Love finds the way, but it has to be thrown out.

It's a poor contortionist that can't make both ends meet.

The man who itches for a thing may get it by lively scratching.

Some men judge by appearances, but detectives judge by disappearance.

The indolent man is the first to claim that he never had an opportunity.

Bread may be the staff of life, but what the average man wants is a fat pudding.

There are fewer things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in a nightmare.

The red whisky combine will probably be followed by a strong advance in the headache market.

The dingley who has conscientious scruples should also possess conscientious ounces and pounds.

A man never cares anything about meeting his wife's relations—unless they are rich and distinguished.

When an estate is divided according to law it means that the heirs get what is left after the lawyers get through.

Assurance for Death took 12 hours to England. It is to be hoped that none of these appeared to a white elephant.

Appearances would indicate that heaven sometimes helps those who have already succeeded in helping themselves.

With the introduction of the smokeless locomotive comes the hope that some day there will be a tipless sleeping-car porter.

When the railroad was intended to use the railroad road, merely, as the means of getting to the gold mining fields.

It is rumored that the adiuncts have been discovered, but the secret yet comes forward with a reasonable question concerning the use to which it may be put.

Major Jones of Toledo, O., is a dangerous man, a platform which is unbroken thereby.

The only fear his friends have is that the voters may look with suspicion upon this new and untried issue.

What the Indian needs is a home in severity and the breaking up of all tribal relations. The quicker he gets while he is still young, the fairer he will be from the baleful influence of the squaw man. With or without treaties, the allotment of Indian lands should be pushed along, and the Indians should be educated, which are often plague spots to the surrounding country, as well as to the Indian resident thereon.

Genl. Gen. Holloway writes from St. Petersburg to the state department that Russia constitutes a world large enough to command the attention of the leading maritime powers.

from mother-of-pearl, but their lustre is not up to the mark. The Chinese have long introduced grains of sand into the pearl oyster. In order that the animal, to relieve itself from the irritation so caused, may cast the foreign grain, the shell and the mantle of the oyster can effect it by contractions of its body.

To prevent the French expert from ever trapping the shell and introducing a small bead through the hole, and fixed it by means of cement and glue, which would be in contact of time, covered with a sacrum, the oyster, and a fine large pearl was the result. Design cannot distinguish it from an orient pearl. The artificial pearl is now made from the spider's web, which is a natural product of silk. Pearls are now becoming a legend of the past.

Though love had made me silent, My eyes could call you fair.

One kiss, and you will be mine again.

To you I give my heart.

And as we went together,

Dreamed, "twas hope and fear,

That I could not give you power.

To tell you all, I gave you power.

Peeping Consumption

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It creeps its way along. First, you think it is a mere headache; then a little loss of weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats. The suddenness comes when you least expect it. Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping.

Yours truly,

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

You first notice that you cough less. The pressure on the chest is lifted. That feeling of suffocation is removed. A cure is hastened by placing one of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral over the Chest.

A Book Free. It is on the Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

Write for a copy of our pamphlet, "What is Consumption?" and send us $1.00 for mailing expenses.
