proposed plans call for a 154,000-gallon storage tank and an eight-inch main from the well to the tank, plus two fire-flow pumps and other necessary related materials. Estimated cost is between $400,000 and $500,000, said Clerk Harvey Niedrich. "We are going both ways to try to get money to fund this," said Niedrich. "We have to get something done about our (water) system."

Unionville leaders are trying to update their water system to meet state Department of Public Health drinking water regulations. The village's 254 water users are serviced by a pressurized system with two horizontal 30,000-gallon tanks that were built in the 1950s.

According to Niedrich, there aren't any problems with the community's water supply, but rather with the system supplying the water.

"We have an antiquated system and the state wants us to upgrade it," Niedrich said.

In case the village is able to secure funding for a new water system, Council members approved meeting with landowners about buying a 210 square foot section of land near the village hall to place a water tower and to secure an easement to install a water main east of the hall to the wells.

A village clean-up day is planned for Saturday, May 21.

Oster ist on the way

Dieweil wir planen fuer Ostern, muss doch jeder realisieren das die Preparations koennen nicht comparen mit Weihnachtzeit Preparations.

Wir haben in die Lutherische Schule gelernt das ohne Ostern waere die Weihnachts Season of no value. Waer Christi nicht erstanden von Tote am Kreuz, haette Seine Geburt kein Purpose.

Doch haben unsere Muetter und Grossmuetter doch gute, grosse Meals prepared fuer uns und wir haben frische, neue Clothes ge-worn fuer Ostern.

Mein Grossvater Kahlmann hat immer ge-ried zum ein grosser Event machen aus die Oster Eier die wir expected haben fuer Oster Morgen.

"Die Hasen Nester muessen sehr exact gemacht werden," sagte Grossvater. "Die Nester muessen immer mit Moos ge-lined werden, und die Hasen muessen immer ein Path haben zum Ihr Weg zu die Nests finden."

So am Tag vor Ostern hat Grossvater mir zu Beck's Woods genommen. Er trage ein Basket und wir haben viele Branches und Sticks gesucht, so about the Size of a Pencil. Wir brauchten viele solche Stecker, anyway 50 oder so. Und wir haben auch tiefer, dicker Moos gesucht und haben genug ge-picked zum 2 oder 3 Nester zu covern.

Dann fuhren wir zu unser Haus an South Center Strasse in seine alte Essex.

Grossvater zeigte mir wie mann den Path designen muss—eine kleine Stick Fence mit eine Opening an eine Seit, und dann eine kleine Fence die der Oster Hase entern konnte.

Mit weicher Moos haben wir das Nest Area dann schoen ge-covered.

Fuer ein extra Treat haben wir dann etliche Stuecker Alfalfa Heu grad bei die Entrance gelegt, und eine grosse Handvoll Korn, oder ein Korn Ohr, fuer den Oster Hase.

Grossvater musste die rechte Rules kennen weil am Oster Morgen waren immer die ge-colorete und ge-paintede Oster Eier in alle die Nests die wir gebaut hatten.

Ja, Grossvater wusste wie der Oster Hase seine Nests wollte weil die Nests waren immer up to specifications. Und die Results waren immer happy fuer mich.

Die Moral in die Geschichte ist: Fuer die beste Results muss mann die Rules wissen und remembren.

Recollections Of By-Gone Days

by George Keim

DEAR EDITOR:

This time of the year all the farmers are getting their machinery ready to get in the fields. I asked one what he was doing and he said as fast as he can get the parts. He's got lots to do.

In my farming experience I always liked to get my oats out as soon as I could. In all my farming I got my oats out twice in March, once on the 19th of March.

I heard that there were some farmers already had some oats out so I went out and looked my field over and saw that I was ready to get at it.

So I went home and got my stuff together and at 7 o'clock in the morning I was out in the field with my four horses and three section harrow. It usually took half a day to harrow over 10 acres.

Well, till evening I had it harrowed over 2 1/2 times and in the morning I got it done by 10 o'clock.

THE ELEVATOR had delivered the oats and the fertilizer so I got at it with my 11 hole superior drill and by 7 o'clock at night I had it sowed. It was a Saturday night so I slept in good on Sunday and then it rained and we had some snow.

But I never had a better yield of oats. It went 105 bushels per acre.

There was something about oats, you had to trade seed with somebody every once in a while. I traded seed oats lots of time and I always had a good oat crop.

OF COURSE WE always needed oats to feed to our horses and it was good to feed to our brood sows whole. They used to eat it and spit the hulls out. I told that to a young fellow and he didn't want to believe it, but I asked some guy my age and they said that's the way it was.

I know a lot of things we older guys tell the young fellows that it's hard for them to believe.

We used to make a good living on 120 acres of land and could raise a family and even send them to college and by the time we were 65 and had an 80 or 120 acre farm paid for, we had done our share. We lived and let live.

In Luke 9:62, it says any man

Sebewaing president says farewell

By WALT RUMMEL

Presiding over his final Council meeting as Sebewaing Village President, Lloyd Adam expressed his appreciation to Council members and all others who worked with him for progress and the good of the village during his years as councilman and president.

Adam served eight years as trustee and six as village president, and chose not to seek another term.

At the April 4 meeting, Councilman Dave Wineman will be sworn into office as President, after winning election in the March 14 general balloting.

John Pitcher, newly-elected council trustee, will be installed for his first term.

Re-elected were Council members Don Beers and Frederic Sharpsteen, Clerk Maxine Kauffold and Treasurer Sharon Edler. Harold Wisenbach was elected as village assessor with four write-in votes.

At the Monday evening meeting council members voted 7-0 to engage Case Surveying of Bad Axe to survey property and streets in Pitcher Subdivision and North/South Pitcher and Davis Streets, to determine boundary lines in relation to the new marina.

Areas of private streets are being turned over to the village to become public streets, after which the village will maintain the streets.

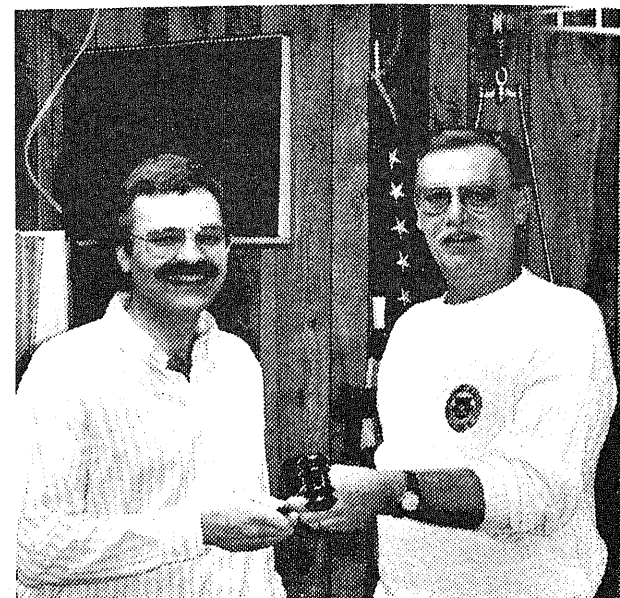

Mary Marshall of the Business Service Group of Thumb Area Consortium in Marlette, explained the Community Work Experience Program—C-WEP—and she invited Sebewaing's participation.

