How the Law Treats Spendthrifts and Idlers.

In most of the United States laws have been framed for the protection of the weak and poor against the spendthrifts and idlers. The Puritans gave us these laws, with others which are no longer in use. The spendthrift laws have been widely retained for the reason that they tend to keep families from want and suffering.

When a man is wasting his property so that his family are likely to become paupers, it is the duty of the officers of the town in which he lives to ask the courts to declare him a spendthrift, and to appoint a guardian over him.

This petition, once made, cannot be withdrawn, for it is made for the benefit of the spendthrift's family, as well as to secure the town from ever having to support them.

After a guardian has been appointed the spendthrift cannot make any binding contracts except for necessaries, such as food and clothing. If he sells any of his property, his guardian can take it away from the buyer.

Money borrowed to pay a lawyer for opposing the appointment of the guardian must be repaid. Bargains made by the spendthrift and agreed to by the guardian are binding. He must bring his law-suits, if he has any, in his own name. The guardian must see that he has a good lawyer, and that the action is properly managed.

For example: A guardian once brought a suit for a divorce against the wife of his spendthrift ward, and the Judge refused to grant it, saying: "It could not be known that the party ever gave his consent to the prosecution. If he wishes a divorce and has good ground to obtain it, he must do it himself (editions) as his own name."

If the property has been obtained from the spendthrift by fraud, his guardian can get it back, though the fraud was committed before his appointment.

It is the guardian's duty to see that his ward does not suffer from want. When the spendthrift's property is entirely used up, the guardian may spend his own money and look to the town for payment. He cannot sell the ward's land without the consent of the officers of the town. They are liable for the spendthrift's support if the estate is not large enough, and therefore have a right to object to any change in the property in which it is invested.

For examples of spendthrifts, we may point to the idlers, whom we see lounging about the streets in a village in which no sold. In these places, they recklessly waste their time and their money in drinking, gambling and dissipation. The law decides these to be the criminal classes, and punishes them by making them spendthrifts. Habitual drunkards are the most common class of spendthrifts, form a large part of the inhabitants of every jail.

If a crime is not excused because the offender was intoxicated when it was committed, on this point a distinguished Judge has said that the law as follows:

"Although the use of intoxicating liquors does not make it any excuse or reason and exasperate the passions, yet, as a man voluntarily brings it upon himself, he shall not have it as an excuse or justification or extenuation of crime."

Gambling, another class on which a man may be a spendthrift, is an offense against the law. Building lots can also be made attractive by selling, legally, common nuisances, and the owners are responsible for payment.

Implements and tools used by gamblers are daily seized and destroyed by the police of our large cities. If a person loses a sum of money by gambling, he can bring a suit against the winner, and get it all back. Spendthrifts who waste their time and money in gaming-houses and grog-shops are taught a lesson by being sent to prison.

These safeguards and punishments do much good by warning foolish people from vice, and by protecting families from the want and suffering of poverty.—Youth's Companion.

The Teasel Industry.

A correspondent of The Gardener's Monthly writes that the farmers of the towns of Marcellus and Skaneateles, Onondaga County, N. Y., are quite extensively engaged in the cultivation of the teasel, and that they are annually realizing from one to one half a million of dollars. The plant was introduced into that section about fifty years ago by a Frenchman, and the experiments of cultivation were successful from the start. The manufacturers of England protested against exempting American; that he was obliged to sell his production as cheaply as the English, but in the course of twenty years ago that the American article had established to be the best grown in the world.

The seed is sown about the beginning of May, in moist meadow land, and manure is given its first hoeing. In another two weeks it is ready to be thinned out, and in June it is hoed, one plant being left every six inches in the row, and the other three to five feet apart. The plant continues to grow all through the summer, and in the autumn the cultivator is kept at work pretty steadily for two weeks, and the plants that were formed from the seed the first year are dug up by a main stalk the second year, and when about two years old it makes its appearance, when gradually forms a cup around the stalk from the base of the head, the rain-water collecting in which is said to be very beneficial to the plant. The heads begin to turn brown toward the base, and while this is in progress the heads are cut off and sold. In other localities, called spurges, by which they are accompanied. They all known spurge is the quantity of water that evaporates from the plant supplied from one main stem and branches. The main stem is called the "king," and is the main root part of the plant. It blossoms first, beginning at the apex and gradually going toward the base, and while this is in operation

There is to be a special meeting of the Sovereign Sanctuary of the Egyptian Masonic Rite of Memphis, Continent of America, held in Grand Rapids on Thursday, November 23d.

The balance of cash in the state treasury, Nov. 4th, was $1,720,124.59; receipts for the week ending November 11th were $6,621.78; payments for the same time, $41,750.95; leaving a balance Nov. 11th, 1882, of $1,684,795.33; of which $587,000 belong to the sinking fund; $553,469.24 are held in the trust funds; $544,326.09 are available for general purposes; and $1,675,865.26 are on deposit in banks.

"The Chippewa County News" published at Sault Ste. Marie, of the 16th, September, has the following: "Sabine new-county is rapidly becoming one of the largest peach growing counties of the state. It is shown by observation, and comparison that in portions of the county the climate is the most even of any place in Michigan. There are several large peach orchards there, and the crop this year is enormous.

Washtenaw County Items.

Register: Lorenzo Sawyer of Sylvan reports, 442 bushels of corn from four acres, part orchard at thaf.

A special township meeting has been called at Chelsea to get an appropriation to finish the new town hall.

An Arbor city treasurer paid out during the month of October, one thousand four hundred dollars all in twelve cents.

Mrs. Rebecca Lowry, an old and greatly esteemed pioneer of Saline township, died very suddenly last week, aged 85.

The scarlet fever scare at Dexter is subsiding. Precautions to prevent its becoming a general epidemic were taken, with good results.

Ann Arbor ladies have to keep a good look out for the safety of their pet cats, else the medics gobble up the felines for dissecting purposes.

It is announced that Rev. Edward Everett Hale will preach the dedicatory sermon of the new Unitarian church at Ann Arbor, November 21st.

The tower of the library building of the university will be ornamented by a clock with four dials. The tower will be ninety-one feet from the ground and six feet in diameter.

Mrs. Mary Hauser, wife of C. Hauser of Ann Arbor, while hanging clothes on a rod stretched across the roof of a shed, lost her balance and fell to the ground, she lived about ten minutes only.

The Saline Observer starts out on its third volume this week. It has been an enterprising and successful county paper so far, and we doubt not it will ever be on the alert to "observe" and keep up with the times.

The Lake Shore Ry. have two work trains and a large gang of men at work at Ypsilanti grading for tracks and putting up a freight house. They intend to do it the Enterprise knows in a few weeks since, as it on their own hook, and get their share of the city freight.

Joseph B. Frisbie of Chelsea while removing some goods from a house by means of a ladder, fell, when only a few feet from the ground, in such a manner as to break his neck. He was a much respected citizen and his sudden death cast a gloom over the whole community.

Ypsilanti will soon find that the money she has spent on the railroad from there to Hillsdale, was well spent. The Lake Shore company are improving the "plant" and will no doubt give the patient, but long suffering business men of Ypsi a taste of the luxury of competition in freights.

Many readers of the Enterprise will learn with deep regret of the death of Hon. J. Webster Childs, which occured at his home in Augusta on Thursday last. He has been a prominent man in this county, and state, for many years, and was greatly respected. He settled on the farm on which he died in 1848.

Jackson County Items.

They have nearly finished plastering the new county house.

Eight prisoners escaped from the Jackson county jail on Friday evening last week.

Mrs. L. E. Cole of Norvell has a dahlia with 133 blossoms and 14 buds. Who is ahead of this?

Brooklyn broom brigade gave a fine entertainment last Friday and Saturday evenings in that burg.

N. Green of Jackson has bought fourteen large horses for the lumber woods, averaging $400 a span.

Rev. Henry Hughs of Elkhorn, Wis., has commenced his duties as rector of the Episcopal churches at Brooklyn and Cambridge.

They say that the republicans of Norvell were somewhat bewildered by election returns, that they could not hear the racket the boys made at the jubilee on Saturday night.

Esquire A. A. Pierce of Grass Lake met with quite a severe accident lately by being precipitated to the ground from a scaffolding; a distance of about 15 feet. He was quite severely injured.

