read from the invasers of Indian Territory asking for permission to settle on the lands of that Territory and by ide up homes there. The principal feature of the day was a debate on the bill to give the Brates $28,000,000 loaned then be the Control of the set of the control o the bill to give the second them by the General Covernment in 1836. Ingalls, of Kansas, and Thurman, of Ohio, argued in favor of the foayment of the money gued in favor of the f payment of the money by the States. Conkling and Blaine took op-posite ground.

Mr. Morgan made a speech in support of his resolution declaring that the President of the Senate is not constitutionally authorized to determine what Electoral votes shall be received ra lroad lands was passed, it gether with several private bills. The Nicarag is Canal bill was introduced and referred. The Senate adjourned until the 5th of January.

HOUSE.

A bill was introduced it Mr. Dunn, providing that lands in Indian Territory to which indian title has been extinguished, and which are monceupied by Indians, at public lands of the United States, and are hereby declared subject to settlement under the Homestead and Pre-emption laws. He desired to have it referred to the Committee on Proble Lands, but Mr. Conger moved that it be referred to the Committee on Indian Affair. Bills were passed under suspension of the inless as follows: To establish an Assay Office is St. Louis, to marge and protect San Antonio Arsenal; to provide a Suitable pedestal for the measurement erected to the late Admiral Parratut, in Washington. Mr. Stone, under instructions from the Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads, moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill anthorizing the Postmaster General to readjust the salaries of certain Postmasters. The Consular and Diplomatic Appropriative Bill was passed. The introduction of a bill to repeal the law requiring stamps upon reveithe checks caused a lively debate, first on the washing of the bill. The bill failed on the passage by only eight votes.

THE 21st inst. was a day of excitement in the The 21st inst. was a day of excitement in the House. The first incident was the intendention of a resolution by Mr. Robeson, providing for the count of the Electorial vote on the second Wednesday in February, in the matter prescribed by the Constitution, and its detail by a strict party vote. Then followed a rambling and extremely personal debate on the funding bill, terminating in an episode which caused great excitement in the chamber. Fermando Wood, in behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, pressed the bill for passage. He nande Wood, in behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, pressed the bill for passage. He was supported by members both on the Reupblican and Democratic sides, but strongly antagonized by Weaver in behalf of the Greenbackers, who denounced the measure as intended to prevent the payment of the public debt, and prepared in the interest of Wall street. Personalities were industrial in facility, but will taken in good temper until fir. Sparts interest of the Weaver was no gentleman. Mr. Weaver warmly responded that Sparts was a Weaver warmly responded to ever, by their respective friends and no blood was shed. Shortly after this unseemly spi-sode, the House adjourned.