Marshall said C-WEP's purpose is to offer clients an opportunity to gain work experience, to aid their efforts in gaining regular employment. All Department of Social Services clients are eligible to be C-WEP participants.

They will work 20 to 40 hours per week, receiving the minimum wage of $4.25 to prepare for a new career. Information will be available at the Village Office, or Marshall can be reached at 635-3561.

Building permits were approved for Melvin Kuisel for replacing windows, David Dressler replacing windows and Davis Desrosiers for a new garage.

A permit application for an eight-foot fence at the Art Zimmerman property on E. Main was denied but approval was granted for a six-foot fence, in compliance with the village ordinance.

Lloyd Adam, right, who has served on Sebewaing Village Council for the past 14 years, hands the gavel over to Dave Wineman, newly-elected village president, who will take over his new office at the Monday, April 4, meeting. Adam was council trustee for 8 years and village president for 6 years. Wineman, who has been on the council as trustee for nearly 2 terms, was elected at the general election Monday, March 14. Taking Wineman's seat on the council will be John Pitcher, who was also elected on March 14.

Richard Haag running for commission seat

Richard Haag of Sebewaing, who retired last September after a 30-year career in the insurance industry, became the first to announce as a candidate for the District 1 Huron County Commission seat.

Haag said last week that he would oppose incumbent Bruce Kuhl for the seat, representing Sebewaing, Fair Haven and Brookfield Townships on the County Board of Commissioners.

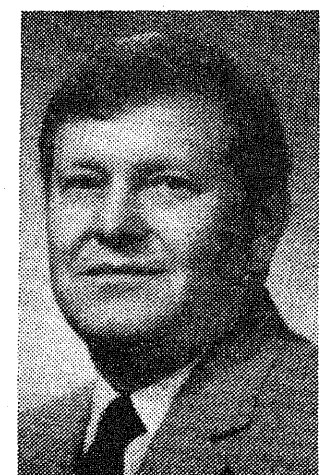

Haag has been active in service to fraternal insurance programs, helping local individuals and providing medical facilities, parks, libraries, church, community and historical groups with their facilities and programs.

Haag said, "I have practiced and succeeded in bringing honesty, dedication, reliability and good judgment in developing and achieving their programs and goals."

"I feel I can help make our corner of the world here in the Thumb a more productive, safe and fulfilling place to live," he said.

Haag was born on a farm in Fair Haven Township, attended grade school in Kilmanagh and graduated from Sebewaing High School in the Class of 1954.

From 1954 to 1963 he was

Richard Haag employed in construction and concrete work, and was an active farmer.

From 1963 to 1993 he sold and serviced insurance and investment programs for Aid Association for Lutherans.

He is married to the former Maryann Kotenko, and they have two daughters, Deb Krauss and Janet Warack, and one son, David Haag. They have four grandchildren.

Haag is a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Sebewaing, where he held various positions, including chairman of the congregation. He is currently chairman of the trustees' board.

Floyd Andrick will be sharing his knowledge of the "Titanic" at the Fairgrove Township Library, on Main Street in Fairgrove, on Thursday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m.
The program will be an audio-visual and speaking program, and Andrick will display part of his extensive collection of Titanic-related memorabilia.
There is no admittance fee, registration is not required and the public is invited to attend.
Andrick, a Midland resident, has made it his business to learn everything he can about the Titanic, the British luxury liner that hit an iceberg and sank on April 15, 1912.
He has an extensive collection of Titanic-related memorabilia, knows eight of the 10 remaining survivors, and as a member of the Titanic Historical Society, has had the opportunity to plan and co-host several conventions.
For more information, call the Fairgrove Township Library at 693-6050.

He has an extensive collection of Titanic-related memorabilia, knows eight of the 10 remaining survivors, and as a member of the Titanic Historical Society, has had the opportunity to plan and co-host several conventions.

EASY EASTER HAM

BAKED HAM WITH PINEAPPLE GLAZE

1 SPARTAN whole boneless ham, cooked
 1 (20 oz.) can SPARTAN crushed pineapple
 1 cup SPARTAN brown sugar

Pineapple Glaze: Combine brown sugar with 3/4 cup drained crushed pineapple.

Heat oven to 325°F. Place ham fat side up on rack in shallow roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part of meat. Bake at 325°F, 15-18 minutes per pound. Meat thermometer should reach 130°F to 140°F to ensure doneness. To glaze baked ham, pour drippings from pan. Score ham by cutting diamond shapes about 1/4" deep through the fat. If desired, insert a whole clove in each diamond. Spoon glaze over ham. Return to oven; bake an additional 15 to 20 minutes.

Note: Allow 1/3 to 1/2 lb. of ham per serving. Score ham before spreading on glaze. Glaze will not run off as easily and flavor will penetrate more.

Greater Love has no one than this, than to lay down one's life for his friends. John 15:13

Thanks A Million!

Hello... how may I help you?

DEAR MR. ROSS:

While I was working as a cashier, sometimes people would come through my line that I thought were poor and needed help. I wouldn't charge them for all of the things they were purchasing.

These people didn't know me and I didn't know them. I just felt sorry for them and wanted to help.

I know what I did was wrong because I now have a felony, am on four years probation and must pay back everything I gave away.

Since all of this happened I lost my job, my home, and my husband divorced me. I tried to kill myself and spent one month in the hospital. I'm seeing a counselor and take medication for depression.

What I need are some wood-working tools. I could then make things and sell them to pay back what I owe.

I really am a good person and I want so much to do good and be good. I have no one else to turn to. — Ms. N.R., Ontario, OR

DEAR MS. R.:

It's a good thing you weren't employed as a "greeter" because there's no telling what lengths you'd go to in making customers feel welcome.

This isn't to poke fun at your problem, only to help diffuse the tragedy of it.

