Our neighboring towns talk about Manchester being such a tough town; hear this, taken from the Grass Lake News If this don't surpass anything that occurs in Manchester we loose our guess: Last Saturday night a gang of lawless toughs disturbed the public peace of this village by their boisterous ribaldry and disgraceful, blasphemous language. Their curses and howls were heard for half a mile away, and while their abuse and the course epithets they applied to each other promised the bloody extinction of one side or the other, unfortunately none of them were knocked in the head. It is lamentable there are no peace officers in Grass Lake who can put a stop to such ruffianism and make an example of the swearing howlers who break the public peace and disgrace the village. We hope that some action will be taken by the authorities whereby the indecent authors of the disturbance of last Saturday night will be arrested and on conviction duly

A Letter From the Absent Editor.

ST. PAUL, July 24th 1890-It was some what of a hardship for our party to bid goodbye to the hospitible city of the Saginawians but we must continue our journey on schedule time, so at 9:30 o.clock all were on board the cars and headed northward. The Michigan Central Co. had very kindly placed a special car at the disposal of the Michigan Press Association, and consequently but few stops were made from Saginaw and Cheboy-

Soon after passing Bay City we enter what was once the pine forests with here and there the home of a sturdy and industrious farmer surrounded by a cleared patch of ground or the decaying buildings of a deserted lumbering camp, then whis through some new and growing village with its neat modern houses and substantial business blocks. All along the line the people seemed to know of our coming and crowds were assembled along the street and at the depot in hopes of getting at least a glimpse of us.

At West Branch where we stopped to give the Tocomotive a drink, a brass band discoursed music and was given three rousing cheers by the festive pencil pushers.

At the thriving young city of Grayling the entire party were given dinner at the various hotels while a fine band of music assisted in entertaining us and both dinner and musić were much enjoyed.

Leaving Grayling the engineer gave us a sample of fast riding as we learn that 20 miles were covered in 18 minutes. We did not enjoy the scenery, however beautiful it might have been. There are many lakes along the line which abound in fish and sportsmen going to them are sure to catch the speckled beauties or the gamey pickerel and bass. The forests are the haunts of bear, deer, etc., which tempt the hunter hithe

When we arrived at Cheboygan the citizens were there with carriages and took us at once to hotels where we removed the accumulation of porthern Michigan, ate hearty suppers and were then taken in carriages to view the large saw mills up the river and on the bay and were tendered a reception at the pretty hall in the city building. All that could conduce to our pleasure was done by the enterprising people.

Cheboygan has grown to be a thriving city of 8,000 inhabitants. It has electric lights, street cars, water-works, and as large saw mills as there are in the state. The harbor is first-class and a fine agricultural country surrounds the city on the south and west which will assist in the cities growth and establish its supremacy. Pine logs are brought here in rafts from the north shore and Canada and it is a great shipping point for lumber.

At 7 o'clock Sunday morning we said good bye to our new-made friends and then stepped aboard the elegant steamer "Soc City," of the Delta transportation company, captain Armstrong commanding and were soon steaming out into the bay bound for Sault Ste. Marie. It was like those which had preceeded it, a beautiful day, the water was smooth and the ride was much enjoyed. We touched at Point St. Ignace where we had a view of the union ore docks, furnaces, and the steel transports used by the railway

As we neared Mackinac island the various hotels, cottages, and especially the first de ing to open an office there, it was manded our attention. Here Geo. H. Miles of the Detroit Tribune, came on board to shake hands with us. As we pass quietly ecumseh on Wednesdays. This is a along we get a glimpse of Robinson's folly and other noted points.