The News says that Grass Lake property holders propose to find out if the law in regard to cows running at large in the streets can be enforced, if it can they will take down their yard fences.

The Jackson Citizen says: Well seasoned oak and hickory wood to the amount of 120 cords has been purchased for the city poor. This, together with that on hand, and the old Nicholson pavement blocks will, it is hoped, keep the frost from their hearths during the winter.

The Lake Shore has put in extra trackage at Jackson and we understand they intend soon to run all passenger trains into their new depot (the old Fort Wayne depot), and all freight trains to the old Lake Shore depot. This arrangement will make it much more convenient for passengers transferring from one road to the other, and just as handy for city passengers.

Little Charley Allen, a 14-year-old nephew, of John N. Squires, a few days since shot and killed two wild swans, on Allen's lake, in Rives, just west of the Henretta line. One of them, the male bird, measured seven feet from tip to tip. This pair should be placed in the hands of a skillful taxidermist, as they are rare birds in this region.—Jackson Citizen. All right, send them to Ed. Kief, Manchester, who will mount them in fine style.

Lenawee County Items.

The Adrian Times asks: How many slices anybody want Navin captured?

Rev. Joseph St. John of Detroit is now rector of St. John's Episcopal church at Clinton.

The next meeting of the Lenawee county teachers' association occurs in the high school room at Adrian, December 9th.

The kind ladies of Clinton assembled at the home of Mrs. Sutfin lately and left a supply of provisions for her minister.

Irvin Crane and family have removed to Woodstock from Kansas. He is nearly blind, and his experience of western life was not very pleasant.

What's the use of going north to hunt deer when you can shoot one as near home as Deerfield township. A man named McCarty shot one near Petersburg last Thursday.

One hundred bushels of wheat were thrashed in 30 minutes at Chas. Bower's barn in Bridgewater recently. The Clinton News wants to know who can beat this record.

The good people of Clinton raised $341 and purchased a home for Anson Hulet, whose residence and contents were burned on Thursday afternoon, the 2nd inst. The old people were very poor.

The cash at J. H. Miller's store in Clinton, since he began his quarter-off sale has been such that he advises customers who live near by to come in early, in the morning. John is one of those early birds.

Adrian Times: It is certainly true that there are some people in the city who don't want Navin brought back. Why they don't, will probably be made clear, if he is ever captured and brought to the punishment he so richly deserves.

Chet. Brownson, who lives on the service farm in Clinton, has been rather unfortunate of late. About a month ago he lost a horse by a broken leg, and last Saturday another horse got drowned. It strayed into a marsh and got mired, and was found dead. Both horses were valuable, being worth over $100 each.—Tecumseh Herald.

It is noted that Mrs. Hathaway of Addison, who had both arms broken recently, is over 80 years old. Another lady she has had more bones broken than any other person in the state. She once broke a leg, then her collar bone, then her hip, two ribs and now both arms. She now proposes to be a little careful so as not to break her neck.

Work has been brought to a stand still on the Teachout block, owing to a scarcity of brick.

The village authorities are putting in a tile drain on the east side of Main stryt, this week.

Mrs. Hellen Sisson is now occupying the building vacated by Mr. Greene, as a millinery store.

George W. Greene has moved his stock of hardware into one of the new stores A. C. Ennis has been building this summer.

The broom brigade exhibition was a decided success Friday and otherwise. Great credit is due to the girls and also to the others who assisted so ably in giving such an excellent entertainment.

Ashley Allen's team broke loose from the lumber yard Tuesday morning, ran through town at a dashing pace, finally bringing up at Warren Case's, two miles north of the village. Nobody hurt and not much damage done.

Somebody without the fear of God before their eyes broke into the house of Dr. L. N. Palmer Tuesday night last and relieved him of between sixty-five and seventy dollars. The doctor has been one of these "mighty mean" fellows that would like to have anybody get into his house without his knowledge; but he is perfectly willing to admit now that when asleep he could be carried out, run through a threshing machine, pitched in all over the straw stack, and not wake up.

Alvinia Hunt—734 birthday was the occasion of a very pleasant gathering at the residence of M. B. Hunt, on Tuesday afternoon the 14th. There were twenty-two in attendance including all the pioneers now left in the neighborhood excepting Mr. & Mrs. S. E. Palmer. The following gentlemen were present with their wives: Wm. Sweet, James Graham, Lewis Brooks, B. G. Harris, Wilder Bancroft, Addison Hunt and J. P. Merrill, Mrs. M. J. Blanchard and Mrs. Mary Converse of Auriless, were also present. The other, Mr. Charles Bancroft, and the youngest, Mrs. Merrill 52 years. The sum of all their ages including Mr. Brooks is 1,042, their average ages being 67. The afternoon was spent in pleasant talk of old times and the changes which have taken place since the first settlement was made 50 years ago by Uncle William Hunt. Experiences were told of house-keeping in early times, of going on visits with ox teams, and sleeping on pole bedsteads. But everything must come to an end and visiting was interrupted by the announcement of supper, such a one as Mrs. Hunt knows how to prepare. Ample justice was done the oysters and other delicious viands with which the table was loaded. The presence of one was missed who was accustomed to preside on like festive occasions. May Mr. H. see many happy returns.

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES.

Did you get some soap?

Wood is in good demand.

The first snow flakes of the season on Monday morning.

We have a Thanksgiving story which will be printed next week.

Who is going to preach the Thanksgiving sermon this year?

Kimble will occupy Dr. Conklin's corner store for a few days.

Extra copies of the ENTERPRISE can be had at the counting room.

John Chadwick has sold his farm in East Manchester to John Faist.

Our merchants hail the increasing cold weather with great satisfaction.

Nesc. Conklin started a billiard saloon in the 3rd story over Bailey & Osborn's.

Reader can't you send us some items of news from your neighborhood? We want all the news.

Our readers should be sure and read the farmers' club report on the 4th page, also sheep notes, etc.

Mr. Kent having purchased the old corn exchange building, will move it on his lot on Water street.

E. Steadman received two good cows and a pair of saddles of venison, from his son who's up north, yesterday.

Mrs. Rha Conklin was kicked on the knee by elder Munger's horse, a few days ago, and is suffering a good deal of pain from it. A careless boy had put the horse in the wrong stall and when Mrs. C. went into the barn the beast kicked her.

The way trains run our Norvell and Napoleon friends can come down and attend the entertainments given by the Alumni Association this winter and get home the same night. It will pay them to secure season tickets for the course.

They say that an old lake captain who has been a keen observer of lots of weather, died lately, and he was asked what winter will December, and a rather moderate winter, with enough snow to make business lively. Good! that's just the kind we've spoken for.

Bells Brilliante" appeared at Goodyear Hall on Friday evening, last, to a fair audience. The street music was fine and the band made a fine appearance. The performance was not up to the average, nothing extra. The Lucius family did the largest part of the work.

Slang is a dangerous language. Recently, when a handsome young lady went to a lumber store to get one of those wooden contrivances to rush potatoes, and said, "I want a masher," every man in the shop, from the boss to the stove blacker started to wait on her.

During the jollification on the east side of the river on Thursday evening last the stairway leading to the second story of the Doty block, suddenly fell down. It was quite fortunate for the boys who had congregated there that they were not precipitated below, but the owner has to suffer the loss.

The Manchester cornet band will give their second ball, on Thanksgiving evening, Thursday, November 30th, at Goodyear's hall. The first ball was so well conducted that we have no doubt our citizens and friends of the band will turn out and give them a benefit. The new instruments will be here by that time and the boys will test their musical qualities. C. Nauman's orchestra will furnish music for the dance.

We hope the visitors to the Enterprise counting room will not think we have gone into the produce business, for such is not the case. The display of corn, potatoes, etc., was furnished by our farmer friends who, recognizing the popularity of the place, put these products where they can be seen. We take great interest in agriculture and endeavor to please our farmer friends, and give them a good newspaper. We invite everybody to call at the office and see the display, it is worth the trouble.

Last week was the first time we ever saw a democratic ticket at the head of the editorial columns of the Ann Arbor courier.

It is about time a lantern or lamp is put in front of Kimble's new block nights so people can get past without breaking their necks. Complaints are getting numerous.