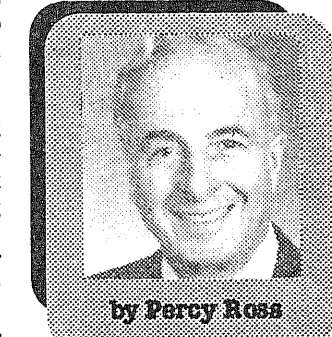

Please accept my check for woodworking tools, along with my best wishes for a complete emotional and financial recovery.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

What I'm asking is $180 for a water heater. Our other one has completely given up.

I'm a widow whose youngest son lives with me. He has a mental illness and is unable to work because of his phobias and panic attacks. His medication alone is $130 a month, which is hard to come by. I'm employed at low wages and am also trying to pay off a multitude of debts. I've been able to save the $60 for installation, but just don't have the money to buy the actual unit.

by Percy Ross

One of my son's few pleasures in life is taking a hot bath. Thank you and God bless you, for surely there is a special place in heaven for people like you and Mother Theresa. — Mrs. D. P. South Holland, IL

DEAR MRS. P.:

For me, there will be no special place in heaven, let alone a guarantee I'm going to get there, because I'm not that great of a humanitarian. Although Mother Theresa and I both administer to the less fortunate, I don't make any sacrifice in doing so.

You, however, are making plenty of sacrifices and lack of hot water shouldn't be one of them.

Please accept my check, along with the knowledge that you and Mother Theresa will probably be rubbing elbows in the afterlife.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I certainly realize you may give your money to whomever you please, but I wish to comment on a recent request that you turned down.

A deacon asked for funds to teach inmates about God. You were right in saying that inmates consume a large amount of taxpayers' money, and that they are provided with many luxuries that law-abiding citizens do not have.

On the other hand though, don't these inmates need instruction from a Christian standpoint as much as, if not more than, law-abiding citizens?

I would like you to realize that from God's point of view, everyone sins. The only difference is that some sins break man's law and are punished here on earth.

No human is any less of a sinner than another, and everyone deserves a chance to change and be forgiven. — Ms. L. H., Soldota, AK

DEAR MS. H.:

When I turned down the deacon's request, it wasn't because I felt that inmates didn't need spiritual direction, or that they were undeserving of receiving it.

What I objected to was the medium in which it was to be delivered — video tapes.

Some inmates are able to take furlough during their incarceration. Does that mean I should send any one of them to Hawaii during their week-end pass?

DEAR MR. ROSS:

When I turned down the deacon's request, it wasn't because I felt that inmates didn't need spiritual direction, or that they were undeserving of receiving it.

Tell me why...

Why is scoring three goals in hockey called a "hat trick?"

In English cricket, the term was used to describe the bowler taking three wickets on successive balls. As a reward at many clubs, the player was awarded a new hat. Other clubs honored the player by "passing the hat".

Today, a true hat trick is when a player scores three straight goals without another goal being scored by the other players. — By AMY HEIDEN

Grand Hotel gets new assistant chef

By MARY DRIER

A 38-year-old Sebawaing man doesn't exactly have a rags to riches story to tell — but he certainly is having his dream come true.

Albert (Bert) Phillips has agreed to work as a chef this summer at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

"I'm going to be one of the assistant chefs at the Grand Hotel. I put an application in a few years ago when I was catering in the area, and they sent me an application this year," said Phillips — noting his spirits were dampened when he read about having a physical exam prior to being employed.

He has Schuerman's Disease, a debilitating back affliction which has caused him to make several choices.

Phillips' first career choice was to be a paramedic, but that ended because of his health problem and back surgery. As a second choice he turned to cooking.

"There is no way I can pass a physical because I'm still being doctor'd and on a waiting list for a possible spinal fusion, but I filled out the application anyway and explained the situation," said Phillips.

"I almost fell out of bed when they called to say I was hired after he looked over my resume."

"They don't discriminate against handicaps and will work around them. It's a lot of responsibility for them to take on an employee with pre-existing health problems.

"It's like a Cinderella story." The Sebawaing native will work for Austrian Chef Hans Burtischer and with chefs from around the world.

"It's a supervisory position. Besides the duties at the Grand Hotel, I will be second in command of the Grand Stand, the casual-dress dining room," said Phillips. He will report for work May 9 and plans to work until Oct. 30, when most of the resort island near the Mackinac Bridge closes for the year.

Phillips specializes in "refined" cooking — the slow old-fashioned way with natural, fresh ingredients that are prepared with love, skill and time.

His career includes cooking for distinguished persons and places including Ralph Jarvis, a producer with Universal Studios, California, for director Irvin Wrapper, and at 14 various restaurants including the Canadian Lakes Country Club and Mayfair Restaurant, both in Stanwood. Plus, he has done catering with Kelly's Catering in Big Rapids.

Officially Declared By Governor John Engler, We Urge You To Observe Michigan's...

TORNADO SAFETY WEEK

March 27 - April 2, 1994

Michigan experiences an average of 16 tornadoes every year.
Those tornadoes can cause death and injuries, as well as damage property worth millions of dollars.

Spring's Warmer Temperatures
Increase Twister Threat...

The approaching warm weather brings the threat of tornadoes to Michigan residents. However, twisters don't need to be killers.

Although there were 11 tornadoes reported here in 1993, no one was killed as a result. Those tornadoes, however, damaged property valued at approximately $6 million.

According to a spokesman from the National Weather Service, residents can minimize their chances of being injured or killed by being prepared. "Every household, school and business should have a plan just in case a tornado strikes in the area," Bill Babcock, warning and preparedness meteorologist, said.

To focus attention on tornado safety planning, Governor John Engler has declared March 27 through April 2 as Tornado Safety Week in Michigan. According to the Committee for Severe Weather Awareness, a coalition formed in 1991 to promote tornado safety, residents are encouraged to practice their "just-in-case" procedure for tornado warnings.

Tornadoes generally develop from severe thunderstorms. Although not all severe thunderstorms spawn tornadoes, twisters are more likely to occur when there is unseasonably warm and humid air at the earth's surface and cold air at middle atmospheric levels with strong upper-level jet stream winds. In Michigan, this clash of air masses is more likely to occur in the spring and in the southern lower part of the state, according to officials from the National Weather Service.

Annually, Michigan experiences an average of 16 tornadoes. Since 1950, 237 persons have been killed by twisters here. Tornadoes can hit anytime of the day or night in almost any month of the year. Most, however, occur in April, May, June and July during the late afternoon and evening hours, generally between 3 and 7 p.m.

Tornadoes develop and move rapidly, often with little notice or forewarning. When a tornado watch is announced, residents should gather a first aid kit, flashlight and portable radio. They should stay tuned to local radio and television stations. A watch means that conditions are right for development of a tornado.

