Let us hope that the Spaniards will not get up a war with Hannis Taylor, too.

Keely's motor is now a flying-machine which paralyzes gravitation, turns "sympathetic research"; though, to be sure, the sympathetic outreach belonged to the original invention if the experience of certain capitalists is any criterion.

The unpleasant incidents and accidents of the recent indoor bicycle race in New York deserve a short article and nothing to do with the physical or material. We do not, however, in any way encourage a wholesome development of an outdoor sport which is doing so much to improve the health and raise the vitality of the American people.

A writer who has been selected to write on the subject of "Gentlemen" is not very good, but is evidently a man of conscience and culture. He cannot help the assimilation which has occurred in the minds of the people of different religious creeds, but he is sorry for it. Perhaps Byron described that person better - "as mild a man as ever scuttled ship or cut a throat."

The jury and the judge that recently rebuked a lawyer for putting an article in the paper which was an example of what ought to be done, ought to be the same which is to be done. The writer of the "Gentlemen" article, however, is to be held responsible for it. If the court will not protect a lady against insult her friends ought to have the right of punishment.

Burn cork for women ministers in behalf of charity, having been forbidden by Bishop Potter under the heading of "immorality." The Bishop is a good man, but he is not the mark of Henry Ward Beecher, that the devil has no right to all the best things. A minister showed that kind of a deal of a cork to his wife, but she said, "I don't like to see you no more to you, either." The propertaries and the dignitaries spent a good deal of enjoyment, though they have their rights, too.

If Mr. Dana left orders that his own newspaper should be beaten by every other journal in the country in connection with the news of his wife's death, he was right. He was not the man with him before the alleged cause of his departure. Even tritely is pardonsable when it can't be helped.

That implied Horace Greeley was permitted no authority in the office of the Tribune when that good old man went to his reward.

This is an age of progress and the church cannot afford to stagnate. The clergymen of today takes advantage of the progress of the world, but the total calls to a bicycle, he lights his church by electricity and is experiencing with the plan of giving his sermons a wider range by train, telegraph, telephone, his pastorate by telephone. The newspaper is by far the most effective and the church cannot do without it.

A woman's society for political and social reform has been acquired since its organization. It was forges for his gallantries to women other than his wife. "Had he lived in another age and time, I would have been pleased, but he was for marrying Madame Jumel for his money; and then the society decided that it was popular to have a man of great talents to her, and hastily dropped the church.

The present year will be among its noticeable anniversaries, the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the death of Isaac Watts. It will be chiefly as a writer of hymns that he will be known by affectionate memory. He was also forgiven for marrying Madame Jumel for his money; and then the society decided that it was popular to have a man of great talents to her, and hastily dropped the church.

The love of him is not unknown, the earnest looking celestial who during the last decade have been collecting in the Australian colonies. A storekeeper, wishing to advertise his wares, caused a man to paint a sign, "The Bind" or "What Shall the Heart Be" and come out of jail charged with the same. The idea is a good one that it is some danger of his reputation.

What is the color of bones? The human skeleton is white, but the bones of animals are not. The bones of the streets of Paducah, Kentucky, happen sometimes in Sings Alley. A flesh man with an umbrella lit up like a pine at night, a person who had a good deal of money, and those who make no pretensions to wealthiness, may well be recognized.

The proposition of David Christie Murray that Englishmen pay for a status of George Washington in London, England, is the exceeding pride of the English. All the Englishmen who know the result of his forgiving generosity.

Territory-grabbing by the Great Powers almost necessitates morning and evening editions of maps and the like. An epidemic of measles in a school in Columbus, Ohio, is said to be the result of collecting the pupils' heads at the close of the day and distributing them indiscriminately next morning.

The right of a woman to search her sleeping husband's pockets is not quite clear. The thing complained of is that he is a profligate skeleton in a chair. A few days ago he was discovered to have two pearls evidently embedded for the sake of ornament.

4-YEAR-OLD WONDER

MYSTERIOUS BOY PRODIGY OF NEW YORK.

At the Age of Three He Could Tell the Capital of Any European Country - Has Marvelous Powers of Memory for the Age.

AVENGER RICHARD - A 4-year-old New York boy, is a mystery in power of mental development. His action in no way differs from other little boys of his age, but he has a mind of his own. He has a secret, however, which he has not yet told.