The Alumni Association are working hard to sell 200 season tickets for the lecture course, and are meeting with good success so far. Everyone ought to encourage it.

A Pittsfield man on his way home from Texas, stopped in town on Tuesday. He had a sweet potato that weighed 15 pounds, which he had "toted" from the Lone Star, State.

The first entertainment of the alumni lecture course will be a lecture by Dr. Jas. B. Angell, of the University, on "China and Chinese," at Goodyear Hall, Friday evening the 24th.

C. M. Case the old reliable lumber dealer has taken a new departure and put in a stock of mixed paints of the celebrated "prepared" brand, as will be seen by his new advertisement.

The Sunday school concert at the M. E. church on Sunday evening was a very enjoyable affair. The children acquitted themselves finely, and the house was packed with admiring spectators.

The corner band boys have raised a sufficient sum of money by subscription to buy a new set of instruments, which will be here the last of the month. The band is doing well for a new organization.

They had a little jubilee in town on Thursday night. Two bonfires were lighted, anvils and several boxes of fire crackers were fired, the band played several pieces, the bovs shouted, and the men grinned.

Orders for tax receipts are pouring in from all sections of Southern Michigan, and are being filled with promptness, as are all orders for printing sent to the Enterprise office. Our prices are the lowest in the State.

Good wood is very scarce here this fall, indeed wood of any kind is scarce. It is estimated that it would take at least 1,000 cords of wood to take the place of the land cord remained in and about the village each winter.

Look out that there is nothing unpleasant left about the premises and yards that will be apt to breed scarlet fever, diphtheria, etc. Other towns are suffering, and it stands us all in hand to be careful at this time of the year.

"Bell's Brilliants" showed in Adrian Monday night. The Times does not give them a flattering notice. We cannot understand why it is that Buffalo, Detroit and other city papers give such laudatory "puffs" to that class of shows.

George Kirkwood of Sharon left a sugar beet at the Enterprise office that weighed 9½ pounds. He had one weighing 11½ pounds which he intended to bring, but it was eaten. They were raised in his garden at Sharon Hollow.

Mrs. Dea. Conklin was kicked on the knee by elder Munger's horse, a few days ago, and is suffering a good deal of pain from it. A careless boy had put the horse in the wrong stall and when Mrs. C. went into the barn the beast kicked her.

The Enterprise Publishing House is filling orders for holiday books, to the trade throughout the United States.

J. R. Holman brought in some fine turnips this morning to add to the show of products at the Enterprise office.

The prodige buyers are in the field gathering up poultry. They say there is not a democratic rooster for sale in Michigan.

Under the proper heading will be found the notice of the death of Elder Tompkins formerly a Baptist preacher in this place.

They are putting the window and door casings in the new Kimble block and will be ready for the plate glass in a day or two.

Our German readers should call and see those German holiday books, published by the Enterprise Publishing House.

Farmers call at the Enterprise office and see the corn, potatoes, etc., on exhibition. If you have any large corn or vegetables bring in samples.

Work on the Lutheran church progresses finely. The frescoing looks beautiful. They are putting in the pulpit, and expect the seats along soon.

Fred Layher has moved the old shop that stood beside his house on Railroad street, to the rear of his lot near the river, and will make a barn of it.

Have you tried to look through a smoked glass darkly and see the spot on the sun astronomers say that is visible between three and four o'clock.

Our streets are filled daily with farmers teams drawing produce to market. We have not seen so lively times in produce in some time as since the cold snap.

Royal Arch Masons will be interested in learning that there will be an exaltation by Clinton chapter No. 40, R. A. M., on Tuesday evening the 21st inst.

The playing of Bell's band, the howling of a whip pedler, the hilarity of the small urchins also of a few larger ones, made the streets uncommonly lively Friday.

Several new publications have been added to our clubbing list this season, and those intending to subscribe for papers or magazines will do well to give us a call.

PERSONAL.

Miss Lizzie Vogel has recovered from her recent sickness.

Harney Gorman of Sharon has gone to Petoskey to work in a saw mill.

Mr. M. M. Gregory of Salitle, favored us with a call on Thursday last.

Mr. & Mrs. G. P. Reynolds of Shelby, Ohio, are visiting E. Lusk and family.

We were pleased to receive a call this afternoon from Rev. Robertus, of Chelsea.

Dr. A. B. Conklin of Elk Rapids, was here this week visiting relatives and friends.

E. C. Rouse of Albion a nephew of L. S. Hurlburt of Sharon, was in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Sanford Howard of Lansing, has been visiting friends in this vicinity the past week.

E. A. Nordman, county drain commissioner called at the Enterprise office this afternoon.

Mr. & Mrs. Wescott of Homer are visiting friends in town to-day, and go to Clinton to-morrow.

W. T. Perkins of San Francisco, Cal., has our thanks for a copy of "The Morning Call" of the 5th.

Mrs. A. J. Austin of Napoleon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mat D. Blosser, in this village this week.

Mrs. Elmer Cushman, who has been visiting relation and friends here the past week returned home on Tuesday.

Miss Jennie L. Moore, of the Enterprise office, is visiting in Toledo, Ohio, with her friend, Mrs. R. C. Miller.

Miss Emma Abley from Lowville, N. Y., arrived Wednesday last to start in the millinery business with Lizzie Vogel.

We are pleased to learn that the McMahon boys at Ludington, who have been very sick of late, are now improving.

We learn that Mr. Godard, husband of Mrs. Bessie Miller, of Leadville, Col., has been elected judge with a salary of $5,000 a year.

Mrs. N. A. Saxon went to Detroit on Tuesday, to attend a quarterly college of Universalist ministers which is held there this week.

Mrs. Rev. N. A. Saxton is expected home in a week from Illinois, where she has been for the past 12 weeks attending the sick bed of a sister.

Leroy George of Tuscola county is back to his old home for a short visit. He reports everything as fine and prosperous up in his northern home, and says Uncle Dan LeBaron is as hale and hearty as ever. He brought samples of Tuscola county corn which can be seen at the Enterprise office.

There is a good many omens concerning cats, that even the wise and unsuperstitious do not disbelieve. For instance, if a cat lie asleep on its spine with feet pointing ceiling-wards, its a sign of storm. A cat washing its face previous to having partaken of a full meal, is a sign of unexpected company. A cat alone, near a piece of delicious fresh beefsteak, is a sign that something is going to be lost. If a cat sits with its back to the back fence, with a good voice, is a sign of trouble—for the cat. Two cats found with their tails tied together over a clothes line, is a sign of agreement to "fight it out on that line" etc. To step on a cat's tail is a sign that the feline will come right up to the scratch without hesitation. If a cat will not get up a fuss on action on the subject they're welcome to this cat-egory.

Our much esteemed townspeople, Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Baxter, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last week Wednesday. They were married in Yates county N. Y. in 1832. The following May they came to Michigan and settled in Lima, where Mr. B. worked at the carpenter's trade. Four years later they came to Manchester and from here they went to Clinton and Sylvan, finally returning here in '38 when he soon engaged in business and has continued until this day, being the oldest merchant in town. They have been a jolly couple and their home is one of the pleasant places to visit we know of. May they live to enjoy many returns of the day.

Our photographer, S. Davis, has lately been adding a number of very fine stereoscopic views of scenes in and around our beautiful village, to his extensive collection. He has now about three dozen views, and we dare say that for fine scenery and style of workmanship they are unexcelled. Our village and the valley of the river Raisin abounds in romantic scenery, and our citizens should get a set of views for the center table, or to send to friends. They can be had at Mr. Davis' gallery or at the Enterprise counting room.

Fred Bagshaw and a party of young men left here last week for the north woods, but before starting they subscribed for the Enterprise for six months so they could get the news from home every week. We have just heard from them and will send the paper to Camp Loomis, Isabella county. That's the way to do it boys, when you go away from home have the Enterprise sent to you, it costs but a trifle and is better then a letter. We will change the address if you change your location.

Some folks say that the candidates who "got left" lay it all to the comet. Poor thing, we warrant it'll go and bump its head against the sun again—out of pure grief.

The Episcopal church society at Clinton have started a Sunday school.

County exchanges are trying to stir up the people into providing good fire departments in every town. Certainly is well to be prepared for fires emergencies.