A tornado warning means that a tornado has actually been sighted nearby and everyone in the area should take action. Go immediately to the basement, taking cover under something sturdy. If there isn't a basement, move to the lowest floor possible, in a small room or closet. Again, stay low and if possible, under a heavy object. Stay away from windows.

At work or school, if a basement is not available, move to an interior hallway on the lowest floor possible. Avoid rooms with a large, free-span roof, like gymnasiums. If caught in the open during a tornado warning, seek shelter in a ditch, ravine or other place below ground level and stay as low as possible.

Property owners can also be prepared by ensuring that they have adequate coverage for their homes and personal belongings under their homeowners insurance policies. Tornadoes are considered "windstorms" and covered by virtually all homeowners policies, according to the coalition's insurance industry representatives. However, certain limits and requirements may apply.

Tornado Facts...

1. What is a tornado?
It is a column of violently rotating winds extending down from a thunderstorm cloud and touching the surface of the earth.

2. What is the difference between a tornado and a funnel cloud?
A funnel cloud is also a column of violently rotating winds extending down from a thunderstorm; however, it does not touch the earth.

3. How many tornadoes usually occur in Michigan every year?
An average of 16 tornadoes occur in Michigan per year. Since 1950, 237 persons have been killed due to tornadoes. During this same time, Michigan has experienced 668 tornadoes.

4. When do tornadoes generally occur?

Most tornadoes occur during the months of April, May, June and July in the late afternoon and evening hours. However, tornadoes can occur anytime of the day or night in almost any month during the year.

5. How fast do tornadoes travel?

Tornadoes generally travel from the southwest and travel at an average speed of up to 30 miles per hour.

6. When are tornadoes the most intense?

Tornadoes which develop from thunderstorms that occur early in the season have a tendency to be the most severe.

7. How far do tornadoes travel once they touch the ground?

The average tornado is on the ground for less than 10 minutes and travels a distance of about five miles. However, they do not always follow the norm and have been known to stay on the ground for more than an hour and travel more than 100 miles.

Caseville Spring Fling starts Apr. 15

By AMY HEIDEN

NAME: John A. Shetler, Pigeon

AGE: 94

OCCUPATION: Retired for 27 years from the Cooperative Elevator Co., worked there for 32 years.

FAMILY: Late wife, Sabina Shetler, passed away in 1986. Daughter Dolores Caradonna, Warren; five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

BOOK I WOULD RECOMMEND: The Bible. I've read it 101 times, and I'm almost through it again and that would make 102 times.

I'M MOST PROUD OF: That I'm a Christian and looking to the Lord.

DUMBEST THING I'VE EVER DONE: I went fishing in February back in the '20s and broke through the ice with my car.

BEST ADVICE I EVER GOT: "Keep on keeping on." That just says it all.

PERSON WHO HAS DONE THE MOST FOR ME IN MY LIFETIME IS: My father, Joe J. Shetler. He was a very good father. People ask me why I live like I do at my age. In the Bible it says to honor your father and mother and your days will be lengthened. Maybe that's the reason I've lived this long.

BEST DECISION I EVER MADE WAS: To continue working for the Co-op when another company offered me twice as much money to come work for them. I liked the work at the Co-op and the way management handled things.

Caseville Spring Fling starts Apr. 15

By AMY HEIDEN

Even if it's a bit gloomy outside, spring is always just around the corner.

And spring in Caseville means the yearly running of the tasty yellow perch, and that means it's about time for the annual Caseville Spring Fling, sponsored by the Caseville Chamber of Commerce.

Centered around the yearly spawning run of the perch up the Pigeon River, Caseville's Spring Fling, formerly the Perch Festival, is set this year for April 15-24, with all kinds of activities.

This year's festival should be one of the best ever, according to co-chairmen Jan Prill and Shelley Stirtett.

New on the schedule this year is the fish fry at the Caseville Eagles Club, featuring, what else, perch, along with cod and walleye, on Friday, April 22.

And the Eagles Club will be hosting a sumo wrestling contest, in which the contestants don special padded suits and match muscle power.

Of course, there will be plenty of anglers casting lines into the river for the annual Perch Fishing Derby, with cash prizes for the heaviest and longest perch.

Also on the event schedule are special movies at the Bay Theatre, shopping cart bingo at the Caseville IGA, the big Grand Parade, euchre and pinocle tournaments, karaoke and the ever-popular Mystery Shopper — who roams the village handing out special prizes to people wearing a Spring Fling button.

Alumni of Caseville High School will be matching up on the basketball court, in a special contest that features members of odd-year graduating classes against the even-year graduating classes.

There's also the Kiwanis Pancake Breakfast, turkey bowling, the kids' casting contest, and the second edition of the Awesome Dogs on Parade, featuring many local dogs and their owners.

Caseville's 1994 Spring Fling Queen will be crowned on Saturday, April 23, at a special dinner at the Hersel's on the Bay/Bella Vista.

Prill said parade entries of all types are needed for the parade.

For more information, contact the Caseville Chamber of Commerce at 856-3818.

90th birthday to be celebrated April 16

The Laker Wave

News and Information About The Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port "Laker" School District — Vol. 6, No. 7 — March, 1994

WHAT PASSAGE OF PROP. A MEANS TO EPBP SCHOOLS

By Supt. ROBERT DRURY

A lot was said during the campaigning for and against Proposal A. Unfortunately, much of the campaign literature and radio and TV ads were only half-truths at best. Now that the voting has taken place, we can concentrate on what effect the passage of Proposal A will have on the residents of our school district.

As I stated in last month's issue of The Laker Wave, passage of Proposal A did not create more money for our school district than the back-up plan would have. The money from the two plans came from different pots (sales tax vs. income tax), but the amount we will receive per student is the same with either plan.

The major difference between the two plans was its effect on residents within a school district. The chart below shows the difference between our current taxing system and the new system created with the passage of Proposal A.

Probably the most misunderstood aspect of this school finance reform legislation is the requirement of still having to approve school operational millages.

With the passage of Proposal A, the six mills levied for homesteads and agricultural lands is constitutionally guaranteed. That is, we do not have to vote on the six mills. However, our voters will still have to approve the difference between the guaranteed six mills and the 24 mills levied on homesteads, which is 18 mills.

The confusion exists in that while the 18 additional mill levy only applies to non-homesteads, all voters get to vote on the millage levy. Simply put, the difference between the 24-mill levy on non-homesteads and the constitutionally guaranteed six mill levy needs voter approval.

The natural question is, what happens if the voters in a school district will not approve the 18-mill levy? No final decision has come from Lansing yet, but it appears that district would not receive their full per pupil basic grant to operate their school.

In essence, in all likelihood, we will still have districts with financial problems similar to those of Kalkaska.

HANDICAP PARKING MEANS WHAT IT SAYS!

The Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Schools, along with many other public buildings throughout the state, proudly post handicap parking signs in an effort to provide easy accessibility to those who need it.

The problem is, many times these parking spots have been taken by those who DO NOT need it. We would like to reinforce the message on the signs, and indicate to those few who choose to ignore them, that handicap parking means exactly what it says. In an effort to enforce the law, administrators have been instructed to take down license numbers of those cars violating the law and parking in handicap spots. In extreme cases, cars may be towed away. Let's all pull together and make sure that handicap parking is left free for those who really need it.

ITEMCURRENT SYSTEM.....NEW SYSTEM

EPBP Millage Rate on homesteads and ag land	28.94 mills	6 mills
Non-homestead millage rate	28.94 mills	24 mills
Sales tax	4%	6%
Income tax	4.6%	4.4%
Personal Exemption for State Income Tax, per person	$2,100	No change for Seniors	$3,000	No change
Single Business Tax	2.35%	No change
Assessment Cap	No cap on indiv. assessment	Capped at 5% or rate of inflation, whichever is less
Cigarette Tax	25 cents/pk.	75 cents/pk.
Real Estate Transfer Tax, (per $1,000 of value)	$1.10	$7.50

Our district has enough previously approved millage to allow us to operate with full funding for the 1994-95 school year. Our voters have previously approved enough millage - 18 mills - so that we will not need to conduct a millage election until some time in the middle of 1995. At that time, it will be necessary to approve enough millage to meet the 18 mill requirement. That figure we will need to approve will be around three mills.

As you can see, the school finance picture has changed. I must stress a couple of important items:

- A. We are not out of the millage business.
- B. The passage of Proposal A is not a financial windfall for our district. The funding will come from more and different sources, but the amount of money we will receive is similar to what we are currently receiving.
- C. There will be many non-financial changes that schools will be facing in the next few years. As everyone knows, with Lansing controlling the purse strings, there will be more mandates and requirements placed upon our schools.

D. It is still necessary for our residents to fill out a Homestead Property Tax Affidavit and return it to their township assessor before May 1.

E. Millages for renovation, remodeling and new construction will be permitted by a district conducting a bond issue. These bond issues are separate from operational millages.

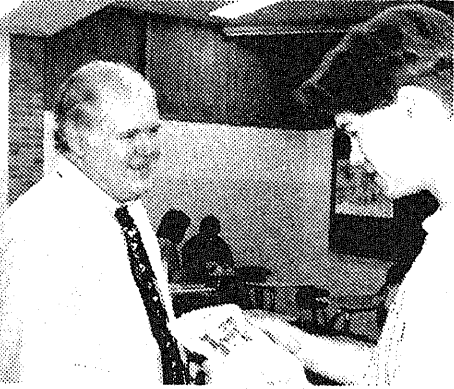

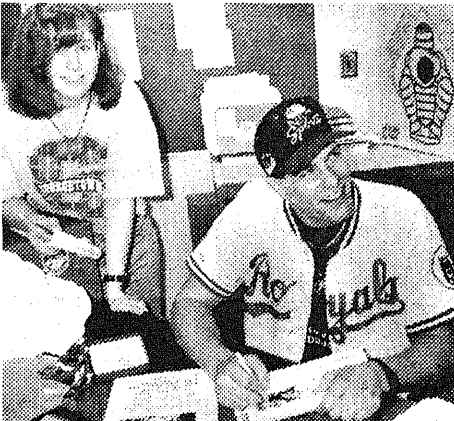

I hope this information assists you in understanding the position our district and its residents are in with the passage of Proposal A. As more information becomes available, I will continue to communicate that with you.

LAKER STUDENTS EXPERIENCE "WELLNESS DAY"

In an effort to educate the complete student of Laker High School, Principal Lisa DiCamillo instituted the first annual Wellness day.

Students assembled in the high school auditorium on Friday, March 4 to hear motivational speaker John Gross. John is a full-time motivational speaker and a part-time photojournalist for WKJG-TV in Fort Wayne, IN. John's presentation, with the help of a goodlooking baseballer named Shawn Rae, was fast-moving, action-packed and to the point. He spoke on drug use, self-esteem, confidence builders and other topics directed at helping students change their lives for the better.

The general session was followed by three shorter sessions, in which students were divided according to class and each group exposed to topics generated to improve their own well-being.

Seniors heard presentation on Drugs and Alcohol, Diet and Fitness and AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases. Juniors attended lectures on Drugs and Alcohol, Conflict Resolution and AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases. Sophomores switched between Drugs and Alcohol and Attitude and Commitment, while freshmen dealt with Learning Styles and Job Motivation.

Presenters for the sessions came from all walks of life. They included businessmen and women, public officials, rehabilitation counselors and public health officials. Some did this sort of thing for a living, while others donated their time and talents because of their love for kids.

The success of the day was evident and the administration felt that "Wellness Day" will take its place, along with "College Day" and "Career Day," as opportunities to promote well-being among Laker High School students.

LAKER JUNIOR WINS BENTLEY SCHOLARSHIP AT ALBION

Laker High School government teacher Wayne Schember recently received word that Christy Brakenberry was awarded a full scholarship from the Bentley Foundation for participation in Operation Bentley at Albion College.

FAMILY TIME

With all members of the family involved with outside activities, it is increasingly difficult to find time together.

However, in today's fast-paced lifestyle, it more important than ever to set aside specific time for the family. This time can be established on a weekly basis, depending upon individual schedules.

If it is feasible for your family, set up an "evening at home" as part of a regular schedule. Include children in planning and fixing the meal and in choosing after meal activities. Read together, play games or watch selected TV programs. Plan an "evening out." Pick a favorite restaurant and then choose an activity after dinner. Bowling, skating, miniature golf or a movie may interest all family members.

Consider special family activities ranging from simple walks or outings to the park to more elaborate family trips. While young children may be happy with an afternoon picnic, older children may opt for a trip to an amusement park. Whatever your choice may be, include children in the decision-making and enjoy activities as a family unit.

The scholarship covers tuition, room and board and basic instructional materials. Operation Bentley is a program for active students, not for bystanders. It offers students a chance to learn through active engagement in the political process.

Much of a student's time in Operation Bentley is spent in day-long simulations of government and interest group activity. Classroom instruction, guest lectures and a full-day visit to the State Capitol all supplement the simulation programs. Students have the opportunity to discuss current issues with public officials.

Christy was one of 100 select high school juniors to be chosen. Selection was based on the nominee's academic record, teacher recommendation and involvement in high school and community activities.

SCHOOLS ARE IN THE PROCESS OF CHANGE

It doesn't matter where you live, or whether you have school-age children - you will agree that schools are undergoing structural changes. This change is eminent and necessary as we approach the 21st Century.

