THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1903.

In ordering two new battleships China has demonstrated that she is not so chivalrous.

The Chinese General Ma has been defeated by the rebels. Now give General Ma a chance.

The New York man who shot his son's eye for making a poor omelet will quit a gorgeous new haven.

The $30,000,000 hotel to be erected right opposite the Yale campus, will be quite a gorgeous new haven.

The New York farmer who caused a bull to gore his wife to death has Nero seen more human than ever.

Mrs. DAILEY Gentleman of Chicago has sued for a divorce. She sets up the claim that he is merely a "gentleman."

Mrs. Astor has discovered that she is now in the same class with the famous parrot that talked too much.

The south is informed of the legitimate medical expert in the treatment of diseases of the heart—from heart disease.

Prince Harry wishes to come back incognito, perhaps for the purpose of discovering if we really eat $100 dinners every day.

A movement is on foot to admit men to membership in a Limerick club. This man is gradually rising to equality with the other sex.

It still remains a fact that few things are sure in this world than death and taxes—daring was taxes. They are more or less intelligent.

But the parents of that Indianapolis baby that has been named "Prince Henry" needn't think the whole country is going to kowtow to it.

The first railroad locomotive was capable of going twelve miles an hour and its speed was faithfully compared to that of a rocket.

A Kansas man theorizes that Eve was tempted by a man instead of a serpent. But why revive the old scandal? Let's think of the family name.

A Brooklyn minister has started in to prove himself entirely different from other ministers by giving a sermon that may be reduced from $10,000 to $8,000 a year.

Although authorized by its congress to do so, the government of Chile will not issue any more paper money at present. In the printing press out-of-pocket.

After all what does the courting of American favor by European powers mean but a recognition of the silent, steady growth of our popular ideas?

A Tennessee judge has declined a recompensation after holding public office for forty years. It can't be possible, however, that he is quitting because he finds rest.

J. Pierpont Morgan says that $300,000 does not look like much money to him. Mr. Morgan can reach up into the air almost anywhere and pull down more money than that.

The successor to Gen. Lukhan in the Island of Samar has surrendered, having had a hard time of it. He was to be the author of the rations issued at American headquarters.

Three society women of Washington patronized a Paris tailor and found to their chagrin that they were alike. Perhaps they will patronize some other house hereafter.

The riots are the order of the day in China, probably because the courts will not issue injunctions against the tax collectors. Civilization is still a few notches behind the times in China.

Somehow it always seems as if it was the man with a small army who has to sacrifice something. The theory is that he is the only one who will do it.

The 10-year-old candle who is sailing the world minister for $15,000 a day, the minister hit him on the back with a golf ball in the links last summer. A minister-playing golf summer.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS

How Mrs. Bruce, a Good Opera Singer, Was Brought Back to Life Proves That Many Operations for Ovarian Troubles are Unnecessary.

"Dear Miss Franklin, I am travelling for rest on the road, with irregular meals and sleep and damp beds, broke down my health so completely that two days' rest in bed did not restore it. Complete rest, and when I had gained

The late Philip J. Parker once told me that he had never seen a son's worth of his worth in his immense business until they had satisfied him that they could "make sausages." This was the great banker's house way of saying that he did not take any risks.

The Euphrates and of the Mediterranean are the only rivers that have been used throughout the Territories for statistical purposes. The reports are somewhat delayed this year, owing to the extensive crop and the delay in getting the reports in.

Agriculture is leading the way in a new departure, with regard to the collection of crop statistics.