S. C. Bliss of Deerfield has concluded not to move to Canada, the government wanted to inspect even his canned fruit and he would not stand it. He will go to Alma, Gratiot county.

A special meeting of all the members of the Alumni Association will be held on Saturday evening next, at 7 o'clock p. m. sharp, at the Enterprise office, for the purpose of electing a Treasurer.

By order of com.

In our advertising columns will be found an announcement of a new paper to be started in Chicago soon, entitled "The Peoples' Weekly." It is to be illustrated, and is published by the well known firm of Rand, McNally & Co. It will no doubt be a first-class paper. They offer great inducements to those who desire to contend for a prize.

Our young readers will be interested in reading the advertisement of St. Nicholas, the Century company's magazine, in another column of the Enterprise. St. Nicholas is unquestionably without a parallel in this country and as its fast increasing circulation in Europe has our thanks for a copy of "The Morning Call" of the 5th.

Mrs. A. J. Austin of Napoleon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mat D. Blosser, in this village this week.

Mrs. Elmer Cushman, who has been visiting relation and friends here the past week returned home on Tuesday.

They say that the republicans in Norvell were so bewildered by the election returns, that they could not hear the tucker of the boys made at the jubilee on Saturday night.

Esquire A. A. Pierce of Grass Lake met with quite a severe accident lately, being precipitated to the ground from a scaffolding, a distance of about 15 feet. He was quite severely injured.

The News says that Grass Lake property holders propose to find out if the law in regard to stock running at large in the streets can be enforced, if it can they will take down their yard fences.

The Jackson Citizen says: Well seasoned oak and hickory wood to the amount of 120 cords has been purchased for the city poor. This, together with that on hand, and the old Nicholson pavement blocks will, it is hoped, keep the frost from their hearths during the winter.

The Lake Shore has put in extra tracks at Jackson and we understand they intend soon to run all passenger trains into their new depot (the old Fort Wayne depot), and all freight trains to the old Lake Shore depot. This arrangement will make it much more convenient for passengers transfering from one road to the other, and just as handy for city passengers.

Lillie Charley Allen, a 14-year-old daughter of John N. Squires, a few days since shot and killed two wild swans, on Allen's lake, in Rives, just west of the Henretta line. One of them, the male bird, measured seven feet from tip to tip. The pair should be placed in the hands of a skillful taxidermist, as they are rare birds in this region.—Jackson Citizen. All right, send them to Ed. Kief, Manchester, who will mount them in fine style.

The Adrian Times asks: How badly does anybody want Navin captured?

Rev. Joseph St. John of Detroit is now rector of St. John's Episcopal church at Clinton.

Last Sunday evening as Culver Harper with Miss Esther Bancroft was riding through town they were met by Frank Nicolai who was driving rapidly and not looking ahead for breakers. Callie attempted to give his share of the road but their buggies collided overturning them both. Callie's buggy sustained but slight injury, while Frank's was badly wrecked, the parties escaped without serious injury.

Alvinza Hunter's 72d birthday was the occasion of a very pleasant pioneer gathering at the residence of M. B. Hunt, on Tuesday, August the 15th. There were twenty-two in attendance including all the pioneers now left in the neighborhood excepting Mrs. Mary S. B. Palmer. The following gentlemen were present with their wives: Wm. Avery, James Gardner, Jacob Bowker, Reuben Harris, Wilder Bancroft, Addison Hunt and J. P. Murphy. Mrs. M. J. Blanchard and Mrs. Mary ConVerse of Auntica, were also present. The oldest Mrs. Charlie is 81 years, and the youngest, Mrs. Merrill 32 years. The sum of all their ages including Mr. Hunt's is 1,035, their average years being 37. The afternoon was spent in reminiscences of old times and the changes which have taken place since the first settlement was made in these parts by Uncle William Hunt. Papers...

THURSDAY, NOV. 16, 1882.

LOCAL NEWS BREVITIES.

Did you get some soap?

Wood is in good demand.

The first snow flakes of the season on Monday morning.

We have a Thanksgiving story which will be printed soon.

Who is going to preach the Thanksgiving sermon this year?

Kimble will occupy Dr. Conklin's corner store for a few days.

Extra copies of the ENTERPRISE can be had at the counting room.

John Chadwick has sold his home at East Manchester to John Faist.

Our merchants hail the increasing cold weather with great satisfaction.

Nose. Conklin started a billiard saloon in the 3rd story over Bailey & Osborn's.

Reader can't you send us some items of news from your neighborhood? We want all the news.

Our readers should be sure and read the farmers' club report on the 4th page, also sheep notes, etc.

Mr. Kent having purchased the old corn exchange building, will move it on his lot on Water street.

E. Steadman received two deer and a pair of saddles of venison, from his son who is up north, yesterday.

Will our farmer friends report to the ENTERPRISE the amount of Corn they raised to the acre this year.

The Enterprise Publishing House is filling orders for holiday books, to the trade throughout the United States.

J. R. Holman brought in some fine turnips this morning to add to the show of produce at the ENTERPRISE office.

The produce buyers are in the field gathering up poultry. They say there is not a democratic rooster for sale in Michigan.

Under the proper heading will be found the notice of the death of Elder Tompkins formerly a Baptist preacher in this place.

They are putting the window and door casings in the new Kimble block and will be ready for the plate glass in a day or two.

Our German readers should call and see those German holiday books, published by the Enterprise Publishing House.

Farmers call at the ENTERPRISE office and see the corn, potatoes, etc., on exhibition. If you have any large corn or vegetables bring in samples.

Work on the Lutheran church progresses finely. The frescoing looks beautiful. They are putting up the pulpit, and expect the seats along soon.

Fred Layher has moved the old shop that stood beside his house on Railroad street, to the rear of his lot near the river, and will make a barn of it.

Have you tried to look through a smoked glass darkly, or look at the spot on the sun astronomers say that is visible between three and four o'clock.

Our streets are filled daily with farmers teams, hawking produce to market. We have not seen so many teams in produce in song time as since the cold snap.

Royal Arch Masons will be interested in learning that there will be a communication of Clinton chapter No. 4, R. A. M., on Monday evening the 21st inst.

The hawking of bulbs about the country is a whip podger, the charity of the small trade, and of few larger ones, made the streets uncommonly lively Friday.

Several new publications have been added to our clubbing list this season, and those intending to subscribe for a newspaper will do well to give us a call.

Last week was the first time we ever saw a democratic ticket at the head of the editorial columns of the Ann Arbor courier.

It is about time a lantern or lamp is put in front of Kimble's new block nights so people can get past without breaking their necks. Complaints are getting numerous.

The Alumni Association are working hard to sell 200 season tickets for the lecture course, and are meeting with good success thus far. Everyone ought to encourage it.

A Pittsfield man on his way home from Texas, stopped in town on Tuesday. He had a basket of...

...pounds, which he had "toted" from the Lone Star State.

The first entertainment of the alumni lecture course will be a lecture by Dr. Jas. B. Angell, of the University of Michigan and General" at Goodyear Hall, Friday evening the 24th.

C. H. Case the old reliable lumber dealer, has taken a new departure and put in a stock of mixed paints, the celebrated "prepared" brand, as will be seen by his new advertisement.

The Sunday school concert at the M. E. church on Sunday evening was a very enjoyable affair. The children acquitted themselves finely, and the house was packed with admiring spectators.

The corner band boys have raised a sufficient sum of money by subscription to buy a new set of instruments, which will be here the last of the month. The band is doing well for a new organization.

They had a little jubilee in town on Thursday night. Two bonfires were lighted, anvils, and several boxes of fire crackers were fired, the band played several pieces, the boys shouted, and the men rejoiced.

Orders for tax receipts are pouring in from all sections of Southern Michigan, and are being filled with promptness, as are also orders for printing sent to the ENTERPRISE office. Our prices are the lowest in the State.

Good wood is very scarce here this fall, indeed wood of any kind is scarce. It is estimated that it would take at least 1,000 cords of wood to take the place of the land of coal consumed in and about this village each winter.

Look out that there is nothing unclean-ly left about the premises and yards that will be apt to breed scarlet fever, diphtheria, etc. Other towns are suffering and it is well to all in band to be careful at this time of the year.