On the national level, the American 2000 goals established by the Bush administration have schools trying teaching strategies to achieve the national goals. These goals include having every child prepared to enter school, raising student achievement in the math and science curriculum areas and keeping students in school until they graduate with basic skills.

At our state level, more tests and different kinds of assessments are being introduced to measure student competencies in the academic areas of reading, mathematics, writing and science.

Some educational innovations such as multi-aged classrooms, inclusion of special education students in regular classrooms, hands-on math and science teaching and computer programs for individualized instruction are now being introduced. Competency tests will become the norm. They will measure student achievement levels against curriculum objectives on a state-wide basis.

These new approaches mean more involvement from the whole community in a child's education. Business partnerships, social and civic groups, and organized parent volunteers are among those being called upon to assist in providing education. In today's schools, the whole community must accept responsibility for the education of its children. Students who are in need of help are identified at an earlier age.

Secondly, higher standards and increased accountability are being emphasized in the new school movement. National and state standards already exist in most states in the curriculum areas of math and science. Schools are accountable for helping students achieve these goals.

There are increasingly more tests and assessments to measure how much students are learning. Our schools are required to compile and publish goals, student performance levels and school improvement plans. Many times, funding and accreditation are linked to improvement.

A third characteristic of today's school movement is performance. It is no longer enough for students to memorize and recite knowledge. Students must prove they can apply and use the knowledge in meaningful real-life experiences. The application of transferring the knowledge learned, to problem-solving using critical thinking is the key to success in today's world.

Using advanced technologies in the curriculum is the fourth characteristic of the school movement. Students are learning to access, integrate and present information using computer technology. Computers link classrooms, media centers and homes in some communities.

This means that educational information has left the confines of the classroom and has expanded to include an infinite resource base.

Although there are others, the expanded role of the community, high standards and accountability, performance results and technology are considered to be important ingredients that can be found in the new school movement. It is important that as many people as possible play a role in assisting our schools to meet the challenges that lie ahead. As Margaret Mead has recently said, "We are now at a point where we must educate our children in what no one knew yesterday, and prepare our schools for what no one knows yet."

BOOSTER CLUB GIVES BIG 'BOOST' TO LAKER ATHLETES

Attend any Laker High football, basketball, volleyball game or even a track meet and you will find a dedicated group of people dispensing popcorn, pop, candy, hot dogs, nachos and other goodies for your enjoyment.

They operate out of the cafeteria when indoors and out of their own concession trailer when outdoors. They work hard, accept no pay and give away all the profits they make.

They are the Laker Athletic Boosters, and their support gives Laker teams that little extra.

During the past four years, the Boosters have donated almost $30,000 to the Laker Athletic Department, to purchase items not normally included in the athletic budget. Coaches attend their monthly meetings to request these items which, when approved, are purchased by the athletic department and then reimbursed by the Booster organization.

Some of the items purchased include sport banners for the gymnasium, volleyball nets, weights for the weight room, cheerleader pom pons, warmups for golf, tennis, basketball, track, wrestling and cheerleading, junior high cheerleading uniforms, basketball poles and rims for the elementary schools, water bottles, baseball and softball batting cages, football helmets, timers and vaulting poles for track. The list goes on and on . . .

The Boosters also contribute to the Homecoming Breakfast and the Athletic Banquet, and have, in the past, donated money to the Drama Department in the form of new curtains for the stage.

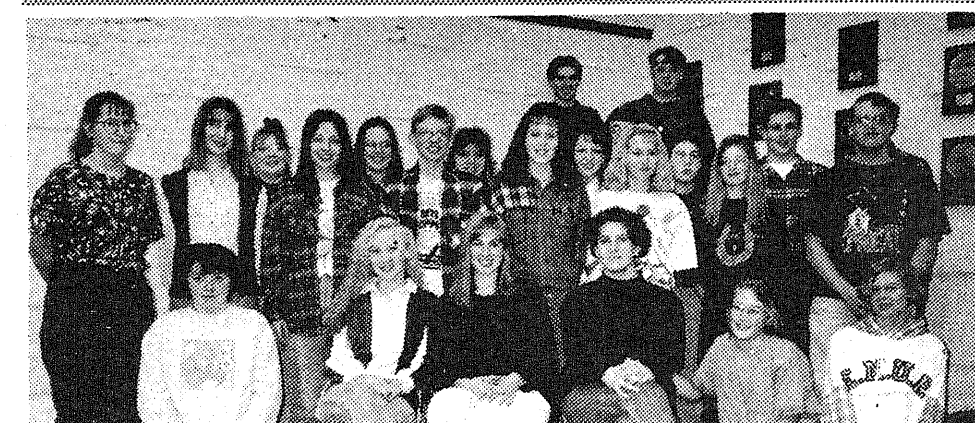

The Laker Boosters represent that extra quality that seems to be connected with our school district. Due to their dedication, we have some of the best dressed and best equipped teams in the state. And, according to many other people, the best popcorn in any concession stand.

Hats off to the Laker Athletic Boosters. They are very special people . . .

LAKER BOOSTER CLUB volunteers donate many hours at concession stands.

EPBP MUSICIANS EXCEL IN DISTRICT SOLO & ENSEMBLE

Twenty-five Laker High School students participated in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's District Solo and Ensemble Contest, held Saturday, Feb. 19 at Caro High School. Fourteen received "I" (excellent) ratings on one or more of their events. The remaining students received ratings of "II" (good) on one or more of their events.

Students who earned a "I" rating are now eligible to participate in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival being held at Flint Southwestern High School on March 26.

For more information, contact Band Director Rusty Robinson at Laker High School, 453-2348.

LAKER HIGH RUNS FIRST-EVER RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE

One of the many goals of the Laker High School student body was to be involved in community projects. On Feb. 28, the Laker High School Student Council organized the first Annual Joint Blood Drive, with the communities of Elkton and Pigeon.

The council and their advisor, Principal Lisa DiCamillo, set a goal of 85 donors for this first drive. The results of the drive were: 136 students and adults presented themselves and 121 of them were productive in giving blood. Of this number, 42 were first-time donors. The total donation represented a 142% success rate in relationship to the projected quota.

A total of 38 students, many of them who were first-time donors, gave blood during the school day. The American Red Cross Staff and Student Council members should be commended on a very successful blood drive. According to council members, plans are already in the making for next year's blood drive.