He has a secret to questions that puzzle most grown people. The name of the capital of the United States is a secret, as well as the names of the capitals of all the European countries. His secret is to talk plainly, and then they are astonished to hear him repeat what he had heard with a accent of "I told you so."

He has a secret to questions that puzzle most grown people. The name of the capital of the United States is a secret, as well as the names of the capitals of all the European countries. His secret is to talk plainly, and then they are astonished to hear him repeat what he had heard with a accent of "I told you so."

SKILL OF DOCTORS TESTED.

Fifteen Years of Suffering.

"I thought I should surely die."

When the stomach begins to fail in its duties, other organs speedily become affected in sympathy, and life is simply a burden, almost unbearable. Indigestion and griping pains are common, and the sufferer from these diseases knows the possibilities of misery that inheres in the condition. The physician of the victim of indigestion is furnished in the case of John C. Fritchard. He went on fifteen years from the time he was sick, and during his great constancy weaker, and thought he would die. He got well, however, and this relates his experience:

"For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from indigestion in its worst forms. I tested the skill of many doctors, but grew worse and worse until I became as weak as could not stand. Dr. Ayer's Pills helped me right away, as is the common expression of those who have used them. Here is another testimony to the truth of this statement:

"I recently suffered from indigestion and weakness in the stomach, but after I took Dr. Ayer's Pills I was soon well again. I have the appetite of the farmer's boy. I was unarmed himself, and knew that the real burglar—who was known to the fraternity as 'Bill the Crackerman'—had a revolver in his breast pocket, with the use of which he was thoroughly acquainted; and the question was how to arrest him single-handed. Story followed story, and reminiscence reminiscence, till Bill and his companion—who called himself Jerry Blake—became as thick as members of the former's profession as proverbial, supposed to become."

"Now," said Mr. Blake, "as a last bit of anecdote, I'll show you how Joe the Timman was took."

"He'd sworn as there wasn't any man as would take him single-handed. Well, as the reward for his capture was a heavy one, a chap named Simmons, who was then one of the mounted police, determined to try it on. So what does he do, knowing some of Joe's haunts, but bribes a stockman, who lived in a lonely hut on the side of a deep gully among the hills, to let him take possession of the place for a week or so. It was a hut where Joe was accustomed to call when he wanted to pick up news, or get a fresh supply of rum, for the stockman was a convict like himself, and a pal of his; but, pal or no pal, he sold Joe this time, and no mistake."

"I'd have blown his brains out if I'd been Joe," observed the crackman, with a savage oath.

"I honor your sentiments," responded Mr. Blake, "and from what I know of Joe, he shamed 'em. But, you see, when he looked in one night at the hut, no stockman was there; but in his place Simmons, looking the very pester of a rough shepherd, was seated over the fire, making his tea."

"Hilloh! where's the stockman here?" asked Joe, stalking into the hut and approaching the fire; for Joe wasn't afeared of Satan himself. Besides, he was all stuck round with six-shooters and Bowie knives, so that he was a caution to look at."

"He's gone."

"Gone where—dead?"

"Pretty nigh it. He's down at the station with marsh fever. I've been ordered up here in his place."

"And who may you be, mate, when you're at home?" asked Joe, savagely, for he was disappointed at losing his friend.

"When I'm at home," said Simmons, still busy with his supper, "I home means England, I might be lord and does it still keep you from the happiness that perfect health brings to all? We know full well if such is your condition a cure for it will be a blessing you no doubt desire. Plasters won't do it, but may assist in bringing strength. Liniment won't do it; for, while it may give temporary relief, it does not reach the cause. The cause, there's the point; there's where to make the attack. Most backaches come from disordered kidneys; therefore you must correct their action if you would be cured. Read the following from D. C. Cox, whose address is No. 18 Michigan Street, Grand Rapids. He says:—

"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and to say it is a truly great medicine."

"Thirty years ago I had a very severe attack of the disease, which I had for over ten years. I think it was during this scrofula that the seeds were sown which caused all my trouble. Severe bilious attacks bothered me, and at such times my kidneys were worse. It is almost impossible to describe the pain which so often lame me. I have been so lame that to stand up after I had been sitting down required a great exertion. Walking was at times an impossibility, even at night I did not rest being forced to get up during the night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and wondered if they could make an at least lame man well. I got some, and soon after taking them began to feel their good effects. I used them for some time, my lameness all left me and I have not felt it since. Doan's Kidney Pills have done me an inestimable amount of good."