"Bell's Brilliants" showed in Adrian Monday night. The Times does not give them a flattering notice. We can not understand why it is that Buffalo, Detroit and Adrian papers give such laudable "puffs" to that class of shows.

George Kirkwood of Sharon left a sugar beet at the ENTERPRISE office that weighed 9½ pounds. He had one weighing 11½ pounds which he intended to bring but it was eaten. They were raised in his garden at Sharon Hollow.

Mrs. Rha Conklin was kicked on the knee by elder Munger's horse, a few days ago, and is suffering a good deal of pain from it. A careless boy had put the horse in the wrong stall and when Mrs. C. went into the barn the beast kicked her.

The way trains run our Sorvell and Napoleon friends can come down and attend the entertainments given by the county association this winter and get home the same night. It will pay them to secure season tickets for the course.

They say that an old lake captain who has been a keen observer of lots of weather, declares that we shall have open weather till December, and a rather moderate winter, with enough snow to make business lively. Good; that's just the kind we've spoken for.

Dells' Brilliants" appeared at Goodyear Hall on Friday evening last, to a fair audience. The street music was fine and the band made a fine appearance. The entertainment in the hall was fair, but nothing extra. The Lucier family did the largest part of the work.

Slang is a dangerous language. Recently, when a handsome young lady went to a hardware store to get one of those wooden contrivances to mash potatoes, and said, "I want a masher," every man in the shop, from the boss to the stove blacker started to wait on her.

During the jollification on the east side of the river on Thursday evening last the stairway leading to the second story of the Dorp block, suddenly fell down. It was quite fortunate for the boys who had not yet finished their fun, as the fire was falling low, but the owner has to refix it.

The Manchester cornet band will give their second ball, on Thanksgiving evening, Thursday, November 30th, at Goodyear's Hall, the first party was so well attended that they have no doubt our citizens and friends of the band will turn out and give them a benefit. The new instruments will be here some time and the boys will let their musical qualities loose on the orchestra with fervent music for the dance.

We hope the writer to the ENTERPRISE counting room will not think we have gone into the produce business, when we state to-day that the price of corn, potatoes, etc., was furnished us by our farmer friends, for reporting the variety of the prices, not the produce where they can be seen. We take great interest in agriculture and endeavor to please our farmer friends, and give them a good newspaper. We invite every body to call at the office and see the display.

The Manchester church society at Clinton has started a Sunday school.

PERSONAL.

Miss Lizzie Vogel has recovered from her recent sickness.

Barney Gorman of Sharon has gone to Petoskey to work in a saw mill.

Mr. M. M. Gregory of Saline, favored us with a call on Thursday last.

Mr. & Mrs. G. P. Reynolds of Shelby, Ohio, are visiting E. Luick and family.

We were pleased to receive a call this afternoon from Rev. Roberts, of Chelsea.

Dr. A. B. Conklin of Elk Rapids, was here this week visiting relatives and friends.

R. C. Rose of Albion a brother of L. S. Hurlburt of Sharon, was in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Sanford Howard of Lansing, has been visiting friends in this vicinity the past week.

E. A. Nordness, county drain commissioner called at the ENTERPRISE office this afternoon.

Mr. & Mrs. Wescott of Homer are visiting friends in town to-day, and go to Clinton to-morrow.

W. T. Perkins of San Francisco, Cal., has our thanks for a copy of "The Morning Call of the 5th.

Mrs. A. J. Austin of Napoleon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mat D. Blosser, in this village this week.

Mrs. Elmer Cushman, who has been visiting relation and friends here the past week returned home on Tuesday.

Miss Jennie L. Moore, of the ENTERPRISE office, is visiting in Toledo, Ohio, with her friend Mrs. R. C. Miller.

Miss Emma Abbey from Lowville, N. Y., arrived Wednesday last to start in the millinery business with Lizzie Vogel.

We are pleased to learn that the Mc-Mahon boys at Ludington, who have been very sick of late, are now improving.

We learn that Mr. Godard, husband of Mrs. Bessie Miller, of Leadville, Col., has been elected judge with a salary of $5,000 a year.

Rev. N. A. Saxon went to Detroit on Tuesday, to attend a quarterly college of Universalist ministers which is held there this week.

Mrs. Rev. N. A. Saxton is expected home to-morow, from Illinois, where she has been for the past 13 weeks attending the sick bed of a sister.

Leroy George of Tuscola county is back to his old home for a short visit. He reports everything as fine and prosperous up in his northern home, and says Uncle Dan LeBaron is as hale and hearty as ever. He brought samples of Tuscola county corn which can be seen at the ENTERPRISE office.

There is a good many omens concerning cats, that even the wise and unsuperstitious do not disbelieve. For instance, if a cat lie asleep on its spine with feet pointing ceiling-wards, its a sign of storm. A cat washing its face previous to having partaken of a full meal, is a sign of unexpected company. A cat alone, near a piece of delicious fresh beefsteak, is a sign that something is going to be lost, also of a mad cook. A cat on the back fence, with a good voice, is a sign of trouble—for the cat. Two cats found with their tails tied together over a clothes line, is a sign of agreement to "fight it out on that line" etc. To step on a cat's tail is a sign that the feline will come right up to the scratch without hesitation. If any one wants to get up a cat-echism on this subject they're welcome to this writing.

Our much esteemed townspeople, Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Baxter, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last week Wednesday. They were married in Yates county N. Y. in 1822. The following May they came to Michigan and settled in Lima, where Mr. B. worked at the carpenter's trade. Four years later they came to Manchester and from here they went to Clinton and Sylvan, finally returning here in '28 when he soon engaged in business and has continued until this day, being the oldest merchant in town. They have been a jolly couple and their home is one of the pleasantest places to visit we know of. May they live to enjoy many returns of the day.

Our photographer, S. Davis, has lately been adding a number of very fine stereoscopic views of scenes in and around our beautiful village, to his extensive collection. He has now about three dozen views, and we dare say that for fine scenery and style of workmanship they cannot be excelled. Our village and the valley of the river, Raisin, abounds in romantic scenery, and our citizens should get a set of views for the centre table, or to send to friends. They can be had at Mr. Davis' gallery or at the ENTERPRISE counting room.

Fred Boomer and a party of young men have just been at work for the past week putting up the telephone wires for the ENTERPRISE for six months or they could get the news from Lima every week. We have just heard from them and they are all well and enjoying themselves hugely. That's the way to do it boys, when you go away from home have the ENTERPRISE sent to you and you get it a little and it better than a letter. We can change the address if you change your location.

Some fellow say that the candidates who "got left" lay it all to the comet. Poor thing, we warrant it'll go and bump its head against the sun again out of pure spite.

SHARON.

From our Town Hall Correspondent.

The first snow of the season, Monday last.

Mr. Cushman of Sharon made a short trip to his son's, near Ann Arbor, last week.

Mrs. Cushman of Ann Arbor is now visiting at her father-in-law's, Mr. S. Cushman.

Mr. & Mrs. Duncan of Saginaw have been the guests of David Rose, Esq., the past week.

A new iron pump has been placed in the well at the parsonage, and the windless is now a thing of the past.

Mrs. Murch, who has been spending a few weeks at her father's, A. Parks, Esq., returned to Iowa Saturday.

George F. Robison, assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne county, was the honored guest of his father, J. J. Robison, Esq., last Sunday.

Mr. & Mrs. Eaman of Livingston county, son-in-law and daughter of John J. Robison, spent a few days in Sharon visiting relatives and friends.

A new stove was placed in the North church last Tuesday. It was purchased at the store of Mr. Kingsley, who generously donated part of the cost.

The trustees of the North church have called in the treasury, and have appointed D. G. Rose and W. F. Hall an executive committee to arrange for the reshingling of the roof forthwith.

Mr. S. Smith had a narrow escape with his life Monday. After loading the wagon with cornstalks, he took the lines and started the team when one of the irons on the hames broke, the tongue fell out and he was pulled head-foremost on the ground, falling right under the horses, which were caught by the hired man. Mr. Smith received a blow on the side of the head, which has left its mark, but whether from a kick or the whiffle-tree cannot be told. How he escaped being killed on the spot is a mystery.