STUDENT COUNCIL SELLS SHAMROCKS FOR MDA

For the last several weeks, Laker High School Student Council members sold shamrocks to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The money-raising endeavor turned into a contest when members challenged each other to see which first hour class would sell the most. The green shamrocks sold for $1.00 while the gold shamrocks sold for $5.00. When the dust cleared, honors went to Mrs. Haley's class which collected money for 46 shamrocks. The total for the entire high school was 126 shamrocks, netting MDA a nifty $164.00.

Winners in the contest got to go to a fast food restaurant for breakfast. Christa Keim and Imogene Aquilera are pictured in front of the student center showcases, which displayed the names of students and staff who contributed to the MDA Shamrock Drive.

ELKTON PTO SCHOOL CARNIVAL IS APRIL 23

The school carnival is set for Saturday, April 23 at 7 p.m. The carnival has been a school tradition for about 25 years. PTO President Sue Gottschalk has been working hard to once again organize a successful carnival. Many new prizes and games are being planned.

BE MIME!

Master Mime Lee Perry Belleau presented a special 45 minute assembly on March 22. This delightful and engaging hour of mime and pantomime was in the style of Marcel Marceau. The assembly was presented in big gymnasium and was funded by the fall magazine sale.

AUSTRALIA OUTBACK

Special live animals from Australia will visit the Elkton classrooms on May 20. The Living Science Foundation will make individual classroom presentation to the K-5 rooms. Cockatoos, lizards, potoros and kangaroos are just a few of the animals the kids will be seeing.

TARGET 2000

BLDG./GRDS. COMMITTEE

This committee recently completed a study of the present Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port buildings and grounds. They recommend that the idea of one central elementary be further studied. There was concern on the committee's part regarding the shape of some of the buildings and the delivery problems with three centers miles apart from one another.

huge success. A big thank you to all of the parents for their generous support of this sale.

READING SPIN-OFF

With March being Reading Month, the Elkton students have enjoyed a Reading Spin-off. Each Thursday, students may bring in their coupon with the title of the books they have read to receive a prize. We have had 280 coupons turned in during the first two weeks of the program.

H.O.T.S. PROGRAM...

The Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Elementary centers have instituted an innovative computer program in the Chapter I classrooms. "H.O.T.S." is an acronym for Higher Order Thinking Skills. This two-year program begins at the fifth grade level and continues in sixth grade at the junior high level.

Extensive university research indicates that students show significant gains in all subject areas after completing the two-year program.

The thrust of the H.O.T.S. program is to engage students in problem-solving and access their higher order thinking skills. Not only do the students learn to do critical thinking, they also develop computer literacy and an increased sense of self-esteem. Laker is proud to have the H.O.T.S. program in our school district!

COUNSELORS CORNER

By DAVE WOJCIK
Laker Elementary Counselor

I recently read an article written by Saf Lerman, who is a parenting expert. The article was about spanking as a form of discipline.

I thought to pass on her views would serve a purpose to anyone who reads The Laker Wave. At the very least, it may make people reevaluate the manner in which they approach disciplining their children.

Her view is that spanking and hitting are wrong because:

- It sets a bad example
- It is a form of violence
- It can be habit-forming
- It promotes a poor self-image
- It creates an atmosphere of fear
- It perpetuates a vicious cycle
- She speaks out against the preceding and advocates changing to a positive style of disciplining. Her suggestions are as follows:
- Re-direct
- Have positive expectations
- Give a warning
- Stay simple
- Be clear and emphatic
- Say "as soon as" or "you wish"
- Use humor
- Write a note
- Solve problems together
- Let children air their feelings
- Be flexible
- Offer choices instead of threats
- Be firm, but kind
- Don't rub it in
- Make realistic requests
- Be reasonable
- Let the child find a remedy
- Make a deal

If you have any questions as to how to implement the above, please feel free to contact me.

GREAT TOURNEY!

The fifth grade basketball tournament and carnival was held March 12 and was very exciting and successful.

I would like to thank the Pigeon PTC for their efforts in organizing and reviving this tradition, which hasn't been held since 1986. I would also like to express my appreciation to all of the volunteers who worked the carnival, the kitchen and the tournament. It would not have been possible without your support!

Congratulations, also, to this year's winners: Ms. Sturm's Elkton boys' team and a combined Elkton girls' team.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

As the end of the third marking period quickly approaches (March 25), it brings us to our final Parent-Teacher Conference for the 1993-94 school year. Conference dates have been set for April 7 and 8.

All conference times should already be set, but

If you have not yet arranged a time, please contact the office and we will try to arrange a time for you to meet with your student's teacher. As we near the end of this school year, I urge everyone to set aside the time to attend conferences and get an update on how their special student is doing in school.

Another thing to keep in mind is that at both Pigeon and Bay Port Elementary centers, a book fair will be in progress April 4-8 as you attend conferences. This will provide you with an excellent opportunity to browse and purchase some reading materials for your child.

The Bay Port and Pigeon Elementary students were recently treated to a performance by the Hampstead Players of "Shakespeare for Kids," chronicling the life and times of William Shakespeare. Along with being enjoyable, this performance gave the children more insight about this time in history and contained excerpts from many of Shakespeare's famous plays.

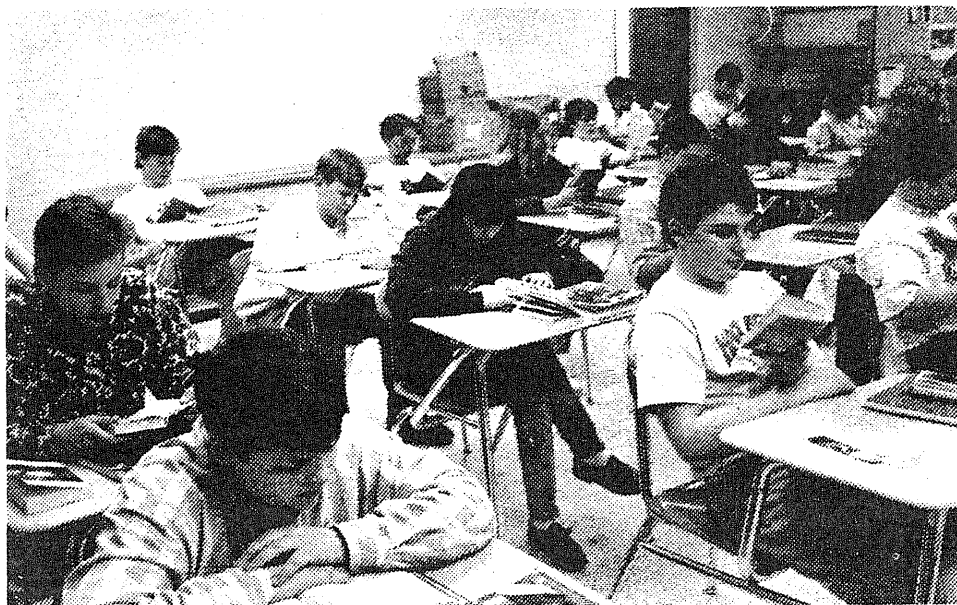

For the second straight year, Bay Port State Bank has rewarded third, fourth and fifth grade students in the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port School District for getting good grades. This year they have added a little more of an incentive.

