FROM EUROPE—BY THE CABLE.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Notwithstanding the sharp opposition of a large portion of the British press, the appointment of the Earl of Mayo, the present Secretary of State of Ireland, to be Governor General of India, has been decreed and he will at once proceed to that country. The Earl of Mayo is a large owner in Meath, Kildare, Queen's and King's counties. He has been elected one of the Irish representative peers, and has been a member of the Carlton Club since 1852. He was born in 1822, and succeeded the present Earl of Mayo and Sligo in 1849.

The electoral returns of 31 sections of the Spanish Cortes, so far received, show that 170 Ultras, were elected.

Lord Lyons has been appointed to succeed Admiral Farragut, on Wednesday, at the English Ambassador, at his residence in Paris.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 25.—Dispatches continue to be received from Calcutta, up to the 19th inst., announcing the safe arrival of vessels carrying the recent gale. A vessel is reported to have been wrecked on the ship Sheerness off the coast of Ireland. The Captain and crew were saved. The Bay of Bengal was for New Orleans. She had encountered the gale, and was dismasted and in a sinking condition. The crew were subsequently rescued to leave the ship.

Thursday Mr. Farragut left New Orleans, escorted unbroken by thousands of the inhabitants, who accompanied him as far down the river, and remained on board as the vessel went to her anchorage have remained her.

Capt. McDowell, who was the only person injured on board the Ino, on the 19th, reported, wounded in the Mersey, has since died of his wounds.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 25.—The International regatta at the Isle of Wight, partici pated in by the American yacht Sonsie, and four American yachts of the Royal Yacht Squadron, began to-day, according to programme. The following are the names of the yachts which have been entered for the race: The entire Condor, 129 tons, owned by Mr. R. Berry, of Greenwich; the entire Cambria, 188 tons, entered by Mr. Ashbury, of Cashlida; the newly built Egeria, 392 tons, owned by Mr. R. Sutton, of Portsmouth; the schooner Cambria, 205 tons, owned by Mr. Ashbury. These are the yachts of the champions of this year's race. The others had not arrived when the Sonsie left. Sappho took the Queen's cup, the first prize, yesterday, and the Condor twelve minutes.

The course was from Southampton to Cowes and back to the starting point, to be made in nine hours. The regatta created much excitement among boating circles, and a large crowd of spectators from London, Portsmouth and Southampton, collected on the shores to witness the sport. The harbor was gaily decorated, the yachts starting amid the roar of cannon, and a brisk southwest breeze was blowing. At ten o'clock the signal was given, and the yachts started amid cheers from the crowds on the steamers, which followed close behind. The Alice soon took the lead, and was followed by the Egeria, with the Cambria. The miserst was also entered on the list, but the Cashlida and the newly built upon the Alice and finally passing her in the race in 8 hours, 31 minutes and 30 seconds. The Alice came in only two minutes later. The Condor was third, and the Sappho fourth. The Orinoko was not placed.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—A Vienna letter says one of the leaders from America has been a soldier. He is Mr. Timothy Ford, of Rochester.

Later advices from Hayti state that Salnave has raised an army of 6,000 men, acting now solely on the defensive. He has in all a train of $200,000, and the remaining money with the exception of $50,000 which he has sent to Jamaica to negotiate for money. The rebel war ship Liberte has abandoned the blockade. She was sold and purchased another war vessel. The industry had fluctuated considerably in consequence between Salnave and the British Minister has taken place.

Seventeen diseased cattle found their way to the city, and the seventeenth to be killed on the Illinois side, were purchased by them and sold to the inhabitants of the Tairteenth Ward. One died before it could be slaughtered. The butcher was not attacked. The others have not been found, but it is supposed that they have been sold to citizens as good cattle.

The Albany express from White Sulphur Springs, 24th, says:

The meeting of Democrats with ex-Confederates and Secessionists and statesmen here assumed importance when the Democratic leaders had been here and held here yesterday and to-day. Gen. Hunkerson and Allen Thompson were in constant attendance. It is considered probable that the Democratic party will be developed. All parties seem both Southern rights and Northern Democrats. Most of the best results from the meeting.