The Sharon literary society held its regular meeting Tuesday night. It was the best yet held. The musical programme well merited the applause which it received. Miss Hood presided at the instrument, and was ably assisted in the vocal line by Mrs. Allen and Messrs. Crafts and Moore. Declamations by W. Comstock and Mr. Minot. Hood and Osborn were fairly spoken. Much interest centered in the debate, it being the first given in connection with the society, and the question justified the more on the part of the committee. The opening address of George Osborn was masterly, and he gave every promise of becoming a choice speaker. The remarks of Messrs Moore and Crafts were logical and to the question and the papers of Messrs Allen and Kirkwood were pithy and to the point. The question was argued for by the affirmative by the audience. The question for discussion at the next meeting is "Which exerts the greater power money or national law." Messrs. Wilbur Comstock and George Kirkwood are the respective leaders.

County exchanges are trying to stir up the people into providing good fire departments in every town. It certainly is well to be prepared for fire emergencies.

A C. P. Bliss or Deerfield has concluded not to engage in Canada—the government wanted to inspect even his canned fruit and he would not stand it. He will go to Lima, Gratiot county.

A special meeting of all the members of the Alumni Association will be held on Saturday evening next, for the purpose of electing a Treasurer.

By order of com.

By our advertising columns will be found an announcement of a new paper to be started in Clinton soon, entitled "The People's Weekly." It is to be illustrated, and be published by the well known firm of Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago. It will be a first class paper, in all other great respects, and we wish it success to contend for a prize.

Our young readers will be interested in reading the advertisement of Mr. Nicholas in another column. The ENTERPRISE, St. Nicholas is unquestionably without a rival in the country, and its circulation is rapidly increasing. Europe would demote it stands preeminently at the head of the class in England. It is richly illustrated and printed on first class paper by contributors are of the very best, and whoever has the opportunity of reading a single number becomes infatuated with it. The ENTERPRISE and St. Nicholas are furnished at club rates.

SHARON.

From our Town Hall Correspondent.

The first snow of the season, Monday last.

Mr. Cushman of Sharon made a short trip to his son's, near Ann Arbor, last week.

Mr. & Mrs. Cushman of Ann Arbor is now visiting at her father-in-law's, Mr. S. Cushman.

Mr. & Mrs. Duncan of Saginaw have been the guests of David Rose, Esq., the past week.

A new iron pump has been placed in the well at the parsonage, and the windless is now a thing of the past.

Mrs. Murch, who has been spending a few weeks at her father's, A. Parks, Esq., returned to Iowa Saturday.

George F. Robison, assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne county, was the honored guest of his father, J. J. Robison, Esq., last Sunday.

Mr. & Mrs. Eaman of Livingston county, son-in-law and daughter of John J. Robison, spent a few days in Sharon visiting relatives and friends.

A new stove was placed in the North church last Tuesday. It was purchased at the store of Mr. Kingsley, who generously donated part of the cost.

The trustees of the North church have called in the treasury, and have appointed D. G. Rose and W. F. Hall an executive committee to arrange for the reshingling of the roof forthwith.

Mr. S. Smith had a narrow escape with his life Monday. After loading the wagon with cornstalks, he took the lines and started the team when one of the irons on the hames broke, the tongue fell out and he was pulled head-foremost on the ground, falling right under the horses, which were caught by the hired man. Mr. Smith received a blow on the side of the head, which has left its mark, but whether from a kick or the whiffle-tree cannot be told. How he escaped being killed on the spot is a mystery.

The Sharon literary society held its regular meeting Tuesday night. It was the best yet held. The musical programme well merited the applause which it received. Miss Hood presided at the instrument, and was ably assisted in the vocal line by Mrs. Allen and Messrs. Crafts and Moore. Declamations by W. Comstock and Mr. Minot. Hood and Osborn were fairly spoken. Much interest centered in the debate, it being the first given in connection with the society, and the question justified the more on the part of the committee. The opening address of George Osborn was masterly, and he gave every promise of becoming a choice speaker. The remarks of Messrs Moore and Crafts were logical and to the question and the papers of Messrs Allen and Kirkwood were pithy and to the point. The question was argued for by the affirmative by the audience. The question for discussion at the next meeting is "Which exerts the greater power money or national law." Messrs. THE FARMERS' CLUB.

The November meeting of the Southern Washtenaw Farmers Club was held at the residence of H. C. Calhoun, in Bridgewater, on Friday last.

The weather was very disagreeable, but the turnout was large and the meeting was a very interestsng one. It was hoped that vice president Junius Short would be able to attend this meeting as it was near his residence, but his health would not permit, and the members expressed great disappointment. Mrs. Howard, of Lansing, relict of the late Sanford Howard, secretary of the Agricultural College, was present.

Readers of the ENTERPRISE will remember that the club offered prizes for the best five acres of corn, divided into three premiums of $5, $3 and $2. There was 10 contestants and each one was to exhibit six ears of corn at the November meeting, when the prizes would be awarded. Some of the members failed to "show up." Following is a list of exhibitors together with variety, and weight of six ears;

S. M. Merithew, Sharon, yellow dent.....7 lbs 6 oz
J. F. Spafard, Manchester, yellow dent,.6lbs. 12oz
B. G. English, Manchester, white dent,..6 lbs. 4 oz
" " " smut nose,..5 lbs. 12 oz
R. Green, Manchester, strawberry dent, 5 lbs. 12 o.*
" " " yellow dent,.....6 lbs 5 oz
John Horning, Norvell, white dent,.....6 lbs. 10 oz
Wm. Bowers, Sharon, yellow dent,.....7 lbs.
*J. G English, Manchester, white dent, 6 lbs. 13 oz
*W. W. Hess, Bridgewater, yellow dent, 6 lbs. 2 oz
" " " yellow dent, 6 lbs. 8 oz.

* Not competing.

Convenient tables were arranged for the display of corn and potatoes, and the exhibit was very fine.

The display of potatoes was as follows. B. G. English, 7 varieties; J. G. English, 13 varieties; Richard Green, 4 varieties, W. W. Hess, 4 varieties, and S. M Merithew, 11 varieties.

After the members had spent considerable time in talking corn and "taters" they were seated in groups and invited to partake of oyster pie, pressed chicken, cold meats, preserves, etc., which they all enjoyed.

The wants of the inner man being supplied, president Merithew called the meeting to order, and after the regular routine business was disposed of Mrs. D W. Palmer read a selection "Land Poor," in her usual happy style.

The secretary reported that he had corresponded with the secretary of the Agricultural College regarding the holding of an institute here next winter, but could give no dates.

The president called for the report on corn, which the secretary read as follows.

NAME.	Bush. on 5 acres.	Ave'ge per acre.	Premium.
S. M. Merithew,	360	72	$3 00
B. G. English,	681	136	2 00
Wm. Bowers,	325	65	1 00
Richard Green,	715	143
John Horning,	640	128
John F. Spafard,	850	170
Frank Spafard,	690	138

On motion the prizes were awarded in accordance with the above.

The premiums on potatoes were awarded as follows: J. G. English, 1st, $1.50; S. M. Merithew, 2nd, 90 cents, Richard Green, 3d, 60 cents.

The club decided that the specimens of corn and potatoes should be taken to the ENTERPRISE office for exhibition so that farmers and others could see what kind of produce they raise, and invite comparison.

The next meeting will be held at Wm. Bowers' in Sharon on Friday forenoon, December 1st. The subject for discussion will be "How are we as farmers to increase our profits and still keep up the fertility of the soil."

We are under obligations to our friends Mr. & Mrs. John Horning of Norvell, who kindly took us and our "better half" to and from Mr. Calhoun's.

The secretary hands us the following;

VIEWING COMMITTEE'S REPORT;

Mr. Calhoun is on a farm of one hundred acres, stocked with seven horses, eight head of cattle, (the most of them being thoroughbred short horns,) one hundred sheep, twenty four of which are on Vermont register, and thirty five on American register; also eighteen hogs. Since the last meeting at this place he has remodeled his barns and painted them, built a commodious hennery, and has laid one hundred rods of tile. His crops for the year are five hundred and twenty bushels of wheat, two hundred and eighty of oats, and eight hundred of corn; also forty tons of hay.

D. R. PALMER, Secretary

Sheep Notes.