The program goes like this: Names of students from the above grades who are on the honor roll each marking period, get placed in a hat. Then a lucky winner is drawn from each school and they receive a $50.00 Savings Bond. Since there are four marking periods, that adds up to four bonds for each school for each year.

This marking period's winners with Bay Port State Bank's Valerie Haley include: Kelly Swartzendruber, Bay Port Elementary; Matt Bruce, Elkton Elementary and Kim Kreh, Pigeon Elementary.

LJH IN D.E.A.R. PROGRAM

In recent years, the students in Oakland County have set aside a time to Drop Everything and Read (D.E.A.R.). Indeed, last year over 200,000 students participated in this excellent program, which was created by Theresa C. Roekle, principal of Edmonson School in Madison Heights.

This year under the leadership of Michael J. Bouchard, a State Senator from Oakland County, a Senate Resolution commemorating this innovative and inspiring program is being promoted statewide.

On March 18 between 1 and 1:30 p.m. students and staff in the Laker Jr. High literally "dropped everything and read." For that half hour, everybody connected with the school read material of their choice.

According to Principal Richard Pauly, the program was well received and adds to the Sustained Silent Reading Program which is already a critical part of promotional reading programs that go on district-wide.

LJH Guidance Counselor

By KATHY DICKENS
Laker Junior High Guidance Counselor

The Laker Junior High Guidance Office has been very busy recently. All sixth, seventh and eighth grade students have taken both the Iowa Test of Basic Skills and the Cognitive Abilities Test. The results of these tests should give us a fair assessment of what each child has achieved and what each child's academic potential is.

The Academic Track Season has now ended with the All Star Meet of Lakers on March 22 (testing and drawing competition) and on March 25 (performing arts competition). A big congratulations to all 70 of the Laker Jr. High students who participated in Academic Track this year. They are a very talented and bright group!

The sixth grade class recently spent some time working on communication skills. They found out how difficult it is to do a good job of listening to someone. In fact, we are often so consumed with saying what we want to say, that we do not truly listen to what other people are saying. Sixth graders also had some practice in communicating directions clearly to others, as well as using nonverbal communication.

The seventh graders spent time discussing the negative effects of alcohol consumption. Students were reminded that drinking alcohol has many physiological, social, emotional and family-related consequences. They also learned that alcohol-related accidents are the number one cause of death for people between the ages of 15 and 24.

The eighth graders worked with the concept of responsibility. Several case scenarios involving the issue of responsibility were read and discussed. Then student teams had to determine who was most responsible in each situation. This was an activity that taught the students that they are ultimately responsible for themselves and their own actions.

As always, please do not hesitate to contact the junior high guidance office with any questions or concerns.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

By RICHARD PAULY

Laker Junior High Principal

With spring rapidly approaching and the weather beginning to improve, we realize that our school year is 75% completed.

Although we have only one marking period left, it is likely to be the busiest time of the year for our students and staff.

The continued academic success of our students is still the top priority at Laker Junior High School. Parents and guardians can expect report cards to be sent out (via mail) around March 25. I strongly recommend any concerns that arise from these reports be directed to the Junior High Office.

Before discussing our upcoming activities, I would like to reflect on a few of our past accomplishments.

This year's Spaghetti Dinner was by far the most successful ever, with close to 1500 served. I would again like to thank all the parents who volunteered their services and made desserts that evening. I also appreciated the community support we received in this endeavor. Proceeds from this event will help defray the cost of our field trips.

The Laker Academic Track Team enjoyed a very successful start to their season on Tuesday, March 1 at Bad Axe. The girls' volleyball team is in the midst of a fine season. Our Jr. High Band made another excellent showing on March 19 at the Band Festival held here at Lakers. The seventh graders enjoyed a Boater Safety Course the week of March 21-25.

I hope you have a relaxing Easter break. As always, if you have any questions or concerns, please contact me at home or at school.

WOMEN IN MATH AND SCIENCE

By DUANE GUENTHER

Laker Guidance Director

Who helps determine student careers?

A number of studies seem to indicate that parents are the chief motivators when it comes to their children's career selection. The studies further show the father appears to be the most influential and that influence begins as early as the preschool years.

If you don't believe the studies, just look around at your friends and see how many of them are in the same line of work that their fathers are.

Parents, teachers, counselors, pastors and other adults can be great encouragers for specific careers.

However, they can also be great discouragers. These same studies cite that one of the main reasons more girls are not engineers, mathematicians and computer programmers is that fathers do not give the same encouragement to their daughters as they do to their sons. And the same studies blame teachers and counselors for following this pattern of thinking.

Although the gender gap has narrowed in the last 30 years, there is still evidence to indicate that society in general does not support women in nontraditional occupations. People in education, as well as parents, should be sensitive to many of the factors which seem to prevent women from entering careers in the math and science fields.

Here are some of the factors which the experts feel contribute to the low numbers of women in math and science occupations:

■ Separation of male and female roles begin at birth;

■ Families still raise daughters to be homemakers and sons to be "bread winners;"

■ Many girls feel it is not natural to seek a career in science, math or computers. They feel the competencies needed are masculine. Boys get a jump on computers because of their interest in video games;

■ Most young people believe in stereotypes, like male engineers and female nurses.

Experience has taught me that girls tend to outscore boys in math and science for the first eight to nine years of their formal education and then they fall behind. This may be because of outside influences, or it may be because the boys catch up maturity-wise.

Whatever the reason, we must all work together to insure that sexual bias does not interfere with young ladies seeking careers in the math and science fields.

MEAP TESTS

This year's fourth and fifth graders took the MEAP test earlier this year. The results of this test have been returned and several students have been recognized by the State Board of Education for their achievement on this test.

From the Bay Port and Pigeon fourth grade classes, the following students are congratulated for their fine efforts on the Essential Skills Mathematics and Essential Skills Reading Tests: Bridget Gunden, Kimberly Rathje, Mike Voss, Bret Zagorski, Jeffrey Yoder, Jody McKenzie, Nicole Kosenko, Shawn Damm, Jessica Born and Jason-Joel Avalos.

The Pigeon and Bay Port fifth graders who have been recognized for the achievement on the MEAP Science Test are: Jordan Meyersieck, Martin Sturm and Jeremy Deming.

Congratulations!