The telegraphic report of the closing session is expected to-day.

From various sources of the shooting affair at Broadway Theatre last night, it is considered probable that a correspondent assault upon the affrighted actress and her manager, who opened no resistance to an engagement employed as Deputy Sheriffs to preserve order on the impending three farewell performances of Miss Laura Keene. Mr. Bandmann, over the orchestra, and made for the stage. As the actors stood in a line at the footlights, fired two or three revolvers into their midst. The murderous rougher who aided the party were a 41-bor conspicuous to any of the people of the neighborhood.

Patrick Gallagher, the man who stabbed his mother in the Yorkville Police Court, where she had gone to make complaint against him for mortally stabbing her, died this morning. The murderer will probably die.

Miss Keene, in a letter to the New Standard, of Saturday, denies the report that at Broadway Theatre, and expresses willingness to sustain attempts to the statements that they were assaulted by an armed mob of carpenters, scene shifters, and actors, and belying themselves in hospitality they resented the violence with firearms.

The Democratic convention continued in session to-day. The annual report of Chief Executive Savage was read, and Col. Ochiltree, the permanent president, made an address. The military members of the society.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 25.—Hiestand Dayis, county clerk, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, was murdered on the 19th inst., by Jesse Cantrell, a negro. A jury of inquest on Cantrell got out of the jail door, and shot him dead. Mr. Davis of the Sentinel, a brother of the murdered man, was present when the affair occurred.

Two robbers of the commercial traveler's sell Orchard Lake, both of them arrested with the booties of the house, which, on the arrest of following the robbery, on the person of the one who was discharging to the town, and was found in his pack, gold rings over seven hundred pounds, and under, illuminating all objects within a range of a hundred yards.

Within the circle around the camp fire was an open area, level, and of soft grass ground, upon which, at a signal, appointed men and officers of the company, who, with song and dance, amused his comrades and a number of visitors, who crowded up to the edge.

At the first sport was "making fast and fashion," up came the company coat, and, guessed Mr. Johnson, over sixty pairs of upper garments were collected in less than a minute.

At half past four the order to strike tents was given, and in an instant every wagon was surrounded by men, and the canvas were rolling up their canvas dwellings.

The baggage was loaded up, the guarding Queen were given for Cass Williams, and the line was formed. Lapeer Cadets were in their places in the stage coaches which had been provided for them, and the Lapeer Light Guard formally left the scene of their four days' encampment, and marched amidst the huzzas of the multitude, unbroken and reckless.

The Lapeer Cadets were the only company in camp like no other night, and we doubt if any man in that camp above thirty months, or under sixteen years, will ever forget the impressions of that night.

The company marched through the city nearly as far as the village, where they formed a semicircle around the Democratic Mansion, and the Lapeer Light Guard marched up to the door, and the whole party returned to the office, where the Light Guard Band performed one of their best pieces, in which occurs a certain solo which was beautifully rendered and loudly applauded.

Then it is an end to everything, and so there was no more music and no more applause, and the notes of the bugle, sounding the assembly, summoned all hands to the line, and the roll was called for the last time. Members for Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, where two of the finer coaches on the road, and been attached to the Express train for the occasion.

As they passed through the differentiate scene, between this city and Pontiac, the men of the band seemed greatly to enjoy the ride, and the boys, of course, not only were on the alert to catch a glimpse of the boys in blue, but were also on the lookout for the girls.

Here they found a very large crowd of people, on foot and in carriages of all kinds, and they received but a cordial welcome at this most hospitable city.

Marching orders were mutually exchanged, after which, escorted by the Commandery, whose fine appearance and excellent drill was the subject of much comment, they marched up as far as the Court House, and then countermarched to the Hodges House, the sidewalks all the way being crowded with spectators, the windows fairly sparkling with people, and beauty an attraction which caused many an eye to water. Whether from the effect of the dust or not, we cannot say, but it is a fact that the ladies were the most demonstrative.