Wesly J. Garlock of Howell lately sold to E. C. Rouse of Albion, a Shropshire ram for $25.

Will N. Adams, the breeder of thoroughbred sheep, has just received a fine yearling Merino ram from Vermont, for which he paid a fabulous price.—Citizen

Wm. Judson of Chelsea shipped 4,000 sheep to Texas last week. Fifteen triple deck cars were used, and the freight charges for transportation will be $158 per car or $2,325 for the whole. Mr. Judson was accompanied by several friends who will take observations concerning sheep raising in Texas.

L. H. Sheeler of Cambridge, has just imported from Vermont, at a cost of $200, a 2 year old stock ram (Registered No. 61.) from the flock of John Hamilton & Son, sired by Ironsides the 4th. Said ram at a public shearing cut 31½ pounds of wool, 2nd fleece. Cambridge evidently means to stand second to none in the line of thoroughbred sheep.

Sales of sheep by R. S. King & Son, of Bridgewater, since November 1st. To Charles Rogers, Bridgewater, one ram, No. 82; to G. R. Brown, Clinton, one ram, No. 88; to A. Hunt, Franklin, one ram, No. 87; to Arthur Diffle, Franklin, one ram, No. 11; to Wilson Borough, Franklin, five breeding ewes, eight ewe lambs, and one ram lamb, No. 82.

It is reccommended that those who have bees to winter and intend placing them in cellars or garrets, should carefully do so as soon as the ground has quite a frozen crust. As darkness and quietness are among the main features in the process of wintering bees, it is well to spread old carpets or some kind of cover over the hives. Many have successfully wintered bees in this manner with less than 60 pounds of honey to the hive. It takes about twice as much honey to keep bees out of doors, and precautions to protect them from the severe cold should be used. Perhaps one of the best protectors is straw, which is used to pack between the hive and also as a covering.

The Industrial Record wonders why it is that farmers will sell their cow and heifers to the butcher for two or three cents per pound and use only pork for meat that would readily sell for more than double the price per pound that "butchers stock" brings in the market. Why is it? Do farmers prefer a strictly pork diet, or is it the result of habit. At present prices a big fat hog will purchase a good beef animal weighing nearly three times as much, and as beef is considered the more healthful meat it seems that there is no excuse for an exclusive pork diet, unless preferance dictates it.

To Stock Breeders.

We wish our friends in reporting sales of stock would give prices received whenever possible. It makes the items more interesting.

A child upon being asked by her teacher why it was that she could not understand a simple part of her lesson, replied with a perplexed look; "I have so many things to learn that I have no time to understand." This a good illustration of the "cramming" process.

A gentleman who has tried the experiment says that in uniting bees, he took slices of raw onion and put it in with the colonies the night before, and in the morning united them. The bees all smelling of onion and there was no fighting.

A habitually sleepy man was once asked if he ever rose early. He replied that once he did, but he was so proud all the morning and so sleepy all the afternoon that he determined never to do it again.

Prospecting for Mines.

While the number of men who become confirmed, habitual, professional prospectors is but small, few of the many who once yield to the fascination of the the pursuit ever rid themselves entirely of a yearning to indulge in the promised delights with which both memory and expectation tempt their weakness. Bring me to the man who has once been a prospector, though in long years gone by, and who, perhaps, sacrificed his all—his hopes in every direction—on the altar of a four-foot stone monument, with a notice thereon of his having located such and such a claim, and even while his mouth contains the words denouncing himself as a fool and an idiot for wasting his substance on a dream, I shall with no greater charm than this piece of stone that I hold in my hand bring a fire into his eyes and a ring into his voice that will prove the old Adam and the new to be one and the same man; unregenerate and unchangeable in heart. Bring to me such a man—bring even him who has "made his pile" and has become a fat and indifferent owner of hotels and theaters; fetch them both here to this tent, leave them to the mercies of this camp to-night, and doubt not that to-morrow will see plethoric success and lean failure nosing around the hole in yonder hill, peering through magnifying glasses, talking of dips and strikes, walls and gangues, shafts and drifts, as if there were but one matter that was not vanity in the wide world, and that matter prospecting. Very likely we shall have old Bullion as well as old Barren Quartz down in the hole, the one holding a drill and the other swinging a hammer, just to show how they used to do it.

There are men who prospect by proxy, giving "grub stakes" to needy members of the craft of prospectors and sharing in the results of discoveries. Such men know none of the real pleasures of the occupation. Even if the hunt prove a fortunate one, and the quarry be the fattest of bucks, those men can but gorge themselves from the saddle or haunch and have left untasted the more delicious flavor of the long persistent pursuit, the careful following of the trail, the exultation as the game comes in sight, the time of nervous doubts whether, after all, the true game be there and not a mere shadow, and the supreme final moment when the hunter stands a victor over the object of his chase, victorious through his own craftsmanship and endurance. The men who do the actual work and feel the sensible roughnesses of prospectors' lives derive the keenest enjoyment from the calling—from the unrestraint of camp life, the contact with nature in some of its most curious and occasionally most beautiful moods; from the entrancing uncertainty and the spice of adventure that goes with an open air mountain existence. The pleasures of the sportsman, the man of science, the speculator, the poet, the inventor, the traveler, and of him who exerts his muscle and nerve in some agreeable industry are all borne in upon the prospector according to his capacity for the reception of such enjoyments. Of course, but one in a hundred of the men who try their hands at prospecting ever think of these things, but none the less, rather the more, do they feel them.

It is a strange motley procession that year after year comes up from the eastward to the mountains to increase the number of present and past prospectors. Representatives of nearly every industrial walk in life are to be found in the ranks; some who have failed in the vocation of their choice or to which circumstances ordered them, and who hope by one lucky stroke to retrieve their fortunes; others, restless spirits, with a craving for adventure and excitement; others with a sweet, blind belief that the roads in the West are paved with gold and silver, to be had by anybody who will take the trouble of picking it up. I once came across two Baltimore boys—almost men in years—who were provided with about forty of the small sacks in which smoking tobacco is retailed, the sacks being a present from some friendly Baltimorean tobacconist, and intended to hold the gold dust which the lads were to accumulate out of the irrigation ditches of Denver, I suppose. I remember now that one of those young men had also a very minute and useless pistol, and when I asked him why he brought that thing with him he answered that he had expected to fight Indians. And there are staid, solid-appearing farmers from the Missouri River and far east of that stream, who approach the mountains with an impregnable belief that all they have to do is sink a hole on the first hill which they may encounter in order to uncover a vein of pure precious metal. The presumption of people such as these, who could not tell limestone from granite or a piece of Philadelphia brick from either, is simply superb. Then there is the man with a "divining rod," who believes in Spiritualism—whatever it may be—and who professes to be guided by the movements of his whalebones attached to a metalic tube. The number of persons who think it possible that there may, after all, be something in the divining rod's power is far from inconsiderable, although not many are willing to own as much openly and frankly. Individuals, who in coming to a mining country had no intention of engaging in the disturbance of the earth's hidden riches, who indeed had vowed that they would not be tempted from the safer paths of progress, are likely to be found before long as thoroughly wood of the mania for prospecting as any. Let a rich "strike" be made in their neighborhood, and away to the winds go vows and resolutions, and the fever has clutched its victim with a grasp that will never wholly be relaxed. As for the older settlers in these parts, especially in the rural districts, you will scarcely find one of them who is not a habitual occasional prospector. Each of them has his tunnel or shaft in some hillside, and from time to time does more or less work on his "mine." But I believe that the chief interest, which binds those old-timers to their "claims" is that they find something therein to talk about and whereby to revive memories of bygone days when their whole time and attention was absorbed in the joyful calling of a prospector.—Cor. N. Y. Times.

—"Mary Jane," said Dickey, "What?" said Mary Jane. "Mary Jane," said Dickey, "what is the difference between an affectionate wife and a wife that isn't affectionate?" "Why," said Mary Jane, "one loves him, and the other doesn't you ninny." "What a fool!" said Dickey; "that isn't the answer. The difference is this: One hugs her husband, and the other husband-he hugs." "Don't you wish you had a husband, Dickey?" said Mary Jane.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Nov. 30th.—At Goodyear hall, second dance given by the new corset band.

Doc Ist At Wm. Bowers' in Sharon, at 1 o'clock P. M., December meeting of the Sharon Wheatlow Farmers' Club.

