THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1895

The window glass trust formed in Indiana last week is not a thing to be made light of.

The neighborhood gossip is the same as ever. They're always running somebody down.

Chicago's postmaster gave a party on the trolley cars. The men there were of the trolley-lala variety.

What is called the "Atlanta fair" is really the result of a gradual approximation of the time of co-existence to the long, solemn horse-parade.

Woman's temple had always been spectacular, but there are possibilities of when the new woman discovers that the hired girl has worn her bloomers out.

Mrs. Lydia Dunlap, member of a wealthy Fecor family, and Prof. Henry Abbot Molson, of the deaf and dumb institute at Jacksonville, both of whom were married the other day, 16 was a case of mutual affection.

Already the woman's board of the Atlanta Exposition has started. The Atlanta Exposition is a real exposition, and no make believe. The row on the woman's board is a good test of genuineness.

People who drive horses should be taught by law. In no other way, that bicycle riders have rights even if the drivers of horses do not. The Brooklyn park will be a case of two, as the rider turned out of their course, whipped up their horse, and ran down a woman on her bicycle. Such things are perhaps not common, but when found should be punished.

Wyoming is in the front as the paradise of the de stele girl. The daughter of the government is as she is in her private secretary, and when he is away she is practical and fulfills the duties of his office. And she is one of the girls. It takes a good boy to get a girl to a place even one where woman an affair has been in force for twenty-five years. Now, when she marries, but that opens up two ways for speculation, and, besides, it is his look-out.

When the papas and mammas get back from trips to the gold and silver regions, the discontents of European travel some of their boys and girls who have been studying geography should open quiet classes in the schools to teach the young people about the beauty and grand scenery in their own country as they do of Europe. The lakes of Lakeside do not surpass the lakes of Minnesota. The Swiss mountains are nowhere grander than those seen in Colorado, California, Idaho, or Washington. There are no waterfalls in the world to compare with the Yellowstone Park. Yet not one in fifty of European tourists from America ever saw the great west.

From the nature of the case the English market for wheat, or corn, as they call it on that side of the Atlantic, is a bear market. At the very least, there is a great deal of the breadstuff required to feed the people who swarm at the hives of industry. A few days ago a London dispatch reported that there was a great grain coming from different parts of the world. One would suppose from the representation made that our farmers ought to be worried, but they were not. The reason was that they had fallen under observation the estimate made by the Russian minister of finance of this year's wheat crop. His figures are these:

Est. 1895. Final 1894.
Quarters. Quarters.

Austria-Hungary ... 24,000,000 24,000,000
France ... 28,500,000 28,500,000
Germany ... 13,000,000 13,500,000
Roumania ... 7,000,000 5,500,000
Russia ... 47,000,000 47,000,000
America ... 7,200,000 6,000,000
England ... 30,000,000 30,000,000
Australia ... 4,100,000 5,100,000
India ... 23,300,000 31,600,000
United Kingdom ... 6,000,000 7,500,000
Totals ... 231,100,000 233,200,000

It will be noted that these figures show a decided increase in the production of wheat and barley. Russia is particularly a bull in the wheat market, and some allowances must be made for that fact. That country wants dear breakfasts, and the wheat-fair organization the estimate made by the Russian minister of finance of this year's wheat crop. His figures are these:

It is claimed that according to R. G. Dan's report of failures during the past ten years, 85 per cent. of them were people who did not advertise.

A new town called Bakertown has been started on the C. J. & M. railroad in Hillsdale county, between Jerome and Addison. Hudson parties will build a store.

Wm. Y. Chamberlain of Ash township offered the Lake Shore 21 cents to pay his fare from Flat Rock to Trenton, a distance of six and three-quarters miles; the fare was 25 cents. He and he and he caught cold, and the company for damages got a judgment for $400.

A circular has been issued to clergymen by the state board of corrections and charities, calling attention to the observance of prison week, which is to be observed on Sept. 27. Clergymen are asked to visit reformatory institutions before writing their sermons, so as to see for themselves the condition and needs of those confined.

The story is told of a Saline couple who had made arrangements to be married. The invitations were out, indeed, some of the guests were already in town. The night before the ceremony was to be held, the young people were at the house making preparations for the event when a dispute arose regarding some trivial matter and the bride became so angry that he packed his trunk and hired a carriage to take him to Amherst, where he took the train for parts unknown, leaving the young lady to weep over her folly or rejoice over his, we know not which.

For want of space last week, the appointments of the M. E. conference were not mentioned. Those of interest to most of our readers: Presiding elder, P. Davis, Detroit; Addison—Charles W. Baldwin; Adrian—E. B. Bancroft; Ann Arbor—C. M. Coburn; Chelsea—C. L. Adams; Clinton and Mason—J. W. Russell; Dundee—J. F. Carter; Manchester and Sharon—D. H. York; Marine City—D. R. Shier; Saline—Eugene Yager; Tecumseh—J. P. Varner; Tipton—H. J. Marsh; Ypsilanti—E. W. Ryan.

Leavenworth County.

A flock of young swallows have been in the village for a few days. Tuesday one of the nests, a plain glass window frame, sufficient to stin—so it is, it was picked up. When it recovered it was released, and was not long in getting out of sight. Local.

The carpenters will finish their part of the work at the Freese-Whitely Co.'s store today. A new office has been made in the rear part of the store—West of the office is a space for the cobbler; a window was put in the west end, giving their sufficient light. What will their double store will be one of the most complete dry goods stores in southern Michigan.

An Adrian gentleman was one of a large party attending the going down of the St. Louis recently; when a long delay caused by waiting for a train.

During the wait a kodak film was shot using the rapids in his own way, and as there was no one on board with whom our friend was acquainted he amused himself by watching the artist. Finally he asked if he would send him off, offering pay for them. The boy said no, he would be glad to great the favor. The projection boy then replied, "We have new acquaintances required, we're in Adrian, Michigan." was the unexpected answer. "So do I," came the impulsive response, and as the two grasped hands they were impressed with the idea that while the world is large people who know about will bump against each other once in a while." Time.

James County Items.

A fire occurred at Grass Lake Tuesday, a two story building owned by E. D. Walker and occupied by Chas. Lander and wife and Miss Louise Merriman as a leather and fancy goods store, was almost entirely destroyed. Most of the goods were saved but the building a total loss. Miss Merriman's goods were glad to have a safe place. Come again and stay longer. Come often.

A picked up and went to Chelsea last Friday to play with their boys at the fair for a day, but when they arrived in town found that the Chelsea boys had made up mostly of out of town players and were bound to down our boys, which they did—aid of the umpire to the queen's taste, the score being 15 to 2.

As state last spring, our grape vines were badly nipped by the frost and though we would have no grapes this year, but a wise man advised us to pick off the withered leaves and the vine would grow better than the one we had. We followed his directions and the result was a fine crop of delicious grapes.

Mention was made at the school meeting of the necessity of putting fire escapes on the central school building to facilitate in case of fire the school rooms in case of fire. There are other buildings in town that should be provided with fire escapes. Arbeiter hall block, the Goodyear house, etc. The EXTERPRISE will have more to say on this subject.

Horner Bollinger, brother of Mrs. Mat. Wurster of this village, went to Chicago yesterday after a few days vacation. He has not been employed in the house of correction at Detroit but has now enlisted in the regular army.

He has already served three years for his country. He hopes to be stationed at Aetna, Ga.

Miss Gran White, who has been at Lansing the past summer, came home last Saturday.

Miss Rose Thompson, who has been to Toledo in training hats, returned here on Monday evening.