Upon reaching the Hodges House the company were halted, and Sir Knight of the Harvester. To complete the picture the ladies were in the foreground, the gentlemen in the rear of a rectified Republic, proudly surveying the scene, and the gallant cavalry in the background, while the black coats of the citizens made a fine contrast with the bright uniforms of the soldiers.

At dinner, a number of gentlemen, prominent citizens of Pontiac by invitation of the company, dined with the officers of the company, and after dinner the band played for nearly an hour.

On Saturday a young man from this city, while bathing in the river, was drowned. Information about Pontiac, representing himself a Lieutenant in the Regular Army, and who, while active the other end of the room was stretched the celebrated flag made by Mrs. Lathrop, the owner of the house, and which the cause of a riot in 1861, a number of ladies and gentlemen, and marched outside the lines with orders not to return. This was a rebel flag, because it was made by Southern sympathizers.

Divine services was held in the morning, which the company, as well as at least 500 visitors, congregated under the shade of the trees.

Mr. Jacokes' sermon was brief, eloquent, and especially suited to the occasion, and was listened to with evident pleasure by the company.

There were several hymns sung during the service, by a choir from Detroit, and the whole was good, and sounded, especially under the circumstances of the occasion.

Immediately after Divine service, the "Detroit Parade" was called, at which the following officials of the company appeared:

Capt. Lee Hall, Commanding; Lieut. Jacob Hall, 1st Lieut. and Officer of the Day; J. E. Marvin, 1st Sergeant; Sergeant Wm. Hall, Orderly; Sergeant George G. Wilcox and Richard Smith, Color Guard; Corporal Wm. Hall, Orderly; Wm. B. Hunt, Frank C. Trowbridge and Wm. Hall, Jr., Color Guard; Corporal Hall, Jr., John A. Beliman, J. O. Hodges, Jr., George C. Stanfield, George Coleman, Charles Dupont, Geo. G. Davis, C. Dickson, T. B. Farnsworth, H. C. Hodges, Jr., Wm. Wright, J. Hall, Jr., J. P. Hatcher, L. E. Johnson, Ed. Jerome, Robert E. Lawrence, Patrick Fagan, F. S. Tillotson, R. H. Tyrrell, Walter M. Thayer, Charles H. Van Dusen, J. M. Wright.

MONDAY.

Monday morning, the sun rose for the last time over Camp Williams, and, as he rose, the reveille was sounded, and all turned out of their quiet tents, many an expression of sincere regret was heard along the line.

After the routine duty of the camp had been gone through with, the company came out for target practice, and for nearly three hours the rifles were in use. Then the order was given to strike tents, and there remaining still dinner

Michigan State Fair.

The twentieth Annual Fair of the Michigan State Agricultural Society is to be held on the Hamtramck grounds at Detroit, Sept. 15, 16, 17 and 18. Very liberal premiums are offered in all classes and as the issue of the Fair is arranged with reference to the Ohio State Fair at Toledo, and the Ontario Provincial Fair at Hamilton, both of which are to be held the succeeding week, at points very accessible from Detroit, a large display is to be expected. A corps of the Professional Lecturers will be present, to entertain, etc., and in fact, to quote from the Secretary, E. F. Johnson, 100 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, at whose office entries may be made up to the first day of the Fair. During that day entry may be made at the office on the grounds.—Half fare on the Michigan Southern Railroad.

Union School.—The fall term of the Manchester Union School will open on Monday Sept. 7th, at 9 A. M., under the direction of Prof. Eugene C. Oliver as Principal and a competent corps of assistants. We shall endeavor to accomplish, in this several departments, as full a course of study as the Public and Foreign Pupils, who may desire to attend, by furnishing as far as practicable instruction in such branches as they may wish to pursue. Tuition is fixed at $5. for the High School and Grammar Departments, and $4 in the other Departments, for the fall term, and at corresponding rates for the other terms. Said tuition to be paid to the Principal invariably in advance. Let all pupils who propose attending be present at the opening. D. Corey, Director.