THE FARMERS' CLUB.

The Norvell Farmers' Club was held at the residence of H. C. Calhoun, in Bridgewater, on Friday last.

The weather was very disagreeable, but the turnout was large and the meeting was a very interesting one. It was hoped that Correspondent Amasa Stout would be able to attend this meeting as it was near his residence, but his health would not permit, and the members expressed great disappointment. Mrs. Boward, of Lansing, relict of the late Sanford Howard, secretary of the Agricultural College, was present.

Readers of the ENTERPRISE will remember that the club offered prizes for the best five ears of corn, divided into three premiums of $5, $3 and $2. There was 10 contestants and each one was to exhibit six ears of corn at the November meeting, when the prizes would be awarded. Some of the members failed to "show up." Following is a list of exhibitors together with variety, and weight of six ears:

S. G. Merriman, Sharon, yellow dent.....6 lbs 4 oz
J. P. Sparland, Manchester, yellow dent.....6 lbs 10 oz
B. G. Ensill, Manchester, white dent.....6 lbs 4 oz
E. Green, Manchester, strawberry corn, 5 lbs. 12 oz
" " yellow dent.....6 lbs 4 oz
John Heraine, Norvell, white dent.....6 lbs. 10 oz.
Wm. Bowers, Sharon, yellow dent.....6 lbs. 8 oz.
T. G. Ingle, Manchester, white dent.....5 lbs. 12 oz
W. W. Hess, Bridgewater, yellow dent, 6 lbs. 2 oz.
" " yellow dent, 6 lbs 8 oz.

* Not competing.

Convenient tables were arranged for the display of corn and potatoes, and the exhibit was very fine.

The display of potatoes was as follows: B. G. Ensign, 5 varieties; J. G. English, 18 varieties; Richard Green, 4 varieties; W. W. Hess, 4 varieties, and S. M. Merithew, 11 varieties.

After the members had spent considerable time in talking corn and "taters" they were seated in groups and invited to partake of oyster pie, pressed chicken, cold meats, preserves, etc., which they all enjoyed.

The waste of the inner man being supplied, president Merithew called the meeting to order, and after the regular routine business was disposed of Mrs. D. W. Palmer read a selection "Land Poor," in her usual happy style.

The secretary reported that he had corresponded with the secretary of the Agricultural College regarding the holding of an institute here next winter, but could give no dates.

The president called for the report of corn, which the secretary read as follows:

Name.	Num. of hills.	Average per hill.	From.
S. G. Merriman,	100	3	Sharon.
J. P. Sparland,	100	3	Manchester.
B. G. Ensign,	100	3	"
E. Green,	100	3	"
John Heraine,	100	3	Norvell.
Wm. Bowers,	100	3	Sharon.
T. G. Ingle,	100	3	Manchester.
W. W. Hess,	100	3	Bridgewater.
" "	100	3	"
S. M. Merithew,	100	3	Norvell.

On motion the prizes were awarded in accordance with the above.

The premiums on potatoes were awarded as follows: J. P. Sparland, 1st, $1.50; S. M. Merithew, 2d, 50 cents; Richard Green, 3d, 50 cents.

The club decided that the specimens of corn and potatoes should be taken to the ENTERPRISE office for exhibition so that farmers and others could see what kind of produce they raise, and invite comparison.

The next meeting will be held at Wm. Bowers' in Sharon on Friday forenoon, December 1st. The subject for discussion will be, "How are we as farmers to increase our profits and still keep up the fertility of our farms."

We are much obliged for cards of thanks to Mr. John Hocking of Norvell, and Andy Dunn from Mr. Calhoun's and from Mr. Bowers.

Sheep Notes.

Wesly J. Garlock of Howell lately sold to E. C. Rouse of Albion, a Shropshire ram for $25.

Will N. Adams, the breeder of thoroughbred sheep, has just received a fine yearling Merino ram from Vermont, for which he paid a fabulous price.—Citizen.

Wm. Judson of Chelsea shipped 4,000 sheep to Texas last week. Fifteen stock cars were used, and the freight charges for transportation will be $150 per car or $2,325 for the whole. Mr. Judson was accompanied by several friends who will take observations concerning sheep raising in Texas.

L. H. Sheeler of Cambridge, has just reported from Vermont as one of the successful exhibitors at the Sheep, Swine and Poultry show, a 2 year old stock ram (Registered No. 2,) from the flock of John Hamilton & Son, bred by Ironsides the 4th. Said ram at a public shearing out 31½ pounds of wool, 2cd fleece. Cambridge evidently means to stand second to none in the line of thoroughbred sheep.

Sales of sheep by R. S. King & Son of Bridgewater, since November 1st, to Charles Rogers, Bridgewater, one ram, No. 82; to G. R. Brown, Chelsea, one ram, No. 88; to A. Hust, Franklin, one ram, No. 87; to Arthur Diffin, Franklin, one ram, No. 11; to Wilson Borough, Franklin, five breeding ewes, eight ewe lambs, and one ram lamb; No. 83.

It is recommended that those who have bees to winter and intend placing them in cellars or garrets, should carefully do so as soon as the ground has quite a frozen crust. As darkness and quietness are among the main features in the process of wintering bees, it is well to spread old carpets or some kind of cover over the hives. Many have successfully wintered bees in this manner with less than 60 pounds of honey to the hive. It takes about twice as much honey to keep bees out of doors, and precautions to protect them from the severe cold should be used. Perhaps one of the best protectors is straw, which is used to pack between the hives and also as a covering.

The Industrial Record wonders why it is that farmers will sell their cows and heifers to the butcher for two or three cents per pound and use only pork for meat that would readily sell for more than double the price per pound that "butchers stock" brings in the market. Why is it? Do farmers prefer a strictly pork diet, or is it the result of habit? At present prices a big fat hog will purchase a good beef animal weighing near three times as much, and it may be considered the more healthful meat it seems that there is no excuse for an exclusive pork diet, unless preference dictates it.

Prospecting for Mines.

While the numbers of men who become confirmed, habitual, professional prospectors is by no means equal to the many who once yield to the fascination of the pursuit ever rid themselves entirely of a yearning to indulge in the delightful delirium with which both sanguine expectation tempt their fancy. Being one to the class who last once been a prospector, though it long years gone by, and who, perhaps, scarcely has a thought in every direction—on the altar of a fourfoot stone monument, with a notice board of the TAYLOR hotel—but still such a claim, and even while his mouth contains the words necessary to himself as a fool and an idiot for wasting his substance on a dream, I shall with no greater charm than this, have to say that I still hold in my hand bring a fire into lifeless and a ring into his voice that will prove the existence of a fine gold mine somewhere and the same main unregenerate and unchangeable in heart. Bring to the strain a sympathetic ear, and you will find that there is no lack of material to work upon. Let them look here to the first twenty men they meet, and the chances are that seven of them will be found to be in the same condition. Some of this camp for instance, are in the habit of spending their spare moments in the delightful occupation of RUBBER GOODS, GLOVES and MITTENS, and with more money. A Salvation Army Wedding.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning Hall was filled to overflowing. It was crowded by about five thousand persons, who assembled to witness the marriage of Major Tom Marriott and Miss Florence Eleanor Soper. She had been engaged with some of the Miss Booths in the work of the Salvation Army in Canada, and had come to this country with the rest of a party of officers. Major Marriott is a young Englishman, who has been engaged in the work of the army for several years. He is known all over England as a "drummer boy," and officers who have been with him say that he is a splendid fellow. He has charge of the army in Ireland, and has been in command there for two years. He is a handsome man, and his bride is a pretty girl. She is a blonde, with a fine figure and a bright face. She is a graduate of the Female College of Canada, and is a fine musician. She is also a writer of considerable ability, and has published a number of books and pamphlets. Major Marriott is a writer of considerable ability, and has published a number of books and pamphlets. Major Marriott is a writer of considerable ability, and has published a number of books and pamphlets.

The ceremony was performed by Commissioner Booth-Tucker, assisted by Major Pollard, Staff-Captain Howard, Adjutant Gifford, Captain Morris, Captain Hargrave, Captain Cadman, Captain Hoggard, Captain Hoggard, Captain Hoggard
