While many other things are having a boom in price who cannot afford the farmers ought to have a little encouragement.

The next G. A. R. national encampment will probably not be held in Detroit, as the railroad rate is too high. Cleveland is talked of.

Attorney Robinson of Detroit has advised Mrs. Hambright to drop the matter of attempting to get a new trial for her son, as he is hopelessly insane.

The coal mine operators know how to get a full dinner pail. They advance miners' wages 10 to 15 cents a ton and charge consumers 50 cents a ton more.

A black Island man is searching his state for a big brother to present to Mrs. McKinley. He had better send to Michigan, where we have the best of everything.

Jack Watson, an eight-year-old lad born in South Africa and moved to this country when he was three years old, was in Jackson last Friday and started back to England. He was to be met by friends in New York to see him on board the steamer.

"It may not be generally known," said an insurance agent, "that everyone who uses a gasoline lamp without securing a permit invalidates his insurance policy.

The fire insurance companies have a committee of men and while many are reasonable, some are not. A permit for a gas lamp is not sufficient. There must be a permit for the lamp. If this is not done someone will sue."

Our agents are perforce for those who desire them.

The November meeting was held at the beautiful home of Mr. & Mrs. D. W. Kline, Friday, Nov. 8.

The day was pleasant for a November meeting and all seemed to enjoy the ride and be in good spirits. After dinner the meeting was called to order by President.

The program was opened with an instrumental selection by Mr. H. R. Watkins, which was followed by Miss Alice English, who read an essay entitled "Capable People." Mr. H. R. Watkins then read a chapter from his book "For lack of a coat." Mr. E. O. Cole, in a paper on the subject of discussion, "What is the best way to teach our schools?" spoke against our local schools.

Mr. Fred Kessler, John and Clara Kessler, Mrs. Bader, and son of Dr. George Kessler accompanied the meeting to Plymouth last Saturday. The first named returned home Sunday and Miss Carrie came back Tuesday.