A Paper Mill.—Mr. Pusey of Dundee, paid our village a flying visit Monday last, in search of a mill site. He is a practical paper maker and machinist and desires to erect a $20,000 mill. He will dispose of his interest east and take $10,000 stock in the mill he proposes to build on this village. Will our citizens take the remaining $10,000? The demand for news, tea and wrapping papers exceeds the supply, and always will. This branch is not yet grown a mate of this kind in our growing village, are not fully appreciated by citizens at large, however. Mr. Pusey received liberal encouragement while here, and requested us to say that he would meet those interested, at the Enterprise Office, Tuesday Evening next. Tannahill, Clifton and Norvell each offer inducements for the location of this mill. We must have the mill at Manchester. Turn out Tuesday evening.

We understand a gentleman from Adrian has purchased ground and will establish a carriage factory upon it.—A German from Monroe has purchased a site and will establish a Lager Brewery.

☞ The fellow who Doctors Artemus Ward is the most absorbing prodigy of worms we know of in the west. He delights in prescribing by newspaper and pamphlet, and really considers himself a genuine physician. Guess he is at least his style of conducting a printing office is enough to physic "the devil" Friend (?) if you wish to "resort to Manchester for amusement" just consider yourself a Mayor and a Tanner, purchase a temperance lodge, secure a medicine tract in your bosom, and sell over auction. We will endeavor to show you how people "resort" on the Raisin, or, in other words, how worms "suspenders" over a beautiful bar. Brother should you squirm, as you oft have, don't forget that you are generally considered the grand steam-bound printed-physician. Use to worm-fudge most any time. Should your whole editorial corps take notice to squirm at the same time, try a "Butler Cocktail," viz: Stir sweet water with a spoon, squint one eye, gulp it down, and put the spoon in your pocket.

☞ The examination of teachers in this county will be held during the month of October. Superintendent Pierce will be at the Union School house Friday Oct. 23d.

☞ The Philadelphia Bulletin, which is printed upon paper made of wood "some two in the boat town upon the Schuylkill, some of the sixths used were built of paper. Fifty years ago the man who would have ventured to foretell the use of paper row-boats and newspapers made of wood, would have been deemed a fit subject for an insane asylum.

☞ It will be remembered that Dr. Gunsolus, Health Officer of this district, has been appointed by the Governor, Surgeon General of the Michigan Militia, with the rank of Colonel. The appointment is one that will be highly appreciated by the profession throughout the State, and we congratulate the Governor upon the selection he has made.

☞ If Jesse is "positively like Byron" we should like to know if he Byron is just about as radical as Ben. Butler, except the latter is perhaps a little more conservative. The comparison puts us in mind of John or Byron in a tight spot. Which is the stronger? and which owes you most? Answer.

John or Byron like Ben! What a comparison! He is not natural—they both say so. Either have you gone into the campaign? If so, "fling open the doors and allow those two gentlemen to shake hands with every man, woman and child in the county. A caucus may now convene one. When shall we three meet again?

Campaign Dance.—Circle of Invitations have been issued for a campaign dance, irrespective of party, at Goodyear's Hall, Friday Evening. Both the Music by Grant & Kingsley band of Chelsea. Dr. Gunsolus will have charge of the Slow and Measure. Hewitt & Woodruff are general managers of the party. The campaign is fairly open; both parties are assembling political munitions with fearless expressing their genuine opinions, "Shall and why not dance? Hewitt & Woodruff represent the interests of both parties and propose to dance it out on Henry's platform. Bill, $2.00.

Personal.—G. R. Palmer, Esq., is settled on the hill," and may now be found during the business hours of the day, and until 9 o'clock P. M., at his office to attend to the wants of the clients. We notice our friend, A. M. Swarthout with Mr. P., who will attend to the business of the office during his absence.

Some Smoke.—Two gentlemen met in a beautiful pipe indorsed in a small little box. A bag of dudon tobacco accompanied the pipe. Friends if you wish to enjoy a genuine smoke, call at our sanctum. Come before Congress meets, in all probability they will send another federal stamp on the word. If they do, we are smoked out. Messrs. Conc & Morey still continue to sell something usually found at a grocery store, and at the same time, they propose to buy everything, and keep pipe and to boot. They are in business and you can't smoke them out. Try tea at $1.00.