Early in the afternoon we arrived at the mouth of St. Mary's river and stopped at the village of Detour where we changed boats, taking the "Minnie M.," a sister boat of the Delta line. We had a sumptuous dinner on board and were then prepared for the beautiful and ever changing scenery of this wonderful river, whose waters floats the nen they see it, for if they are too small largest ships on the lakes. Rounding a bend in the river we see the indian wission, supported by the episcopal church, on the Canadian side, and glancing up the river we catch sight of the city of Sault Ste. Marie and the rapids. At our left, near the landing, stands old Fort Brady, one of the oldest government parade grounds in the country. It will be remembered that Sault St. Marie is the oldest town in the state. It is well built, has good hotels. electric lights, railways, waterworks, and a Hirge water-power canal which cost thousands of dollars to construct and which can turnish power for scores of mannfacturies. The Soc is rather a quiet place now, the boom being over, but the people are enterprising and will not allow the place to long remain in such a condition. Next week we will tell you more about the sights at the Soo. MAT.

The Growth of Michigan Cities in Ten Years.

Sagnaw, July 30.—Another disastrous fire has swooped down on this city entailing a loss of $275,000 and seriously damaging the business interests of the city. The flames broke out in the extensive lumber plant of the Owen-Hutchinson company, in the northern part of the city. Help was called from Bay City and rendered great service but the flames had gained such headway that they could not be resisted, and as a consequence could not be resisted, and as a consequeneverything in front of the fire was swept away. In an exceedingly short time about $40,000 worth of lumber had been eaten up in the yard and the fire had spread to the vard and mill of H. B. Nease, Son & Co., where everything was entirely de stroyed, amounting in value to $85,000. Immediately north of the Nease property lay the very extensive plant of Brown & Rvan, valued at $150,000. The fire gained in flerceness as it reached this property, and could not possibly have been checked. As a result not a vestige of the sawmill or the lumber in the yard was left stand-ing, everything burnable being swept by the furious flames. The sight of the fire as it swept over the hight acres of the lumber property was such as has not been witnessed here since the big mill fire on Washington avenue about two years ago, when the immense planing mill and lumber yard of Charles Lee burned. A perfect sea of flame raged, and the firemen were absolutely powerless to check its headway. It was a terrible conflagration in many ways, for it not only entails great money loss to the owners but blow will be a heavy one to Saginaw. which will not be recovered from for some time. However, the firms were all well insured and will undoubtedly rebuild at the earliest possible moment. The entire oss is approximated to be fully $275,000, with insurance amounting to about $225,-000. The burned district presents a scene of utter devastation. The fire could not have more completely destroyed the entire plants of the three firms named with the exception of the Owen-Hutchinson Co's.
mill if it had been purposely started to wipe out the property.

The Crops.

LANSING, July 29.—The weather condi-tions of the past week or more have been very unfavorable to corn, oats and potatoes on account of the continued dry weather. These conditions still continued in the southern section, and especially in the southwest, where there has been little or no rain during the past two weeks. The effect on the oat crop has been to prema-turely ripen it; and to dry up the corn and potato crops. In the other sections that potato crops. In the other sections that received a sufficient amount of rain to moisten the ground, the crops are much improved. The wheat harvest is about finished and threshing is now in progress, Yields of from 5 to 43 bushels, to the acre have been reported, which shows the 'snotted growth" of the wheat crop this ar. Oats are being cut this week in southern section, and the harvesting will be general next week. Unless good rain occurs in the southern section during this week the condition of corn and pota-toes will be materially reduced, and the toes will be materially reduced, and yield lessened to a considerable extent.

Growth of Our Cities.

The larger cities of Michigan have made ome gains in the last 10 years. Detroit has jumped from 116,330 to 207,790Detroit has jumped from 116, 330 to 207, 730; in Found figures; Grand Rapids from 32,016, to 61,000; Saginaw and East Saginaw, now combined, from 29,541 to 54,000; Bay City from 20,693 to 39,000; Muskegon from 11,262 to 24,000; and Jackson from 16,105 11,202 to 24,000; and Jackson from 16,105 to 22,000. Taken all together the increase in these six cities is from a total population of about 226,000 to 407,000, a gain 181,000 or about exactly 80 per cent. This is a good showing, indeed, and one which few people will equal in all respects.

About 600 were in the pavilion, a structure raised 15 feet above the ground, when without warning, it fell, precipitating the mass of human beings to the ground.
